The Massi family received several telegrams to the effect that it should go to National Police headquarters to pick up Juan Francisco. Juan Francisco's father established a relationship with an individual--supposedly a member of the National Police--who told the father that his son was at the National Police barracks in the Monserrat district and that he--the father--could communicate with him. According to this source, his son had suffered injuries from the blows he received and needed clothing and money. Although Juan Francisco's father took him food, articles of clothing, and money, they never let him see his son. They told him that Juan Francisco was in poor condition and that he would have to wait until his son recovered. The father was in contact with this agent until 1991. Juan Francisco never appeared, however, and the family finally gave up the search.

One month after the disappearance of Sara Cristina and Juan Francisco, Sara Cristina's mother took part--on 18 September 1989--in a demonstration organized by Fenastras to demand the release of the two young people. Together with 63 other persons she was detained by members of the National Police and taken to the central barracks. She was threatened, beaten, and tortured. The following month her younger daughter was injured when a bomb exploded at Fenastras headquarters. After this incident the mother gave up the search for Sara Cristina.

The Official Investigations

The military authorities, the government, and the judiciary all refused to investigate these events, but because of the publicity given the case the Air Force asked the then Lieutenant Edgardo Ernesto Echeverria, chief of the C-II Tactical Support Section, to conduct an internal investigation. Lt. Echeverria questioned the soldiers in his section, and upon receiving responses in the negative reported that no one in his unit had seen the two young people.

In testimony given before the Commission, Lt. Echeverria called the investigation "a bureaucratic investigation" that involved only verbal questions. He indicated that cases such as these had been frequent during the two years that he had worked in the intelligence division. The commander--or chief--of the Air Force had asked for internal investigations on a number of occasions, and Lt. Echeverria could not remember a single case in which the Air Force had acknowledged responsibility.

Conclusions

The Commission reached the following conclusions:

1. There is conclusive proof that members of the Air Force took Sara Cristina Chan Chan and Juan Francisco Massi into custody.

2. There is sufficient evidence that the prisoners were taken to the Air Force base.

3. There is sufficient evidence that they disappeared while in the custody of the Air Force, and there is no proof that they are still alive.

4. There is conclusive evidence that Air Force personnel are engaging in a cover-up when they deny that Sara Cristina Chan Chan and Juan Francisco Massi had been arrested.

5. The judiciary--and the police bureaus of investigation--which until now have refused to act should open a special investigation of the Air Force to clarify the circumstances of the arrests and subsequent disappearances. The Truth Commission regards as unacceptable the fact that in this case--which is typical of many similar cases of disappearances--it has been denied access to individuals and files in its search for evidence. It is the responsibility of the judicial branch--which is headed by the Supreme Court of Justice--to initiate the aforementioned exhaustive investigation within the Air Force. As an expression of the Salvadoran community, the state has an obligation to history to conduct an open investigation of these events, to punish those who are guilty, and to indemnify the members of the families of the young victims Sara Cristina Chan Chan and Juan Francisco Massi.

Footnotes

340. The Commission interviewed many witnesses--including civilians and military personnel--and authorized a number of public documents concerning the case.

IV. C. Massacres of Peasants by the Armed Forces

There were several massacres of peasants by members of the Armed Forces of El Salvador in 1980, 1981, and 1982. The following is a brief account of three of them.

1. Illustrative Example: El Mozote

Summary of the Case

On 10 December 1981, units of the Atlacatl Battalion seized all of the men, women, and children, who did not resist, in the hamlet of El Mozote in the department of Morazan. After spending the night locked up in their homes, on the following day, 11 December, they were deliberately and systematically executed in groups. First the men were tortured and executed; then the women were executed, and finally the children were executed in the very place where they were locked up. More than 200 victims were identified. The figure would be higher if the other, unidentified victims were included.

This incident took place during an antiguerrilla action called "Operation Rescue," in which, in addition to the Atlacatl Battalion, units from the Third Infantry Brigade and from the San Francisco Gotera Commands Training Center took part.

During Operation Rescue there were also massacres of the civilian population in the following places: on the 11th more than 20 persons in La Joya canton; on the 12th some 30 people in the hamlet of La Rancheria; on the same day, the residents of the hamlet of Los Toriles (Atlacatl Battalion); and on the 13th, the inhabitants of the hamlet of Jocote Amarillo and of the Cerro Pando canton. More than 500 identified victims died in El Mozote and the other hamlets. Many more victims have not been identified.

There are accounts of these massacres from eyewitnesses and others who later saw the bodies, which were left unburied. In the case of El Mozote, the massacre was fully confirmed, moreover, by the results of the exhumations carried out in 1992.

In spite of the public reports about the incident and although it would have been easy to confirm the massacre, the Salvadoran authorities did not order any inquiry and systematically denied its existence.

The minister of defense and the chief of staff have denied to the Truth Commission that they have information that could identify the units and officers that were involved in Operation Rescue. They have stated that there are no files from that period.

The chief justice of the Supreme Court has had a biased, political involvement in the trial that began in connection with the massacre in 1990.

Description of the Incident

Hamlet of El Mozote

On the afternoon of 10 December 1981, units of the Atlacatl Immediate Reaction Infantry Battalion (BIRI) arrived in the hamlet of El Mozote after an encounter with guerrillas nearby.

The hamlet consisted of some 20 homes on flat ground grouped around a square. Facing the square was a church, behind which was a small building known as "the convent," which the priest used to change clothes when he went into town to say mass. A short distance from the hamlet was a school, the Grupo Escolar.

When the soldiers arrived in the hamlet, they found, in addition to the residents, other peasants from surrounding areas who had taken refuge there. They ordered everyone out of their homes and gathered them together in the square. They made them lie face down, searched them, and questioned them about the guerrillas. They then ordered them to lock themselves in their homes until the next day, warning that they would shoot anyone who tried to leave. The solders spent the night in the hamlet.

Early the next morning, 11 December, the soldiers again assembled the entire population in the square. They separated the men from the women and children and locked them up in several groups in the church, "the convent," and several homes.

That morning, they interrogated, tortured, and executed the men in different places. Around noon they began removing the women in groups, separating them from their children and machine-gunning them. Lastly, they killed the children. A group of children who had been locked in "the convent" were machine-gunned through the windows. After exterminating the entire population, the soldiers set fire to the buildings.

The soldiers spent the night of the 11th in El Mozote as well. The next day they passed through the hamlet of Los Toriles two kilometers away. Some residents managed to flee. The rest, men, women, and children, were removed from their homes, placed in rows, and machine-gunned.

The victims in El Mozote remained unburied. Over the ensuing weeks the corpses were seen by many people who passed through there. In Los Toriles, the survivors later buried the bodies.

Background

The Atlacatl Battalion arrived in El Mozote during a military action called "Operation Rescue," which had begun two days before, 6 December, and in which units from the Third Brigade and from the San Francisco Gotera Commands Training Center also took part.

Atlacatl was an "Immediate Reaction Infantry Battalion" (BIRI), that is to say, a unit specially trained for "anti-insurgency" combat, the first of its kind in the Armed Forces; it had completed its training, under the guidance and supervision of the U.S. military, in early 1981.

Nine months before Operation Rescue, a company from the Atlacatl Battalion, under the command of Captain Juan Ernesto Mendez, had taken part in an antiguerrilla action in the same northern zone of Morazan. At that time it was attacked fiercely by the guerrillas and withdrew with heavy casualties without having achieved the military objective set for it. This setback for the brand new "Immediate Reaction Infantry Battalion" gave rise to comments and jokes by officers of other units, who described it as an "Immediate Retreat Infantry Battalion."

The objective of "Operation Rescue" was to eliminate the guerrilla presence in a small area in northern Morazan Department, where the guerrillas had a camp and training center in a spot called La Guacamaya.

Colonel Jaime Florez Grijalva, the commander of the Third Brigade, was in charge of overseeing the operation. Lieutenant Colonel Domingo Monterrosa Barrios, the commander of the Atlacatl BIRI, was in charge of the participating units.

On 9 December there were encounters between the government troops and the guerrillas. That same day, a company of the Atlacatl BIRI entered the municipality of Arambala. It assembled the entire population in the square and separated the men from the women and children. They locked the women and children in the church and ordered the men to lie face down in the square. Several men were accused of collaborating with the guerrillas. They were bound, blindfolded, and tortured. Residents later found the bodies of three of them; they had been killed with cold steel.

Atlacatl units also gathered together the residents of the Cumaro canton in the square on the morning of the 10th. There were no slayings, however.

There is sufficient evidence that Atlacatl units were involved in all of these actions. However, other mass executions were carried out during Operation Rescue by units that have not been identified precisely.

The troops took the same action in all cases: they killed the people they found, men, women, and children, and then set fire to their homes. This happened in La Joya canton on 11 December, in the hamlet of La Rancheria on the 12th, and in the hamlet of Jocote Amarillo and in Cerro Pando canton on the 13th.

Subsequent Events

The massacre in El Mozote became public knowledge on 27 January 1982, when THE NEW YORK TIMES and THE WASHINGTON POST published articles by Raymond Bonner and Alama Guillermoprieto, respectively, who reported the massacre. They had visited the scene of the events and seen the bodies and gutted homes in January.

During the year several human-rights organizations denounced the massacre. The Salvadoran authorities denied that there had ever been a massacre. No judicial investigation was begun, nor was any inquiry by the government or the Armed Forces made known.

On 26 October 1990, pursuant to criminal charges filed by Pedro Chicas Romero, criminal action was begun in San Francisco Gotera lower court. During the trial, which is still going on, testimony was taken from witnesses called by the plaintiff, and the bodies were eventually ordered exhumed, which provided irrefutable evidence of the massacre in El Mozote. The judge repeatedly asked the government for a list of the officers who took part in the military operation. The response was that the government did not have such information available.

Results of the Exhumation

The exhumation of the remains amid the ruins of the small building known as "the convent" alongside the church in El Mozote was performed between 13 and 17 November 1992.

The items found at the convent were analyzed by expert anthropologist and later examined thoroughly in the laboratory of the Institute of Forensic Medicine of Santa Tecla and in the laboratory of the Commission for the Investigation of Criminal Incidents by Dr. Clyde Snow (a forensic anthropologist), Dr. Robert H. Kirshner (a forensic pathologist), Dr. Douglas Scott, an archaeologist and ballistics expert, and Dr. John Fitzpatrick, a radiologist, in collaboration with the Argentine Team of Forensic Anthropology, consisting of Patricia Bernardi, Mercedes Doretti, and Luis Fondebrider.

The study that the experts conducted led to the following conclusions:

1. "All of the skeletons recovered, as well as the evidence associated with them, were deposited there during a single event in time..." (351) No physical evidence was found at this site to indicate that it may have been a clandestine cemetery in which bodies were buried at different times.

2. "The events under investigation presumably did not take place after 1981" (352). Coins and cartridge cases with dates of manufacture were found at the convent. Under no circumstances was the date later than 1981.

Forensic Project (1993)

3. The remains of at least 143 individuals were found at the convent (353). Nevertheless, the laboratory analysis conducted indicates that "there may have been more corpses. This uncertainty regarding the total number of skeletons is a result of the massive perimortem injuries, postmortem damage, and the degree to which the remains were thrown together. Many infants may have been totally cremated; other children may not have been counted, owing to the extensive fragmentation of body parts (354).

4. The remains and items found at the convent show many signs of damage from crushing and fire.

357 (Forensic Investigation Report, p 1) 5. Most of the victims were underage children.

The experts initially determined, after conducting the exhumation, that "approximately 85 percent of the 117 victims were under the age of 12," (355) clarifying that a more accurate estimation of the age of the persons would be made in the laboratory" (356).

The skeletal remains of 143 individuals were identified there, 131 of children under the age of 12, 5 of adolescents, and 7 of adults. They added that "the average age of the children is approximately six" (357).

6. One of the victims was a pregnant woman (358).

7. Although it was not possible to determine whether all of the victims were alive when placed in the convent, "it can be concluded that at least some of them received bullet wounds inside the building that could well have been fatal" (359).

This conclusion is based on several pieces of evidence:

1. A "large number of projectile fragments were found inside the structure..." (360). "Almost all of the ballistic evidence was found at level three, in direct contact with or lodged in the remains, clothing, housewares, and the building floor" (361). Moreover, "the spatial distribution of most of the projectile fragments coincides with the area of greatest concentration of skeletons and remains" (362). The second and third areas of projectile-fragment concentrations also coincide with the second and third biggest concentrations of skeletons, respectively.

2. "Of the 117 individual skeletons in the area, 67 had projectile fragments associated with them. In 43 skeletons of this subtotal of 67, the fragments were found in areas of the cranium and/or thorax, in other words, areas of the body in which they could have caused the death of these individuals" (363).

3. "In at least nine cases the victims had been shot inside the building, in a horizontal position, lying on the floor. The trajectory of the shots was downward. In at least six of these nine cases the shots could have killed the victims." (364)

4. When the skeletons were examined directly, intact wounds from the entry of firearm projectiles could be seen in only a few crania, owing to the extensive fragmentation that characterizes these high-velocity wounds. The reconstruction of the crania identified many more entrance wounds but relatively few exit wounds. This squares with the ballistic evidence in question, in the sense that the ammunition used in this case was the type that fragments on impact, essentially becoming fragile. The radiological examination of the cranial bones showed small metal densities compatible with projectile fragments in 45.2 percent of the cases (51 of 115)."

"Fractures characteristic of wounds produced by high-velocity firearms were observed in the long bones, vertebras, pelvis, and ribs." (365)

5. The weapons used against the victims were M-16 rifles. As the ballistics expert indicated, "two-hundred and forty-five (245) spent firearm cases recovered at site 1 El Mozote were examined. Of them, 184 had discernible seals on the base, identifying this ammunition as having been manufactured for the Government of the United States in Lake City, Missouri. Thirty-four (34) of these spent cases were well preserved enough to be analyzed individually and also to establish categories of similarity. All of the projectiles save one (1) seem to have been fired from M-16 rifles manufactured in the United States." (366)

6. At least 24 shooters were involved in the incident (367). They fired "from inside the building, from the doorway, and probably through a window to the right of the door." (368)

An important fact emphasized in the findings is that "projectile fragments were not found in the exterior west face of the front wall" [muro de arranque] (369).

The above evidence demonstrates clearly that the victims were executed summarily, as the witnesses have asserted.

The experts who conducted the exhumation came to the following conclusion: "All of the information cited points to a mass murder, as no evidence was found that could support the possibility of a confrontation between two groups" (370).

For their part, the experts who conducted the laboratory analysis said that "the physical evidence from the exhumation at the convent building in El Mozote confirms the contentions that it was a mass murder (371). They added on the same point: "There is no evidence to support the contention that these victims, almost all of them small children, were involved in combat or had been caught in the crossfire of a confrontation. On the contrary, the evidence strongly supports the conclusion that they were the victims of an intentional, criminal mass execution" (372).

Activities of the Commission

Before the Truth Commission began its activities, the director of the Human Rights Division of the UN Mission for El Salvador (ONUSAL) managed to persuade the trial judge to appoint qualified foreign experts.

The Truth Commission, from the time that it was established, made a special effort to see to it that the exhumation was performed under conditions that would guarantee the necessary scientific rigor and impartiality.

The Commission also examined the available publications, documents, and legal evidence. It heard direct testimony from eyewitnesses to the events and visited the site of the exhumations.

The Commission wrote three times to the defense minister and once to the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff of the Armed Forces, requesting information about the units and officers who took part in "Operation Rescue," as well as about the orders, reports, and other documents that might exist in the files in connection with the operation. The only response was that records of that period did not exist.

The involvement in this case of the chief justice of the Supreme Court of El Salvador, Dr. Mauricio Gutierez Castro, deserves special mention. When representatives of the organization Tutela Legal asked the trial judge on 17 July 1991 to appoint qualified foreign experts to perform the exhumations, the judge told them that he needed the approval of Dr. Gutierez Castro. It was not until nine months later, on 29 April 1992, after ONUSAL's efforts, that he proceeded to name them.

On 16 July 1992, during a visit that members of the Truth Commission paid to Dr. Gutierez Castro, he stated that the exhumation that the trial judge had ordered would show that "only dead guerrillas are buried" in El Mozote.

DRAFT

RELEASED
El Salvador Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

A few days later, the trial court decided that the appointment of the foreign experts was not valid without a complicated procedure of consultation with foreign governments through the Supreme Court; as a result, the exhumation was on the verge of being performed without their presence.

On 21 October, Dr. Mauricio Gutierrez Castro visited the site of the exhumations and, voicing his opinion on how future exhumations in the area ought to be conducted, stated that care should be taken not "to favor either party" (presumably the government and the FMLN [Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front]) "owing to the political implications of this trial, which transcend the legal arena."

Conclusions

It has been clearly established that on 11 December 1980 in the hamlet of El Mozote units of the Atlacatl Battalion deliberately and systematically killed a group of more than 200 men, women, and children, the entire civilian population that they had found there the day before and that they had under their control thereafter.

The Commission has managed to identify the following officers who were in command of the Atlacatl Battalion at the time of the operation:

Battalion Commander: Lieutenant Colonel Domingo Monterrosa Barrios (deceased);

Executive: Major Natividad de Jesus Caceres Cabrera (today a colonel);

Chief of Operations: Major Jose Armando Azmitia Melara (deceased);

Company Commanders: Juan Ernesto Mendez Rodriguez (today a colonel), Roberto Alfonso Mendoza Portillo (deceased), Jose Antonio Rodriguez Molina (today a lieutenant colonel), Captain Walter Oswaldo Salazar (today a lieutenant colonel), and Jose Alfredo Jimenez (today a fugitive from justice).

There is sufficient evidence that in the days preceding and following the massacre in El Mozote, military forces that were taking part in "Operation Rescue" massacred the noncombatant, civilian population in the canton of La Joya, in the hamlets of La Rancheria, Jocote Amarillo, and Los Toriles, and in the canton of Cerro Pando.

Taking part in this operation besides the Atlacatl Battalion were units of the Third Infantry Battalion, whose commander was Colonel Jaime Florez Grijalba (today retired), who was also in charge of supervising the operation, and of the San Francisco Gotera Commands Training Center, whose commander was Colonel Alejandro Cisneros (today retired).

Despite having heard of the massacre and even though it was readily verifiable owing to the profusion of unburied corpses, the high command of the Armed Forces failed to conduct or did not report any inquiry and repeatedly denied that there had been a massacre. There is full proof that General Jose Guillermo Garcia, the then defense minister, failed to call for investigations to shed light on the facts. There is sufficient evidence that General Rafael Florez Lima, the then chief of staff of the Armed Forces, was aware of the massacre but failed to call for an investigation either.

Nor did the high command take any steps to prevent a recurrence of such an incident, and as a result the same units were used in other operations and employed similar procedures.

The massacre in El Mozote was a serious violation of Humanitarian International Law and of International Human Rights Law.

The chief justice of the Supreme Court of El Salvador, Dr. Mauricio Gutierrez Castro, has played an improper, negative role, by taking a biased political approach, in the judicial procedures that are being followed in this case.

2. The Sumpul River

Summary of the Case

On 14 May 1980, troops of the Military Detachment No. 1 of the National Guard and the paramilitary Nationalist Democratic Organization (ORDEN) deliberately murdered at least 300 noncombatants, including women and children, who were trying to flee to Honduras across the Sumpul River near the hamlet of Las Aradas in the Department of Chalatenango. The massacre was made possible by the cooperation of the Honduran Armed Forces, which prevented the Salvadoran settlers from getting across.

The Salvadoran military operation had begun the preceding day as an antiguerrilla operation. The troops came form various points and converged on the hamlet of Las Aradas, which is situated on the banks of the Sumpul River. During the operation, a number of clashes with the guerrillas had occurred.

There is sufficient proof that in the course of their advance, the government forces committed acts of violence against the population and that this caused numerous individuals to flee. Many of them came together in this hamlet of 10 or so houses.

The troops attacked the hamlet with artillery and gunfire from two helicopters. The residents and the people displaced by the operation tried to cross the Sumpul River to take refuge in Honduras. The Honduran troops deployed on the opposite bank of the river prevented their crossing, and they were then murdered by the Salvadoran troops, who fired on them deliberately.

Description of the Events

Background Information

In 1970, when the war between Honduras and El Salvador known as the "Soccer War" ended, a demilitarized zone including a strip 3 km wide on each side of the frontier was established. Surveillance of this zone was carried out by an Organization of American States (OAS) observer mission. The Armed Forces of both countries were forbidden to enter the zone.

The beginning of the conflict in El Salvador caused large numbers of Salvadoran peasants to seek refuge in Honduras, where camps were established. At the beginning of 1980, as a result of the increase in the antiguerrilla actions, large numbers of Salvadoran peasants crossed the frontier, leaving many settlements practically uninhabited, Las Aradas among them. The government of Honduras became increasingly concerned as Salvadoran refugees entered the country and settled there. It should be remembered that one of the causes of the war between the two countries had been the settlement of Salvadoran peasants in the frontier portions of the territory of Honduras.

The Salvadoran government, for its part, saw the demilitarized zone and Honduran territory as areas serving as a base for the guerrilla fighters and a refuge from which to develop their actions, which had been intensifying in the adjacent zone in northern Chalatenango Department.

Moreover, a large proportion of the peasant population in the zone belonged to the Federation of Farm Workers [Federacion de Trabajadores del Campo], which had taken up the struggle for agrarian reform and was seen by the Salvadoran government as an organization providing support to the guerrillas.

In the second half of March 1980, the Honduran authorities began to pressure the refugees to return to their own country. A group of them returned to Las Aradas.

DRAFT

RELEASED
Special Project (1993)

The Salvadoran Government continued to carry out antiguerrilla operations in the zone. Between the time the residents returned to Las Aradas and the massacre in May, National Guard and ORDEN personnel, who were not forbidden to enter the zone, came as far as Las Aradas on two occasions. In both instances, the residents fled into Honduran territory across the river.

On 5 May, nine days before the massacre, military leaders from both Honduras and El Salvador met at the frontier, according to the Honduran press, for the purpose of finding mechanisms for preventing the Salvadoran guerrillas from entering Honduras.

Some days later, Honduran military personnel again exerted pressure on the Salvadoran refugees. A group of them returned to Las Aradas.

When the operation that was to lead to the massacre began a week later, many fleeing peasants converged on Las Aradas, confident that from that point, they could cross the "hammock" bridge over the Sumpul River, which was swollen by the rainy season, and could reach safety in Honduran territory. They also expected that the Salvadoran soldiers would not enter the demilitarized zone.

Subsequent Events

The armies of the two countries abandoned the zone the very day of the massacre. The National Guard continued to patrol the area to prevent any residents from returning. The corpses remained unburied.

The media in Honduras reported extensively on what had happened. The first journalistic report appeared on 21 May in a news broadcast carried by Continental News Radio (Radio Noticias del Continente), which operates in Costa Rica. Several days later, the newspaper TIEMPO published an interview with Father Roberto Yalaga, a priest in the Santa Rosa de Copan Diocese, under the heading "At Least 325 Salvadorans Killed by Army; Honduran Military Unit Cordons off Sumpul Riverbank." The priest confirmed this occurrence.

Two foreign journalists, Gabriel Sanhuesa and Ursula Ferdinand, succeeded in reaching the Las Aradas hamlet from Honduras, and they obtained graphic evidence of the slaughter. They also managed to interview several survivors who had taken refuge in Honduran frontier hamlets, and they published a pamphlet on the incident.

Formal charges were filed concerning the incident by the Presbytery and the nuns of the Honduran Diocese of Santa Rosa de Copan on 19 June 1980, with the signatures of 38 pastoral members of the Diocese. The accusation was based on the graphic evidence and the testimony obtained by the Diocese as a part of its investigations.

In the accusation, the Government and the Armed Forces of the Republic of Honduras were charged with complicity in the perpetration of the incident and its later concealment, and the Organization of American States was accused of complicity in the concealment of the tragic event. The declaration in question was endorsed by the entire Honduran Episcopal Conference, headed by Monsignor Hector E. Santos, the archbishop of Tegucigalpa, in a statement published in the press on 1 July 1980. In El Salvador, the Archbishopric of San Salvador endorsed and expressed solidarity with the accusation made by the Santa Rosa de Copan Diocese in a communique made public on 29 June 1980.

The Salvadoran minister of defense, General Jose Guillermo Garcia, denied that a massacre had occurred. In an interview a year later, he admitted that some individuals had died in a clash that occurred at the Sumpul River on 14 May 1980, "but not in any massive numbers." (373)

In October of 1980, President Jose Napoleon Duarte admitted in an interview granted to the UNITED CHURCH OBSERVER, a Canadian publication, that "an action occurred on the Sumpul River" and that "about 300 persons, all of them 'communist guerrillas,' died." (374)

Similarly, the accusations made by the Santa Rosa de Copan Diocese were denied in an Official Declaration by the Government and Armed Forces of Honduras, which described the statements made as slanderous and irresponsible. (375) Honduran President Policarpo Paz denied the truth of the charges in a speech carried on the national radio and television chain. The minister of government, Colonel Cristobal Diaz Garcia, told the press that Honduras would not appoint any investigation commission. In answer to a question, he said: "No one doubts that there was a massacre on the other side, but we did not participate in it."

Colonel Alfonso Rodriguez Rincon, the officer in charge of the OAS observers, termed the charges made by the Honduran Church "excessively exaggerated creativity." He stated that "as chief of the observers, I can say that we had no knowledge of these events." He added that "there are many operations on the El Salvador side, and it is possible that a number of guerrilla fighters were killed. Perhaps this circumstance is being confused with some other."

However, the Commission had knowledge of reports by the OAS observers that "a serious clash occurred between Salvadoran troops and the FMLN [Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front] guerrilla forces between 14 and 16 May 1980 on the frontier in the region, and more than 200 deaths occurred as a result of the confrontation." They also reported that "some civilians were caught in the crossfire, but there was no evidence of a massacre of innocent civilians."

On 26 October of this year, witnesses who survived the massacre on the Sumpul River filed formal charges with the Court of the First Instance in Chalatenango, which were accepted under the title "On Inquiries Into the Assassination of 600 Persons." (376)

Action by the Commission

The Commission took about 100 direct depositions concerning the events and examined an equal number of statements submitted to other organizations. It examined the documentation available, including photographs and talked with the individuals who first reported the facts. A Commission official traveled to Honduras to collect direct testimony. The members of the Commission personally inspected the site of the events.

The Commission repeatedly solicited the cooperation of the Salvadoran military authorities in order to move the investigation forward, but the only response obtained was the statement that no records were available for that period. Colonel Ricardo Augusto Pena Arbaiza, who was the commander of Military Detachment No. 1 at that time, was summoned to appear and testify but failed to appear.

Conclusions

There is substantial evidence that on 13 and 14 May 1980, military personnel of the Military Detachment No. 1, National Guard agents, and personnel of the paramilitary Nationalist Democratic Organization, with air support from the Air Force, perpetrated a massacre of at least 300 unarmed civilians on the edge of the Sumpul River.

The Commission believes that there was concealment of the facts by some of the Salvadoran military authorities. There is adequate proof that Col. Ricardo Augusto Pena Arbaiza, the commander of Military Detachment No. 1 in May of 1980, pursued no serious investigation of the events that had occurred.

3. El Calabozo

Summary of the Case

On 22 August 1982, in the locality called El Calabozo, which is located on the Amatitan River in the northern part of the Department of San Vicente, personnel of the Atlacatl Rapid Deployment Infantry Battalion (BIRI) murdered more than 200 individuals, including men, women, and children, who were at their mercy.

The victims had come to that site from various places as they fled from a vast military antiguerrilla operation launched three days earlier in the Cerros de San Pedro (San Pedro Hills) zone. In addition to the Atlacatl BIRI, other infantry, artillery, and air support units participated in that operation.

There was a substantial guerrilla presence supported by the local population in the zone where the operation took place. The government forces had penetrated the zone earlier, but the guerrilla fighters had retreated from the battle. On this occasion the operation, given the designation "Lieutenant Colonel Mario Azenon Palma," involved some 6,000 troops. Its purpose was to clear the zone of the guerrillas. With the advance of the troops, the civilian population fled out of fear of the bombings and the soldiers' violence. One of the sites where a large number of the fugitives congregated was El Calabozo.

According to the testimony, when the unit of the Atlacatl Battalion surprised the fugitives, some of them succeeded in escaping. The others were rounded up and machine-gunned.

The military operation continued for several more days. The government informed the public that it had been a success, that many guerrilla fighters had been killed, and that camps had been destroyed and weapons and other equipment captured.

On 8 September, two weeks after the event, the massacre was briefly reported in THE WASHINGTON POST, a daily newspaper. The minister of defense, Gen. Jose Guillermo Garcia, announced that there had been an investigation and that no massacre had occurred. He repeated this denial in an interview with the Commission.

In July of 1992, after special charges had been filed, the judicial investigation of the events was initiated by the Mixed Court of the First Instance in San Sebastian.

The Commission took depositions from eyewitnesses and examined the available documentation. The members of the Commission inspected the site of the events. To the efforts made to obtain information about the military operation, the units that participated in it, and the results of the investigation announced, the minister of defense responded that there were no files available on that era.

Conclusions

There is sufficient proof that on 22 August 1982, personnel of the Atlacatl Battalion deliberately murdered more than 200 civilians, including men, women, and children, whom they had taken prisoner without resistance. This event occurred at the site called El Calabozo, near the Amatitan Abajo District in the Department of San Vicente.

Despite the public accusations made concerning these events, the Salvadoran authorities denied they had happened. Although they said an investigation had been carried out, there is no trace whatsoever of its existence.

The El Calabozo massacre constituted a serious violation of international humanitarian law and international human rights law.

4. The Pattern of Conduct

In addition to the massacres described, the Commission has taken direct testimony about numerous mass executions that occurred in the course of the years 1980, 1981, and 1982, in which Armed Forces personnel, in the course of antiguerrilla operations, executed peasants, including men, women, and children, who had put up no resistance, simply because they were thought to be collaborators of the guerrilla fighters.

The number of executions of this sort reported by individuals and groups is so large and so well-documented that the Commission is inclined to dismiss any possibility that they were isolated incidents or were merely excesses committed by the soldiers or their immediate commanders.

There is every evidence that these deaths are a part a pattern of conduct, a deliberate strategy designed to eliminate or terrorize the peasant population in the zones of guerrilla activity. The aim was to deprive the guerrillas of this source of supplies and information, as well as their ability to conceal themselves among or blend in with the people.

It is impossible to maintain that this pattern of conduct could be attributed to the local commanders alone, and that it was not known to the higher commands. As has been explained, the massacres of the peasant population were repeatedly reported. There is no evidence that any effort was made to investigate these occurrences. The authorities did nothing but term these charges slanderous propaganda by their adversaries. If it were not for the infants' skeletons found in El Mozote, even today some would doubt that these massacres occurred.

These little skeletons are proof not only that the cold-blooded El Mozote massacre occurred, but also that the higher commands were jointly responsible. This is because they are proof that the evidence of the unburied corpses was for a long time accessible to any investigation of the events that might have existed. In this case, the excuse that the higher commands were ignorant of the facts cannot be accepted.

No steps were taken to prevent occurrences of this sort. On the contrary, deliberate, systematic, and indiscriminate violence against the peasant population in the operational areas was the policy consistently pursued for years.

D. Assassinations by the Death Squads

I. Illustrative Case: Monsignor Romero

Summary of the Case

On 24 March 1980, the archbishop of San Salvador, Monsignor Oscar Arnulfo Romero y Galdamez, was murdered while officiating at a mass in the chapel of the Divine Providence Hospital.

The Commission concludes the following:

1. Former Major Roberto D'Aubuisson ordered the assassination of the archbishop and gave precise instructions to members of his security team, who were to organize and supervise the execution of the crime, acting as a "death squad."

2. Captains Alvaro Saravia and Eduardo Avila played an active role in the planning and perpetration of the murder, as did Fernando Sagrera and Mario Molina.

3. Amado Antonio Garay, the former Capt. Saravia's driver, was assigned to take the marksman to the chapel. Mr. Garay was a competent witness when the gunman fired one single high-velocity .22-caliber bullet from a four-door red Volkswagen for the purpose of killing the archbishop.

4. Walter Antonio "Musa" Alvarez, together with former Capt. Saravia, was to see to paying the perpetrator of the assassination his "fee."

5. The frustrated assassination attempt on the life of Judge Atilio Ramirez Amaya was a deliberate action designed to discourage clarification of the facts.

6. The Supreme Court played an active role that served to hinder the extradition from the United States and later imprisonment of former Capt. Saravia in El Salvador. Among other things, this provided the planner of the assassination with impunity.

Description of the Events (377)

The Assassination

On Monday, 24 March 1980, the archbishop of San Salvador, Monsignor Oscar Arnulfo Romero y Galdamez, was murdered while in the midst of celebrating mass (378) in the chapel of the Divine Providence Hospital. (379) The professional assassin fired a single .22-caliber bullet from a four-door red Volkswagen, and death resulted from profuse hemorrhaging.

Background Information

Monsignor Romero had become a well-known critic of violence and injustice, and as such, he was seen in right-wing civilian and military circles as a dangerous enemy. His homilies provoked profound irritation in these circles because they included accounts of incidents in which human rights were violated, the product of the work of the Legal Aid Office of the Archbishopric.

Therefore, individuals of high rank in the government as well as the Armed Forces viewed the actions of the archbishop as aiding subversion.

The print media criticized him in unmistakably hostile terms, for example "...a demagogic and violent archbishop...(who) has encouraged the pursuit of terrorism from the pulpit..." (380) and "...it would be well for the Armed Forces to ready their rifles (...)." (381)

In his 17 February 1980 homily, the archbishop opposed military aid to El Salvador from the United States, saying that "(...) neither the (Government) Junta nor the Christian Democrats are governing the country. The political power is in the hands of the Armed Forces. They are using their power in unscrupulous fashion. All they know is how to repress the people and defend the interests of the Salvadoran oligarchy (...)." (382)

That same month, he received death threats (383), and because of this situation, he preferred not to be accompanied by his colleagues when he went out, in order to avoid unnecessary risks to them. (384) On Monday, 10 March, the day after he officiated at a mass for the late Mario Zamora (385), a suitcase was found behind the pulpit near the main altar. (386) The Explosives and Demolition Unit of the National Police ascertained that the suitcase contained a bomb which had failed to explode. (387)

Special Project (1993)

In his homily on Sunday, 23 March, the archbishop voiced an appeal to the Salvadoran soldiers themselves. "...I beg them, I implore them, I order them, in the name of God, to cease the repression!" (388)

The Official Investigation

The investigation process to determine who was responsible for the assassination of the archbishop proved to be very controversial and riddled with political motivations, apart from being inefficient. Some of the pertinent elements which the Commission took into account in its own investigation are summarized below.

The First Proceedings and Incidents

The National Police went to the chapel of the Divine Providence Hospital to gather evidence. However, they acted improperly, since they failed to collect material evidence of the crime at the site.

Atilio Ramirez Amaya, the presiding judge of the Fourth Criminal Court, ordered an autopsy of the prelate at the Salvadoran Polyclinic. A small entry wound in the right thorax, only 5 mm in diameter, indicated where the projectile had entered the body. It had fragmented and remained within the archbishop's body, causing fatal internal hemorrhaging. Three fragments were extracted for study. (389) Judge Ramirez Amaya maintained that the bullet used could only have been of the .22-caliber type or something similar. (390) Based on the weight of the fragments, the National Police confirmed that they came from a .22-caliber bullet, but no more precise conclusions were reached. (391) After an unsuccessful attempt was made on his life at his home on 27 March, Judge Ramirez Amaya submitted his resignation and left the country. (392)

The "Saravia Diary" and Other Documents Found at the San Luis Farm

On 7 May 1980, during a search carried out at the San Luis Farm in Santa Tecla, 12 soldiers of both high and low rank and 12 civilians (393) who were holding a meeting there were arrested. One of the men was former Maj. Roberto D'Aubuisson. The individuals arrested were formally charged with conspiracy to bring down the government by means of a coup d'etat. (394)

Among the documents seized during the search was a "Report on the Charges Made Against Monsignor Oscar Arnulfo Romero, Archbishop of San Salvador, by a South American Informant Prepared To Provide Filmed and Written Proof Within 15 Days," (395), as well as a pocket diary belonging to former Capt. Alvaro Rafael Saravia and two lists of names of senior commanders and officers (in the Salvadoran Armed Forces). (396)

The "Saravia diary" contained a number of pertinent details about the assassination of Monsignor Romero. It referred to purchases and deliveries of a number of weapons and ammunition, some of which, based on the expert ballistic analysis ordered by Judge Ramirez Amaya, corresponded to the type used in the murder. (397) Moreover, several names that appeared in the diary many times were those of individuals regarding whom the Commission has now received sufficient evidence that they participated in the planning, the perpetration, or the concealment of the assassination. (398) Other notes mention the name "Amado"--Amado Garay, the driver assigned the responsibility of providing the assassin with transportation, as well as records of payments made for gasoline for a red vehicle put at the disposal of former Capt. Saravia.

A third document entitled "General Organizational Structure for the Anti-Marxist Struggle in El Salvador" set forth the guidelines and goals of the group at the San Luis Farm. The goal described was the seizure of power in El Salvador, and the group was relying on a political plan that called for "direct action" tasks termed "combat-network activities" and including "individual attacks." (399)

None of the documents seized at the San Luis Farm were turned over to the Fourth Criminal Court, and it was not until years later that the Court gained access to a copy of the diary. The actions undertaken by the judge to locate the original were unsuccessful.

The Charges Made by Former Maj. D'Aubuisson

In March of 1984, former Maj. Roberto D'Aubuisson gave a television address during the presidential election campaign during which he played a recording made by "Pedro Lobo," allegedly a commander in the FMLN, who admitted to being an accomplice in the assassination of Monsignor Romero. Almost immediately, "Pedro Lobo" was identified as a common criminal who was in prison from 1979 to 1981 (400), who stated that he had been offered $50,000 if he would commit the murder. (401) However, former Maj. D'Aubuisson continued to insist that Monsignor Romero was assassinated by the guerrillas (402), and the Armed Forces officially continued to take this same view. (403)

The Work of the Commission To Investigate Crimes

The Commission To Investigate Crimes (CIHD) began its inquiries into the assassination of Monsignor Romero in January of 1986. (404).

In November of 1987, Amado Antonio Garay, one of the individuals arrested at the San Luis Farm, who was former Capt. Alvaro Saravia's driver, revealed that on 24 March 1980, Saravia ordered him to drive a red Volkswagen to the Divine Providence Hospital in the Miramonte Quarter. He parked opposite the chapel. His passenger, a bearded man he did not know, ordered him to bend over and pretend to be making some repairs. He heard a shot, turned, and saw that the individual "was holding a rifle in both hands, pointed to the right out of the right rear window of the vehicle (...)." Just at that moment there was an odor of gunpowder (...) and the bearded man immediately instructed him, in a calm voice, to drive "slowly and steadily" away from the site. (405)

Garay maintained that he took the man back to former Capt. Saravia, to whom the unknown individual said the phrase "mission accomplished." Three days later, Garay drove former Capt. Saravia to a house where he met with former Maj. D'Aubuisson, to whom Saravia said: "We have now done what we had planned concerning the death of Monsignor Arnulfo Romero." (406)

The Office of the Attorney General had Garay testify before Judge Ricardo Alberto Zamora Perez on 20 November 1987. Based on Garay's verbal description of the assassin (407) and the inspections carried out at the sites mentioned by the witness (408), the judge ordered the arrest of former Capt. Saravia (409) on 24 November and notified the Central Electoral Council that he needed certification of former Maj. D'Aubuisson's status as a deputy sent to him, as a first step in obtaining revocation of his parliamentary immunity and summoning him before the court. (410)

Former Capt. Saravia filed a writ of habeas corpus on which the Supreme Court did not rule until a year later. In December of 1988, the court ruled that "(...) said testimony given in evidence (by Garay) does not fully merit confidence (...), the witness having made his statement seven years, seven months, and 24 days after the occurrence of the event about which he was testifying, (which) completely deprives his testimony of credibility (...)." The court also expressed the opinion that the attorney general lacked the authority to request extradition. (411)

The Accusation of the Alleged Marksman

The CIHD pursued other inquiries. Garay identified a 1969 photograph (412) of Dr. Hector Antonio Regalado, to which a beard had been added, as that which most closely resembled the verbal description provided with a view to identifying the man who fired the gun. Regalado was the man responsible, under former Capt. Saravia, for the personal safety of D'Aubuisson. (413) In a statement made before the Commission, Regalado denied that he was the man who fired the shot. The commission found no convincing evidence that he had participated in this assassination.

The Investigation by the Truth Commission

The Truth Commission obtained substantial evidence leading to the conclusion that:

Former Maj. Roberto D'Aubuisson, former Capt. Alvaro Saravia, and Fernando Sagrera (414) were present in the residence of Alejandro Caceres in San Salvador on 24 March 1980. Capt. Eduardo Avila arrived and informed them that Archbishop Romero would officiate at a mass that same day. Capt. Avila expressed the view that this offered an excellent opportunity for the assassination of the archbishop. Former Maj. D'Aubuisson ordered the deed done and put former Capt. Saravia in charge of the operation. When it was noted that a marksman would be needed, Capt. Avila stated that he would take responsibility for contacting one through Mario Molina. Amado Garay was assigned to drive the assassin to the chapel.

The parking lot of the Hotel Camino Real served as the meeting point before they proceeded to the chapel. It was there that the bearded marksman, carrying the assassination weapon, got into a four-door red Volkswagen driven by Garay. At least two vehicles drove from the Hotel Camino Real to the site of the crime. From the vehicle, which was located opposite the main entrance to the chapel, the assassin fired a single bullet, which killed Archbishop Romero.

Former Maj. D'Aubuisson ordered that 1,000 colones be delivered to Walter Antonio "Musa" Alvarez, who, together with the bearded assassin, received the corresponding payment. Alvarez was kidnapped in the month of September 1981 and was found dead a short time afterward.

Conclusions

The Commission concludes the following:

1. There is full evidence that:

a. Former Maj. Roberto D'Aubuisson gave the order for the assassination of the archbishop, and he gave precise instructions to members of his security team to organize and supervise the execution of the assassination, acting as a "death squad."

b. Capts. Alvaro Saravia and Eduardo Avila played an active role in the planning and perpetration of the assassination, as did Fernando Sagrera and Mario Molina.

c. Amado Antonio Garay, the former Capt. Saravia's driver, was instructed to and did transport the marksman to the chapel. Mr. Garay was a competent witness when the gunman fired a single high-velocity .22-caliber bullet from a four-door red Volkswagen, killing the archbishop.

4. There is full evidence that the Supreme Court played an active role that served to hinder the extradition from the United States and the later imprisonment of former Capt. Saravia in El Salvador. It thereby provided the planner of the assassination with impunity, among other things.

2. The Pattern of the Death Squads

The Truth Commission received a large number of reports about the serious acts of violence allegedly perpetrated by death squads. The testimony taken directly pertained to a total of 817 victims of kidnappings, disappearances, and executions perpetrated between 1980 and 1991. (415)

There remains no doubt that what have been called homicides perpetrated by the death squads in the rural zones account for a significant number out of the total number of deaths that occurred in El Salvador in the years between 1980 and 1991. The Truth Commission has received a full report on the testimony given by numerous witnesses, including a number of members of the Armed Forces and civilian members of the death squads, who confessed to and gave details about their participation in the organization, execution, and financing of these crimes, on the highest levels.

The undeniable impact of the multiple items of evidence obtained concerning the death squads leads us to confirm that we share the desire of the citizens of El Salvador, with the understanding that this is of the greatest importance, not only to determine the extent of this phenomenon in El Salvador, but also to inform the international community of the characteristics pointing to its harmful involvement with the formal structure of the state, by acts of commission or omission. Decisive action is needed to eliminate this infamous phenomenon that has so devastated the cause of human rights.

Violations of human rights were carried out in systematic and organized fashion between 1980 and 1991 by groups acting as death squads. These were organizations of individuals who usually wore civilian clothes, were heavily armed, and acted secretly and concealed their affiliation and identities. They kidnapped members of the civilian population and of rebel groups. They tortured their victims, caused their disappearance, and usually executed them. (416)

These squads, which were linked with state entities either through active participation or by tolerance, achieved control of a sort that went beyond the level of any isolated or unusual phenomenon and became a tool of terror and of systematic physical elimination of political opponents. Many of the civilian and military authorities who held office during the 1980s participated in, sponsored, or tolerated the actions of these groups. Despite the fact that there are no obvious indications of the continued existence, even latent, of these clandestine organizations' structures, they could be reactivated if signals were given on the higher levels of government that the "dirty war" might be resumed in El Salvador. And since the squad phenomenon is the characteristic pattern, par excellence, of this dirty war, which in the end destroyed every vestige of the state of law during the armed conflict, not only must an alert and determined attitude be adopted in the Salvadoran state in order to prevent the resurgence of this phenomenon, but international cooperation must also be solicited so that it can be totally and absolutely eradicated. (417)

Origins and History

El Salvador has a long history of violence perpetrated by groups that are not sponsored by the state, nor are they common criminals. This country has for decades had a fragmented society with a weak system of justice and a tradition of impunity for officials and members of the most powerful families who have committed abuses. At the same time, El Salvador is a country with little land, many inhabitants, and tremendous social tensions. All of these things have contributed to generating an atmosphere in which violence has become a part of daily life.

Violence has become a part of the practice of the government authorities, guided directly by state officials. This has been reflected in the persistence, throughout the history of the country, of conduct within the state and the groups in power using violence as a tool for controlling civilian society. Its roots go deep. In the last 150 years, various rebellions organized by peasants and indigenous groups have been violently repressed by the state and by civilian groups armed by the landowners.

A kind of connivance developed between the businessmen and the landowners, who entered into a close relationship with the Army and the intelligence and security forces. It was a question of finding alleged subversives within civilian society so as to defend the country against the threats posed by alleged foreign conspiracies. Making the control of domestic subversion the priority for the defense of the state encouraged repression.

There have been several stages in the process of the development of the death squads in this century. Early in the decade that began in 1910, the National Guard was established and organized. From the time of its formation, National Guard agents cooperated actively with the major landowners, sometimes even going so far as to undertake the brutal repression of the peasant groups and other rural groups that threatened their interests.

The local National Guard commanders "provided service" or leased soldiers for the protection of the material interests of the landowners. Shortly thereafter, the use of "paramilitary" personnel chosen and equipped with weapons by the Army or the landowners began. They became a kind of "intelligence network" used against "subversives" or as an "instrument of local terror."

In other words, almost from the very beginning of this century, a Salvadoran state security force has, because of a distorted perception of its true function, been directed against the vast majority of the civilian population. In 1932, National Guard, Army, and paramilitary group personnel, with the local landowners collaborating, perpetrated a massacre known as "The Slaughter," during which more than 10,000 peasants were murdered in the western part of the country in order to put down a rural rebellion.

Between 1967 and 1979, General Jose Alberto Medrano, who headed the National Guard, organized the paramilitary group known as the Nationalist Democratic Organization (418). The task of this organization was to identify and eliminate alleged communists in the rural sector. He also organized the national intelligence agency, ANSESAL. These bodies served to consolidate the era of military hegemony in El Salvador, selectively sowing terror among the alleged subversives identified by the intelligence services. Thus the Army domination of civilian society was consolidated by means of repression used to maintain its control over society. During these years of military dictatorship, the government basically retained its power through the use of "selective violence."

Following the reformist coup carried out by young military personnel in 1979, a new period of consummate violence began. A number of groups in the Armed Forces and the private sector competed for control of the repressive apparatus.

Hundreds and even thousands of individuals perceived as sympathizing with or active members in a growing guerrilla movement--the Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front--were murdered. Army, Treasury Police, National Guard, and National Police personnel formed "squads" to eliminate the enemies. Private and semiofficial groups also organized their own squads or joined the structures in existence within the Armed Forces.

The Truth Commission took testimony describing this phenomenon of local violence, for example, that which occurred in the town of Cojutepeque and the municipalities of San Rafael de los Cedros, El Rosario, and Monte San Juan in the southeastern part of the department of Cuscatlan. In that zone, civil defense personnel, soldiers from the local detachment, National Guard agents, and civilian members of ORDEN were members of squads that killed hundreds of individuals. The judge of the Second Cojutepeque Court revealed that the book of entries for 1980 showed 141 homicide cases. The judge said that 2,000 persons had been assassinated in the department of Cuscatlan that year, and that it was probable that less than 20 percent of these murders were on record with the courts.

It should be said that while it is possible to differentiate the Armed Forces squads from those made up of civilians, the boundaries between the two were often blurred. Thus, even though they were not a part of the state structure as such, squads thus organized very often received support and tolerance from the state bodies. The squads frequently coordinated their actions with the Armed Forces and served as a support structure for their activities. The clandestine nature of these actions made it possible to conceal the state's responsibility for them, and it created a climate of total impunity for the assassins who operated within the squads. This mentality and the concrete practice of allowing impunity poses a threat to Salvadoran society.

Two cases illustrate the composition and the operation of the squads during this era--the group surrounding Maj. D'Aubuisson and the squads that operated out of the intelligence sections of the military S-II or C-II departments. The Truth Commission has seen fit to describe these two groups because their actions created anxiety and fear and profoundly damaged the civilian society of El Salvador. They were not, of course, the only death squads operating in the country.

The Group Headed by Former Maj. D'Aubuisson

The 1979 coup d'etat changed the political scene in El Salvador. (419) One of the parties directly involved in the struggle was made up of a nucleus of military personnel who sought to block the path of the armed rebel groups and any reform movement. (420) In their view, the Government Junta was "infiltrated by Marxist officers, which could prove fatal to the independence and the liberty of the Salvadoran fatherland if the anticommunist sector of the people failed to take action." (421) The leader of this faction was former Maj. Roberto D'Aubuisson, who had until 1979 held the third most important post in the ANSESAL hierarchy, and who, on retiring, kept part of the institution's files.

Former Maj. D'Aubuisson won great support from civilian leaders with substantial economic assets who feared that their interests might be affected by the program of reforms announced by the Government Junta. They were convinced that the country was seriously threatened with a Marxist rebellion they would have to put down. The Truth Commission obtained testimony from many witnesses to the effect that some of the richest landowners and the businessmen in the country and outside it allowed their farms, homes, vehicles, and bodyguards to be used to help the deaths. They also provided financing for the organization and support of the squads, in particular those headed by former Maj. D'Aubuisson.

As the social conflict in El Salvador became more acute, the subversive actions increased. Former Maj. D'Aubuisson obtained a privileged position for himself in order to become the link between a very aggressive sector of Salvadoran society and the intelligence and operations network of the security forces' S-II. D'Aubuisson was virtually catapulted into the position of the unchallenged national political leader of the only movement capable "of preventing the leftist process from seizing power." (422) He then opted to use what in his understanding was the only method used by the subversives--the illegal use of force. "An eye for an eye," as the popular saying goes.

D'Aubuisson organized meetings between civilians with influence and economic interests and military groups. In this way, he succeeded in merging the two ingredients in a strategic relationship. It involved the provision of resources (money, vehicles, weapons, houses, etc.) by the civilians and the definition of a political direction for the actions to be carried out by the S-II intelligence units. As a result, the attacks on and intimidation of civilian opponents and individuals suspected of collaborating with or belonging to the guerrilla movement took on political meaning and intent.

For former Maj. D'Aubuisson, it was of the greatest importance to obtain intelligence reports, because it served the cause and increased the efficiency of his political plans. He wasted no resource available to him, using either infiltration or blandishments with the security corps and the Armed Forces. In the scheme of political organization promoted by D'Aubuisson, all of this intelligence was designed for use in "direct action," which explicitly included the perpetration of attacks on individuals, kidnappings, "the recovery of funds," and sabotage. (423)

Following the assassination of Monsignor Romero, the primary responsibility for which former Maj. D'Aubuisson discussed only in very limited circles (see description of the assassination of Monsignor Romero), his prestige and influence grew within the economically powerful groups. This made it easier for him to obtain even greater support and more resources. The incident at the San Luis Farm and his temporary sojourn in Guatemala caused no interruption in the development of D'Aubuisson's program, because it was precisely in Guatemala that he was able to make contact with anticommunist individuals, networks, and organizations with international connections, such as Mario Sandoval Alarcon, Luis Mondizabal, and Ricardo Lao, for example.

While in Guatemala, D'Aubuisson continued to initiate and supervise many attacks by groups identified as "death squads," and on his return to El Salvador, he had permanent sources for passing on and updating abundant intelligence data on the majority of the armed units and territorial districts whose commanders were politically sympathetic with him. He was also provided with effective logistic support for the assignment and rotation of troops for his personal safety and the transfer of weapons.

The General Staff of the Armed Forces knew of these constant intelligence leaks, but not only was no action ever taken to control them, but access was even provided to such data in calculated fashion. In fact, some officers of high rank played active roles in former Maj. D'Aubuisson's group.

There is substantial evidence that the actions of former Maj. D'Aubuisson during this period occurred within secret circuits in which civilians and military personnel of both high and low rank mixed politics, assassinations, and the defense of their own economic interests together in their zeal to combat both the peaceful opposition and armed subversive groups.

One of the individuals closest to D'Aubuisson was his security chief, Hector Antonio Regalado. The Truth Commission obtained enough evidence to conclude that Regalado not only organized his own death squad in the town of Santiago de Maria, but also coordinated and trained D'Aubuisson's networks in the capital. Regalado supervised D'Aubuisson's squad from his office at the National Assembly, where Regalado was chief of security when D'Aubuisson was president of that body. (424)

Squads That Operated in the Intelligence Sections II

In many units of the Armed Forces, the intelligence section (S-II) organized its operations on the basis of the squad structure. These operations were carried out by members of the Armed Forces, usually wearing civilian clothes with no insignia and using vehicles with no identification.

Similarly, the Salvadoran Armed Forces maintained a secret and clandestine apparatus for obtaining intelligence on civilian political objectives. It reported to General Staff Department 5--Civilian Affairs, which received intelligence from the S-IIs of each military unit and security corps. This body had the task of obtaining intelligence data for the drafting of plans for direct action, which included the "elimination" of individuals. In some cases, these plans were translated into actual orders given to the operational units in the various security corps or the Armed Forces itself.

The following is just one example of the many squads of this type that existed.

The National Guard Intelligence Section Squads

The testimony and information received by the Truth Commission from former members of the National Guard S-II indicate that the assassination of Rodolfo Viera, the president of the Salvadoran Institute of Agrarian Transformation (ISTA), and two North American advisers in January of 1981 was not an isolated incident. Members of that unit, in collusion with economically powerful civilians, functioned as a death squad dedicated to the elimination of political opponents and those regarded as sympathizers with the armed left wing.

A group of extreme right-wing civilians, among them Mr. Hans Christ, Ricardo Sol Meza, Constantino Rampone, and Ernesto Panama, "advised" the National Guard S-II. These individuals exerted an influence on the work of the S-II. They often visited the headquarters to meet with the head of S-II, Major Mario Denis Moran, and his second in command, Lieutenant Isidro Lopez Sibrian.

On a number of occasions, they supplied money and weapons. There is also evidence and testimony to the effect that Argentine citizens frequently visited the S-II headquarters and were assigned tasks to perform, including assassinations, by that same group of civilians.

Information obtained from a wide range of sources also indicates that Maj. Moran, Lt. Lopez Sibrian, and Capt. Eduardo Avila--all three with leading positions in the S-II or linked with this division--were members of the death squads connected with the civilians mentioned.

The intelligence section was made up of subsections, such as those for operations and intelligence. There was a smaller group within the intelligence subsection responsible for "the dirty work." It specialized in interrogation, torture, and executions. This group enjoyed the highest confidence of its superior officers, and it functioned as a special unit serving Moran and Lopez Sibrian, who were the number one and number two men, respectively, in the S-II. This group included Rodolfo Orellana Osorio, Enoc Abel Campos ("Heidi"), Rene Mauricio Cruz Gonzalez, Oscar Reinaldo Bonilla Monge, and Mario Ernesto Aparacio, among others. The members of this group showed no respect for the hierarchic chain of command, took orders only from Moran and Lopez Sibrian, and came and went as they chose.

Conclusions

Because of their secret methods of operation, it is not easy to determine all of the links existing between the private businessmen and the squads. But the Truth Commission has not the slightest doubt about their close relationship or about the threat posed to the future of our Salvadoran society if businessmen or members of the moneyed families feel the need and have the capacity to operate with impunity in financing murderous paramilitary groups, as they have in the past.

At the same time, it must also be noted that the government of the United States tolerated, apparently with little official concern, the actions of exiled Salvadorans living in Miami, between 1979 and 1983 in particular. This group of exiles directly financed and indirectly participated in the leadership of some death squads, according to testimony obtained by the Commission. It would be useful if other investigators with greater resources and more time were to clarify this tragic story, in order to ensure that such tolerance is never accorded individuals linked with acts of terror in other countries in the United States again.

1. The Salvadoran state, through the actions of Armed Forces personnel and/or civilian officials, is responsible for having participated, sponsored, and tolerated the operation of the death squads that illegally attacked members of the civilian population.

2. Salvadoran institutions must focus their efforts on the investigation of the demonstrated structural link between the squads and state bodies. There is doubt and concern, in particular because of the fact that hundreds of former members of the civil defense bodies in the rural sector remain armed. These people could readily mobilize to commit new acts of violence in the future if they are not definitely identified and disarmed.

3. It is especially important to call attention to the repeated abuses committed by the intelligence services of the security forces and the Armed Forces. It is urgently necessary for the safeguarding of the future of El Salvador that the state devote attention to how the intelligence service is being used and how this arm of government is being exploited for the purpose of identifying individuals so that they can be killed or caused to disappear. Such an investigation should lead both to an institutional purge of the intelligence service and to identification of those responsible for this aberrant practice.

4. The lack of effective action by the judicial system has become a factor underlying the mantle of impunity that has concealed and continues to protect the members and sponsors of the death squads in El Salvador.

5. The relationship between private businessmen and some moneyed families and the financing and utilization of the death squads requires clarification.

6. The government must recognize that because of their organizational structure and their possession of weapons, there is a serious danger that the death squads may, as has been proven in some cases, be engaging in illegal activities such as trafficking in drugs and weapons and kidnapping for the purpose of extortion.

7. The problem of the death squads in El Salvador is of such extreme importance that a special investigation is needed. In particular, there is a need for more determined action by the national institutions, with the collaboration and assistance of those foreign bodies possessing information on this matter. In order to verify a series of specific violations and to assign responsibility for them, it will be necessary to investigate the serious acts of violence committed by the death squads case by case.

3. Zamora

Summary of the Case

On 23 February 1980, Mario Zamora Rivas, the Christian Democratic leader and attorney general of the Republic, was murdered at his residence.

Zamora, who was regarded as one of the most important leaders of his political party, had a public image extending beyond the boundaries of his organization. Within the context of the political violence in the country, this exposed him to reprisals.

Members of a security corps were responsible for the assassination of Dr. Zamora. This was part of a pattern of behavior adopted on this level within the framework of the illegal activities of this body. Although the Commission has no doubt about the details of the murder, individual responsibility cannot be established on the basis of the testimony, inquiries, evidence, and investigations pertaining to the case.

The government did not carry out an adequate investigation leading to the identification and punishment of those responsible.

Description of the Events (425)

Background Information

The Christian Democratic Party (PDC) joined in a coalition with other parties with centrist and center-leftist positions in the First Government Junta that ousted General Romero from power in October of 1979.

The Christian Democratic Party did not withdraw from the government, as other sectors did, and in December of 1979 it participated in the Second Revolutionary Government Council.

Within the party, this action was opposed by Zamora and other leaders who believed that the Armed Forces did not offer adequate guarantees for their political program.

With a view to its continued participation in the Second Junta, the Christian Democratic Party arranged for a meeting on the highest level with the General Staff. There it presented a document detailing the violations of which its members had been victims, and it defined the foundations of the relationship between the party and the Armed Forces. One of the sponsors of this strategy was Dr. Zamora. The response was that there could be no agreement to this document because it contained serious accusations, and time was requested in order to consider it. (426)

Other evidence submitted to the Commission suggests that Zamora had initiated talks in order to open channels for dialogue with Cavetano Carpio (427), the leader of the People's Liberation Front (FPL), a party to the left of the PDC.

The dilemma in which the Christian Democratic Party found itself at that time was to have been discussed at the PDC convention scheduled for the day after Zamora's assassination.

To the extent that Zamora was the only leader of the party with the strength and the ability to persuade, he could change the direction of the alliances of the political group of which Mr. Duarte was then the leader (428), and the extreme importance of his role in Salvadoran public life was clear.

RELEASED

A few days before the assassination, Maj. Roberto D'Aubuisson publicly accused Zamora and other PDC leaders of being communists and members of the FPL guerrilla group. (429) Because of this, Zamora filed charges against D'Aubuisson for defamation of character with the Criminal Court, based on the duty of every public official to challenge unfounded accusations in court. According to the witness, this was the first time charges had been filed in El Salvador for the purpose of using the criminal mechanisms provided for the administration of justice to restrain the ultraright wing.

Two days before the murder of Zamora, two of his colleagues in the Office of the Public Prosecutor were riddled with bullets while riding in a government vehicle. Some witnesses said that a mistake was made, since Zamora was the intended victim of the operation.

The Events

Dr. Zamora was hosting a party at his home in the company of about seven persons. The gathering ended at midnight. Without warning, a group of six individuals burst into the victim's home, entering via the roof. They wore ski masks and carried sidearms with silencers and some long-barreled weapons. They immediately forced everyone present to lie down on the floor.

The intruders demanded the keys to the outer gate, but Zamora's wife Aronette (430) said that she did not have them. Then the leader of the group asked specifically for Mario Zamora, speaking with a foreign accent. Zamora identified himself. The intruders turned up the volume of the music and took Zamora into another room. After murdering him, they withdrew from the home in orderly fashion.

Ruben (431), Zamora's brother, lived in the house next door. He had gone to bed just moments before the armed subjects broke in. He was awakened by shouting, and thought that the party had become excessively noisy. As a result, he decided to go to his brother's house, but at the urging of his wife, he telephoned instead. The line, however, appeared to be "dead." (432)

When the attackers left the site, the others in the house went in search of Mario Zamora, and began to telephone party leaders, police authorities, and government officials, including then Colonel Eugenio Vides Casanova, the director of the National Guard. By that time the telephone was functioning normally. Initially, they thought that Zamora had been kidnapped. On searching the home, they found his body, riddled with bullets, in the bathroom.

The first security corps patrol arrived to carry out the initial investigation about three or four hours after the first report was received.

Although a judicial file was opened on this case, no one was ever accused of the crime, for which reason the file was finally closed in 1981.

Analysis

This operation was carried out with extreme precision and skill, with a view to physically eliminating the victim in such a way as to make it impossible to identify the assassins.

The Commission has obtained sufficient evidence that this was an action carried out by the intelligence unit of a state security corps that had not consulted the Intelligence Department of the High Command, the institution that usually made the decisions on this kind of operation. Also, the evidence indicates that there had been a plan to eliminate the victim drafted by this same security corps with the full knowledge of the Intelligence Department of the High Command. The security corps requested approval for the execution of the plan of action several times, and when no positive response was received, it was decided to proceed without authorization from above.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

The reaction of the High Command to the incident was to request that military intelligence determine internally who had carried it out. The investigation, according to the information obtained, was designed to determine if the crime had been committed by one of the security corps, a death squad, or a gang of kidnappers.

This autonomous decision by the security corps would explain the alleged presence of foreign personnel in the operation as a strategy designed to obscure and hinder any later investigation by the High Command itself or any other security corps. Moreover, there is sufficient evidence that some security corps did use foreigners--for example, individuals from Argentina and Nicaragua--to carry out the "dirty work" of eliminating opposition politicians.

Although those responsible for the crime did not know Zamora personally, they were indeed aware of the victim's position and prestige, and it was obvious that a part of the plan was designed to minimize the risk during the operation so as to prevent any later public reaction.

Conclusions

On the basis of the investigation carried out and the testimony obtained, the Commission believes that it has sufficient evidence to conclude that Dr. Zamora was assassinated by members of a state security unit in an operation approved on that level and carried out within the framework of its illegal activities.

Similarly, the Commission has sufficient evidence to justify the statement that the Intelligence Department of the High Command determined precisely which security body perpetrated the crime, and that the military hierarchy in that era kept this information secret to protect those responsible. It also failed to file any charges whatsoever with the pertinent authorities, for which reason the required investigation was never carried out.

4. Tehuicho

Summary of the Case

On 23 July 1980, 13 inhabitants of the El Bartolillo hamlet in the Tehuicho district were executed by heavily armed civilians who identified themselves as guerrilla fighters. Other individuals died in the environs.

The justice of the peace went to the site the following morning, accompanied by personnel from the Artillery Brigade. He departed without undertaking the required procedures. For three days, the soldiers refused to allow the burial of the corpses.

The Commission concludes the following:

a. On 23 July 1980, thirteen civilians were executed in the Tehuicho district by a death squad made up of soldiers from the Lieutenant Colonel Oscar Osorio Artillery Brigade, as well as members of the civil defense organization in the San Juan Opico jurisdiction.

b. A military contingent of the Artillery Brigade visited the site the following day, and for three days, prevented the burial of the victims.

c. The justice of the peace failed to carry out the legally required procedures, nor did he file criminal charges so that the incident would be investigated.

d. Miguel Lemus, a former member of the civil defense organization in the zone, was a member of the death squad.

e. Carlos Azcunaga Sanchez, who is now a lieutenant colonel, was the planner of the crime, and his motive was personal vengeance.

Description of the Events (433)

The Mass Execution

Shortly after midday on 23 July 1980, a group of approximately 100 civilians, who had blackened their faces and were dressed in peasant clothing, arrived in the El Bartolillo hamlet. They were very well-armed, and they dispersed throughout the district. Witnesses identified Miguel Lemos, who was then a member of the civil defense organization.

The members of the group said they were guerrilla fighters, and they announced a meeting to be held at the soccer field. It was for the purpose, they said, of distributing weapons. As the operation proceeded, they began to take people there by force.

The inhabitants gathered at the athletic field. They were blindfolded. The unknown persons then identified themselves as members of a "death squad," and they accused the inhabitants of having links with the guerrilla movement.

They then proceeded to select certain individuals, working apparently from a list. Their "ears" (434) identified those named on the list, and 14 persons, including 12 men and two women, were separated from the others. The men were taken to a ravine, and the two women to another site. Shots were heard, and some houses were looted and burned.

The corpses of both the men and the women were found between the night and the morning of the following day. The physical evidence indicated that they had been tortured.

On their return to their homes, the survivors saw that the words "death squad" had been painted on a wall.

Background Information

A year prior to this incident, a private dispute had developed over the ownership of some property between Pedro Franco Molina, a resident of the district of Tehuicho who sympathized with the guerrilla movement, and Antonio Azcunaga, a resident of the district of Los Amates, who was the father of then Captain Carlos Azcunaga Sanchez. The dispute became more serious after a rumor spread that Franco had offered a reward for the death of Antonio Azcunaga.

In October of 1979, witnesses said, a group of guerrillas assassinated Antonio Azcunaga.

There were reports that this group came from Santa Ana, but residents of the Tehuicho district, including Pedro Franco, were also accused. Carlos Azcunaga made various threatening statements.

Subsequent Events

Uniformed soldiers from the Lieutenant Colonel Oscar Osorio Artillery Brigade accompanied Justice of the Peace Rodolfo Sanchez (435) and the coroner to the site of the events on the following day. The soldiers refused to allow the residents to bury the corpses. Neither the justice of the peace nor the coroner carried out the required procedures, and they left the district. No court investigation was initiated.

The military contingent remained in the zone for three days, and prevented the burial of the remains. The residents buried the cadavers in a common grave when the soldiers left.

Later, according to witnesses, then Capt. Carlos Azcunaga Sanchez made statements that implicated him in the events that occurred. When the captain appeared before the Commission, he denied any role therein.

Conclusions

The Commission concludes the following:

1. There is substantial evidence of the following:

a. On 23 July 1980, 13 civilians were executed in the district of Tehuicho by a death squad made up of soldiers in the Lieutenant Colonel Oscar Osorio Artillery Brigade, as well as members of the civil defense organization in the San Juan Opico jurisdiction.

b. A military contingent from the Artillery Brigade arrived at the site the following day, where it remained and prevented the burial of the victims for three days.

c. The justice of the peace failed to carry out the required procedures, nor did he file criminal charges leading to an investigation of what had happened.

2. There is sufficient evidence of the following:

a. Miguel Lemos, a former member of the civil defense organization in the zone, participated as a member of the death squad.

b. The planner of the massacre was the now Lt. Col. Carlos Azcunaga Sanchez. His motive was personal vengeance.

426. A witness maintains that when this attitude was made clear, Zamora began to rise, intending to withdraw, and the meeting was on the point of being suspended. However, another leader suggested that not all of the statements made in the document were necessarily accurate. That having been said, the meeting was resumed, and the PDC's political statement was made more flexible, at least where the document submitted to the military was concerned.

427. FPL leader who committed suicide in Managua.

428. Engineer Napoleon Duarte was the most important leader of the Christian Democratic Party, and his influence extended beyond the boundaries of the political movement. He was a candidate for the presidency with the Alliance in 1972, went into exile in Venezuela, served in the Third Revolutionary Junta as provisional president in 1980, and was finally elected president and served from 1984 to 1989. He died in 1989 after a long illness.

429. The method used for making the accusations was the placement of paid notices both on television and in the press, as well as speeches broadcast via television and radio.

430. Aronette Zamora is currently the leader of the Nationalist Democratic Union (UDN) Party.

431. Ruben Zamora was also a Christian Democratic leader at that time. He later withdrew and was one of the founders of the Social Christian People's Movement (MPSC).

433. The Commission obtained testimony about the development of events. Among the witnesses there were individuals who confirmed the statements made by the surviving eyewitnesses. The Commission visited the town of San Juan Opico and pursued various inquiries.

The military authorities that were asked by the Commission to provide information failed to do so. The Artillery Brigade responded that it had no files on the matter. Not all of the officers to whom summonses were issued appeared before the Commission.

IV. D. 5 - Viera, Hammer, Pearlman

5. VIERA, HAMMER, AND PEARLMAN

SUMMARY OF THE CASE

On the night of 3 January 1981, in San Salvador's Sheraton Hotel, two National Guard agents killed Jose Rodolfo Viera Lizama, president of the Salvadoran Institute of Agrarian Transformation (ISTA), Michael P. Hammer, and Mark David Pearlman, the latter two being American advisers of the American Institute for Free Labor Development (AIFLD).

The actual perpetrators of the murders, Santiago Gomez Gonzalez and Jose Dimas Valle Acevedo, National Guard agents, were found guilty and subsequently released under the 1987 Amnesty Law. The other individuals implicated in the planning and ordering of the murders, Lieutenant Rodolfo Isidro Lopez Sibrian, second in command of the National Guard Intelligence Section, Captain Eduardo Ernesto Alfonso Avila, and entrepreneur Hans Christ, were never convicted.

Months before his murder, the National Guard Intelligence Section had targeted Viera for elimination. Agents of the said National Guard carried out the killings in the manner typical of the death squads.

Lieutenant Colonel Mario Denis Moran Echeverria, who was then head of the National Guard Intelligence Section, concealed the report of the killings and Judge Hector Enrique Jimenez Zaldivar allowed one of the suspects to use makeup so as to render his identification more difficult .

DESCRIPTION OF THE EVENTS(436)

Land Reform and Death Threats

When the General Secretary of the Salvadoran Communal Union (UCS), Rodolfo Viera, was murdered, he also held the office of president of the ISTA, a government agency established to carry out the land reform program. Michael P. Hammer and Mark David Pearlman, both of whom were officials of the AIFLD, were in El Salvador for the purpose of providing support and technical assistance in the land reform process.

As ISTA's president and UCS's general secretary, Viera was perceived as a dangerous opponent by those who opposed the land reform. He had received death threats on various occasions. In May 1980, the Secret Anticommunist Army, referred to Viera as a "communist traitor" who should be eliminated by the "patriots" who are fighting for a government that respects "private property." Two attempts were made on his life in 1980.(437) Sufficient evidence is in hand that they were planned by Section Two of the National Guard.

The Murder of Viera, Hammer and Pearlman(438)

It is not clear whether the brains behind the murders planned in advance the specific place and time of the killings. Nevertheless, there is full and satisfactory evidence that they definitely took advantage of the unforeseen opportunity in the Sheraton Hotel to assassinate those who represented a previously selected target.

On the night of 3 January 1981, Lopez Sibrian ordered National Guard agent Valle Acevedo to accompany him to the home of entrepreneur Hans Christ.(439) Lopez Sibrian,(440) for his part, carried with him a 9-millimeter revolver and an Ingram submachine gun,(441) obtained from the National Guard depot.(442) At approximately 2200 hours, Christ, Lopez Sibrian, and Avila arrived at the hotel and went to dinner in the hotel's cafeteria.

Viera, Hammer, and Pearlman arrived later, after 2200 hours. The three men went to the cafeteria where Christ, Avila, and Lopez Sibrian were seated. Since the cafeteria was full, they looked for a more private place. A woman employee recommended the Salon de las Americas [The Room of the Americas], which is large. Christ recognized Viera and said to Avila: "Look, there is that son of a bitch."(443) Avila testified that someone in the group commented "... that he had let his beard grow and that if only he were dead."(444) Avila also mentioned that upon seeing Viera, Lopez Sibrian had said that this was a good opportunity to kill him.(445) In any case, one of the three men got up from the table and watched to see where Viera's group was headed.(446)

A few moments later, Lopez Sibrian, Avila, and Christ left the hotel, went to the parking lot, and got into a car. There they told Valle Acevedo to kill ISTA's president and the other two,(447) but he refused to do the job alone.(448) Lopez Sibrian got out of the car, went back to the parking lot, and spoke to National Guard agent Gomez Gonzalez who was guarding Moran's car. Lopez Sibrian told him to come with him.(449) When Gomez Gonzalez answered that he could not do anything without Major Moran's authorization,(450) Lopez Sibrian went inside the hotel, came back immediately, and told Gomez that Moran had authorized Gomez to accompany him.(451)

Lopez Sibrian and Gomez Gonzalez then walked to Lopez Sibrian's car. Seated inside it were Valle Acevedo, Christ, and Avila.(452) Lopez Sibrian ordered Valle Acevedo and Gomez Gonzalez to accompany Christ to the hotel and, there, to kill the three men.(453) He also gave Gomez Gonzalez the Ingram 9-millimeter submachine gun, while Avila, for his part, gave Valle Acevedo another, 45-millimeter, submachine gun and a khaki-colored sweater with which to conceal the weapon.(454) Christ told the agents that he himself would identify the men [to be killed].(455)

The two national guardsmen entered the hotel following Christ, who showed them where Viera, Hammer, and Pearlman were seated.(456) They waited only a few moments, then Valle Acevedo and Gomez Gonzalez opened fire against Viera and his two companions.(457) Sufficient evidence exists, based upon the wounds received and the locations of the victims' bodies, that Hammer as well as Pearlman, in addition to Viera, were the targets of the assassins.

The two assassins left the hotel immediately and fled in Lopez Sibrian's car to a house near the Funeraria Auxiliadora [Auxiliadora Funeral Parlor], followed by Avila in his car.(458) There they returned the weapons to their respective owners,(459) and Lopez Sibrian then ordered them to go back to National Guard Headquarters.(460) Following the assassination of Viera, Hammer, and Pearlman, it became known that members of Section II of the National Guard, including Valle Acevedo and Gomez Gonzalez, had committed the murders.(461)

On 14 February 1986, five years after the killings, the two agents were found guilty and sentenced to 30 years in prison. On 19 December 1987, they were freed under the terms of the Amnesty Law. The case against Avila was dismissed on the same grounds.(462)

The Investigation

The seven years of investigation of the assassinations of Viera, Hammer, and Pearlman have been well documented in other places and it is not necessary to reiterate them in this report. Nevertheless, two aspects of these proceedings have merited the careful attention of the Commission.

The Role of Major Moran

There is substantial evidence that, after the assassinations had taken place, Major Moran, who was head of National Guard Intelligence at the time, learned that his second in command, Lopez Sibrian, had ordered two guards of the unit he was commanding to carry out the execution. Moran failed to report these facts to the appropriate authorities.(463)

Moreover, it is clear that the role played by Moran in the assassinations was never duly investigated. One of the convicted guards testified that Major Medrano--head of the military investigation of the case--told him to blame Lopez Sibrian,(464) apparently so as not to implicate his superior Moran.(465) Moreover, there is no indication that when it reopened the case in 1985 the

Special Project (1995)

Criminal Acts Investigative Commission (CIHD) investigated Moran's role in the killings, although it had received proofs that Moran had participated in a meeting of the National Guard Intelligence Section on 3 January, when the assassination was perhaps planned. The CIHD also received proofs that on 5 January, Moran had received a payment to complete a "job."

Lopez Sibrian's Identification

Although the testimonies gathered by the Medrano Commission provided new information on Lopez Sibrian's role in the assassinations, there is full and satisfactory evidence that Judge Jimenez Zaldivar actively cooperated with Lopez Sibrian, allowing him to disguise himself(466) in such a way as to have completely prevented a key witness from recognizing him. The following day, Judge Jimenez Zaldivar ordered the release of Lopez Sibrian for lack of evidence.(467)

CONCLUSIONS

The Commission concludes that:

1. There is full and satisfactory evidence that Jose Dimas Valle Acevedo and Santiago Gomez Gonzalez on 3 January 1981, killed Jose Rodolfo Viera, Michael Hammer, and Mark David Pearlman in the Sheraton Hotel.

2. There is full and satisfactory evidence that Lieutenant Lopez Sibrian took part in the planning of the operation to assassinate Viera, Hammer and Pearlman, and ordered two members of the National Guard to carry out the execution. He also gave Gomez Gonzalez the weapon and helped the perpetrators to flee the scene of the crime.

3. There is full and satisfactory evidence that Captain Eduardo Avila took part in the planning of the assassinations and collaborated with Lopez Sibrian in carrying them out.

4. There is sufficient evidence that Hans Christ<sup>468<reset> participated in the planning of the assassinations and collaborated in their perpetration.

5. In regard to Lieutenant Colonel Mario Denis Moran's role, there is substantial evidence that he covered up the assassinations by omitting to report the happenings.

6. There is full and satisfactory evidence that Judge Hector Enrique Jimenez Zaldivar collaborated with the principal suspect, Lopez Sibrian, rendering difficult his identification , which would have led to the instituting of criminal proceedings.

been subjected. See interview with Valle Acevedo and Gomez Gonzalez by the CIHD, 24 January 1986, paragraph 3.

465. On 17 September 1982, Moran was questioned by the Medrano Commission. On that occasion, he stated that he had never discussed this matter with Lopez Sibrian and that there had been no comment as to those responsible for it. Later, he stated that while he "certainly" knew Gomez Gonzalez, he could not remember whether or not he was his bodyguard the night of the assassinations. Statement by Denis Moran, FS 790. On the other hand, there can be no question that Gomez Gonzalez was Moran's bodyguard on the night of the assassinations.

466. His red hair was dyed black, his mustache shaven, he wore makeup, a uniform, and a hat like the others.

467. Lopez Sibrian continued in the service of the Armed Forces until President Duarte, under pressure from the United States government, dismissed him on 30 November 1984. Later, he was arrested as the leader of a band of kidnappers, and he is still in prison. Lopez Sibrian has systematically claimed his innocence, before the Truth Commission as well.

468. The Commission was unable to locate Mr Christ so as to summon him to appear before the Commission.

E. VIOLENCE AGAINST OPPONENTS BY FARABUNDO MARTI NATIONAL LIBERATION FRONT

This section deals with the use of violence by the FMLN [Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front] against real or presumed opponents, in violation of the rules of international humanitarian law and the international law on human rights. It includes both the use of violence against noncombatants and the execution of presumed transgressors without due legal process.

The section begins with a typical case: the execution of mayors in the war zones. Next, after an explanation of the pattern followed in this type of violence, there is an account of some of the cases attributed to the Front that have had major repercussions on Salvadoran society. In some of them, it has been impossible to prove the intellectual perpetrator's identity; whereas, in others, the identification of the material perpetrators is impossible or dubious.

Finally, there is included a case which, in the Commission's view, constitutes an isolated incident that does not follow a pattern of illicit use of violence. The section ends with the Commission's conclusions.

I. CASE IN POINT: SUMMARY EXECUTION OF MAYORS (469)

SUMMARY OF THE CASE

Between 1985 and 1988, a large number of mayors of towns situated in war zones were executed without a trial of their cases on the part of the People's Revolutionary Army, ERP, one of the FMLN's member organizations. These executions occurred based on the application of a policy of the Front, publicly admitted by the latter.

This report contains an account of 11 executions, but the actual number of them is larger.

The Commission has reached the following conclusions:

1. The FMLN's General Command approved and adopted a policy of assassinating mayors whom they considered to have been engaged in an opposition effort.
2. The group's "Cell" was implementing that policy, ordering its local commanders to assassinate mayors engaged in an opposition effort.
3. The following persons, among others, were members of the ERP "Cell" at various times when mayors were assassinated within the territory under ERP control. They participated in the decisions to carry out those summary executions, and hence are responsible for them. They are: Joaquin Villalobos ("Atilio"), Jorge Melendez ("Jonas"), Ana Sonia Medina ("Mariana"), Mercedes del Carmen Letona ("Luisa"), Ana Guadalupe Martinez ("Maria"), and Marisol Galindo.
4. Joaquin Villalobos, as ERP Secretary General, held the highest position in that organization, bearing particular responsibility for the assassinations of mayors on the part of the ERP.
5. The local ERP commanders, or those under orders from the Cell, or with its approval and support, assassinated the mayors indicated in this summary.
6. The assassinations of Mayors Jose Alberto Lopez, Francisco Israel Diaz Vasquez, Pedro Ventura, Maria Ovidia Graciela Monico Vargas, Jose Domingo Aviles Vargas, Dolores Molina, Napoleon Villafuerte, Edgar Mauricio Valenzuela, and Terencio Rodriguez were part of an established pattern, based on a deliberate

El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1995)

FMLN policy. They were the result of orders and express approval by members of the ERP group, and the acts of its local commanders.

7. The mayor of Guatajiagua, Jose Alberto Lopez, was assassinated in October 1988, while in the custody of Commander "Amadeo."

8. The FMLN's executions of mayors constituted violations of the rules of international humanitarian law and the rules of international law on human rights.

DESCRIPTION OF THE INCIDENTS

Execution of Jose Alberto Lopez, Mayor of Guatajiagua:

Mr. Jose Alberto Lopez was elected in March 1988 as mayor of the municipality of Guatajiagua, Morazan Department. According to a source from the Front, after the election Lopez received a letter from the FMLN, warning him to resign, and informing him that the FMLN policy line was to execute every mayor in the area. Lopez responded that he would not resign.

The mayor was summoned three times by the Front to go to the guerrilla camp located in the canton of San Bartolo, but Lopez never heeded the call. Out of fear, Lopez did not remain in Guatajiagua, but rather usually worked in San Francisco Gotera. Furthermore, the premises of the mayor's office in Guatajiagua had been destroyed by the guerrillas.

On Saturday, 25 October 1988, Lopez was at home with his wife, Leticia Canales, and his four young children. The house was located in the El Calvario district of the municipality of Guatajiagua. During the morning, an FMLN combatant known to Lopez showed up, telling the mayor that his commander wished to speak with him. Fearing the consequences of a negative reply, Lopez agreed to go. Leticia, his wife, decided to accompany him, and all three left on foot for the canton of San Bartolo.

When they reached the Gualavo River, a man in uniform carrying a rifle was waiting for them. The combatant who had led them told the man in uniform that he was bringing the mayor, and turned him over to the former. The man in uniform told the wife that she could not cross the river and go to the guerrilla camp. He ordered her to return to her home, saying that they would send her husband to her on the afternoon of the same day.

Upon arriving at the camp, the mayor was taken to the commander, who was using the name "Amadeo." It has been sufficiently proven that, after talking with him, "Amadeo" ordered his execution.

On the same night, Radio "Venceremos" [We Shall Conquer] announced that the FMLN had executed the mayor of Guatajiagua, Jose Alberto Lopez.

Execution of Francisco Israel Diaz Vasquez, Mayor of Lolotique:

On 2 May 1985, Francisco Israel Diaz Vasquez took office as mayor, after having been elected by a popular vote. There is complete evidence that, on 2 June of the same year, he was kidnapped by the FMLN and held as a hostage until 24 October, when he was released, along with other mayors also kidnapped by the FMLN. His release took place after a negotiation process between the FMLN and the government, held in Panama.

On 2 June 1986, Diaz again occupied the mayor's position. In December of the same year, Diaz received death threats from the guerrillas, and resigned. Nevertheless, the guerrillas thought that he was still working for the government.

RELEASED
El Salvador Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

On 5 December of the same year, 1988, an unidentified man went to Francisco Israel Diaz's house, delivering a note to his wife, in which he was ordered to appear the following day at Entrada [Entrance] de Tempisque, near Santa Barbara.

Diaz departed on the morning of 6 December with a resident of the municipality. They passed through the site known as "Entrada de Tempisque," and continued toward the canton of Santa Barbara, arriving there at approximately noon. Three uniformed combatants carrying long-barreled weapons suddenly appeared, taking Mr. Diaz into custody. Five minutes later, one of them returned, telling Mr. Diaz's companion to return home, because they were going to hold the mayor for several days.

On the afternoon of the next day, 7 December, two unidentified subjects announced at the church in Lolotique that Diaz had died, and turned in his billfold with his identity documents.

That same night, several relatives and friends of Mr. Diaz went looking for his body. When they found it, they reported that, "It had just one shot, which entered behind the ear and exited, ejecting an eye and molar teeth. On one calf there was a paper reading: 'Executed by the FMLN,' and, on the other, one adding: 'As a traitor.'"

In October 1992, the FMLN officially notified the Commission that the ERP, applying a policy approved by the Front, had executed Mayor Diaz.

Executions of Other Mayors:

The FMLN, in its message of 18 October 1992 responding to a request for information from the Truth Commission, declared that the ERP, in fulfillment of a policy approved by the Front, had also executed the following mayors:

Pedro Ventura, Mayor of San Isidro, Morazan Department, 15 April 1988.

Maria Ovidia Graciela Monico Vargas, Mayor of San Jorge, San Miguel Department, 18 January 1985.

Jose Domingo Aviles Vargas, Mayor of Santa Elena, Usulutan Department, 8 January 1985.

Dolores Molina, Mayor of Lolotiquillo, Morazan Department, 19 August 1988.

Napoleon Villafuerte, Mayor of Sesori, San Miguel Department, 25 November 1988.

Edgar Mauricio Valenzuela, Mayor of San Jorge, San Miguel Department, 4 March 1985.

The message includes the text of two communiques from the Front, dated 22 August and 26 November 1988, announcing the executions of Napoleon Villafuerte and Dolores, respectively.

Moreover, there is sufficient evidence that, on 11 May 1988, Mr. Terencio Rodriguez, Mayor of Perquin, in Morazan Province, was executed without a previous trial.

The Applicable Law:

With respect to the classification of the acts according to humanitarian law and international law on human rights, the Commission examined the arguments submitted by the Front to justify the execution of mayors.

According to the Front, these executions were justified because, "the functions of the mayors and mayors' offices had obviously become counterinsurgent. In close cooperation with the garrison commanders in the various locations, the mayors set out to perform the task of creating paramilitary forces (civil defense groups), and directing their repressive activity toward the civilian population. They developed espionage networks to detect FMLN militants and sympathizers, or those merely opposed to the regime among the population, and also to obtain information on the members and plans of the popular organizations, so as later to turn the information over to the Army." It also stated that the mayors' activities were interfering with the supply lines.

El Salvador: Human Rights

The Front added: "When the massive captures of residents, the assassinations, the repression on the part of the civil defense groups, and the action of the FAES (Armed Forces of El Salvador) began, based on the information that the mayors' espionage networks were supplying, those officials came within the scope of the policy line upheld by the FMLN since 1980: considering as military targets, and executing, as legitimate acts, spies, paramilitary forces, death squad collaborators, and all those whose actions were causing repression or assassinations among the civilian population."

The Commission does not accept these conclusions from the Front. If, in describing them as "military targets," it is attempting to claim that they were combatants, it must be stated that there is no evidence warranting the claim that the executed mayors were such, in the light of the provisions of humanitarian law.

Nevertheless, whether the executed mayors may or may not be considered "military targets" at any time is irrelevant, because there is no evidence that any of them lost their lives as a result of combat action on the part of the Front. The execution of a person, whether or not he has the status of a combatant, who is being held by a guerrilla force and puts up no resistance, is not a combat action.

International humanitarian law and international law on human rights do not prohibit belligerents, in the zones controlled by them, from applying penalties to persons committing acts that are criminal in nature, based on the applicable legal code. In the aforementioned document, the Front claims to consider it a legitimate act to execute "spies, paramilitary forces, death squad collaborators, and all those whose actions were causing repression or assassinations among the civilian population." (470)

The Commission gives a reminder that, when the application of penalties to persons accused of crimes is involved, the essential elements of due legal process must be observed. International humanitarian law by no means exempts the parties in conflict from this obligation, and international law on human rights does not exempt from this obligation the party holding effective control over a territory, as it affects the persons within its jurisdiction. On the contrary, these two sources of law expressly prohibit the ordering of penalties or the implementation of executions that have not resulted from a trial before a legitimately constituted, independent, impartial court, with judicial guarantees generally acknowledged as indispensable.

In none of the aforementioned cases is there evidence that due process was carried out before the execution. Nor is there evidence that any of those persons died in combat action, or put up any resistance to their executioners.

CONCLUSIONS

The Commission has reached the following conclusions:

1. There is complete proof that the FMLN General Command approved and adopted a policy of assassinating mayors whom they considered to have engaged in an opposition effort.

a.ZONA ROSA

SUMMARY OF THE CASE

At approximately 2100 on 19 June 1985, in a section of San Salvador containing many restaurants, and known as the "Zona Rosa" [Pink Zone], a group of armed men opened fire on a group of United States Marines. The attackers belonged to the Revolutionary Party of Central American Workers (PRTC), one of the FMLN's member organizations. These military men, who were serving as security guards at their Embassy in San Salvador, were wearing civilian clothes, and were unarmed. Killed in the shooting that followed were four Marines, nine civilians, and one of the attackers. The PRTC's "Mardoqueo Cruz" Urban Commando group proclaimed itself the perpetrator of the act; and the FMLN, in a communique, justified the attack. In a subsequent trial, three persons were judged and convicted. Two other trials were also initiated in connection with the same incident. One of them did not go so far as to issue a verdict, because amnesty was applied to the accused. In the other case, no verdict has yet been handed down against the other defendant.

The Commission reached the following conclusions:

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1995)

1. The attack on the U.S. Marines was a part of the FMLN policy, considering the military of that country as a legitimate target.
2. A PRTC commando group carried out the attack.
3. Ismael Dimas Aguilar and Jose Roberto Salazar Mendoza participated in the planning and execution of the attack.
4. Pedro Antonio Andrade also took part in planning the attack.
5. The attack on the Marines in the Zona Rosa constituted a violation of the rules of international humanitarian law.

DESCRIPTION OF THE INCIDENTS

Background:

During 1985, the Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front's General Command adopted the decision to consider United States military personnel in El Salvador a legitimate military target; and it issued this comprehensive, general order to its rank and file for compliance. (472)

The Planning of the Action:

Early in June 1985, some members of the Revolutionary Party of Central American Workers (PRTC), one of the five politico-military organizations comprising the FMLN, planned a fire strike operation that they called "Yankee aggressor in El Salvador, another Vietnam awaits you." The purpose of the plan was to execute U.S. military personnel detailed to El Salvador, and it came within the context of the general order previously issued for this purpose by the General Command. The action was to be taken by members of the "Mardoqueo Cruz" Urban Commandos.

The commando cell was operating in the auto repair shop in which Ismael Dimas Aguilar and his brother, Jose Abraham, were partners; and at the "La Estrella" upholstery shop in which William Celio Rivas Bolanos and Juan Miguel Garcia Melendez were partners. For this reason, the main planning meetings were held on those premises. (473)

The Attack:

About 2030 on 19 June 1985, at "Chili's" restaurant, located in the section known as the Zona Rosa, in the Colonia San Benito, six U.S. Marines engaged in security at that country's Embassy were seated at one of that restaurant's tables on the sidewalk. They were frequent customers, known to the owners and employees of the local restaurants and coffee shops. They usually came to this section in groups whenever they were off duty. (474) After awhile, two of them left the group and went to sit at a table at the "Flash Back" restaurant, a few meters from their companions at "Chili's." (475)

About 2100, a group of approximately seven persons was parked in a white pickup-type vehicle with dark trim in front of the "La Hola" restaurant. They emerged, and headed for "Chili's" restaurant, where the U.S. Marines (476), Thomas Handwork, Patrick R. Kwiatkosi, Bobbie J. Dickson, and Gregory H. Weber were located. Without warning, they opened bursts of fire against the Marines, who were in civilian dress and showed no signs of carrying arms.

While the attackers were shooting at the U.S. Marines, someone returned the fire from inside "Chili's" and the "Mediterranee" restaurant. (477)

One of the members of the commando group was wounded in the cross fire. (478) The following persons were also hit by the shots and died on the scene: Humberto

RELEASED

Special Project (1993)

Saenz Cevallos, an attorney and secretary at the Law School of the "Jose Matias Delgado" University; Humberto Antonio Rosales Pineda, Executive Director of the "Inter Data" company; Arturo Alonso Silva Hoff, a student; Jose Elmer Vidal Penalva, a university student; Oswaldo Gonzalez Zambroni, a Guatemalan businessman; Richard Ernest MacArdie Venturino, a Chilean executive at the "Wang" company; George Viney, a U.S. citizen, Regional Director of the "Wang" company; and Roberto Alvidrez, a U.S. citizen and executive at the "Wang" company. Some of these persons were seated at "Chili's" restaurant, and others at the "Mediterranee." (479) There is no evidence that any of the civilian victims were armed. (480) Other persons were wounded on the scene as well.

A few minutes after the commando members withdrew, personnel from the U.S. Embassy arrived at the site, taking the four Marines to a treatment center in their vehicles.

At 2130, members of the National Police arrived in the area but, according to the reports, they were unable to make a satisfactory inspection because only the bodies of eight of the victims remained on the site, and the area where the incident occurred had already been rearranged. (481)

That same night, the other members of the commando group took Jose Roberto Salazar Mendoza, who was seriously injured in the incident. to an office of the Salvadoran Red Cross. He died as a result of his wounds. (482)

The Subsequent Statements:

Three days later, on 22 June 1985, the Revolutionary Party of Central American Workers, PRTC, assumed responsibility for the action, in a communique signed by "Fernando Gallardo," from the Politico-Military Headquarters of the PRTC's "Mardoqueo Cruz" Urban Guerrilla Commando group.

On 25 June 1985, the FMLN General Command issued a communique in which it fixed its position in support of the action, claiming that the four Marines constituted a legitimate military target. (483) Nevertheless, the Commission has complete evidence that the Marines were not combatants. Their duty was to guard the U.S. Embassy, and there is no indication that they participated in any combat action in El Salvador. Furthermore, international humanitarian law specifically defines the status of a combatant. The claim that they were discharging "intelligence functions" has not been substantiated. In any case, performance of intelligence functions of itself does not automatically classify a person as a combatant.

In a later Radio "Venceremos" broadcast, Ismael Dimas Aguilar admitted his participation in the planning of the Marines' execution (484), as one of the military chiefs of the "Mardoqueo Cruz" Urban Commandos, perpetrators of the action.

On 28 August 1985, the then President of the Republic, Engineer Jose Napoleon Duarte, held a press conference to report on the results of the investigation of what he termed the "Zona Rosa massacre." He announced that three persons responsible for the action had been arrested: Jose Abraham Dimas Aguilar and Juan Miguel Garcia Melendez, as intellectual perpetrators, and William Celio Rivas Bolanos, as material perpetrator.

The Judicial Proceedings:

On 27 August 1985, the National Guard put the three subjects in custody under the orders of the Military Court, submitting the results of the investigation, including the confessions of the three accused. (485) Rivas and Garcia later claimed that their confessions had been forced through torture. The information collected on the investigations was incomplete because the autopsies on the victims, the ballistics reports, the reconstruction of the incidents, and other material usually provided in the investigation of a case of this type were not included. (486)

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

After five years, only a verdict in the first instance was issued, on 30 April 1991. Although the general confirmation of the extrajudicial confessions appears in the records, there is no evidence that the accused appeared before the court, nor that statements were taken from them, nor that any measures were adopted to explain the incidents.

Two years after the opening of the proceedings, the defense attorney for those in custody requested dismissal on their behalf, through application of the 1987 Amnesty Law. (487) On 12 November 1987, the court accepted the petition, definitively dismissing all the charges brought against the three defendants. (488)

The U.S. Consul General in San Salvador visited the court, representing the family of one of the U.S. Marines who was killed, to file an appeal against the amnesty ordered. (489) On 4 December 1987, the Court Martial confirmed the dismissal, based on its consideration that the crimes were of a political nature. (490)

On 22 February 1988, President Napoleon Duarte, in his capacity as Commander in Chief of the Armed Forces, having heard the Court Martial's decision, revoked it, because he considered (491) the acts in the Zona Rosa to be common crimes of international significance, and hence not subject to amnesty. When the Supreme Court of Justice was apprised of the action through the expedient of habeas corpus, it ratified this decision.

On 30 April 1991, a convicting verdict of the first instance was issued against the three defendants, and was confirmed almost unanimously by the respective Chamber on 5 March.

On 25 September 1992, the military judge, in response to a petition from the defense attorney that the Law on National Reconciliation be applied to the defendants, decided not to pronounce judgment until he heard the report of the Truth Commission, which he deemed indispensable for determining whether the amnesty called for in said law would be applicable. (492)

While this process was under way, two more trials of two other defendants were initiated, in connection with the same acts.

One of them was attempted against Juan Antonio Morales in 1988. Morales confessed to the Treasury Police that he was one of the members of the commando group that took action in the Zona Rosa, and ratified his statement to the Fifth Judge of Criminal Proceedings. Although his version of what occurred coincides substantially with that given by Rivas, Garcia, and Dimas, he did not name them among the participants. The trial was not held jointly with the one already in progress, nor has there been a verdict yet. After several procedural vicissitudes, those implicated wer denied the benefit of amnesty. Morales still remains in custody. (493)

The other trial, for complicity, was attempted in 1989, in the Third Court of Criminal Proceedings, against Pedro Antonio Andrade, alias "Mario Gonzalez." (494) This trial was not held jointly with the previous trials either. The 1987 amnesty was applied to Andrade, unlike the other defendants.

The Commission has received sufficient evidence indicating that Andrade was one of the intellectual perpetrators of the attack. Andrade was chief of the "Mardoqueo Cruz" Urban Commando group at the time of the incident, and confessed judicially that he had prior knowledge of an attack planned against "the white aliens." He admitted having prepared a safe house to provide medical treatment and to shelter those possibly wounded in the action. However, the Commission has received credible information indicating that Andrade played a larger role in selecting the specific targets and in other aspects of the attack.

El Salvador: Human Rights

CONCLUSIONS

The Commission reached the following conclusions:

1. There is complete proof that the attack on the U.S. Marines was a part of the FMLN policy considering that country's military personnel as legitimate war targets.
2. There is complete proof that the PTRC's "Mardoqueo Cruz" Urban Commando group carried out the attack, and that the PRTC, as the agency to which this commando group belonged, bears responsibility derived from this fact.
3. There is substantial evidence that Ismael Dimas Aguilar was the intellectual perpetrator of the attack, and that he himself fired weapons against the Marines.
4. There is sufficient evidence that Pedro Antonio Andrade was among the intellectual perpetrators of the attack, and participated in planning the action.
5. The attack on the Marines in the Zona Rosa constituted a violation by the FMLN of the rules of international humanitarian law.

b. ANAYA SANABRIA

SUMMARY OF THE CASE

Herbert Ernesto Anaya Sanabria, head of the (Nongovernmental) Human Rights Commission, was shot to death on the morning of 26 October 1987 in the parking lot of his residence in San Salvador.

Two months later, the National Police captured a young member of the ERP, Jorge Alberto Miranda Arevalo, who at first declared that he had participated in the assassination as a lookout. He later retracted his confession. In 1991 he was found guilty by a jury, and subsequently sentenced to a maximum prison term of 30 years.

The Commission concludes that:

1. In this case it did not have the time required to solve the following dilemma: the presence of indications that a state security corps or a death squad may possibly have been the perpetrator, and further indications that the People's Revolutionary Army (ERP) might possibly have perpetrated the assassination of Herbert Ernesto Anaya Sanabria.
2. The treatment that Miranda received from the police, and in the judicial process, violated his basic rights.
3. The State failed in its obligation, stipulated in the international law for protection of human rights, to properly investigate the assassination of Herbert Anaya, and also to try and punish those found guilty.

DESCRIPTION OF THE INCIDENTS (495)

The Assassination:

On 26 October 1987, Herbert Anaya was shot to death in the parking lot near his house in the Colonia Zacamil. According to witnesses, three men participated directly in the murder: one who fired the shots, another who served as a lookout for the former, and the third (496), who drove the vehicle. (497) The killers escaped in an old yellow pickup truck.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

Ballistic tests showed that the six shell casings had been struck by the same weapon (498), and that the six bullets found had been fired by the same weapon. (499) The Commission for Investigation of Criminal Acts (CIHD) claimed that the bullets did not originate in ammunition from the Armed Forces of El Salvador. (500)

Background:

At the time of his assassination, Herbert Anaya was general coordinator of the (Nongovernmental) Human Rights Commission (CDHES-NG) (501), and was also representing a well-known spokesman against human rights violations. In addition, he was a member of the People's Revolutionary Army 502. Before his death, he apparently had been favoring a peaceful solution to the armed conflict besetting his country. (503)

On 26 May 1986, he was captured by several Treasury Police agents, heavily armed and wearing civilian clothing. (504) He was interrogated and jailed (505) until 2 February 1987, when they released him in an exchange of prisoners.

Reaction to the Assassination:

The assassination evoked a strong reaction both in and outside El Salvador. There were demonstrations in the capital. National and international human rights groups and contingents from the civilian society expressed their concern. (506)

President Duarte requested that the CIHD investigate the case, also offering a reward of 50,000 colones ($10,000). (507) The investigations produced no significant results, nor was there a serious probe of the possibility that government agencies or right-wing sectors might have assassinated Anaya.

Capture and Detention of Jorge Alberto Miranda Arevalo:

On 23 December 1987, the National Police captured Jorge Alberto Miranda Arevalo, member of a unit of the ERP (508) urban commandos. Miranda and a companion attacked a soft drink truck. His companion, "Carlos," who (according to Miranda's preliminary statement) fired at Anaya, managed to escape.

Miranda was interrogated (509) and, according to the National Police, made an extrajudicial statement in which he confessed having taken part in the Anaya assassination as a lookout. According to the judicial record, on that same day he led National Police members to concealed reserve weapons supplies.

During the first weeks of his detention, Miranda declared, he was subjected to psychological pressure. (510) He claimed to have been injected with an unknown substance (511), and to have been "deprived of sleep."

The government became convinced of Miranda's guilt. Whereas, on 4 January 1988, the government paid Miranda 12,000 colones, explaining that the payment had come from a program announced in December 1987, the Justice Ministry denied that Miranda had been given compensation for taking the blame for the assassination. (512)

During the first weeks of his incarceration, Miranda received special treatment: he was interviewed in front of cameras and visited alone by foreign journalists (513), as well as high-ranking officials. Miranda adds that he was

El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

also visited by National Police agents and by some Venezuelan individuals, who offered him comforts if he maintained his original statement. (514)

The CIHD, for its part, completed its investigation shortly after Miranda's capture. According to the record, it did not follow or update the clues or the important information. It spoke with only a few witnesses, and did not compare ballistics tests of the ammunition involved in the assassination with those made on the ammunition turned over by Miranda.

Judicial Proceedings Against Miranda:

After a nine-day delay in the period allowed by the Salvadoran Constitution (515), Miranda was placed at the disposal of the First Judge of Criminal Proceedings of San Salvador (516), on the day that he received his pay from the government. On that same date, Miranda ratified his extrajudicial statement to the judge. Nevertheless, a month later, he retracted his statement regarding the assassination, although reaffirming that he was a member of the ERP. (517)

After two years with little progress, in April 1990 the judge ordered the provisional dismissal in Miranda's favor, "...because the necessary proof of his participation is lacking." (518) Later, the First Chamber of Criminal Proceedings of the Center's First Section revoked the dismissal (519), and took the case to the plenary proceedings level.

In October 1991, a jury of five persons declared Jorge Miranda guilty of the assassination and of acts of terrorism. (520)

In March 1992, the judge applied the Law on National Reconciliation in Miranda's behalf, for the crime of terrorist acts and subversive associations; but it was not applied to him for the assassination, and he was sentenced to the maximum term of 30 years in prison. (521).

The Evidence: (522)

The ERP:

No ERP member interviewed by the Commission has claimed responsibility for Anaya's assassination. Nor has any witness identified Miranda as a participant. When shown a series of photos of young people, including Miranda, an eyewitness who claimed to have seen the assassins from nearby was unable to identify Miranda. (523)

Nevertheless, there are indications of the possible participation of the ERP and Miranda in the assassination, including credible motives. There were disagreements between Anaya and the ERP. There was evidence that Anaya wanted an end to the violence, while the ERP was developing an initiative that would require violence in San Salvador.

Moreover, in his first two statements, Miranda blamed himself and the ERP. He had, and continues to have a command of the facts. (524)

Miranda persisted in denying his participation to the Commission, even claiming to have contrived the whole story of the assassination and its planning. Nevertheless, he provided information on the assassination and its apparent planning that concurs with other data which, according to our investigations, he had not given previously. He gave information on the time of a meeting held the night before the assessination, the origin of the pickup truck, the one who obtained it, and how he reached Anaya's parking lot, so as to be able to keep surveillance over it before the assassination.

The Government:

RELEASED
El Salvador Human Rights
Special Project (1995)

Salvadoran and international human rights organizations have expressed concern that the Armed Forces or a death squad killed Anaya to put an end to his criticism of human rights violations. (525)

There are indications of this possibility. According to his colleagues, Anaya had received several direct and indirect threats from the government side throughout 1987. (526) Two weeks before his assassination, according to a CDHES-NG leader, a female employee of that commission was detained by the National Police, who informed her that they knew Anaya was a leader of the organization, and that "they were going to dismantle completely the work" of the organization. (527)

During the 1980's, there were constant acts of violence against the CDHES-NG, of which Anaya was the fourth leader to be assassinated or to disappear. None of these cases have been satisfactorily solved. (528)

Also, according to Anaya's widow, at 0610 on the day of the assassination, neighbors saw a group of National Police about 200 meters from the family's residence. (529) She argues that, since they were so close to the police, the assassins could not have been from the FMLN.

CONCLUSIONS

The Commission concludes that:

1. In this case, it did not have the time required to solve this dilemma: the fact that there are indications of the possible perpetration by a state security corps or a death squad; and further indications of the possible perpetration of the assassination of Herbert Ernesto Anaya Sanabria by the People's Revolutionary Army (ERP).
2. The treatment received from the police, and in the judicial process, by Miranda violated his basic rights.
3. The State failed in its obligation, stipulated in international law on protection of human rights, to properly investigate the assassination of Herbert Anaya, and also to try and punish those found guilty.

c. ROMERO GARCIA, "MIGUEL CASTELLANOS"

SUMMARY OF THE CASE

"Miguel Castellanos," whose real name was Napoleon Romero Garcia, was assassinated on 16 February 1989 at 1830, shortly after leaving his office at the Center for Studies of the National Reality (CEREN), in San Salvador's Colonia Flor Blanca. Members of the FMLN's urban commandos machine-gunned the vehicle in which Castellanos was riding with his bodyguard, Rafael Quijada Lopez, at 43 Southern Avenue and West 16th Street. Castellanos was taken to the Military Hospital, where he died shortly thereafter. Quijada Lopez sustained three shots (two in his legs and one in the abdomen), but survived the attack.

The attackers were not identified.

The FMLN assumed responsibility for perpetrating the attack in a Radio "Vencermos" broadcast and in statements to the press.

Background:

Castellanos, aged 39, had been a member of the Political Commission of the People's Liberation Forces, FPL, one of the FMLN's affiliate organizations, until mid-April 1985, when he was captured by members of the National Guard.

RELEASED
El Salvador Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

During the course of the first days of his detention, he agreed to change his position and cooperate with the authorities.

Before his capture, Castellanos had been a member of the FPL's Political Commission, and, as such, politico-military chief of the special metropolitan zone, and also a member of the FMLN's Joint Command in San Salvador. According to a report submitted to the Truth Commission by the FMLN, Castellanos was in control of a large volume of secret information and, after his capture in 1985, advised the National Guard and other Armed Forces intelligence apparatus in their pursuit of the FPL in particular, and of the FMLN in general.

After having changed his stance, Miguel Castellanos began working for the CEREN. He also was editor of the magazine ANALISIS.

Action of the Commission:

The facts of the case have not been disputed. Nevertheless, the Commission examined the available evidence, requesting and obtaining information from the FMLN.

The FMLN's position is that Miguel Castellanos' death was a legitimate execution because he was a traitor who was contributing directly and effectively to the repression against the Front.

CONCLUSIONS

Despite the motives alleged by the FMLN, international humanitarian law does not authorize the execution of civilians without due judicial process.

d. PECCORINI LETTONA

Francisco Peccorini Letona, aged 73, a Ph.D. and university professor, was a contributor to EL DIARIO DE HOY, a morning press organ in El Salvador, for which he had written various articles against the FMLN's activities.

Dr. Peccorini participated actively and overtly in a group dedicated to what it called the recovery of the University of El Salvador which, in its view, was infiltrated by the guerrillas.

On 15 March 1989, in San Salvador, while driving his vehicle, Dr. Peccorini was the target of an attack in which he was wounded by firearms. When taken to the Military Hospital, he died.

At the Cocoyoc meeting held in Mexico from 21 to 24 July 1989 between U.S. officials and FMLN representatives, the latter admitted that Dr. Peccorini's death was attributable to the Front.

e. GARCIA ALVARADO

On 19 April 1989, Dr. Jose Roberto Garcia Alvarado, Prosecutor General of the Republic, died as a result of the explosion of a device set in the car that he was driving. The incident occurred in the San Miguelito district of El Salvador, and the two persons accompanying Dr. Garcia were wounded during it.

The perpetration of Dr. Garcia Alvarado's death was claimed by the FMLN at the meeting in Cocoyoc, Mexico, in July 1989, and attributed to the Armed Forces of Liberation, FAL, one of the Front's member organizations.

f. GUERRERO

SUMMARY OF THE CASE

RELEASED
El Salvador Human Rights
Special Project (1995)

On 28 November 1989, Dr. Francisco Jose Guerrero, ex-President of the Supreme Court of El Salvador, was assassinated in his car while driving it at the intersection of Boulevard de los Heroes and Alameda Juan Pablo II, in San Salvador. One of the attackers was killed, another escaped, and the third, Cesar Ernesto Erazo Cruz, was brought down when wounded.

At the hospital, Erazo Cruz declared that he had killed Guerrero at the order of the FMLN. He later changed his story, ultimately denying any participation. When he was tried, the jury acquitted him.

At that time, Dr. Guerrero was proceeding with an investigation of the assassinations of the Jesuit priests, and apparently had obtained evidence. One of the possible motives for his elimination could have been precisely to conceal it.

Dr. Guerrero died as a result of a deliberate action to kill him. Although Cesar Ernesto Erazo Cruz was acquitted in the trial, there is complete proof of his participation in the assassination. The Commission attempted, unsuccessfuly, to obtain important information in El Salvador and outside the country, to confirm or reject its hypotheses for the investigation. Upon completing its work, even though there was sufficient evidence that Erazo Cruz was an active member of the FMLN at that time, which prompted a more thorough probe of the FMLN's commission of that assassination, the available evidence did not permit the Commission to reach full agreement regarding this case.

DESCRIPTION OF THE INCIDENTS (530)

Dr. Francisco Jose Guerrero, a prominent conservative politician, had a public career spanning over three decades. (531) He was President of the Supreme Court, and served as an adviser to President Cristiani for promoting the process of dialogue with the FMLN. In addition, he was a member of the Ministry of Foreign Relations' consultative council. (532)

Dr. Guerrero was investigating the assassinations of the Jesuit priests that occurred 12 days before his own death. He contacted the Jesuit order immediately after the crime had taken place, and offered to cooperate in solving it.

Dr. Guerrero's Death:

On the morning of 28 November 1989, Dr. Guerrero left his house in the Colonia Escalon, together with his daughter-in-law, to take her to work at the San Salvador judicial center. Dr. Guerrero was driving, his daughter-in-law was in the other front seat, and his bodyguard, Victor Manuel Rivera Monterrosa, was in the rear seat. He was usually accompanied by two bodyguards, but that morning one of them failed to arrive.

They arrived at the intersection of Boulevard de los Heroes and Alameda Juan Pablo Segundo without incident, stopping there in front of a traffic light near the "Biggest" restaurant. An individual (later identified as Angel Anibal Alvarez Martinez) came running along the sidewalk and stood behind Dr. Guerrero's car. Another unidentified person stationed himself in front of the vehicle's left side; and the third, later identified as Cesar Ernesto Erazo Cruz, remained on the right side. Without a word spoken to the car's occupants, they opened fire with their weapons. (533) Dr. Guerrero's bodyguard had become aware of the situation before being fired upon first, giving him time only to react and counterattack. (534)

According to witnesses, the attackers had followed Dr. Guerrero in a yellow Volkswagen car as far as the intersection. The subjects left that vehicle and

RELEASED
El Salvador Human Rights

surrounded Dr. Guerrero. Other witnesses claimed that the attackers arrived on foot. (535)

Nine bullets struck the vehicle on three sides. (536) The attackers apparently fired first at Mr. Rivera Monterrosa, who was wounded and lost control for a few seconds. He managed to fire at his attackers with a 357 caliber revolver and an M-16 rifle. At that moment, he received another shot and discharged the entire cartridge carrier at the attackers (537).

Dr. Guerrero sustained five bullet impacts (538). All the bullets extracted from his body were 45 caliber (539), three of them fired with a pistol which, according to the person who turned it over to the police two days later, was found on Alvarez Martinez' body (540). The other two shots were fired from a different weapon, which was never confiscated.

Erazo Cruz and Alvarez Martinez were on the sidewalk in front of the "Biggest" restaurant when local residents spotted at least one man emerge from a Cherokee type vehicle located two or three cars behind that of Dr. Guerrero and fire a long-barreled weapon, apparently an M-16, at Erazo Cruz and Alvarez Martinez (541). Alvarez Martinez died instantaneously (542). Erazo Cruz was felled when wounded (543). The bullet extracted from Alvarez Martinez' body was a 5.56 caliber (544), used in an M-16.

The third attacker fled from the scene, and has never been identified. The Cherokee picked up the person with the M-16, and he also escaped in an unknown direction (545).

Dr. Guerrero and his bodyguard were taken to the Surgical Medical Hospital, where Dr. Guerrero died that same day. Dr. Guerrero's daughter-in-law was left unharmed in the attack.

The Subsequent events:

The paraffin tests on Alvarez Martinez and Erazo Cruz taken the next day by National Police agents proved positive (546).

Erazo Cruz stated in the National Police medical clinic that he was a member of the FPL urban commandos, and had participated in the assassination at the order of the FMLN command, conveyed through another member of the organization. According to this statement, he only knew that he was to assassinate a prominent politician. When questioned again, Erazo Cruz changed this statement, claiming that a certain "Manuel" had only told him that they were going to commandeer a vehicle (547).

In his second statement, given before the Sixth Judge of Criminal Proceedings, Erazo Cruz ratified the first one, with a few changes. According to this account, "Manuel" had told him that they were going to commandeer a vehicle with polarized windows. They had made several trips along the Boulevard without locating the vehicle. When they reached the corner of the "Biggest" restaurant, his two companions suddenly got out and ran toward a vehicle. "Manuel" stationed himself behind it, and fired at the rear part, while "Efrain" was shooting from the front to the rear.

According to Erazo Cruz, in view of this action, he ran toward the sidewalk in front of the "Biggest" restaurant. There, he saw a person with a long-barreled weapon emerge from a car located behind the vehicle at which "Manuel" and "Efrain" were shooting, and fire at "Manuel." At that instant he felt an impact and fell to the ground. He did not learn the direction taken by "Efrain" nor whether he was wounded (548).

The judge hearing the case ordered the provisional detention of Erazo Cruz, based on these statements (549). Upon recovering from his injuries, he was confined in the Mariona prison. The prison was attacked by members of the FAL. Erazo Cruz escaped with other inmates and reached the FMLN camp (550).

RELEASED
El Salvador Human Rights

In September 1991, troops from the Atlacatl Battalion wounded and captured Erazo Cruz. The soldiers took him to the hospital, and he was later moved to jail.

The public hearing was held on 21 July 1992 in the Sixth Court of Criminal Proceedings. Erazo Cruz was accused of aggravated homicide (551), serious injuries (552), subversive association (553), and violent evasion (554). Despite his judicial confession, during the trial Erazo Cruz denied his participation in the crime. He claimed to have been driving near the scene of the incidents when he was caught amid the gunfire and wounded, adding that he was later forced to admit his guilt.

The jury acquitted Erazo Cruz of the crimes of homicide and serious injuries (555). He was released in mid-August 1992.

The Guerrillas' Responsibility and Erazo Cruz' Participation

The FMLN admitted some degree of responsibility for the assassination of Dr. Guerrero. Shortly after the crime. FMLN spokesmen claimed that the assassination occurred when members of the urban commandos attempted to steal his vehicle. This account coincides with parts of Erazo Cruz' initial statements, including his judicial confession.

Moreover, the 45 and 9 mm pistols used in the assassination were typical of the urban commandos. Also, although Erazo Cruz was acquitted and denied his participation before the Commission, there is substantial evidence that he took part in the crime. An eye-witness who had not made a statement previously identified him as one of the attackers. The paraffin test proved positive, indicating that he had fired shots. There are also contradictions in parts of his testimony before the Commission (556).

The FMLN members interviewed by the Commission claimed not to have known Erazo Cruz before the assassination, nor to have any information on Alvarez Martinez and the other participants, or knowledge of the crime. Nevertheless, the Commission received reliable evidence indicating Erazo Cruz' membership in the guerrillas when Dr. Guerrero's assassination occurred.

Moreover, the Commission received a report that Dr. Guerrero had been assassinated for obtaining incriminating evidence on the persons presumed responsible in the case of the Jesuits. This story was made public in January 1992, when Marta Aracely Guerrero de Paredes, Dr. Guerrero's daughter, claimed that, on the day of his death, her father was carrying documents revealing the identities of those who committed the assassinations of the six Jesuit priests (557).

Dr. Guerrero had used his political influence to procure information. Hence, a few days before his death at least one friend warned him that his life was in danger, and that he should not continue investigating the case of the Jesuits.

The attack against Dr. Guerrero certainly did not occur as a result of an attempt to steal his vehicle. The attackers never addressed a single word to the occupants of the car, and the number of bullets that struck it made its subsequent use impossible.

The role played by the Cherokee type vehicle in the incidents has generated more doubts concerning the intellectual perpetrators. Cherokee vehicles are generally used in official circles, as are M-16 rifles, which are used by members of the Armed Forces and by bodyguards. The whereabouts of the Cherokee and its occupants is unknown.

Conclusions

The Commission, taking into account the examination of the available documentation, and the direct testimony received (including the new evidence), concludes that there is complete proof that Dr. Guerrero's death did not result from an attempt to steal his vehicle, but rather from the intention of killing the person driving it: Dr. Guerrero.

Dr. Guerrero died as a result of a deliberate action to kill him. Although Cesar Ernesto Erazo Cruz was acquitted in the trial, there is full evidence of his role in the assassination. The Commission attempted, unsuccessfully, to obtain important information in El Salvador and outside the country, so as to confirm or reject its hypotheses for the investigation. At the conclusion of its work, although there is sufficient evidence that Erazo Cruz was an active member of the FMLN at that time, prompting a more thorough probe of the FMLN's commission of that assassination, the available evidence did not permit the Commission to reach complete agreement on this case.

United States Military, Survivors of a Downed Helicopter

Summary of the Case

On 2 January 1991, an artillery-equipped military helicopter of U.S. origin was shot down by rifle fire by an FMLN patrol in the canton of San Francisco, in the Lolotique jurisdiction of San Miguel Department, while flying at low altitude in the direction of its base in Soto Cano, Honduras.

As a result of the crash, the aircraft's pilot, Daniel F. Scott, was killed, and Lt. Colonel David H. Pickett and Corporal Earnest G. Dawson were injured. All were of U.S. nationality. Upon approaching the aircraft, members of the patrol fired at the survivors from some distance. The patrol left the dead American soldier and the two injured persons on the site and departed, taking weapons and equipment from the helicopter. Within a short time, one member of the patrol was sent back to the site, and killed the wounded men.

Description of the Incidents

About 1340 on 2 January 1991, a UH-1H helicopter of the U.S. Armed Forces took off from Ilopango airport in San Salvador, crewed by Lt. Colonel David H. Pickett, Corporal Earnest G. Dawson, and Pilot Daniel F. Scott, all military personnel of U.S. nationality. Pickett was the Commander of the Fourth Battalion of the 22nd Air Regiment based in Soto Cano, Honduras, where they expected to arrive shortly after 1700.

About 1400, the aircraft was flying over the canton of San Francisco, at a height ranging between 30 and 50 meters. They were flying low so as to be less vulnerable to possible missile attacks by guerrillas and because, by so doing, if they were shot down there would be more chances of survival.

That day, seven armed combatants from the People's Revolutionary Army, ERP, one of the FMLN's member organizations, were patrolling the canton of San Francisco, in the Lolotique jurisdiction of San Miguel Department. Severiano Fuentes Fuentes, alias "Aparicio," that organization's political chief in the zone, was in command of the patrol. The latter also included Antonio Bonilla Rivas, "Ulises"; Daniel Alvarado Guevara, "Macaco"; Digna Chicas, "Doris"; and Maria Lita Fernandez, "Carmen." They were accompanied by Santos Guevara Portillo, "Dominguez"; and Fernan Fernandez Arevalo, "Porfirio."

Upon observing the helicopter, the patrol fired its M-16 and AK-47 rifles at it. The helicopter fell to the ground about 500 meters distant.

As the autopsy later showed, Pilot Scott died when the helicopter crashed. The ERP patrol approached shooting, and wounded the two survivors.

A member of the patrol went to the canton of San Francisco, about 500 meters distant, and returned with about 10 residents. They placed the injured persons and Scott's body a few meters from the helicopter, and removed the items indicated to them by the combatants, taking them to San Francisco. Later, they burned the helicopter.

It has been sufficiently proven that Severiano Fuentes Fuentes, "Aparicio," ordered Daniel Alvarado Guevara, "Macaco," to kill the wounded, and that he refused to obey. When the patrol had traveled about a distance of 100 meters, Fernan Fernandez Arevalo, "Porfirio," at Fuentes' order, returned and killed the wounded men.

The Subsequent Events:

Several residents of San Francisco reported the incident to the authorities. That same night, the corpses were found and taken by helicopter to the Third Brigade headquarters, where they were examined by a justice of the peace. Later, they were moved to Ilopango airport in San Salvador, where they were turned over to the U.S. authorities.

The next day, 3 January, a group of U.S. military, accompanied by Salvadoran officials, inspected the wreckage of the helicopter and interviewed several local residents.

That same day, the news of the downing of the helicopter, and of the execution of the wounded military, was disseminated.

The FMLN, on Radio Venceremos, began by denying any execution of wounded persons. On 7 January, it admitted the possibility of that act, announcing an investigation. On 9 January, it admitted the execution of the wounded men; and, on 18 January, it announced that "Dominguez" and "Porfirio" would be tried for that crime. Later, it made the correction that "Dominguez" was not involved, but rather, "Aparicio."

On 17 March 1992, Fuentes ("Aparicio") and Fernandez ("Porfirio") appeared voluntarily before the Cinameca Court of the First Instance, and were imprisoned in the Mariona jail, where they still remain.

Action of the Commission:

The Truth Commission examined the information compiled in the judicial record, and the results of the investigations conducted by the U.S. experts, as well as the documentation from the investigation carried out by the FMLN, furnished to it by the latter. Interviews were held with five of the seven combatants who participated in the action, with several residents of the canton of San Francisco, and with other persons who were able to provide pertinent information.

Conclusions

The Commission considers it sufficiently proven that the members of the U.S. military, Lt. Colonel David H. Pickett, and Corporal Earnest G. Dawson, survivors of the helicopter shot down by an ERP unit, while wounded and defenseless, were executed in violation of international humanitarian law by Fernan Fernandez Arevalo, at the order of Severiano Fuentes Fuentes. The Commission has found no evidence that other members of the unit participated in the execution.

Nor has the Commission found evidence that these executions were ordered on higher levels of command, or were based on a policy of the ERP or the FMLN to kill prisoners. The Front admitted the criminal nature of the action, apprehending and trying the accused.

3. Kidnappings

DUARTE AND VILLEDA

On 10 September 1985, Ines Guadalupe Duarte Duarte, daughter of President Jose Napoleon Duarte, and her friend, Ana Cecilia Villeda, arrived in a car at the entrance of a private university in San Salvador. They were being followed in a van by two bodyguards assigned for their protection. While both vehicles were being parked, other vehicles were being positioned to block the traffic, while several armed persons killed the bodyguards and took the two women away by force in a truck (558). The abducted women were taken to a guerrilla camp.

Four days after the incident, the self-named Pedro Pablo Castillo Commando group of the FMLN publicly announced its perpetration of the act.

After several weeks of negotiation, in which the Salvadoran church and diplomats from the region acted as intermediaries in secret talks, on 24 October, Ines Duarte and her friend were released in an operation involving an exchange for 22 political prisoners (559). The operation also included the release of 25 mayors and local officials abducted by the FMLN, in exchange for 101 guerrilla fighters disabled in war, whom the government allowed to leave the country. The entire prisoner exchange process, which took place in different parts of the country, was carried out through the International Red Cross.

In a communique from the FMLN's General Command, broadcast by Radio assumed full responsibility for the operation, describing the action of the commando group, including the elimination of the bodyguards, as "impeccable."

The kidnapping of Ines Duarte and Ana Cecilia Villeda constitutes an act of hostage-taking and, therefore, is in violation of international humanitarian law (560).

F. Assassinations of Judges

During the 1980's, holding the position of judge in El Salvador was proving dangerous. As stated in the reports in this chapter on the assassinations of Monsignor Romero and the Dutch journalists, some judges had to resign and even flee the country after threats or attacks against them.

Furthermore, according to a report provided to the Truth Commission by the Supreme Court of Justice, some 28 judges were assassinated in El Salvador during the 1980's (561).

One of them, Dr. Francisco Jose Guerrero, was killed after having completed his term as President of the Supreme Court. Three other persons assassinated were judges of the first instance, and the remaining 24 were justices of the peace. Of the latter, 20 were assassinated between 1980 and 1982.

The Commission received charges and testimony from independent sources regarding several of the cases submitted by the Supreme Court, and had an opportunity to investigate two cases. As for the other assassinations, in some there were indications of perpetration by the FMLN; in others, by the death squads; and in two instances, the deaths apparently occurred in combat.

What was really investigated in depth was the assassination of Dr. Francisco Jose Guerrero, the report on which is contained in this chapter. Presented next are the results of the investigation of the assassination of a justice of the peace.

Justice of the Peace in Carolina

Jose Apolinar Martinez, Justice of the Peace in the municipality of Carolina, in San Miguel Department, was shot to death in his residence on 14 June 1988. As a result of the attack, his three-year-old daughter was also injured, later remaining for weeks under medical treatment.

There are strong indications of the FMLN's responsibility. Approximately a year earlier, the judge had received threatening letters from the People's Revolutionary Army, one of the armed groups comprising the FMLN. The assassination took place in a zone at least partially controlled by the FMLN. The assassins later fled to a zone under even greater FMLN control. They were wearing military garb and carrying long-barreled weapons. Found on the scene of the crime was a slip of paper on which the FMLN assumed responsibility for the assassination.

On the other hand, however, a long time elapsed between the threats and the assassination. Furthermore, there was no pattern of executing justices of the peace in that period. Whereas, during the years from 1980 to 1982, there were many assassinations of justices of the peace, only two occurred between 1986 and 1988, including this case.

Nevertheless, taking all the circumstances and proof into account, the Commission concludes that there is sufficient evidence to attribute this assassination to FMLN members. The assassination of Justice of the Peace Jose Apolinar Martinez violated international humanitarian law.

Footnotes

469. The Commission received information from various sources regarding the execution of mayors by the Front. In the two cases described in detail, the Commission received direct testimony from witnesses, which it took steps to substantiate. As for the other cases, it sought information from the Front which, in its response, admitted that the execution of mayors was a policy approved by the Front, also supplying the names of some of the mayors executed.

471. The Commission reviewed the records of the proceedings, met with those in custody, and requested information from both the FMLN and the government authorities.

472. The FMLN, in order to demonstrate to the Commission the existence of a General Command policy line that advisers and members of the military were to be considered legitimate targets, provided the following information: a) a list of names of U.S. advisers and military killed in El Salvador between February 1983 and March 1987; b) copies of articles published in the newspaper VENCEREMOS (the FMLN's official organ), in which U.S. intervention in the war is denounced, and the deaths or executions of some of these advisers are reported; and, c) a copy of a press release containing a statement issued by Senator Edward M. Kennedy, of the U.S. Congress. According to the release, the congressman expressed his concern over the number of U.S. advisers and military assigned to the country. This statement was made in 1990.

477. In Proceedings No. 42/86 of the Military Trial Court, the witnesses make the following claims: in Section 46, it is declared that the shots came from all directions; in Section 365, it is maintained that the shooting was started by the U.S. Marine seated in the "Flash Back" restaurant, and that he was the one who shot the guerrilla fighter; in Sections 155 and 449, it is claimed that an American was carrying a firearm at that time; in Section 453, it is said that a Marine had a firearm in his hands at that time; in Section 512, it is asserted that the shot that wounded the guerrilla fighter was fired by one of the Marines; in Section 531, it is declared that an individual escaped behind "Chili's" restaurant.

478. Besides the testimony claiming that cross-fire occurred on the site, reports are added to Sections 305 and 308 concerning 34 shell cases found inside the "Mediterranee" and "Chili's" restaurants, and expert examinations made of vehicles that were located on the scene at the time of the attack. These expert examinations establish that two vehicles, including that of the attackers, had bullet holes in their bodies.

483. LA PRENSA GRAFICA, 22 June 1985; Section 357 of Proceedings No. 42/86 of the Military Trial Court. FMLN leaders maintained that the categorization of the U.S. Marines executed as military targets had been the made under the responsibility of the members of the commando group who planned the action. They claimed that the latter had sufficient proof to convince them that the four U.S. Marines were in El Salvador engaged in military intelligence work. They asserted that this information consisted of: 1. permanent, personal monitoring of the activities of each one of them; and 2. radio interception of the Armed Forces communications system. They claimed that those executed had been constantly named in this type of communication.

The Commission asked them for written records of these claims, but they indicated that they were not equipped to submit evidence of this, because the nature of the action and the current belligerent context made it extremely difficult to obtain, for example, documentation on this type of decision.

The FMLN also informed the Commission that, in the subsequent evaluation of the action, they had determined that the "site selected" by the commando group had been improper, because consideration had not been given to the possibility of exposing civilians to the dangers of the attack. It noted that, for this reason, they had issued an order to stop attacks on this type of target on similar sites.

484. Ismael Dimas was interviewed by the FMLN's Radio Venceremos during the week after the attack. His pseudonym was "Ulises." In this interview, he admitted having been the military chief who directed the action, and one of those who fired at the Marines. The information from the Salvadoran Government, the FMLN, and the witnesses interviewed agree on this assertion. The information obtained in the Commission's investigation was consistent in concluding that this person died later in combat.

485. In this extrajudicial confession, those in custody also admitted having participated in a series of acts that reportedly took place between 1979 and 1985; but without citing exact dates or locations where these alleged acts were committed. (Sections 108, 122, and 130 of Proceedings No. 42/86 of the Military Trial Court).

486. For example, during the judicial proceedings, no judicial statements were taken from those in custody. Instead of these statements, there is a record of "ratification" of their declarations made to the National Guard. In these records, the acts declared by the defendants, which they ratify, are not specified.

487. The 1987 Amnesty Law was passed in October 1987 through Legislative Decree 805.

488. Section 742 of Proceedings No. 42/86 of the Military Trial Court.

489. Section 752 of Proceedings No. 42/86 of the Military Trial Court. The request of the official representative was denied, because the court did not consider this U.S. representative a party in the criminal process.

490. Section 770 of Proceedings No. 42/86 of the Military Trial Court. Several newspapers published the reactions of United States official representatives, who warned that this was jeopardizing $18.5 million in aid for El Salvador, which was in the process of being approved by the U.S. Congress.

491. Section 770 of Proceedings No. 42/86 of the Military Trial Court. The Armed Forces General Command acts, in some situations, as a Court of Incidental Plea, according to the Salvadoran Law of Procedure. When this court heard the decision for amnesty in question, it deemed the "Convention to prevent and punish acts of terrorism in the form of crimes against persons and the associated extension, when they have international significance," and the "Convention on the prevention and punishment of crimes against internationally protected persons, including diplomatic agents," applicable in the case.

492. Section 937 of Proceedings No. 42/86 of the Military Trial Court.

493. There is not sufficient evidence permitting the Commission to state whether or not he participated in the act. Moreover, in the proceedings against him, the application of the Law on National Reconciliation was refused, as in the case of the other defendants.

494. Andrade was captured in 1989. The FMLN leaders held him responsible for, among other things, having surrendered to the government forces the largest shipment of arms seized from the FMLN during the conflict. The FMLN considers Andrade a traitor because of this information that he turned over to the government of El Salvador and the United States Government during his captivity.

495. To investigate this incident, the Commission interviewed approximately 70 individuals, many in a confidential manner. The Commission checked the information from the testimony through other interviews, and reviewed judicial, police, press, government, non-government, and personal materials.

496. In his first two statements, Miranda claimed that his alias was "Jose." On 3 February 1988, Miranda identified Romualdo Alberto Zelaya, killed in a confrontation with the National Police on 27 January 1988, as "Jose". Section 750.

He found that Miranda's statement was "the only incriminating evidence against him," and, therefore, insufficient to warrant embarking on the phase in the presence of both parties to the action.

519. Section 943-53. He reasoned that the confession "deserves credence because of its agreement with the facts and with the account given by (three) witnesses," and because "it was not established in the trial that the defendant was a victim of torture forcing him to confess, and the (first) two confessions are consistent with one another." 521. Section 1133. Civil penalties were also applied to him, with compensation of 20 million colones to Mirna Perla, Anaya's widow, and the corresponding loss of various political and civil rights. As for the Anaya assassination, the judge attempted to leave to the Truth Commission the final decision as to whether or not the amnesty law should be applied.

522. The Commission rejects, for lack of evidence, the theory that this assassination was a common criminal act.

523. The length of time that elapsed between the assassination and the display of photos must be taken into account; the witness had only a short time to identify them.

Section 694, statement by Reynaldo Blanco in the First Court of Criminal Proceedings, 6 February 1988. Radio Truth, a clandestine right-wing station, charged Anaya, apparently on 25 July 1987, with being "the nefarious, corrupt head of the Non-Governmental Human Rights Commission." It reported that "this Mr. Anaya, who has caused so much harm with so much disinformation about the country, will soon be exposed. It is important to mention the Salvadoran Church's high degree of involvment as a mediator, in the persons of Monsignor Rivera y Damas and Father Ignacio Ellacuria. In the documents of the FMLN and the Government of El Salvador, the mediating role of governments such as those of Colombia, Panama, Mexico, France, etc., is also obvious; as is that of individuals such as Chancellor Willy Brandt and Hans Wischnewski, of the Socialist International.

V. RECOMMENDATIONS

INTRODUCTION

One of the Commission's responsibilities is to formulate recommendations. In fact, the text of its mandate reads:

The Commission's assignment includes recommending whatever legal, political, or administrative measures the findings of the investigation may give rise to. Said recommendations may include steps to prevent a repetition of such incidents, as well as initiatives aimed at national reconciliation.

Before making specific recommendations, the Commission decided first to make some general comments about the findings of its inquiries, about the principles underlying them and its recommendations, and about who the recommendations are addressed to.

1. General Conclusions

The causes of and circumstances surrounding the many serious incidents of violence in El Salvador are very complex. The country's history and age-old injustice cannot be attributed solely to one segment of the population or to one group of individuals. This or that governmental institution, certain historic traditions, or even the ideological struggle that the East and West waged until recently and in which El Salvador was a victim and an episode, are merely factors that explain in part the complex situation in El Salvador during the 12-year period that concerns us. The Commission was not called upon to address them all, nor could it. Instead, the Commission focused on certain considerations that led it to draft its recommendations, which are essential for an understanding of these factors.

The lack of guarantees for human rights in El Salvador and the organization of society outside the principles of the rule of law place a major responsibility on the Salvadoran State itself, rather than on this or that government. The political, regulatory, and institutional mechanisms needed to assure this type of society existed in theory, at least partly. But the practice was different from what it should have been, perhaps as a result of excessive pragmatism. Over time, the military and, more specifically, certain elements within the Armed Forces, became caught up in a dynamic that they were unable to escape and wound up completely dominating the civilian authorities, often in collusion with certain influential civilians.

Neither of the three branches of government (the Judiciary, the Legislature, or the Executive) was able to control the overwhelming military domination of society. The judicial system was weakened as intimidation took hold of it and the groundwork for corrupting it was established. Since this branch had never enjoyed true institutional independence from the legislative and executive branches, it merely grew more ineffectual, eventually becoming, owing to its inaction or regrettable subservience, a contributor to the tragedy that the country has suffered. The various, often opportunistic alliances that political leaders forged (both lawmakers and members of the Executive Branch) with the military and members of the Judiciary had the effect of furthering weakening civilian control over the military, police, and security forces, all of them part of the military.

The wide-ranging network of illegal armed groups that operated with complete impunity both inside and outside our institutions, groups known as the death squads, sowed terror in Salvadoran society. Originally, these groups were formed, financed, and run by civilians. The groups of high-ranking military officers who initially served solely as agents and executioners slowly but surely took over the "death squads" for their own personal gain or to further certain ideological or political objectives. Thus, impunity vis-a-vis the civilian authorities was the norm in the military, in opposition to its true mission and even its calling. The military at large fell prey to certain groups of officers who eventually formed gangs, abused their power and their ties with certain civilians, and intimidated their comrades in arms who were reluctant to adopt or collaborate in their corrupt, illicit practices.

El Salvador Human Rights

The domestic armed conflict between the opposing forces grew in intensity and magnitude. The inevitable outcome was the violent incidents that were brought before the Commission, some with anxiety and expectation. The more cruel and widespread the conflict became, the greater became the power of the top echelon of the Armed Forces and of those who were in command of the armed insurgent groups. The result of this vicious circle was a State in which certain elements of society became immune to any governmental or political restraint and were thus able to act with total impunity. They were the ones who really held State power, which they exercised in a most primitive fashion, while the administration, the Legislature, and the Judiciary were unable to perform their true functions as branches of government. The regrettable fact was that in practice they became mere facades with marginal government authority.

How else can we explain the modus operandi of the death squads, the disappearances of so many people, the attacks on major government officials, church leaders, and judges, and the fact that the perpetrators of these atrocities were rarely brought to trial? Ironically, this combination of corruption, timidity, and weakness in the Judiciary and its investigatory bodies greatly impeded their effective work, even in the case of crimes of which the FMLN was accused.

To avoid any risk of relapsing into the status quo ante, El Salvador must establish and bolster the proper balance of power among the executive, legislative, and judicial branches and institute full and indisputable civilian control over all military, paramilitary, intelligence, and security forces. The recommendations that we offer below outline the fundamental requirements for a transition to a democratic society in which the rule of law prevails and human rights are fully respected and guaranteed.

2. Principles

The report that the Commission is submitting is part of a process whose purpose, under the Geneva Accord of 4 April 1990, is to end the armed conflict through political channels as soon as possible, to spur the democratization of the country and unconditional respect for human rights, and to reunify Salvadoran society. The first of these objectives has already been achieved. The remaining goals, in contrast, require uninterrupted and, in some respects, permanent efforts. The goals are complementary: democracy loses validity when human rights are not respected unconditionally, and human rights cannot be safeguarded against arbitrary action outside the rule of law, which is the expression of a democratic system of government; and there can hardly be talk of a reunified society unless the rights and liberties of all are respected and guaranteed.

Although the Commission's recommendations are linked in all respects to the findings of its investigations, they are vehicles for pursuing these objectives, as defined within the recent history of the country by the Salvadorans who negotiated the peace accords and by the decisive majority who have supported their substance as the goals that must be achieved in the society that they are now starting to build. Consequently, the following principles underlie these recommendations:

El Salvador Human Rights
Project (1993)

First: democracy, which leaves fundamental decisions about the destiny of society in the hands of the people and fosters dialogue and negotiation as the basic tools of political activity.

Second: participation, which integrates minorities and majorities and enhances democracy as a model that respects the individual and collective dimensions of human coexistence. Such participation also fosters solidarity and respect among individuals.

Third: the rule of law, in which the supremacy of and respect for the law is the foundation of a culture that guarantees equality and proscribes all arbitrariness.

Fourth: respect for human rights, which are the raison d'etre of the above principles and the foundation of a society that is organized for individuals, all of whom are regarded as equally free and worthy.

The consolidation of the supremacy of civilian rule in Salvadoran Society and the necessary subordination of the military to civilian rule flow directly from the democratic philosophy of the rule of law, from the primary value of the dignity of individuals, and therefore from total respect for their rights.

The Peace Accords call for a new approach to national defense and public security, one that represents a significant step forward along the proper road to establishing the supremacy of civilian rule. It is indispensable that all, absolutely all, of the accords in this connection be executed fully.

In addition, the Commission underscores the particular care that must be taken in carrying out the measures set forth in the peace accords and in this report with regard to strengthening a comprehensive system of safeguarding human rights and a strong, independent, and effective Judiciary. The well-known vacuum that the country has had in this regard has been a primary cause of the extremely serious and systematically repeated violations of human rights, which can be regarded as eradicated once and for all only when the aforementioned objective has been achieved.

3. Audience

The Commission's mandate neither identifies nor sets limits on the audiences to whom its recommendations are addressed. It does, however, establish a procedure for the parties to fulfill the commitments that they have made in connection with these recommendations, that is to say, the government and the FMLN, which by signing the Mexico Accords created the mechanism that is completing its work today. They have pledged to carry out the recommendations of the Commission (Accord on the Truth Commission, paragraph 10) and must therefore put into practice, without delay, the ones that are addressed specifically to them. When the recommendations are addressed to others or, particularly in the case of the government, when they entail actions or initiatives by government bodies outside the Executive Branch, the government's commitment means that it must adopt the actions and initiatives that are necessary to implement the recommendations through the appropriate channels of the State apparatus.

It also bears noting with regard to the parties to whom the recommendations are addressed that now that the armed conflict is over, is stands to reason that most of the recommendations, being institutional in nature, would be directed to the government. The main recommendation that could have been made to the FMLN would have been to abandon the use of arms as a means of political struggle and, in any event, to renounce the sorts of actions and practices indicated in this report. This objective has been achieved thanks to the peace accords and their implementation. This does not prevent the Commission from making a strong appeal to the FMLN to see to it that its activities as a political force are always accompanied by a firm rejection of all forms of violent struggle and a permanent adherence to the legal, civilized procedures that are typical of democracy, forever renouncing the methods that led to the serious incidents of violence indicated herein for which it was to blame.

El Salvador Human Rights
Record Project (1996)

In this context, the Commission will now proceed to formulate its recommendations. Clearly, not all of them are equally important, nor do they all have the same significance. Some stem directly from the findings of the inquiry and need to be complied with urgently; they seek to remove immediately factors directly related to the incidents under investigation or to the fact that these same incidents have not been opportunely clarified. Another group of recommendations seeks to remedy certain structural ills that are directly linked to the incidents that the Commission has examined. The third group concerns institutional reforms to prevent a repetition of similar incidents. Lastly, the Commission will offer its thoughts and recommendations concerning national reconciliation.

I. Recommendations Arising Directly From the Findings of the Investigation

In this section the Commission will formulate recommendations that are the immediate and unavoidable consequence of the conclusions that it has drawn concerning the incidents that it has been called upon to investigate and clarify, in light of realities that are directly connected with them and that still exist in the country. In this regard, the recommendations that the Commission will now formulate are, by their very nature, the ones with which it is most urgent to comply.

In this context, the Commission formulates the following recommendations that must be carried out without delay:

A. Dismissal From the Armed Forces

The conclusions in the cases investigated by the Truth Commission and published in this report list the names of Salvadoran Armed Forces officers who are personally implicated in the perpetration or concealment of serious incidents of violence or who failed to fulfill their service-related obligations to begin or cooperate with the investigation or sanctioning of such violence. Regarding the officers who are still on active duty, the Commission recommends that they be dismissed from their posts and discharged from the Armed Forces. As for those who are retired or have been discharged, the Commission recommends that the measure indicated in Paragraph C of this section be applied.

C. Disqualification From Holding Public Office

Under no circumstances would it be advisable for those who have committed acts of violence such as the ones that the Commission has investigated to be involved in running the government. Hence, it deems that the individuals referred to in the preceding paragraphs, as well as any others who are likewise implicated in perpetrating the acts of violence described in this report, including civilians and the members of the FMLN Command named in the conclusions of the cases, ought to be disqualified from holding any public post or office for a period of no less than 10 years and from engaging in any activity related to public security or national defense permanently. It is not in the Truth Commission's power to enforce such a provision directly, but it is in our power

RELEASED
El Salvador Human Rights

to recommend to the National Commission for the Consolidation of Peace (COPAZ) that it prepare a first draft of legislation regulating this point, with due guarantees under Salvadoran law, and submit it to the Legislative Assembly for immediate passage, and to recommend to the bodies empowered to appoint those who are to hold public office that they refrain from designating such individuals.

D. Judicial Reform

The implementation of the agreed upon judicial reform in all its aspects. Indeed, although this reform must be complemented by additional measures, some of which will be the subject of other recommendations by the Commission, the agreements that the peace process reached in this regard must be complied with fully and immediately. Two specific issues warrant mention:

a. Reform of the Court

The Constitutional Reform approved within the framework of the peace process includes a new procedure for choosing magistrates of the Supreme Court, which presides over the Judiciary. It has not been possible to apply these innovations, as the terms of the current magistrates have yet to expire; thus, the court is still made up of individuals chosen under the rules prior to the Constitutional Reform and to the peace accords. Given the heavy responsibility that the Judiciary bears with regard to the impunity with which serious acts of violence, such as those described in this report, were committed, there is no justification for delaying the renewal of the Supreme Court, the members of which ought to allow the immediate application of the Constitutional Reform by resigning from their posts.

b. The Council of the Judicature

The peace accords called for the establishment of a National Council of the Judicature independent of the organs of government and of political parties (Mexico Accords: Political Accords for the Development of the Constitutional Reform, A.b.1; Chapultepec Peace Accord, Chapter III, Paragraph 1.A). Nevertheless, the Law of the National Council of the Judicature that the Legislative Assembly passed in December 1992 contains provisions that, in practice, leave the removal of certain members of the council altogether at the discretion of the Supreme Court. The Commission recommends that this system be modified and that the members of the council be subject to removal only on specific legal grounds, as determined by the Legislative Assembly, which being the body that is constitutionally competent to appoint said members, should logically also be the one that decides their dismissal.

E. The Judges

The Judicial Career Law, the reform of which the Commission understands is under discussion at the time this report is being submitted, should provide that only those judges who, pursuant to a rigorous evaluation by the National Council of the Judicature, have demonstrated a devotion to the law and concern for human rights and offer guarantees of independence, judicial temperament, honesty, and impartiality in their actions, may remain in the profession.

F. The Sanctions

DRAFT

RELEASED
Project (1993)

One of the direct consequences of the resolution of the serious incidents that the Commission has investigated should be, under normal conditions, appropriate punishment for those responsible for them. Nonetheless, given current conditions in the country and the situation in the administration of justice, the Commission is faced with insurmountable difficulties, which it will now describe.

The direct application of a sanction against the guilty parties is beyond the powers of the Commission. The Commission does not have jurisdictional functions and, consequently, cannot decide to apply a given sanction to an individual. This function, by its very nature, falls to the courts of justice, and this issue poses a serious problem for the Commission. Therefore, the raising of the problem and the answers that can be given to it cannot be divorced from current realities in the country.

One painfully prominent aspect of these realities is the glaring inadequacy of the judicial system, both in investigating crimes and in enforcing the law, especially in the case of crimes committed with the direct or indirect support of the State apparatus. So pronounced is this inadequacy that the government and the FMLN agreed to create an instrument, the Truth Commission, to achieve goals that would normally have been assigned to the bodies in charge of administering justice. If the Judiciary had functioned satisfactorily, not only would the incidents that the Commission has had to investigate have been opportunely clarified, but the corresponding sanctions would have been applied as well. Thus, the inability of the courts to enforce the law in connection with violent acts committed under the direct or indirect cover of the government is an integral part of the realities amid which these events took place and is inseparable from them. This is a conclusion that arises altogether clearly from most of the cases that are examined in this report and that have the characteristics described.

It thus bears asking whether the Judiciary is in a position to satisfy impartially the imperatives of justice. Looking at the situation calmly, we cannot give a positive response to this question. The judicial structure is still substantially the same as when the events described in this report took place. The reforms to the judicial system that were agreed upon during the peace process have been implemented, but with restrictions, and have thus not yet had a significant impact that would bring about a transformation of the administration of justice. Furthermore, the Judiciary remains under the control of the same individuals whose omissions were part of the scenario that we are now trying to overcome, and nothing indicates that their conduct will change in the immediate future.

These reflections place the Commission in a serious dilemma. The issue is not whether the guilty ought to be punished or not; the issue is whether or not justice can be done. Punishing the parties responsible for the crimes described is an imperative of public morality. Nevertheless, the administration of justice does not meet the minimum requirements of objectivity and impartiality to mete out justice in a reliable manner. This is one of the current objective conditions in the country, and overcoming it must become a primary objective for Salvadoran society.

The Commission does not think that a credible solution to the problems that it has examined can be found, thus bringing us back to one of their main causes. The picture that this report paints would not have developed if the judicial system had functioned appropriately. It is obvious that the judicial system has not changed enough yet to engender the sense of justice that would foster national reconciliation. On the contrary, a judicial debate under current circumstances, far from satisfying an honest yearning for justice, could serve to revive long-standing frustrations and thus thwart the cardinal objective of reconciliation. Given this context, it is clear that at the moment the Commission can only hope that justice will be served opportunely and fully by a court system that is overhauled in light of the Peace Accords.

El Salvador Human Rights
Project (1993)

II. Eradication of Structural Causes Directly Linked to the Events Examined

The peace process led to a series of political accords that have had the clear-cut support of the entire society, that introduce major structural reforms, and that attack numerous vices which have helped to create the picture described in this report. As a general principle, the Commission most emphatically recommends full compliance with all accords, as this represents not only a commitment for those who negotiated and concluded these accords but also the desire and hope of the Salvadoran people.

These general remarks notwithstanding, the Commission will now take the liberty of offering several additional recommendations:

A. Reforms in the Armed Forces

1. The transition to the new model of the Armed Forces as set forth in the peace accords and the constitutional reform must be undertaken as quickly and transparently as possible, under the close supervision of the civilian authorities. It is recommended that a Special Commission of the Legislative Assembly be appointed for this purpose, with the participation of the various political forces represented in the assembly. Special attention should be given to the subordination of the military to the civilian authorities, to democratic control over the main promotions and assignments of commanders, to discipline in budgetary appropriations, to a greater decentralization of the military structure, to the application of the new doctrine and the new educational system in the Armed Forces, and to the ongoing professionalization of their personnel.

2. The comprehensive revision of existing military regulations should be concluded without delay so that they can be adapted fully to the new Political Constitution, to the new doctrine of the Armed Forces, and to the requirements imposed by respect for human rights.

3. Among the reforms mentioned in the previous paragraph should be included a simple, practical mechanism for resolving the situation of a subordinate who is given an illegal order, so that he is protected when he refuses to comply with it. The provision in Article 173 of the Army Regulations that obliges a subordinate to obey the orders he receives from a superior no matter what the occasion and risk should be repealed, and the pledge to do so should be stricken from the wording of the solemn oath of loyalty to the flag during the military ceremony. It should be clear, in any event, that so-called "due obedience" does not exonerate someone who carries out a manifestly illegal order.

4. The aforementioned reforms must also provide that members of the military are committing serious violations whenever they avail themselves of their status to abuse power or commit offenses against human rights, indicating the administrative and legal sanctions that are applicable to them, including discharge, without detriment to the appropriate criminal penalties if there is cause for them. A rigorous system of discharges must not allow individuals who have been discharged for the type of conduct described or on other grounds that compromise the branch or the institution to rejoin the military.

5. Military training plans, from Military School to staff courses, should include thorough research into human rights. To this end, highly qualified civilian professors should be available.

DRAFT

RELEASED
El Salvador Human Rights
Special Project (1994)

6. With regard to the advanced training courses that Armed Forces officers pursue overseas, care should be taken to select only those based on a philosophy of democracy and respect for human rights.

7. The Honor Commission of the Armed Forces, created under the peace accords, must give priority to eradicating all vestiges of connections between, on the one hand, their active and retired personnel and, on the other, the former paramilitary bodies or any illegal armed group.

B. Reforms in Public Security

One of the salient points in the peace accords is the decision to dissolve the former Public Security Corps (CUSEP), which were under the Armed Forces, and to make law and order the responsibility of the National Civilian Police (PNC), a new and altogether civilian body. The Commission recommends emphatically that the guidelines for the new institution be honored strictly. The demilitarization of the police is a major step forward in El Salvador, and thus there must be assurances that there are no links between the PNC and the former CUSEP or any other branch of the Armed Forces.

C. Investigation of Illegal Groups

Among the most dreadful instruments of the violence that shook the country in recent years were the private armed groups that acted with total impunity. All necessary measures must be taken to assure that they are dismantled. In light of the country's history, prevention is imperative. There is always the risk that such groups will resume their activities. The Commission recommends that a thorough investigation be undertaken immediately in this regard and that, since El Salvador's National Civilian Police is still new, the police forces of friendly countries that are able to offer support be asked, through necessarily confidential channels, to do so.

III. Institutional Reforms to Prevent the Repetition of Similar Acts

This too is an issue whose substance is related to the implementation of the reforms agreed upon under the peace accords, the execution of which will give the country a modern, democratic institutional framework commensurate with the demands of the rule of law.

The Commission feels, however, that certain points deserve emphasis, either because they are particularly important or because they were not clearly explained in the peace accords.

A. Administration of Justice

One of the most pressing needs of Salvadoran democracy in consolidating the true rule of law is the transformation of the judicial system. The judicial-reform programs currently being drafted must be further developed and implemented as soon as possible. The effort that the Justice Ministry is making in linking the judicial reform to democratization is highly positive and should be completed.

There are also issues that, owing to their importance, warrant separate mention by the Commission:

1. One of the most glaring inadequacies of the Salvadoran justice system, one that it is essential to correct, is the heavy concentration of functions in the Supreme Court and, in particular, in its chief justice as the head of the

RELEASED
Special Project (1993)

Judiciary. This concentration of functions seriously undermines the independence of judges in lower courts and of attorneys, to the detriment of the system as a whole. The express origin of this problem is constitutional, and thus a solution to it entails deciding whether the provisions in question ought to be amended, through the procedures that the constitution itself provides, so that the court, without losing its status as the highest court in the land, is no longer the administrative head of the Judiciary.

2. Judges should not be appointed and removed by the Supreme Court but by an independent National Council of the Judicature.

3. Each judge should take responsibility for managing the resources of the court of which he is in charge, accounting therefor to the National Council of the Judicature.

4. Authorization to practice the profession of attorney or notary and the suspension or penalizing of said professionals should be functions assigned to a special, independent entity, not to the Supreme Court.

5. The budget appropriations that the constitution provides for the justice system should be used to establish new courts and to raise the pay of judges.

6. The Commission recommends the following measures to bolster the right to due process:

a. Render extrajudicial confessions altogether null and void.

b. Assure that defendants are presumed innocent under all circumstances.

c. Comply strictly with the maximum periods of police detention and judicial detention, establishing immediate penalties for those who violate them.

d. Strengthen the right to a defense from the very first actions in a proceeding.

7. The highest priority should be given to the appropriate operation of the Judicial Training School, which is designed not only to train professionals but also to forge bonds of solidarity among judges and to create a consistent overview of the functions of the courts in the State, as the peace accords read. This is also a short-run need in training the conscientious new human resources who are to join the new courts or to replace those who the Commission has recommended should not remain in the legal profession. This is a fertile field for tangible and constructive international cooperation. The Commission calls on those who can provide such cooperation to offer it without delay under an accelerated program and even ventures to first ask the European Economic Community owing to the similarity between the Salvadoran legal system and that of several EEC countries.

B. Safeguarding Human Rights

This is an issue on which numerous accords were concluded during the peace negotiations; they include constitutional and legal reforms, as well as the deployment of a United Nations Verification Mission that was unprecedented in the organization's history. The Commission's first recommendation concerns strict compliance with the accords and the execution of the recommendations that ONUSAL formulated in relation to human rights.

In addition to everything that was set forth in this regard within the framework of the peace process, the Commission makes the following recommendations, fully aware that some of them can be carried out only under a future constitutional reform:

1. The Office of the Attorney for the Defense of Human Rights must be strengthened:

a. It would be beneficial for the attorney, with the support of ONUSAL and the participation of all sectors with an interest in the issue, both in and outside government, to assess the current status of the office and its most immediate priorities and needs, so as to secure the means to achieve its goals, including international cooperation.

Archbishop Romero Trust
El Salvador Human Rights

b. The presence of this office ought to be extended throughout the country, through departmental branches.

c. The office should make more frequent use of its powers to visit any site or facility in the country, especially in the case of detention centers.

2. Measures that make the amparo appeal and the habeas corpus petition truly operational must be taken. In this regard, the Commission recommends:

a. The jurisdiction to hear these appeals must be more broadly defined so that they are more accessible to the citizenry. All lower-court judges ought to have jurisdiction, within their territorial range, to hear amparo appeals or habeas corpus petitions, and in the case of the latter, jurisdiction could be extended to justices of the peace. The Supreme Court ought to be reserved as the last level of jurisdiction in such proceedings.

b. It must be expressly stipulated that the amparo appeal and the habeas corpus petition, as well as the rules of due process, cannot be suspended as guarantees under any circumstances, even in a state of emergency.

3. The constitutional status of human rights ought to be reaffirmed, even those rights that expressly appear not in the text of the constitution but in other instruments such as the human rights conventions that are binding on El Salvador.

4. The system of administrative detentions also warrants several modifications. This is an issue of primary importance, since it is a scenario in which the integrity of individuals can be violated or in which they may even disappear:

a. It must be stated specifically and restrictively which officials may order an administrative detention, which ones may execute it, and on what grounds.

b. The duration of administrative detention must be limited as much as possible.

c. The administrative authority must be stripped of jurisdiction to impose penalties that restrict liberty, which should be imposed only by the courts of justice pursuant to due process.

5. An expansion of the current system of information for detainees is recommended. The Office of the Attorney for the Defense of Human Rights should keep a central, updated list of all who have been detained for any reason, their whereabouts, and their legal status. The appropriate authorities must inform that office of an detention made and about the personnel involved in the arrest.

6. A future reform of penal legislation should give appropriate consideration to those crimes committed with the direct or indirect support of the State apparatus, whether by creating new categories of crime, by modifying existing ones, or by creating specific aggravating circumstances.

7. Legislation should be passed to give every individual who has been the victim of a human rights violation a simple, quick, and readily accessible remedy to secure material redress for the damages that have been caused him.

8. Certain decisions in the international arena should also be made to bolster the country's adherence to the universal and regional systems for safeguarding human rights. Within this framework, the recommendations are:

a. To ratify the following international instruments: the Optional Protocol to the International Pact of Civil and Political Rights, the Optional Protocol of the American Convention of Human Rights (San Salvador Protocol), Conventions 87 and 98 of the International Labor Organization, the Convention on the inapplicability of statutes of limitations to war crimes and crimes against humanity, the United Nations Convention on Torture and other cruel, inhuman, and degrading penalties and treatments, and the Inter-American Convention to prevent and punish torture.

b. To accept the obligatory jurisdiction of the Inter-American Human Rights Court, created by the American Convention on Human Rights, as all the other Central American republics have already done.

C. National Civilian Police

The Commission emphasizes how important the creation and operation of the National Civilian Police, pursuant to the model defined in the peace accords, have been for the protection of citizens and the prevention of human rights violations. Besides formulating a recommendation in this regard, the Commission feels that it must underscore an issue that has been closely linked to the impunity that has characterized the serious acts of violence described in this report: the issue of criminal investigations. We first recommend that the utmost effort be made to implement as soon as possible the mechanism for criminal investigations agreed on in the peace accords, a mechanism that entails the joint action of the National Civilian Police and the Office of the Attorney General of the Republic. This too is an area in which international technical and financial cooperation can make a substantial contribution. Second, the Commission recommends the dissolution of the Commission To Investigate Criminal Acts, whose omissions concealed serious violations of human rights during the period under investigation.

IV. Measures Towards National Reconciliation

The Geneva Accord of 4 April 1990, the framework of the negotiations and, therefore, of the peace accords, defined the goals of the process as guaranteeing unconditional respect for human rights, democratizing the country, reestablishing peace, achieving national reconciliation, and reunifying Salvadoran society. The latter two goals are complex and depend not only on the mechanism of a cease-fire but also on a process that unavoidably entails stages. Once again we are faced with inseparable objectives. There will be no reunification of the Salvadoran family outside a setting of national reconciliation, and national reconciliation will not be possible unless the people of El Salvador enjoy fraternal unity.

The point is to move from confrontation to a serene contemplation of all that has happened so that it can be banished from a future marked by a new relationship of solidarity, coexistence, and tolerance. Indispensable to achieving this is collective introspection about the events of recent years and an equally universal determination to eradicate this experience once and for all.

One unavoidable and bitter step is to note and acknowledge what happened, which must never again be repeated. The Commission was given the difficult assignment of clearing up certain significant incidents, and it hopes that it has carried out this assignment through this report. Truth does not suffice, however, to achieve the goal of national reconciliation and the reunification of the Salvadoran family. Forgiveness is indispensable. Not a formal pardon limited to forgoing sanctions or penalties, but forgiveness based on a universal determination to rectify past experiences and on the certainty that such a rectification will not be complete unless emphasis is placed more on the future than on a past that, regardless of the abominable acts it saw, cannot be undone.

Still, in order to achieve the goal of forgiveness, we must stop to consider certain consequences arising from a knowledge of the truth about the serious incidents that this report describes. One of them, perhaps the most difficult to address under circumstances in the country today, is to satisfy the requirements of justice. These requirements point in two directions. One is to punish the guilty parties. The other is to properly redress the victims and their relatives.

In the introduction to this section of the report the Commission has already referred to the insurmountable difficulties that it encountered in this regard; they stem from the glaring inadequacy of the judicial system, and a direct solution to them is beyond its powers.

Regarding this issue, the Commission can only add to what it has said that since normal, equitable trials for all of the accused could not be guaranteed, it is unfair to hold some of them in prison while others--coperpetrators and masterminds--remain at liberty. The Commission is not qualified to undo this situation, which can be resolved only through a pardon now that justice has been administered.

In spite of these circumstances, the Commission firmly hopes that a knowledge of the truth and the immediate application of the recommendations set forth above and stemming directly from the investigation will be a sufficient starting point towards national reconciliation and the longed for reunification of the Salvadoran family.

However, justice does not end with penalties; it also demands redress. The victims and, in most cases, their relatives are entitled to compensation for material losses and pain and suffering. This applies to the FMLN in the cases that are attributable to it. By the same token, it applies to the State in all instances in which the actions or omissions of government, or the means that it furnished, were among the causes of the violence that has been described or helped the guilty parties to go unpunished. The country's financial limitations and its needs in terms of national reconstruction cannot be ignored, however. Therefore, consideration should be given to complementary mechanisms such as those recommended below:

A. Material Damages

1. The recommendation is to establish a special fund as an autonomous entity with proper legal and administrative powers to pay appropriate material compensation to the victims of violence as soon as possible. The fund should take into account the particulars of the victims reported to the Truth Commission, which can be found in the annexes to this report.

2. The fund will receive an appropriate contribution from the State. Given the prevailing economic conditions, however, it should also receive substantial contributions from the international community. Therefore, without mitigating the obligations of the State and the FMLN, the Commission urgently appeals to the international community, especially to the wealthiest countries and to those that expressed the most interest in the conflict and its resolution, to establish a fund for this purpose. It also suggests that the UN Secretariat General promote and coordinate this initiative. It also recommends that no less than one percent of all international aid arriving in El Salvador be reserved for this purpose.

3. The fund could be managed by a three-person board, one person appointed by the Government of El Salvador, another by the UN secretary general, and the third by agreement of the first two.

4. The fund should have complete freedom to determine its principles of operation, as well as to proceed in accordance with the recommendations of the Commission, Salvadoran law, international law, and the general principles of law.

B. Pain and Suffering

The Commission recommends:

1. The building of a national monument in San Salvador with the names of all identified victims of the conflict.
2. Acknowledgment of the worthiness of the victims and of the serious crimes committed against them.
3. The establishment of a national holiday to commemorate the victims of the conflict and to reaffirm national reconciliation.

C. Forum of Truth and Reconciliation

The Commission feels that it would be useful if this report, its conclusions and recommendations, and progress towards the goal of national reconciliation were subjected to analysis not only by the Salvadoran people as a whole but also by a special body that would bring together the most representative segments of society, who would also monitor compliance with the recommendations so that they are strictly observed.

The Commission does not wish to indicate what a forum such as the one it is suggesting ought to look like. Nevertheless, the National Commission for the Consolidation of Peace (COPAZ) was created under the accords as a "mechanism by which civil society can monitor and take part in the process of changes arising from the negotiations." It seems proper, then, for the task that the Commission has mentioned to be assigned first to COPAZ. Nonetheless, given the magnitude and momentousness of the issues addressed in this report, the Commission takes the liberty of suggesting to COPAZ that for this purpose it seek to expand the scope of its makeup so that segments of civil society that are not directly represented on it can take part in the analysis.

Furthermore, COPAZ is also the body to which the accords assign the mission of preparing the first drafts of legislation concerning the peace process. In this field it has an important task to perform in carrying out the recommendations contained in this report that entail legal reforms.

D. International Follow-up

The work and mandate of the Commission have been part of an extraordinary process that is a landmark in the history of United Nations operations to maintain international peace and security. The tragedy that El Salvador experienced focused the attention of the world community on the country. Thus, the peace process that is now under way has also raised expectations throughout the world. The United Nations also has the mission of verifying all of the accords, including verification of compliance with the recommendations of the Truth Commission, which the parties pledged to respect.

The Commission asks the Independent Expert for El Salvador on the UN Human Rights Commission to assess compliance with the recommendations of the Truth Commission in the report that he must submit to the UN Commission pursuant to his mandate and to the degree that it authorizes him to do so.

VI. Epilogue: The Seekers of Peace

Expressed in the words of the Mayan song: Yes, all of this occurred among our people. Each of us had converted our personal truth into the general truth. In keeping with the prevailing Manichaeism, the banner of each party or group was raised to the status of sole banner. And each loyalty, whether to an individual or to a party, was deemed the sole loyalty. During that time, all Salvadorans, in one way or another, were so unfair with the other Salvadorans that the heroism of the ones was immediately transmuted into a curse upon the others. And we lived under the constraint of the conflict between East and West, shipwrecks floating aimlessly in a turbulent sea of crepuscular "ideologism" and planetary contradictions. The victims were citizens of many countries, but mainly they were Salvadorans. In one way or another, the responsibility is traceable to complex events in the history of El Salvador and to a peculiar set of circumstances in world history, so that it would be unjust to attribute it to this or that person in particular, or to this or that organization or party in the main.

With the return of sound judgment, every citizen again listened to the voice of historic loyalty to country. The Salvadoran nation looked itself squarely in the eye. It then discovered the high ground of its destiny that is written in the stars, as stated in the preamble of its Constitution. Many shining figures in time of war have shone as brightly in time of peace. Yesterday's refutations and rigid mind-sets stand in contrast with today's convergences and meetings of minds. The erstwhile combatants of all factions have embraced in sign of reunion. There is neither victory of the one nor surrender of the other, since all gain in the course of the Accords. As in classical painting, the torments of the struggle are being surmounted by the higher-mindedness that makes law the concerted constraint on the unleashing of freedoms and enshrining of madness.

The report of the Truth Commission embodies the events of the reiterated violence of those 12 years of war, in order that never again.

In accordance with the terms of reference of the Peace Accords, the Commission presents this substantiation of that painful recent history as an object lesson exemplifying the need for reconciliation. This is the spirit underlying the recommendations made in this report, delivered on 15 March 1993 to President of El Salvador Alfredo Cristiani; to former commanders of the Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front (FMLN) Shafick Handal, Salvador Samayoa, and Ana Guadalupe Martinez; and to the Secretary General of the United Nations Butrus Butrus-Ghali.

The collective ethic that pervades the Accords also underlies this report, as the Truth Commission's contribution to the rebuilding of El Salvador's institutional structures. But it is the Salvadoran people themselves who must hand down the fundamental decisions on which the fulfillment of the peace will ultimately depend. The Salvadoran society holds the power of decision over past responsibilities and new discontinuances of suit. The authority to pardon is in its hands. Also in the hands of that society, toughened by the painful apprenticeship to which it has been subjected by the war, is the power to pass judgment on new bids for investiture.

As sole recompense for the conscientious fulfillment of the commitment undertaken, the Members of the Truth Commission desire that this report contribute to the providing of answers to the anxious seekers of peace, the protagonists of the new history of El Salvador.

IV. Truth Commission

It has been agreed to create the Truth Commission, which shall consist of three persons to be designated by the Secretary General of the United Nations in consultation with the Parties. The Commission shall elect its president. The Commission shall preside over the investigation of serious acts of violence committed since 1980, whose impact on society imparts major urgency to the bringing of the truth to public knowledge. The Commission shall bear in mind:

a. The singular significance attributable to the acts to be investigated, their characteristics, and consequences, as well as the social disturbance they occasioned, and

b. The need to create confidence in the positive changes stemming from the peace process, and to add thrust to the movement toward national reconciliation.

The characteristics, functions, powers, and other questions relating to the Commission of Truth are addressed in the corresponding document annexed hereto.

Truth Commission

The Government of El Salvador and the Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front (hereinafter, "the Parties"),

Reiterating their intent to contribute to the reconciliation of the Salvadoran society;

Recognizing the need to clarify expeditiously those acts of violence of singular significance, whose characteristics and consequences, as well as the social disturbance they occasioned, impart major urgency to obtaining complete knowledge of the truth, and to strengthening the will and means to establish it;

Considering that, although the need to surmount impunity was addressed during the discussion of the topic "Armed Forces" on the agenda for negotiations approved in Caracas on 21 May 1990, the means of investigation that the Parties themselves have been willing to provide encompass situations whose complexity posits a need for separate treatment;

Concurring in the advisability of fulfilling this mission by way of a proceeding that is both trustworthy and expeditious, that can produce results within a short time, without prejudice to the obligations devolving upon the Salvadoran courts to resolve such cases and apply the corresponding penalties to those found liable;

Have arrived at the following political agreement:

1. The Truth Commission (hereinafter, "the Commission") is created. The Commission shall consist of three persons to be designated by the Secretary General of the United Nations, in consultation with the Parties. The Commission shall elect its president.

Functions

2. The Commission shall preside over the investigation of serious acts of violence committed since 1980, whose impact on society imparts major urgency to the bringing of the truth to public knowledge. The Commission shall bear in mind:

a. The singular significance attributable to the acts to be investigated, their characteristics, and consequences, as well as the social disturbance they occasioned, and

b. The need to create confidence in the positive changes stemming from the peace process, and to add thrust to the movement toward national reconciliation.

3. The mission of the Commission shall include the recommending of the legal, political, and administrative measures deducible from the results of the investigation. The said recommendations may include measures designed to prevent a repetition of such acts, as well as initiatives aimed at national reconciliation.

4. The Commission shall strive to reach its decisions through unanimity. However, should this not be possible, a vote by the majority of its members shall suffice.

5. The proceedings of the Commission are not jurisdictional.

6. Should the Commission determine that a case brought under its consideration does not possess the characteristics stipulated in paragraph 2 of this Accord, it may forward such case to the Attorney General of the Republic, if the Commission deems such action warranted, for processing via the judicial system.

Powers

7. The Commission is fully empowered to organize its work and its mode of operation. Its proceedings shall be conducted in a confidential manner.

8. For the purposes of the investigation, the Commission is empowered to:

a. Gather, by the means it deems appropriate, all information it considers pertinent. The Commission shall have full freedom to utilize the sources of information it may deem useful and dependable. It shall receive such information within the time and in the form it shall determine.

b. Interview, freely and privately, any persons, groups, and members of institutional entities.

c. Visit freely any establishment or place without prior notice.

d. Conduct any other proceeding or enquiry it may deem pertinent to the fulfillment of its mission, including the placing of requests on the Parties for reports, records, documents, or of any other information from authorities and services of the state.

Commitments Undertaken by the Parties

9. The Parties undertake to provide to the Commission all cooperation that the Commission may request of them concerning access to sources of information within their reach.

10. The Parties undertake to carry out the recommendations of the Commission.

Report

RELEASED

Special Project (1993)

11. The Commission shall submit a final report, with its conclusions and recommendations, within six months following the installation of the Commission.

12. The Commission shall forward its report to the Parties and to the Secretary General of the United Nations, who will publish it and implement the decisions and initiatives he may deem pertinent.

13. Submission of the report shall mark the termination of the Commission's mandate, at which point the Commission is dissolved.

14. The provisions of this Accord do not preclude the regular investigation of any situation or case, whether or not it has been investigated by the Commission, nor do they preclude the enforcement of the legal provisions pertinent to any act contrary to the law.

5. Surmounting Impunity

The need is recognized to clarify and surmount all claims to immunity by officials of the Armed Forces, especially in cases involving the violation of human rights. To this end, the Parties commit this point to deliberation and resolution by the Truth Commission. All without prejudice to the principle that the Parties also recognize that acts of this nature, regardless of the sector to which their authors pertain, must be the object of exemplary proceedings by the courts of justice, aimed at applying to those found guilty of them the penalties provided by the law.

numerous articles on international law. He graduated from Bethany College, West Virginia, obtained his J.D. from New York University and his LL.M. and S.J.D. in international law studies from Harvard Law School. He holds a degree of doctor honoris causa from Bethany College and the University of Heidelberg in Germany.

II. Advisers to Members of the Commission

Douglas W. Cassel Jr. is the executive director of the International Human Rights Institute of De Paul University, where he is also professor of International Law of Human Rights and directs the Jeanne and Joseph Sullivan Human Rights in the Americas Program. Professor Cassel was a lawyer in the United States Navy's Office of the Judge Advocate General (1973-1976), and later a lawyer (1976-1982) and general counsultant (1982-1992) with Business and Professional People for the Public Interest, a not-for-profit law center in the city of Chicago, that litigates and investigates in the civil rights and civil liberties areas, among others, of the law. Dr. Cassel travels regularly to Central America on matters involving human rights. In 1991 he was the American Bar Association's official observer in the trial, in El Salvador, of the military personnel charged with the assassination of two Jesuit priests and two women at the Central American University in 1989. He has published articles on international law relative to human rights in technical and other magazines. He received his B.A. in Economics from Yale University and, in 1972, his J.D. from Harward Law School where he was the editor of the Harward Civil Rights-Civil Liberties Law Review.

Guillermo Fernandez de Soto, Colombian citizen, 40 years old, married, three children. Lawyer and economist (Universidad Javeriana de Bogota; Georgetown University, Washington). Colombia's Deputy Minister of Foreign Affairs. Legal adviser to the OAS Inter-American Human Rights Commission (1979-1985). Consultant to the United Nations Development Program (1987). Head of the United Nations Technical Mission for Development of the Economic Cooperation Plan for Central America (1988). Executive Director of the International Studies Center's "Inter-American Forum" (1988-1990). Dean of the Faculty of International Studies of the Universidad Jorge Tadeo Lozano in Bogota. Secretary General of the New Democratic Force in Colombia. Author of several books on international policy.

Luis Herrera Marcano, Venezuelan citizen. Studied law at the Universidad Central de Venezuela, and graduated as Doctor of Laws. He has been an ambassador, and Director of the Venezuelan Foreign Affairs Ministry's Office of International Policy and Law. He was Director of the Law School, and Dean of Faculty of Political and Juridical Sciences. He is a member of the Inter-American Juridical Committee, and has been its president.

Robert E. Norris, U. S. citizen. Professor at Stephen F. Austin State University, and Chief Attorney of East Texas Legal Services. He received his Doctorate in Ibero-American Studies from the University of New Mexico and his J.D. from the University of Texas Law School in Austin. He was the Inter-American Human Rights Commission's Principal Human Rights Specialist, and worked in the United Nations Human Rights Center on the study of the rights of indigenous populations. He is coauthor of the textbook "The Protection of Human Rights In the Americas," and of a series of volumes titled "Human Rights: The Inter-American System." He was lecturer at the International Institute of Human Rights in Strasburg (1979-1990), and at the Inter-American Human Rights Institute (1990-1992).

Worked as coordinator of the Latin American Secretariat of Human Rights, Caracas, Venezuela (1978-1980).

Lauren Gilbert, U. S. citizen. Received a degree in Political Science (magna cum laude) from Harvard University, 1983. In 1988, she received her law degree (Juris Doctor, cum laude) from the University of Michigan. She worked as an associate in the law office of Arnold & Porter, Washington D.C. (1988-1991). In 1990, she received a Pro Bono Service Award from the International Human Rights Juridical Group for her work on the electoral process in Chile. She assisted the Venezuelan Government in its entry into the GATT (General Agreement on Customs Tariffs and Trade) and on an anti-dumping law. In 1991, she received a Fulbright scholarship to study the "Initiative of the Americas" in Costa Rica, and taught a course in Foreign Trade at the School of International Relations of the Universidad Nacional, in Heredia. In 1992, she worked with the subdirectorate of the Inter-American Institute of Human Rights on the peace process in El Salvador.

Juan Gabriel Gomez Albarello, born in Ibague, Colombia, in 1968. Completed his law studies at the Universidad Externado de Colombia in 1989. He was adviser to the Francisco Rojas Birry indigenous delegatory authority in the National Constituent Assembly, and investigator for the "Commission on the Surmounting of Violence." He won second prize in the Latin American essay contest on a critique of jurisprudence and alternative uses of law, organized by the Latin American Institute of Alternative Legal Services (ILSA) in 1989, and, in 1992, first prize in the essay contest on the new Colombian Constitution, organized by the Department of Public Law at the Universidad Externado de Colombia.

Javier Hernandez Valencia, born in Lima, Peru. Law degree from Pontificia Universidad Catolica del Peru. Was adviser in the Senate of Peru (1985-1990) and member of the Legislative Research Center of that Chamber (1992). He was a member of the Congressional Investigative Committee on the 1986 Lima prisoner massacres (1987); an adviser to the Ministry of Education (1990); and to the National Planning Institute for the Government Palace "Decision-Making System"--the SITOD Project (1991). As a researcher for the Instituto Politica Popular IDS in Lima since 1988, he has developed institutional reform plans for pacification in Peru, and has published various articles on this topic in Peru.

Sergio Hevia Larenas, born in Santiago de Chile. Degree in Juridical and Social Sciences from the Universidad de Chile Law School. He has completed specialized studies in criminology and forensic medicine. He was legal adviser and member of the staff of the Santiago de Chile Archbishop's See's Vicariate of Solidarity.

SUBJECT: FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF THE COMISION FEDERAL
- DE ELECTRICIDAD (CFE) REPORT ON 1986 AND FIRST
- SEMESTER 1987 OPERATIONS WITHIN HISTORICAL
- CONTEXT

1. SUMMARY: THE CFE CELEBRATES ITS FIFTIETH BIRTHDAY THIS YEAR. AS PART OF THE CELEBRATION THE CFE HAS BEEN UNCLASSIFIED

DISCUSSING WHERE IT HAS BEEN AND WHERE IT IS GOING IN THE NEXT 25 YEARS. THE GENERAL TREND IN RECENT YEARS HAS BEEN ONE OF INCREASING NUMBERS OF CONSUMERS AND A

DECREASING LEVEL OF CONSUMPTION PER USER. SINCE 1974, THE AGGREGATE LEVEL OF SALES AS MEASURED IN KILOWATT HOURS (KWH) HAS INCREASED AT AN IMPRESSIVE ANNUAL RATE OF 7.3 PERCENT. AT THE SAME TIME, CONSUMPTION PER USER FOR THE MARKET AS A WHOLE HAS DECLINED AT AN AVERAGE ANNUAL RATE OF 0.7 PERCENT. FOR THE FIRST HALF OF 1987, ELECTRICITY SALES INCREASED BY 3.5 PERCENT IN RELATION TO THE FIRST HALF OF 1986. THE CFE HAS PREDICTED THAT TO MEET DEMAND INTO THE FUTURE IT MUST DOUBLE ITS GENERATING CAPACITY BY THE YEAR 2000 AND MORE THAN TRIPLE IT BY THE YEAR 2010. THEIR ESTIMATES APPEAR TO BE MODIFIED LINEAR EXTRAPOLATIONS BASED ON AN AVERAGE ANNUAL RATE OF GROWTH OF ABOUT 5.5 PERCENT. WHILE THIS NUMBER CERTAINLY APPEARS REASONABLE GIVEN THE TREND OF THE LAST TWELVE YEARS, THE RATE MAY BE TOO HIGH GIVEN THAT THE VAST MAJORITY OF THE POPULATION NOW ENJOYS ACCESS TO ELECTRICITY (THUS INDICATING THAT THE RATE OF GROWTH IN THE NUMBER OF CONSUMERS WILL PROBABLY DECLINE) AND THAT THE DEMAND PER CONSUMER HAS BEEN DECLINING STEADILY OVER THE LAST TWELVE YEARS. END SUMMARY.

2. MEASUREMENTS METHODOLOGY: IN THE FOLLOWING ANALYSIS, THE DISCUSSION CENTERS ON CAPACITY AND VOLUME OF PRODUCTION IN THE CONTEXT OF ELECTRICITY PROVISION. IT IS IMPORTANT TO NOTE THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN CAPACITY AND VOLUME. CAPACITY REFERS TO THE MAXIMUM OBTAINABLE PRODUCTION LEVEL OF AN ELECTRIC GENERATOR AT ANY OR ALL MOMENTS IN TIME AND IS MEASURED HERE IN MEGAWATTS (MW). VOLUME REFERS TO THE AMOUNT OF ELECTRICITY ACTUALLY PRODUCED OR CONSUMED DURING A SPECIFIED PERIOD IN TIME, UNCLASSIFIED

AND IS MEASURED HERE IN KILOWATT HOURS (KWH). ONE THOUSAND WATTS EQUALS ONE KILOWATT, AND ONE THOUSAND KILOWATTS EQUAL ONE MEGAWATT.

3. HISTORY: THE CFE CELEBRATES ITS FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY THIS YEAR AS THE STATE AGENCY CHARGED WITH THE DEVELOPMENT AND IMPLEMENTATION OF NATIONAL ELECTRICITY POLICIES. THE CFE WAS CREATED IN 1937 BY PRESIDENT LAZARO CARDENAS, AND WAS GRANTED REGULATORY POWER OVER THE ELECTRICITY INDUSTRY BY DECREE IN 1938. THE 1938 DECREE GAVE THE CFE THE POWER TO REGULATE PRICES AND DISTRIBUTION STATING THAT THE ELECTRICITY INDUSTRY PROVIDES A BASIC PUBLIC NEED. IN 1960,

PRESIDENT LOPEZ MATEOS EFFECTIVELY BROUGHT THE ELECTRICITY INDUSTRY UNDER STATE CONTROL, THUS INCREASING THE ROLE OF THE CFE FROM A REGULATORY BODY TO A PRODUCTION AND DISTRIBUTION ORGAN. OVER THE LAST FIFTY YEARS, THE CFE HAS OVERSEEN THE VAST EXPANSION OF ELECTRICAL PRODUCTION CAPACITY IN MEXICO AS WELL AS GREATLY INCREASED DISTRIBUTION. MEXICO IS NOW THE 19TH LARGEST POWER GENERATOR IN THE WORLD. TODAY, 68 MILLION MEXICANS (86 PERCENT OF THE POPULATION) HAVE ACCESS TO ELECTRICITY. THIS IS DUE, IN PART, TO A FAIRLY AGGRESSIVE RURAL ELECTRIFICATION PROGRAM WHICH HAS BEEN PURSUED OVER THE LAST THIRTY-FIVE YEARS. SINCE ITS BEGINNING IN 1952, THE RURAL ELECTRIFICATION CAMPAIGN HAS BROUGHT ELECTRICITY TO 23.7 MILLION CAMPESINOS.

4. STRUCTURE: THE ELECTRICITY INDUSTRY IN MEXICO IS DOMINATED BY HYDROCARBON GENERATING FACILITIES AND HAD A CAPACITY OF 21,266 MEGAWATTS (MW) OF POWER AT THE END OF 1986. TABLE A SUMMARIZES THE SOURCES OF ELECTRICAL POWER GENERATION BY SOURCE AND CAPACITY. SINCE 1976 GENERATING CAPACITY HAS INCREASED 86 PERCENT. IN RECENT YEARS THE GOVERNMENT HAS PURSUED A POLICY OF DIVERSIFICATION IN THE SOURCES OF ELECTRICITY GENERATION. THIS HAS LED TO THE DEVELOPMENT OF NUMEROUS HYDRO, COAL, AND GEOTHERMAL PLANTS. IN EARLY 1988, THE MEXICAN GOVERNMENT WILL INAUGURATE THE OPERATION OF THE FIRST NUCLEAR POWERED GENERATING FACILITY WITH A PRODUCTION CAPACITY OF 658 MW. AT PRESENT, ALTERNATIVE POWER SOURCES ACCOUNT FOR 37.5 PERCENT OF THE ELECTRICITY GENERATED IN THE COUNTRY. BEFORE THE END OF THE CENTURY, THE CFE HOPES TO REDUCE THE DEPENDENCE ON HYDROCARBONS SOURCING TO LESS THAN HALF OF THE POWER GENERATED.

5. THE CFE CURRENTLY OPERATES 185 PLANTS THROUGHOUT MEXICO AND MEETS ALL OF THE NATION'S ELECTRICITY NEEDS. ADDITIONALLY, IT EXPORTS ELECTRIC POWER TO THE SOUTHWESTERN UNITED STATES. RECENTLY, THERE HAVE BEEN NUMEROUS ESTIMATES FLOATING AROUND AS TO WHAT WILL BE THE CAPACITY GENERATING NEEDS OF MEXICO INTO THE FUTURE. ESTIMATES HAVE GONE AS HIGH AS FOUR TIMES THE PRESENT CAPACITY, OR SOME 80,000 MW, BY THE YEAR 2000. ESTIMATES OF THIS MAGNITUDE APPEAR TO BE EXAGGERATED GIVEN THE RECENT TRENDS IN ELECTRICITY CONSUMPTION. IN AN "UNOMASUNO" SUPPLEMENT ON THE CFE'S FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY (PAID FOR BY CFE), THE ESTIMATED YEAR 2000 REQUIRED PRODUCTION CAPACITY IS 46,000 MW, WHICH IS TWICE THE CURRENT LEVEL.

6. DURING 1986, THE CFE COVERED ONLY 53 PERCENT OF ITS COSTS OF PRODUCING AND DISTRIBUTING ELECTRICITY. THE REMAINING 47 PERCENT OF THE COSTS WERE COVERED BY TRANSFERS FROM THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT. WHILE THE PRICE OF ELECTRICITY HAS BEEN INCREASING DURING THE CURRENT SEXENIO, IT HAS NOT BEEN INCREASING AT AN ADEQUATE RATE TO COVER THE RISE IN PRODUCTION COSTS. THE ELECTRICITY DISTRIBUTED IN MEXICO IS HIGHLY SUBSIDIZED.

7. 1986 CFE OPERATING PERFORMANCE REGISTERED A 4.7 PERCENT INCREASE IN GROSS GENERATION OVER 1985 AND AMOUNTED TO 89,383,000,000 KWH. SALES INCREASED BY 5.2 PERCENT OVER 1985 AMOUNTING TO 74,289,000,000 KWH. THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN GROSS GENERATION AND SALES, APPROXIMATELY 17 PERCENT OF GROSS GENERATION, REPRESENTS TRANSMISSION AND DISTRIBUTION LOSSES, CFE ELECTRICITY CONSUMPTION FOR ITS OWN OPERATIONS, AND ILLEGAL CONSUMPTION OF ELECTRICITY.

8. THE ELECTRICITY RATE SCHEDULE IS VERY COMPLICATED AND DESIGNED TO ENHANCE SOCIAL POLICY GOALS OUTSIDE OF THE DIRECT PORTFOLIO OF THE CFE. FOR RESIDENTIAL SERVICE THERE ARE TWO RATES: 1 AND 1A. RATE 1 CUSTOMERS AVERAGED 86 KWH OF CONSUMPTION PER MONTH AND RATE 1A CUSTOMERS AVERAGED 147 KWH OF CONSUMPTION PER MONTH. RESIDENTIAL CUSTOMERS ACCOUNTED FOR 87.5 PERCE NT OF THE
TOTAL NUMBER OF CUSTOMERS IN 1986, BUT ONLY ACCOUNTED FOR 20.3 PERCENT OF TOTAL SALES. AS IN PREVIOUS YEARS, THE AVERAGE LEVEL OF RESIDENTIAL CONSUMPTION WAS APPROXIMATELY ONE TENTH OF THE US AVERAGE.

9. COMMERCIAL CUSTOMERS, 11.2 PERCENT OF THE TOTAL, NUMBERED 1.5 MILLION ON AVERAGE DURING 1986, REPRESENTING A 2.9 PERCENT INCREASE OVER 1985. AS A

GROUP, COMMERCIAL CUSTOMERS CONSUMPTION INCREASED BY 0.8

ARE THE SMALL BUSINESSMEN WHO CONSUME 25 KWH PER MONTH. THIS GROUP NUMBERED 1.42 MILLION AND CONSUMED 6.8 PERCENT OF ALL THE ELECTRICITY. RATE 3 CUSTOMERS ARE THOSE WHICH CONSUME MORE THAN 25 KWH PER MONTH. THERE WERE AN AVERAGE OF 16,775 RATE 3 CUSTOMERS DURING 1986 WHICH CONSUMED 2.3 PERCENT OF ALL THE ELECTRICITY SOLD BY THE CFE. RATE 4 APPLIES TO CORN MILLERS AND TORTILLA PRODUCERS, WHICH NUMBER 50,102. THIS GROUP AVERAGED 489 KWH PER MONTH REPRESENTING A 1.6 PERCENT INCREASE OVER 1985.

10. 51,112 (0.4 PERCENT OF CFE CUSTOMERS) PUBLIC ENTITIES, COVERED UNDER RATES 5 AND 6, ACCOUNTED FOR 5.8 PERCENT OF CFE SALES DURING 1986. THE 4,315,000,000 KWH CONSUMED BY PUBLIC ENTITIES REPRESENTED A 7.1 PERCENT INCREASE FOR RATE 5 AND A 4.9 PERCENT INCREASE FOR RATE 6.

11. INDUSTRIAL SALES COVERED BY RATES 8 AND 12 AMOUNTED TO 55.1 PERCENT OF TOTAL CFE SALES FOR THE YEAR, WHEREAS INDUSTRIAL CUSTOMERS ACCOUNTED FOR ONLY 0.3 PERCENT OF ALL CONSUMERS. RATE 8 USERS ARE COMPOSED OF 45,000 SMALL AND MEDIUM SIZED INDUSTRIES, HOTELS, AND LARGE COMMERCIAL CENTERS WHICH CONSUMED AN AVERAGE OF 42,079 KWH OF ELECTRICITY PER MONTH REPRESENTING A 5.3 PERCENT DECLINE FROM 1985. THE 224 USERS COVERED BY RATE 12 (UP 22 FROM 1985) CONSUMED A MONTHLY AVERAGE OF 6,753,258 KWH PER MONTH WHICH REPRESENTS A DECLINE OF 4.8 PERCENT FROM THE PREVIOUS YEAR.

12. THE CFE MAINTAINS A SPECIAL RATE CATEGORY (RATE 9) FOR ELECTRICITY CONSUMED BY IRRIGATION EQUIPMENT AND AGRICULTURAL WATER PUMPS. EACH OF THE 60,267 USERS

14. SINCE 1974 THE ELECTRICITY MARKET HAS WITNESSED A INCREASE IN THE NUMBER OF CONSUMERS AND A GENERAL DECREASE IN THE LEVEL OF CONSUMPTION PER USER. THIS IS CLEARLY EVIDENCED IN THE CASE OF INDUSTRIAL CONSUMPTION

WHICH INCREASED AT AN ANNUAL RATE OF 7.3 PERCENT OVER THE LAST TWELVE YEARS WHILE CONSUMPTION PER USER DECLINED AT AN AVERAGE ANNUAL RATE OF -0.6 PERCENT.

15. THE NUMBER OF CONSUMERS HAS INCREASED SUBSTANTIALLY OVER THE PERIOD, WHICH HAS ENABLED CFE TO EXPAND ITS SALES OF ELECTRICITY AT AN ANNUAL AVERAGE RATE OF 7.3 PERCENT. THE MEXICAN GOVERNMENT IN MAKING ITS PROJECTIONS FOR THE FUTURE SEEMS TO BE EXTRAPOLATING THIS VERY HIGH RATE OF GROWTH. CFE HAS PROJECTED THAT THE COUNTRY WILL NEED 46,000 MW OF GENERATING CAPACITY BY THE YEAR 2000 AND 77,000 MW OF CAPACITY BY THE YEAR 2010. BOTH ESTIMATES ASSUME THAT THE AVERAGE ANNUAL RATE OF GROWTH IN DEMAND WILL BE APPROXIMATELY 5.5

PERCENT. THIS ASSUMPTION MAY NOT BE REALISTIC GIVEN THAT THE TREND IN RECENT YEARS HAS BEEN TOWARD FALLING DEMAND AT THE INDIVIDUAL CONSUMER LEVEL AND THAT THE GOVERNMENT HAS ALREADY EXTENDED DISTRIBUTION TO 86 PERCENT OF THE POPULATION.

16. PERFORMANCE DURING FIRST HALF OF 1987: ELECTRICITY SALES FOR THE FIRST HALF OF THIS YEAR WERE UP 3.5 PERCENT OVER THE SAME PERIOD IN 1986. CFE OFFICIALS HAVE STATED THEY BELIEVE THAT THIS RATE OF GROWTH INDICATES THAT THE NATIONAL ECONOMY IS RECOVERING, THOUGH, IN FACT, THIS IS A SLOWER RATE OF GROWTH THAN THE CFE RECORDED IN 1986 WHEN THE ECONOMY CONTRACTED BY 4.0 PERCENT.

17. RODRIGUEZ ALCAINE, LEADER OF THE ELECTRICITY WORKERS UNION, RECENTLY ASSERTED THAT THE CFE IS ONE OF THE MOST EFFICIENT ENTITIES OF ITS TYPE IN THE WORLD, HOWEVER, DURING THE FIRST HALF OF 1987, OPERATING COSTS HAD EATEN UP 64 PERCENT OF THE 320 BILLION PESOS THAT THE CENTRAL GOVERNMENT HAD BUDGETED FOR TRANSFERS TO CFE. THE PRINCIPAL CULPRIT CITED IS INFLATION. ACTUALLY, THE FAULT RESTS WITH THE FACT THAT THE CFE'S RATES HAVE BEEN DECLINING IN REAL TERMS BECAUSE THEY HAVE NOT BEEN ALLOWED TO INCREASE AS FAST AS INFLATION. THE GOVERNMENT NOW EXPECTS THE TRANSFERS TO THE CFE FOR 1987 TO AMOUNT TO BETWEEN 500 AND 600 BILLION PESOS.

18. COMMENT: THE CFE IS A HIGHLY SUBSIDIZED PARASTATAL

ENTERPRISE WHICH HAS MADE A POSITIVE CONTRIBUTION TO THE WELL-BEING OF MEXICAN SOCIETY. THE CFE HAS BEEN PROMOTING ITSEL
F ACTIVELY THIS YEAR PUBLICIZING ITS ACCOMPLISHMENTS AND ITS AMBITIONS FOR THE FUTURE. THE SUBSIDIES (APPROXIMATELY HALF THE OPERATING BUDGET) ARE NECESSARY DUE TO THE FACT THAT THE COST OF PROVIDING THE

1. CONFIDENTIAL - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: IN A WIDE-RANGING TOUR D'HORIZON WITH ELLIOTT ABRAMS, CANADIAN AMBASSADOR ALLAN GOTLIEB REQUESTED THE U.S. ASSESSMENT OF THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PEACE PLAN, THE SITUATION IN HAITI, THE EXPANDING HORIZONS OF THE RIO GROUP, AND RECENT ELECTORAL RESULTS IN ARGENTINA. ABRAMS EXPRESSED OUR BASIC SKEPTICISM ABOUT THE SANDINISTAS' INTENTIONS TOWARD THE PEACE PLAN AND SAID WE WERE OPTIMISTIC ABOUT THE SITUATIONS IN HAITI AND ARGENTINA BUT TOOK A DIM VIEW OF MEXICAN EFFORTS TO INSTITUTIONALIZE THE RIO GROUP.

END SUMMARY

3. ARA ASSISTANT SECRETARY ABRAMS ON SEPTEMBER 18 RECEIVED CANADIAN AMBASSADOR ALLAN GOTLIEB AT THE LATTER'S REQUEST TO DISCUSS THE CURRENT SITUATION IN LATIN AMERICA. GOTLIEB WAS ACCOMPANIED BY RICHARD SAINT-MARTIN, ABRAMS BY OFFICERS FROM EUR/CAN AND ARA/CEN.

PEACE PLAN

4. GOTLIEB REQUESTED THE U.S. VIEW OF HOW THE ARIAS PLAN WOULD UNFOLD IN THE COMING WEEKS. ABRAMS REPLIED THERE WOULD PROBABLY NOT BE A VOTE ON AID TO THE RESISTANCE UNTIL AFTER NOV.7 SINCE THE CONTINUING RESOLUTION WAS LIKELY TO INCLUDE ENOUGH FUNDING THE KEEP THE RESISTANCE FED AND CLOTHED. THE TWO FUNDAMENTAL ISSUES FLOWING FROM THE GUATEMALA ACCORD ARE CEASE-FIRE AND DEMOCRATIZATION. WE DO NOT EXPECT THE SANDINISTAS TO COMPLY WITH THE DEMOCRATIZATION REQUIREMENTS; THEY WILL MAKE ENOUGH COSMETIC CHANGES TO SATISFY SOME OUTSIDE OBSERVERS. WE WILL BE WATCHING FOR AND POINTING OUT THOSE COSMETIC MEASURES AND HAVE ASKED OTHERS TO DO SO AS WELL. ON THE CEASE-FIRE, IT IS QUITE CLEAR THAT THE AGREEMENT CALLS FOR

8. ABRAMS SAID WE WOULD BE MAKING A DECISION SOON ON THE WORLD BANK LOAN FOR CHILE. WE BELIEVE PINOCHET INTENDS TO USE IT AS A WAR CHEST TO PUMP UP THE ECONOMY DURING HIS CAMPAIGN FOR THE PRESIDENCY. WE WILL CERTAINLY NOT VOTE IN FAVOR OF THE LOAN; THE ISSUE IS WHETHER TO ABSTAIN OR VOTE NO, OR PERHAPS TRY TO POSTPONE THE LOAN.

Q. MY INTRODUCTORY QUESTION IS RELATED TO YOUR ASSOCIATION WITH OUR REGION FOR SUCH A LONG TIME. POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC CONDITIONS IN THE NEAR EAST AND SOUTH ASIA AS YOU SEE THEM.
A. I KNEW YOU WOULD ASK THE TOUGHEST QUESTION. IT IS A VERY BROAD REGION AND THE ECONOMICS AND POLITICS OF IT ARE VERY BROAD. IF I COULD FOCUS JUST ON SOUTHWEST ASIA, AS WE CALL IT, A COUPLE OF INITIAL THOUGHTS: THE REGION IS OF GREAT IMPORTANCE TO THE UNITED STATES AND IS GROWING IN IMPORTANCE FOR SEVERAL REASONS. ONE IS THAT BECAUSE OF THE ISSUES THAT PEOPLE ALWAYS THINK

ABOUT IN THE UNITED STATES, NAMELY OIL AND THE PERSIAN GULF, OUR INTEREST IN ENSURING THE FREE FLOW OF OIL AND IN THE SECURITY OF THE REGION IS VERY HIGH. ANOTHER ISSUE OF GREAT IMPORTANCE TO US, OF COURSE, IS AFGHANISTAN, AND HELPING PAKISTAN HELP THE PEOPLE OF AFGHANISTAN IN THEIR STRUGGLE. THIRD, AND THIS IS ONE WE DON'T FOCUS ON OFTEN ENOUGH IN THE STATES, IS THE IMPORTANCE OF PAKISTAN TO THE UNITED STATES BECAUSE OF ITS GEOGRAPHICAL LOCATION. PAKISTAN IS WHERE IT IS. IT CAN'T MOVE, AND WHEN YOU LOOK AT THE FACT THAT IT'S AT THE MOUTH OF THE GULF AND TO THE NORTH IT HAS GOT THE SOVIET UNION, TO THE EAST IS INDIA -- IT'S A VERY VOLATILE REGION. PAKISTAN FOR THE LAST FORTY YEARS HAS BEEN, IN MY VIEW, A SOURCE OF STABILITY AND THE SIMILARITIES AND THE AFFINITIES BETWEEN PAKISTAN AND THE UNITED STATES ARE DEEP. TO ME IT IS THEREFORE IMPORTANT TO KEEP THIS RELATIONSHIP VERY CLOSE. I THINK SOME IN AMERICA AND SOME IN PAKISTAN THINK THAT THE ONLY REASON FOR THE RELATIONSHIP IS AFGHANISTAN. I THINK THAT'S WRONG. WE THINK WE HAD A CLOSE RELATIONSHIP BEFORE AFGHANISTAN. WE HAD UPS AND DOWNS, BUT BASICALLY WE HAD A CLOSE RELATIONSHIP AND I'M CONVINCED IT'S GOING TO CONTINUE ONCE WE GET THE SOVIETS OUT OF AFGHANISTAN. ON THE ECONOMIC SIDE, ONE THING I MIGHT POINT OUT WHICH I UNCLASSIFIED

DON'T THINK IS APPRECIATED HERE IN PAKISTAN IS THE VIEW IN THE UNITED STATES ABOUT HOW WELL PAKISTAN IS DOING ECONOMICALLY. LOOK AT THE GROWTH RATES. IN PAKISTAN, FOR THE PAST FORTY YEARS, EXCEPT FOR ABOUT THE LAST FOUR YEARS OF BHUTTO, PAKISTAN HAS HAD A REAL GROWTH RATE OF FIVE, SIX, SEVEN PERCENT EACH YEAR -- THE HIGHEST IN THE REGION BY FAR. WE HAVE TO THINK THAT ONE REASON FOR THIS IS THE ENTREPRENEURIAL SPIRIT IN PAKISTAN AND BECAUSE PAKISTANIS ARE VERY GOOD BUSINESSMEN, BECAUSE THEY KNOW HOW TO MANAGE THEIR ECONOMY. IT'S SOMETHING I DON'T THINK IS APPRECIATED ENOUGH IN THE UNITED STATES OR PAKISTAN. PAKISTAN HAS PROBLEMS ECONOMICALLY, JUST AS WE DO, BUT GENERALLY, RELATIVE TO OTHER COUNTRIES HERE, PAKISTAN IS DOING VERY WELL.

Q. WHY WERE WE FORGOTTEN FOR A COUPLE OF YEARS, YOU KNOW, OUR FRIENDSHIP AND ASSOCIATION WITH THE UNITED STATES AND (INAUDIBLE) THE UNDERSTANDING HERE WAS THAT WE WERE A FORGOTTEN PEOPLE AS FAR AS THE UNITED STATES WAS CONCERNED?

A. I WAS THINKING "WHAT WOULD I LIKE TO ACHIEVE AFTER THREE YEARS IN PAKISTAN?" AND MY ANSWER GETS AT YOUR QUESTION. I WOULD LIKE TO SEE OUR RELATIONSHIP NO LONGER BE LIKE A ROLLER COASTER. WE HAVE TIMES WHEN THINGS ARE MARVELOUS AND WE HAVE TIMES WHEN THINGS ARE TERRIBLE AND IT'S ALWAYS GOING UP AND DOWN. WHAT WE'D LIKE TO SEE IS SOME STABILITY AND THAT WE BOTH HAVE AN APPRECIATION FOR ONE ANOTHER. CANDIDLY, I THINK ONE PROBLEM HAS BEEN THAT OUR EXPECTATIONS OF EACH OTHER ARE ALWAYS VERY HIGH BECAUSE AMERICANS AND PAKISTANIS AS PEOPLE ARE VERY MUCH ALIKE -- VERY FRANK, OPEN, CANDID, AND FRIENDLY -- AND SO OUR EXPECTATIONS ARE VERY HIGH. WHEN THE UNITED STATES DOES SOMETHING THAT CAUSES PAKISTAN TO FEEL LET DOWN, OR VICE VERSA, OUR REACTION IS ALWAYS VERY NEGATIVE. "HOW COULD YOU DO THIS TO A FRIEND?" IT'S ALMOST AS IF WE EXPECT TOO MUCH OF ONE ANOTHER. WE NEED A LITTLE MORE REALISM IN THE RELATIONSHIP. BY THAT I MEAN THAT THERE ARE GOING TO BE SOME TIMES WHEN OUR INTERESTS ARE DIFFERENT THAN THOSE

OF PAKISTAN AND WHEN THOSE OF PAKISTAN ARE GOING TO BE DIFFERENT THAN OURS. WHEN THAT HAPPENS THE BEST THING TO DO IS TO SAY THAT WE WILL AGREE TO DISAGREE. BUT WHAT HAS HAPPENED IN THE PAST IS, YOU'RE RIGHT, PEOPLE HAVE SEEN IT AS MAJOR SPLITS BETWEEN US, AND IT HAS BEEN A PROBLEM. I DON'T KNOW HOW YOU OVERCOME THAT. IT'S A DIFFICULT PROBLEM.

Q. MR. AMBASSADOR, YOU WERE HERE IN THE EARLY SIXTIES AND AGAIN IN THE LATE SEVENTIES. HOW DO YOU SEE THINGS IN PAKISTAN NOW COMPARED TO THEN?
A. I HAD A COUPLE OF VERY STRONG IMPRESSIONS WHEN I CAME BACK THIS TIME COMPARED TO THE LAST TWO TIMES. FIRST -- AND THESE MIGHT SEEM STRANGE TO YOU, BUT IT'S BECAUSE I WAS AWAY FOR PERIODS OF TEN YEARS -- IS THE EXTRAORDINARY GROWTH OF THE COUNTRY ECONOMICALLY. FOR SOMEONE WHO WAS FIRST HERE IN THE SIXTIES TO SEE IT NOW -- AND TO SEE THE RANGE OF GOODS AVAILABLE, TO SEE THE WAY PEOPLE ARE DRESSED AND THE WAY PEOPLE ARE FED -- THE COUNTRY HAS DONE VERY WELL ECONOMICALLY LOOKING OVER TWENTY YEARS. SECOND, NOW, COMPARED WITH EITHER OF THOSE TWO TIMES, I WAS STRUCK BY HOW OPEN THE PRESS IS, AND BY CRITICISM OF THE GOVERNMENT AND OF THE UNITED STATES. THERE'S MUCH MORE FERMENT GOING ON, AND POLITICALLY AS WELL. SOME PAKISTANIS MIGHT SAY THEY DON'T THINK THERE IS ENOUGH, BUT IF YOU ASK ME TO COMPARE IT WITH THE PAST, I'VE NOTICED MUCH MORE OF THAT. THE THIRD THING THAT STRUCK ME IS WHAT HAS HAPPENED TO CITIES LIKE KARACHI AND PESHAWAR IN TERMS OF THE INCREDIBLE GROWTH. I MEAN, KARACHI IS NOW ALMOST LIKE MEXICO CITY. IT'S GETTING OUT OF CONTROL AND YOU WONDER ABOUT SERVICES FOR THE PEOPLE, YOU WONDER ABOUT QUALITY OF LIFE. THE SAME THING IN A WAY IS HAPPENING

IN PESHAWAR BECAUSE OF THE AFGHANS. THE GOOD THING IS THAT IT'S A SIGN OF PROSPERITY, THE PEOPLE ARE COMING TO THE CITY TO FIND WORK. BUT IT REALLY MAKES YOU WONDER. I THINK BACK TO 1965 WHEN I ARRIVED HERE. YOU COULD DRIVE FROM THE AIRPORT ON DRIGH ROAD ALL THE WAY DOWN TO THE NAVAL BASE AND THERE WAS NOTHING THERE. PECHS WAS A SMALL COLONY AND THERE WAS NO DEFENSE (HOUSING SOCIETY). YOU JUST WONDER HOW THE CITY IS GOING TO COPE WITH THIS KIND OF INCREDIBLE GROWTH.

Q. I MEAN POLITICALLY.

A. POLITICALLY, I WOULD GET BACK TO MY POINT ABOUT POLITICAL FERMENT. I THINK THERE'S A LOT MORE GOING ON

HERE THAN THERE WAS IN 1965 IN TERMS OF EXPRESSION AND ACTIVITY AND A LOT MORE GOING ON THAN THERE WAS IN 1978 IN TERMS OF EXPRESSION AND ACTIVITY. ONE OF THE PROBLEMS IN THE UNITED STATES IS THAT THE CHANGES HERE IN THE LAST TWO YEARS HAPPENED PEACEFULLY. IF THERE HAD BEEN A REVOLUTION, EVERYONE IN THE UNITED STATES WOULD HAVE SAID, "WELL, THERE HAS BEEN A MAJOR CHANGE." BUT WHEN MARTIAL LAW WAS LIFTED, WHEN YOU HAD THE ELECTIONS IN 1985, WHEN YOU HAD THE PARLIAMENT AND YOU HAD THE PRIME MINISTER CHOSEN AND YOU HAD BASIC RIGHTS RESTORED, AL
L OF THAT WAS DONE QUIETLY AND PEACEFULLY, AND I DON'T THINK PEOPLE IN THE STATES APPRECIATE THE CHANGES THAT HAVE HAPPENED. ONCE AGAIN, SOME PAKISTANIS WOULD SAY THERE SHOULD BE MORE, BUT THE FACT IS THAT THE COUNTRY HAS MADE A LOT OF PROGRESS DOWN THE ROAD TOWARD DEMOCRACY, AND IT'S SOMETHING THAT IS NOT APPRECIATED ENOUGH IN OUR COUNTRY.

Q. LET'S TURN TO PAISTAN-U.S. RELATIONS. THE QUESTION, MR. AMBASSADOR, IS THAT PAKISTAN'S PEACEFUL NUCLEAR PROGRAM HAS BEEN UNDERWAY SINCE 1974. CAN YOU UNCLASSIFIED

OFFER ANY PLAUSIBLE EXPLANATION FOR THE FACTORS WHICH FORCED THE CONGRESS AT THIS STAGE TO PROPOSE SUSPENSION OF ECONOMIC AID TO PAKISTAN? WHY I SAY AID IS BECAUSE THAT IS THE MOST IMPORTANT FACTOR IN PAKISTAN-U.S. RELATIONS.

A. A COUPLE OF THOUGHTS. FIRST, I'LL NEVER ASK YOU TO GIVE PLAUSIBLE REASONS WHY THE NATIONAL ASSEMBLY DOES WHAT IT DOES IF YOU DON'T ASK ME TO GIVE PLAUSIBLE REASONS FOR CONGRESS| ONE USEFUL THING TO KEEP IN MIND IS THAT CONGRESS HAS NOT PASSED THIS BILL. AS YOU KNOW, ONE COMMITTEE IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES HAS DONE IT. THE PRESIDENT HAS SPOKEN OUT AGAINST IT... THE PRESIDENT IS VERY FIRM THAT HE DOESN'T WANT THIS SUSPENSION AND THE ADMINISTRATION IS GOING TO FIGHT IT. IT STILL HAS A LONG WAY TO GO BEFORE IT BECOMES LAW. THE FULL HOUSE HAS TO VOTE AND THEN THE FULL CONGRESS AS TO VOTE. I DON'T NOW WHAT'S GOING TO HAPPEN BUT I THINK WE HAVE A REASONABLE CHANCE OF GETTING IT OUT, OF GETTING IT TAEN OUT OF THE LAW. WHEN THE HOUSE TOOK THIS ACTION, YOU READ HEADLINES IN THE PAPER "AID SUSPENSION", BUT WE'RE A LONG WAY FROM THERE YET. ANOTHER THING TO KEEP IN MIND IS THAT THERE WERE SOME IN THIS COMMITTEE WHO WANTED TO DO THIS, BUT TO ME WHAT'S IMPORTANT IS WHAT THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES WANTS TO DO. WHERE IS THE ADMINISTRATION AND ON THAT IT IS VERY CLEAR.

Q. DO YOU THINK THAT THE FEELING OF THE CONGRESS, AT LEAST IN THE LOBBY OF CONGRESS, WAS THAT THE PRESSURE WAS THERE AND THE ADMINISTRATION WOULD BE ABLE TO OVERCOME IT?

UNCLASSIFIED

A. THAT'S OUR HOPE AND, AS YOU KNOW, THAT'S WHAT WE'VE DONE SO FAR. DURING THE SEVEN YEARS THAT MR. REAGAN HAS BEEN PRESIDENT WE'VE HAD A GOOD PROGRAM AND VERY GOOD COOPERATION. THERE HAS BEEN A LOT OF PRESSURE FROM SOME IN CONGRESS TO CUT BACK ON THE PROGRAM, BUT, YOU KNOW, HE IS A VERY STRONG PRESIDENT AND VERY EFFECTIVE AND VERY POPULAR AND OUR HOPE IS THAT HE WILL CONTINUE TO PREVAIL.

Q. MR. AMBASSADOR, THERE IS A STRONG IMPRESSION THIS 105 DAY SUSPENSION OF U.S. ECONOMIC ASSISTANCE HAS LED TO A CRISIS OF TRUST AND CONFIDENCE BETWEEN ISLAMABAD AND WASHINGTON.

A. I DON'T THINK THAT'S FAIR. I THINK THAT, FOR EXAMPLE, IT'S INTERESTING TO LOOK AT WHAT THE PRESIDENT AND THE PRIME MINISTER SAID ABOUT THEIR MEETING. WHEN YOU READ WHAT THEY SAID THEY WERE VERY POSITIVE THINGS. THERE WAS CERTAINLY NO CRISIS IN CONFIDENCE. THE PROBLEM IS, AND IT HAS BEEN THE SAME PROBLEM SINCE 1974, THAT THERE ARE SOME PEOPLE WHO FEEL VERY STRONGLY ABOUT THE NON-PROLIFERATION ISSUE AND THEY KEEP THE PRESSURE ON TO MAKE THIS A LARGER ELEMENT IN THE RELATIONSHIP. THE ADMINISTRATION FEELS STRONGLY ABOUT NON-PROLIFERATION AS WELL, BUT WE THINK THAT WHAT CONGRESS IS RECOMMENDING IS NOT THE WAY TO GO ON THIS ISSUE. BUT I DON'T THINK, IF YOU TALK ABOUT THE LEADERSHIPS OF THE TWO COUNTRIES, I DON'T THINK THERE'S A CRISIS BETWEEN THE LEADERSHIPS. I THINK THAT THERE ARE OTHERS THAT DON'T WANT TO SEE THE RELATIONSHIP AS GOOD AS IT IS, BUT AT THE TOP, I DON'T THINK THERE'S A CRISIS.

Q. LET ME COME BACK TO THE NUCLEAR PART. YOUR PREDECESSOR WAS HERE. WE INTERVIEWED HIM AND HE WAS POSITIVE THAT THE U.S. ANALYSTS ARE POSITIVE THAT PAKISTAN IS PRODUCING A NUCLEAR DEVICE.

A. WHO SAID THIS, I'M SORRY?

Q. MR. DEANE R. HINTON. HE SAID TO "JANG" THAT WE HAVE POSITIVE INFORMATION THAT PAKISTAN IS PRODUCING SOMETHING WHICH HAS COMPELLED US TO REVIEW THE WHOLE SITUATION. DO YOU AS AMBASSADOR OF THE UNITED STATES FEEL THE SAME?

A. EVERY YEAR PRESIDENT REAGAN HAS TO CERTIFY TO CONGRESS THAT PAKISTAN DOES NOT POSSESS A NUCLEAR DEVICE. HE CERTIFIED THAT LAST OCTOBER AND HE HAS GOT TO CERTIFY IT AGAIN THIS OCTOBER. MY OWN VIEW IS THAT HE IS GOING TO BE ABLE TO CERTIFY AGAIN THAT PAKISTAN DOES NOT HAVE A NUCLEAR DEVICE. I THINK THAT WHAT AMBASSADOR HINTON WAS TALKING ABOUT WAS THAT PAKISTAN DOES HAVE A NUCLEAR PROGRAM, AND IT'S A FAIRLY EXTENSIVE AND ACTIVE PROGRAM. THE CONCERN IS OVER HOW TO DIFFERENTIATE. ONCE YOU HAVE A CAPABILITY TO HAVE A VERY ACTIVE AND FULL AND COMPLETE PEACEFUL PROGRAM, THEN OBVIOUSLY YOU HAVE OTHER CAPABILITIES AS WELL. YOU CAN USE IT EITHER WAY. I KNOW (##) ABOUT. PAKISTAN DOES HAVE A CAPABILITY AND IT IS INCREASING THAT CAPABILITY, AND IT, LIKE ALL CAPABILITIES, CAN BE USED IN SEVERAL WAYS.

Q. BUT HOW COME THE UNITED STATES IS MORE WORRIED ABOUT PAKISTAN THAN INDIA?

UNCLASSIFIED

A. I THINK THAT WE ARE WORRIED ABOUT INDIA. IF YOU ASK ME, OR IF YOU ASK THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES, IN FACT, "QAT IS THE WAY TO SOLVE THE NUCLEAR PROBLEM IN SOUTH ASIA", YOU'RE GOING TO GET THE SAME ANSWER, WHICH

IS THAT IT HAS TO BE A REGIONAL SOLUTION. YOU CAN'T EXPECT PAKISTAN UNILATERALLY TO SOLVE THE PROBLEM. BUT, LIKEWISE, YOU CAN'T EXPECT INDIA UNILATERALLY TO SOLVE THE PROBLEM. THE PROBLEM HAS TO BE SOLVED BY BOTH COUNTRIES -- TOGETHER -- IN A REGIONAL SOLUTION. I DON'T KNOW WHETHER YOU SAW ABOUT THREE MONTHS AGO THAT THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE PASSED A RESOLUTION ON THE SOUTH ASIA NUCLEAR ISSUE IN WHICH THEY CALLED FOR AN AGREEMENT BETWEEN INDIA AND PAKISTAN TO SOLVE THE ISSUE, WHICH, OF COURSE, IS PAKISTAN'S POSITION. THE ADMINISTRATION'S POSITION AS WELL -- THAT HAS TO BE THE SOLUTION. WHERE WE DIFFER IS UNTIL THAT CAN BE DONE, UNTIL YOU CAN GET A REGIONAL SOLUTION, OUR VIEW IS THAT PAKISTAN SHOULD BE WILLING TO PUT ITS OWN PROGRAM UNDER SAFEGAURDS.

Q. UNILATERALLY?

A. UNILATERALLY. THAT'S WHERE THE TWO COUNTRIES DISAGREE, BECAUSE PAKISTAN TAKES THE POSITION THAT IF INDIA DOES IT, PAKISTAN WILL DO IT, BUT PAKISTAN POLITICALLY CAN'T DO IT UNILATERALLY. THAT'S WHERE WE DISAGREE ON THE PROGRAM.

Q. MR. AMBASSADOR, E PAKISTANIS FEEL A LOT OF PRESSURE FOR THE SIGNING OF THE NON-PROLIFERATION TREATY. LOOKING AT INDIA'S SIZE, ITS VARIOUS NUCLEAR PLANTS, ITS CAPABILITY TO MAKE THINGS, AS WAS ALREADY SEEN IN 1974, DON'T YOU THINK IT WOULD BE WISE TO PUT SIMILAR PRESSURE ON INDIA TO SIGN THE TREATY. AS OUR FOREIGN MINISTER OFFERED THE OTHER DAY, WE ARE WILLING TO DO IT IF INDIA

AGEEES, IF WE CAN DO IT BOTH AT THE SAME TIME. WE FEEL IN PAKISTAN THAT AMERICANS ARE NOT PUTTING ENOUGH PRESSURE ON INDIA.

A. I DON'T KNOW IF THAT'S FAIR. EVERY TIME WE TALK TO THE INDIANS, WHEN MR. ARMACOST WAS HERE, FOR EXAMPLE, HE WAS IN DELHI FIRST, AND HE ONCE AGAIN MADE THE POINT STRONGLY TO THE INDIANS THAT WE THINK THEY SHOULD SIGN THE NPT AS WELL. NOW, WE GET THE SAME ANSWER IN NEW DELHI THAT WE GET IN ISLAMABAD ON UNILATERALLY SIGNING THE NPT. THE INDIANS SAY THEY HAVE THEIR REASONS NOT TO DO IT. BUT IT'S A POINT THAT WE CONTINUE TO MAKE IN NEW DELHI WITHOUT ANY SUCCESS.

Q. BUT WE HAVE MADE IT CLEAR THAT WE ARE WILLING TO SIGN AT THE SAME TIME AS INDIA.
A. RIGHT.

Q. THE PRESSURE IS MUCH MORE ON PAKISTAN THAN ON INDIA.

A. I THINK THAT'S THE PERCEPTION BECAUSE OUR RELATIONSHIP IS MUCH CLOSER. WE DON'T HAVE A FOUR BILLION AID PROGRAM WITH INDIA. NEXT YEAR OUR ASSISTANCE TO INDIA -- NONE OF IT MILITARY BECAUSE, BY LAW, DUE TO INDIA'S NUCLEAR PROGRAM WE CAN'T GIVE IT MILITARY AID -- THE ONLY COUNTRY THAT HAS AN EXCEPTION IS PAKISTAN -- NEXT YEAR WE ARE GOING TO HAVE A 15 MILLION DOLLAR AID PROGRAM WITH INDIA, MOST OF IT PL-480. WHEN YOU COMPARE A 15 MILLION DOLLAR PROGRAM TO A 750 MILLION DOLLAR PROGRAM, THEN OBVIOUSLY WE ARE A LOT CLOSER TO PAKISTAN THAN WE ARE TO INDIA.

Q. BUT DON'T YOU THINK, MR. RAPHEL, THAT NOT ALL OF UNCLASSIFIED

THIS AID IS BECAUSE PAKISTAN IS DEARER TO YOU?

A. OH SURE, EXACTLY. EVERY COUNTRY ACTS IN ITS OWN NATIONAL INTEREST.

Q. THAT HAS LED YOU TO COME TO OUR AID. BUT INDIA IS GETTING IT FROM THE SOVIET UNION. THEY HAVE A THIRTY YEAR PROGRAM. BUT E IN PAKISTAN ARE BEING PRESSURIZED ON ISSUES WHICH, ON THE OTHER SIDE, YOU ARE NOT TAKING AS SERIOUSLY AS WITH US.

A. I THINK WE'RE TAKING THEM AS SERIOUSLY, BUT THE QUESTI ON IS WHAT MORE COULD WE DO WITH INDIA. WE CAN KEEP TALKING TO THEM, WHICH WILL DO WHATEVER GOOD THAT

Q. MR. AMBASSADOR, WHEN, AS YOU SAID JUST NOW, THERE IS NO CRISIS OF CONFIDENCE BETWEEN TWO COUNTRIES, I THINK YOU CAN TRUST US IF WE SAY OUR PROGRAM IS ESSENTIALLY PEACEFUL. INDIA HAS PROVED THAT THEIR PROGRAM HAS NEVER BEEN PEACEFUL. THEY DID IT IN 1974 AND WE BELIEVE THAT THEY ARE STILL GOING AHEAD WITH IT.

A. AS I SAY, IT'S NOT A QUESTION OF US QUESTIONING PAKISTAN'S STATEMENTS ABOUT PEACEFUL PROGRAMS. EVERY YEAR PRESIDENT REAGAN CERTIFIES THAT PAKISTAN DOES NOT HAVE A NUCLEAR DEVICE AND WE BELIEVE THAT. IT'S JUST THAT OUR POLICY, NOT JUST IN PAKISTAN BUT GLOBALLY, IS THAT EVERY COUNTRY SHOULD SIGN THE NPT. 122 COUNTRIES HAVE AND WE COOPERATE FULLY WITH ANY COUNTRY THAT SIGNS IN TERMS OF SELLING THEM REACTORS AT CUT PRICES. NOW, IF PAKISTAN DECIDES THAT IT'S NOT IN ITS NATIONAL INTEREST TO SIGN THE NPT, THEN WE'LL DISAGREE ABOUT IT.

Q. SIMILARLY, SOUTH AFRICA?

A. WELL, OUR AID TO SOUTH AFRICA IS NON-EXISTENT. I GUESS IT GETS BACK TO WHAT I ORIGINALLY SAID, THE IDEA OF HAVING SUCH HIGH EXPECTATIONS OF EACH OTHER. I WOULD HOPE THAT IF WE DISAGEEE ON THE NON-PROLIFERATION ISSUE, THEN WE SHOULD DISAGREE. BUT IT SHOULDN'T BECOME AN ISSUE OF HIGH EMOTION ON BOTH SIDES. IT'S POSSIBLE FOR US TO DISAGREE.

Q. BUT MR. RAPHEL, THERE IS ANOTHER DIMENSION TO THIS QUESTION OF BEING SO VERY SENTIMENTAL ABOUT IT AND THAT IS WHEN YOU SAY THAT THERE IS NO CRISIS IN CONFIDENCE BETWEEN THE TWO GOVERNMENTS, BUT THERE IS A DEFINITE PUBLIC OPINION IN THE UNITED STATES, THAT INCLUDES THE MEDIA, AS WELL AS YOUR CONGRESSMEN WHO HAVE VIEWS DIFFERENT FROM THOSE OF THE ADMINISTRATION. IN THE CASE OF INDIA IT IS NOT SO. THERE IS NOT SO MUCH PUBLICITY FOR CASES LIKE ARSHAD PERVEZ AND ALL THAT. WHY IS IT SO

A. ONE REASON IS THAT, AS YOU SAID, WE ARE MUCH CLOSER TO PAKISTAN. PAKISTAN IS A MORE VISIBLE COUNTRY IN THE UNITED STATES THAN INDIA IS NOW. PART OF IT IS BECAUSE OF AFGHANISTAN. PART OF IT IS BECAUSE THE PRIME MINISTER OR PRESIDENT GOES EVERY YEAR NOW, SO THERE IS A LOT MORE PRESS ATTENTION. SECOND, IF SOME SECTIONS OF THE MEDIA AND SOME SECTIONS OF CONGRESS ARE CRITICAL OF PAKISTAN, MY ATTITUDE IS THAT SOMETIMES THE NATIONAL ASSEMBLY HERE SAYS THINGS ABOUT THE UNITED STATES THAT AREN'T TOO NICE AND SOMETIMES YOU READ THEM IN THE NEWSPAPERS, BUT THAT'S WHAT THE SYSTEM IS ALL ABOUT. WHAT'S IMPORTANT IS HOW DO THE TWO GOVERNMENTS -- LEADERSHIPS -- FEEL ABOUT EACH OTHER. THAT'S WHAT IS REALLY KEY. I'VE NEVER GONE TO THE PRIME MINISTER AND SAID THAT HE'S RESPONSIBLE FOR WHAT "NAWA-I-WAQT" OR "JANG" WRITES ABOUT AMERICA AND THEY DON'T COME TO US AND SAY THAT WE'RE RESPONSIBLE FOR WHAT "THE NEW YORK TIMES" WRITES ABOUT PAKISTAN. IT'S JUST PART OF THE PRICE THAT WE PAY.

Q. SIR, LET ME ASK YOU A QUESTION ABOUT THE ARSHAD PERVEZ CASE. NO CONCLUSIVE EVIDENCE HAS BEEN BROUGHT FORWARD WHICH COULD PROVE PAKISTAN'S INVOLVEMENT IN THE UNCLASSIFIED

ARSHAD PERVEZ CASE. THERE IS ALSO AN IMPRESSION THAT HE IS A TARGET MAN FOR PROHIBITING PAKISTAN ON THE NUCLEAR ISSUE. THE SUSPENSION OF AID SHOULD HAVE COME AFTER COMPLETE EVIDENCE HAD BEEN BROUGHT AGAINST PAKISTAN. WHY IS THERE SO MUCH HUE AND CRY ABOUT THE ARSHAD PERVEZ CASE? (INAUDIBLE) WHY ARE WE BEING CONVICTED BEFORE ARSHAD PERVEZ HAS BEEN CONVICTED?

A. IT'S A VERY GOOD QUESTION, BUT THE WAY YOU PUT YOUR

QUESTION WAS EXACTLY THE WAY THE AMERICAN ADMINISTRATION PUTS IT. AND THAT'S WHAT WE'VE SAID TO CONGRESS. THE TRIAL HASN'T EVEN STARTED. HOW CAN YOU FIND SOMEONE GUILTY OR A COUNTRY GUILTY BEFORE THE TRIAL HAS STARTED. SO THERE IS NO DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE ADMINISTRATION'S POSITION AND THE WAY YOU JUST SAID IT. I DON'T THINK PERSONALLY -- I DON'T KNOW WHETHER THE GOVERNMENT OF PAKISTAN WOULD AGREE -- THAT THERE IS MUCH DIFFERENCE AT ALL BETWEEN WHAT THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT IS SAYING AND WHAT THE GOVERNMENT OF PAKISTAN IS SAYING. WE BOTH AGREE THAT ARSHAD PERVEZ WAS DOING THIS. WE ARE NOT CERTAIN OF THE REASONS WHY, BUT HE WAS ENGAGED IN THIS ACTIVITY. WE BOTH AGREE THAT THERE WAS A CONNECTION BACK TO BRIGADIER INAM-UL-HUQ OF LAHORE, THAT THERE IS SOME CONNECTION THERE. WHAT WE DON'T KNOW IS WHY HE WAS DOING IT. WE DON'T KNOW WHO ELSE WAS INVOLVED AND THAT'S HOPEFULLY WHAT WILL COME OUT OF THE TRIAL. THE GOVERNMENT OF PAKISTAN SAYS IT ALSO IS GOING TO INVESTIGATE. SO THERE REALLY ISN'T, SO FAR AS I CAN SEE, GOVERNMENT-TO-GOVERNMENT DISAGREEMENT ON WHAT HAS HAPPENED OR WHAT HAS TO BE DONE. WHERE WE HAVE MAJOR DISAGREEMENTS IS IN THE AMERICAN MEDIA AND, IF I CAN SAY SO, IN THE PAKISTANI MEDIA AS WELL. IN MY VIEW -- I SHOULDN'T SAY THIS TO JOURNALISTS -- ALTHOUGH I THOUGHT THE GOVERNMENT-TO-GOVERNMENT DISCUSSIONS ON ARSHAD PERVEZ WERE VERY CONSTRUCTIVE, THE PRESS IN THE UNITED STATES AND THE PRESS IN PAKISTAN REALLY INFLAMED THE UNCLASSIFIED BUILDING A BOMB"; HEADLINES IN PAKISTAN SAID: "AMERICA ACCUSES PAKISTAN OF BUILDING A BOMB." THEY WERE WRITING ABOUT EACH OTHER'S HEADLINES. IT HAS BECOME A REAL MAJOR ISSUE. BECAUSE THE PRESS WRITES ABOUT IT THE PUBLIC PERCEPTION IS THAT PAKISTAN IS BUILDING A BOMB, AND IT HAS GOTTEN BLOWN WAY OUT OF PROPORTION. AS I TOLD YOU, I DON'T THINK THE GOVERNMENTS REALLY DISAGREE ON THE ISSUE. PARDON ME FOR BEING SO FRANK.

Q. YOUR PRESS WAS ALWAYS FREE AND IN THIS PRESENT PERIOD WE ARE RELAXED, SO WE ARE ALSO BEHAVING THE SAME WAY.

UNCLASSIFIED

A. THAT'S RIGHT.

Q. NOW I COME TO ANOTHER QUESTION, MR. RAPHEL. IN THE GLOBAL ECONOMIC ENVIRONMENT, AND IN VIEW OF THE UNITED STATES' GREAT DEFICIT, WOULD IT NOT BE ADVISABLE FOR WASHINGTON, IN ITS ENLIGHTENED SELF-INTEREST, TO DERIVE POLITICAL STRENGTHS FROM U.S. ECONOMIC PROGRAMS IN DEVELOPING COUNTRIES?

UNCLASSIFIED

A. IN WHICH WAY? FOR EXAMPLE?

Q. FOR EXAMPLE, THE ECONOMIC PROGRAMS ARE NORMALLY TIED TO, AS YOU SAID, SOME SORT OF SELF-INTEREST OR GLOBAL INTERESTS. BUT IF THEY ARE TIED WITH POLITICAL INTERESTS, LIKE IN PAKISTAN'S CASE THE NUCLEAR PROGRAM, AFGHANISTAN, AND ALL THAT (INAUDIBLE)

A. I THINK WHAT THE UNITED STATES DOES IS REALLY DO BOTH. WHEN YOU LOOK AT THE AMOUNT OF MULTILATERAL AID TO PAKISTAN, SUCH AS THE WORLD BANK, IMF LOANS TO PAKISTAN, ASIA DEVELOPMENT BANK LOANS, THE IMF SOFT LOAN WINDOW, ABOUT 40 PERCENT OF THAT MONEY, WHICH IS NOT TIED IN ANY WAY -- IT'S JUST A LOAN WITHOUT ANY POLITICAL TIES -- 40 PERCENT OF THAT MONEY COMES FROM THE UNITED STATES IN TERMS OF OUR CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE MULTILATERAL AGENCIES. SO, IN A WAY, A LARGE PROPORTION OF ASSISTANCE TO PAKISTAN WHICH ORIGINATES IN THE UNITED STATES IS WITHOUT ANY TIES AT ALL. AS FOR THE REGULAR ASSISTANCE PROGRAM, THERE ARE VERY FEW TIES IN THE LEGISLATION. I THINK THE ONLY REAL ONE IS THAT REGARDING ANY DEVELOPMENTAL ASSISTANCE MONEY, WHICH IS NOW ABOUT 85 PERCENT GRANT, PRODUCTS WHICH ARE USED MUST BE BOUGHT IN THE UNITED STATES. FOR THAT THERE IS, FROM OUR VIEWPOINT, A SENSIBLE ECONOMIC REASON. OTHER THAN THAT THERE ARE NUCLEAR PROVISIONS, BUT WE KEEP WAIVING THEM. THE ADMINISTRATION KEEPS GIVING WAIVERS TO PAKISTAN. SO THERE REALLY IS NO OTHER POLITICAL TIE UNLESS YOU WANT TO ARGUE THAT IF IT WEREN'T FOR AFGHANISTAN WE WOULDN'T HAVE THE SAME SIZE AID PROGRAM THAT WE NOW HAVE. AND THAT I DON'T KNOW; IF WE EVER GET THE SOVIETS OUT, WE'LL SEE WHAT HAPPENS.

Q. MR. AMBASSADOR, IN THE CASE OF PAKISTAN, AS YOU YOURSELF COMMENTED, THE RELATIONSHIP, AND OF COURSE THAT INCLUDES THE AID, HAS BEEN GOING UP AND DOWN DURING THE PERIOD. AFGHANISTAN HAS COME ONLY IN 1979 BUT BEFORE THAT WE HAD THESE AID PROBLEMS AND OTHER PROBLEMS IN THE RELATIONSHIP. THERE IS ALSO A SORT OF POLITICAL STRING ATTACHED TO IT, ISN'T THERE?

A. I THINK THE HOPE NOW, AND THIS MIGHT BE NAIVE, IS TO SEE THE RELATIONSHIP CONTINUE AS LONG AS PAKISTAN USES THE PROGRAM WELL. THAT SHOU LD BE THE PRIMARY
DETERMINANT. THE PRIMARY DETERMINANT IS: DOES PAKISTAN HAVE THE SAME OBJECTIVE WE DO, WHICH IS NOT TO HAVE A PROGRAM ANY LONGER, IN OTHER WORDS, TO BECOME SO SELF-SUFFICIENT THAT IT DOESN'T NEED FOREIGN ASSISTANCE? A NUMBER OF PAKISTANIS HAVE SAID TO ME, AND I THINK THEY ARE ABSOLUTELY RIGHT, THAT PAKISTAN DOESN'T WANT MORE MONEY FROM AMERICA. IT WANTS TO FIND A WAY, WITH AMERICA'S HELP, NOT TO NEED MONEY. THAT'S THE EVENTUAL GOAL OF OUR PROGRAM. UNTIL THAT DAY, THE BEST WORLD, THE IDEAL WORLD, WILL BE THAT, REGARDLESS OF WHAT HAPPENS POLITICALLY, AS LONG AS PAKISTAN USES THE FUNDS WELL, WE WILL CONTINUE TO HAVE A PROGRAM.

A. I DON'T THINK A.I.D. HAS TAKEN OVER IMPLEMENTATION OF ANY PROJECTS IN PAKISTAN. WHAT A.I.D. DOES FOR THE GOVERNMENT OF PAKISTAN IS THAT, FOR EXAMPLE, THEY WILL HAVE A DISCUSSION ABOUT A HEALTH PROJECT. THE GOVERNMENT OF PAKISTAN WILL COME IN AND SAY "THIS IS WHAT WE WANT TO DO." A.I.D. WILL SAY "THAT PART MAKES SENSE TO US, THAT PART DOESN'T; HAVE YOU THOUGHT ABOUT DOING IT THIS WAY?" THEN THERE'S A NEGOTIATION. ONCE THERE IS AGREEMENT, A.I.D. WILL GIVE A CHECK, BASICALLY, TO THE MINISTRY OF HEALTH OF THE GOVERNMENT OF PAKISTAN AND THEY WILL IMPLEMENT THE PROJECT WITH TECHNICAL ADVICE FROM A.I.D. BUT YOU DON'T HAVE A.I.D. RUNNING GOVERNMENT OF PAKISTAN PROJECTS. THEY ARE BASICALLY RUN BY THE MINISTRIES, BUT THERE IS A LOT OF CONSULTATION ON THE BEST WAY TO RUN THE PROJECT.

Q. LIKE SOME ROAD BUILDING AND COMMUNICATION IN BALUCHISTAN?

A. BUT THOSE ARE DONE BY THE (INTERRUPTED)

Q. NO, FOR EXAMPLE, I'LL TELL YOU. THERE ARE SOME PROJECTS WHERE THERE ARE CONDITIONS FOR THIS OR THAT PARTICULAR ITEM. THESE ARE THE THINGS WHICH ARE DIRECT INTERFERENCE INTO THE ECONOMIC SYSTEM OF THE COUNTRY. AS FOR THE FEASIBILITY OF A CERTAIN PROJECT, THEY SHOULD DO IT. BUT IF YOU PUT THOSE CONDITIONS WHERE IT CONCERNS ONLY THE PROJECT AND THE PEOPLE WHO NEED THE PROJECT, THEN IT BECOMES INTERFERENCE.

A. IT'S HARD TO THINK OF ANY FOREIGN ASSISTANCE PROGRAM WHICH DOESN'T WORK THAT WAY. FOR EXAMPLE, ALL THE IMF MONEY IN PAKISTAN, WHICH IS A LOT OF MONEY -- 600 OR 700 MILLION DOLLARS PER YEAR. AS YOU KNOW, THE IMF WILL

UNCLASSIFIED

SAY, "WE'LL GIVE YOU 200 MILLION DOLLARS FOR THE AGRICULTURAL SECTOR, BUT IF YOU DON'T MAKE THESE CHANGES IT'S NOT GOING TO HELP BECAUSE IT'S GOING TO CONTINUE TO GET WORSE. THESE ARE THE CHANGES THAT SHOULD BE MADE IN ORDER TO IMPROVE THE SECTOR." THERE'S NO REASON FOR THE IMF TO PUT ANY MONEY INTO IT IF IT'S NOT GOING TO MAKE ANY PERMANENT, POSITIVE CHANGES. FOR OUR CONGRESS, AS WELL AS FOR THE AMERICAN PEOPLE, WE HAVE TO BE ABLE TO SAY, "WE'RE NOT JUST GIVING AWAY 200 MILLION DOLLARS, BUT PAKISTAN IS MAKING CHANGES SO THAT WE WON'T HAVE TO DO THIS ANYMORE." THAT'S WHY YOU HAVE THOSE KIND OF CONDITIONS.

Q. (INAUDIBLE)

A. WE DON'T IMPLEMENT PROJECTS OURSELVES.

Q. YOU ARE NOT TAKING ANY PROJECTS INTO YOUR HANDS?

A. ALL THE PROJECTS ARE BEING DONE BY THE GOVERNMENT OF
UNCLASSIFIED

PAKISTAN AND WE COOPERATE WITH THEM. FOR EXAMPLE, THE ROAD BUILDING IN BALUCHISTAN IS DONE BY THE MINISTRY.

Q. ON YOUR CONDITIONS?

A. WE DO ATTACH SOME CONDITIONS AS TO HOW THE MONEY IS GOING TO BE SPENT.

Q. AND ABOUT THE SPECIFICATIONS, NO?

A. LIKE THE ROAD SPECIFICATIONS?

Q. THE SPECIFICATIONS OF ANY PROJECT. YOU DON'T INTERFERE IN THOSE AREAS?

A. NO, WE DO. FOR EXAMPLE, IF WE ARE GOING TO HAVE A CONTRACT TO BUILD A ROAD IN BALUCHISTAN AND THE MINISTRY OF ROADS IS GOING TO GIVE THIS CONTRACT TO SALIM AND SONS, FOR EXAMPLE, WE WILL SAY, "WHERE IS THE ROAD GOING? DOES IT MAKE SENSE TO HAVE A ROAD THERE?" THEN WE'LL NEGOTIATE THAT WITH THE GOVERNMENT OF PAKISTAN. TEN, SHOULD IT BE A KUCHA ROAD OR SHOULD IT BE A PUCCA ROAD? THAT WOULD BE A NEGOTIATION BETWEEN OURSELVES AND THE GOVERNMENT OF PAKISTAN.
Q. EXCUSE MY INTERRUPTION. IS THERE ANY CONNECTION BETWEEN CENTCOM OBJECTIVES AND YOUR AID?

Q. MR. RAPHEL, PAKISTAN IS PAYING A HEAVY PRICE FOR ITS AFGHANISTAN POLICY. THE SUSPENSION OF ECONOMIC ASSISTANCE AT A TIME WHEN PAKISTAN IS FACING GRAVE ECONOMIC PROBLEMS RAISES THE QUESTION OF THE LIABILITY OF THE UNITED STATES AS A FRIEND OF PAKISTAN. WOULD THE EMERGING SITUATION LEAD TO IRREPARABLE DAMAGE TO U.S.-PAKISTAN RELATIONS?

A. I DON'T THINK SO. I AM CONFIDENT THAT IT WON'T BECAUSE, AS I MENTIONED EARLIER, AS FAR AS THE PRESIDENT AND THE ADMINISTRATION ARE CONCERNED THERE WON'T BE AN AID SUSPENSION. WE ARE OPPOSED TO AN AID SUSPENSION AND WE'LL JUST HAVE TO WORK TO DO OUR BEST TO ENSURE THAT DOESN'T HAPPEN.

Q. MR. AMBASSADOR, SHIFTING FROM PAKISTAN AND AFGHANISTAN, SINCE WE WERE TALKING ABOUT THE REGION, REGARDING THE LATEST RECONCILIATION IN SRI LANKA, THERE IS A COMMON FEELING THAT THE INDIAN EFFORTS TO REACH THAT RECONCILIATION HAD THE APPROVAL OF THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT. THIS HAS GIVEN RISE TO A STRONG IMPRESSION THAT IN THE SOUTH ASIAN COUNTRIES, INCLUDING PAKISTAN, INDIA HAS BEEN ASSIGNED BY THE U.S. SOME TYPE OF A BIG BROTHER ROLE IN THE REGION. HOW WOULD YOU COMMENT?

A. FIRST, WE HAD NO ADVANCE NOTICE OF THE AGREEMENT BETWEEN RAJIV AND JAYAWARDENE. WE DIDN'T KNOW ABOUT IT UNTIL WE READ ABOUT IT IN THE PAPERS. SECOND, I FEEL VERY STRONGLY THAT EVERY COUNTRY IN SOUTH ASIA HAS A RIGHT TO ITS NATIONAL INTERGITY AND TO ITS SOVEREIGNTY

AND THAT THERE SHOULDN'T BE ANY BIG BROTHER IN SOUTH ASIA. THAT HAS EEN A VERY FIRM AMERICAN POLICY. WE ALL KNOW THAT THE REALITY IS -- AND PAKISTAN RECOGNIZES TOO -- THAT INDIA IS THE LARGEST COUNTRY IN THE REGION,

BUT THAT DOESN'T MEAN THAT INDIA SHOULD BE A HEGEMONIC POWER. WE CERTAINLY DON'T SUPPORT THAT AND IT'S NOT OUR POLICY.

Q. IN CONTINUATION OF THIS QUESTION, WE ALL KNOW THAT ETHNIC CONFLICTS ARE UNIVERSAL. IT IS CHARGED HERE, AS WELL AS BY FOREIGN EXPERTS, THAT INDIA SUSTAINED THE TAMIL ETHNIC CRISIS IN SRI LANKA IN ORDER TO HAVE A CAUSE TO INTERVENE. SIMILARLY, INDIA CAN FOMENT ETHNIC CRISES IN OTHER NEIGHBORING COUNTRIES IN ORDER TO ACQUIRE A DOMINANT ROLE. WHAT HAPPENS TO THE SOVEREIGN STATUS OF SMALLER STATES IN THE REGION, ESPECIALLY IN A COUNTRY LIKE PAKISTAN? WE CAN ALWAYS EXPECT INDIA TO DO THE SAME HERE AS THEY HAVE DONE IN SRI LANKA.

A. ONE VERY GOOD THING ABOUT BEING AMERICAN AMBASSADOR TO PAKISTAN IS THAT YOU DON'T HAVE TO COMMENT ON INDIAN POLICY. TO REPEAT THE POINT THAT I MADE EARLIER, AMERICAN POLICY ON RELATIONSHIPS IN SOUTH ASIA IS VERY, VERY CLEAR. AMERICA HAS NEVER BEEN IN FAVOR OF, AND HAS BEEN OPPOSED TO, ANY COUNTRY HAVING HEGEMONIC CONTROL OVER SOUTH ASIA AND DOMINATING THE REGION. THAT HAS BEEN A CONSISTENT POLICY.

ONE OF THE CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEES HAS ASSIGNED A NATIONAL RECONCILIATION

TO SOLVE THE ETHNIC PROBLEM IN SRI LANKA.

A. I DOUBT THAT'S TRUE. THE COMMITTEE CERTAINLY WASN'T SPEAKING FOR THE ADMINISTRATION.

Q. "DAWN" CARRIED A STATEMENT ON AUGUST 24.

A. I WAS NOT AWARE OF THAT, BUT CERTAINLY THE ADMINISTRATION ISN'T TAKING THE POSITION THAT INDIA SHOULD TAKE IT UPON ITSELF TO SOLVE THESE PROBLEMS. SPECIFICALLY, ON THE SRI LANKAN ACCORD, OUR VIEW HAS BEEN THAT WHAT WAS GOING ON IN SRI LANKA WAS TERRIBLE. IN TERMS OF THC CARNAE AND ETHNIC FIQHTINQ, IT WAS AWFUL FOR THE ISLAND. IF THERE CAN BE A WAY TO STOP THE ETHNIC FIGHTING WHICH ALLOWS SRI LANKA TO MAINTAIN ITS INTEGRITY AND SOVEREIGNTY, THAT'S THE ANSWER THAT WE ALL WANT TO SEE. Q. LET US SAY, AS AN ASSUMPTION, IF INDIA DOES THE SAME THING IN PAKISTAN, WHAT WOULD BE THE STAND AND ROLE OF THE UNITED STATES IN THAT SITUATION?

A. ONE THING THAT WE BOTH BELIEVE IS THAT NEITHER INDIA NOR PAKISTAN HAS THE INTENTION OF MOVING INTO THE OTHER COUNTRY, OF TRYING TO OVERTHROW A GOVERNMENT. WE DON'T THINK EITHER COUNTRY WANTS TO DO THAT. THE SECOND THING THAT I HAVE LEARNED IN 22 YEARS OF DIPLOMACY IS TO NEVER GUESS WHAT IS GOING TO HAPPEN IN THE FUTURE.

Q. SO, WE WILL LEAVE IT FOR THE TIME BEING THAT YOU ARE NOT GOING TO COMMENT ON THAT. IT IS SAID THAT THE AFGHANISTAN PROBLEM IS THE OUTCOME OF SUPERPOWER RIVALRY AND THAT THE AMERICANS ARE FIGHTING THE CHEAPEST WAR AGAINST THE RUSSIANS IN THAT COUNTRY. A. FIRST, I THINK IT'S WRONG TO SAY THAT AFGHANISTAN IS THE FUNCTION OF GREAT POWER RIVALRY. I THINK THAT WHAT HAS HAPPENED IN AFGHANISTAN IS A FUNCTION OF THE FACT THAT THE SOVIET UNION INVADED, HAS 115,000 TROOPS THERE, AND WON'T GET THEM OUT. THE EASIEST QUICK SOLUTION TO AFGHANISTAN IS FOR THE SOVIETS TO GO HOME. I PROMISE WE

WON'T STOP THEM. WE DON'T HAVE BARRICADES SET UP AT THE BORDERS SAYING YOU CAN'T GO BACK. IF THEY WANT TO GOBACK THAT WOULD BE MARVELOUS. FOR PEOPLE WHO CLAIM THAT WE JUST WANT TO BLEED THE SOVIET UNION, I ALWAYS ASK THE QUESTION IN RETURN, "IF YOU WERE PRESIDENT REAGAN AND YOU WERE COMING TO THE END OF YOUR SECOND TERM WOULD YOU RATHER STAND UP AND BE ABLE TO SAY 'THE SOVIET UNION HAS LEFT AFGHANISTAN AND AFGHANISTAN IS A FREE COUNTRY' OR WOULD YOU RATHER SAY 'THE SOVIET UNION IS STILL THERE IN AFGHANISTAN'"? WHICH IS BETTER FOR THE UNITED STATES? THERE'S NO QUESTION WHICH IS BETTER FOR THE UNITED STATES -- FOR THE SOVIETS TO LEAVE, TO GET OUT -- AND THAT REMAINS THE POLICY. YOU'RE RIGHT, THERE ARE SOME PEOPLE WHO SAY IT'S GOOD THAT THE SOVIETS ARE BEING BLED, BUT THAT IS CERTAINLY NOT THE GOVERNMENT'S POLICY AND IT'S NOT THE PRESIDENT'S POLICY.

Q. WOULD THE UNITED STATES SUPPORT DIRECT NEGOTIATIONS BETWEEN ISLAMABAD AND KABUL FOR AN EARLY SOLUTION OF THE WAR IN KABUL?

A. ISLAMABAD HAS SAID, AND RIGHTFULLY SO, THAT IT DOESN'T WANT TO TALK TO KABUL BECAUSE THE KABUL REGIME DOESN'T REPRESENT ANYBODY EXCEPT FOR NAJIBULLAH AND SOME OTHER COMMUNISTS IN HIS GOVERNMENT. OUR POSITION HAS ALWAYS BEEN TO SUPPORT THE GOVERNMENT OF PAKISTAN. THE GOVERNMENT OF PAKISTAN HAS SAID THAT THE SOLUTION TO THIS WAR HAS TO BE FOUND IN MOSCOW, NOT IN KABUL, AND IT HAS TO BE FOUND AMONG THE AFGHAN PEOPLE, BUT NOT IN KABUL, BECAUSE THE KABUL REGIME REALLY DOESN'T REPRESENT ANYONE EXCEPT ITSELF.

Q. DO YOU THINK THAT IF THERE ARE DIRECT NEGOTIATIONS BETWEEN THE TWO GOVERNMENTS, AN ASSUMPTION OF COURSE, IT WOULD BE EASIER TO SOLVE THE PROBLEM THAN GOING THROUGH, YOU KNOW, ALL THESE VERY CIRCULAR AND LONG NEGOTIATIONS?
A. NOT AT ALL, BECAUSE THE ANSWER TO AFGHANISTAN LIES IN MOSCOW. IT DOESN'T LIE WITH NAJIBULLAH. IT LIES AMONG THE AFGHAN PEOPLE, NOT WITH NAJIBULLAH. IF HE REPRESENTS TWO PERCENT OF THE AFGHAN PEOPLE I WOULD BE SURPRISED. IF PAKISTAN OR WE OR ANYONE ELSE START TALKING TO NAJIBULLAH IT WOULD GIVE HIM MUCH GREATER LEGITIMACY. IT WOULD GIVE HIM A MUCH GREATER ROLE. IN MY VIEW, HE DOESN'T HAVE ANY RIGHT TO THAT BECAUSE HE DOESN'T REPRESENT ANYTHING EXCEPT HIS OWN GOVERNMENT.

Q. EXCUSE ME SIR. IN THE INDIRECT TALKS, WE ARE TALKING TO THE PEOPLE WHO COME FROM NAJIBULLAH IN ANY
UNCLASSIFIED

CASE (INAUDIBLE)

A. BUT ONCE AGAIN, WHAT GOOD WOULD IT DO TO TALK TO NAJIBULLAH? IN OTHER WORDS, LET ME TURN THE QUESTION AROUND. IF MOSCOW DECIDES THAT IT WANTS THIS ISSUE SETTLED, WILL IT BE SETTLED? IF MOSCOW DECIDES IT DOESN'T WANT NAJIB TO DO SOMETHING, IS HE GOING TO DO IT? IS NAJIB GOING TO ACT CONTRARY TO WHAT MOSCOW SAYS? WILL HE DO WHAT MOSCOW TELLS HIM TO? I'M CONFIDENT THAT THE ANSWER TO THE FIRST IS THAT HE WILL NEVER DO ANYTHING CONTRARY TO WHAT MOSCOW SAYS. I'M CONFIDENT HE'LL DO EXACTLY WHAT MOSCOW TELLS HIM TO. SO, WHY NOT GO DIRECTLY TO THE SOURCE OF THE POWER, TO THE SOURCE OF THE AUTHORITY, WHICH IS MOSCOW? IT'S NOT NAJIBULLAH.

Q. BUT THERE WAS A QUESTION OF A GUARANTEE, OF A GUARANTEE FROM THE UNITED STATES. THAT WAS YOUR POSITION FOUR MONTHS BACK, AS I KNOW THROUGH YOUR FORMER AMBASSADOR, DEANE R. HINTON. HE SAID THAT WE WILL AGREE, OR GIVE THE GUARANTEE, WHEN CERTAIN THINGS ARE SETTLED. IF THE RESISTANCE MOVEMENT IN AFGHANISTAN AND OUTSIDE AFGHANISTAN (INAUDIBLE) AS SUGGESTED BY AGHA SHARIFF AND THEY DECIDE SOMETHING. WOULD YOU AGREE TO ANY OF THAT DECISION?

A. WE WILL ACCEPT ANY DECISION THAT THE PEOPLE OF AFGHANISTAN SUPPORT.

Q. ANY DECISION? WITHOUT ANY INTERFERENCE?

A. THAT'S RIGHT, BECAUSE WHATEVER THEY WANT FOR THEIR FUTURE IS FINE WITH US.

Q. MR. AMBASSADOR, IN CONTINUATION OF THE AFGHAN THING, ONLY THE OTHER DAY PRESIDENT REAGAN DECLARED IN THE UNCLASSIFIED

A. SOVIET RHETORIC HAS CHANGED CONSIDERABLY SINCE GORBACHEV HAS COME TO POWER. FOR EXAMPLE, NOW YOU HAVE THE SOVIETS SAYING -- WHICH THEY HAVE NEVER SAID BEFORE -- THAT THEY WANT TO GET OUT. THEY REALLY WANT TO GET OUT AND IT'S JUST A QUESTION OF FINDING A WAY TO GET OUT. YOU HAVE THEM TALKING ABOUT A SHORTER TIMETABLE. STILL NOT SHORT ENOUGH, WE THINK, BUT A SHORTER TIMETABLE. YOU HAVE GORBACHEV SAYING THAT HIS PRIMARY CONCERNS NOW ARE THE ECONOMY OF THE SOVIET UNION AND GETTING THE AFGHANISTAN PROBLEM SETTLED. SO, WHEN YOU LOOK AT WHAT THE SOVIEI UNION IS SAYING, THEN IT LOOKS LIKE IT IS MOVING TOWARD A DECISION TO GET OUT OF AFGHANISTAN. I THINK THAT'S WHAT THE PRESIDENT WAS REFERRING TO, THAT AT LEAST IF YOU LOOK AT THE WORDS THERE HAS BEEN SOME MOVEMENT. NOW THE REAL QUESTION IS -- AND WE DON'T KNOW THIS YET -- WILL THE WORDS TRANSLATE INTO REAL ACTIONS ON THE GROUND? WILL WE SEE THE SOVIETS START TO GET OUT? BUT, CERTAINLY THE RHETORIC HAS CHANGED CONSIDERABLY.

Q. THERE HAS BEEN MOVEMENT IN YOUR OPINION?
UNCLASSIFIED

PAGE 02 KARACH 07342 13 OF 16 241308Z

A. THAT'S RIGHT. WE'VE GOT AN INF AGREEMENT NOW AND WE'RE GOING TO HAVE THE SUMMIT, AND WE HOPE THAT ALL THIS WILL LEAD TO SOME PROGRESS ON AFGHANISTAN.

Q. THE OTHER MOST IMPORTANT REGION, I THINK, AFTER WE HAVE DISCUSSED AFGHANISTAN AND INDIA, IS THE GULF. RECENT DIRECT MILITARY INTERVENTION OR, RATHER, I WOULD SAY INVOLVEMENT, NOT INTERVENTION, IN THE GULF HAS INCREASED TENSION IN THE GULF AREA AND HAS ALSO MADE NORMAL SHIPPING MOVEMENT UNSAFE, MORE UNSAFE THAN IT WAS PREVIOUSLY. IT HAS ALSO PUSHED IRAN CLOSER TO THE SOVIET UNION. HOW DO YOU THINK THAT UNDER THESE CIRCUMSTANCES THERE IS A POSSIBILITY OF AN EARLY END OF THE HOSTILITIES IN THE GULF?

A. ONE THING TO KEEP IN MIND IS THAT OUR PROTECTION OF THESE VESSELS HAS BEEN SUPPORTED BY ALL THE MODERATE ARABS IN THE AREA. TO ME, THE PROBLEM IS THAT PEOPLE AREN'T FOCUSING ON WHAT THE BASIC ISSUE IS. THE BASIC ISSUE IS, AS WAS SAID IN THE UNITED NATIONS SECURITY COUNCIL BY ALL 15 MEMBERS, THAT THE WAR SHOULD END. THE WAR IS NOT ENDING BECAUSE IRAN WON'T LET IT END. IRAQ WANTS TO LET IT END. ALL 15 MEMBERS OF THE SECURITY COUNCIL VOTED FOR A RESOLUTION THAT SAID THERE SHOULD BE

A CEASEFIRE AND THAT THE WAR SHOULD END. WE'VE SAID THAT AS SOON AS IRAN ACCEPTS THAT RESOLUTION -- AND IT WAS UNANIMOUSLY PASSED -- AND AS SOON AS THERE IS PEACE BETWEEN THE TWO COUNTRIES, WE HAVE NO INTENTION OF KEE PING THAT SAME KIND OF FORCE THERE AND WE'LL WITHDRAW THAT FORCE. WE'LL HAVE A RESIDUAL PRESENCE, AS WE ALWAYS HAVE. BUT THE QUESTION IN MY MIND IS NOT SO MUCH WHY ARE WE ESCORTING OUR FRIENDS, OR WHY ARE WE
UNCLASSIFIED

PROTECTING OUR FRIENDS, AS IT IS WHY ISN'T THE WAR OVER. IT'S VERY SIMPLE WHY THE WAR HASN'T ENDED. IT'S BECAUSE IRAN DOESN'T WANT THE WAR TO END.

Q. NO, ONLY RECENTLY, THREE OR FOUR DAYS AGO, I THINK, IRAN MADE AN OFFER FOR A CEASEFIRE.
A. BUT ONLY IF FIRST THE UNITED NATIONS SAID WHO WAS THE AGGRESSOR.

Q. NO, THEY OFFICIALLY SAID THAT THEY WANT A CEASEFIRE, I THINK, NOT AN END OF THE WAR. THEY WANT A CEASEFIRE AND THEN THEY WANT A UNITED NATIONS COMMISSION TO PINPOINT THE AGGRESSION.

A. I'D BE SURPRISED IF THE IRANIANS SAID THAT BECAUSE THE SECURITY COUNCIL RESOLUTION CALLS FOR JSUT THAT. IT CALLS FOR A CEASEFIRE, A RETURN OF PRISONERS, AND, THEN, IN THE SECURITY COUNCIL RESOLUTION IT TALKS ABOUT FINDING OUT WHO IS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE WAR. NOW, IF IRAN ACCEPTS THE SECURITY COUNCIL RESOLUTION, THAT'S FINE WITH US, AND THE FIGHTING WILL STOP. BUT I THINK THEY STILL WANT TO HAVE THIS COMMISSION.

Q. BUT YOUR PRESENCE IN THE GULF WILL NOT DIMINISH THE TENSION IN THE REGION.

A. I THINK HAVING A MILITARY PRESENCE THERE, NOT ONLY OURSELVES BUT THE BRITISH AND THE FRENCH (INTERRUPTED) AND IF YOU HAVE A LARGER MILITARY PRESENCE, THE LEVEL OF TENSION INCREASES. I THINK THAT'S ABSOLUTELY RIGHT. OUR RESPONSE TO THAT IS THAT IT'S VERY EASY TO GET US OUT, AND TO GET THE BRITISH AND THE FRENCH OUT, AND TO GET THE RUSSIANS OUT.

Q. HOW EXPLOSIVE WILL IT BECOME IF THE IRANIANS DO NOT
UNCLASSIFIED

AGREE WITH THE SECURITY COUNCIL RESOLUTION?

A. THE PROBLEM IS THAT IT HAS BEEN AN EXPLOSIVE SITUATION IN THE GULF FOR SEVEN YEARS. WHEN YOU LOOK AT THE DEATHS ON BOTH SIDES AND THE CARNAGE, IT'S NOT AS IF THE PRESENCE OF AMERICAN SHIPS IS MAKING A PEACEFUL SITUATION MORE DANGEROUS. IT HAS BEEN DANGEROUS THERE FOR A LONG TIME. WHAT I KEEP GETTING BACK TO IS THAT IF PEOPLE ARE REALLY CONCERNED ABOUT THE AMERICAN PRESENCE OR THE ABOUT WESTERN PRESENCE OR THE SOVIET PRESENCE, THE EASIEST WAY IS TO ACCEPT WHAT THE SECURITY COUNCIL HAS SAID TO DO.

Q. MR. AMBASSADOR, I COME TO OUR QUESTION WHICH RELATES TO DEMOCRACY. IT'S A BIG QUESTION. IT IS A COMMON CHARGE THAT DEMOCRATIC MOVEMENTS WORLDWIDE HAVE SUFFERED BECAUSE OF AMERICAN SUPPORT FOR DICTATORSHIPS. U.S. POLICY IN THE EARLY DAYS OF MR. REAGAN'S ADMINISTRATION WAS TO PREFER RULERS WHO SERVED U.S. INTERESTS. RECENTLY, WASHINGTON SEEMS TO HAVE REALIZED THAT THEIR SUPPORT FOR MILITARY RULERS CANNOT SUSTAIN ITS INTERESTS. THIS IS REFLECTED IN MR. REAGAN'S OBSERVATION, QUOTED BY U.S. AMBASSADOR TO SOUTH KOREA, MR. JAMES LIBBY. I QUOTE, "THE DEVELOPMENT OF DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS IS THE SUREST MEANS TO A BUILD NATIONAL CONSENSUS, WHICH IS THE FORMATION OF A TRUE STATE." CAN YOU ELABORATE ON THIS WITH REFERENCE TO PAKISTAN AND DEVELOPMENTS IN SOUTH KOREA?

A. FIRST, I WOULD CONTEND THAT FROM THE BEGINNING THE ADMINISTRATION HAS BEEN ENCOURAGING A MOVEMENT TOWARD DEMOCRACY. WHEN YOU LOOK AT THE SITUATION IN CENTRAL AND LATIN AMERICA, PEOPLE TEND TO FOCUS ON NICARAGUA
UNCLASSIFIED

BECAUSE IT GETS ALL THE PUBLICITY. BUT WHEN YOU LOOK AT THE NUMBER OF STATES THAT HAVE HAD FREE ELECTIONS AND NOW HAVE REPRESENTATIVE GOVERNMENTS, COMPARED TO EIGHT YEARS AGO, IT IS MANY MORE IN CENTRAL AMERICA AND IN LATIN AMERICA. I LIKE TO THINK THAT A LOT OF THAT IS BECAUSE OF AMERICAN INFLUENCE. YOUR'RE RIGHT, IN THE PHILLIPINES AND IN SOUTH KOREA, THERE, TOO, WE WERE VERY FIRM IN ENCOURAGING THAT MOVE TOWARD REPRESENTATIVE GOVERNMENT. WHEN YOU TALK ABOUT PAKISTAN, OUR VIEW IS THAT PAKISTAN OVER THE PAST TWO-AND-A-HALF YEARS HAS

DEMOCRACY. YOU'VE SEEN MARTIAL LAW LIFTED. YOU'VE SEEN PARLIAMENTARY ELECTIONS. YOU'VE SEEN THE ESTABLISHMENT OF PARLIAMENT. WE'VE SEEN THE BASIC RIGHTS OF THE CONSTITUTION RESTORED. WE SEE A UCH MORE OPEN PRESS -- A FREE PRESS. WE SEE MUCH MORE POLITICAL ACTIVITY THAN YOU SAW TWO-AND-A-HALF YEARS AGO. WHAT PAKISTAN IS DOING, IN OUR VIEW, IS MOVING VERY MUCH IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION -- THE DIRECTION TOWARD A FREE AND OPEN DEMOCRATIC SYSTEM. AS ONE OF MY PAKISTANI FRIENDS SAID TO ME, THE PROBLEM SEEMS TO BE THAT PAKISTAN DID IT QUIETLY. IF EVERYBODY HAD GONE OUT INTO THE STREETS AND DONE IT, THEN THE UNITED STATES WOULD HAVE NOTICED. BECAUSE IT WAS DONE QUIETLY IT HASN'T GOTTEN THAT MUCH ATTENTION IN THE UNITED STATES.

Q. IN CASE THERE IS ANOTHER MARTIAL LAW IN THIS COUNTRY, WOULD YOU SUPPORT IT?

A. I TEND TO AGREE WITH THE PRIME MINISTER, WHO SAYS HE SEES NO REASON TO HAVE ANOTHER MARTIAL LAW IN PAKISTAN.
UNCLASSIFIED

PAGE 02 KARACH 07342 15 OF 16 241311Z

Q. NO, LET'S ASSUME THAT THERE IS A MARTIAL LAW.

A. BUT, THEN, WE GET BACK TO MY EARLIER COMMENT THAT AFTER 22 YEARS, I HAVE LEARNED NEVER TO PREDICT WHAT IS GOING TO HAPPEN. YOU CAN ONLY GET IN TROUBLE.

Q. TO WHAT EXTENT IS THE UNITED STATES SATISFIED WITH PAKISTAN'S EFFORTS TO CONTROL DRUG TRAFFICKING WITH THE HELP OF THE UNITED STATES?

A. I THINK PAKISTAN HAS MADE INCREDIBLE STRIDES. IT LOOKS LIKE THIS YEAR THE POPPY CULTIVATION WILL BE DOWN TO 80 TONS. IT WAS 140 LAST YEAR. IN 1979, THERE WAS 800 TONS OF POPPY CULTIVATED HERE. IT HAS BEEN CUT DOWN TO ONE-TENTH, SO WE'VE REALLY MADE A LOT OF PROGRESS. EVERY TIME I THINK ABOUT NARCOTICS I THINK ABOUT WHAT PRIME MINISTER JUNEJO SAID WHEN HE WAS IN AMERICA LAST YEAR AND HE WAS ASKED, "WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO DO ABOUT THE NARCOTICS PROBLEM?" HE SAID THAT PAKISTAN NOW HAS 500,000 HEROIN ADDICTS. TODAY IT IS UP TO 660,000. IT'S HIGHER PER CAPITA THAN THE UNITED STATES. HE SAID THAT PAKISTAN'S NARCOTICS PROBLEM IS NOT AMERICA'S PROBLEM, IT'S OUR PROBLEM, AND WE HAVE TO FIND AN ANSWER FOR THE SAKE OF FUTURE GENERATIONS OF PAKISTANIS, FOR YOUNG PAKISTANIS. WE ARE GOING TO SOLVE THE PROBLEM, NOT TO HELP AMERICA OUT, BUT TO HELP PAKISTAN OUT. AND WHATEVER THE UNITED STATES CAN DO TO HELP PAKISTAN, WE WANT TO DO THAT. PAKISTAN HAS TAKEN IT VERY SERIOUSLY

AND HAS TAKEN, AS I SAY, A NUMBER OF VERY POSITIVE STEPS TOWARD GETTING IT UNDER CONTROL. IT'S TOUGH BECAUSE ON THE OTHER SIDE OF THE AFGHAN BORDER YOU DON'T HAVE PEOPLE WHO ARE THAT RESPONSIBLE. THEY DON'T CARE WHAT'S
UNCLASSIFIED

GOING ON IN TERMS OF GROWING. BUT THE GOVERNMENT HERE HAS DONE A VERY GOOD JOB.

Q. ONE LAST QUESTION. MR. RAPHEL, PAKISTANI EXPERTS FEEL THAT NOT ENOUGH HAS BEEN DONE FOR THE REHABILITATION OF DRUG ADDICTS. WHAT IS YOUR OPINION ABOUT THAT?

A. WE JUST HAD OUR ASSISTANT SECRETARY FOR NARCOTICS. MATTERS HERE. SHE TALKED WITH THE PRESIDENT AND THE PRIME MINISTER. THEY BOTH RAISED THIS ISSUE AND SAID, "WE HAVE 660,000 HEROIN ADDICTS. YOU'VE GOT TO DO SOMETHING FOR THEM, BUT IT'S VERY EXPENSIVE." BOTH OF THEM SAID THAT THE GOVERNMENT HAS TO DO MORE, BUT THE RESOURCES AREN'T THERE. WE ARE GIVING SOME ASSISTANCE

TO PAKISTAN IN TRYING TO HELP WITH REHABILITATION, BUT, AS YOU KNOW, WHEN YOU LOOK AT THE PROBLEM IN THE UNITED STATES -- WHERE WE ONLY HAVE 500,000 ADDICTS AND WE HAVE SUCH TREMENDOUS RESOURCES -- IT HAS BEEN DIFFICULT FOR US TO FIND SOME WAY TO REHABILITATE PEOPLE. IT'S BOTH HARD TO REHABILITATE AND THE AMOUNT OF MONEY YOU NEED IS INCREDIBLE. WE'RE TRYING TO SET UP SOME PROGRAMS IN PAKISTAN TO HELP, BUT I DON'T SEE AN EASY ANSWER. IT IS GOING TO BE VERY DIFFICULT.

2. (LOU) THE G100 OPPOSES NUCLEAR POWER PLANTS IN GENERAL, BUT IS ESPECIALLY WORRIED ABOUT LAGUNA VERDE. ARIEJIS SAID MEXICAN TECHNICIANS, NO MATTER HOW WELL TRAINED, TEND TO BE CARELESS. AS AN EXAMPLE, HE CITED THIS MONTH'S TRAGIC FIRE AT THE MODERN INFERNILLO HYDROELECTRIC POWER PLANT IN MICHOACAN. ANOTHER OF HIS CONCERNS IS THAT THE LAGUNA VERDE PLANT WILL NOT BE WELL MAINTAINED. ALTHOUGH HE ADMITTED HE HAD NO PROOF, HE ALLEGED THAT THERE HAVE BEEN SERIOUS ACCIDENTS AT THE PLANT, EVEN A RADIOACTIVE LEAK WHICH KILLED TONS OF FISH. HE ASSERTED THAT THE LAGUNA VERDE REACTORS ARE OF A NOTORIOUSLY UNRELIABLE MODEL, NOTING THAT SOME 15 U.S. POWER PLANT OPERATORS ARE SUING GENERAL ELECTRIC.

EL EMBAJADOR DE AUSTRIA

Santiago, 25 de setiembre de 1987

Estimado señor Marchant :

Por intermedio de algunas familiares de presos amenazados con la pena de muerte, me enteré de que están desde hace semanas en huelga de hambre y que algunos de Uds. ya se encuentran muy debilitados. Sin entrar a examinar los motivos que les hayan inducido a tomar esta decisión, quisiera llamar su atención sobre la preocupación y el dolor que esta postura suya está causando a sus familiares que temen por su salud y hasta por su vida. En su propio interés y en él de sus familiares, les ruego que reevalúen su postura poniendo fin lo antes posible a una medida tan drástica y de consecuencias tan imprevisibles.

Quedo de Ud. con mis mejores saludos

Request for Additional Authority and Assistance for the Nicaraguan Democratic Resistance

Pursuant to the provisions of section 722(p) of the International Security and Development Cooperation Act of 1985 (P.L. 99-83) and section 106(a) of chapter V of the Supplemental Appropriations Act, 1985 (P.L. 99-88), I hereby request that the Congress approve additional authority and assistance for the Nicaraguan democratic resistance, as follows:

(1) That the sum of $100,000,000 appropriated by the Department of Defense Appropriations Act, 1986, as contained in P.L. 99-190, shall also be available to the President for assistance to the Nicaraguan democratic resistance, subject to the terms and conditions of this request.

(2) That the funds made available under paragraph (1) will include funds which have been made available for obligation until September 30, 1987, as provided by law: Provided, That not more than 25 percent shall be available for obligation upon the enactment of a joint resolution approving this request, and an additional 15 per cent shall become available upon submission of each report to the Congress required by paragraph (6)(E) of this request.

(3) That, of the funds made available under paragraph (1), $30,000,000 shall be available for continuation of a program of humanitarian assistance to be administered by the Nicaraguan Humanitarian Assistance Office established by Executive Order 12530, of which at least $3,000,000 will be used exclusively for strengthening programs and activities of the United Nicaraguan Opposition for the observance and advancement of human rights.

(4) That, notwithstanding the proviso contained in paragraph (2) of this request, in the event of a peaceful settlement of the conflict in Central America during the period that the funds under paragraph (1) are available for obligation, any remaining balance of such funds shall then also be available for purposes of relief, rehabilitation and reconstruction in Central American countries, including Nicaragua, in accordance with the authority of chapter 4 of part II of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961.

(5) That the approval by the Congress of this request be deemed to satisfy the requirements, terms and conditions of section 105(a) of the Intelligence Authorization Act, 1986 (P.L.99-169) as well as statutory

(A) all applicable provisions of law and established procedures relating to the oversight by the Congress of operations and departments and agencies; and

(B) the further terms and conditions specified in this request.

(6) That the approval by the Congress of this request be deemed to constitute the acceptance of the following undertakings:

(A) United States policy toward Nicaragua shall be based upon Nicaragua's responsiveness to continuing concerns by the United States and Nicaragua's neighbors about --

(i) Nicaragua's close military and security ties to Cuba, the Soviet Union, and its Warsaw Pact allies, including the presence in Nicaragua of military and security personnel from those countries;

(iv) Nicaragua's internal repression and lack of opportunity for the exercise of civil and political rights which would allow the people of Nicaragua to have a meaningful voice in determining the policies of their government; and

(v) Nicaragua's refusal to negotiate in good faith for a peaceful resolution of the conflict in Central America based upon the comprehensive implementation of the September 1983 Contadora Document of Objectives and, in particular, its refusal to enter into a church-mediated national dialogue as proposed by the Nicaraguan democratic resistance on March 1, 1985.

(B) The United States will address these concerns through economic, political and diplomatic measures, as well as through support for the Nicaraguan democratic resistance. In order to assure every opportunity for a peaceful resolution of the conflict, the United States --

(i) will engage in simultaneous bilateral discussions with the Government of Nicaragua with a view toward facilitating progress in achieving a peaceful resolution of the conflict if the Government of Nicaragua agrees to engage in a church-mediated national dialogue, as proposed by the United Nicaraguan Oposition; and

(ii) will take other positive actions in response to steps by the Government of Nicaragua toward meeting the concerns described in subparagraph (A).

(C) The duration of bilateral discussions with the Government of Nicaragua and the implementation of additional measures under subparagraph (B) shall be determined, after consultation with the Congress, by reference to Nicaragua's actions in response to the concerns described in subparagraph (A). (ii) additional arms and foreign military personnel are no longer being introduced into Nicaragua;

(iii) a cease-fire with the Nicaraguan democratic resistance is being respected; and

(iv) Nicaragua is withholding support for insurgency and terrorism in other countries.

(D) The actions by the United States in response to the concerns described in subparagraph (A), authorized by the approval of this request, are consistent with the right of the United States to defend itself and to assist its allies in accordance with international law and treaties in force. Such actions are directed to achieving a comprehensive and verifiable agreement among the countries of Central America, based upon the 1983 Contadora Document of Objectives, and internal reconciliation within Nicaragua, based upon democratic principles, without the use of force by the United States. DRUG TRAFFICKING AND THE NICARAGUAN DEMOCRATIC RESISTANCE

Trends in Central and South America

In recent years, the overwhelming majority of illict drugs entering the United States from Latin America have originated in Mexico or South America. In Central America, Belize is a major marijuana producer, and there is some production of marijuana throughout the isthmus. With the exception of Belize, the only other Central American country which has been a substantial producer of illicit drugs is Panama. Thanks to the U.S. assisted eradication program, Panama's production has sharply declined. Guatemala and Costa Rica are marginal producers. Otherwise, the Central American countries have been associated with drug trafficking principally as transhipment points from the large producer countries on the continent of South America.

Panama is particularly important because of its strategic location between North and South America, and it serves as a transit point for licit and illicit international commerce. Cocaine and marijuana are routed through Panama from Colombia, Peru, and Bolivia to markets in the United States, and chemicals used in processing flow the other way. In addition, the sizeable international banking establishment in Panama--some 120 banks with deposits of over $30 billion--is frequently used to launder large sums of money derived from drug traffic. To a lesser extent, other Central American countries have also been used as points for transhipment in both maritime and air traffic of drugs, and have attracted a certain amount of drug money.

Central America has not escaped the attention of international drug traffickers as a possible safehaven from law enforcement agencies. Costa Rica had been a favorite refuge for U.S. drug offenders, resulting in numerous extraditions to the United States of fugitives from justice . Mexican drug trafficker Rafael Caro Quintero, who was implicated in the murder of Drug Enforcement Agency Special Agent Enrique Camarena, also sought refuge in Costa Rica, but was captured and expelled to Mexico. Another well-known trafficker of Honduran citizenship, Ramon Mata Ballesteros, whose network involved operations in both Mexico and Colombia and who is also suspected of involvement in the Camarena murder, fled prosecution in other countries, escaped from jail in Colombia, and travelled to Honduras. He is currently under detention in Honduras pending prosecution. Most of the governments of Central America have a good record of prosecuting drug trafficking offenders and cooperating with the efforts of international law enforcement agencies to bring traffickers to justice in other countries.

In Nicaragua, however, a former Interior Ministry official has provided details on how Minister of Interior Tomas Borge provided Colombian traffickers with planes, refueling, and transhipment facilities. During a DEA investigation conducted in 1983-1984 photographs were obtained of Borge aide Federico Vaughan loading cocaine into a plane at the military airport in Managua. Vaughan was was subsequently indicted in the Southern District of Florida for his involvement in smuggling cocaine into the United States.

Drug Traffic and Guerrilla Groups

Connections between guerrilla groups and drug trafficking in Latin America have been reported. In Colombia, active insurgent movements and terrorist groups have exacted funds from the drug trade. The longest such association -- dating from the early 1980s -- is with the Revolutionary Armed Forces of Colombia (FARC). The M-19, a group which gained particular notoriety in 1985 with its attack on the Palace of Justice in Bogota, has also developed ties with drug traffickers. In Peru, the major terrorist group, Sendero Luminoso, and Peruvian drug traffickers reportedly have made contact but not on any organized basis. They benefit from each others' activities in that both create an environment of lawlessness and stretch military and law enforcement resources.

With regard to the Nicaraguan democratic resistance groups, there has been no evidence that organizations associated with the major resistance umbrella group, the United Nicaraguan Opposition, have participated in or benefited from drug trafficking. There has been little incentive for traffickers to use resistance members within Nicaragua where they have not up to now controlled land, air, or sea routes of value to traffickers. The resistance organizations themselves have had few physical assets to complement the multiple assets already controlled by the Latin American traffickers. Instead, the available evidence points to involvement with drug traffickers by a limited number of persons having various kinds of affiliations with or political sympathies for resistance groups.

Following is a review of federal law enforcement and intelligence agencies' findings on the principal allegations of Nicaraguan democratic resistance groups' involvement in drug trafficking activities.

The "Frogman" Case

This case gets its nickname from swimmers who brought cocaine ashore on the West Coast from a Colombian vessel in January 1983. A lengthy investigation was conducted in 1982-1983 by a San Francisco Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Force. It focussed on a major Colombian cocaine smuggler, Alvaro Carvajal-Minota, who supplied a number of West Coast traffickers. It was alleged, but never confirmed, that Nicaraguan citizen Horacio Pereira, an associate of Carvajal, had helped the Nicaraguan resistance. Pereira was subsequently convicted on drug charges in Costa Rica and sentenced to twelve years imprisonment. Two other Nicaraguans, Carlos Cabezas and Julio Zavala, who were among the jailed West Coast traffickers convicted of receiving drugs from Carvajal, claimed long after their conviction that they had delivered large sums of money to resistance groups in Costa Rica and that Pereira, who was not charged in the case, had said the profits from the drug sales would finance resistance activities.

Zavala, convicted in 1983 on cocaine trafficking charges nd now serving time in a federal penitentiary, was one source f a March 16, 1986 story in The San Francisco Examiner which eported that there were resistance ties to the drug ring. his was the first time Zavala made any mention of resistance nvolvement. Officials of the Justice Department subsequently viewed the transcripts of some 11,000 wiretaps collected ring this extensive investigation and found no mention of the caraguan resistance or any resistance leader. The U.S. torney in the case notes that Cabezas and Zavala did not se these issues as a defense in their trial or at tencing, but waited two years before making these egations, which, as indicated, could not be confirmed.

The Examiner story reported that the specific resistance up involved was the United Nicaraguan Opposition/Nicaraguan olutionary Armed Forces (UNO/FARN) headed by Fernando ro" Chamorro. The story also mentioned a Nicaraguan exile tical group based in Costa Rica, the Conservative Party of raguans in Exile (PCNE) as the possible recipient of drug y -- through two of its officials, Francisco Aviles Saenz Vicente Rappaccioli Marquis. Costa Rica is the political for a number of Nicaraguan exile groups. Unlike the 'ARN, the PCNE is a civic organization with no known ties y group in the armed Nicaraguan opposition, although idual members may be sympathetic toward or supporters of groups.

The head of the UNO/FARN, Fernando Chamorro, has categorically denied that he or his organization have been involved in the drug trade, and denied that Francisco Aviles Saenz has acted, as alleged, as UNO/FARN's agent in such matters. Aviles reportedly joined the UNO/FARN in early 1984, but never occupied a leadership position. He did some legal work for the UNO/FARN in San Jose, Costa Rica, but he has never held the position of international secretary of the UNO/FARN as he apparently presented himself in a letter obtained by the Examiner. Upon being informed of Aviles' implication in the San Francisco case, UNO/FARN expelled him from the organization in March 1985.

DEA has examined allegations of linkages between members of the UNO/FARN and suspected traffickers. It has found no information indicating that members of this group have been involved in narcotics trafficking.

Pena-Cabrera

Two Nicaraguans were arrested in 1984 in another investigation of drug trafficking conducted in San Francisco. One of them, Renato Pena-Cabrera, claimed at the time of his arrest that he was a volunteer worker for the San Francisco-based Nicaraguan Democratic Front (FDN). DEA has found no evidence that Pena and his associate were engaged in drug trafficking at the direction of the San Francisco-based FDN, nor for that matter any connection between the San Francisco-based FDN and the FDN which is the largest resistance group fighting in Nicaragua.

Cuban-American Connection

There have been allegations that Rene Corvo and other Cuban-Americans involved in anti-Sandinista activities in Costa Rica were connected with Miami-based drug traffickers. Corvo reportedly recruited a group of Cuban-American and Cuban exile combatants and military trainers in the Miami area who operated inside Nicaragua and in the northern part of Costa Rica. Two Cuban exiles in this group, Mario Rojas Lavas and Ubaldo Hernandez Perez, were captured by the Sandinistas in June 1986. They were reportedly members of the UNO/FARN group headed by Fernando "Negro" Chamorro. There is no information to substantiate allegations that this group from Miami has been a source of drug money for the UNO/FARN or any other resistance organization.

Sandino Revolutionary Front (FRS)

Information developed by the intelligence community indicates that a senior member of Eden Pastora's Sandino Revolutionary Front (FRS) agreed in late 1984 with a Colombian narcotics trafficker that FRS pilots would aid in transporting narcotics in exchange for financial assistance. According to this information, the FRS officer agreed to the use of FRS operational facilities in Costa Rica and Nicaragua to facilitate transportation of narcotics. The Colombian trafficker agreed to provide financial support to the FRS, in addition to aircraft and training for FRS pilots. After undergoing flight training, the FRS pilots were to continue to work for the FRS, but would also fly narcotics shipments from South America to sites in Costa Rica and Nicaragua for later transport to the United States. Shortly thereafter, the Colombian reportedly provided the FRS one C-47 aircraft and two crated helicopters. He is reported to have paid the sum of $100,000 to the FRS, but there is no information available on who actually received this money. Supposedly he promised to pay an additional $200,000 per month once the narcotics shipments began, but there is no indication that this sum was ever delivered.

Only one incident of drug trafficking is known to have resulted from this agreement. A FRS pilot, Gerardo Duran, was arrested in January 1986 in Costa Rica for alleged involvement in transporting cocaine to the United States. DEA has been unable to substantiate allegations linking Eden Pastora directly with these activities. In a meeting with Secretary of State Shultz on March 7, Pastora categorically denied any involvement by himself or by his organization in drug trafficking. The Secretary reiterated the U.S. position that no resistance group would receive any U.S. assistance if it retained within its ranks any member who has engaged in drug trafficking.

Two individuals, who were members of or were affiliated with the Democratic Revolutionary Alliance (ARDE), the umbrella group to which the FRS belonged, were involved in small scale seizures of illicit drugs, one in Guatemala and one in Costa Rica, but there is no information to indicate that ARDE leaders or the organization itself were involved in narcotics trafficking.

October 2, 1987

Dear Frank:

I write regarding the deliberations on the situation of human rights in Chile due to occur in the course of the current General Assembly of the United Nations. These deliberations could affect the President's policy of support for democracy in Latin America and around the world. In this letter I present my concerns about those deliberations and provide an outline of the thinking that guides my actions here. I also request your help in ensuring that all relevant policy-makers receive the President's views on the issue of human rights in Chile.

The issue of human rights in Chile arises in the General Assembly in the form of a debate and of a lengthy resolution condemning the Government of Chile's record on human rights. In theory, the resolution draws upon the series of good and balanced reports on Chile's human rights situation produced by the Special Representative on Chile of the United Nations Commission on Human Rights, Professor Fernando Volio of Costa Rica. In fact, despite our efforts, it draws largely from the reports' negative comments about the situation in Chile and generally ignores the many positive developments stressed by Professor Volio. This comes as no surprise when one notes some of the resolution's prime movers: Mexico -- the principal drafter -- Algeria, Yugoslavia and other such "citadels" of democracy feature prominently, as do some genuine democracies which either view the situation differently than do we or which for domestic reasons cannot oppose a resolution that, no matter how intemperately, criticizes Chile.

We all know that Chile, along with the vast majority of the UN's membership, is a dictatorship. It is, however, not in the same league as the dictatorships in Cuba, the Soviet Union, or Nicaragua. During the debate on Chile at the last General Assembly, the Chilean Ambassador presented a large stack of Chilean opposition magazines and newspapers, all printed legally in Chile, and challenged the Cubans, the Soviets, the Nicaraguans, and the Mexicans to present a similar collection of legal opposition literature. Not one of those delegations took up his challenge. I also should note that at meetings of the Commission on Human Rights in Geneva, Chilean opposition figures speak out against Pinochet and yet freely return home; even the Secretary-General of the Chilean Communist party has returned to Chile. I cannot imagine a comparable performance by Cuban or Soviet dissidents.

The General Assembly approves the resolution on Chile by an overwhelming margin of votes. In our public statements, here and elsewhere, and in our private talks with the Chileans we have stated our concerns about the situation of human rights in Chile; I have gone to Chile three times to emphasize to President Pinochet the need to return the country to democratic rule. I believe no one can truthfully doubt that we want and actively work for a return to Chile's long-standing tradition of democratic government. We have said repeatedly that if the General Assembly developed reasonable resolutions on the situation of human rights in Chile, the United States should support them. While we have made some progress over the past couple of years in making those resolutions somewhat more realistic, they, nevertheless, have remained very unsatisfactory and, despite our concerns about human rights in Chile, we had to oppose them.

I firmly believe that our policy and tactics in New York accord with and support the President's views on Chile as he stated them last December. We seek to encourage a peaceful return to democracy in Chile in accord with that country's traditions. The situation of human rights in Chile merits careful and objective international scrutiny; we do not oppose that scrutiny. At the Commission on Human Rights we not only have supported renewing Volio's mandate but have successfully introduced our own resolution renewing that mandate. (Our success in Geneva was due in large part to the much smaller membership of the Commission, 43 members compared to the 159 of the General Assembly, and to the relatively favorable geographical distribution of the Commission's membership: Western states hold more than one-fourth of the Commission's seats.)

We do not, however, support ideologically or politically motivated abuse of Chile which hampers democracy's cause by strengthening its opponents on the right and on the left.

L.O.U.

Resolutions on Chile produced by the General Assembly have nothing to do with Professor Volio's mandate. His mandate depends upon the Commission, not the General Assembly. General Assembly resolutions on Chile have only one product: Words. General Assembly words, of course, are important and we, as wary and oft-burned consumers, have the right and the duty to examine each and every word and to reject any and all that do not conform to the President's policy for a peaceful return to democracy in Chile. This Mission should not take the easy way out by submitting to pressure in the U.N. to go along with severely flawed and counterproductive resolutions on Chile.

I reject the argument that by bashing Chile we gain credibility with critics of our policy towards the far worse dictatorships in Cuba and Nicaragua. Many such critics often remain willfully blind, until too late, to the repression and crimes that characterize "revolutionary" regimes. I remember the "political pilgrims" of the 1930's and 1940's who returned full of the wonders of Stalin's Soviet Union, those of the 1950's and 1960's who hailed and praised Mao's China, Castro's Cuba, and Ho's Vietnam, and those of more recent vintage dazzled by Bishop's Grenada and Ortega's Nicaragua. In my considerable experience in these matters, apologists for leftist dictatorships do not join our cause when we abandon our friends, or when we help remove an authoritarian regime so that others might install a totalitarian one.

The manner in which we oppose dictatorship in places such as Cuba and Nicaragua must differ from how we oppose it in Chile, a country with which we have normal diplomatic relations, a country that votes with us in the U.N. on many key issues, and a country which does not, unlike the other two, pose a threat to peace and freedom in the region. Let us not forget that Cuba and Chile have about the same population, around 10.5 million, yet Cuba has produced some 1.5 million refugees while there are, at most, some 3,000 to 5,000 refugees from Chile -- this despite the fact that it is much easier, physically and legally, to leave Chile than to leave Cuba. The Chilean Government has announced that virtually all of these Chilean refugees may now return to Chile. Nicaragua, with a population of some 3.5 million, has generated perhaps as many as 500,000 refugees.

In conclusion, I do not want to see the United States involved in needless Chile-bashing. We have considerable influence with the Government of Chile and, in general, can best exercise it behind the scenes. I have a vivid recollection of how General Peron "ran" successfully against U.S. Ambassador Braden in Argentina; General Noriega is attempting the same tactic in Panama against Ambassador Davis. In Chile, if Pinochet "runs" against Ambassador Barnes, Pinochet will win. An unbalanced resolution passed by the General Assembly with U.S. support would help exacerbate ever-present Chilean nationalism to the detriment of our interests and would have a very negative effect on the process of peaceful evolution towards democracy. Harsh, unfair public criticism of the Government of Chile could be easily portrayed by Pinochet as an assault upon Chile's honor and sovereignty. The people of Chile would rally to Pinochet, Chilean cooperation with Volio would end, and the gradual return to democracy now under way would suffer.

L.O.U.

UNCLASSIFIED
L. O. U.

NAC:

I would urge that we support only a moderate and realistic resolution on Chile that acknowledges progress while pointing out what remains to be done. Anything else we should energetically reject. As did my predecessor, I spend considerable time and effort denouncing double standards in the field of human rights. We should not use one standard for Chile and another for Cuba, Nicaragua, Mexico, or Yugoslavia. We should not enhance an unfortunate reputation we have acquired in Latin America and, alas, elsewhere of not standing by our friends.

Over the coming weeks we will, I am sure, have occasion to discuss this matter. I hope that this letter makes clear my position and that this position derives from what I understand are the President's views. I look forward to hearing from you.

With every good wish,

Sincerely,

Vernon A. Walters

Amnesty International is gravely concerned about the whereabouts of the five men above, who reportedly 'disappeared' in Santiago during the month of September 1987. There are fears that they may have been abducted by government agents or by clandestine groups acting with the acquiescence of the security forces. The Vicaria de la Solidaridad (Vicariat of Solidarity - human rights organization) is initiating a legal action (denuncia) before the Courts for Presuntas Desgracia (presumed misadventure) in at least two of the cases.

Jose Pena Maltes, Alejandro Pinochet Arenas, Gonzalo Fuenzalida Navarrete and Manuel Sepulveda Sanchez reportedly 'disappeared' in Santiago between 7 and 10 September. In response to an amparo petition (similar to a writ of habeas corpus) submitted on their behalf on 21 September, the Central Nacional de Informaciones (CNI-state security police), Investigaciones (criminal investigations squad), and carabineros (uniformed police) all denied that they were holding the men. Reports also indicate that they are not being held in prison.

The fifth man, Julio Munoz Otarola, reportedly 'disappeared' on 17 September. An amparo petition was presented on his behalf on 25 September. The CNI, Investigaciones and carabineros have also denied that they are holding Julio Munoz.

Several of these five men have been wanted by police in the past in connection with alleged politically-motivated offences linked to the left-wing opposition. Alejandro Pinochet Arenas was sought in February and September 1986, when armed men in civilian clothing asked for him at his home. The parents of Juan Munoz Otarola were visited in April 1987 by armed civilian police, who wanted to question him in connection with the military courts' investigation into an assassination attempt against President Pinochet in 1986. Gonzalo Ivan Fuenzalida Navarrete, who has a brother in prison for alleged politically-motivated crimes, has a trial pending for allegedly being involved in an altercation with the police.

There are more than 700 documented cases of people who 'disappeared' after detention in the years following the 1973 military coup. The policy of causing opponents to 'disappear' was however stopped in 1977. There have been very few cases of people reported missing in mysterious circumstances between 1977 and 1987. The 'disappearance' of the five men last month has, therefore, caused grave concern both inside and outside Chile that certain squads associated with the security forces may be resorting again to this method of eliminating opponents.

Amnesty International is an independent worldwide movement working for the international protection of human rights. It seeks the release of men and women detained anywhere because of their beliefs, color, sex, ethnic origin, language or religious creed, provided they have not used or advocated violence. These are termed prisoners of conscience. It works for fair and prompt trials for all political prisoners and works on behalf of such people detained without charge or trial. It opposes the death penalty and torture or other cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment of all prisoners without reservation.

AND ARGUED THAT CURRENT POLLS SHOWING PINOCHET'S POPULARITY AT NO MORE THAN 23 PERCENT ARE MISLEADING AND NOT AN ACCURATE MEASURE OF THE VOTING SUPPORT WHICH HE CAN DRAW IN THE PLEBISCITE, DEPENDING ON HOW GENERALLY APOLITICAL VOTERS FEEL ABOUT THE UNCERTAINTY OF TURNING THE COUNTRY OVER TO AN UNSTABLE, OPPOSITION COALITION. DESPITE OBVIOUS DIFFERENCES, GARCIA URGED THAT BOTH COUNTRIES GIVE MORE WEIGHT TO OUR COMMON VALUES AND OPPOSITION TO EXTREMIST THREATS FROM THE LEFT. END SUMMARY

2. AFTER A GENERAL REVIEW OF OTHER DEVELOPMENTS IN THE HEMISPHERE, AS ABRAMS TURNED THE DISCUSSION TO THE SITUATION IN CHILE, ESPECIALLY RENEWED HUMAN RIGHTS PROBLEMS AS EVIDENCED BY CHARGES FILED AGAINST ANOTHER CHILEAN JOURNALIST (MONICA GONZALEZ) OF "ANALISIS" FOR SLANDER AGAINST THE PRESIDENT FOLLOWING AN INTERVIEW PUBLISHED WITH PDC LEADER ZALDIVAR. THE FOREIGN MINISTER AND HIS ASSOCIATES PROFESSED TO BE UNAWARE OF THE CASE ALTHOUGH THEY DID INDICATE KNOWLEDGE OF THE SO-CALLED APSI CASES WHICH ABRAMS AND GELBARD ALSO RAISED. FONMIN GARCIA, SETTING A PATTERN REFLECTED THROUGHOUT THE LUNCH, ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

GAVE REASSURANCES THAT THE GOC WANTS TO MAINTAIN A CLIMATE CONDUCIVE TO FREE AND OPEN DEBATE DURING THE NEXT 14 MONTHS AS CHILE MOVES TOWARD THE PLEBISCITE. REPEATEDLY THROUGHOUT THE LUNCH HE INSISTED THAT THE GOVERNMENT WILL MAKE EVERY EFFORT TO ORGANIZE A CLEAN AND FAIR ELECTION WHICH COULD STAND THE SCRUTINY OF IMPARTIAL OBSERVERS. GARCIA CLAIMED THAT HE PERSONALLY HOPES AND EXPECTS THAT MORE THEN SIX MILLION CHILEANS WILL REGISTER TO VOTE BY THE TIME THE PLEBISCITE IS HELD AS THIS WILL GIVE THE PROCESS GREATER LEGITIMACY. HE INSISTED THAT THE GOVERNMENT IS COMMITTED TO A CLEAN AND

CREDIBLE PLEBISCITE THAT WILL BE SO PERCEIVED BY THE CHILEAN PEOPLE WHO MUST CONFIRM THE LEGITIMACY OF THE GOVERNMENT AND ITS PROGRAM. GELBARD POINTED OUT THAT ALTHOUGH GOC MINISTERS HAVE BEEN TELLING US FOR QUITE SOME TIME THAT A PLEBISCITE IS REALLY ANOTHER FORM OF AN ELECTION, PRESIDENT PINOCHET IS NOW REFERRING TO THE PLEBISCITE AS A "CONSULTA" RATHER THAN AN ELECTION -- A POINT WHICH GARCIA TRIED TO MAKE LIGHT OF BY REAFFIRMING THE GOC'S COMMITMENT TO A CLEAN ELECTION.

3. ABRAMS AND GELBARD PRESSED THE CHILEANS ON THE ABSENCE OF COOPERATION AND/OR PROGRESS IN RESOLVING THE CELEBRATED LETELIER-MOFFITT AND ROJAS CASES, EMPHASIZING THAT MUCH TIME HAS PASSED AND THERE IS NO SIGN THAT THE GUILTY WILL BE BROUGHT TO JUSTICE. IN THE ROJAS CASE FERNANDES DITTUS HAD HIS CHARGES REDUCED AND THEN SHOCKINGLY WAS PROMOTED WHILE HIS SUPERIOR WAS ONLY RETIRED WITHOUT PUNISHMENT FOR FAILING TO REPORT THE INCIDENT TO HIGHER AUTHORITY. THE INVESTIGATION CONTINUES WITH NO SIGN OF REAL JUSTICE FOR THOSE RESPONSIBLE. AS FOR LETELIER-MOFFITT, THIS SHOCKING ASSASSINATION IN THE HEART OF OUR NATION'S CAPITAL, CONTINUES TO POISON OUR RELATIONS AND THERE IS NO INDICATION THAT THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT INTENDS TO

JUSTICE EITHER HERE IN THE UNITED STATES OR IN CHILE. THESE UNRESOLVED CASES ARE CENTRAL TO OUR RELATIONSHIP AND HAVE DONE MUCH TO DAMAGE CHILE'S INTERNATIONAL REPUTATION. MOREOVER, THEY CREATE STRONG ANIMOSITY IN OUR CONGRESS, LEADING TO PRESSURES FOR ECONOMIC SANCTIONS AGAINST CHILE. GARCIA SOUGHT TO GIVE SOFT AND EVASIVE ANSWERS TO OUR PRESSING QUESTIONS, EMPHASIZING CHILE'S NEED TO ABIDE BY ITS OWN LEGAL PROCESSES IN THE INVESTIGATION OR TREATMENT OF THESE CASES. ON ROJAS, GARCIA SAID THAT THE CASE COULD WELL GO TO A MILITARY COURT AND THEN ON APPEAL BE SENT TO THE SUPREME COURT. THE CHILEANS ALL READILY -- ALBEIT UNCOMFORTABLY -- ACKNOWLEDGED THE SERIOUS DAMAGE THESE CASES HAVE CAUSED TO THE REGIME'S REPUTATION. HOWEVER, AMBASSADOR ERRAZURIZ COULD NOT RESTRAIN HIMSELF FROM CHARGING THAT THE COMMUNISTS, USING THEIR ASSOCIATES CARMEN QUINTANA AND MRS. DENEGRI, ARE CARRYING ON A WORLDWIDE PROPAGANDA CAMPAIGN, USING THE ROJAS CASE -- WHERE THE FACTS ARE STILL DISPUTED -- TO BLACKEN THE GOVERNMENT'S IMAGE. AS FOR LETELIER, IT IS WELL KNOWN THAT THE US GOVERNMENT IN AN "INTELLIGENCE OPERATION" ENTICED FERNANDEZ LARIOS TO THE UNITED STATES AND, PROMISING HIM PROTECTION, ELICITED TESTIMONY TO STIR UP THIS DORMANT CASE AND COMPLICATE BILATERAL RELATIONS AS CHILE WAS MOVING TOWARD ITS CONSTITUTIONALLY MANDATED PLEBISCITE. HIS COMMENTS WERE A SOFTER BUT STILL EVASIVE APPROACH WHICH OFFERED LITTLE PROSPECT OF PROGRESS IN BRINGING TO JUSTICE THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR EITHER CRIME.

4. TOWARD THE END OF LUNCH, WE PRESSED GARCIA AND THE OTHER CHILEANS REGARDING THE OUTLOOK FOR ELECTIONS, QUESTIONS WHICH HAVE BEEN RAISED REGARDING THEIR FAIRNESS

AND THE GOC'S COMMITMENT TO ENSURING A GENUINELY FREE AND OPEN PROCESS. GARCIA THEN LAUNCHED INTO A PERSONAL PLEA FOR GREATER US UNDERSTANDING OF THE NATURE, ACCOMPLISHMENTS AND OBJECTIVES OF THE CHILEAN REGIME, WHICH HE INSISTED ARE COMPATIBLE WITH OUR SHARED WESTERN VALUES AND THE BASIC INTERESTS OF THE UNITED STATES. AMONG OTHER THINGS HE CITED THE GOVERNMENT'S FREE ENTERPRISE ECONOMIC POLICIES, ITS DESIRE TO REESTABLISH DEMOCRACY AS PROVIDED BY THE 1980 CONSTITUTION, ITS OPPOSITION TO COMMUNISM, ITS SUPPORT FOR COMMON FOREIGN POLICY POSITIONS IN THE WORLD AND IN CENTRAL AMERICA AND ITS TRADITIONALLY FRIENDLY RELATIONS WITH THE UNITED STATES. HE ASKED FOR GREATER USG RECOGNITION OF CHILE'S PROGRESS IN HUMAN RIGHTS AND THE STEPS BEING TAKEN TO HOLD A CLEAN PLEBISCITE. HE PROFESSED TO BEING PHILOSOPHICAL ABOUT THE LACK OF US UNDERSTANDING DEMONSTRATED IN THE MEDIA AND THE US CONGRESS BUT EXPRESSED HOPE THAT THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH WITH MORE INFORMATION AND DIRECT

KNOWLEDGE OF THE CHILEAN REALITY WOULD DEMONSTRATE GREATER UNDERSTANDING IN THE IMPORTANT PERIOD WHICH LIES AHEAD. GARCIA SAID THAT HE RECOGNIZES THE TIES WHICH EXIST WITH OPPOSITION GROUPS IN CHILE, BUT WARNED THAT THE US SHOULD CAREFULLY REFLECT IF ITS INTERESTS WOULD REALLY BE SERVED IF THESE GROUPS DID SUCCEED IN WINNING A NO VOTE IN THE PLEBISCITE OR SOMEHOW MANAGE TO TAKE POWER IN CHILE. COULD A COALITION GOVERNMENT STRETCHING FROM THE NUNEZ SOCIALISTS ON THE LEFT THROUGH THE DIVIDED CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATS TO THE SOMEWHAT ERRATIC PERSONALITY OF NATIONAL PARTY LEADER PHILLIPS REPRESENTING CERTAIN CONSERVATIVE GROUPS ON THE RIGHT REALLY PROVIDE A STABLE AND CONSTRUCTIVE ALTERNATIVE TO THE PRESENT REGIME, GARCIA MUSED. AND WHAT, HE ADDED, WOULD BE THE INFLUENCE OF THE FAR LEFT IF AN UNSTABLE COALITION GOVERNMENT OF THIS KIND WERE SOMEHOW TO REACH POWER?

5. GELBARD ASKED FOR GARCIA'S ASSESSMENT OF POLLS IN ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

CHILE, MANY OF WHICH SHOW PRESIDENT PINOCHET WITH ONLY 18-23 PERCENT POPULARITY. EVEN IF THE PRESIDENT WERE TO SOMEHOW DOUBLE HIS CURRENT STRENGTH, HE WOULD FALL FAR SHORT OF THE ABSOLUTE MAJORITY REQUIRED TO WIN A PLEBISCITE. GARCIA RESPONDED THAT POLLS ARE INEXACT AND SUBJECT TO CHANGE AND THAT THE 20 PERCENT CITED IS NOT A TRUE TEST OF PINOCHET'S POTENTIAL ELECTORAL STRENGTH. MUCH WILL DEPEND ON HOW THE YES OR NO QUESTION IN A PLEBISCITE IS POSED AND HOW VOTERS SEE THE ALTERNATIVE TO THE CURRENT GOVERNMENT. MANY CHILEANS, HE ASSERTED, ARE APOLITICAL AND EITHER DISTRUST THE COUNTRY'S MAJOR PARTIES OR ARE UNINTERESTED IN POLITICS. THEY ARE, IN CONTRAST, CONCERNED ABOUT THE ECONOMIC SITUATION, JOBS, EDUCATION, HEALTH, AND OPPOSED TO VIOLENCE. IN 1980 THE REGIME POLLED 67 PERCENT OF THE VOTE IN FAVOR OF THE CONSTITUTION, AND WHEN THE VOTERS ARE AGAIN FACED WITH A CHOICE BETWEEN THE CURRENT GOVERNMENT OR AN UNCERTAIN FUTURE SYMBOLIZED BY A DIVIDED OPPOSITION, GARCIA BELIEVES THE CURRENT POLLING RESULTS WILL PROVE MISLEADING.

6. GELBARD MENTIONED SPECULATION -- SOME OF IT PREVALENT AMONG CERTAIN CENTER RIGHT GROUPS IN CHILE -- THAT IF PINOCHET DECIDES TO RUN AND APPEARS LIKELY TO LOSE THE PLEBISCITE OR RUNS AND LOSES, THERE COULD BE AN AUTO-GOLPE. GARCIA DISCOUNTED SUCH A POSSIBILITY, ASSERTING THAT THE CONSTITUTIONAL PROVISION PROVIDING FOR FREE AND OPEN ELECTIONS WOULD BE FOLLOWED. THE ARMED FORCES WOULD NOT PERMIT AN AUTO-GOLPE, HE IMPLIED.

BILATERAL WITH THE SECRETARY, TOOK A SOFT NON-CONFRONTATIONAL APPROACH TO THE SERIOUS DIFFERENCES IN OUR RELATIONSHIP. HE SOUGHT TO STRESS CHILE'S DESIRE TO RETURN TO DEMOCRACY (ALBEIT AS INTERPRETED IN THE 1980 CONSTITUTION) ITS DESIRE TO IMPROVE HUMAN RIGHTS AND ITS COMMITMENT TO HOLD A CLEAN AND FAIR PLEBISCITE. HIS APPROACH CONTRASTED SHARPLY WITH THAT OF AMBASSADOR ERRAZURIZ WHO COULD NOT CONTAIN HIMSELF FROM OCCASIONALLY MAKING SHARP COMMENTS, PARTICULARLY IN REFERENCE TO THE FERNANDEZ LARIOS AND ROJAS CASES REGARDING ALLEGED ATTEMPTS TO CREATE TENSIONS IN US-CHILEAN RELATIONS AS THE TIME APPROACHES TO SELECT A CANDIDATE FOR THE 1988 PLEBISCITE. GARCIA WENT OUT OF HIS WAY TO PROJECT AN IMAGE OF MODERATION AND REASONABLENESS, RESPONDING TO ALL QUESTIONS WITH A POSITIVE EVEN IF EVASIVE, APPROACH. HE CONSISTENTLY STRESSED THE NEED FOR GREATER US UNDERSTANDING OF CHILE'S COMPLEX POLITICAL REALITY AND THE DANGERS THAT AN IDEOLOGICALLY HETEROGENEOUS OPPOSITION'S RETURN TO POWER COULD POSE FOR WESTERN INTERESTS IN CHILE. ALTHOUGH HE COULD NOT EASILY SELL A DEFECTIVE BRIEF, GARCIA PROVED TO BE A SMOOTHER AND MORE ADROIT INTERNATIONAL SALESMAN THAN HIS PREDECESSOR, FOREIGN SHULTZ

Your Excellency:

I am writing out of concern about the continued imprisonment of DR. JUAN MACAYA, a pediatrician who has worked with the Vicaria de la Solidaridad of the Catholic Church.

Dr. Macaya is one of four professionals who have been imprisoned for nearly a year for assisting a man injured in a confrontation with the police. Amnesty International has investigated the case and concluded that there is no evidence that Dr. Macaya was "assisting an armed group" as charged.

We believe Dr. Macaya to be a prisoner of conscience, detained because of his professional activities as a physician; we urge you to release him immediately and unconditionally.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

THE CONSTITUTION CALLS FOR ELECTION BY UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE OF A ONE-TERM PRESIDENT, A UNICAMERAL CONGRESS (116 MEMBERS), AND MUNICIPAL OFFICERS; IT MANDATES AN INDEPENDENT JUDICIARY AND A HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN, WHO REPORTS TO CONGRESS. JORGE SERRANO WON THE JANUARY 6 ROUND OF PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS WITH 68 PERCENT OF THE VOTE, TAKING OFFICE JANUARY 14. SEVERAL HUNDRED FOREIGN

OBSERVERS AND JOURNALISTS MONITORED THE ELECTIONS, FINDING THEM FREE, FAIR, AND GENUINE.

THE 44,000-MAN ARMY HAS RESPONSIBILITY FOR NATIONAL SECURITY AND HAS FOUGHT A FOREIGN-BACKED LEFTIST INSURGENCY FOR 31 YEARS. THE ARMY INCLUDES A 3,000-MAN MOBILE MILITARY POLICE (PMA) THAT GUARDS KEY FACILITIES AND HAS A LIMITED ANTI-CRIME ROLE. THE NATIONAL POLICE (8,800 MEN) AND THE TREASURY POLICE (1,900) REPORT TO THE INTERIOR MINISTER, A CIVILIAN. ABOUT 500,000 MEN IN "VOLUNTARY CIVIL DEFENSE COMMITTEES" (CVDC), MORE COMMONLY CALLED "CIVIL SELF-DEFENSE PATROLS" (PAC), PERFORM ANTI-GUERRILLA AND LAW-AND-ORDER SUPPORT ROLES IN AND AROUND VILLAGES IN NORTH, CENTRAL, AND WESTERN GUATEMALA AND ARE ORIENTED TOWARD CIVIL DISASTER RELIEF IN NON-CONFLICTIVE EASTERN DEPARTMENTS.

SERRANO INHERITED AN ECONOMY WITH HIGH INFLATION AND A BADLY DECAYED INFRASTRUCTURE, INCLUDING A NEARLY

DESTROYED PUBLIC HEALTH CARE SYSTEM. IN ITS FIRST MONTHS, HIS GOVERNMENT TOOK MAJOR STRIDES TO COMBAT INFLATION, STABILIZE EXCHANGE RATES, LOWER INTEREST RATES, AND START THE TOUGH TASKS OF REPAIRING THE INFRASTRUCTURE AND UNDERTAKING ECONOMIC AND FISCAL REFORMS. THIS INCLUDES OVERHAULING THE TAX SYSTEM AND ESTABLISHING A MORE LIBERAL TRADE REGIME. THE NEW ADMINISTRATION REDUCED CORRUPTION BY PUBLIC OFFICIALS AND BEGAN TO INVESTIGATE PAST GRAFT. THE ECONOMY GREW AT A REAL RATE OF 3.2 PERCENT. DIRECT PEACE TALKS BETWEEN GOVERNMENT AND GUERRILLAS CONTINUED AT A SLOW BUT REGULAR PACE.

PRESIDENT SERRANO AND SENIOR OFFICIALS, IN PARTICULAR ATTORNEY GENERAL VALLADARES AND INTERIOR MINISTER HURTADO, HAVE TAKEN WELCOME AND ENCOURAGING FIRST STEPS TO ENSURE RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS. IN HIS INAUGURAL ADDRESS, SERRANO VOWED TO END THE IMPUNITY OF RIGHTS VIOLATORS. VALLADARES REOPENED THE INVESTIGATION INTO THE 1990 MYRNA MACK MURDER CASE, OBTAINING AN ARREST WARRANT FOR A SUSPECT TIED TO THE MILITARY STAFF OF FORMER PRESIDENT CEREZO. THERE WERE ALSO POSITIVE MOVES TOWARDS RESOLVING SOME KILLINGS BY PAC. IN JULY, THE

GOVERNMENT ACKNOWLEGED THAT OVER 31,000 ARREST WARRANTS REMAINED OUTSTANDING AND VOWED POLICE WOULD ACT ON THEM. IN AUGUST, SERRANO ANNOUNCED THE CREATION OF A CABINET-LEVEL HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION TO ADVISE HIM AND RESPOND TO REPORTS OF VIOLATIONS. OVER 1600 POLICEMEN WERE DISCHARGED FOR A VARIETY OF ABUSES. EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS AND DISAPPEARANCES DECLINED SLIGHTLY FROM

PAGE 04 GUATEM 10605 01 OF 10 211711Z
1990. TWO ARMY PERSONNEL, INCLUDING AN OFFICER, ARRESTED FOR THE 1990 SANTIAGO ATITLAN MASSACRE WERE CONVICTED AND SENTENCED TO PRISON. THE MAIN POSITIVE CHANGE FROM THE RECENT PAST WAS A GREATER WILLINGNESS BY GUATEMALANS TO DISCUSS VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS. HUMAN RIGHTS BECAME AN OPEN, LEGITIMATE, AND IMPORTANT TOPIC FOR MEDIA, POLITICIANS, AND PUBLIC. THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN EXPANDED HIS ACTIVITIES; THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE BECAME A MAJOR HUMAN RIGHTS VOICE. THERE WAS MUCH MORE INFORMATION AVAILABLE IN 1991 THAN IN PRIOR YEARS.

DESPITE THESE WELCOME SIGNS, SECURITY FORCE PERSONNEL CONTINUED TO COMMIT SERIOUS ABUSES WITH IMPUNITY. ABUSES INCLUDED EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS, TORTURE, AND DISAPPEARANCES, MAINLY OF PEOPLE THOUGHT TO BE GUERRILLA BACKERS. GUERRILLAS ALSO COMMITTED MAJOR VIOLATIONS: KILLING POLICE, SUMMARY EXECUTIONS, KIDNAPINGS, FORCED LABOR AND RECRUITMENT, WIDE USE OF MINES AND OTHER

EXPLOSIVES, AND USE OF CHILDREN IN COMBAT. MANY CASES IN WHICH THE UNITED STATES EXPRESSED INTEREST REMAINED UNSOLVED, SUCH AS: THE 1985 DISAPPEARANCES OF U.S. CITIZENS BLAKE AND DAVIS; THE 1989 KIDNAPINGS OF SEVERAL CERJ (RUNUNEL JUNAM COUNCIL OF ETHNIC COMMUNITIES) MEMBERS AND THE DISAPPEARANCES AND MURDERS OF UNIVERSITY [redacted]

THERE IS EVIDENCE THAT THE ARMY HIGH COMMAND, DESPITE PRESIDENT SERRANO'S EFFORTS, CONTINUES TO IMPEDE A THOROUGH INVESTIGATION INTO THE 1990 MURDER OF AMERICAN CITIZEN MICHAEL DEVINE. BECAUSE OF A LACK OF SUFFICIENT PROGRESS ON HUMAN RIGHTS IN GUATEMALA, THE U.S. HAS NOT RESUMED ITS MILITARY AID PROGRAM, SUSPENDED SINCE DECEMBER 1990.

A. POLITICAL AND OTHER EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLING

MEDIA AND OTHER REPORTS INDICATED THE 1991 MURDER TOLL TO BE HIGHER THAN THE OFFICIAL FIGURES OF 1800 -2000. WHILE COMMON CRIME CAUSED THE VAST MAJORITY OF VIOLENT DEATHS, THE NUMBER OF EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS, THOUGH FEWER THAN IN 1990, WAS SIGNIFICANT. THE JANUARY-JUNE 1991 REPORT BY THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN LISTED 321

COMPLAINTS OF EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS (COMPARED TO 588 FOR ALL 1990). OF THOSE, THE OMBUDSMAN RULED THAT 33 WERE NOT EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS OR OTHERWISE FELL OUTSIDE HIS MANDATE. OF THE 288 REMAINING, HE FOUND THAT 116 WERE EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS WITH 172 UNDER INVESTIGATION AT THE TIME OF THE REPORT'S PUBLICATION. THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE REPORTED 301 EXTRAJUDICIAL EXECUTIONS FOR THE SAME PERIOD; A LOCAL HUMAN RIGHTS GROUP, THE MUTUAL SUPPORT GROUP (GAM), REPORTED 547 "POLITICAL KILLINGS," BUT DID NOT DEFINE THE TERM. WHILE THE OMBUDSMAN HAD COMPLAINTS OF EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS BY GUERRILLAS, IT SEEMS THAT PERSONS PROTECTED BY THE ARMY, SUCH AS THE PAC, COMMITTED MOST OF THE RECORDED EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS. MANY WERE IN AREAS OF GOVERNMENT-GUERRILLA CONFLICT. VICTIMS GENERALLY WERE RURAL INDIGENOUS PEOPLE SUSPECTED OF BACKING THE GUERRILLAS. IN ADDITION, THERE WAS EVIDENCE OF VIGILANTE KILLINGS OF SUSPECTED CRIMINALS: IN MARCH AND AUGUST SEVERAL MEN WERE FOUND HANDS TIED, EACH KILLED BY A SHOT TO THE HEAD. POLICE AND OTHER SECURITY AGENTS ARE THOUGHT TO HAVE TAKEN PART IN THESE TYPES OF ACTS.

OFFICIAL ANTI-CRIME OR COUNTERINSURGENCY POLICIES DO NOT INCLUDE EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS. HOWEVER, WITH A FEW EXCEPTIONS, AUTHORITIES DO NOT PROPERLY INVESTIGATE AND PROSECUTE SUCH ACTS. THE OMBUDSMAN, THE ATTORNEY GENERAL, AND RIGHTS GROUPS HAVE FOUND UNAMBIGUOUS

EYEWITNESS AND PHYSICAL EVIDENCE OF KILLINGS BY THE PAC; SEVERAL "CLANDESTINE" CEMETERIES WERE FOUND CONTAINING

SUMMARILY EXECUTED VICTIMS, SOME SHOWING SIGNS OF TORTURE. THE ARMY OFTEN FAILS TO COOPERATE WITH POLICE, COURTS, AND PROSECUTORS IN BRINGING TO JUSTICE ARMY PERSONNEL INVOLVED IN ABUSES. THIS IS PARTICULARLY EVIDENT IN THE STALLED INVESTIGATION OF THE 1990 MURDER OF AMERICAN CITIZEN MICHAEL DEVINE.

IN JANUARY, GUNMEN KILLED ESCUINTLA MAYOR MARCO TULIO COLLADO; HE HAD A HISTORY OF RECEIVING THREATS. RELATIVES BLAMED "RIGHT-WING EXTREMISTS." JUAN PEREBAL AND TWO SONS, ALL REPORTEDLY MEMBERS OF CERJ, WERE SHOT NEAR CHUNIMA (QUICHE DEPARTMENT) IN FEBRUARY. ONE SON, BADLY HURT, LIVED AND IDENTIFIED THE ATTACKERS AS MANUEL PEREBAL AJTZALAM AND MANUEL XON LARES, FORMER PAC LEADERS. THE VICTIMS PREVIOUSLY NAMED THE TWO AS INVOLVED IN THE 1990 KIDNAPING OF SEBASTIAN VELASQUEZ MEJIA, ANOTHER APPARENT CERJ MEMBER LATER FOUND DEAD (SEE THE 1990 REPORT). THE TWO EX-PAC LEADERS HAD OVER 10 OUTSTANDING ARREST WARRANTS. PRAISEWORTHY EFFORTS BY POLICE TO ARREST THEM FAILED WHEN ARMED CIVIL PATROLLERS INTERVENED. DUE TO PRESSURES BROUGHT BY PRESIDENT SERRANO, IN JULY BOTH SURRENDERED AND JUDICIAL

1985 SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC PARTY VICE-PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE LUIS ZURITA, FLED ABROAD. THE KILLERS CLEARLY MEANT TO ABORT THE PGU--A GROUP MANY OFFICERS SAW AS A GUERRILLA FRONT. IN MAY, TWO MEN KILLED ACTIVE-DUTY GENERAL AND FORMER DEFENSE ATTACHE TO THE UNITED STATES, ANACLETO MAZA. REPORTS INDICATE MAZA WAS ABOUT TO REVEAL INFORMATION CONCERNING CORRUPTION IN THE ARMY COMMISSARY AND CORRUPT ACTS BY GOVERNMENT OFFICERS INVOLVED WITH THE NATIONAL AIRLINE. IN JUNE, ARMED MEN KILLED OSCAR OSWALDO LUNA, A MEMBER OF THE SAN CARLOS UNIVERSITY (USAC) MAINTENANCE WORKERS' UNION. HE HAD TAKEN PART IN A BITTER STRIKE IN WHICH USAC OFFICIALS WERE HELD HOSTAGE. PRESIDENT SERRANO ORDERED THAT THE KILLING BE THOROUGHLY INVESTIGATED; NO RESULTS WERE AVAILABLE AT YEAR'S END. ALSO IN JUNE, GENARO CABRERA GOMEZ, A GUERRILLA WHO ACCEPTED AMNESTY, WAS FOUND DEAD: HIS BODY SHOWED SIGNS OF TORTURE. ACCORDING TO PRESS REPORTS,

HIS BODY BORE A NOTE STATING GUERRILLAS KILLED HIM FOR "TREASON." JULIO QUEVEDO, AN AGRONOMIST IN QUICHE WITH THE CATHOLIC CHARITABLE ORGANIZATION CARITAS, WAS KILLED IN JULY. THE ARCHBISHOP CALLED THE KILLING POLITICAL AND TIED IT TO THE 1990 MURDER OF MYRNA MACK; LATER INFORMATION SHOWED THE CRIME MIGHT HAVE HAD PERSONAL MOTIVES. A CRIME WHICH MIGHT BE LINKED TO THE MACK CASE WAS THE AUGUST MURDER OF POLICE HOMICIDES INVESTIGATION CHIEF JOSE LUIS MERIDA, WHO HANDLED--AMONG OTHER TASKS--THE INVESTIGATION INTO MACK'S DEATH. TWO ARRESTS FOLLOWED. IN A TELEVISED STATEMENT, ONE OF THOSE ACCUSED SAID HE ACTED FROM PERSONAL MOTIVES; OTHER RELIABLE INFORMATION LENT CREDIBILITY TO THAT EXPLANATION. RELATIVES OF LORENZO PEREBAL AND ANDRES

LOPIX, SOLOLA MILITARY COMMISSIONERS (CIVILIAN ARMY EMPLOYEES WHOSE MAIN JOB IS TO ENSURE COMPLIANCE WITH THE DRAFT), SAID GUERRILLAS KIDNAPED AND MURDERED BOTH MEN IN OCTOBER.

A COURT IN MARCH SENTENCED FOUR POLICEMEN TO LONG PRISON TERMS FOR THE 1990 BEATING DEATH OF "STREET CHILD" NAHAMON CARMONA LOPEZ. A HIGHER COURT, HOWEVER, FOUND ERRORS IN SENTENCING; AS 1991 ENDED, THE CASE REMAINED UNDER REVIEW. IN JUNE, POLICE ARRESTED FIVE PAC MEMBERS IN ALTA VERAPAZ FOR THE DEATH THAT SAME MONTH OF DOMINGO XE--A RARE EXAMPLE OF SWIFT ISSUANCE AND EXECUTION OF A WARRANT. FORMER PAC LEADER SANTOS COJ WAS ARRESTED IN JUNE FOR KILLING 8 PERSONS IN THE EARLY 1980'S; THE WARRANT AGAINST HIM WAS ISSUED IN 1989. AS A RESULT OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL'S EFFORTS ON THE MACK CASE, IN JUNE AN ARREST WARRANT WENT OUT FOR NOEL BETETA ALVAREZ, SUSPECTED OF STABBING MACK. AT THE TIME OF MACK'S DEATH, BETETA HAD WORKED FOR THE PRESIDENTIAL MILITARY STAFF OF THE PRIOR ADMINISTRATION IN ITS "ARCHIVES" SECTION. BETETA HAS NOT BEEN FOUND AND MIGHT NO LONGER BE IN GUATEMALA. THE AUGUST DISCOVERY OF ELEVEN TORTURE AND MURDER VICTIMS, LED TO THE QUICK ARREST OF SEVEN NAVY PERSONNEL, INCLUDING THE COMMANDER OF THE PACIFIC NAVAL BASE. THE STRONG INITIAL REACTION BY THE PRESIDENT, THE ATTORNEY GENERAL, AND THE MINISTER OF DEFENSE DREW PRAISE FOR THE ADMINISTRATION FROM NUMEROUS FOREIGN GOVERNMENTS, INCLUDING THAT OF THE U.S. THE VICTIMS APPARENTLY BELONGED TO A CONTRABAND RING. AS 1991 ENDED, THE CASE WAS IN COURT. THE CASE AGAINST TWO POLICEMEN ACCUSED OF INVOLVEMENT IN THE 1990 DEATHS OF FOUR "STREET CHILDREN" CONTINUED IN COURT. IN OCTOBER, THE ATTORNEY GENERAL REAFFIRMED HIS INTENTION TO CONTINUE THE GOVERNMENT'S APPEAL AGAINST THE COURT'S 1990 DISMISSAL OF THE CONVICTIONS OF SIX QUETZALTENANGO POLICEMEN FOR THE 1986 KIDNAP AND MURDER OF TWO STUDENTS.

B. DISAPPEARANCE

THE OMBUDSMAN'S MID-YEAR REPORT STATED THAT IN THE FIRST HALF OF 1991 HE HAD 161 COMPLAINTS OF DISAPPEARANCES (COMPARED TO 350 FOR ALL 1990). OF THESE, 80 WERE RULED "POLITICALLY MOTIVATED"; 19 WERE RESOLVED BY THE REAPPEARANCE OF VICTIMS (14 ALIVE AND 5 DEAD). OF THE OTHER "POLITICAL" CASES, 27 WERE RULED "FORCED DISAPPEARANCES" AND 34 WERE UNDER REVIEW AT THE TIME OF THE REPORT'S PUBLICATION. OF THE 81 DISAPPEARANCES "FOR OTHER THAN POLITICAL REASONS," 26 WERE RESOLVED BY THE REAPPEARANCE OF THE VICTIM (24 ALIVE AND 2 DEAD); THE

IN RESPONSE TO DEMANDS FOR AN INVESTIGATION INTO THOUSANDS OF REPORTED DISAPPEARANCES OVER THE PAST DECADE, PRESIDENT SERRANO PROMISED TO NAME A COMMISSION WITH GAM AS A MEMBER. AFTER FALLING OUT WITH GAM OVER ITS BACKING OF A RESOLUTION AT THE UN COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS, SERRANO DECLINED TO FORM THE COMMISSION. THE OMBUDSMAN TOOK ON THE JOB, ASSIGNING GAM AND OTHER GROUPS ADVISORY ROLES. GAM DEMANDED CONGRESS FORM A COMMISSION TO INCLUDE THE ATTORNEY GENERAL AND HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS AS MEMBERS. CHAIRMAN OF THE CONGRESSIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION ANDRES GIRON PROMISED TO PUSH THE BILL; CONGRESS HAD NOT ACTED AT YEAR END.

IN APRIL, CERJ LEADER AMILCAR MENDEZ REPORTED A KIDNAP ATTEMPT IN GUATEMALA CITY IN WHICH MEN TRIED TO DRAG HIM FROM HIS CAR INTO ANOTHER VEHICLE, DESISTING WHEN A CROWD GATHERED; NO CONFIRMATION OF THIS REPORT WAS FOUND. IN MAY, CERJ MEMBER MIGUEL SUCUQUI ALSO CLAIMED

UNCLASSIFIED

A BOTCHED KIDNAP ATTEMPT BY A LOCAL PAC. ACCORDING TO WITNESSES, A REPORTED MEMBER OF CERJ, FELIPE LOPEZ MENDOZA, WAS TAKEN IN JUNE BY TWO MEN NEAR SANTA CRUZ DEL QUICHE; NO RECORD OF HIS ARREST OR DETENTION WAS EVER FOUND. ALSO IN JUNE, YOLANDA FIGUEROA, A LEADER IN THE CUSTOM WORKERS UNION, WAS THE INTENDED VICTIM OF A KIDNAPING. A TREASURY POLICEMAN FOILED THE CRIME, WOUNDING TWO ASSAILANTS; THE INTERIOR MINISTER PUBLICLY PRAISED THE POLICEMAN.

C. TORTURE AND OTHER CRUEL, INHUMAN, OR DEGRADING TREATMENT OR PUNISHMENT

AS IN PAST YEARS, MANY BODIES FOUND THROUGHOUT GUATEMALA BORE SIGNS OF TORTURE OR POSTMORTEM MUTILATION. SUCH TREATMENT, HOWEVER, IS NOT NECESSARILY EVIDENCE OF SECURITY FORCE INVOLVEMENT: GANGS AND OTHER CRIMINALS, AS WELL AS GUERRILLAS, ALL USE TORTURE. THERE WERE, NEVERTHELESS, CREDIBLE REPORTS OF TORTURE AND MISTREATMENT BY SECURITY FORCES.

WHILE PRISON CONDITIONS REMAINED HARSH, CONFIRMED REPORTS OF TORTURE OF PERSONS IN OFFICIAL DETENTION REMAINED RARE. IN APRIL, POLICE IN CHIQUIMULA ARRESTED EX-SECRETARY GENERAL OF THE ELECTRIC WORKERS' UNION OTTO IVAN RODRIGUEZ, CLAIMING HE BELONGED TO A CAR THEFT RING. THEY BEAT HIM, NEARLY BLINDING HIM IN ONE EYE. THE ABUSE ENDED WHEN A JUDGE HAD RODRIGUEZ TAKEN FROM THE LOCAL JAIL TO ONE IN GUATEMALA CITY. THERE HE GOT MEDICAL TREATMENT. HE WAS FREED APRIL 25 AND LEFT GUATEMALA. REPORTEDLY RODRIGUEZ'S ARREST AND ABUSE WAS ORDERED BY POWERFUL LOCAL CONGRESSMAN CHINCHILLA VEGA (ALSO IMPLICATED IN THE 1990 DEATH OF CONGRESSMAN OTTO RUANO; SEE 1990 DEPARTMENT OF STATE HUMAN RIGHTS REPORT) AS REVENGE FOR RODRIGUEZ'S WORK AGAINST HIM IN THE ELECTIONS. ANOTHER REPORTED CASE OF ABUSE IN OFFICIAL DETENTION WAS THAT OF MESSRS. ROSALES, TRUJILLO, AND CASTILLO WHO WERE ARRESTED IN AUGUST ON SUSPICION OF MULTIPLE MURDERS. REPRESENTATIVES OF THE ARCHBISHOP'S HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICE VISITED THE PRISONERS AND CONFIRMED THEY WERE ABUSED, PRAISED THE JUDGE WHO ORDERED POLICE TO MAKE THEM AVAILABLE FOR INTERVIEWS, AND ACCUSED THE NATIONAL POLICE OF SERIOUS HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS. JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS WERE BEGUN AGAINST THE POLICE OFFICERS THOUGHT TO BE INVOLVED IN THE TORTURE.

A CREDIBLE REPORT OF TORTURE WAS GIVEN BY JULIO CHUALCUBEN, KIDNAPED DECEMBER 16, 1990. FOUND NEAR DEATH ON A RURAL HIGHWAY 10 DAYS LATER AND TAKEN TO A HOSPITAL, HE REMAINED SEMI-COMATOSE UNTIL JUNE. AFTER AWAKENING, HE DID NOT HAVE USE OF VOICE, LEGS, AND RIGHT ARM. HE DESCRIBED HIS ORDEAL BY WRITING WITH HIS LEFT HAND. ACCORDING TO HIS ACCOUNT, MILITARY COMMISSIONERS ACCUSED HIM OF BEING A GUERRILLA AND TOOK HIM TO SOLOLA'S ARMY BASE. HE WAS INTERROGATED, TORTURED, AND LEFT FOR DEAD. BASE OFFICERS IGNORED WRITS OF HABEAS CORPUS PRESENTED ON HIS BEHALF. ONCE THE CASE BECAME KNOWN, OFFICIALS QUICKLY ISSUED TRAVEL DOCUMENTS FOR HIM TO GET TREATMENT IN THE UNITED STATES. THERE IS NO INFORMATION AVAILABLE ON WHAT MAY HAVE BEEN DONE TO

IN MARCH, THE OMBUDSMAN CHARGED ABUSE AT AN ARMY BASE NEAR IZABAL; THREE REPORTED VICTIMS, AND OTHER PEOPLE IN THE AREA, SAID THE BASE COMMANDER AND MILITARY COMMISSIONERS SOUGHT TO PUSH THEM OFF LAND WANTED BY A LOCAL FIRM. THE OMBUDSMAN ASKED THE DEFENSE MINISTER TO INVESTIGATE; THE COMMANDER WAS [redacted]

THE GOVERNMENT UNDERTOOK STEPS TO END POLICE ABUSE OF STREET CHILDREN AND TO RESOLVE THE CASE OF THE ALLEGED NOVEMBER 1989 KIDNAPING, RAPE, AND TORTURE OF OF AMERICAN NUN SISTER DIANA M. ORTIZ. THE NEW POLICE DIRECTOR ON SEVERAL OCCASIONS MADE CLEAR HE WOULD NOT TOLERATE ABUSE OF STREET CHILDREN; REPORTS OF SUCH INCIDENTS DECLINED IN 1991. THE ATTORNEY GENERAL APPOINTED A SPECIAL PROSECUTOR AND A SPECIAL INVESTIGATOR TO LOOK INTO THE SR. ORTIZ CASE. THE INVESTIGATOR TRAVELED TO KENTUCKY TO SPEAK TO SR. ORTIZ BUT WAS REFUSED. SR. ORTIZ DID SPEAK TO A DEPUTY OMBUDSMAN BUT AS OF THIS WRITING HAS REFUSED TO ANSWER QUESTIONS OR IDENTIFY PHOTOGRAPHS AS REQUESTED BY THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN AND THE SPECIAL INVESTIGATOR.

D. ARBITRARY ARREST, DETENTION, OR EXILE

UNCLASSIFIED

AN ARREST WARRANT IS REQUIRED UNLESS A PERSON IS CAUGHT COMMITTING A CRIME. POLICE MAY NOT KEEP A SUSPECT FOR OVER 6 HOURS WITHOUT BRINGING HIM TO A JUDGE. THE LAW PROVIDES FOR BAIL, ACCESS TO LAWYERS, AND LIMITS TO 20 DAYS THE TIME ANYONE MAY BE HELD, AFTER WHICH HE MUST BE CHARGED OR FREED. AUTHORITIES MUST PRODUCE DETAINEES ON REQUEST. EXILE IS NOT USED. DESPITE THESE SAFEGUARDS, CREDIBLE REPORTS EXIST OF ARBITRARY ARREST AND

INCOMMUNICADO DETENTION BY SECURITY FORCES (SEE 1 A AND B). OBVIOUSLY, THOSE ENGAGED IN ILLEGAL DETENTIONS IGNORE WRITS OF HABEAS CORPUS. SEVERAL GUATEMALANS HAD TO GO ABROAD FOR SAFETY. THERE WAS RELIABLE EVIDENCE OF DETENTIONS BY GUERRILLAS, PARTICULARLY IN GUERRILLA-RUN CPR VILLAGES (POPULAR COMMUNITIES IN RESISTANCE; TOTAL POPULATION OF 8,000-10,000). GUERRILLAS FORCED CPR RESIDENTS TO TAKE PART IN PATROLS SIMILAR TO PAC. GUERRILLAS OPERATING NEAR THE CAPITAL WERE ALSO REPORTED IN OCTOBER TO HAVE TAKEN SEVERAL CIVILIAN HOSTAGES.

E. DENIAL OF FAIR PUBLIC TRIAL

NO POLITICAL PRISONERS ARE KNOWN TO EXIST. THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES FOR AN INDEPENDENT JUDICIARY COMPRISED OF A COURT OF CONSTITUTIONALITY, A SUPREME COURT, APPEALS COURTS, AND SEVERAL COURTS OF SPECIAL JURISDICTION, SUCH AS LABOR COURTS. MILITARY COURTS HAVE JURISDICTION OVER MILITARY PERSONNEL, INCLUDING MILITARY COMMISSIONERS BUT NOT MEMBERS OF THE PAC. CIVILIAN TRIALS ARE PUBLIC; DEFENDANTS HAVE THE RIGHT TO BE PRESENT AND TO LEGAL REPRESENTATION. AN APPEALS COURT AUTOMATICALLY REVIEWS CONVICTIONS. THE JUDICIAL BRANCH REMAINS TROUBLED AND INEFFECTIVE. REFORM EFFORTS HAVE SO FAR BEEN UNSUCCESSFUL. JUDGES ARE SUSCEPTIBLE TO INTIMIDATION AND CORRUPTION, SUFFER LOW PAY, BAD WORKING CONDITIONS, AND LOW MORALE. IN OCTOBER, THE CHIEF JUSTICE OF THE SUPREME COURT DENOUNCED PRESSURE ON JUDGES BY ARMY OFFICERS IN RURAL AREAS. UN HUMAN RIGHTS

PAGE 04 GUATEM 10605 05 OF 10 211714Z

EXPERT TOMUSCHAT ECHOED THOSE CHARGES. THE LEGAL SYSTEM IS CUMBERSOME AND VERY COMPLEX, CHARACTERIZED BY LENGTHY AND NUMEROUS APPEALS AND CHALLENGES. IT IS DIFFICULT TO OBTAIN ACCURATE INFORMATION ON THE STATUS OF CASES. AS MENTIONED (1.A), ONE ACCUSED IN THE MERIDA KILLING MADE A TELEVISED CONFESSION, RAISING DOUBTS ABOUT DUE PROCESS.

F. ARBITRARY INTERFERENCE WITH PRIVACY, FAMILY, HOME, OR CORRESPONDENCE

THE CONSTITUTION PROVIDES FOR INVIOLABILITY OF HOME, CORRESPONDENCE, AND PRIVATE DOCUMENTS; PROVISIONS WHICH ARE NOT ALWAYS RESPECTED. ARMY INTELLIGENCE UNITS ARE THOUGHT TO HAVE AND USE THE ABILITY TO MONITOR PRIVATE COMMUNICATIONS. IN ADDITION, ENFORCING THE CONSTITUTIONALLY-ALLOWED MILITARY DRAFT AT TIMES INVOLVED ENTERING HOMES AND PLACES OF BUSINESS WITHOUT COURT ORDERS.

THE CONSTITUTION DECLARES PAC SERVICE AS VOLUNTARY. WHILE IN MOST AREAS WHERE PAC STILL EXIST THEY SEEM VOLUNTARY, RELIABLE EVIDENCE EXISTS THAT THE DEGREE OF

G. USE OF EXCESSIVE FORCE AND VIOLATIONS OF HUMANITARIAN LAW IN INTERNAL CONFLICTS

DESPITE PRESIDENT SERRRANO'S STRONG COMMITMENT TO ENDING THE INTERNAL ARMED CONFLICT AND THE START OF DIRECT TALKS BETWEEN THE GOVERNMENT AND THE GUERRILLAS, THAT CONFLICT ENTERED ITS 31ST YEAR AND CONTINUED TO BE THE PRINCIPAL CAUSE OF MAJOR HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS IN GUATEMALA. CHARGES CONTINUED OF INDISCRIMINATE ARMY "CARPET BOMBINGS" AND ARTILLERY BARRAGES. GIVEN THE SMALL, TIGHTLY CONTROLLED AERIAL AND ARTILLERY ASSETS OF THE ARMY THESE CHARGES ARE NOT CREDIBLE. IN OCTOBER, THE PRESS REPORTED AN AERIAL ATTACK ON A CPR NAMED CABA JUST PRIOR TO THE SCHEDULED VISIT OF UN HUMAN RIGHTS EXPERT TOMUSCHAT. SUBSEQUENT INFORMATION, HOWEVER, SHOWED THE FIRING WAS NOT AIMED AT CABA, BUT WAS IN RESPONSE TO GUERRILLAS 3 KILOMETERS AWAY WHO HAD FIRED ON AN ARMY HELICOPTER.

LITTLE INFORMATION EXISTS ON THE FATE OF MANY CAPTURED

GUERRILLAS; THERE WERE, HOWEVER, PUBLICIZED REPORTS OF DEFECTORS BEING WELL RECEIVED. IN OCTOBER, THE ARMY CHARGED GUERRILLAS SUMMARILY EXECUTED FOUR WOUNDED SOLDIERS; THE REPORT WAS PLAUSIBLE, BUT WITHOUT INDEPENDENT CONFIRMATION. UNCONFIRMED REPORTS TELL OF GUERRILLA ABUSE OF CAPTURED ARMY PERSONNEL. GUERRILLAS HIT ECONOMIC TARGETS, SUCH AS POWER LINES, HIGHWAYS, AND CIVILIAN VEHICLES. THEY USED CHILDREN AS YOUNG AS 12 IN

COMBAT AND AS YOUNG AS 7 IN NON-COMBAT ROLES, E.G., LOOK-OUTS, COURIERS, ETC. THEY ALSO MADE WIDE USE OF LAND MINES AND OTHER EXPLOSIVES, INCLUDING "PAMPHLET BOMBS," ONE OF WHICH INJURED A GIRL AT THE CAPITAL'S ZOO. IN FEBRUARY, THE "GUERRILLA ARMY OF THE POOR" (EGP) IN NORTHERN QUICHE ATTACKED A 13-MAN PAC, KILLING 10 AND WOUNDING 3. THE EGP CLAIMED THE MEN WERE A "KAIBIL" (SPECIAL FORCES) UNIT. THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN, WHO BARELY ESCAPED INJURY WHEN HIS HELICOPTER TOOK GUERRILLA FIRE, VISITED THE SITE. WITNESSES SAID THE EGP HAD CAUGHT THE LIGHTLY ARMED PAC IN AN WELL-LAID AMBUSH AND SUMMARILY EXECUTED SOME WOUNDED. THE OMBUDSMAN'S REPORT FOUND THAT THE EGP VIOLATED INTERNATIONAL HUMANITARIAN LAW. IN MARCH, GUERRILLAS AMBUSHED A POLICE CAR ESCORTING A BICYCLE RACE IN SOLOLA; BOTH OCCUPANTS DIED AND THE CAR WAS SET AFIRE. GUERRILLAS KILLED TWO MORE POLICEMEN IN NUEVA VINAS IN JULY. THIS LED TO A PUBLIC OUTCRY; IN AUGUST, GUERRILLAS PROMISED THEY WOULD NO LONGER TARGET POLICEMEN AND NO MORE ATTACKS HAVE TAKEN PLACE.

IN MARCH, POLICE DISLODGED SQUATTERS ON A PACIFIC COAST ESTATE, "FINCA OLGA MARIA". A WOMAN WAS KILLED AND SEVERAL OTHER PERSONS, INCLUDING POLICE, WERE HURT. THREE FOREIGNERS OF THE PEACE BRIGADES WERE ARRESTED AND HAD TO LEAVE GUATEMALA. THE OMBUDSMAN CHARGED POLICE USED PREMEDITATED LETHAL FORCE AND ACTED WITHOUT A JUDICIAL ORDER. POLICE DENIED THE CHARGES AND CLAIMED NOT TO NEED AN ORDER AS A "CRIME WAS IN PROGRESS." A POLICE OFFICIAL NAMED BY THE OMBUDSMAN AS HAVING KILLED

THE WOMAN WAS REMOVED FROM HIS POST BY THE INTERIOR MINISTER AND JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS WERE INITIATED.

IN OCTOBER, A MILITARY TRIBUNAL SENTENCED AN ARMY SERGEANT TO 16 YEARS IN PRISON AND A LIEUTENANT TO 4 YEARS FOR THEIR ROLES IN THE DECEMBER 2, 1990 SANTIAGO ATITLAN MASSACRE IN WHICH 13 PERSONS WERE KILLED (SEE 1990 REPORT). WHILE HAILING THE CONVICTIONS AS AN IMPORTANT VICOTRY IN THE BATTLE AGAINST IMPUNITY, THE ATTORNEY GENERAL ANNOUNCED HIS INTENTION TO SEEK A LONGER SENTENCE FOR THE SERGEANT.

SECTION 2 RESPECT FOR CIVIL LIBERTIES, INCLUDING:

A. FREEDOM OF SPEECH AND PRESS

THE CONSTITUTION PROTECTS FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION. GOVERNMENT CRITICS, INCLUDING GUERRILLA LEADERS, HAD ACCESS TO THE MEDIA--NEARLY ALL, INCLUDING TELEVISION, PRIVATELY OWNED. A RANGE OF ORGANIZATIONS, MANY CRITICAL OF THE GOVERNMENT, HAVE THEIR OWN PUBLICATIONS,

FOREIGN FILMS, STAGE AND T.V. SHOWS,

BOOKS, MAGAZINES, AND NEWSPAPERS WERE WIDELY AVAILABLE.

A SERIES OF ATTEMPTS OF UNDETERMINED ORIGIN TO INTIMIDATE THE MEDIA OCCURRED IN AUGUST AND SEPTEMBER. THESE INCLUDED ANONYMOUS TELEPHONE THREATS AND THE PLACING OF A POWERFUL BOMB (DEACTIVATED BY SECURITY FORCES) IN A LARGE OFFICE BUILDING WHERE MANY FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC PRESS AGENCIES ARE LOCATED. TWO MEN ENTERED THE OFFICES OF NOTIMEX, THREATENED THE SECRETARY, AND RIFLED THROUGH FILES. TWO DAYS LATER, THE HOME OF THE NOTIMEX CORRESPONDENT WAS ENTERED AND RANSACKED. THE LOCAL IPS CORRESPONDENT HAD TO LEAVE GUATEMALA AFTER RECEIVING THREATS, BUT THE OFFICE REMAINED OPEN.

A NUMBER OF JOURNALISTS WHO COVER THE COURTS REPORTED RECEIVING WARNINGS NOT TO PUBLISH ARTICLES ON THE CASES OF MICHAEL DEVINE, MYRNA MACK, THE 1990 ATTEMPTED MURDER OF JOURNALIST BYRON BARRERA (HIS WIFE DIED IN THE ATTACK), AND ON SEVERAL U.S. NARCOTICS-RELATED EXTRADITION REQUESTS. THESE THREATS SEEMED TO COME FROM A VARIETY OF SOURCES. MANY JOURNALISTS COMPLAINED THAT THE SERRANO ADMINISTRATION SHOWED LITTLE SYMPATHY OR CONCERN FOR THREATENED NEWSMEN. MEDIA REPRESENTATIVES OPENLY DENOUNCED THE THREATS AND VOWED TO CONTINUE THEIR WORK, INCLUDING EXTENSIVE AND DETAILED COVERAGE OF A NUMBER OF SENSITIVE TOPICS, SUCH AS PROSPECTS OF PEACE WITH THE GUERRILLAS, EXHUMATIONS OF CLANDESTINE CEMETERIES, AND OTHER ONCE-TABOO HUMAN RIGHTS TOPICS.

IN GENERAL, THE MEDIA WAS MORE OPEN AND AGGRESSIVE, BOTH IN ITS ARTICLES AND EDITORIALS, THAN EVER BEFORE. THEY GAVE WIDE COVERAGE, FOR EXAMPLE, TO ACTIVITIES OF HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS AND TO CONTROVERSIAL MEETINGS SUCH AS THE OCTOBER INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE OF INDIGENOUS PEOPLE. THERE STILL WERE TOPICS, HOWEVER, THAT WERE EITHER "OFF LIMITS" OR WHICH HAD TO BE HANDLED WITH GREAT CARE, E.G., INVESTIGATIVE REPORTING INTO CORRUPTION BY THE MILITARY OR INTO ILLEGAL ACTIONS BY POWERFUL POLITICIANS.

B. FREEDOM OF PEACEFUL ASSEMBLY AND ASSOCIATION

THE CONSTITUTION RECOGNIZES THE RIGHTS OF PEACEFUL ASSEMBLY AND ASSOCIATION: PARADES, RALLIES, MARCHES, FORUMS, DEBATES, AND SEMINARS ON VARIOUS TOPICS, INCLUDING HUMAN RIGHTS, TOOK PLACE AND DREW PUBLICITY. WHILE LEGALLY ORGANIZATIONS MUST HAVE ASSOCIATION STATUS, NOT HAVING IT DID NOT STOP GROUPS, INCLUDING SOME WITH FOREIGN TIES, FROM OPERATING OPENLY. IN OCTOBER, GUATEMALA PLAYED HOST TO AN INTERNATIONAL INDIGENOUS PEOPLES' GATHERING TO DISCUSS THEIR "500 YEAR STRUGGLE AGAINST OPPRESSION" SINCE CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS ARRIVED IN AMERICA.

C. FREEDOM OF RELIGION

NO STATE RELIGION EXISTS. RELIGIOUS FREEDOM IS

[redacted]

CONSTITUTIONALLY GUARANTEED AND RESPECTED IN PRACTICE. WHILE ABOUT 70 PERCENT OF GUATEMALA IS NOMINALLY CATHOLIC, MANY OTHER FAITHS EXIST OPENLY. MORE THAN 25 PERCENT OF GUATEMALANS ADHERE TO PROTESTANT DENOMINATIONS, SOME WITH INTERNATIONAL LINKS. FOREIGN MISSIONARIES WORKED WITHOUT HINDRANCE. GUATEMALA HAS ACTIVE MORMON, JEWISH, BAHA'I, BUDDHIST, JEHOVAH'S WITNESS, AND ISLAMIC COMMUNITIES. IN ADDITION, MANY INDIGENOUS PEOPLE STILL FOLLOW THEIR OWN RELIGIOUS BELIEFS.

D. FREEDOM OF MOVEMENT WITHIN THE COUNTRY, FOREIGN TRAVEL, EMIGRATION, AND REPATRIATION

THE GOVERNMENT DID NOT RESTRICT FOREIGN TRAVEL--CRITICS WENT ABROAD AND RETURNED--NOR DID IT REVOKE CITIZENSHIP FOR POLITICAL REASONS. MOVEMENT INSIDE GUATEMALA WAS UNRESTRICTED EXCEPT IN SOME CONFLICTIVE AREAS. THE EGP CONTINUED TO CONTROL CPRS AND SEVERELY LIMITED TRAVEL OF RESIDENTS. THE ARMY, MILITARY COMMISSIONERS AND THE PAC ALSO LIMITED TRAVEL IN SOME AREAS.

REPATRIATION OF REFUGEES CONTINUED: 1200-1300 RETURNED

DURING 1991. PLANS WERE MADE FOR REPATRIATION OF MANY OF THE 40,000-45,000 REFUGEES IN MEXICO; TWO GOVERNMENT AGENCIES, CEAR AND FONDOPAZ, WERE MAKING THE PREPARATIONS IN COOPERATION WITH FOREIGN AID AGENCIES. LARGE-SCALE RETURN, HOWEVER, IS NOT LIKELY UNTIL PEACE EXISTS BETWEEN GOVERNMENT AND GUERRILLAS.

[redacted]

SECTION 3 RESPECT FOR POLITICAL RIGHTS: THE RIGHT OF CITIZENS TO CHANGE THEIR GOVERNMENT

GUATEMALANS CAN CHANGE GOVERNMENT BY PEACEFUL AND DEMOCRATIC MEANS. UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE BY SECRET BALLOT EXISTS FOR THOSE 18 OR OLDER; THERE ARE NO PROPERTY OR LITERACY REQUIREMENTS. VOTING IS NOT MANDATORY. ON JANUARY 6, THE REMAINING TWO CANDIDATES, JORGE SERRANO OF THE MAS AND JORGE CARPIO OF THE UCN, HAD A RUN-OFF ELECTION FOR PRESIDENT. SERRANO WON, TAKING OFFICE JANUARY 14. THE GOVERNING CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE WAS ELIMINATED IN A DECEMBER ROUND OF VOTING IN WHICH 20 PARTIES TOOK PART. ALL PARTIES HAD ACCESS TO THE MEDIA AND HELD RALLIES WITHOUT INTERFERENCE. FOREIGN AND LOCAL OBSERVERS MONITORED THE VOTING AND RULED IT FREE, FAIR, AND GENUINE. EIGHT PARTIES OR GROUPINGS FROM CENTER-LEFT TO FAR-RIGHT HAVE SEATS IN CONGRESS AS DO 5 INDEPENDENTS.

SECTION 4 GOVERNMENTAL ATTITUDE REGARDING INTERNATIONAL AND NONGOVERNMENTAL INVESTIGATION OF ALLEGED VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS

THE GOVERNMENT DID NOT HINDER INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS. SENIOR OFFICIALS MET REPRESENTATIVES OF AMERICAS WATCH, PHYSICIANS FOR HUMAN RIGHTS, THE [redacted]

WASHINGTON OFFICE ON LATIN AMERICA, AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL, AND THE HUMAN RIGHTS PROJECT. WITNESSES FOR PEACE AND PBI HAD LOCAL OFFICES. THE UN HUMAN RIGHTS EXPERT VISITED GUATEMALA, AS DID OTHER FOREIGN OFFICIALS, AND RECEIVED WIDE PRESS COVERAGE FOR CRITICAL COMMENTS. SOME FOREIGN GROUPS TOOK PART IN THE LOCATION AND EXHUMATION OF CLANDESTINE CEMETERIES. THE INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE OF THE RED CROSS (ICRC) OPERATED OPENLY AND VISITED CPRS. MANY LOCAL GROUPS ALSO OPERATED WITHOUT OFFICIAL INTERFERENCE ALTHOUGH, AS REPORTED PREVIOUSLY, SOME MEMBERS SUFFERED ABUSES.

THE GOVERNMENT HAILED THE DECISION BY THE UN COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS NOT TO NAME A HUMAN RIGHTS RAPPORTEUR. RELATIONS WITH THE OMBUDSMAN WERE OFTEN TENSE; OFFICIALS IMPUTED POLITICAL MOTIVES TO HIS CRITICISMS. THE GOVERNMENT, HOWEVER, ALSO WAS RESPONSIVE TO SOME CRITICISM, NAMING SPECIAL PROSECUTORS TO HANDLE PARTICULARLY NOTORIOUS CASES AND CREATING A CABINET-LEVEL HUMAN RIGHTS ADVISORY COMMITTEE. WHEN THE CERJ LEADER REPORTED THREATS, HE QUICKLY RECEIVED A POLICE ESCORT. THE ATTORNEY GENERAL AND THE NEW INTERIOR MINISTER, A FORMER DEPUTY HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN, ARE MUCH MORE ENERGETIC AND OPEN ON HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES THAN THEIR PREDECESSORS.

THE OFFICE OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN EXPANDED IN SIZE AND ACTIVITY. IT ISSUED MANY REPORTS, INCLUDING A STINGING REBUKE OF THE LAST YEAR OF PRESIDENT CEREZO'S [redacted]

[redacted]

ADMINISTRATION, AND WAS NOT RELUCTANT TO CRITICIZE GOVERNMENT AND GUERRILLAS FOR ABUSES. THE OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE WAS ALSO INVOLVED IN WORK ON REPORTED ABUSES IN THE TEXTILE INDUSTRY AND ISSUED A TOUGH REPORT ON THE TOPIC. THE OFFICE REMAINED THE MOST RELIABLE SOURCE OF OBJECTIVE INFORMATION ON HUMAN RIGHTS PRACTICES.

SECTION 5 DISCRIMINATION BASED ON RACE, SEX, RELIGION, LANGUAGE, OR SOCIAL STATUS

OVER ONE HALF OF THE POPULATION IS CULTURALLY INDIGENOUS AND THE REST CULTURALLY EUROPEAN. WHILE HAVING EQUAL LEGAL RIGHTS, MANY INDIGENOUS PEOPLE STILL REMAINED OUTSIDE THE PREDOMINANT CULTURE, LANGUAGE, AND ECONOMY. RURAL INDIGENOUS MEN WERE MORE LIKELY THAN URBAN COUNTERPARTS TO BE DRAFTED BY THE ARMY OR FORCIBLY RECRUITED BY GUERRILLA GROUPS. INDIGENOUS PEOPLE SUFFERED MOST OF THE SERIOUS ABUSES (SECTIONS 1 A AND B). ALTHOUGH THERE ARE SOME INDIGENOUS ARMY OFFICERS, CONGRESSMEN, AND JUDGES, PERVASIVE DISCRIMINATION AGAINST INDIGENOUS PEOPLE EXISTS.

WOMEN ARE ACTIVE IN THE LABOR FORCE, ESPECIALLY IN THE

ARE NO MAJOR ORGANIZATIONS DEVOTED TO WOMEN'S ISSUES. VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN, INCLUDING DOMESTIC VIOLENCE, REMAINS COMMON BUT RECEIVES LOW PRIORITY FROM POLICE. CRIMINAL SEXUAL VIOLENCE OFTEN GOES UNREPORTED BY VICTIMS AND RATES LOW PRIORITY FROM POLICE. RELATIVELY FEW RAPE CASES CAME TO COURT. THE OMBUDSMAN NAMED A WOMAN AS A DEPUTY WITH PARTICULAR RESPONSIBILITY FOR VIOLATIONS OF WOMEN'S RIGHTS.

ASIDE FROM PRIVATE CLUBS THAT BAR MEMBERSHIP TO PERSONS OF CERTAIN RELIGIONS, GUATEMALA IS VERY TOLERANT OF RELIGIOUS DIVERSITY. GOVERNMENT AND BUSINESS HAVE SENIOR PEOPLE FROM MANY FAITHS.

SECTION 6 WORKER RIGHTS

A. THE RIGHT OF ASSOCIATION

UNCLASSIFIED

WORKERS HAVE THE RIGHT TO JOIN OR FORM UNIONS. ABOUT 8 PERCENT OF THE WORK FORCE IS ORGANIZED, INCLUDING MUCH OF THE PUBLIC SECTOR. DUE TO THEIR COMPLEXITY, PROVISIONS OF THE LABOR CODE SERVE TO HINDER THE ABILITY TO FORM UNIONS AND OF UNIONS TO GET LEGAL RECOGNITION. DURING 1991, THE GOVERNMENT USED ADMINISTRATIVE POWERS TO SIMPLIFY RULES FOR UNION RECOGNITION. UNIONS MUST HAVE AT LEAST 20 MEMBERS, BUT CRAFT UNIONS OF SKILLED WORKERS EMPLOYED BY SEVERAL COMPANIES ARE PERMITTED.

SOME EMPLOYERS, HOWEVER, SEEK TO AVOID UNIONIZATION BY FORMING SEVERAL ENTITIES OF FEWER THAN 20 WORKERS EACH. A COURT RULING IN 1990 OPENED THE POSSIBILITY THAT UNIONS COULD ORGANIZE THESE SEPARATE ENTITIES INTO A SINGLE UNION. WORKERS HAVE THE RIGHT TO STRIKE, BUT PROCEDURES INVOLVED MADE LEGAL STRIKES CUMBERSOME; MOST OCCUR WITHOUT PERMISSION. IN PRACTICE, THE GOVERNMENT MADE NO EFFORT TO DETERMINE THEIR LEGALITY. THE STRUCTURAL WEAKNESS OF ORGANIZED LABOR AND THE LACK OF FUNDS LIMIT MOST STRIKES' LENGTH.

UNION LEADERS MUST HAVE NO CRIMINAL RECORD, WORK AT THE COMPANY BEING ORGANIZED, AND BE LITERATE. THEY MAY SERVE ONLY ONE TERM IN A UNION OFFICE, BUT BY ROTATING OFFICES THE SAME PERSONS STAY ON UNIONS' BOARDS OF DIRECTORS. THE CONSTITUTION PROTECTS THE RIGHT OF POLITICAL PARTICIPATION FOR INDIVIDUALS AND DROPS PREVIOUS PROHIBITIONS RESTRICTING PARTICIPATION BY UNIONS AND THEIR LEADERS. ONE PROMINENT UNION LEADER WAS ELECTED TO CONGRESS IN 1990; TWO OTHERS ARE ALTERNATES. UNIONS MAY FORM FEDERATIONS AND CONFEDERATIONS, AND JOIN INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS.

A "SOLIDARITY" MOVEMENT WAS ACTIVE; CRITICS CHARGED IT WAS PROMOTED BY MANAGEMENT TO RIVAL GENUINE UNIONS. UNIONS CONTINUED TO OPERATE DESPITE "SOLIDARITY" ASSOCIATIONS AND THE GOVERNMENT MADE CLEAR THESE EXIST AS CIVIC ORGANIZATIONS, AND, AS SUCH, NEED NOT LIMIT THE ABILITY OF LEGAL TRADE UNIONS TO FUNCTION.

[redacted]

A DRAFT LABOR CODE, DRAWN UP WITH HELP FROM THE INTERNATIONAL LABOR ORGANIZATION, REMAINED UNDER CONSIDERATION BY THE LABOR COMMITTEE IN CONGRESS. THE COMMITTEE GAVE A FAVORABLE RECOMMENDATION ON JULY 10, IN THE FIRST OF THREE REQUIRED READINGS.

LOCAL AND INTERNATIONAL LABOR AND HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS, INCLUDING THE INTERNATIONAL CONFEDERATION OF FREE TRADE UNIONS, CHARGED UNIONISTS WERE "PARTICULAR TARGETS OF DEATH SQUADS." AVAILABLE EVIDENCE DOES NOT ESTABLISH A PATTERN OF SYSTEMATIC ATTACKS ON UNIONISTS BY OFFICIALS OR SECURITY FORCES. WHILE THERE HAVE BEEN THREATS TO, AND VIOLENCE AGAINST, UNIONISTS BY MEMBERS OF THE SECURITY FORCES, THESE ACTIVITIES DO NOT REPRESENT THE POLICY OF THE GOVERNMENT NOR OF THE SECURITY FORCES. DESPITE CLAIMS TO THE CONTRARY, THERE IS NO CREDIBLE EVIDENCE THAT THE ARMY TARGETTED UNION ACTIVISTS FOR UNION ACTIVITIES. LABOR VIOLENCE GENERALLY INVOLVED "THUGS" USED ON AN "AD HOC" BASIS BY EMPLOYERS OPPOSED TO UNIONS.

- GUATEMALA

WORKERS HAVE THE LEGAL RIGHT TO ORGANIZE AND BARGAIN COLLECTIVELY BUT OFTEN FACE DISCRIMINATORY ANTI-UNION ACTIONS BY EMPLOYERS. LABOR COURTS, RESPONSIBLE FOR ENFORCING LAWS PROHIBITING SUCH DISCRIMINATION, ARE INEFFECTIVE. THE LABOR MINISTRY INDICATED IT INTENDS TO MAKE A CONCERTED EFFORT TO IMPROVE ADMINISTRATION OF

LABOR LAWS.

LABOR LAWS AND REGULATIONS APPLY THROUGHOUT GUATEMALA; THE LAW AUTHORIZING ESTABLISHMENT OF EXPORT PROCESSING ZONES SPECIFIED THAT ALL LABOR CODE PROVISIONS APPLIED. IN APRIL, THE MINISTRY OF SOCIAL WELFARE, IN COOPERATION WITH THE LABOR MINISTRY, ISSUED A REPORT ON THE "MAQUILA" (TEXTILE) SECTOR. THE REPORT DOCUMENTED, IN AN OPEN AND FORTHRIGHT MANNER, WORKER RIGHTS PROBLEMS DISCOVERED. THESE INCLUDED MISTREATMENT OF WORKERS, LOW WAGES, LONG HOURS, AND POOR WORKING CONDITIONS. THE REPORT PUT FORWARD PROPOSALS TO PROTECT WORKERS. THE GOVERNMENT'S ISSUANCE OF THE REPORT AND THE CREATION OF A COMMISSION TO PROPOSE REFORMS TO THE 1989 MAQUILA LAW, ARE POSITIVE INITIAL STEPS TO TRY TO SOLVE WORKER RIGHTS PROBLEMS IN THE MAQUILA SECTOR.

C. PROHIBITION OF FORCED OR COMPULSORY LABOR

UNCLASSIFIED

THE CONSTITUTION BARS FORCED LABOR, AND THE PRACTICE GENERALLY DOES NOT EXIST. ALLEGATIONS WERE MADE THAT THE FORCED PARTICIPATION IN THE PAC VIOLATED PROHIBITIONS AGAINST FORCED LABOR. THERE HAVE BEEN CREDIBLE REPORTS OF ISOLATED INSTANCES OF UNPAID PATROLMEN USED TO PROVIDE FREE MANUAL LABOR, BUT NO SYSTEMATIC PATTERN OF SUCH ABUSE WAS ESTABLISHED.

D. MINIMUM AGE FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF CHILDREN

THE CONSTITUTION BARS EMPLOYMENT OF MINORS UNDER AGE 14. IN THE INDUSTRIAL SECTOR WHERE LABOR CODES ARE FAIRLY EASY TO ENFORCE, CHILD LABOR IS UNCOMMON--NOT SO, HOWEVER, IN THE INFORMAL AND AGRICULTURAL SECTORS. CHILDREN OFTEN HELP RUN FAMILY BUSINESSES, WORK AS DOMESTIC HELP, ENGAGE IN BEGGING, AND WASHING AUTOMOBILES. IN RURAL AREAS, WHOLE FAMILIES FREQUENTLY WORK. A LOCAL ORGANIZATION, CASA ALIANZA, WHICH CHAMPIONS THE RIGHTS OF STREET CHILDREN, ESTIMATED OVER 5,000 CHILDREN LIVE IN THE CAPITAL'S STREETS; THEY ARE OFTEN INVOLVED IN PROSTITUTION AND OTHER CRIMES.

E. ACCEPTABLE CONDITIONS OF WORK

THE WORKDAY IS LEGALLY 8 HOURS AND THE WORKWEEK 44 HOURS, BUT A SORDID TRADITION OF MUCH LONGER HOURS REMAINS. AS NOTED IN THE APRIL REPORT ON THE MAQUILA INDUSTRY, MOST OWNERS OF TEXTILE PLANTS PAID MINIMUM WAGES FOR A 12-HOUR DAY, VIOLATING BOTH THE CONSTITUTION AND THE LABOR CODE. SEVERAL COMPLAINTS OF BEATINGS AND FIRINGS OF TEXTILE WORKERS ACCUSED OF FAILING TO MEET WORK REQUIREMENTS WERE MADE TO THE LABOR MINISTRY. LABOR INSPECTORS, WHO REPORT TO THE LABOR COURTS, WERE ACCUSED OF LACK OF DILIGENCE IN ENFORCING THE 8-HOUR DAY, IN PART BECAUSE THE HIGHLY MOBILE THIRD-COUNTRY TEXTILE PLANTS MOVE WHEN THEY FIND CONDITIONS MORE ATTRACTIVE ELSEWHERE.

[redacted]

LITTLE WAS DONE TO EDUCATE WORKERS AND EMPLOYERS ABOUT THE POTENTIAL HARMFUL EFFECTS OF CERTAIN CHEMICALS AND PROCEDURES. EVEN SIMPLE PRECAUTIONS, SUCH AS HELMETS OR HEARING PROTECTION ON CONSTRUCTION SITES, WERE RARELY TAKEN. FEW EMPLOYERS OFFERED ANYWHERE NEAR ADEQUATE MEDICAL AND RETIREMENT PROGRAMS FOR THEIR WORKERS.

MINIMUM WAGES ARE SET BY LAW AND ARE THE "DE FACTO" WAGE FOR MOST RURAL AND URBAN WORKERS. THE GOVERNMENT ORDERED THE INCREASE OF MINIMUM WAGES FOR CONSTRUCTION AND RURAL WORKERS IN LATE 1990, BUT MORE THAN 20 SECTORS HAD LOWER WAGES, INCLUDING THE EXPORT PROCESSING SECTOR. WHILE SOME SKILLED WORKERS EARNED WAGES HIGHER THAN THE MINIMUM, MOST WORKERS WERE PAID BELOW THE LEGAL MINIMUM. THESE WAGES DO NOT PROVIDE A DECENT STANDARD-OF-LIVING; OVER 75 PERCENT OF THE POPULATION LIVES BELOW THE GUATEMALAN POVERTY LINE.

SO FAR TO REPORT.
-- LARRY HUFFMAN SAW EMILIO ZAMBRANO, AN EX-CARABINERO FRIEND OF JEFF HALL'S, ON OCTOBER 19 AFTER BEING STOOD UP TWICE. WE'RE POUCHING HIS MEMCON, BUT THE MAJOR REVELATION WAS THAT CARABINEROS HAVE NEVER INTERVIEWED THE MEN WHO WERE THERE AT THE TIME -- ONLY THOSE WHO REPLACED THEM AFTER THEY HAD ALL BEEN TRANSFERRED.
-- WE ASKED BOTH BONN AND TORONTO TO INTERVIEW PEOPLE WITH POSSIBLY RELEVANT INFORMATION, BUT NEITHER POST HAS RESPONDED.
-- WE HEARD THAT CARABINEROS MIGHT BE CARRYING OUT A NEW INVESTIGATION OF ITS OWN, BUT WHEN I SAW STANGE ON SEPTEMBER 29 I ASKED IF THERE WERE ANYTHING NEW ON WEISFEILER, HOPING HE WOULD SAY THEY WERE DOING A NEW INVESTIGATION, AND HE SAID NOTHING NEW.
-- ALL THE ABOVE STRONGLY SUGGESTS THAT WE SHOULD ASK STANGE, ORALLY OR IN WRITING, TO ORDER AN INVESTIGATION

THAT WOULD TURN OVER SOME OF THE UNTOUCHED STONES. I'LL BE DISCUSSING THIS WITH HARRY.

HE VOLUNTEERED AT OUR COUNTRY TEAM BRIEFING THAT IF OPPORTUNITY CAME UP HE WOULD SAY WHAT HE BELIEVED; NAMELY, THAT THERE WAS NO CHANCE FOR ANY IMPROVEMENT IN US-CHILE RELATIONS, MILITARY OR OTHERWISE, AS LONG AS PINOCHET IS PRESIDENT. I'M NOT AT ALL SURE, HOWEVER, THAT POLITICS WAS EVER RAISED WITH HIM. HE WAS NOT ASKED TO SEE THE PRESIDENT, PERHAPS THE FIRST FOUR-STAR IN 14 YEARS THAT'S HAPPENED TO. WHEN I REALIZED THAT THEY WERE GOING TO BE IN PUNTA ARENAS AT THE SAME TIME, STAYING IN THE SAME HOTEL, I THOUGHT SURE AN END RUN WAS BEING SET UP TO PREVENT ANY CIVILIAN FROM BEING PRESENT. IT DIDN'T HAPPEN, WE THINK BECAUSE THE CHILEAN NAVY DIDN'T WANT IT TO HAPPEN. NOR DID POLITICS CROP UP AT MERINO'S DINNER FOR HIM IN SANTIAGO (MERINO MADE A POINT OF TELLING MY WIFE THAT HE LOATHES PEOPLE WHO RAISED SUBSTANTIVE ISSUED OUTSIDE OF THE OFFICE).

A FRESH PERSPECTIVE. HE SAID HE FOUND PEOPLE INTEREST-

ED IN A WORLDWIDE EFFORT IN PRINCIPLE, BUT TOTALLY ABSORBED IN CHILEAN AFFAIRS. HE ALSO FOUND A WIDE DIVERSITY OF PRO AND ANTI-REGIME VIEWS, EVEN AMONG NON-POLITICAL PERSONAL FRIENDS. SEVERAL PEOPLE WERE WORRIED ABOUT PREEMPTIVE COUPS - PINOCHET'S SPEECH ON A "CONSULTA," NOT A PLEBISCITE, WAS STILL FRESH. MOLINA AND CUBILLOS WERE THE MOST FREQUENTLY MENTIONED CONSENSUS CANDIDATES. HE SAW MATTHEI AND MERINO, BUT THEY DID NOT SAY MUCH ABOUT INTERNAL AFFAIRS. MERINO HE SAID HAD ALWAYS BEEN OBSESSED WITH THE SOVIET NAVAL THREAT, BUT NOW SEEMS EVEN MORE SO. JORGE CAUAS, PINOCHET'S EX-MINISTER, ADMITTED THAT THE BENEFITS OF PROSPERITY SOMEHOW HADN'T TRICKLED DOWN, BUT INSISTED THAT PURCHASING POWER OF THE LOWER CLASS WAS BEGINNING TO INCREASE AND THAT THAT WOULD CONTINUE.

17. JUAN IGNACIO GARCIA. I HAD LUNCH THIS WEEK WITH THE DIRECTOR OF THE ELECTORAL REGISTRY. THEY HAVE 2,485,905 REGISTERED AS OF SEPTEMBER 30, WHICH

IS 30.8 PERCENT OF THE ESTIMATED ADULT POPULATION AS OF JUNE 1988. HE SAID THERE WERE NO STRIKING DIFFERENCES BETWEEN THE PERCENT REGISTERED IN ANY AREA OR REGION AND ANOTHER, ALTHOUGH I NOTE THAT 36.3 PERCENT ARE IN THE SANTIAGO METROPOLITAN AREA, ALTHOUGH IT HAS ABOUT 38 PERCENT OF THE POPULATION, INDICATING A SLIGHT UNDERREPRESENTATION OF SANTIAGO. HE ALSO SAID THE MOST ISOLATED RURAL AREAS ARE ALSO UNDERREPRESENTED, AS ONE WOULD EXPECT. IF THE CURRENT RATE OF ABOUT 400,000 REGISTRANTS PER MONTH IS MAINTAINED, THEY WILL HIT THREE MILLION IN NOVEMBER, FOUR MILLION IN JANUARY, AND SIX MILLION IN JUNE. REGISTRATION STOPS AS SOON AS ELECTIONS ARE CONVOKED, WHICH MIGHT BE IN JULY (60 DAYS BEFORE SEPTEMBER 11), OR EARLIER IF THERE WERE A DECISION TO HOLD THE PLEBISCITE EARLIER. THE MAJOR OBSTACLE HE FACES IN THE SMOOTH OPERATION OF THE REGISTRY IS THE INEFFICIENCY OF THE CIVIL REGISTRY, WHICH ISSUES THE I.D. CARDS. ALTHOUGH SUPPOSEDLY OVER 6 MILLION PEOPLE ALREADY HAVE THE NEW CARDS, THE C.R. IS NOT ABLE TO PROVIDE A BREAKDOWN BY AGE (NO ONE KNOWS HOW MANY ARE UNDER 18) OR PLACE OF RESIDENCE; IT CAN'T EVEN GIVE GARCIA A LIST OF PEOPLE WHO HAVE DIED, WHICH HE MUST HAVE TO PREVENT REGISTRATION OF THE DEAD. THE C.R. PLEADS POVERTY AND GARCIA SAYS HE PROBABLY WILL HAVE TO TRANSFER SOME OF HIS FUNDS TO

18. AS FOR CHANGING THE ELECTORAL LAW, TO REDUCE THE NUMBER OF SIGNATURES TO FORM A PARTY OR ELIMINATE FEES FOR I.D. CARDS, GARCIA SAYS PINOCHET WON'T HEAR OF IT. HE'S RULED OUT ANY CHANGE AT ALL. THE NATIONALS TELL GARCIA THEY CAN INSCRIBE THEMSELVES AS A REGIONAL

~~SECRET~~

19. GARCIA SUBSCRIBES TO THE GENERALLY HELD VIEW THAT THE PLEBISCITE WILL BE HELD AND PINOCHET WILL BE THE CANDIDATE (I DIDN'T ASK HIM WHAT HE THOUGHT THE RESULT WOULD BE). HE DESCRIBED HIS BROTHER RICARDO AS "ISOLATED" WITHIN THE GOC IN FAVORING A REAL APERTURA, AND PINOCHET AS OBLIVIOUS OF INTERNATIONAL OPINION - IF SOMEONE AT THE MEETING DOESN'T REMIND HIM OF POSSIBLE FOREIGN REACTION, THE SUBJECT NEVER COMES UP. (THAT SUGGESTS, AS IN THE STORY OF THE MULE, APPLICATION OF A TWO-BY-FOUR.)

20. ON LETELIER, GARCIA SAID THE GOC'S POLICY MAKERS ARE JUSTICE MINISTER ROSENDE, MILITARY PROSECUTOR TORRES, PROCURATOR GENERAL AMBROSIO RODRIGUEZ, AND, ABOVE ALL, PINOCHET'S LEGAL ADVISER, GENERAL (RET.) FERNANDO LYON. THEIR FOCUS IS EXCLUSIVELY ON RE-ELECTING PINOCHET AND COULD CARE LESS WHAT THE U.S. THINKS. WHEN I COM-

MENTED ON THE ABSENCE OF SERGIO FERNANDEZ FROM THE LIST, GARCIA SAID HE WAS THE INVISIBLE MINISTER. HE SAYS FERNANDEZ PLAYS LITTLE ROLE IN GOVERNMENT COUNCILS, TAKES NO INITIATIVES, AND DELEGATES MOST AUTHORITY TO UNDER SECRETARY CARDEMIL, WHO HAS GROWN CORRESPONDINGLY IN POWER. WHEN I SAID FERNANDEZ HAD THE REPUTATION OF HAVING BEEN THE KEY PLAYER IN THE 1980 PLEBISCITE, GARCIA SAID ON THE CONTRARY, MONICA MADARIAGA WAS. FERNANDEZ' REP HAS ALWAYS BEEN BIGGER THAN REALITY.

SUBJECT: SOME BASIC RESEARCH AT BARILOCHE

1. SUMMARY. THE ATOMIC CENTER AND BALSEIRO INSTITUTE AT BARILOCHE, ARGENTINA, ARE PUBLICIZING THEIR WORK IN HIGH-TEMPERATURE SUPERCONDUCTORS IN THE HOPE OF WINNING INCREASED SUPPORT FOR THEIR BASIC RESEARCH PROGRAMS. THE ARGENTINE ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION (CNEA) OPERATES BOTH INSTALLATIONS IN SUPPORT OF LATIN AMERICA'S LARGEST NUCLEAR PROGRAM. THE PROGRAM, WHICH ENCOMPASSES THE ENTIRE NUCLEAR

SAFEGUARDS SINCE ARGENTINA IS NOT A PARTY TO MULTILATERAL NONPROLIFERATION TREATIES.

2. THE CENTER AND INSTITUTE OPERATE MUCH AS A UNIT, WITH STUDENTS WORKING IN LABORATORIES AND RESEARCHERS TEACHING CLASSES. THE GREATEST EFFORT IS IN BASIC PHYSICS RESEARCH, WITH SMALLER PROGRAMS OF APPLIED RESEARCH AND NUCLEAR ENGINEERING. ABOUT 70 STUDENTS WORK WITH 100 RESEARCHERS. THE CENTER/INSTITUTE HAS GRADUATED ABOUT 300 PHYSICISTS SINCE ITS FOUNDING IN 1955; ABOUT 70 HAVE RECEIVED DEGREES IN NUCLEAR ENGINEERING SINCE IT WAS ADDED TO THE CURRICULUM IN 1977. (FROM INDEPENDENCE UNTIL 1955, ARGGNTINA PRODUCED ONLY ABOUT 40 PHYSICISTS.)

3. SUPERCONDUCTIVITY RESEARCHERS HAVE DUPLICATED THE SWISS NOBELISTS' WORK AND ARE TRYING MANY NEW CERAMICS. A 500-KILOWATT RESEARCH REACTOR

WENT INTO SERVICE IN 1982. TANGLED LINES OF AUTHORITY AMONG THE COMMISSION, THE CENTER, THE INSTITUTE AND THE CENTER'S INDUSTRIAL SPINOFF INVAP CONFUSE THE STRAIGHTFORWARD BASIC RESEARCH AND THE TRAINING GOALS OF BARILOCHE WITH THE COMMISSION'S SINGLE-MINDED PURSUIT OF AN INDEPENDENT NUCLEAR CAPABILITY. END SUMMARY.

THEN IN MARCH THEY MATCHED FURTHER WORK ACHIEVING SUPERCONDUCTORS FUNCTIONING AT THE HIGHEST TEMPERATURES YET ACHIEVED.

5. THE FEVER PITCH OF THEIR WORK SINCE HAS PERHAPS

ONLY BEEN MATCHED BY THE INTENSITY OF THE CENTER'S OWN PUBLICITY CAMPAIGN -- FIRST TO DRAW NATIONAL ATTENTION TO THEIR WORK AND SECOND TO AUGMGNT THE MEAGER RESOURCES ALLOTTED TO BASIC RESEARCH AT THE CENTER BY THE PARENT COMMISSION. WHILE THE SUPERCONDUCTIVITY WORK ITSELF MADE A RECENT VISIT TO THE CENTER INTERESTING, IT IS PERHAPS WORTH REVIEWING AND UPDATING THE ROLE OF THE CENTER IN THE MAIN BUSINESS OF CNEA, DEVELOPING SOUTH AMERICA'S LARGEST NUCLEAR CAPABILITY. THIS CAPABILITY EXTENDS TO THE ENTIRE NUCLEAR FUEL CYCLE AND IS IN CONSIDERABLE PART OUTSIDE OF THE INTERNATIONAL SAFEGUARDS AND INSPECTION REGIME ACCEPTED BY PARTIES TO THE 1968 NUCLEAR NONPROLIFERATION TREATY.

STUDENTS WORKING IN THE LABORATORIES. THE ORIGINAL CURRICULUM WAS PHYSICS; NUCLEAR ENGINEERING WAS ADDED

IN 1977. ABOUT 30 STUDENTS ENTER THE INSTITUTE ANNUALLY AFTER TWO YEARS OF TRAINING ELSEWHERE AND STUDY FOUR MORE YEARS FOR THE LICENCIATURA (MASTER'S DEGREE), WHICH REQUIRES A THESIS. FOUR MORE YEARS OF STUDY LEAD TO THE DOCTORATE; HALF THE PHYSICISTS GO ON FOR IT. EIGHTY PERCENT OF ALL GRADUATES STAY IN ARGENTINA, HALF WORKING FOR CNEA. SINCE 1955 THERE HAVE BEEN OVER 300 MASTER'S DEGREES IN PHYSICS AWARDED. NUCLEAR ENGINEERING DEGREES SINCE 1977 NUMBER ABOUT 80.

CURRENT FIGURES MAY TOTAL SOMEWHAT LOWER. EMPHASIS ON SUPERCONDUCTIVITY IS LEADING TO EXPANSION OF THE LOW-TEMPERATURE AND DEVELOPMENT GROUPS.

9. IN ADDITION, DURING 1985, ABOUT 40 VISITING SCIENTISTS SPENT TIME WITH BASIC RESEARCH GROUPS AT BARILOCHE. EIGHT WERE FROM THE UNITED STATES. AT PRESENT THE CENTER/INSTITUTE HAS CLOSEST TIES TO FRANCE (UNIVERSIY OF GRENOBLE), BRAZIL, GERMANY AND SPAIN. NEVERTHELESS, OLD-TIMERS GRATEFULLY REMEMBER THE CONTRIBUTION MADE TO THE ORGANIZATION AND PROGRAM OF THE CENTER BY U.S. LOW-TEMPERATURE SCIENTIST JOHN WHEATLEY, WHO CAME TO BARILOCHE AS A FULBRIGHT RESEARCH SCHOLAR FROM THE UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS IN 1962-3.

11. SUPERCONDUCTIVITY: DRAWING MAINLY ON THE

LOW-TEMPERATURE AND DEVELOPMENT DIVISIONS, THE SUPERCONDUCTIVITY EFFORT HAS PRODUCED 12 ARTICLES SUBMITTED FOR PUBLICATION SINCE FEBRUARY 1987, EIGHT OF WHICH HAVE ALREADY BEEN ACCEPTED. MANY CONCERN THE PHENOMENON IN INHOMOGENEOUS MEDIA CONTAINING RARE EARTHS, THORIUM AND/OR TRANSITION ELEMENTS. ONE STARTING POINT IS AN ALLOY OF OXIDES OF YTTRIUM OR GADOLINIUM), COPPER AND BARIUM FIRST OBTAINED IN SWITZERLAND AND DUPLICATED IN BARILOCHE IN MARCH, AN ALLOY THAT IS SUPERCONDUCTING AT ABOUT 90 DEGREES ABSOLUTE. THIS TEMPERATURE IS, OF COURSE, MUCH EASIER TO OBTAIN THAN THE RECORD HIGH OF 20 DEGREES BEFORE 1986.

12. EFFORTS ARE UNDERWAY TO FIND NEW ALLOYS AND ALSO TO MASTER THE FABRICATION OF CURRENT-CARRYING FILMS AND WIRES. WITHOUT THEM THERE CAN BE NO USE OF THE NEW SUBSTANCES. THE SCIENTISTS ARE REALISTIC ABOUT APPLICATION OF THE RESEARCH BY ARGENTINE INDUSTRY -- IT PROBABLY WON'T HAPPEN. ONE SAID THE MOST ARGENTINA COULD EXPECT WOULD BE TO BE ABLE TO BUY FOREIGN SUPERCONDUCTING TECHNOLOGY APPLICATIONS MORE WISELY RATHER THAN IN THE MANNER OF MIRRORS AND GLASS NECKLACES. BUT MOST HOPE THAT BARILOCHE WILL AT LEAST GET A BUDGET INCREASE. (FRANCISCO DE LA CRUZ HEADS THE LOW-TEMPERATURE GROUP, AND DANIEL ESPARZA LEADS THE DEVELOPMENT GROUP.)

13. NUCLEAR RESEARCH: THE MOST VISIBLE NUCLEAR RESEARCH AT BARILOCHE CENTERS ON THE TEST REACTOR RA-6. OF 500-KILOWATT POWER, RA-6 IS ARGENTINA'S

NEWEST RESEARCH REACTOR, IN OPERATION SINCE 1982. IT USES FUEL ENRICHED TO 20 PERCENT URANIUM-235. OPERATION IS SUBJECT TO INTERNATIONAL SAFEGUARDS ONLY WHEN IT'S LOADED WITH SAFEGUARDED FUEL. CNEA, FORMED IN 1950, NOW HAS 6500 EMPLOYEES. NUCLEAR PROGRAMS USED UP TO 2.5 PERCENT OF THE ANNUAL GNP FROM 1973-83, UP TO ONE BILLION DOLLARS A YEAR. CLOSELY LINKED TO THE NAVY AND WITH NAVY MEN AS DIRECTORS FOR 30 OF ITS FIRST 33 YEARS, THE COMMISSION REMAINED CIVILIAN IN NATURE BUT WITH IMPORTANT PROTECTION. ITS PURSUIT OF PROFESSIONALISM HAS BEEN ALONG A SINGLE CHANNEL -- NUCLEAR DEVELOPMENT. AFTER 1978 THIS MEANT DEVELOPMENT OF THE ENTIRE NUCLEAR FUEL CYCLE -- INDEPENDENTLY, EXPENSIVELY AND, AT TIMES, SECRETLY. SUBJECT: Status of Bustos and Martinez

Since I appear to be once again on Novoa's list of undesirables, I had JOrge visit Bustos and Martinez in the Penitentary on October 27. He had no trouble getting in. Joreg reports that they are both in good shape, with no major problems other than the uncertainty as to when they might be released. Based on past experiences in 1985 and 86, they feel they could be in prison until Christmas time.

They are still trying to get transferred from the Peni to the Capuchino annex, because of the continued threats being made against Bustos by the ACHA. Bustos said he has been threatened on two difference occassions by common criminals in the Peni. One was a verbal threat and the other was a slap. In both instances he complained and the two offenders were transferred to different cell blocks. He still feels insecure, however, and asked Jorge to see if the Embassy could intervene on his behalf with the GOC. Jorge said he would pass this along, but noted that our ability to influence anyone on his behalf may be rather limited.

Bustos also wondered if there had been any reaction as yet from the AFL-CIO. Jorge noted that we had not heard of anything specific, but promised to have Guillermo Santana of the AIFLD office check with his Washington office on this matter. Santana is planning to visit Bustos on October 29.

Bustos also expressed his thanks for Jorge's visit, and said he understood the complications involved in my making a visit. Jorge had told him of our attempt to obtain permission from Novoa.

As for our next move on the prison visit scene, I will send a note to Novoa on November 2 asking for permission to visit Dr. Olivares in Capuchino. I expect this to be rejected also, but we can then perhaps write a note from the Ambassador to Justice Minister Rosende asking him for any clarification possible on Decree Law 805 of May 14, 1928. Attached is a copy of the articles which Novoa uses from this law to turn down prison visits. Article 51 states that prisoners can receive visits from family, friends and guardians, and that the prison "mayor" or director can be instructed by the prisoners as to whom he wants to visit. Article 58 states that visits to prisons require the written permission of the Ministry of Justice. Based on this, we could ask Rosende for permission to carry out prison visits, to see what his reaction might be.

SUBJECT: Appeal for Statement on Death Sentence

Attached is a copy of the letter given to us during your meeting yesterday afternoon with the 4 visiting human rights people. You will recall that they asked if the U.S. Embassy could make a statement like this on the death penalty.

I have read Ambassador Kreid's statement several times, and I find it hard to see in it any strong statement on the death sentence. He is making an appeal to Hugo Marchant and other prisoners to halt their hunger strike, which was against the death sentence. Those facing the possible death penalty do this sort of thing every once in a while, mainly to gather international support against the death penalty and against the Pinochet government.

Since the last hunger strike has now been called off, I don't see any need for us to make any statement about it. As for a statement on the death sentence or the death penalty, I do not believe we should make a special statement on that subject. In the latest annual human rights report I devote a couple of paragraphs to the 15 prisoners facing this sentence, and make the point that their confessions may have been forced from them under torture, as least that is what various human rights groups are claiming. If so, then their trials are suspect and we can urge that new, impartial trials be conducted. We don't need to say anything directly about the death sentence.

All 15 of these people are being tried, or have been tried, for charges of assassination and murder. Many have admitted they are members of the MIR (only 1 is from the FPMR) and that their actions are justified political acts against the Pinochet government. Since we have no need to get involved in defending terrorists, I think we should focus our attention only on the issue of torture and whether these people were given a fair trial or not.

MAKING A DETERMINATION ON WHETHER ONE,SOME OR ALL OF THE 15 HAD AN UNFAIR TRIAL WOULD BE DIFFICULT INDEED AND DRAW OUR HUMAN RESOURCES AWAY FROM OTHER HIGH PRIORITY ISSUES. I RECALL HOW A NUMBER OF THEM HAVE ADMITTED PUBLICLY (THRU THE OPPOSITION MAGAZINES) THAT THEY WERE HAD COMMITTED TERRORIST ACTS. THE ISSUE OF A FAIR TRIAL IS ONE WE MIGHT WANT TO PURSUE IN ONE OR TWO SELECT CASES IN THE FUTURE, SUCH AS RAMIRO OLIVARES OR CLODOMIRO ALMEYDA, AND I THINK WE SHOULD LEAVE IT AT THAT. ON THE TORTURE ISSUE, I COULD NOT AGREE MORE WITH DON.

Dear Senator Bentsen:

Thank you for your recent response to an appeal on by Amnesty International members for you to seek the release of a prisoner of conscience. Your partnership with us in working to end human rights abuses around the world is appreciated and much needed.

Our group in San Antonio has recently begun working for the release of a Chilean prisoner of conscience, Dr. Ramiro Olivares Sanhueza. Dr. Olivares is being imprisoned for treating an injured man whom Chilean authorities state is a terrorist, although Dr. Olivares had no such knowledge and was merely carrying out his professional responsibility to assist an ailing person.

He has been accused of helping terrorists and has been denied bail. He faces a possible sentence of 5 to 15 years and could be barred from medical practice for 15 years and could lose his professional title.

We would like you to ask the State Department to intervene on his behalf and ask for his release. If you need additional information I would be glad to send it to you.

Sincerely,

Máximo Pacheco saw the Amb Friday and left these two documents. The Amb. noted that Cuba was not mentioned in para 4 of the "calendario" paper, and asked if that meant they had heard from Mexico that Cuba would not be a cosponsor. Maximo said yes, but on further questioning it developed that they have hearxd nothing from the Mexicans, are simply assuming that no news is good news.

He also showed us a third paper which he would not leave, a memo from the CHRC to potential sponsors of a UNGA resolution, 10 pages in length. These are my handwritten notes on it - hope you can understand them. Main thing that struck me is there is no list of positive steps at all - only one or two passing mentions of such things as reduction in exile list - always coupled with negative phrases - e.g., "Exile, in spite of reductions in list, still remains, etc."

SUBJECT: Further Adventures with Karen Parker

Miss Parker's interview with Mario Calderon was an interesting 1 hour lecture on international law, United Nations' declarations on human rights, and the problems with military courts. In very good Spanish she leaped right in by noting the problems with military courts sentencing people to death, adding that she was not giving any personal view on the death sentence as such, only on the international repudiation of military courts sentencing civilians under any legal system to death. Calderon attempted to explain how the Chilean legal system differs from other legal systems, and how a person can be tried by either a military or civilian court for certain state security crimes. He stressed that the death sentence has been seldom used in Chile, with the most recent cases being security forces personnel executed for a series of common crimes.

Miss Parker provided an in-depth knowledge of international law, as well as Chilean law, to argue that civilians should not be tried by military courts in any circumstances. She cited Chile as being one of the worse offenders of this internationally accepted principle of law, and added that the U.N. had repeatedly condemned the Chilean government for violations of human rights such as this. Calderon took exception to this, noting that the UN has not condemned Chile but that certain countries such as the Soviet Union and Mexico, both of whom have no moral right to condemn anyone, have sponsored resolutions on Chile that were not condemnations.

The entire conversation was along these lines, with Miss Parker voicing her strongly held beliefs about Chilean human rights violations and Ambassador Calderon stoutly defending the legality of everything that the GOC does. In the end they agreed to disagree.

She did raise the failure of the GOC to allow her to visit the prisons, and Calderon went through the motions of attempting to contact Novoa to arrange a visit. Miss Parker called me at 4:30 to report that Caldreon contacted her later in the day, at the office of the official human rights commission, to tell her that a visit to a prison would not be possible due to the late hour, as such visits can only be made during normal visiting hours.

After the Calderon meeting, Miss Parker continued to lecture me on the errors being committed by the USG in the human rights arena. She reviewed once again the problems she, and other NGOs, had with the US resolution on Chile in the UNHRC in 1986. Her main complaint was that the US brutalized the other delegates into accepting language whic did not really reflect the wishes of the NGOs. She added that the atte by the US to pack the 1987 UNHRC meeting with Cuban/Americans was also not appreciated.

I did not have the opportunity to raise with Calderon my problems with prison visits.

PASSAGE OF A FAIR AND BALANCED HUMAN RIGHTS RESOLUTION ON CHILE WOULD AVOID SENDING MIXED SIGNALS ABOUT OUR COMMITMENT TO HUMAN RIGHTS IMPROVEMENTS IN CHILE. END SUMMARY.

3. THE DEPARTMENT BELIEVES THAT THE NEXT TWELVE MONTHS ARE LIKELY TO BE CRUCIAL TO THE SHAPE AND NATURE OF CHILE'S TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY. THE GOC HAS RECENTLY TAKEN SOME POSITIVE HUMAN RIGHTS STEPS, BUT WITHOUT MATCHING POLITICAL CHANGE THEY ARE BASICALLY COSMETIC AND THERE IS NO GUARANTEE THEY WILL BE PERMANENT OR CHANGE THE NATURE OF THE REGIME. WITH THE CRUCIAL PRESIDENTIAL VOTE LIKELY TO OCCUR SOMETIME NEXT YEAR, IT IS IMPORTANT THAT WE UNDERLINE OUR SUPPORT FOR A RETURN TO FULL DEMOCRACY IN CHILE WHICH WE ARE CONVINCED IS THE SURE WAY

TO AVERT VIOLENT CHANGE WHICH FAVORS THE POLITICAL EXTREMES. THE USG STRONGLY SUPPORTS A PEACEFUL TRANSITION TO FULL DEMOCRACY AND INCREASED RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS. THE USG HAS ACTIVELY WORKED TOWARDS THOSE OBJECTIVES. WE HAVE MADE OUR VIEWS KNOWN CLEARLY IN CHILE WHERE IT COUNTS, WITH THE GOVERNMENT IN PRIVATE, AND IN STATEMENTS MEANT TO BE PERCEIVED BY THE CHILEAN PUBLIC.

4. ONE FORUM AVAILABLE TO US TO MAKE OUR VIEWS KNOWN ON THE NEED FOR A PEACEFUL TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY AND AN END TO HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES IN CHILE IS THE ANNUAL HUMAN RIGHTS RESOLUTION ON CHILE OFFERED IN THE UN GENERAL ASSEMBLY--AND LATER IN THE MORE SPECIALIZED AND RESPONSIBLE UN HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION (UNHRC) IN GENEVA IN THE SPRING. LAST MARCH WE WERE ABLE TO JOIN CONSENSUS AT THE UNHRC ON A RELATIVELY BALANCED BUT STILL FLAWED HUMAN RIGHTS RESOLUTION ON CHILE. HOWEVER, THE USG HAS BEEN UNABLE TO JOIN CONSENSUS ON THE UNGA CHILE RESOLUTION FOR THE PAST SEVEN YEARS BECAUSE OF THE REGULARLY UNFAIR AND IMBALANCED NATURE OF THE TEXTS. LAST YEAR AT THE UNGA THE WEST EUROPEANS AND THE LATIN DEMOCRACIES ALL VOTED IN FAVOR OR ABSTAINED ON A CHILE RESOLUTION, CO-SPONSORED BY CUBA, WHICH WAS SO UNBALANCED THAT THE US WAS FORCED TO VOTE NO IN VIRTUAL ISOLATION. THE CHILEAN COMMUNIST PARTY, HAVANA AND MOSCOW HAVE SUBSEQUENTLY TRIED TO MISREPRESENT AND EXPLOIT OUR NEGATIVE VOTE AS A SIGN OF ALLEGED TOTAL SUPPORT FOR THE PINOCHET ADMINISTRATION.

5. WE WISH TO AVOID SUCH AN OUTCOME THIS YEAR, WHICH WOULD SEND UNHELPFUL MIXED SIGNALS CONCERNING THE ADMINISTRATION'S STRONG COMMITMENT TO PROMOTING A PEACEFUL DEMOCRATIC TRANSITION IN CHILE AS WELL AS MEANINGFUL HUMAN RIGHTS IMPROVEMENTS. WE UNDERSTAND THAT MEXICO, CUBA AND OTHERS WILL, ONCE AGAIN, INTRODUCE A RESOLUTION ON HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE BUT THAT THEY MAY BE TEMPERED BY WEOG PRESSURE TO NEGOTIATE A MORE BALANCED TEXT THAT WOULD NOT BE ANATHEMA TO THE UNITED STATES. WEOG MEMBERS MAY HAVE ALREADY APPROACHED USMISSION NEW YORK WITH QUERIES ABOUT HOW THEY COULD BE HELPFUL IN THIS EFFORT.

6. OUR FIRST PRIORITY, IF POSSIBLE, IS TO FACILITATE PASSAGE OF A FAIR AND BALANCED RESOLUTION FOR WHICH WE WILL BE ABLE TO VOTE. WE BELIEVE IT WILL BE MORE EFFECTIVE FOR OTHER COUNTRIES TO TAKE THE LEAD AS DRAFTERS AND PRINCIPAL CO-SPONSORS. IF THE TEXT OF THE

RESULTING RESOLUTION IS FAIR AND BALANCED AND IN LINE WITH THE ELEMENTS IN PARA 9, BELOW, WE WOULD, OF COURSE, BE PREPARED TO SUPPORT IT. IF THAT IS NOT POSSIBLE, AN ABSTENTION COMBINED WITH A STATEMENT OF US POLICY TOWARD CHILE WOULD BE AN ACCEPTABLE OUTCOME, ASSUMING ALSO THAT A NUMBER OF KEY MODERATE EUROPEANS (AND PERHAPS LATINS) FOLLOW A SIMILAR COURSE.

Oh good

7. IT SHOULD BE UNDERSTOOD THAT PERIODIC CONSULTATION AND REVIEW OF THE TEXT WILL BE NECESSARY SINCE OUR FINAL DECISION WILL OBVIOUSLY BE BASED ON THE FINAL PROPOSED TEXT OF THE RESOLUTION--BOTH WHAT IS IN THE RESOLUTION, AND WHAT IS LEFT OUT. IN THIS REGARD, OTHER DELEGATIONS NEED TO UNDERSTAND THAT THE INCLUSION OF BIASED AND UNFAIR ELEMENTS HAVE A SERIOUS IMPACT ON OUR DECISION. WE WILL ALSO BE INFLUENCED BY THE SERIOUSNESS AND BASIC FAIRNESS OF THE ENTIRE PROCESS AND WILL NOT BE PART OF AN IDEOLOGICAL, CHILE-BASHING SPREE ORCHESTRATED BY CUBA AND THE LIKE, WHICH REEKS OF THE TYPE OF DOUBLE STANDARD WHICH HAS CHARACTERIZED SOME SUCH EFFORTS IN THE PAST.

add Dpley Re Council (WA/bcs)

8. ACTION REQUESTED: THE DEPARTMENT HAS PREPARED THE FOLLOWING TALKING POINTS FOR USE BY USUN IN RESPONDING TO QUERIES ABOUT WHAT WOULD CONSTITUTE, FOR THE USG, A FAIR AND BALANCED RESOLUTION ON CHILE. INFO ADDRESSESS MAY RESPOND TO QUERIES BY SUGGESTING THAT FRIENDLY INTERESTED MODERATES CONSULT WITH USUN ON HOW BEST TO ARRIVE AT A BALANCED RESOLUTION. IF ASKED, INFO ADDRESSESS MAY SHARE ASSESSMENT OF ELEMENTS WE BELIEVE SHOULD BE ADDRESSED IN SUCH A FAIR AND BALANCED RESOLUTION.

ILLUSTRATIVE ELEMENTS FOR A BALANCED RESOLUTION

9. THE ELEMENTS WE SEE AS IMPORTANT TO A CONSTRUCTIVE AND BALANCED TEXT ON HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE ARE:

(A) A FAIR APPRAISAL OF THE CURRENT HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION THAT EXPRESSES SERIOUS CONCERN OVER PERSISTENCE OF ABUSES, SUCH AS TORTURE, AND DEATHS OF POLITICAL OPPONENTS IN POLICE CUSTODY;

(B) EXPRESSES CONCERN AT THE GOVERNMENT'S FAILURE TO PUNISH SECURITY OFFICIALS FOR SERIOUS ABUSES OF AUTHORITY;

(C) RECOGNITION THAT SOME POSITIVE STEPS HAVE BEEN MADE, SUCH AS REDUCTION IN NUMBER OF EXILES, GREATER FREEDOM OF

EMIGRATION, PARTIAL EASING OF RESTRICTIONS ON FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION, INCLUDING EXISTENCE OF AN OPPOSITION PRESS, THE FACT THAT THE INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE OF THE RED CROSS IS ALLOWED TO VISIT SOME PRISONERS, AND THAT CHILE HAS RECENTLY SIGNED THE UN AND OAS CONVENTIONS ON TORTURE;

(D) EMPHASIS ON THE THEME THAT CHILE'S RETURN TO FULL DEMOCRACY UNDER A CIVILIAN GOVERNMENT CHOSEN IN A FAIR, FREE, AND OPEN ELECTION WILL PROVIDE THE BEST GUARANTEE FOR ASSURING RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS;

(E) ENCOURAGE THE GOVERNMENT OF CHILE TO CONTINUE STEPS TO REGISTER THE LARGEST POSSIBLE NUMBER OF VOTERS, AND TO FURTHER FACILITATE THE PARTICIPATION OF POLITICAL PARTIES;

(F) ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF THE COOPERATION GIVEN BY THE GOVERNMENT TO THE UN SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR; AS WELL AS RECOGNITION OF THE FACT THAT THE GOC DOES ALLOW A WIDE RANGE OF INTERNATIONAL FIGURES TO VISIT CHILE AND TO REACH THEIR OWN CONCLUSION ON THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION; AND

(G) CLEAR DISAPPROVAL OF VIOLENCE, FROM ALL SOURCES, WITH THE [POSSIBLE] MENTION OF THE MOST RECENT CYCLE OF VIOLENCE WHICH BEGAN WITH THE ASSASINATION ATTEMPT AGAINST GENERAL PINOCHET. IT IS IMPORTANT THAT THE RISKS TO HUMAN RIGHTS AND POLITICAL PROGRESS POSED BY THE MUTUALLY REINFORCING VIOLENT ACTIONS OF THE POLITICAL EXTREMES BE ACKNOWLEDGED, AND THAT THE RESOLUTION NOT IMPLY THAT THE GOVERNMENT IS THE ONLY PERPETRATOR AND THE SOLE CAUSE OF VIOLENCE.

EXCISE

Washington, D.C. 20520

NOVEMBER - 4 1987

Dear Senator Adams:

This is in response to your inquiry concerning a group of political prisoners in Chile. Your inquiry was on behalf of your constituent [redacted]. [redacted] letter seemed to refer to fifteen persons who are facing death sentences for separate crimes, including the killing of the military governor of Santiago, a robbery in which bank guards were killed, and others. All but one of the prisoners are affiliated with MIR, the revolutionary leftist organization in Chile. The cases of four of them are currently in the military court of appeals, which is composed of three military and two civilian judges. If their sentences were upheld there, they would have the right to appeal to the Chilean Supreme Court. The cases of the eleven other persons are at an earlier stage of the judicial process.

The death sentence is rarely used in Chile. The last time it was carried out was early in 1985, when two former members of the Carabineros (national police) were executed.

I hope this information is useful to you and your constituent. If we can be of further assistance to you, please do not hesitate to contact us.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

NOVEMBER - 4 1987

Dear Senator Stafford:

This is in response to the inquiry you made on behalf of a constituent concerning the United States involvement in the overthrow of the Allende government and the disappearance and death of American newsman Charles Horman in Chile.

These are very complex subjects and it would be difficult to provide a brief response that is adequate. For a thorough examination of the events of that period, including testimony by State Department and other U.S. Government officials, I would refer your constituent to the transcript of hearings held July 1-September 18, 1974 before the House Foreign Affairs Committee on "United States and Chile during the Allende Years, 1970-1973". This public document is available in many libraries and for sale by the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, DC 20402.

Regarding Mr. Horman, records indicate that from the moment he disappeared the Department of State undertook intensive efforts to locate him and to learn the circumstances of his disappearance and death. These efforts continued for eight years and included an internal investigation of the possibility that U.S. government officials might have condoned or failed to act effectively in Horman's disappearance and death. No light was shed upon the circumstances of his death and little upon the circumstances of his disappearance, and nothing was found to support the charge of complicity or negligence on the part of U.S. officials.

I hope this information is useful to you and your constituent. If we can be of further assistance, please do not hesitate to contact us.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

YEAR SINCE THE FUEL ELEMENTS WERE PROVIDED IN 1966, BUT THAT THE PRESENT BUDGETARY SITUATION PRECLUDES PAYMENT AT THIS TIME. HE ESTIMATED THAT THE "SUSPENSION" OF PAYMENTS

WOULD PROBABLY BE NECESSARY FOR SOME FIVE YEARS, AFTER WHICH REGULAR PAYMENTS COULD BE RESUMED AND--IF NECESSARY--THE FIVE YEARS OF ARREARAGES COULD BE LIQUIDATED.

2. ACCORDING TO CUEVAS-CANCINO, PAYMENTS HAVE BEEN MADE TO IAEA WHICH HAS THEN TRANSFERRED FUNDS TO U.S.G. HE INITIALLY APPROACHED IAEA EXTERNAL RELATIONS DIRECTOR HERZIG ON THE MATTER, BUT WAS TOLD THAT IT SHOULD BE RAISED INSTEAD WITH U.S.G.

3. BEGIN TEXT OF AIDE MEMOIRE.

(1) THE BOARD OF GOVERNORS APPROVED, ON THE 15TH, JUNE, 1966, A SUPPLY AGREEMENT FOR THE PROVISIONS BY THE AGENCY OF THE ASSISTANCE REQUESTED BY MEXICO.

(2) THIS ASSISTANCE WAS PROVIDED IN ORDER TO SET UP A PROJECT CONSISTING OF A SUB-CRITICAL TRAINING FACILITY (MODEL 9000 NUCLEAR CHICAGO SUB-CRITICAL TRAINING FACILITY) FOR WHICH MEXICO RECEIVED 1400 FUEL ELEMENTS.

(3) THESE ELEMENTS, LEASED TO MEXICO BY THE AGENCY, WERE PROVIDED BY THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT. SINCE THE DATE OF DELIVERY, MEXICO HAS BEEN PAYING YEARLY FEES FOR A USE CHARGE AND FOR A CONSUMPTION CHARGE OF SAID FUEL ELEMENTS. THESE FEES AMOUNT TO U.S. DOLS 34,000 PER YEAR.

(4) THE SUB-CRITICAL TRAINING FACILITY HAS BEEN, SINCE 1966, A VITAL EDUCATIONAL INSTRUMENT IN THE UNITY OF UNCLASSIFIED

PHYSICS AND MATHEMATICS OF THE NATIONAL POLYTECHNICAL INSTITUTE IN MEXICO CITY. MANY OF THE NUCLEAR-PHYSICISTS NOW INVOLVED IN THE LAGUNA VERDE PROJECT, HAVE RECEIVED TRAINING AT THE NATIONAL POLYTECHNICAL INSTITUTE. IT IS THE CONSIDERED OPINION OF THE INSTITUTE AUTHORITIES THAT THE SUB-CRITICAL TRAINING FACILITY UNIT IS ESSENTIAL FOR THE ADEQUATE DEVELOPMENT OF NUCLEAR EDUCATION IN MEXICO.

(5) UP TO 1987, THE YEARLY FEES HAVE BEEN PAID. FOR THE FUTURE, UNFORTUNATELY, AND WITH THE TREMENDOUS DEVALUATION OF THE MEXICAN CURRENCY, AS WELL AS THE LIMITATIONS IMPOSED ON THE NATIONAL BUDGET THROUGH OVERALL CUTS, THE PAYMENT OF THE FEES BECOMES ALBEIT IMPOSSIBLE FOR THE NATIONAL POLYTECHNICAL INSTITUTE.

(6) THE VITAL IMPORTANCE OF THE FUTURE USE OF THE SUB-CRITICAL TRAINING FACILITY IS EVIDENT. DURING THE PAST TWENTY YEARS, THE TERMS OF THE AGREEMENT, AND THE PAYMENT OF THE FEES, HAVE BEEN KEPT. FOR THE FUTURE, IT IS HOPED THAT THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT COULD ALLOW THE NATIONAL POLYTECHNICAL INSTITUTE TO CONTINUE TO USE THE 1400 FUEL ELEMENTS OF THE SUB-CRITICAL TRAINING FACILITY ON A LEND-LEASE BASIS. END OF TEXT.

3. OVERVIEW

THE BANK EXPROPRIATION SAGA AND THE WAVE OF STRIKES THAT HAS AFFECTED THE PUBLIC SECTOR SINCE THE BEGINNING OF SEPTEMBER CONTINUED TO DOMINATE HEADLINES THESE PAST TWO WEEKS. PRESIDENT GARCIA'S OCTOBER 25 PLEDGE TO REMAIN NEUTRAL IN THE BANK EXPROPRIATION LEGAL BATTLE WAS SEEN AT FIRST AS A GENUINE OFFER OF CONCILIATION. THIS PERCEPTION, HOWEVER, CHANGED SHORTLY THEREAFTER WHEN A CON-

TROVERSIAL JUDGE WHO HAD OPPOSED THE GOVERNMENT'S INTERVENTION OF BANCO DE CREDITO AND BANCO WIESE WAS SUMMARILY DISMISSED BY THE SUPREME COURT WITHOUT THE BENEFIT OF A HEARING. THE HAND OF THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH WAS SEEN BEHIND THIS DISMISSAL. ON THE LABOR FRONT, AN ACROSS-THE-BOARD INCREASE FOR PUBLIC SECTOR EMPLOYEES, TEACHERS, AND NON-UNIONIZED WORKERS, AS WELL AS A SIGNIFICANT INCREASE IN THE MINIMUM WAGE ANNOUNCED OCTOBER 23, FAILED TO STOP ONGOING PUBLIC SECTOR STRIKES AND TO DISSUADE MARXIST SUTEP (TEACHERS UNION) FROM STAGING A TWO-DAY WARNING STRIKE ON OCTOBER 27-28. IN ADDITION TO THESE HEADACHES, THE GARCIA ADMINISTRATION IS NOW SUFFERING FROM A SERIOUS CREDIBILITY GAP LARGELY OF ITS OWN MAKING. CHIEFLY TO BLAME APPEARS TO BE GARCIA'S PENCHANT FOR SAYING ONE THING AND DOING THE OPPOSITE. LATEST EXAMPLE IS GARCIA'S NOMINATION OF A PERSON WITH TIES TO APRA AND A QUESTIONABLE PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND AS COMPTROLLER GENERAL AFTER HAVING PROMISED IN HIS JULY 28 STATE OF THE UNION SPEECH TO CONSULT WITH THE OPPOSITION ON A POLITICALLY INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE TO FILL THE JOB. MOVES SUCH AS THIS MAY EXPLAIN WHY RECENT POLLS SHOW A CONTINUING AND STEADY DECLINE IN GARCIA'S POPULARITY, AS WELL AS IN PEOPLE'S CONFIDENCE IN HIS ADMINISTRATION AND WHY RESURFACING THE REELECTION ISSUE AT THIS TIME -- AS APRA

PRESIDENT GARCIA HAS BEEN IN THE PUBLIC EYE CONSTANTLY THE LAST WEEK OR SO. HE CAUSED A BRIEF SENSATION OCTOBER 29 WITH A TWO AND

A HALF HOUR EXTEMPORANEOUS EXPOSITION ON REFORMING PERUVIAN EDUCATION. A CLOSE READING OF HIS SPEECH LEFT US PUZZLED AS TO WHAT HE WANTS TO ACCOMPLISH, BEYOND MAKING PERUVIAN EDUCATION LESS THEORETICAL AND MORE VOCATIONAL. HIS CRITICISMS OF ELITISM HAD THE TELEPHONES RINGING OFF THEIR HOOKS AT THE EDUCATION MINISTRY THE FOLLOWING DAY, APPARENTLY FROM CONCERN THAT PRIVATE SCHOOLS MIGHT BE TAKEN OVER. EDUCATION MINISTRY SPOKESMEN PUT OUT THAT FIRE. ON OCTOBER 31, THE PRESIDENT MADE A STRONG STATEMENT OPPOSING ANY CONCESSIONS OR DIALOGUE WITH TERRORISTS. A NOVEMBER 1 CEREMONY MARKING COMPLETION OF A FEW FISHING BOATS WENT AWRY WHEN A UNION LEADER MADE PUBLIC CHARGES OF CORRUPTION BY IMPLICATION AGAINST FISHERIES MINISTER LEBARTHE (WHO WAS PRESENT), AND REFUSED TO BE SILENCED. THE PRESIDENT MANAGED TO TURN ASIDE THE CRITICISM AND LECTURE THE FISHERMEN NOT TO EXPECT GOVERNMENT TO SOLVE ALL THEIR PROBLEMS, BUT NOT BEFORE THE MEDIA HAD A FIELD DAY, TO GARCIA'S VISIBLE ANNOYANCE. A CONSTANT THEME IN THE PRESIDENT'S PUBLIC COMMENTS LATELY HAS BEEN THAT PERU HAS FORTUNATELY TAKEN TIMELY ACTION TO INSULATE ITSELF AGAINST THE WORLD RECESSION THAT "BLACK MONDAYS" ARE FORESHADOWING. THE MODERATE OPPOSITION PRESS (E.G., "CARETAS") IS HARPING ON THE PRESIDENT'S LACK OF CREDIBILITY FOLLOWING HIS FAILURE TO CONSULT AS PROMISED ON A NEW COMPTROLLER GENERAL.

- PERU: DEBT INITIATIVE DISCUSSED

MOJSOV GAVE STRONG SUPPORT TO PERU ON DEBT BUT REFUSED TO BE DRAWN INTO AN INTERNAL DEBATE OVER EXPROPRIATION OF THE FINANCIAL SYSTEM IN A VISIT HERE OCTOBER 27-28. THE NON-ALIGNED MOVEMENT FIGURED LARGELY IN AN EXCHANGE OF TOASTS, BUT THERE WAS NOTHING SAID PUBLICLY ON NAM PRESIDENTIAL POLITICS

IN BILATERAL RELATIONS, PERUVIAN FINANCE MINISTER SABERBEIN SUGGESTED THAT PERU WAS MOVING TOWARD PAYMENT OF A SEVERAL MILLION DOLLAR DEBT TO YUGOSLAVIA, AND THERE WERE REPORTS THAT THE TWO COUNTRIES ARE CLOSE TO SIGNATURE OF AN AGREEMENT THAT COULD FINISH UP A LARGE IRRIGATION PROJECT (CHIRA-PIURA) IN NORTHERN PERU. MOJSOV ALSO EXPRESSED SUPPORT FOR A PERUVIAN IDEA TO HOST A SIX-NATION INITIATIVE ON DEBT -- AN ANALOGUE TO THE SIX-NATION DISARMAMENT INITIATIVE. FOREIGN MINISTER WAGNER TOLD NEWSMEN AFTER MOJSOV'S DEPARTURE THAT THE MFA IS WORKING ON SUCH A CONCEPT, WHICH IT HOPES TO BRING TO FRUITION "SOON," BUT OFFERED NO DETAILS BEYOND STATING THAT IT WOULD INVOLVE DEBTOR NATIONS FROM LATIN AMERICA, ASIA, AND AFRICA (NOT NECESSARILY EXCLUSIVELY). WAGNER TOLD THE AMBASSADOR THAT THIS WAS

MIRANDA, ON OCTOBER 31 PRESIDENT GARCIA HELD A PRESS CONFERENCE TO ANNOUNCE THE SECOND EDITION OF HIS 1982 BOOK "A DIFFERENT FUTURE." PRESIDENT GARCIA CLAIMED THAT HIS 1985 DECISION TO LIMIT PAYMENTS ON THE DEBT MAY HAVE VACCINATED THE COUNTRY AGAINST POSSIBLE FUTURE EFFECTS OF THE OCTOBER 19 DROP IN THE U.S. STOCK MARKET. HE PREDICTED THAT THE UNITED STATES WOULD TRY TO COMBAT ITS OWN BUDGET DEFICIT PROBLEMS BY SEEKING TO ATTRACT FUNDS FROM LAT IN AMERICAN, AFRICAN AND, TO A LESSER DEGREE, ASIAN COUNTRIES. THE U.S. DEFICIT PROBLEM, HE SAID, WAS FUELED BY THE STAGGERING AMOUNTS SPENT ON THE STAR WARS PROGRAM AND AGGRAVATED BY THE UNWILLINGNESS OF THE U.S. CONGRESS TO CUT SPENDING FOR SOCIAL PROGRAMS. HE ALSO SAID THAT THE UNITED STATES INVENTED THE BAKER PLAN TO COUNTER THE GROWING INFLUENCE OF THE PERUVIAN THESIS ON DEBT ON THE ECONOMIC THINKING IN OTHER COUNTRIES. (THIS IDEA HAS BEEN PREVALENT HERE SINCE IT FIRST APPEARED IN THE "NEW YORK TIMES" SEVERAL WEEKS AGO ATTRIBUTED TO FORMER TREASURY OFFICIAL ROBIN BROAD.)

NOVEMBER - 4 1987

Dear Senator DeConcini:

This is in response to your inquiry concerning the disappearance in September, 1987 of five men in Chile: Jose Julian Pena Maltes, Manuel Jesus Sepulveda Sanchez, Alejandro Alberto Pinochet Arenas, Gonzalo Ivan Fuenzalida Nararrete and Julio Orlando Munoz Otarola. Your inquiry was on behalf of your constituent[illegible]

These five men, all known leftists, disappeared under mysterious circumstances about two weeks after kidnappers siezed a Chilean army colonel in Santiago. There has been no information about them since. As the letter from [illegible] pointed out, Chilean authorities have said they do not have information about what happened to the men. While some in Chile have speculated that their disappearance was a form of retaliation for the colonel's kidnapping, there has been no evidence or public announcements by any group to support that. A Chilean leftist group, the Manuel Rodriguez Patriotic Front, has claimed responsibility for the kidnapping of the colonel and issued demands in return for his release.

The United States Government continues to be concerned with reports of alleged human rights abuses in Chile, and we have consistently expressed our desire for thorough investigations of all mysterious disappearances.

I hope this information is useful to you and your constituent. If we can be of further assistance, please do not hesitate to contact us.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

BALANCED HUMAN RIGHTS RESOLUTION ON CHILE WOULD AVOID SENDING MIXED SIGNALS ABOUT OUR COMMITMENT TO HUMAN RIGHTS IMPROVEMENTS IN CHILE. END SUMMARY.

3. THE DEPARTMENT BELIEVES THAT THE NEXT TWELVE MONTHS ARE LIKELY TO BE CRUCIAL TO THE SHAPE AND NATURE OF CHILE'S TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY. THE GOC HAS RECENTLY TAKEN SOME POSITIVE HUMAN RIGHTS STEPS, BUT WITHOUT MATCHING POLITICAL CHANGE THEY ARE BASICALLY COSMETIC AND THERE IS NO GUARANTEE THEY WILL BE PERMANENT OR CHANGE THE NATURE OF THE REGIME. WITH THE CRUCIAL PRESIDENTIAL VOTE LIKELY TO OCCUR SOMETIME NEXT YEAR, IT IS IMPORTANT THAT WE UNDERLINE OUR SUPPORT FOR A RETURN TO FULL DEMOCRACY IN CHILE WHICH WE ARE CONVINCED IS THE SURE WAY

TO AVERT VIOLENT CHANGE WHICH FAVORS THE POLITICAL EXTREMES. THE USG STRONGLY SUPPORTS A PEACEFUL TRANSITION TO FULL DEMOCRACY AND INCREASED RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS. THE USG HAS ACTIVELY WORKED TOWARDS THOSE OBJECTIVES. WE HAVE MADE OUR VIEWS KNOWN CLEARLY IN CHILE WHERE IT COUNTS, WITH THE GOVERNMENT IN PRIVATE, AND IN STATEMENTS MEANT TO BE PERCEIVED BY THE CHILEAN PUBLIC.

4. ONE FORUM AVAILABLE TO US TO MAKE OUR VIEWS KNOWN ON THE NEED FOR A PEACEFUL TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY AND AN ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

END TO HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES IN CHILE IS THE ANNUAL HUMAN RIGHTS RESOLUTION ON CHILE OFFERED IN THE UN GENERAL ASSEMBLY--AND LATER IN THE MORE SPECIALIZED AND RESPONSIBLE UN HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION (UNHRC) IN GENEVA IN THE SPRING. LAST MARCH WE WERE ABLE TO JOIN CONSENSUS AT THE UNHRC ON A RELATIVELY BALANCED BUT STILL FLAWED HUMAN RIGHTS RESOLUTION ON CHILE. HOWEVER, THE USG HAS BEEN UNABLE TO JOIN CONSENSUS ON THE UNGA CHILE RESOLUTION FOR THE PAST SEVEN YEARS BECAUSE OF THE REGULARLY UNFAIR AND IMBALANCED NATURE OF THE TEXTS. LAST YEAR AT THE UNGA THE WEST EUROPEANS AND THE LATIN DEMOCRACIES ALL VOTED IN FAVOR OR ABSTAINED ON A CHILE RESOLUTION, CO-SPONSORED BY CUBA, WHICH WAS SO UNBALANCED THAT THE US WAS FORCED TO VOTE NO IN VIRTUAL ISOLATION. THE CHILEAN COMMUNIST PARTY, HAVANA AND MOSCOW HAVE SUBSEQUENTLY TRIED TO MISREPRESENT AND EXPLOIT OUR NEGATIVE VOTE AS A SIGN OF ALLEGED TOTAL SUPPORT FOR THE PINOCHET ADMINISTRATION.

5. WE WISH TO AVOID SUCH AN OUTCOME THIS YEAR, WHICH WOULD SEND UNHELPFUL MIXED SIGNALS CONCERNING THE ADMINISTRATION'S STRONG COMMITMENT TO PROMOTING A PEACEFUL DEMOCRATIC TRANSITION IN CHILE AS WELL AS MEANINGFUL HUMAN RIGHTS IMPROVEMENTS. WE UNDERSTAND THAT MEXICO, CUBA AND OTHERS WILL, ONCE AGAIN, INTRODUCE A RESOLUTION ON HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE BUT THAT THEY MAY BE TEMPERED BY WEOG PRESSURE TO NEGOTIATE A MORE BALANCED TEXT THAT WOULD NOT BE ANATHEMA TO THE UNITED STATES. WEOG MEMBERS MAY HAVE ALREADY APPROACHED USMISSION NEW YORK WITH QUERIES ABOUT HOW THEY COULD BE HELPFUL IN THIS EFFORT.

6. OUR FIRST PRIORITY, IF POSSIBLE, IS TO FACILITATE PASSAGE OF A FAIR AND BALANCED RESOLUTION FOR WHICH WE WILL BE ABLE TO VOTE. WE BELIEVE IT WILL BE MORE EFFECTIVE FOR OTHER COUNTRIES TO TAKE THE LEAD AS ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

DRAFTERS AND PRINCIPAL CO-SPONSORS. IF THE TEXT OF THE

RESULTING RESOLUTION IS FAIR AND BALANCED AND IN LINE WITH THE ELEMENTS IN PARA 9, BELOW, WE WOULD, OF COURSE, BE PREPARED TO SUPPORT IT. IF THAT IS NOT POSSIBLE, AN ABSTENTION COMBINED WITH A STATEMENT OF US POLICY TOWARD CHILE WOULD BE AN ACCEPTABLE OUTCOME, ASSUMING ALSO THAT A NUMBER OF KEY MODERATE EUROPEANS (AND PERHAPS LATINS) FOLLOW A SIMILAR COURSE.

7. IT SHOULD BE UNDERSTOOD THAT PERIODIC CONSULTATION AND REVIEW OF THE TEXT WILL BE NECESSARY SINCE OUR FINAL DECISION WILL OBVIOUSLY BE BASED ON THE FINAL PROPOSED TEXT OF THE RESOLUTION--BOTH WHAT IS IN THE RESOLUTION, AND WHAT IS LEFT OUT. IN THIS REGARD, OTHER DELEGATIONS NEED TO UNDERSTAND THAT THE INCLUSION OF BIASED AND UNFAIR ELEMENTS HAVE A SERIOUS IMPACT ON OUR DECISION. WE WILL ALSO BE INFLUENCED BY THE SERIOUSNESS AND BASIC FAIRNESS OF THE ENTIRE PROCESS AND WILL NOT BE PART OF AN IDEOLOGICAL, CHILE-BASHING SPREE ORCHESTRATED BY CUBA AND THE LIKE, WHICH REEKS OF THE TYPE OF DOUBLE STANDARD WHICH HAS CHARACTERIZED SOME SUCH EFFORTS IN THE PAST.

8. ACTION REQUESTED: THE DEPARTMENT HAS PREPARED THE FOLLOWING TALKING POINTS FOR USE BY USUN IN RESPONDING TO QUERIES ABOUT WHAT WOULD CONSTITUTE, FOR THE USG, A FAIR AND BALANCED RESOLUTION ON CHILE. INFO ADDRESSESS MAY RESPOND TO QUERIES BY SUGGESTING THAT FRIENDLY INTERESTED MODERATES CONSULT WITH USUN ON HOW BEST TO ARRIVE AT A BALANCED RESOLUTION. IF ASKED, INFO ADDRESSESS MAY SHARE

ASSESSMENT OF ELEMENTS WE BELIEVE SHOULD BE ADDRESSED IN SUCH A FAIR AND BALANCED RESOLUTION.

9. THE ELEMENTS WE SEE AS IMPORTANT TO A CONSTRUCTIVE AND BALANCED TEXT ON HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE ARE:

(A) A FAIR APPRAISAL OF THE CURRENT HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION THAT EXPRESSES SERIOUS CONCERN OVER PERSISTENCE OF ABUSES, SUCH AS TORTURE, AND DEATHS OF POLITICAL OPPONENTS IN POLICE CUSTODY;

(B) EXPRESSES CONCERN AT THE GOVERNMENT'S FAILURE TO PUNISH SECURITY OFFICIALS FOR SERIOUS ABUSES OF AUTHORITY;

(C) RECOGNITION THAT SOME POSITIVE STEPS HAVE BEEN MADE, SUCH AS REDUCTION IN NUMBER OF EXILES, GREATER FREEDOM OF

EMIGRATION, PARTIAL EASING OF RESTRICTIONS ON FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION, INCLUDING EXISTENCE OF AN OPPOSITION PRESS, THE FACT THAT THE INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE OF THE RED CROSS IS ALLOWED TO VISIT SOME PRISONERS, AND THAT CHILE HAS RECENTLY SIGNED THE UN AND OAS CONVENTIONS ON TORTURE;

(D) EMPHASIS ON THE THEME THAT CHILE'S RETURN TO FULL DEMOCRACY UNDER A CIVILIAN GOVERNMENT CHOSEN IN A FAIR, FREE, AND OPEN ELECTION WILL PROVIDE THE BEST GUARANTEE FOR ASSURING RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS;

(E) ENCOURAGE THE GOVERNMENT OF CHILE TO CONTINUE STEPS TO REGISTER THE LARGEST POSSIBLE NUMBER OF VOTERS, AND TO FURTHER FACILITATE THE PARTICIPATION OF POLITICAL PARTIES;

(F) ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF THE COOPERATION GIVEN BY THE GOVERNMENT TO THE UN SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR; AS WELL AS RECOGNITION OF THE FACT THAT THE GOC DOES ALLOW A WIDE

RANGE OF INTERNATIONAL FIGURES TO VISIT CHILE AND TO REACH THEIR OWN CONCLUSION ON THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION; AND

(G) CLEAR DISAPPROVAL OF VIOLENCE, FROM ALL SOURCES, WITH THE POSSIBLE MENTION OF THE MOST RECENT CYCLE OF VIOLENCE WHICH BEGAN WITH THE ASSASINATION ATTEMPT AGAINST GENERAL PINOCHET. IT IS IMPORTANT THAT THE RISKS TO HUMAN RIGHTS AND POOLITICAL PROGRESS POSED BY THE MUTUALLY REINFORCING VIOLENT ACTIONS OF THE POLITICAL EXTREMES BE ACKNOWLEDGED, AND THAT THE RESOLUTION NOT IMPLY THAT THE GOVERNMENT IS THE ONLY PERPETRATOR AND THE SOLE CAUSE OF VIOLENCE.

10. DEPARTMNENT REQUESTS THAT MISSION KEEP US INFORMED OF DEVELOPMENTS CONCERNING THIS QUESTION, AND APPROACHES MADE BY WEOG ANDOTHER LIKE-MINDED NATIONS ON THIS ISSUE. REPORTING FROM INFO ADDRESSESS ON QUERIES THEY RECEIVE ARE ALSO DESIRED. PLEASE KEEP USUN NEW YORK INFORMED AS WELL. SHULTZ

Dear Senator Cranston:

This is in response to your inquiry concerning the disappearance in Chile of Daniel Palma Robledo. Your inquiry was on behalf of your constituent.

Unfortunately, very little is known about Robledo's disappearance. He disappeared in 1976, his car was found several months later and nothing more has been heard of him since. Similar cases from that time period remain open in Chile.

The United States Government continues to be concerned with reports of alleged human rights abuses in Chile, and we have consistently expressed our desire for thorough investigations of all mysterious disappearances.

I hope this information is useful to you and your constituent. If we can be of further assistance, please do not hesitate to contact us.

1. C - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. BACKGROUND. I HAD MY FIRST TALK IN OVER A YEAR WITH BRIGADIER GENERAL SERGIO VALENZUELA, MINISTER SECRETARY GENERAL OF THE PRESIDENCY AND THEREBY PINOCHET'S CHIEF OF STAFF. (DAS GELBARD AND I SAW HIM IN JULY, 1986). VALENZUELA AND I HAD BEEN GETTING TOGETHER EVERY SEVERAL MONTHS OVER BREAKFAST. BUT SINCE THE FALL OF 1986, HE HAS BEEN UNAVAILABLE, AN EARLY HARBINGER OF THE BOYCOTT THAT WAS APPLIED TO ME IN THE FIRST MONTHS OF 1987 BY OTHER MINISTERIAL LEVEL FIGURES. WHEN I RETURNED FROM HOME LEAVE, I LEFT WORD AT HIS OFFICE I WAS BACK AND ON TWO DAYS NOTICE GOT AN INVITATION FOR ONE OF OUR BREAKFASTS -- NOVEMBER 5. HE GAVE NO INDICATION THAT ANYTHING HAD TRANSPIRED AND WAS AS CORDIAL AS HE USED TO BE, THOUGH NOT MUCH MORE INFORMATIVE. I SUMMARIZE BELOW SOME OF HIS COMMENTS AS REFLECTING THE ATTITUDES OF A SENIOR ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

CHILEAN ARMY OFFICER, WHO WORKS DAILY WITH PINOCHET. END BACKGROUND.

3. HAVING RESPONDED TO MY QUESTION ABOUT HOW HE SAW THE COURSE OF THE US-CHILEAN RELATIONSHIP BY SAYING IT WAS "NORMAL," VALENZUELA THEN STARTED TO ARGUE

EXDIS

THAT THE UPS AND DOWNS IN THAT NORMALITY WERE LARGELY DUE TO US DISCRIMINATION AGAINST CHILE. HE CITED THE UNBALANCED US CRITICISM OF CHILE'S HUMAN RIGHTS RECORD AND THE EXAGGERATED EXPECTATIONS WE HAVE OF CHILE'S NEED TO RETURN TO DEMOCRACY. IN THE CASE OF MEXICO OR EGYPT, HE CLAIMED THE US NEVER BOTHERED ABOUT THEIR LACK OF DEMOCRACY AND OUR PRESIDENT WOULD RECEIVE THEIR PRESIDENT WITH ALL MANNER OF HONORS, WHILE PINOCHET WOULD GET ONLY A HARSH WELCOME, IF THAT. I COUNTERED BY SAYING NEITHER OUR NEIGHBORS, NOR COUNTRIES IN STRATEGIC AREAS LIKE THE MIDDLE EAST WERE AUTOMATICALLY EXEMPT FROM CRITICISMS BY THE US AND THAT IN ANY CASE IN THE CHILEAN SITUATION WE LIKE MOST OTHER DEMOCRATIC COUNTRIES HAD VERY HIGH EXPECTATIONS OF CHILE GIVEN ITS OWN DEMOCRATIC PAST.

4. HE THEN ASKED ME HOW CHILE SEEMED TO ME NOW COMPARED TO WHEN I FIRST CAME TO CHILE. I NOTED TWO MAJOR DIFFERENCES: MUCH GREATER WEIGHT GIVEN TO US IDEAS AND ACTIONS THAN I HAD EXPECTED AND A MUCH GREATER CHILEAN SENSITIVITY AS WELL. AS HE HAD ON AT LEAST ONE OTHER OCCASION, VALENZUELA INSISTED THAT THE US DID MAKE A SUBSTANTIAL DIFFERENCE IN CHILE, WHICH WAS WHY HE HAD RAISED SOME OF THE POINTS HE HAD. HE ALSO THOUGHT WE WERE GUILTY OF MISJUDGING THE STRENGTH OF THE OPPOSITION, BY EXAGGERATING IT WAY OUT OF PROPORTION AND MINIMIZING THE GOVERNMENT'S
~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

SUPPORT. I TOLD HIM I THOUGHT WE HAD A VERY REALISTIC VIEW OF BOTH, INCLUDING PINOCHET'S POPULARITY IN VARIOUS SECTORS OF THE SOCIETY.

5. VALENZUELA THEN WANTED TO KNOW WHETHER WE WOULD SUPPORT THE RESULTS OF THE PLEBISCITE IF IT WERE CONDUCTED IN AN ABSOLUTELY FRAUD-FREE MANNER. MY RESPONSE FOCUSED ON THE IMPORTANCE OF CREATING AN ATMOSPHERE, AS THE SECRETARY HAD TOLD MINISTER GARCIA IN NEW YORK, WHICH WOULD MAKE IT CLEAR THAT CHILEANS HAD A CLIMATE OF REAL FREEDOM OF INFORMATION IN WHICH TO MAKE THEIR CHOICE. PRESS RESTRICTIONS LIKE THOSE EXTENDING THE BAN ON COMMUNIST PARTY ACTIONS TO INCLUDE ALL MANNER OF IDEAS THAT COULD BE CALLED "COMMUNIST" AND DETENTION OF PEACEFUL DEMONSTRATORS WHO WANTED COMPETITIVE ELECTIONS DIDN'T BODE WELL. MY JUDGMENT WAS THAT AS OF THIS MINUTE, PEOPLE IN THE US WERE AT BEST SKEPTICAL OF HOW FREE AND FAIR THE PLEBISCITE WOULD BE. VALENZUELA DID NOT ARGUE ABOUT

PRESS RESTRICTIONS, BUT SAID DEMONSTRATIONS COULDN'T BE ALLOWED TO GET IN THE WAY OF TRAFFIC FLOW. HE ALSO SAID ALL THE PROPER FORMS HAD TO BE OBSERVED AND THAT PERMISSION WAS BEING GIVEN FOR A DEMONSTRATION ON NOVEMBER 19.(THE CNT AND THE NATIONAL CIVIC ASSEMBLY HAVE REQUESTED PERMISSION FROM THE INTENDENTE OF SANTIAGO TO HOLD AN OUTDOOR RALLY IN O'HIGGINS PARK, BUT THE LOCATION WILL BE DECIDED BY THE INTENDENTE. THERE WAS AN INDICATION THAT THE INTENDENTE WOULD GIVE PERMISSION FOR THE RALLY TO BE HELD ON THE 16TH, BUT THE GROUP WENT BACK YESTERDAY (THURSDAY) TO PETITION FOR THE 19TH. NO FINAL DECISION HAD BEEN DECIDED AS OF YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.) VALENZUELA ADDED THAT HE "HOPED" THERE WOULD BE NO VIOLENCE ON THE OCCASION.

6. I THEN ASKED HIM ABOUT THE REPORTS IN THE MORNING'S PRESS THAT PINOCHET HAD PROCLAIMED THAT THE PLEBISCITE COULD BE HELD AT ANY TIME. VALENZUELA PLAYED THE REPORTS DOWN. HE MAINTAINED THAT SINCE THE PLEBISCITE IS SEEN BY MANY PEOPLE AS LESS LEGITIMATE THAN AN ELECTION, THEN THE GOVERNMENT WOULD HAVE NO INTEREST IN CREATING FOR ITSELF FURTHER PROBLEMS OF PERCEPTION BY ADVANCING THE DATE WHICH WOULD MEAN THAT MANY PEOPLE WOULD NOT BE ABLE TO REGISTER TO VOTE. IN HIS JUDGMENT, THE GOAL THAT

JUNTA MEMBERS AND OTHERS HAD TALKED ABOUT, NAMELY SIX OF THE EIGHT MILLION POTENTIAL VOTERS, WAS STILL REASONABLE AND THAT COULD BE REACHED BY THE MIDDLE OF 1988. HE ADDED THAT HE FELT IF WE WERE REALLY ATTUNED ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

7. THIS LED TO A DISCUSSION OF THE ROLE OF THE POLITICAL PARTIES AND THE FACT THAT MOST OF THEM WERE HAVING TROUBLE FINDING ENOUGH PEOPLE WHO WERE WILLING TO DECLARE PUBLICLY THEIR ALLEGIANCE TO MEET THE PRESCRIBED QUOTA OF 35,000 ON A NATIONAL BASIS. VALENZUELA NOTED THAT CHILEANS, THOUGH VERY POLITICAL, WERE NOT "JOINERS" AND THAT AT SOME POINT THE GOVERNMENT MIGHT HAVE TO ASK FOR A DOWNWARD REVISION IN THE QUOTA. (COMMENT: IT WAS PINOCHET WHO FOR ALMOST TWO YEARS HELD OUT FOR 150,000 SIGNATURES BEFORE COMPROMISING ON 35,000).

8. COMMENT: WHILE VALENZUELA IN MANY RESPECTS IS TYPICAL OF THE "OTHER WORLD" MENTALITY OF WHICH . GEN. GALVIN SPOKE AS CHARACTERIZING CHILEAN OFFICERS, HE ALSO WILL COME THROUGH ON OCCASION, AS IN TALKING ABOUT CHANGES IN THE POLITICAL PARTIES LAW OR ADVANCING THE PLEBISCITE DATE,WITH VERY REASONABLE COMMENTS. BEFORE I LEFT, I ASKED VALENZUELA IF HE HAD ANY ADVICE. HE SAID HE WOULD SIMPLY URGE THAT I KEEP TRYING TO LEARN AND BE VERY ATTENTIVE TO PARTICULARLY CHILEAN SENSITIVITIES.

3. BEGIN TEXT.

INTRODUCTION

IN ITS SECOND YEAR, GUATEMALAN DEMOCRACY CONTINUED TO TAKE ROOT DESPITE MANY CHALLENGES. THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IMPROVED, WITH A SMALLER NUMBER OF VIOLATIONS REPORTED, AND AN IMPROVED CAPACITY TO INVESTIGATE ALLEGED ABUSES. THE MARXIST GUERRILLA INSURGENCY, WHICH HAS PLAGUED THE COUNTRY FOR TWO DECADES, CONTINUED TO DECLINE. IN OCTOBER DIRECT TALKS WERE HELD IN MADRID [redacted]

[redacted]

BETWEEN GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS AND REPRESENTATIVES OF THE GUERRILLAS. AMONG THE MANY CHALLENGES THE GOVERNMENT FACED IN 1987 WAS Â LARGE PUBLIC EMPLOYEES' STRIKE DURING THE SPRING AND A MAJOR BUSINESS SHUTDOWN TO PROTEST TAX LEGISLATION IN OCTOBER, BOTH OF WHICH WERE

RESOLVED THROUGH DIALOGUE AND WITHOUT LOSS OF LIFE. OTHER PROBLEMS INCLUDE A REPORTED STEEP INCREASE IN COMMON CRIME.

GUATEMALA'S INTERNATIONAL STANDING CONTINUED TO IMPROVE. AMONG THE MANY INTERNATIONAL VISITORS TO GUATEMALA IN 1987 WERE THE PRESIDENTS OF THE FEDERAL REPUBLIC OF GERMANY AND MEXICO, THE FOREIGN MINISTERS OF CANADA, EGYPT, JAPAN AND SWEDEN, AND MINISTERS FROM THE EUROPEAN COMMUNITY. IN ADDITION, THE SIGNING OF THE ESQUIPULAS II PEACE AGREEMENT IN GUATEMALA CITY BY THE PRESIDENTS OF THE FIVE CENTRAL AMERICAN COUNTRIES ENHANCED THE COUNTRY'S WORLDWIDE PRESTIGE.

A STEADY DECREASE IN THE NUMBER OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS CONTINUED. THE PRESENT DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT DOES NOT CONDONE THOSE THAT DO TAKE PLACE, AND POLITICALY-MOTIVATED KILLINGS AND KIDNAPPINGS IN 1987 OCCURRED WITH MUCH LESS FREQUENCY THAN IN THE EARLY 1980'S. THE UNITED NATIONS HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION PASSED A RESOLUTION IN MARCH 1987 RECOGNIZING THE IMPROVEMENTS WHICH HAVE OCCURRED. THE UN'S NEWLY-APPOINTED EXPERT FOR ADVISORY SERVICES VISITED GUATEMALA IN SEPTEMBER. THE MUTUAL SUPPORT GROUP (GAM) CONTINUED ITS EFFORTS TO HAVE THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR PAST DISAPPEARANCES PUNISHED. TO ACHIEVE THIS, GAM LEADER MRS. NINETH DE GARCIA RECENTLY FILED A LEGAL COMPLAINT OUTLINING CHARGES AGAINST 17 INDIVIDUALS SHE SAID WERE

[redacted]

SOLDIERS AND POLICEMEN. THIS CASE REPRESENTS A CHANGE IN GAM'S WILLINGNESS TO PURSUE A JUDICIAL REMEDY IN THE GUATEMALAN COURTS.

GUATEMALAN EFFORTS TO REFORM, CLEANSE AND IMPROVE THE EFFICIENCY OF THE JUDICIAL SYSTEM CONTINUE, AS DO INTENSE MEASURES TO INCREASE THE PROFESSIONALIZATION OF ITS POLICE FORCE. ASSISTANCE IN THESE ENDEAVORS HAS COME FROM MANY DEMOCRATIC NATIONS. A COMMISSION WAS FORMED IN LATE 1987 TO COORDINATE THE EFFORTS OF THE JUDICIAL, EXECUTIVE, AND LEGISLATIVE BRANCHES, TOGETHER WITH THE UNIVERSITIES AND THE BAR ASSOCIATION, IN A COHERENT PROGRAM TO IMPROVE THE ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE. DURING THE PAST YEAR THE NATIONAL POLICE HAS IMPROVED ITS EFFECTIVENESS AND IMAGE, AND HAS MOVED TO INITIATE PROCEEDINGS AGAINST MEMBERS WHO ARE ALLEGED TO HAVE COMMITTED CRIMINAL ACTS. THE SELECTION OF A HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN BY THE GUATEMALAN CONGRESS IN AUGUST WAS A LANDMARK EVENT. AS OF LATE 1987, THE OMBUDSMAN'S OFFICE WAS STILL IN THE PROCESS OF ORGANIZING, AND HAD YET TO UNDERTAKE ANY MAJOR INVESTIGATIONS.

THE INDEPENDENCE OF THE GUATEMALAN JUDICIARY WAS DEMONSTRATED THROUGHOUT 1987. A NOTEWORTHY EXAMPLE OF THIS WAS THE STRIKING DOWN BY THE CONSTITUTIONAL COURT OF POPULAR ANTI-CRIME LEGISLATION SUPPORTED BY THE INTERIOR MINISTRY WHICH WOULD HAVE ENHANCED THE ABILITY OF JUDICIAL AUTHORITIES TO HOLD REPEAT OFFENDERS IN CUSTODY PENDING TRIAL.

SUBJECT: 1987 COUNTRY REPORT ON HUMAN RIGHTS

PRACTICES: GUATEMALA

ALTHOUGH SUFFERING FROM A RECESSION SINCE THE EARLY 1980'S, GUATEMALA HAS MANAGED TO STABILIZE ITS ECONOMY, AND A MODEST GROWTH IS EXPECTED FOR 1987. GUATEMALA CAN BE CHARACTERIZED AS A COUNTRY WITH A BADLY SKEWED DISTRIBUTION OF WEALTH. AMONG THE MEASURES UNDERTAKEN BY THE GOVERNMENT TO RAISE REVENUE TO ADDRESS SOCIAL PROBLEMS WAS A TAX REFORM PROPOSAL. THIS PROPOSAL MET WITH CONSIDERABLE RESISTANCE FROM THE PRIVATE SECTOR AND OPPOSITION POLITICAL PARTIES. NEVERTHELESS, THE ISSUE WAS RESOLVED PEACEFULLY.

SECTION 1: RESPECT FOR INTEGRITY OF THE PERSON, INCLUDING FREEDOM FROM:

A. POLITICAL KILLING

ALTHOUGH CRIMINAL VIOLENCE CONTINUED TO BE A SERIOUS PROBLEM IN 1987, THE NUMBER OF CASES IN WHICH A POLITICAL MOTIVE COULD NOT BE RULED OUT DECLINED [redacted]

[redacted]

SIGNIFICANTLY FOR THE FIFTH YEAR IN A ROW. EMBASSY ESTIMATES BASED ON OFFICIAL STATISTICS CALCULATE KILLINGS OF CIVILIAN NONCOMBATANTS DECLINED TO 56 FOR THE MONTHS JANUARY TO AUGUST 1987, AS COMPARED TO 111 FOR THE SAME PERIOD IN 1986. SOME OF THESE DEATHS PROBABLY HAD POLITICAL MOTIVES. CRIMINAL INCIDENTS IN WHICH MILITARY PERSONNEL OR POLICEMEN ARE INVOLVED STILL OCCUR, BUT WITH A SIGNIFICANTLY LOWER FREQUENCY AND WITH INCREASED LIKELIHOOD OF PROSECUTION.

THE CONTINUING DECREASE IN REPORTED POLITICAL KILLINGS CAN BE ATTRIBUTED TO THE EFFORTS BY THE CIVILIAN GOVERNMENT TO UPGRADE GUATEMALA'S INTERNATIONAL IMAGE AND REALIGN THE MILITARY AND SECURITY FORCES. THE PRESENT GOVERNMENT OF GUATEMALA IN NO WAY SANCTIONS DEATH SQUAD VIOLENCE AND IS ATTEMPTING TO IMPROVE THE CAPABILITY AND IMAGE OF ITS POLICE FORCE.

A HIGH RATE OF MURDERS FOR OTHER THAN POLITICAL REASONS CONTINUED IN 1987, INCLUDING CASES OF SUSPECTED VIGILANTE JUSTICE BY PRIVATE CITIZENS. ACCORDING TO NATIONAL POLICE STATISTICS, IN THE FIRST EIGHT MONTHS OF 1987, 1,183 PEOPLE WERE REPORTED MURDERED, AN AVERAGE OF

ALMOST 148 A MONTH. THIS IS SLIGHTLY LOWER THAN THE 1986 AVERAGE OF ALMOST 153 A MONTH. REPORTED CASES OF ASSAULT WITH INTENT TO KILL ROSE DRAMATICALLY FROM AN AVERAGE OF 424 A MONTH IN 1986, TO ALMOST 600 A MONTH IN 1987. A SIMILAR PATTERN IS EVIDENT IN REPORTED ARMED ROBBERIES, UP FROM AN AVERAGE 214 A MONTH IN 1986 TO 305 A MONTH THIS YEAR. CAUSES CITED FOR THIS RISE IN CRIME INCLUDE LOW WAGES, CONTINUING UNEMPLOYMENT, AND THE ACTIVITIES OF MANY UNEMPLOYED EX-SOLDIERS AND BODYGUARDS TRAINED IN THE USE OF ARMS. SOME OBSERVERS CONTINUE TO

[redacted]

CITE THE HIGH RATE OF CRIMINAL VIOLENCE IN GUATEMALA AS A BASIS FOR CHARGES THAT POLITICAL KILLINGS CONTINUE UNABATED.
AMONG THE SUSPECTED POLITICAL MURDERS IN 1987 IS THE KIDNAP/MURDER OF EDGAR ARANA CASTILLO. FORMERLY ACTIVE WITH SUBVERSIVE ORGANIZATIONS, ARANA WENT INTO EXILE IN 1982 AFTER RECEIVING DEATH THREATS. HE RETURNED TO GUATEMALA WITH HIS FAMILY IN MARCH 1986. ABDUCTED MARCH 19, 1987 IN FRONT OF HIS HOME IN GUATEMALA CITY, HIS BODY WAS FOUND FLOATING IN A RIVER IN THE DEPARTMENT OF SANTA ROSA THE NEXT DAY. (HIS MURDER IS CONSIDERED AS BEING UNDENIABLY POLITICAL.) MANY BELIEVE THAT HE WAS KILLED BY SOMEONE IN THE ARMY AS A WARNING TO OTHER FORMER GUERRILLAS NOT TO RETURN FROM EXILE. MILITARY OFFICIALS, ON THE OTHER HAND, BELIEVE ARANA WAS KILLED BY THE GUERRILLAS FOR ABANDONING THEIR CAUSE.

ANOTHER MURDER SUSPECTED OF HAVING POLITICAL MOTIVATION IS THAT OF SAN CARLOS UNIVERSITY PSYCHOLOGY PROFESSOR RONALD OBDULIO VILLAGRAN MARIN. A FORMER PRESIDENT OF THE SAN CARLOS UNIVERSITY STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION (AEU) IN 1971-72, VILLAGRAN HAD RECEIVED DEATH THREATS SPORADICALLY SINCE 1980. A PREVIOUS ATTEMPT ON HIS LIFE IN 1981 FAILED, AND IN 1986 VILLAGRAN ESCAPED TWO KIDNAPPING ATTEMPTS. HE WAS KILLED BY A SHOT TO THE HEAD APRIL 10, 1987 INSIDE A TAVERN. THOSE CLOSE TO VILLAGRAN ASSERT THAT SOMEONE IN THE ARMY WANTED TO MAKE A POINT TO MEMBERS OF THE UNIVERSITY COMMUNITY WHO STILL ARE RESIDING ABROAD THAT THEY ARE NOT WELCOME IN GUATEMALA. THERE IS NO EVIDENCE TO SUBSTANTIATE THIS ALLEGATION, HOWEVER.

THE MURDER OF CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC CONGRESSMAN VICTOR VICENTE MOSCOSO MACHORRO OF THE DEPARTMENT OF CHIQUIMULA COULD ALSO BE CLASSIFIED AS BEING OF POSSIBLE POLITICAL

ORIGIN. CONGRESSMAN MOSCOSO WAS SHOT AND KILLED AUGUST

8, 1987 BY A FORMER BODYGUARD OF THE MAYOR OF JOCOTAN, ALSO A MEMBER OF THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC PARTY. IN THE PAST YEAR, THE CITY OF JOCOTAN HAS ALSO WITNESSED THE MURDERS OF A UNION LEADER AND TWO CITY COUNCILMEN. INTERNAL POLITICAL STRUGGLES MAY HAVE LED TO THE MURDER OF CONGRESSMAN MOSCOSO AND OTHERS DURING 1987.

IN LATE OCTOBER, THE KIDNAP/MURDER OF AGRONOMIST DANILO SERGIO ALVARADO MEJIA AND RECENT UNIVERSITY OF SAN CARLOS GRADUATE RENE HAROLDO LEIVA CAYAX PROMPTED A PUBLIC OUTCRY IN QUETZALTENANGO. GOVERNMENT LEADERS HAVE PROMISED TO CONDUCT A THOROUGH INVESTIGATION, AND FIFTY POLICE INVESTIGATORS ARE CURRENTLY WORKING ON THE CASE.

A FEW OTHER WIDELY-PUBLICIZED CASES ALSO OCCURRED IN 1987 IN WHICH A POLITICAL MOTIVE WAS SUSPECTED. AMONG THOSE IS THE UNSOLVED KIDNAP/MURDER IN JANUARY 1987 OF MARIA ODILIA RAXJAL SISIMIT AND HER MOTHER MARIA ESTEBAN SISIMIT DE RAXJAL.

IN 1987, A GUERRILLA INSURGENCY CARRIED OUT BY FOUR MARXIST ORGANIZATIONS CONTINUED TO PLAGUE THE CIVILIAN GOVERNMENT. ACCORDING TO OFFICIAL STATISTICS, GUERRILLAS KILLED 53 SOLDIERS THROUGH THE MONTH OF AUGUST THIS YEAR. IN ADDITION, 31 GUERRILLAS, 8 CIVIL DEFENSE PATROLMEN, AND 54 CIVILIANS WERE REPORTED TO HAVE DIED AS A RESULT OF THE INSURGENCY. AMONG THOSE MURDERED BY THE INSURGENTS IN 1987 WERE THREE MILITARY COMMISSIONERS (CIVILIAN REPRESENTATIVES OF THE MILITARY) IN THE COMMUNITIES OF SANTIAGO ATITLAN, SOLOLA; EL ESTOR, IZABAL; AND QUETZALTENANGO. OTHERS KILLED BY THE LEFT INCLUDE FARM OWNERS AND MANAGERS IN THE DEPARTMENTS OF ESCUINTLA AND CHIMALTENANGO.

B. DISAPPEARANCE

FROM JANUARY THROUGH AUGUST 1987, THE NATIONAL POLICE REPORTED 87 KIDNAPPINGS TOOK PLACE, COMPARED TO 72 DURING THAT EIGHT-MONTH PERIOD IN 1986. KIDNAPPINGS WITH PRESUMED POLITICAL MOTIVES CONTINUED TO TAKE PLACE IN 1987. THE MOST PUBLICIZED CASE WAS THAT OF DEBORA CAROLINA VASQUEZ VELASQUEZ, WHO WAS ABDUCTED APRIL 15 IN GUATEMALA CITY. MS. VASQUEZ HAD BEEN LIVING ABROAD FOR SIX YEARS AND RETURNED TO GUATEMALA A FEW DAYS BEFORE HER ABDUCTION TO SPEND THE EASTER HOLIDAYS WITH HER FAMILY. (ONE OF HER SISTERS HAD BEEN KIDNAPPED AND KILLED IN 1981.) SHE WAS RELEASED NINE DAYS LATER, AFTER PUBLIC DENUNCIATIONS BY HER FATHER, A PROMINENT BANK EXECUTIVE, AND THE MUTUAL SUPPORT GROUP (GAM). THE FAMILY PUBLICLY BLAMED MEMBERS OF THE MILITARY FOR THE ABDUCTION. AFTER HER RELEASE, MS. VASQUEZ LEFT THE COUNTRY. FRIENDS ASSERTED THAT MS. VASQUEZ WAS KIDNAPPED AS A WARNING TO OTHER FORMER GUERRILLA

[redacted]

SYMPATHIZERS NOT TO RETURN TO GUATEMALA.

THE JULY 27 KIDNAPPINGS OF ERNESTO TEMA PEREZ, THE LOCAL SECRETARY GENERAL OF THE SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC PARTY IN SIPACAPA, SAN MARCOS, AND HIS BROTHER JUAN TEMA PEREZ WERE ALSO HIGHLY PUBLICIZED. BOTH MEN WERE ABDUCTED FROM THEIR HOMES AT NIGHT AND ARE STILL MISSING AND PRESUMED DEAD. LEADERS OF THE GUATEMALAN DEMOCRATIC SOCIALIST PARTY DENOUNCED THE ABDUCTIONS IN CONGRESS, AND, IN CONJUNCTION WITH LEADERS OF OTHER POLITICAL PARTIES, HELD A MEETING AUGUST 20 WITH PRESIDENT CEREZO AND DEFENSE MINISTER GRAMAJO. THE MILITARY HIGH COMMAND AGREED TO INVESTIGATE TO ASCERTAIN IF MEMBERS OF THE MILITARY WERE INVOLVED.

EFFORTS TO LOCATE THE DISAPPEARED FROM PREVIOUS YEARS CONTINUED. THE ONLY VOCAL GUATEMALAN GROUP TO DEMAND INVESTIGATION INTO THESE DISAPPEARANCES IS THE MUTUAL SUPPORT GROUP (GAM). SINCE THE DEMOCRATIC REGIME OF PRESIDENT VINICIO CEREZO TOOK OFFICE IN JANUARY 1986, GAM LEADERS HAVE CALLED FOR AN INVESTIGATION INTO THE WHEREABOUTS OF DISAPPEARED PERSONS AND DEMANDED THAT THE PERPETRATORS OF THE ABDUCTIONS BE BROUGHT TO TRIAL. IN RESPONSE TO REPEATED DEMANDS BY THE GAM, CEREZO ANNOUNCED IN APRIL 1987 THE CREATION OF A COMMISSION, COMPOSED OF GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS, TO INVESTIGATE THE STATUS OF THE DISAPPEARED. AT THAT TIME, HE STATED THAT THE COMMISSION WOULD ISSUE A REPORT WITHIN THREE MONTHS. WHEN NO REPORT APPEARED, GAM MEMBERS PROTESTED BY OCCUPYING THE GUATEMALAN CONGRESS ON JULY 17. THE GOVERNMENTAL COMMISSION HAS YET TO ISSUE ITS REPORT OR TO PUBLICLY DEFINE ITS ROLE.

SINCE MID-1986, JUDGE OLEGARIO LABBE HAS BEEN INVESTIGATING WRITS FILED ON BEHALF OF MISSING PERSONS BY A NUMBER OF HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS. IN JULY

1987, HE REPORTED THAT OF 1,367 WRITS RECEIVED, 108 INDIVIDUALS WERE ALIVE AFTER THE REPORTED DATE OF THEIR DISAPPEARANCES. MANY OF THESE CASES INVOLVED INDIVIDUALS WHO HAD DEPARTED FOR THE UNITED STATES OR WERE MISSING FOR ONLY A FEW DAYS. AT PRESENT, JUDGE LABBE IS FOCUSSING ON 20 CASES IN WHICH MISSING INDIVIDUALS HAD PASSPORTS ISSUED TO THEM. IN FOUR OF

THE CASES THE PASSPORTS WERE ISSUED AFTER THE REPORTED DISAPPEARANCE. IN OCTOBER, GAM LEADERS DEPARTED FROM THEIR PREVIOUS REFUSAL TO WORK WITH THE GUATEMALAN JUDICIAL SYSTEM AND PRESENTED A LEGAL COMPLAINT TO JUDGE LABBE. THEIR COMPLAINT ACCUSED 17 INDIVIDUALS, WHOM THEY SAID WERE SOLDIERS AND POLICEMEN, OF RESPONSIBILITY FOR DISAPPEARANCES WHICH OCCURRED IN 1983 AND 1984.

AS A WAY OF SAFEGUARDING THE HUMAN RIGHTS OF GUATEMALANS, THE SELECTION OF GONZALO MENENDEZ DE LA RIVA AS GUATEMALA'S FIRST HUMAN RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN ON AUGUST 4 FINALLY GAVE GUATEMALA AN OFFICIAL HUMAN RIGHTS ADVOCATE. AS OF THIS DATE, HIS OFFICE IS BEGINNING TO RECEIVE COMPLAINTS BUT IS NOT YET READY TO INITIATE INVESTIGATIONS.

[redacted]

THE SITUATION IN GUATEMALA TODAY BEARS LITTLE RESEMBLANCE TO THAT OF THE EARLY 1980'S. ALTHOUGH DISAPPEARANCES ARE UNDOUBTEDLY STILL TAKING PLACE, AND INDIVIDUALS WITH LINKS TO THE SECURITY FORCES ARE OCCASIONALLY INVOLVED, NEITHER CIVILIAN POLITICAL LEADERS NOR THE MILITARY LEADERSHIP SANCTION OR CONDONE POLITICALLY-MOTIVATED KIDNAPPINGS.

C. TORTURE AND OTHER CRUEL, INHUMAN, OR DEGRADING TREATMENT OR PUNISHMENT

REPORTS OF POLICE BRUTALITY CONTINUED TO SURFACE IN 1987. THE GUATEMALAN NATIONAL POLICE, UNDER THE COORDINATION OF THE INTERIOR MINISTRY, IS ACTIVELY WORKING TO IMPROVE ITS IMAGE AND PERFORMANCE. THROUGH TRAINING AND FOREIGN ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS FROM SEVERAL COUNTRIES, INCLUDING THE UNITED STATES, SPAIN, VENEZUELA AND THE FEDERAL REPUBLIC OF GERMANY, THE GUATEMALAN NATIONAL POLICE HAVE BEGUN TO REORGANIZE AND INSTITUTE CHANGES.

INSTANCES OF TORTURE ARE STILL REPORTED IN GUATEMALA, MANY OF WHICH ARE ALLEGED TO OCCUR IN CONNECTION WITH COMMON CRIME. INSTANCES ATTRIBUTABLE TO SECURITY FORCES ARE INFREQUENT. TORTURE IS NOT CONDONED BY THE AUTHORITIES AND THOSE GUILTY OF SUCH PRACTICES ARE SUBJECT TO PUNISHMENT.

PROSECUTION OF THOSE POLICE OFFICERS ACCUSED OF THE

UNAUTHORIZED SHOOTING DEATHS OF MRS. LUCRECIA DE UBICO

[redacted]

IN AUGUST AND RAFAEL MORALES IN SEPTEMBER ARE EXAMPLES OF INSTANCES IN WHICH THE POLICE FORCE HAS TAKEN PROMPT ACTION AGAINST ITS OWN MEMBERS. THESE CASES BODE WELL FOR A STRONGER AND MORE THOROUGH INTERNAL INVESTIGATIONS UNIT.

DURING 1987 THERE WAS PUBLIC COMMENT REGARDING PRISON CONDITIONS. A MAJOR COMPLAINT REGARDED OVERCROWDING, AND THE CONGRESSIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS COMMITTEE INVESTIGATED THE SITUATION. MINISTER OF THE INTERIOR RODIL PUBLICLY STATED THAT IN ORDER TO RESOLVE THE PROBLEM, FOUR NEW PRISONS WOULD NEED TO BE BUILT BY DECEMBER 1, 1987. HOWEVER, THE LACK OF FINANCIAL RESOURCES HAS MADE THIS GOAL UNATTAINABLE.

IN 1987, THERE WERE NO KNOWN INCIDENTS IN WHICH GUERRILLAS TORTURED AND MUTILATED CAPTURED ARMY PERSONNEL, AS HAD OCCURRED IN 1986.

D. ARBITRARY ARREST, DETENTION, EXILE, OR FORCED LABOR

INSTANCES OF ARBITRARY ARREST ARE NOT FREQUENT IN GUATEMALA. ACCORDING TO THE GUATEMALAN CONSTITUTION, A PERSON CANNOT BE HELD FOR MORE THAN SIX HOURS WITHOUT BEING BROUGHT BEFORE A JUDGE AND FORMALLY CHARGED WITH A CRIME. CONSEQUENTLY, CASES MUST BE RUSHED TO A JUDGE, SOMETIMES WITH INSUFFICIENT EVIDENCE. THIS FREQUENTLY RESULTS IN SUSPECTED CRIMINALS BEING ALLOWED TO GO FREE. THE PURPOSE OF THIS REQUIREMENT IN THE 1985 CONSTITUTION WAS TO PREVENT ARBITRARY ARREST AND DETENTION.

INVOLUNTARY EXILE IS NOT USED AS A PUNISHMENT BY THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT, AND ITS CRITICS ARE NOT ARRESTED AND CONVICTED ON UNSUBSTANTIATED CHARGES. THE PRACTICE OF COMPULSORY LABOR IS PROHIBITED BY LAW. CHARGES

CONTINUE TO SURFACE THAT MEMBERS OF VOLUNTEER CIVIL DEFENSE PATROLS ARE FORCED TO DO UNRELATED TASKS WITHOUT COMPENSATION. DOCUMENTATION ON SUCH CASES IS SCARCE.

E. DENIAL OF FAIR PUBLIC TRIAL

THE LEGAL SYSTEM IN GUATEMALA HAS BEEN CHARACTERIZED AS INEFFICIENT AND CORRUPT, BUT IN 1987 EFFORTS TO IMPROVE THE JUDICIAL SYSTEM BEGAN TO BEAR FRUIT. EVEN SO, ONE POLICE OFFICIAL, IN COMMENTING ON THE INABILITY TO RETAIN SUSPECTS, SAID THAT IN ONE DEPARTMENT ALL THE PRISONERS ARRESTED IN A ONE-MONTH PERIOD WERE RELEASED. LEGISLATION SUPPORTED BY THE MINISTRY OF THE INTERIOR TO ENHANCE THE ABILITY OF JUDICIAL AUTHORITIES TO HOLD REPEAT OFFENDERS IN CUSTODY PENDING TRIAL WAS STRUCK DOWN BY THE CONSTITUTIONAL COURT DURING 1987.

PERSONS ARRESTED IN GUATEMALA ARE GUARANTEED THE RIGHT TO LEGAL COUNSEL AT ALL HEARINGS, AND LAWYERS ARE PROVIDED BY THE STATE IF THE DEFENDANTS CANNOT AFFORD [redacted]

THEM. HOWEVER, THESE LEGAL SERVICES ARE USUALLY PROVIDED BY LAW STUDENTS. SINCE THE MAJORITY OF THE NATION'S LAWYERS LIVE IN OR NEAR GUATEMALA CITY, IT IS SOMETIMES DIFFICULT TO RETAIN LEGAL COUNSEL IN THE COUNTRYSIDE.

DEFENDANTS MAY BE RELEASED AT THE DISCRETION OF THE MAGISTRATE AFTER POSTING BAIL. HOWEVER, THE JUDICIAL MACHINERY IS CUMBERSOME AND SLOW, AND IT IS NOT UNUSUAL FOR DEFENDANTS TO SPEND SEVERAL MONTHS IN PRISON BEFORE THEIR GUILT OR INNOCENCE IS DETERMINED.

UNCLASSIFIED

POST IS NOT AWARE OF ANY PRISONERS OF CONSCIENCE OR POLITICAL PRISONERS BEING DETAINED IN GUATEMALAN PRISONS.

F. ARBITRARY INTERFERENCE WITH PRIVACY, FAMILY, HOME OR CORRESPONDENCE

THE GUATEMALAN CONSTITUTION GUARANTEES THE INVIOLABILITY OF THE THE HOME AND OF PERSONAL CORRESPONDENCE AND PRIVATE PAPERS. CASES IN WHICH THE PRIVACY OF THE HOME IS VIOLATED DO TAKE PLACE, BUT TEND TO BE ISOLATED INSTANCES INVOLVING ACTS OF CRIMINAL VIOLENCE AGAINST INDIVIDUALS OR PROPERTY. CHARGES THAT CORRESPONDENCE IS TAMPERED WITH CONTINUE TO BE HEARD. IN MOST OF THESE CASES, THE CULPRITS HAVE BEEN IDENTIFIED AS DISHONEST POSTAL EMPLOYEES LOOKING FOR CHECKS.

G. VIOLATIONS OF HUMANITARIAN LAW IN ARMED CONFLICTS

LIMITED ARMED CONFLICT IN THE FORM OF A DWINDLING INSURGENCY IS TAKING PLACE IN GUATEMALA. AN ESTIMATED 1,000 TO 1,200 COMMUNIST GUERRILLAS CONTINUE TO FIGHT IN [redacted]

REMOTE AREAS. DOCUMENTED CASES OF VIOLATIONS OF HUMANITARIAN LAW ARE FEW.

THE USE OF LAND MINES BY THE GUERRILLAS LED TO A NUMBER OF CIVILIAN INJURIES. AMONG THE CASES REPORTED IN 1987 WAS ONE IN WHICH A VEHICLE DETONATED A MINE AND THREE PASSENGERS WERE INJURED. IN ANOTHER HIGHLY PUBLICIZED CASE, A YOUNG BOY WAS SERIOUSLY INJURED WHEN HE STEPPED ON A LAND MINE.

OTHER VIOLATIONS INCLUDE MURDERS BY GUERRILLAS OF CIVILIANS SUCH AS FARM ADMINISTRATORS AND MILITARY COMMISSIONERS. ON APPROXIMATELY 50 OCCASIONS SO FAR THIS YEAR, GUERRILLAS HAVE STOPPED BUSES TO STEAL FOOD, MONEY AND BELONGINGS FROM PASSENGERS. RESIDENTS CONTINUE TO FLEE AREAS WITH HEAVY INSURGENT ACTIVITY.

DUE TO THE NATURE OF THE INSURGENCY, THE TAKING OF PRISONERS OF WAR BY THE MILITARY IS INFREQUENT. THOSE THAT ARE TAKEN ARE GIVEN THE CHOICE OF BEING GRANTED AMNESTY, BECOMING INFORMERS, OR REMAINING UNDER THE CUSTODY OF A MILITARY ZONE COMMANDER.

CHEMICAL WEAPONS ARE NOT USED BY EITHER THE GUATEMALAN MILITARY OR THE GUERRILLAS.

SECTION 2: RESPECT FOR CIVIL LIBERTIES, INCLUDING:

A. FREEDOM OF SPEECH AND PRESS

ALTHOUGH THERE IS NO FORMAL PRESS CENSORSHIP IN GUATEMALA, THE MEDIA CONTINUES TO EXERCISE A DEGREE OF SELF-CENSORSHIP ON CERTAIN SENSITIVE TOPICS, AND CHARGES OF CENSORSHIP WERE LEVELED AT THE GOVERNMENT FOR INITIALLY NOT ALLOWING THE AIRING OF SOME TELEVISION COMMERCIALS CRITICAL OF ITS TAX POLICY. PRESS-RELATED ISSUE BROUGHT TO THE FORE IN 1987 WAS A REQUIREMENT THAT RADIO AND TELEVISION CARRY GOVERNMENT-SUPPLIED BROADCASTING FOR FREE ON A DAILY BASIS.

THE REFUSAL OF A GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL TO ALLOW A SERIES OF SPOT POLITICAL TELEVISION ADVERTISEMENTS TO BE AIRED IN SEPTEMBER RESULTED IN CHARGES OF CENSORSHIP AGAINST THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT. THE ANNOUNCEMENTS IN QUESTION WERE CRITICAL OF THE GOVERNMENT'S TAX REFORM MEASURES, AND WERE REJECTED BY GUATEMALA'S "DIRECCION

GENERAL DE RADIODIFUSION." UNDER GUATEMALAN RADIO COMMUNICATIONS LAW (WHICH GOVERNS BOTH TV AND RADIO BROADCASTING), ALL ADVERTISEMENTS MUST BE SUBMITTED TO THE DIRECCION GENERAL FOR APPROVAL. (NORMALLY ONLY

UNCLASSIFIED

THOSE SPOTS WHICH DO NOT HAVE MAJOR GUATEMALAN PARTICIPATION ARE REJECTED.) A GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL STATED THAT THE ADS WERE REJECTED BECAUSE THEY CONTAINED UNTRUE INFORMATION. THE OVERWHELMING MAJORITY OF THE

ADS USED IN A MASSIVE ANTI-GOVERNMENT MEDIA BLITZ RAN UNMOLESTED. THE ADVERTISERS WERE ABLE TO OBTAIN A COURT INJUNCTION ("AMPARO") COUNTERMANDING THE GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL'S DECISION, AND THE ADS WERE BROADCAST.

THE REQUIREMENT THAT GUATEMALAN RADIO AND TELEVISION CARRY GOVERNMENT-SPONSORED BROADCASTING HAS BECOME A CONTENTIOUS ISSUE. UNDER A 1978 GUATEMALAN LAW, RADIO AND TELEVISION STATIONS CAN BE REQUIRED TO CARRY GOVERNMENT-PROVIDED BROADCASTING FOR URGENT ("TRANSCENDENTAL") MATTERS. PREVIOUSLY, THE STATIONS WERE ONLY OCCASIONALLY REQUIRED TO CARRY MAJOR NATIONAL EVENTS. SINCE MID-SUMMER, HOWEVER, THE GOVERNMENT HAS BEEN REQUIRING STATIONS TO CARRY GOVERNMENT-SUPPLIED SPEECHES AND REPORTS ON A DAILY BASIS. JOURNALISTS CHARGE THAT THIS REQUIREMENT IS AN ABUSE OF GOVERNMENTAL AUTHORITY.

AN INCIDENT IN MID-SUMMER ALSO CAUSED CONCERN WITHIN THE PRESS COMMUNITY. IT INVOLVED THE ARREST OF A NEWSPAPER REPORTER WHO WAS RETURNING TO THE POLICE A CAMERA HE APPARENTLY TOOK BY MISTAKE FROM A CRIME SCENE. THE ARREST WAS NOT REPORTED BY GUATEMALA'S PRESS DUE TO CONCERN FOR THE JOURNALIST'S REPUTATION AND SAFETY. THE REPORTER WAS RELEASED AFTER A WEEK'S DETENTION. BECAUSE THE REPORTER IN QUESTION SPECIALIZES IN INVESTIGATIVE REPORTING, SOME PRESS OBSERVERS VIEWED THE ARREST AS A VEILED WARNING AGAINST THIS SORT OF JOURNALISM.

THE LACK OF AGGRESSIVE INVESTIGATIVE REPORTING DEALING WITH THE MILITARY AND HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS IS DUE TO SELF-CENSORSHIP. THIS TRADITIONAL GUATEMALAN MEDIA RESTRAINT HAS CONTINUED INTO THE DEMOCRATIC

ADMINISTRATION OF PRESIDENT CEREZO.

B. FREEDOM OF PEACEFUL ASSEMBLY AND ASSOCIATION

FREEDOM OF PEACEFUL ASSEMBLY AND POLITICAL ASSOCIATION EXISTS IN GUATEMALA. THESE RIGHTS ARE GUARANTEED IN THE GUATEMALAN CONSTITUTION, AND ARE FREELY EXERCISED. LABOR GROUPS, HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS AND POLITICAL PARTIES HAVE THE RIGHT TO MEET PEACEABLY AND HAVE DONE SO IN 1987 WITHOUT GOVERNMENT INTERVENTION.

THERE ARE THREE MAJOR TRADE UNION CONFEDERATIONS COMPOSED OF HUNDREDS OF SMALLER, ACTIVE LABOR UNIONS, AND MANY OTHER TYPES OF SMALLER LABOR GROUPINGS. THE LARGEST UNION CONFEDERATION IS THE GUATEMALAN CONFEDERATION FOR SYNDICAL UNITY (CUSG) COMPOSED OF 150,000 MEMBERS FROM 19 FEDERATIONS. THE CUSG IS A DEMOCRATIC GROUP WHICH RECEIVES SOME SUPPORT FROM THE AFL-CIO, AND IS FORMALLY AFFILIATED WITH THE INTERNATIONAL CONFEDERATION OF FREE TRADE UNIONS (ICFTU). THE SECOND LARGEST AND MOST ACTIVE CENTRAL IS THE COORDINATING COMMITTEE OF GUATEMALAN WORKERS (CGTG) WITH SIX FEDERATIONS AND A MEMBERSHIP ESTIMATED AT 23,500. THIS GROUP HAS A CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC ORIENTATION AND IS SYMPATHETIC TOWARDS THE GOVERNMENT. THE LEFTIST-ORIENTED UNION OF GUATEMALAN WORKERS' UNIONS (UNSITRAGUA) IS A LOOSE COALITION OF 33 UNIONS WITH APPROXIMATELY 12,000 MEMBERS.

THOUGH THESE UNION CONFEDERATIONS ARE FREE TO ORGANIZE, BARGAIN AND STRIKE, THE CGTG AND UNSITRAGUA HAVE YET TO OBTAIN LEGAL RECOGNITION. MANY LABOR LEADERS SEE THIS AS EVIDENCE OF STALLING BY THE MINISTRY OF LABOR. IN APRIL AND MAY, A MASSIVE PUBLIC EMPLOYEES' STRIKE WHICH ENCOMPASSED APPROXIMATELY 25,000 WORKERS ENDED WITHOUT INCIDENT. ITS SETTLEMENT WAS VIEWED AS A VICTORY BY THE GOVERNMENT.

GUATEMALA'S HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATION, THE MUTUAL SUPPORT GROUP (GAM), CONTINUED TO HOLD NUMEROUS PROTEST MARCHES AND RALLIES DURING 1987. FOR 24 HOURS IN JULY THEY OCCUPIED THE GUATEMALAN CONGRESS BUILDING WITHOUT INCIDENT.

THERE ARE 12 LEGAL POLITICAL PARTIES RANGING FROM THE FAR-RIGHT TO THE DEMOCRATIC SOCIALIST PARTY, WHICH IS THE SOCIALIST INTERNATIONAL'S REPRESENTATIVE IN GUATEMALA. TEN OF THESE PARTIES ARE REPRESENTED IN CONGRESS. OTHER PARTIES ARE IN THE PROCESS OF ORGANIZING THEMSELVES FOR ELECTORAL PARTICIPATION. DURING THE YEAR, BOTH PRESIDENT VINICIO CEREZO AND DEFENSE MINISTER GEN. HECTOR GRAMAJO STATED THAT A LEGAL COMMUNIST PARTY COULD EXIST IN GUATEMALA. IN 1987, POLITICAL MEETINGS WERE NOT INTERFERED WITH BY SECURITY FORCES.

A DEMONSTRATION OF POLITICAL FREEDOM IN GUATEMALA OCCURRED IN LATE OCTOBER WHEN A SEMINAR ENTITLED [redacted]

[redacted]

"SOLIDARITY FOR PEACE" WAS HOSTED IN PART BY GUATEMALA'S REPRESENTATIVE IN THE SOCIALIST INTERNATIONAL. IN ATTENDANCE WERE A NUMBER OF HIGH LEVEL SOCIAL DEMOCRATS FROM AROUND THE WORLD, INCLUDING A REPRESENTATIVE OF WILLY BRANDT, H.J. WISCHENEWSKI.

A MAJOR BUSINESS SHUTDOWN TOOK PLACE IN OCTOBER 1987 TO PROTEST THE GOVERNMENT'S NEW TAX PACKAGE AND MOST GUATEMALA CITY BUSINESSES WERE CLOSED FOR SEVERAL DAYS. NO ACTIONS WERE TAKEN AGAINST THE PRIVATE SECTOR ORGANIZERS OF THI PROTEST.

C. FREEDOM OF RELIGION

ALL RELIGIOUS DENOMINATIONS HAVE THE RIGHT TO PRACTICE FREELY IN GUATEMALA. MORE THAN 70 PERCENT OF GUATEMALA'S POPULATION IS ROMAN CATHOLIC. MANY INDIAN GROUPS, WHICH COMPRISE ROUGHLY 50 PERCENT OF THE NATION'S TOTAL POPULATION, MIX NATIVE BELIEFS WITH CATHOLIC PRACTICES. OVER 25 PERCENT OF GUATEMALANS NOW

PRACTICE PROTESTANT RELIGIONS, MOST OF WHICH ARE EVANGELICAL IN NATURE. THERE ARE ALSO SMALL COMMUNITIES OF JEWS, MORMONS, BAHAI'S AND BUDDHISTS.

TENSION BETWEEN THE NATION'S CATHOLIC HIERARCHY AND THE GROWING EVANGELICAL MOVEMENT CONTINUES, BUT FEW INSTANCES OF VIOLENT CLASHES ARE REPORTED IN 1987.

D. FREEDOM OF MOVEMENT WITHIN THE COUNTRY, FOREIGN TRAVEL, EMIGRATION, AND REPATRIATION

THERE ARE NO LEGAL RESTRICTIONS ON FREEDOM OF MOVEMENT WITHIN THE COUNTRY AND WITH REGARD TO TRAVEL ABROAD.

[redacted]

THE ONLY IMPEDIMENTS TO FREE MOVEMENT ARE OCCASIONAL GOVERNMENT AND GUERRILLA ROADBLOCKS. THE NATIONAL AND TREASURY POLICE CHECK VEHICLE REGISTRATIONS AND LOOK FOR SUSPICIOUS VEHICLES WHICH MIGHT BE STOLEN OR CARRYING STOLEN GOODS OR CONTRABAND. SOMETIMES THESE ROADBLOCKS CAN LEAD TO TRAGEDY, AS IN THE CASE OF LUCRECIA DE UBICO, WHO WAS SHOT AND KILLED IN AUGUST WHEN SHE DID NOT STOP AT AN UNAUTHORIZED POLICE ROADBLOCK. GUATEMALAN GUERRILLA GROUPS USE ROADBLOCKS TO OBTAIN GOODS AND MONEY FROM THE OCCUPANTS OF PASSING VEHICLES AND TO DISSEMINATE PROPAGANDA.

THE SITUATION WITH RESPECT TO REFUGEES HAS BEEN IMPROVING. GUATEMALA HAS CEASED TO BE A REFUGEE-GENERATING COUNTRY AND IS NOW A REFUGEE-RECEIVING COUNTRY. THE UNITED NATIONS HIGH COMMISSIONER FOR REFUGEES (UNHCR) ESTIMATES THE TOTAL NUMBER OF GUATEMALAN REFUGEES IN MEXICO HAS RISEN TO APPROXIMATELY 42,500 DUE SOLELY TO NATURAL INCREASE. APPROXIMATELY 800 RETURNED TO GUATEMALA DURING THE FIRST TEN MONTHS OF 1987. ABOUT 450 GUATEMALAN REFUGEES REMAIN IN HONDURAS. MOST OF THE REFUGEES ARE INDIANS FROM AREAS AFFLICTED BY INSURGENT ACTIVITIES.

THE CATHOLIC CHURCH, IN PARTNERSHIP WITH THE GOVERNMENT, IS GIVING LIMITED ASSISTANCE TO APPROXIMATELY 800 DISPLACED PERSONS WHO HAD BEEN LIVING IN AREAS OF GUERRILLA ACTIVITY IN THE HIGHLANDS. THESE DISPLACED PERSONS HAVE SOMETIMES BEEN LIVING IN THE MOUNTAINS FOR SEVERAL YEARS BEFORE SEEKING HELP. BISHOPS IN THE DEPARTMENTS OF ALTA VERAPAZ AND EL QUICHE ARE PRESENTLY ASSISTING SEVERAL HUNDRED DISPLACED PERSONS. THESE BISHOPS PROVIDE MEDICAL ATTENTION, FOOD AND TEMPORARY HOUSING. THE GOVERNMENT HAS PROVIDED LAND FOR SETTLEMENT TO SOME GROUPS.

CONTINUED TO FLOCK TO GUATEMALA. ESTIMATES OF NICARAGUANS LIVING IN GUATEMALA VARY BETWEEN 7,000 AND 20,000, MOST OF WHOM ARE IN THE COUNTRY ILLEGALLY. IN ADDITION, SEVERAL THOUSAND SALVADORANS HAVE COME TO GUATEMALA TO SEEK JOBS OR TO ESCAPE GUERRILLA WARFARE. THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT DOES NOT ACTIVELY DEPORT THESE REFUGEES, MANY OF WHOM OBTAIN ASSISTANCE FROM VARIOUS CHURCH GROUPS AND OTHER CHARITIES.

IN NOVEMBER, SEVEN GUATEMALANS WHO HAVE BEEN LIVING IN MEXICO CITY RETURNED FOR A VISIT IN ORDER TO ASSESS HUMAN RIGHTS CONDITIONS IN GUATEMALA. SAYING THEY REPRESENTED A LARGE NUMBER OF THE GUATEMALAN EXPATRIATE COMMUNITY IN MEXICO, THE SEVEN STATED THEY CAME TO SEE IF THE SITUATION IN MEXICO WAS AMENABLE TO THEIR PERMANANT RETURN. AFTER ONLY TWO DAYS, THE GROUP STATED THEY DID NOT YET PERCEIVE SUFFICIENT GUARANTEES OF FREEDOM IN GUATEMALA. THEY RETURNED TO MEXICO A FEW DAYS LATER.

SECTION 3: RESPECT FOR POLITICAL RIGHTS: THE RIGHT OF CITIZENS TO CHANGE THEIR GOVERNMENT

GUATEMALA HAS BEEN A FUNCTIONING DEMOCRACY SINCE PRESIDENT VINICIO CEREZO TOOK OFFICE IN JANUARY 1986 AFTER FREE AND FAIR ELECTIONS IN 1985. THE PRESIDENT OF GUATEMALA AND A NEAR MAJORITY OF CONGRESSIONAL DEPUTIES ARE MEMBERS OF THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC PARTY. THERE ARE TEN POLITICAL PARTIES REPRESENTED IN THE 100-MEMBER UNICAMERAL CONGRESS WHICH RANGE ACROSS THE POLITICAL SPECTRUM FROM RIGHT TO LEFT. THE PRESIDENT AND CONGRESSIONAL DEPUTIES WERE ELECTED TO FIVE-YEAR TERMS IN 1985 AND NEW NATIONAL ELECTIONS ARE SCHEDULED FOR 1990. MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS ARE SCHEDULED TO BE HELD IN SMALLER MUNICIPALITIES NATIONWIDE IN APRIL 1988. AN EFFORT IS BEING MADE TO CHANGE THE ELECTORAL LAW SO THAT HALF OF CONGRESS CAN ALSO BE RENEWED IN 1988. SEVERAL GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS STATED PUBLICLY IN 1987 THAT THERE WOULD BE NO IMPEDIMENT TO THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A LEGAL COMMUNIST PARTY IN GUATEMALA.

SECTION 4: GOVERNMENT ATTITUDE REGARDING INTERNATIONAL AND NONGOVERNMENTAL INVESTIGATIONS OF ALLEGED VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS

PRESIDENT CEREZO AND HIS GOVERNMENT COOPERATED WITH INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS DURING 1987. AMONG THE VISITORS TO GUATEMALA WAS HECTOR GROS ESPIEL OF URUGUAY, THE UNITED NATIONS HUMAN RIGHTS EXPERT FOR GUATEMALA, WHO CAME IN SEPTEMBER. IN ADDITION, MEMBERS OF THE UNITED NATIONS HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION'S (UNHCR) WORKING GROUP ON ENFORCED OR INVOLUNTARY DISAPPEARANCES PAID A VISIT IN OCTOBER.

[redacted]

[redacted]

IN MARCH, IMPROVEMENTS IN THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN GUATEMALA WERE RECOGNIZED IN A RESOLUTION PASSED BY THE UNHCR. THE IMPROVED SITUATION WAS REFLECTED IN THE SELECTION OF AN EXPERT FOR ADVISORY SERVICES TO REPLACE LORD COLVILLE, THE UNITED NATIONS SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR FOR GUATEMALA WHO RESIGNED IN LATE 1986 (GROS ESPIEL WAS SELECTED IN MAY)..

THE MUTUAL SUPPORT GROUP (GAM) CONTINUED ITS STRUGGLE TO HAVE DISAPPEARANCES FROM PREVIOUS YEARS INVESTIGATED.

IN RESPONSE TO GAM'S DEMANDS, PRESIDENT CEREZO IN APRIL ANNOUNCED THE CREATION OF A GOVERNMENTAL COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE THE STATUS OF MISSING PERSONS. ALTHOUGH IT HAS MET PERIODICALLY, THIS COMMISSION HAS NOT YET FULLY DEFINED ITS ROLE OR PRODUCED A REPORT.

IN EARLY 1987, A GROUP OF GUATEMALANS ATTEMPTED TO FORM A LOCAL CHAPTER OF AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL. THE EFFORT ENDED WHEN A LETTER PUBLISHED IN A GUATEMALAN NEWSPAPER STATED THAT THE CENTRAL ORGANIZATION HAD NO PLANS TO FORM A CHAPTER IN GUATEMALA. MEMBERS OF THE NOW DEFUNCT ORGANIZING COMMITTEE REPORTED CASES OF HARASSMENT AND THREATS IN LATE 1986 AND EARLY 1987, AND ATTRIBUTED THESE ACTS TO A REACTION AGAINST THEIR EFFORTS TO FORM A CHAPTER.

AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL AND AMERICA'S WATCH CONTINUED TO ISSUE REPORTS IN 1987 THAT WERE CRITICAL OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN GUATEMALA, ALTHOUGH SOME IMPROVEMENTS WERE NOTED. BOTH GROUPS HAVE PAID VISITS TO GUATEMALA SINCE THE DEMOCRATICALLY-ELECTED GOVERNMENT CAME TO POWER IN JANUARY 1986. PRESIDENT CEREZO PLACES A HIGH PRIORITY ON THE IMPROVEMENT OF GUATEMALA'S HUMAN RIGHTS IMAGE ABROAD, A VIEW HE EXPRESSED ON SEVERAL OCCASIONS DURING THE PAST YEAR.

STARK CULTURAL DIFFERENCES BETWEEN THE LADINO MIDDLE AND UPPER CLASSES AND THE LARGE NUMBER OF INDIGENOUS MAYAN GROUPS, WHO NUMBER APPROXIMATELY 50 PERCENT OF GUATEMALA'S POPULATION, HAVE HISTORICALLY CREATED AN ENVIRONMENT OF MISUNDERSTANDING. IN AN ATTEMPT TO BRING INDIGENOUS GROUPS INTO NATIONAL LIFE, THE GOVERNMENT OF GUATEMALA IS PROVIDING THESE GROUPS WITH MEDICAL ATTENTION AS WELL AS BILINGUAL EDUCATION IN SPANISH AND THEIR NATIVE LANGUAGE. INDIANS FROM AREAS NEAR TOWNS HAVE HAD THESE BENEFITS, AND SEVERAL INDIANS HAVE BEEN ELECTED AS MEMBERS OF THE NATIONAL CONGRESS AND AS MAYORS.

A NUMBER OF WOMEN ARE MAKING SIGNIFICANT CONTRIBUTIONS IN THE GUATEMALAN GOVERNMENT AND PRIVATE SECTOR. TWO MEMBERS OF THE PRESIDENT'S CABINET, SEVEN MEMBERS OF THE NATIONAL CONGRESS AND FOUR OF GUATEMALA'S AMBASSADORS POSTED ABROAD ARE WOMEN, AS IS THE "NOTABLE" PERSON

[redacted]

APPOINTED TO THE NATIONAL RECONCILIATION COMMISSION. DESPITE THIS PROGRESS, CENTURIES-OLD STEREOTYPES STILL EXIST. TO ADDRESS THE NEEDS OF WOMEN IN THE WORKFORCE, THE GOVERNMENT HAS ESTABLISHED A NATIONAL OFFICE OF WOMEN (ONAM). STAFF AND RESOURCE LIMITATIONS RESTRICT ITS ABILITY TO COORDINATE ACTIVITIES WITH 56 GUATEMALAN WOMEN'S ORGANIZATIONS. AMONG THE ISSUES ONAM IS ATTEMPTING TO ADDRESS ARE EMPLOYER DISCRIMINATION AGAINST MARRIED AND PREGNANT WOMEN, THE INABILITY OF PROFESSIONAL WOMEN TO FIND JOBS, AND THE LACK OF DAY CARE CENTERS FOR THE CHILDREN OF WORKING WOMEN.

CONDITIONS OF LABOR

A VARIETY OF LAWS PROTECT THE RIGHTS OF GUATEMALAN WORKERS BY ESTABLISHING MINIMUM WAGES, MINIMUM WORKING AGE, SAFE CONDITIONS, AND MAXIMUM WORKING HOURS. MINIMUM SAFETY STANDARDS AT THE WORKPLACE ARE FREQUENTLY IGNORED BY THE EMPLOYERS, AND THE GOVERNMENT HAS BEEN UNABLE TO FULLY ENFORCE THESE LAWS.

Richard Schifter, Assistant Secretary for Human Rights & Humanitarian Affairs
U.S. Department of State
2201 C. Street NW
Washington, D. C. 20520

Dear Mr. Schifter:

Recently the case of Maria Espinoza was brought to my attention by a resident of my Congressional District. I indicated my willingness to make an inquiry with your office concerning the status of your review of the request for political asylum and I am therefore taking the liberty of contacting you at this time.

I am advised that Maria Angelica Espinoza Quinteros was born in Santiago, Chile, on October 23, 1952. She is currently residing with her sister in Albuquerque, New Mexico, and filed her request for political asylum from that address. Maria's husband has been imprisoned in Chile in the past and I am told he currently is awaiting a trial. Maria, too, was imprisoned in Chile as the wife of a political activist.

I would be very grateful to you for any information you may be able to provide concerning the status of this case. In this connection, please forward your response to me at my Ithaca office address which is listed above. If there is any help that I can provide as you review the case, please let me know.

Thank you for your kind attention.

Best regards.

Sincerely,

Matthew F. McHugh

2. SUMMARY: MEXICAN DELEGATION PROVIDED US A COPY ON NOVEMBER 13 OF THEIR PROPOSED DRAFT TEXT FOR A RESOLUTION ON HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE. WHILE THE DRAFT IS ROUGHLY SIMILAR TO THE RESOLUTION ADOPTED AT THE LAST GA OVER U.S. OPPOSITION, IN SOME RESPECTS IT IS EVEN HARSHER. END SUMMARY.

3. MEXICO'S DELEGATION TO THE UNGA'S THIRD COMMITTEE (SOCIAL AND HUMANITARIAN AFFAIRS) GAVE US A COPY (REF A) ON NOVEMBER 13 OF MEXICO'S PROPOSED TEXT FOR A RESOLUTION ON THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE. MEXICO IS TRADITIONALLY THE MAIN SPONSOR OF THE RESOLUTION ON CHILE. THE U.HAS VOTED AGAINST THE MEXICAN RESOLUTION ON CHILE, INCLUDING THE ONE OFFERED

AT THE LAST GA (41/161), FOR ITS LACK OF BALANCE. OUR EVALUATION OF THE NEW MEXICAN TEXT FOLLOWS.

4. FIRST SEVEN PREAMBULAR PARAGRAPHS ARE IDENTICAL TO THOSE IN 41/161. PREAMBULAR PARAS 8 AND 9, HOWEVER, ARE NEW:

-- "OBSERVING THAT THE MAINTENANCE OF STATES OF LEGAL EXCEPTION CONSTITUTES A SOURCE OF FREQUENT VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND LEAD TO THE ARBITRARY INTERVENTION OF THE PUBLIC AUTHORITY IN DETRIMENT OF THE POLITICAL ACTIVITIES OF ITS CITIZENS,

-- NOTING THAT EVEN WHEN OPPOSITION PUBLICATIONS HAVE BEEN AUTHORIZED, THESE HAVE BEEN SUBMITTED TO SEVERE RESTRICTIONS AND LIMITATIONS, INCLUDING THE DETENTION AND INDICTMENT OF THEIR EDITORS,"

5. THE DRAFT'S PREAMBULAR 10 IS SIMILAR TO PREAMBULAR 10 OF THE RESOLUTION ON CHILE ADOPTED AT THE LAST SESSION OF THE COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS (CHR). THE MEXICAN TEXT STATES:

- "NOTING THAT THE ADOPTION OF MEASURES OF POLITICAL PARTY ACTIVITIES AND ELECTORAL REGISTRATION DO NOT CONSTITUTE AN EXPRESSION OF THE SOVEREIGN WILL AND THAT, IN THE ABSENCE OF THE INSTITUTIONAL FRAMEWORK FOR FREE ELECTIONS, DO NOT MEET THE BASIC REQUIREMENTS OF DEMOCRACTIC RULE OF LAW NOR OF THE PRINCIPLE OF NON-DISCRIMINATION BASED ON POLITICAL OPINIONS OR OF OTHER NATURE, RECOGNIZED IN THE INTERNATIONAL COVENANT ON CIVIL AND POLITICAL RIGHTS,"

- "EXPRESSES ITS DISTRESS AT THE DENIAL OF FUNDAMENTAL RIGHTS AND FREEDOMS THROUGH THE MAINTENANCE OF ARBITRARY EXECUTIVE POWERS DURING THE PROLONGED PERIOD OF EXISTENCE OF THE STATE OF LEGAL EXCEPTION, THE CLIMATE OF INSECURITY, THE USE OF COERCIVE METHODS, TORTURE AND ILL-TREATMENT BY THE SECURITY FORCES,, THE RENEWAL OF ADMINISTRATIVE INTERNAL EXILE AND THE PRACTICE OF FORCED DISAPPEARANCES, AS WELL AS THEIR EXISTENCE OF BANDS OF PRIVATE GROUPS RELATED TO THE SECURITY FORCES THAT, WITH IMPUNITY, ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR ACTIONS THAT RANGE FROM INTIMIDATION TO ASSASSINATION."

7. OPERATIVE PARAGRAPH 9 READS AS FOLLOWS, "URGES THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT TO HONOR THE REQUEST OF VARIOUS SOCIAL AND POLITICAL SECTORS FOR THE RE-ESTABLISHMENT OF A PLURALIST DEMOCRACY." IT IS LOOSELY BASED ON OPERATIVE 8 OF LAST GA'S RESOLUTION WHICH STATED "WELCOMES WITH SATISFACTION THE REQUESTS FROM VARIOUS SOCIAL AND POLITICAL SECTORS FOR THE RE-ESTABLISHMENT OF A PLURALIST DEMOCRACY."

8. MOST OF THE SUB-PARAGRAPHS OF OPERATIVE 10 ARE SIMILAR TO THE SUB-PARAGRAPHS FOUND UNDER OPERATIVE 9 OF 41/161. THERE IS SOME NEW LANGUAGE, HOWEVER, PARAGRAPH 10C HAS A PHRASE CONDEMNING "THE PRACTICES OF PROLONGED PERIODS OF INCOMMUNICADO DETENTION AND ACKNOWLEDGED THAT THE PRACTICE OF BANISHMENT HAD NOT BEEN EMPLOYED DURING 1986.

11. COMMENT: THE MEXICANS USE A TACTIC PERFECTED BY THE CUBANS AT THE GA. INSTEAD OF STARTING FROM WHAT WAS AGREED AT THE GA OR THE CHR AND GOING FORWARD FROM THERE, THEY START THE NEGOTIATIONS ALL OVER EVERY TIME. FOR EXAMPLE, THE LANGUAGE CONTAINED IN OPERATIVE 10E ON THE AMNESTY WAS NEGOTIATED OUT OF THE MEXICAN TEXT AT THE LAST GA.

12. THE PROPOSED DRAFT MAKES NO MENTION OF THE FOLLOWING: THE DECREASE IN THE NUMBER OF POLITICAL EXILES (UNLIKE PREAMBULAR PARAGRAPH 11 OF THE CHR RESOLUTION); ANY EFFORT BY THE GOC TO ADDRESS VIOLATIONS (UNLIKE OPERATIVE 11 OF TH CHR RESOLUTION); ACCESS BY THE ICRC TO PRISONERS (UNLIKE PREAMBULAR 8 OF THE CHR RESOLUTION); OR OF CHILE'S RECENT SIGNING OF THE TORTURE CONVENTION. THE DRAFT'S ONLY MENTION OF THE EXISTENCE OF AN OPPOSITION PRESS IS TO BEMOAN CONTINUING RESTRICTIONS ON THAT PRESS.

13. THE THIRD COMMITTEE BEGINS DEBATING THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS ON NOVEMBER 18. VOTING ON RESOLUTIONS, INCLUDING CHILE, WILL OCCUR ON OR ABOUT NOVEMBER 25. GIVEN THE LATENESS OF MEXICO'S DRAFT AND THE NUMBER OF SERIOUS FLAWS IN IT, WE ARE PESSIMISTIC THAT ANY CHANGES TO COME IN THE MEXICAN TEXT WILL ENABLE US TO CHANGE OUR VOTE FROM LAST YEAR. A U.S. NEGATIVE VOTE WOULD BE A MAJOR DISAPPOINTMENT TO SEVERAL WESTERN EUROPEANS WHO DISLIKE BEING IN DIRECT OPPOSITION TO US ON AN IMPORTANT HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUE.

SUBJECT: AMBASSADOR WALTERS MEETS CHILEAN FORMER -- FOREIGN MINISTER HERMAN CUBILLOS

1. C - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. CHILEAN'S FORMER FOREIGN MINISTER HERNAN CUBILLOS MET WITH AMBASSADOR WALTERS AT HIS RESIDENCE ON NOVEMBER 11. CUBILLOS WAS ACCOMPANIED BY CHILEAN PERMANENT REPRESENTATIVE PEDRO DAZA. MISOFF W.L. AMSELEM SERVED AS NOTE-TAKER.

3. CUBILLOS, NOW THE PUBLISHER OF "QUE PASA?" MAGAZINE, SAID THAT THE POLITICAL PROCESS UNDERWAY IN CHILE WAS NOT WELL UNDERSTOOD BY THE UNITED STATES. HE WORRIED THAT THIS LACK OF

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

UNDERSTANDING COULD CREATE ANOTHER "MADE IN U.S.A." PROBLEM A LA HAITI, PHILIPPINES, IRAN, AND NICARAGUA. CUBILLOS SAID THAT AMERICAN POLICY TOWARD CHILE APPEARED DRIVEN BY TWO BLINDING OBSESSIONS: (1) THE LETELIER CASE AND (2) A BELIEF THAT CHILEAN SOCIETY IS POLARIZED THEREBY MAKING A MARXIST TAKE-OVER LIKELY AFTER PINOCHET.

4. CUBILLOS DEALT ONLY BRIEFLY WITH THE LETELIER CASE SAYING IT HAD BEEN A CRIME AND A MISTAKE. HE SEEMED MORE CONCERNED WITH THE SECOND ALLEGED OBSESSION OF OUR POLICY. BY DECEMBER 11, HE SAID, THE RULING JUNTA WOULD SELECT A CANDIDATE FOR THE PLEBISCITE WHICH WOULD HAVE TO OCCUR WITHIN NINETY DAYS. EVERYONE EXPECTED THE CANDIDATE TO BE GENERAL PINOCHET. WHATEVER MISTAKES PINOCHET HAS MADE, PARTICULARLY IN THE AREA OF HUMAN RIGHTS, HE REMAINS POPULAR IN CHILE WHEN COMPARED WITH THE LEADING POLITICAL OPPOSITION FIGURES. THE ECONOMIC TURN-AROUND OF CHILE OVER THE PAST TEN YEARS HAS BEEN DRAMATIC; CHILE WAS RAPIDLY BUILDING A MODERN ECONOMY, LEAVING ITS LATIN AMERICAN NEIGHBORS BEHIND. CHILEANS DID NOT SEE THE CRUMBLING DEMOCRACIES ON THEIR BORDERS AS MODELS TO EMULATE.

5. CUBILLOS SAID THE MOST UNFORTUNATE DEVELOPMENT IN THE PAST FEW YEARS IN CHILE HAS BEEN THE GROWING RESENTMENT AGAINST THE UNITED STATES. THE CHILEAN MILITARY, PARTICULARLY THE YOUNGER OFFICERS, WERE INCREASINGLY ANTI-US. THE AMERICAN AMBASSADOR HAS NO ACCESS TO HIGH OFFICIALS IN SANTIAGO. THIS WAS PARTICULARLY UNFORTUNATE AS ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

THE GOVERNMENT OF CHILE WAS STABLE, WELL STRUCTURED, WOULD SURVIVE PINOCHET, AND EVOLVE GRADUALLY AND PEACEFULLY TO DEMOCRACY. CUBILLOS CLAIMED THAT THE U.S. WAS "BURNING ITS BRIDGES" WITH CHILE BY ITS MISTAKEN EFFORTS TO INTERVENE ON BEHALF OF DEMOCRACY. DEMOCRACY WOULD COME, BUT WITHOUT U.S. INTERFERENCE.

6. AMBASSADOR WALTERS SAID THAT THE GOC HAD TO ADMIT IT HAD MADE BLUNDERS: THE LETELIER CASE AND MANY OF ITS ACTIONS IN THE FIELD OF HUMAN RIGHTS WERE AMONG THE MOST SERIOUS. THE AMBASSADOR SAID HE WAS WILLING TO PORTRAY AN ACCURATE PICTURE OF THE SITUATION IN CHILE BUT ASKED THAT THE GOC MAKE HIS TASK EASIER BY MAKING FURTHER, IMMEDIATE, AND DRAMATIC IMPROVEMENTS IN THE HUMAN RIGHTS AREA. HE PROMISED TO PASS ALONG CUBILLOS'S VIEWS TO WASHINGTON. WALTERS

STATE CHILE DESK OFFICER DESHAZO HAS ALSO BEEN CONTACTED BY GROUP. THE CHILEAN ACTORS ARE ACTIVELY SEEKING BROAD INTERNATIONAL SUPPORT AGAINST INTIMIDATION BY RIGHT-WING GROUPS, AND HAVE CONTACTED SOME FIFTEEN EMBASSIES IN SANTIAGO. THEY ARE PLANNING A PUBLIC PROGRAM FOR NOVEMBER 30, THE DEADLINE GIVEN IN THE LETTER FOR THEIR DEPARTURE FROM CHILE. THE PROGRAM, ENTITLED "ARTE Y VIDA," WILL INCLUDE BRIEF ARTISTIC PERFORMANCES, BUT WILL BASICALLY BE A HIGH-PROFILE REJECTION OF THE THREAT. THE CHILEANS ARE SEEKING STATEMENTS FROM AROUND THE WORLD. THEY ALSO HOPE TO LOCATE SOME AMERICAN CELEBRITY WHO WOULD BE WILLING TO COME TO SANTIAGO FOR THE NOVEMBER 30 PROGRAM.

REMARKS

Attached for your clearance is a draft cable to Santiago regarding espousal of the family claims. Espousal involves several complex questions, hence the rather lengthy talking points to use with Mr. Letelier. Given the complexity of the subject, we my be overly optimistic to think we can get the cable out Friday. We may also want to consider awaiting Mike Kozak's return. In any event, I would appreciate your comments ASAP.

Thank you.

3. WE AGREE THAT PARTS OF THE PREAMBULAR PARAGRAPHS ARE REPETITIVE AND UNNECESSARY, AS FOR EXAMPLE PARAS 6 AND 8. THE POINTS THEY COVER ARE WELL TAKEN CARE OF IN OTHER PARAGRAPHS. PREAMBULAR PARA 9, HOWEVER, IS ACCURATE IN REFLECTING THE REALITY THAT PRESS

DEBATED THIS WEEK IN THE INTERAMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION CONVENTION
TAKING PLACE IN SANTIAGO.
4. PREAMBULAR PARA 10: THIS HAS A NEGATIVE
BIAS, BUT IS ESSENTIALLY CORRECT. WHILE POSITIVE STEPS HAVE BEEN TAKEN, ON BALANCE
THE INSTITUTIONAL FRAMEWORK FOR FREE AND INFORMED ELECTIONS IS STILL NOT IN PLACE.
THE CURRENT SCENARIO DOES NOT LEAD TO DEMOCRATIC RULE. WE WOULD SUGGEST
BARGAINING TO ADD ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF POSITIVE MEASURES.
5. OPERATIVE PARA 9 IS REPETITIVE OF OPERATIVE
PARA 4 AND WE WOULD LIKE TO SEE IT DELETED. IT IS NOT AN ITEM WORTH GOING TO THE MAT FOR,
HOWEVER, AND FROM OUR PERSPECTIVE WE COULD ACCEPT IT IN RETURN FOR OTHER CHANGES.
6. THE SUBPARAGRAPHS UNDER OPERATIVE PARA 10 ALSO PORTRAY ACCURATELY THE PROBLEMS IN C HILE, WITH SOME EXCEPTIONS. THE PHRASE IN PARA 10C RULATING TO THE "PRACTICES OF PROLONGED PERIODS OF INCOMMUNICADO DETENTION" IS COMPLETELY CORRECT.
IT IS AIMED SPECIFICALLY AT THE "AD HOC"
MILITARY PROSECUTOR INVESTIGATING THE ARMS

DISCOVERIES AND THE ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT.
THIS ARMY COLONEL HAS ROUTINELY HELD SUSPECTS
FOR FORTY DAYS OR MORE IN AN INCOMMUNICADO
STATUS -- A PERIOD WHEN TORTURE HAS OFTEN OCCURRED -- EVEN THOUGH THE LAW STATES THAT THIS PERIOD OF DETENTION SHOULD BE LIMITED
AT MOST TO TWENTY DAYS. THIS PRACTICE CONTINUES,AS THERE IS PRESENTLY A WOMAN BEING HELD INCOMMUNICADO SINCE NOVEMBER 2.
THE OTHER PHRASE IN THAT SUBPARAGRAPH DEALING WITH ASSASSINATIONS FOR POLITICAL REASONS COULD BE TAKEN TO COVER MURDERS BY BOTH THE EXTREMES IN CHILE. THIS POINT MIGHT BE MADE CLEARER WITH A FEW WORD CHANGES, BUT THE BASIC IDEA IS CLEARLY THERE.
7. THE WORDING IN SUBPARA 10E IS THE SAME
AS THAT USED IN THE UNHRC RESOLUTION ON CHILE

IN MARCH. IT REFLECTS THE LEGAL BATTLE UNDERWAY IN CHILE OVER WHETHER THE 1978 AMNESTY LAW SHOULD BE AUTOMATICALLY APPLIED TO CASES INVOLVING PEOPLE WHO DISAPPEARED IN THE 1973-78 PERIOD. ONE BODY OF LEGAL OPINION HOLDS THAT THE AMNESTY LAW SHOULD NOT APPLY TO CASES WHERE GUILT HAS NOT BEEN CLEARLY ESTABLISHED AND INVESTIGATIONS SHOULD BE ALLOWED TO CONTINUE UNTIL IT IS CLARIFIED AS TO WHAT HAPPENED TO THE DISAPPEARED AND WHO MIGHT BE GUILTY OF ANY CRIMES INVOLVED. THE SUPREME COURT, HOWEVER, RULED IN LATE 1986 THAT THE AMNESTY LAW SHOULD BE APPLIED BEFORE INVESTIGATIONS PROGRESS TO A STAGE WHERE GUILTY PARTIES MIGHT BE IDENTIFIED.

WE FIND NOTHING OBJECTIONABLE IN THE PHRASE RELATING TO THE AMNESTY LAW.

8. PARAGRAPH 10H IS NEW AND COVERS DEVELOPMENTS WHICH ACCELERATED IN 1987, IN WHICH MILITARY COURTS ASSUMED A GREATER ROLE IN PROSECUTING CASES WHICH WOULD NORMALLY BE HEARD BY CIVILIAN COURTS. IT ALSO NOTES THE ACTIVITIES OF THE

9. THE SUBSTANCE OF SUBPARAGRAPH 10K IS ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

ACCURATE. THERE WERE THREE CASES OF INDIVIDUALS BEING SENT INTO INTERNAL EXILE OR BANISHMENT DURING 1987. ALL HAD RETURNED TO CHILE WITHOUT PERMISSION AND WERE SENTENCED TO 90 DAYS BANISHMENT BY THE PRESIDENT UNDER THE POWERS PROVIDED TO HIM IN TRANSITORY ARTICLE 24 OF THE CONSTITUTION. THERE WERE NO SUCH CASES IN 1986. NO ONE IS PRESENTLY INTERNALLY EXILED, BUT THE GOVERNMENT'S REFUSAL TO RENOUNCE THE PRACTICE MEANS IT COULD BE REINSTATED AT ANY TIME.

11. WHILE WE REALIZE THE LATENESS OF MEXICO'S DRAFT MAY MAKE IT DIFFICULT TO NEGOTIATE ANY SUBSTANTIAL CHANGES TO THE TEXT, WE BELIEVE A CONCERTED EFFORT IN CONJUNCTION WITH WESTERN EUROPEAN DELEGATES MAY BE FRUITFUL. A UK DIPLOMAT HERE TOLD EMBOFF THAT THE MEXICAN RESOLUTION WAS MUCH TOO HARSH AND HE HOPED IT WOULD BE REVISED. HE EXPECTS THE UK TO VOTE IN FAVOR AS IT DID LAST YEAR BECAUSE "THE SITUATION HAS NOT IMPROVED", ALTHOUGH THE FINAL LANGUAGE MIGHT MAKE A DIFFERENCE.

SUBJECT: SANDINISTA AID TO FMLN

SPECIAL HANDLING

REF: STATE 368519

1. [redacted] -- ENTIRE TEXT.

2. POST PROVIDED THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION TO PRESIDENT DUARTE ON SANDINISTA SUPPORT OF THE FMLN/FDR AND NONCOMPLIANCE WITH THE ESQUIPULAS II PEACE PLAN. SEPTEL REQUESTS CLEARANCE TO PASS ADDITIONAL INFORMATION ON NICARAGUAN SUPPORT FOR THE FMLN/FDR TO PRESIDENT DUARTE.

-- THE FMLN'S RADIO VENCEREMOS OFFICE IS LOCATED IN A TWO-STORY HOUSE IN COLONIA LAS PALMAS, MANAGUA, NICARAGUA.

-- FMLN-OPERATED PRESS AGENCIES NOTISAL AND SALPRESS ARE STILL LOCATED IN MANAGUA

-- FMLN REPRESENTATIVES IN MEXICO CITY HAVE ACCESS TO THE FMLN LEADERSHIP IN MANAGUA THROUGH THE NICARAGUAN EMBASSY IN MEXICO.

-- THERE ARE SEVERAL SAFEHOUSES IN MANAGUA. FMLN PEOPLE HAVE OCCUPIED FOUR HOUSES IN THE CARRETERA SUR IN MANAGUA FOR THE PAST 18 MONTHS. APPROXIMATELY 8-10 SALVADORAN NATIONALS OCCUPY ANOTHER HOUSE IN THE LOMAS LINDA NEIGHBORHOOD IN MANAGUA WHERE THEY UNDERGO SOME PHYSICAL TRAINING. THE HOUSE HAS A SINGLE DIPOLE ANTENNA WHICH COULD RECEIVE AND SEND SIGNALS TO AND FROM EL SALVADOR.

-- THERE ARE UNCONFIRMED REPORTS OF A SUSPECTED FMLN LOGISTICS BASE IN EL REALEJO, PASO ESTERO CABALLO, CONSIGNA PENINSULA, NICARAGUA.

-- AFTER THE AUGUST 7, 1987 SIGNING OF THE ESQUIPULAS II AGREEMENT, THE SANDINISTAS TOLD FMLN LEADERS THAT THE FMLN MUST REDUCE ITS PRESENCE IN NICARAGUA TO AN ABSOLUTE MINIMUM TO REDUCE FMLN VISIBILITY. THE FDR WAS ASKED TO DO THE SAME, TRANSFERRING NON-ESSENTIAL PERSONNEL TO MEXICO AND PANAMA.

-- FMLN PUBLICATIONS AT PRESENT ARE THE MONTHLY MAGAZINE, "EL SALVADOR," AND THE BI-WEEKLY 8-PAGE NEWSPAPER, "VENCEREMOS." ALTHOUGH BOTH CARRY THE ADDRESS OF A MEXICO CITY P.O. BOX (31-775), BOTH ARE PRODUCED IN NICARAGUA.

-- IN THE PAST MONTH, THERE ARE INDICATIONS OF A NOTABLE SURGE IN LOGISTICS RESUPPLY ACTIVITY CONDUCTED BY THE SALVADORAN INSURGENTS. TWO MAJOR ROUTES ARE USED. ONE CONSISTS OF AN ENTRY POINT AT THE MOUTH OF THE RIO LEMPA OR ISLA MONTECRISTO NORTHWARD. THE SECOND ROUTE BEGINS IN THE JUCUARAN COASTAL AREA, EXTENDING NORTHWARD TO THE WAR FRONTS, SOMETIMES PARALLELING THE ROUTES ORIGINATING FROM THE RIO LEMPA AREA.

-- ON OCTOBER 5, 1987, A THREE COLUMN, 70-MAN GUERRILLA LOGISTICAL SUPPLY TEAM WAS INTERCEPTED NEAR OJO DE AGUA ARRIBA, USULUTAN DEPARTMENT. EACH OF THE 70-MAN TEAM WAS CARRYING HIS PERSONAL WEAPON AND FOUR OR FIVE ADDITIONAL M-16/AR-15 RIFLES ON HIS SHOULDER. TWENTY-SIX OF THESE WEAPONS WERE CAPTURED AND SEVEN WEAPONS AND THE AMMUNITION WERE NEW. PRELIMINARY TRACING OF THE SERIAL NUMBERS ON THESE CAPTURED WEAPONS INDICATED A FEW (PROBABLY THE PERSONAL WEAPONS CARRIED BY THE SEVEN DEAD GUERRILLAS) WERE ORIGINALLY CONSIGNED TO THE SALVADORAN ARMED FORCES. AT LEAST 15 OF THE WEAPONS WERE TRACED TO WEAPONS CONSIGNED TO THE U.S. ARMED FORCES IN VIETNAM, AND PROBABLY WERE PART OF THE SUSPECTED LOGISTICAL SUPPLY RECEIVED BY SEA BETWEEN SEPTEMBER 27-OCTOBER 4, 1987.

-- NICARAGUA CONTINUES TO PROVIDE MATERIEL SUPPORT TO THE GUERRILLAS IN EL SALVADOR. SINCE SEPTEMBER 1987 THERE CONTINUES TO BE AMPLE EVIDENCE THAT RESUPPLY ACTIVITY ORIGINATING FROM NICARAGUA CONTINUES. THERE HAVE BEEN SEVEN POSSIBLE SEABORNE DELIVERIES DETECTED SINCE SEPTEMBER.

-- ON OCTOBER 4 OR 5, 1987, A BOAT FROM NICARAGUA LOADED WITH WEAPONS REPORTEDLY LANDED AT PLAYA LA CRIBA, LA UNION DEPARTMENT. THE WEAPONS CONSISTED OF SMALL MACHINE GUNS AND POSSIBLE SUB-MACHINE GUNS. THE BOAT DEPARTED AT 0200 ON OCTOBER 5, 1987 FOR PUNTA NATA, NICARAGUA.

ARA

-- NICARAGUA MAY CONTINUE TO SERVE AS A TRAINING BASE FOR SALVADORAN INSURGENTS. IN JUNE 1987, SIX FARN MEMBERS WHO HAD RECENTLY COMPLETED A TWO-YEAR MILITARY AND POLITICAL TRAINING COURSE IN NICARAGUA, RETURNED TO SAN SALVADOR. SEVERAL OF THESE GUERRILLAS WERE ACTIVISTS AT THE NATIONAL UNIVERSITY OF EL SALVADOR BEFORE LEAVING FOR TRAINING IN NICARAGUA. THESE RETURNING GUERRILLAS ARE TO ESTABLISH CELLS WITHIN SAN SALVADOR AND TO RETURN TO THE NATIONAL UNIVERSITY AND RENEW FORMER CONTACTS. THEY WILL BE TASKED WITH RECRUITMENT, POLITICAL INDOCTRINATION AND MILITARY TRAINING WITHIN THE UNIVERSITY.

-- FMLN PROPAGANDA PRINTING FACILITIES ARE LOCATED IN AN APPARENTLY ABANDONED EARTHQUAKE DAMAGED BUILDING IN DOWNTOWN MANAGUA. CLOSER INSPECTION OF THE BUILDING, WHICH IS LOCATED ABOUT 200 METERS EAST OF THE GOVERNMENT HOUSE, REVEALS IT MAY INDEED BE OCCUPIED. THERE ARE ELECTRICAL OR TELEPHONE HOOK-UPS FROM NEARBY POLES. THE NICARAGUAN GOVERNMENT REPORTEDLY PROVIDES ALMOST EVERYTHING FOR THE OPERATION "EXCEPT THE PAPER AND INK."

-- SINCE JUNE 1987, THE FMLN HAS HAD AT LEAST TWO AIRCRAFT POSITIONED IN NICARAGUA WHICH ARE DEDICATED TO FMLN OPERATIONS. THE AIRCRAFT APPEAR TO BE ABLE TO REACT ON SHORT NOTICE TO FMLN HIGH COMMAND REQUESTS TO PROVIDE REQUIRED SUPPORT.

-- AS OF NOVEMBER 4, 1987, ALL FIVE SALVADORAN FMLN COMMAND AND CONTROL ELEMENTS CONTINUE TO OPERATE IN NICARAGUA AND AT LEAST TEN KEY FMLN OPERATIVES AND FOR LEADERS RESIDE IN MANAGUA. THERE IS NO EVIDENCE THEY HAVE LEFT OR HAVE BEEN ASKED TO LEAVE.

-- WHEN FMLN/FDR REPRESENTATIVES MET WITH COSTA RICAN PRESIDENT OSCAR ARIAS ON SEPTEMBER 7, THEY PROVIDED PHONE NUMBERS IN NICARAGUA TO CONTACT THEM IN THE FUTURE.

-- THE FMLN IS KNOWN TO USE CODE BOOKS SUPPLIED BY NICARAGUA WITH ONE-TIME KEY PADS.

-- THE MEXICAN NEWSPAPER, "EXCELSIOR," PUBLISHED AN INTERVIEW WITH NICARAGUAN PRESIDENT ORTEGA ON JUNE 24, 1987, WHERE HE PUBLICLY ADMITTED FOR THE FIRST TIME THAT THE SANDINISTAS HAVE GIVEN AID TO THE FMLN/FDR. THE ARTICLE QUOTES ORTEGA AS STATING, "IN SOME CASES, SOME MEMBERS OF THE NICARAGUAN ARMED FORCES DELIVERED SOME ARMS TO THE REVOLUTIONARIES OF EL SALVADOR."

-- DURING THE AUGUST 6-7 ESQUIPULAS II SUMMIT, PRESIDENT ORTEGA CONCEDED THAT THE GOVERNMENT OF NICARAGUA PROVIDES AID TO THE FMLN. HE TOLD PRESIDENT DUARTE THAT NICARAGUA HAD INCREASED AID TO THE FMLN EACH TIME THE U.S. HAD INCREASED MILITARY ASSISTANCE TO EL SALVADOR.

SUBJECT: UNGA - Chile Resolution

I met with Maximo briefly at 1300 this afternoon to ask him the state of play on the Chile resolution in the UNGA. He said he had received the draft language from George, and had no real problem with it. He agreed with the basic thrust of the paragraph and after making a few minor word changes, he discussed it with Jaime Castillo. Jaime also agreed with the tenor of the paragraph, and he datafaxed the language to Gonzalo Taborga in New York with instructions to do whatever possible to get this language inserted into the resolution, and to make other changes to shorten the entire resolution.

This morning Max spoke with Taborga on the telephone, and was informed that Taborga had a good meeting yesterday afternoon with Amb. Byrnes (Walters' assistant) in New York. Taborga reported that he was certain that he had narrowed considerably the differences between the original draft and the US position, and things looked promising. Max stated that he thought it would now be possible for the US to abstain on the resolution, which he described as a major step forward. He would prefer a yes vote, but would certainly view the abstencion as a great improvement over last year's no vote.

He also understands from Taborga that the Chile resolution will most likely come to a vote between December 6 and 8. Max is therefore planning to stay in New York until December 9, and will be back in Santiago on December 10. He still plans to depart here on November 28.

Max asked that I remind you that you had indicated you would help get him an appointment with Amb. Walters in New York. He would like to have a name of someone in Walters' office to call for such an appointment, or a time if possible. I told him I would pass this on to you.

Max also provided me with a copy of the GOC's 30 page paper on the Volio report, as well as copies of theGOC resolution on Mexico.

SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS IN CHILE

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

AWARE OF ITS RESPONSIBILITY TO PROMOTE AND ENCOURAGE RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS AND FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS AND DETERMINED TO REMAIN VIGILANT WITH REGARD TO VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS WHEREVER THEY OCCUR,

NOTING THE OBLIGATION OF THE GOVERNMENT OF CHILE TO RESPECT AND PROTECT HUMAN RIGHTS IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE INTERNATIONAL INSTRUMENTS TO WHICH CHILE IS A PARTY,

BEARING IN MIND THAT THE CONCERN OF THE INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY AT THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE WAS EXPRESSED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY IN A NUMBER OF

CONSIDERING THAT THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR PROPOSES TO SUBMIT TO THE COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS AT TIS FORTY-FOURTH SESSION A FINAL REPORT ON THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE,

RECALLING THE PERTINENT RESOLUTIONS OF THE COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS, PARTICULARLY RESOLUTION 1987/60 OF 12 MARCH 1987, IN WHICH THE COMMISSION DECIDED, INTER ALIA, TO EXTEND THE MANDATE OF THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR FOR ONE YEAR AND TO CONSIDER THIS SUBJECT, AS A MATTER OF HIGH PRIORITY, IN VIEW OF THE PERSISTENCE OF SERIOUS VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE,

DEPLORING ONCE AGAIN THE FACT THAT THE REPEATED APPEALS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY, THE COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS AND OTHER INTERNATIONAL ORGANS TO RE-ESTABLISH HUMAN RIGHTS AND FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS HAVE BEEN IGNORED BY THE CHILEAN AUTHORITIES,

CONSIDERING THE REPORTS PREPARED BY VARIOUS NON-GOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS WHICH HAVE MADE PUBLIC THE SERIOUS VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE,

OBSERVING THAT THE MAINTENANCE OF STATES OF LEGAL EXCEPTION CONSTITUTES A SOURCE OF FREQUENT VIOLATIONS OF

1. TAKES NOTE WITH INTEREST OF THE PROVISIONAL REPORT OF THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR ON THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE, SUBMITTED IN ACCORDANCE WITH COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS RESOLUTION 1987/60;

2. EXPRESSES ITS DEEP CONCERN WITH THE SERIOUSNESS OF THE WELL DOCUMENTED ACCUSATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS IN CHILE, AS DESCRIBED IN THE REPORT OF THE SPECIAL RAPPORTUER WHICH REFERS TO SUCH VIOLATIONS AS THE RIGHT TO LIFE, PHYSICAL AND MORAL INTEGRITY, LIBERTY, SECURITY, THE RIGHT TO DUE PROCESS AND LEGAL GUARANTIES, THE FREEDOM TO ENTER AND LEAVE THE COUNTRY FEEELY, FREEDOM OF MOVEMENT AND FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION AND INFORMATION;

6. EXPRESSES ITS DISTRESS AT THE DENIAL OF FUNDAMENTAL RIGHTS AND FREEDOMS THROUGH THE MAINTENANCE OF ARBITRARY EXECUTIVE POWERS DURING THE PROLONGED PERIOD OF EXISTENCE OF THE STATES OF LEGAL EXCEPTION, THE CLIMATE OF INSECURITY, THE USE OF COERCIVE METHODS, TORTURE AND ILL-TREATMENT BY THE SECURITY FORCES, THE RENEWAL OF ADMINISTRATIVE INTERNAL EXILE AND THE PRACTICE OF FORCED DISAPPEARANCES, AS WELL AS THE EXISTENCE OF BANDS AND PRIVATE GROUPS RELATED TO THE SECURITY FORCES THAT, WITH IMPUNITY, ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR ACTIONS THAT RANGE FROM

INTIMIDATION TO ASSASSINATION;

7. EXPRESSES ITS CONCERN AT THE DENIAL BY THE CHILEAN AUTHORITIES OF THE EXERCISE OF THE RIGHTS OF FREE EXPRESSION, ASSEMBLY AND ASSOCIATION, THROUGH THE USE OF REPRESSIVE METHODS AND VIOLENT RESPONSES TO DEMONSTRATIONS OF SOCIAL AND POLITICAL OPPOSITION, IN PARTICULAR MILITARY SEARCHES OF MARGINAL SETTLEMENTS AND UNIVERSITY PREMISES AND ACTS OF INTIMIDATION AGAINST JOURNALISTS, RELIGIOUS AND LAY HUMAN RIGHTS BODIES;

8. EXPRESSES ITS GRAVE CONCERN AT THE INEFFECTIVENESS OF THE GOVERNMENT AUTHORITIES IN PREVENTING THE ILL-TREATMENT OF INDIVIDUALS BY THE MILITARY, POLICE AND SECURITY FORCES AND EXPRESSES PARTICULAR CONCERN THAT IN PRACTICE THE JUDICIARY DOES NOT ACT INDEPENDENTLY AND THAT THE COMPETENT JUDICIAL AUTHORITIES HAVE FAILED TO TAKE THE NECESSARY STEPS TO CONDUCT FULL INVESTIGATIONS AND PROSECUTE THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR THE NUMEROUS UNSOLVED CASES OF ABDUCTIONS, TORTURE, DISAPPEARANCES AND MURDER;

9. URGES THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT TO HONOR THE REQUEST OF VAIOUS SOCIAL AND POLITICAL SECTORS FOR THE RE-ESTABLISHMENT OF A PLURALIST DEMOCRACY;

10. EMPHASIZES THE NEED FOR THE GOVERNMENT OF CHILE TO RESTORE AND RESPECT HUMAN RIGHTS IN CONFORMITY WITH THE PRINCIPLES OF THE UNIVERSAL DECLARATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND COMPLY WITH THE OBLIGATIONS IT HAS ASSUMED UNDER VARIOUS INTERNATIONAL INSTRUMENTS, SO THAT THE PRINCIPLE OF LEGALITY, DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS AND THE EFFECTIVE ENJOYMENT AND EXERCISE OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS MAY BE RESTORED, AND, IN PARTICULAR:

LINES ALREADY DISTRIBUTED TO THE WEOG BY USUN.

3. THE MEXICAN DRAFT RESOLUTION DOES NOT FILL THAT BILL. ADDRESSEES ARE, THEREFORE, REQUESTED TO APPROACH HOST GOVERNMENTS AT HIGHEST APPROPRIATE LEVEL TO STRESS US CONVICTION THAT PASSAGE OF MEXICAN RESOLUTION WILL NOT ASSIST EFFORTS NOW UNDERWAY TO ENCOURAGE PROGRESS TOWARD

DEMOCRACY IN CHILE, ESPECIALLY IN CONNECTION WITH THE PLEBISCITE NEXT YEAR. FURTHER BACKGROUND ON US VIEWS PROVIDED REF (A)(BEING REPEATED TO ACTION ADDRESSEES).

WHAT IS NEEDED NOW IS PROMPT ACTION BY ADDRESSEE GOVERNMENTS TO INSTRUCT THEIR REPRESENTATIVES IN NEW YORK TO WORK FOR AN AMENDED AND BALANCED RESOLUTION THAT WOULD REFLECT USG VIEWS AND CONCERNS. SUCHREVISIONS, IF ACHIEVED, SHOULD BE DISCUSSED WITH US DELEGATION TO USUN.

4. FAILURE TO ACHIEVE A BALANCED RESOLUTION WOULD LEAVE USG WITH OPTION OF ABSTENTION OR NO VOTE. WE BELIEVE THAT A NO VOTE SIMILAR TO THAT MADE LAST YEAR WOULD BE INCONSISTENT WITH OUR POLICY TOWARD CHILE. IT MIGHT MEET OUR UN OBJECTIVES OF OPPOSING UNBALANCED RESOLUTIONS BUT IT WOULD SEND WRONG AND CONFUSING SIGNALS TO CHILE REGARDING OUR CONTINUED POLICY COMMITMENT TO HUMAN RIGHTS AND A FREE AND FAIR ELECTORAL PROCESS THAT WOULD RESTORE GENUINE DEMOCRACY IN CHILE.

4. TALKING POINTS:

--THE NEXT TWELVE MONTHS WILL BE CRUCIAL TO THE SHAPE AND NATURE OF CHILE'S TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY. THE GOVERNMENT OF CHILE HAS RECENTLY TAKEN SOME POSITIVE HUMAN RIGHTS STEPS, BUT WITHOUT MATCHING POLITICAL CHANGE THERE ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

IS NO GUARANTEE THESE WILL BE PERMANENT OR CHANGE THE NATURE OF THE REGIME. WITH THE CRUCIAL PRESIDENTIAL VOTE LIKELY TO OCCUR SOMETIME NEXT YEAR, IT IS IMPORTANT THAT THE WESTERN DEMOCRACIES UNDERSCORE THEIR SUPPORT FOR A RETURN TO FULL DEMOCRACY IN CHILE.

--WE HOPE THE WESTERN NATIONS WITH WHICH WE SHARE IMPORTANT VALUES WILL JOIN US IN STRONGLY SUPPORTING A PEACEFUL TRANSITION TO FULL DEMOCRACY AND INCREASED RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS. WE BELIEVE THAT IT IS IMPORTANT TO WORK ACTIVELY TOWARDS THESE OBJECTIVES AT THE UNGA.

--A FAIR AND BALANCED RESOLUTION IS NEEDED FOR THE SAKE OF THE INTEGRITY OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS PROCESS AT THE UN.

--AMONG THE DRAFT RESOLUTION'S DEFICIENCIES ARE THE FOLLOWING: (A) IT FAILS TO CITE CHILE'S IMPROVEMENTS IN HUMAN RIGHTS, SUCH AS THE DECREASE IN THE NUMBER OF POLITICAL EXILES, ACCESS BY THE ICRC TO PRISONERS, AND CHILE'S RECENT SIGNING OF THE OAS AND UN TORTURE

CONVENTIONS; (B) IT UNDERLINES ITS IMBALANCE BY FAILING TO USE THE CUSTOMARY WORDS OF PRAISE FOR THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR, WHO DID FILE A BALANCED REPORT; AND (C) IT FAILS TO CONDEMN VIOLENCE FROM ALL QUARTERS.

--WE URGE THAT YOU SUPPORT APPROPRIATE AMENDATORY LANGUAGE. IF THE RESOLUTION REMAINS UNBALANCED, WE REQUEST THAT YOU SIGNIFY YOUR DISAPPROVAL BY NOT VOTING FOR IT. WHITEHEAD

2. SUMMARY. CHILE IS APPROACHING A POLITICAL WATERSHED. AS CRITICAL EVENTS APPROACH THE USG MAY WELL BE FACED WITH THE NEED TO MAKE RAPID DECISIONS FOR WHICH WE WILL DESIRE THE SUPPORT OF CLOSE FRIENDS AND ALLIES. THIS CABLE PROVIDES

UNCLASSIFIED

ESSENTIAL BACKGROUND INFORMATION WHICH WILL BE HELPFUL TO EMBASSIES AS WELL AS SOME GENERAL TALKING POINTS THAT COULD BE USED WHENEVER YOU NEED TO DISCUSS THE SITUATION IN CHILE. END SUMMARY.

BACKGROUND ON US THOUGHTS ON BLOCKING PINOCHET'S PLAN

3. IT IS THE PERCEPTION OF THE USG AND SHARED BY MANY OTHERS THAT PINOCHET INTENDS TO PERPETUATE HIMSELF IN POWER THROUGH A PLEBISCITE WHICH COULD BE HELD AS EARLY AS MARCH, THOUGH MORE LIKELY IN SEPTEMBER, 1988. WITHOUT OUTSIDE PRESSURE, THIS PLEBISCITE MAY BE CARRIED OUT UNDER UNDEMOCRATIC CIRCUMSTANCES GEARED TO OBTAIN A PINOCHET VICTORY, GIVEN HIS VERY LOW POPULARITY AT THIS TIME. SUCH A TRIUMPH WOULD BE CONSIDERED ILLEGITIMATE BOTH WITHIN CHILE AND ABROAD AND WOULD LEAD TO FURTHER GAINS BY THE VIOLENT MARXIST LEFT. THIS IN TURN WOULD GRAVELY THREATEN THE COUNTRY'S ECONOMY, ABILITY TO MEET DEBT PAYMENTS, AND MARKET-ORIENTED POLICIES.

4. PINOCHET'S CONTINUATION IN POWER CAN BE AVOIDED ONLY IF THE DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION'S CAMPAIGN FOR FREE ELECTIONS SUCCEEDS IN DENYING HIM THE PRESIDENCY BY DEFEATING HIM IN THE PLEBISCITE. THE GOC WILL DO EVERYTHING POSSIBLE TO PREVENT THIS FROM HAPPENING. IT ALREADY LIMITS FREEDOM OF ASSEMBLY, ASSOCIATION, AND EXPRESSION AND WILL CONTINUE TO APPLY REPRESSIVE PRESSURE AS NEEDED TO DENY THE OPPOSITION THE MEANS OF MOUNTING AN EFFECTIVE CAMPAIGN FOR A "NO" VOTE IN THE PLEBISCITE. THE RECENT ARREST OF 300 ELECTION WORKERS IS AN EXAMPLE OF THIS.

5. U.S. POLICY SEEKS THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A GENUINELY DEMOCRATIC ENVIRONMENT WHICH WOULD MAKE IT POSSIBLE FOR THE CHILEAN PEOPLE TO ORGANIZE FOR NON-VIOLENT POLITICAL ACTION AND MAKE A FREE AND INFORMED ELECTORAL CHOICE REGARDING THE FUTURE OF THEIR COUNTRY. THE SPECIFIC SHORT-TERM REFORMS WE DESIRE IN CHILE STEPS WE PROPOSE ARE: 1) AN END TO THE STATE OF EMERGENCY WHEN IT EXPIRES ON DECEMBER 4, 1987, THEREBY LIFTING GLOBAL RESTRICTIONS ON FREEDOM OF ASSEMBLY, THE MEDIA, UNIONS, ETC, 2) AN END TO THE POWER OF REGIONAL GOVERNORS (INTENDENTES) TO RESTRICT THE RIGHT OF ASSEMBLY AND ASSOCIATION THROUGH EXECUTIVE DECREES BASED IN PART ON THE STATE OF EMERGENCY, AND 3) AN AGREEMENT BY THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT TO ALLOW FAIR ACCESS TO THE MEDIA, INCLUDING TELEVISION, FOR THE "NO" POSITION IN PLEBICITE ONCE THE PLEBICITE DATE IS OFFICIALLY ANNOUNCED.

PINOCHET'S POWER BASE

6. IN THE VIEW OF THE USG AND MOST OTHERS WITH WHOM WE SPEAK, THERE IS NO DOUBT THAT PINOCHET, AFTER 14 YEARS IN POWER, IS INTENT ON REMAINING IN OFFICE FOR ANOTHER 8 YEARS. HIS CONSTITUTION OF 1980 STIPULATES THAT THE RULING MILITARY JUNTA MUST NAME A CANDIDATE WHO WILL BE PRESENTED TO THE CHILEAN PEOPLE FOR A STRAIGHT UP OR DOWN VOTE IN A PLEBISCITE TO BE HELD BEFORE FEBRUARY, 1989, SIMPLE MAJORITY DECIDING. DESPITE

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

SOME OPPOSITION TO HIS CONTINUATION IN POWER WITHIN THE JUNTA
~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

PINOCHET WILL ALMOST CERTAINLY BE THE JUNTA'S CANDIDATE IN THIS PLEBISCITE. IF RATIFIED, HE WOULD REMAIN AS PRESIDENT UNTIL 1997.

7. CURRENT OPINION POLLS, HOWEVER, GIVE PINOCHET ONLY ABOUT 20 PER CENT POPULAR SUPPORT AND EVEN MANY OF HIS BACKERS ON THE CHILEAN RIGHT DOUBT HE CAN WIN FAIRLY. USING STATE FUNDS, PINOCHET HAS LAUNCHED A MULTI-MILLION DOLLAR PUBLICITY BLITZ AND A FULL-BLOWN CAMPAIGN OF PORK-BARREL POLITICS. IN THE PAST HE HAS USED THE FUNDS MADE AVAILABLE BY INTERNATIONAL LOANS FOR SUCH PURPOSES AND COULD DO SO AGAIN. HE ALSO TELLS HIS DOMESTIC AUDIENCE THAT THESE LOANS REPRESENT TANGIBLE SUPPORT FROM WESTERN GOVERNMENTS WHICH FAR OUTWEIGH THEIR PUBLIC PROTESTS OF THE POLITICAL SITUATION. IN THIS REGARD, THE PINOCHET REGIME EXPECTS TO RECEIVE ANOTHER STRUCTURAL ADJUSTMENT LOAN FROM THE WORLD BANK IN DECEMBER OF 1987. THE FIRST TRANCHE WOULD TOTAL 125M DOLLARS PAID EARLY IN 1988, WITH AN EQUAL SUM TO BE PAID BY THE END OF THAT YEAR.

8. AT THE SAME TIME, PINOCHET EFFECTIVELY MUZZLES THE OPPOSITION BY RESTRICTIONS ON FREEDOM OF ASSEMBLY, ASSOCIATION, UNIONIZATION, AND EXPRESSION. GIVEN HIS UNPOPULARITY, PINOCHET WILL ATTEMPT TO PRESERVE AS MANY OF THESE RESTRICTIONS AS POSSIBLE TO PREVENT OPPONENTS FROM GATHERING STRENGTH. FOR EXAMPLE, THE GOC STEADFASTLY REFUSES TO SLACKEN ITS TOTAL CONTROL OVER TELEVISION, THE KEY NEWS AND COMMUNICATIONS MEDIUM IN CHILE. ON NOVEMBER 7, CHILEAN POLICE ARRESTED MORE THAN 300 PEOPLE IN SANTIAGO WHO WERE PEACEFULLY DISTRIBUTING LEAFLETS URGING CITIZENS TO REGISTER TO VOTE. CHILE REMAINS UNDER A "STATE OF EMERGENCY" CONDITION (SINCE 1973) WHICH GRANTS THE GOVERNMENT WIDE POWERS TO CURTAIL BASIC CIVIL AND HUMAN RIGHTS. PROVINCIAL MILITARY GOVERNORS, ALL PINOCHET APPOINTEES, USE EXECUTIVE DECREES TO FURTHER EXPAND ON THESE

RESTRICTIVE POWERS.

9. THE FAR LEFT IN CHILE, LED BY A LARGE AND DISCIPLINED COMMUNIST PARTY, IS TAKING ADVANTAGE OF THESE CONDITIONS TO STRENGTHEN ITS APPEAL AMONG THE UNEMPLOYED IN BIG-CITY SLUMS, LOW-INCOME WORKERS, AND STUDENTS. IT HAS FORMED AN ACTIVE TERRORIST ORGANIZATION OF GROWING STRENGTH AND IS COUNTING ON PINOCHET'S CONTINUATION IN POWER TO FURTHER DESTABILIZE THE COUNTRY. AT THE SAME TIME, THE COMMUNISTS PROVIDE PINOCHET WITH A HANDY RAISON D'ETRE. THIS SYMBIOTIC RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN THE EXTREMES WILL EVENTUALLY LEAD TO A POLARIZATION OF SOCIETY AND THREATENS THE FUTURE OF DEMOCRACY.

UNCLASSIFIED

US SEEKS FAIR CHANCE FOR DEMOCRACY

UNCLASSIFIED

10. THE U.S. OBJECTIVE IS A RETURN TO FULL AND EFFECTIVE DEMOCRACY IN CHILE. WE BELIEVE THAT THE UPCOMING PLEBISCITE, WHICH MAY BE HELD AS EARLY AS SEPTEMBER, 1988 WILL BE A KEY EVENT IN CHILEAN HISTORY. IF GIVEN A FAIR CHANCE TO ORGANIZE ITSELF AND PRESENT ITS POINT OF VIEW TO VOTERS, THE DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION SHOULD BE ABLE TO DEFEAT PINOCHET IN THE PLEBISCITE AND FORCE GENERAL ELECTIONS TO BE CALLED. HOWEVER, IF PINOCHET IS ABLE TO MAINTAIN CURRENT RESTRICTIONS ON CIVIL AND HUMAN RIGHTS WHILE MOBILIZING ALL OF THE POWER OF THE STATE BEHIND HIS CAMPAIGN, HE MIGHT BE ABLE TO WIN A MAJORITY OF VOTES BY PRESENTING A CAJOLED AND CONFUSED ELECTORATE WITH THE CHOICE OF "ME OR CHAOS," AS HE HAS ALREADY PUT IT. SHOULD HE SENSE IN ADVANCE THAT HIS VOTE WILL FALL SHORT OF A MAJORITY, HE MAY WELL RESORT TO FRAUD.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

11. TO AVOID THIS LATTER SCENARIO, WE ARE ATTEMPTING TO BRING ABOUT A CLIMATE OF GREATER RESPECT FOR HUMAN AND CIVIL RIGHTS IN CHILE IN ORDER THAT THE FUTURE ELECTORAL PROCESS BE FAIR.

WE SEEK SHORT TERM DEMOCRATIC REFORMS

12. THE REFORMS WE ARE SEEKING INCLUDE:

A) NON-EXTENSION OF THE "STATE OF EMERGENCY" WHEN IT EXPIRES ON DECEMBER 4, 1987. THIS STATE OF EMERGENCY GRANTS THE EXECUTIVE WIDE POWERS TO LIMIT CIVIL RIGHTS CRUCIAL TO A FREE AND FAIR ELECTORAL PROCEDURE. THE GOC, IF IT WISHES TO EXTEND THE STATE

OF EMERGENCY FOR ANOTHER 3-MONTH TERM (IT HAS BEEN IN EFFECT SINCE 1973), MUST ISSUE AN EXTENSION DECREE. IF IT REFRAINS FROM DOING SO, THE STATE OF EMERGENCY WILL AUTOMATICALLY EXPIRE. IN THIS CASE, THE GOC CAN TAKE A MAJOR STEP BY DOING NOTHING.

B) AN AGREEMENT TO CANCEL OR AT THE VERY LEAST NOT INVOKE "BANDOS" OR EXECUTIVE DECREES WHICH GIVE MUNICIPAL AUTHORITIES THE RIGHT TO LIMIT CIVIL RIGHTS, AS THEY DID IN THE MASS ARREST OF PAMPHLETEERS ON OCTOBER 31. THIS THE GOC CAN DO QUICKLY AND EASILY.

C) AN AGREEMENT BY THE GOC TO MAKE A PUBLIC STATEMENT PLEDGING THAT IT WILL ALLOW FAIR ACCESS TO THE MEDIA, INCLUDING TELEVISION, TO THE NON-OFFICIAL ("NO") POSITION IN THE PLEBISCITE.

13. THESE REFORMS ARE WELL WITHIN THE POWER OF THE GOC TO GRANT

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

UNCLASSIFIED

AND, WHILE THEY LIMIT THE GOVERNMENT'S CONTROL ON THE POPULACE,

THEY JIBE FULLY WITH THE RECENT AND REPEATED CLAIMS BY TOP CHILEAN GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS THAT THE PLEBISCITE WILL BE CARRIED OUT UNDER TOTALLY FAIR AND DEMOCRATIC CIRCUMSTANCES.

14. TALKING POINTS:

--CHILE IS FAST APPROACHING A POLITICAL WATERSHED. PINOCHET INTENDS TO STAY ON BY MEANS OF A PLEBISICTE WHICH WILL PROBABLY BE CARRIED OUT UNDER UNDEMOCRATIC CONDITIONS. A PINOCHET VICTORY UNFAIRLY ARRIVED AT WILL LEAD TO AN UNSTABLE REGIME LACKING IN LEGITIMACY. THIS IN TURN WILL FAVOR THE GROWTH OF THE FAR LEFT AND DESTABILIZE THE COUNTRY POLITICALLY AND ECONOMICALLY.

--THE U.S. INSISTS THAT THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT KEEP ITS PROMISE, EXPRESSED OFTEN AND MOST RECENTLY TO US IN BILATERAL TALKS WITH FOREIGN MINISTER GARCIA, THAT A CLIMATE OF RESPECT FOR HUMAN AND CIVIL RIGHTS WOULD BE CREATED IN CHILE FAR IN ADVANCE OF A PLEBISICITE DATE. THE CHILEAN PEOPLE SHOULD BE GIVEN A FAIR CHANCE TO FREELY EXPRESS THEIR WILL IN THIS PLEBISCITE, WHICH WILL PROBABLY TAKE PLACE IN SEPTEMBER, 1988.

--WE WOULD BE LESS CONCERNED ABOUT CHILE'S FUTURE IF THESE PROMISES WERE BEING CARRIED OUT. INSTEAD, WE SEE NO PROGRESS -RATHER BACKSLIDING- ON KEY CIVIL AND HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES.

--MANY OTHER WESTERN DEMOCRACIES CLEARLY SHARE OUR CONCERN. UNTIL NOW, HOWEVER, THIS CONFLUENCE OF VIEWS ON DEMOCRACY IN CHILE HAS NOT BEEN EXPRESSED TO PRACTICAL EFFECT.

--THE U.S. SEEKS SOME EARLY PRO-DEMOCRATIC STEPS BY THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT TO IMPROVE THE CLIMATE FOR CIVIL AND HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE. THESE STEPS ARE: NON-EXTENSION OF THE STATE OF ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

EMERGENCY, REPEAL OF EXECUTIVE DECREES LIMITING RIGHTS OF ASSEMBLY AND ASSOCIATION, AND AN AGREEMENT TO ALLOW FREER ACCESS TO THE MEDIA, ESPECIALLY TELEVISION, FOR THE "NO" POSITION IN THE UPCOMING PLEBISCITE.

--THESE CONDITIONS CAN EASILY BE APPROVED BY THE GOC. FOR EXAMPLE, THE "STATE OF EMERGENCY" IS DUE TO BE RENEWED ON DECEMBER 4. IF THE GOC DOES NOTHING AT ALL, IT WILL AUTOMATICALLY EXPIRE.

-- WE SUPPORT CHILE'S FREE MARKET POLICIES AND DO NOT WISH TO HARM HER ECONOMY. ON THE OTHER HAND, CHILE'S ECONOMIC FUTURE UNDER AN INCREASINGLY UNSTABLE PINOCHET REGIME WOULD NOT BE BRIGHT. A PROLONGATION OF AUTHORITARIAN RULE UNDER THE GUISE OF A "PROTECTED DEMOCRACY" WITH PINOCHET AT THE HELM WILL NOT PROVIDE A SOLUTION TO CHILE'S PROBLEMS AND WILL NURTURE THE VIOLENT MARXIST LEFT. FOREIGN INVESTMENT, RATIONAL APPROACHES TO CHILE'S LARGE FOREIGN DEBT, AND FREE MARKET PRINCIPLES WILL ALL BE THREATENED IF PINOCHET STAYS ON, THUS CALLING INTO QUESTION CHILE'S ABILITY TO REPAY THIS AND OTHER MDB LOANS. AN ORDERLY RETURN TO FULL DEMOCRACY, ON THE OTHER HAND, WOULD PROVIDE THE BEST CHANCE FOR CONSERVING THESE POSITIVE ECONOMIC FEATURES.

--US FRIENDS SHOULD BE AWARE OF THE INCREASING PRESSURE FOR TOUGH ECONOMIC SANCTIONS AGAINST CHILE IN THE U.S. CONGRESS AND A WILLINGNESS TO TAKE ADVERSE ACTION ON WORLD BANK REPLENISHMENT SHOULD THIS IMPORTANT IFI BE SEEN AS TAKING STEPS TO HELP PINOCHET'S ELECTION PROSPECTS

E.O. 12356: DECL: OADR
TAGS: PGOV, PHUM, PINS, ES
SUBJECT: ~~ARENA INCENSED BY ALLEGATIONS AGAINST~~ ~~D'AUBUISSON~~

REF: SAN SALVADOR 15455

1. (C) SUMMARY

THE CONSERVATIVE ARENA PARTY PLANS TO HARDEN ITS STANCE AGAINST THE DUARTE GOVERNMENT IN THE WAKE OF STATEMENTS BY A WITNESS IMPLICATING ROBERTO D'AUBUISSON IN THE 1980 ASSASSINATION OF ARCHBISHOP ROMERO (REFTEL.) ARENA VIEWS THE ACCUSATIONS AGAINST D'AUBUISSON AS A COORDINATED GOES/USEMBASSY STAB IN THE BACK OF ARENA AS THE MARCH ELECTIONS APPROACH. PARTY LEADERS ARE PARTICULARLY RESENTFUL AS THEY FEEL ARENA HAS SUPPORTED THE DEMOCRATIC PROCESS AND EXERCISED RESTRAINT IN OPPOSING THE GOVERNMENT. IN A PAID ADVERTISEMENT ON NOV. 25, ARENA REFUTED GOES CHARGES AGAINST D'AUBUISSON, AND PUT FORWARD "EVIDENCE" BY SALVADORAN JOURNALIST JORGE PINTO THAT THE TRUE ASSASSINS OF ROMERO WERE MEMBERS OF THE NATIONAL SECURITY FORCES. THE AD PLACES RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE MURDER ON EX-CHIEF OF THE NATIONAL POLICE, COL. REINALDO LOPEZ NUILA. D'AUBUISSON CLAIMS HE HAS IRREFUTABLE EVIDENCE TO PROVE HIS INNOCENCE, AND ALSO BLAMES LOPEZ NUILA. ON NOV. 25 D'AUBUISSON FILED A PETITION WITH THE SUPREME COURT ARGUING HIS CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS HAVE BEEN VIOLATED.

2. (C) THE ARENA HARDLINERS ARE TAKING ADVANTAGE OF THE ATTACKS AGAINST D'AUBUISSON, THE RETURN OF FDR LEADERS UNGO AND ZAMORA, PENDING LABOR AND LAND REFORM LEGISLATION IN THE NATIONAL ASSEMBLY, AND THE TEMPORARY ABSENCE OF MORE MODERATE PARTY LEADER ALFREDO "FREDY" CRISTIANI", TO LAUNCH AN OFFENSIVE AGAINST THE GOES. EXTREMIST ARENA FRINGE ELEMENTS WERE RESPONSIBLE FOR AN ANONYMOUS AD THAT APPEARED IN THE NOV. 26 ISSUE OF THE "DIARIO DE HOY", IN WHICH THE ARMED FORCES ARE ATTACKED FOR HELPING THE GOVERNMENT ADVANCE COMMUNIST INTERESTS IN EL SALVADOR, FOR LACK OF WILL TO WIN THE WAR, AND FOR ALLOWING THE "ASSASSINS" (UNGO AND ZAMORA) TO RETURN

AS "HEROES" TO THE COUNTRY. THE AD FALLS SHORT OF OPENLY CALLING FOR A COUP, BUT INSINUATES STRONGLY THAT A COUP WOULD BE JUSTIFIED UNDER CURRENT CIRCUMSTANCES. ACCORDING TO ARENA VICE PRESIDENT CALDERON SOL, THE PARTY LEADERSHIP, WHILE DISTRAUGHT, FALLS FAR SHORT OF ADVOCATING A COUP. END SUMMARY.

3. (C) POLITICAL MANEUVER AGAINST ARENA

POLCOUNS AND POLOFFS MET UNTIL LATE IN THE NIGHT OF NOV. 24 WITH ARENA VICE PRESIDENT AND PARTY WHIP ARMANDO CALDERON SOL, AND EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE (COENA) MEMBER JUAN JOSE DOMENECH TO HEAR ARENA'S REACTION TO THE LATEST DEVELOPMENTS ON THE ROMERO CASE, AND ALLEGATIONS BY THE NEW-FOUND WITNESS OF INVOLVEMENT BY ARENA HONORARY PRESIDENT-FOR-LIFE AND PARTY FOUNDER, ROBERTO D'AUBUISSON. CALDERON WAS OUTRAGED BY THE ACCUSATIONS AGAINST D'AUBUISSON, CRITICIZING THE EMBASSY FOR ALLOWING ITSELF TO BE USED BY THE GOES TO ORCHESTRATE A PRE-ELECTION CAMPAIGN TO DISCREDIT ARENA. HE RECALLED THAT EVERY TIME ELECTIONS APPROACHED, THE DUARTE GOVERNMENT PULLED SOMETHING OUT OF ITS SLEEVE TO UNDERMINE ARENA. BEFORE THE 1985 ELECTIONS IT WAS THE "SIX MILLION DOLLAR MAN" CAPER THAT WAS TURNED AGAINST ARENA. (NOTE: ONE OF D'AUBUISSON'S HENCHMEN, FRANCISCO GUIROLA, WAS ARRESTED AT A TEXAS AIRPORT IN FEBRUARY, 1985 CARRYING USDOLS 6 MILLION IN UNDECLARED CASH. THE RUMOR WAS THAT THE MONEY CAME FROM DRUG PROFITS AND WERE INTENDED TO FINANCE ARENA'S CAMPAIGN. END NOTE.) CALDERON SAID ARENA LEADERS ARE PARTICULARLY INCENSED AT PRESIDENT DUARTE'S POLITICAL MACHINATIONS GIVEN THAT ARENA HAS PLAYED LOYAL OPPOSITION AND HAS SUPPORTED THE DEMOCRATIC PROCESS, DESPITE ITS COMPLETE DISDAIN FOR THE PDC GOVERNMENT.

4. (C) "STRONG MEASURES" AGAINST PDC

IT IS NOW TIME TO RETHINK THE STRATEGY TOWARD THE GOVERNMENT, CALDERON DECLARED. HE SAID THE COENA WOULD MEET ALL DAY NOV. 25 TO CONSIDER "STRONGER MEASURES" AGAINST THE GOES. HE WAS QUICK TO ADD THESE MEASURES WOULD FALL "WITHIN LEGAL BOUNDS." ASKED WHAT SPECIFIC STEPS MIGHT BE CONTEMPLATED, CALDERON MENTIONED PUBLIC DEMONSTRATIONS AND A LESS COOPERATIVE APPROACH OVERALL IN FORA SUCH AS THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

5. (C) CONVINCED D'AUBUISSON INNOCENT

CALDERON SAID HE AND FELLOW ARENEROS REMAIN AS CONVINCED AS EVER OF D'AUBUISSON'S INNOCENCE. D'AUBUISSON, HE SAID, WAS BEING FRAMED BY A "BOUGHT" GOVERNMENT WITNESS THAT HAD BEEN KEPT ON HOLD UNTIL ELECTIONS GOT CLOSER. CALDERON SAID IT WAS INCONCEIVABLE THAT THE WITNESS, AMADO ANTONIO GARAY, IF INDEED HE WAS THE DRIVER OF THE VEHICLE USED IN THE CRIME, DID NOT KNOW UNTIL THREE DAYS LATER THAT THE VICTIM WAS ARCHBISHOP ROMERO. THE NEWS OF THE MURDER HIT THE STREETS OF EL SALVADOR ONLY HOURS AFTER THE ASSASSINATION. CALDERON CLAIMED ARENA HAD PROOF THAT IT WAS THE PUBLIC SECURITY FORCES AND EX-CHIEF OF THE NATIONAL POLICE, COL. REYNALDO LOPEZ NUILA WHO WERE RESPONSIBLE FOR ROMERO'S EXECUTION. AS BASIS FOR THIS CLAIM, CALDERON CITED SALVADORAN JOURNALIST JORGE PINTO, WHOSE FINDINGS HE SAID HAVE

6. (U) THE PINTO THEORY

IN A TWO PAGE PAID AD ON NOV. 25, ARENA PUBLICLY ACCUSED THE NATIONAL POLICE AND LOPEZ NUILA FOR AUTHORING THE CRIME. JORGE PINTO, DESCRIBED AS FORMER EDITOR OF THE "INDEPENDENCE" NEWSPAPER, IS QUOTED EXTENSIVELY FROM HIS BOOK "THE CRY FROM THE SMALLEST" (EL GRITO DEL MAS PEQUENO) TO SUBSTANTIATE THE CHARGES. PINTO RELATES HOW HE WAS IN THE CHAPEL, COMMEMORATING THE FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF THE DEATH OF HIS MOTHER, WHEN ROMERO WAS KILLED. AS EVIDENCE OF THE INVOLVEMENT OF THE NATIONAL POLICE, PINTO MENTIONS THE FOLLOWING THREE WITNESSES:

-- A MERCHANT FRIEND OF THE FAMILY, NAPOLEON MARTINEZ, WHO ARRIVED LATE AT THE MASS AND SAW NATIONAL POLICE GUNMEN CARRY OUT THE CRIME;

-- THE MAID OF A NEIGHBOR REGULARLY OBSERVED BY NATIONAL POLICE BECAUSE OF GUERRILLA ASSOCIATION, WHO RECOGNIZED THE CAR USED IN THE SURVEILLANCE AS THE POLICE VEHICLE THAT DROVE UP TO THE CHURCH WHEN ROMERO WAS KILLED. ACCORDING TO THE MAID, THE MEN WERE THE SAME, BUT DRESSED IN CIVILIAN CLOTHES.

-- AN ENGINEER LIVING IN THE NEIGHBORHOOD SAW A NATIONAL POLICE JEEP CONDUCTING SURVEILLANCE OF THE CHURCH FOR TWO WEEKS BEFORE THE ASSASSINATION.

(NOTE: ACCORDING TO A NOV. 26 SALPRESS/NOTISAL REPORT, PINTO STATED IN MEXICO CITY, WHERE HE RESIDES, THAT HE NEVER SAID IT WAS THE NATIONAL POLICE WHO KILLED ROMERO, BUT RATHER THAT HE BLAMES THE ARMED FORCES AS AN INSTITUTION FOR THE CRIME. HE ALSO SAID D'AUBUISSON COULD HAVE BEEN THE "CONTRACTOR" FOR THE MURDER, AND THAT PRESIDENT DUARTE, AS COMMANDER IN CHIEF OF THE ARMED FORCES AT THE TIME, CANNOT BE COMPLETELY FREED FROM GUILT. END NOTE.)

7. (U) DON'T LOOK AT ME, LOOK AT LOPEZ NUILA

IN SEVERAL MEDIA APPEARENCES NOV. 23-25, ROBERTO D'AUBUISSON ANGRILY DENIED HIS INVOLVEMENT IN THE ROMERO CASE. HE PROMISED TO PRESENT IRREFUTABLE EVIDENCE OF HIS INNOCENCE, INCLUDING TESTIMONY THAT

HE WAS OUTSIDE OF SAN SALVADOR ON THE DATE THAT WITNESS GARAY CLAIMS TO HAVE DRIVEN TO D'AUBUISSON'S HOUSE AND OVERHEARD HIM CONVERSE WITH CAPTAIN SARAVIA. D'AUBUISSON CHARGED THE GOES IS SEEKING TO DEFLECT ATTENTION AWAY FROM THE DISASTEROUS FAILURE OF THE ESQUIPULAS II PROCESS, INCLUDING THE RETURN OF FDR LEADERS ZAMORA AND UNGO. PRESIDENT DUARTE, D'AUBUISSON CHARGED, "IS TRYING TO ELIMINATE ME POLITICALLY." ON NOV. 25, D'AUBUISSON FILED A PETITION (RECURSO DE EXHIBICION PERSONAL) WITH THE SUPREME COURT ARGUING THAT HIS CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS HAVE BEEN VIOLATED. IN THE PETITION D'AUBUISSON CLAIMS THERE IS A THREAT AGAINST HIS LIBERTY, ALTHOUGH HE, AS A MEMBER OF THE NATIONAL ASSEMBLY, IS IMMUNE TO ARREST. THE PETITION FURTHER ARGUES THAT THE TESTIMONY OF WITNESS GARAY IS ILLEGAL, AS HE WAS AN ACCOMPLICE TO THE CRIME. A NOV. 27 PAID ARENA AD

CONTAINS A VEILED THREAT AGAINST THE JUDGE IN THE CASE, AND CONCLUDES THAT ANYONE GIVING CREDIBILITY TO THE WITNESS IS A MENTAL AND MORAL DELINQUENT.

8. (C) COMMENT:

ARENA IS FURIOUS AT THE GOVERNMENT AND ALARMED BY THE POLITICAL IMPLICATIONS OF THE ROMERO CASE ON THE PARTY'S ELECTORAL PROSPECTS. PARTY LEADERS AND THE NUMEROUS PARTY FAITHFUL CONTINUE TO STUBBORNLY MAINTAIN THERE IS ABSOLUTELY NO WAY D'AUBUISSON COULD HAVE BEEN CONNECTED TO THE CASE. CALDERON SOL WAS UNMOVED WHEN TOLD GARAY HAD PASSED LIE DETECTOR TESTS. THAT THERE COULD BE ANYTHING BUT CYNICAL POLITICAL MOTIVES BEHIND THE PRESENTATION OF THE WITNESS, SEEMS INCONCEIVABLE TO THE ARENEROS. ARENA AND D'AUBUISSON ARE RIGHT IN AT LEAST ONE RESPECT: THE GOVERNMENT IS USING THE ROMERO CASE TO DELIBERATELY UNDERMINE THE POLITICAL OPPOSITION AND WITHOUT MUCH CONCERN FOR THE IDEA THAT AN ACCUSED HAS THE RIGHT TO BE CONSIDERED INNOCENT UNTIL PROVEN GUILTY. THE NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN THE ROMERO CASE COINCIDE WITH OTHER EVENTS, SUCH AS THE RETURN OF FDR LEADERS UNGO AND ZAMORA, WHICH ARENA HARDLINERS CONSIDER A SELL-OUT TO THE COMMUNISTS. ARENA'S REACTION IS LIKELY TO BE MORE EMOTIONAL THAN USUAL AS PARTY PRESIDENT ALFREDO "FREDY" CRISTIANI, A RELATIVE MODERATE, IS OUT OF THE COUNTRY UNTIL NEXT WEEK ON A BUSINESS TRIP. ARENA TEMPERS ARE AT THE BOILING POINT, BUT WHILE THE EXTREME FRINGE OF THE PARTY IS ALLUDING AT A COUP, THE PARTY LEADERSHIP, AS RELATED BY CALDERON SOL, IS FAR SHORT OF ADVOCATING OR PARTICIPATING IN A COUP. THE END RESULT IS, NONETHELESS, MORE TENSION AND POLARIZATION ADDED TO AN ALREADY OVERLOADED POLITICAL AGENDA.

MR. CHAIRMAN,

THE PROTECTION OF INDIVIDUAL HUMAN RIGHTS AND FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS MUST REMAIN A TOP PRIORITY OF THE UNITED NATIONS. THIS ORGANIZATION AND ITS MEMBERS HAVE THE RIGHT AND DUTY TO DECRY VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS

WHEREVER THEY OCCUR AND FOR WHATEVER REASON. TERROR AND TYRANNY BY THE RIGHT ARE NO MORE JUSTIFIABLE THAN BY THE LEFT. RELIGIOUS FERVOR IS NO MORE AN EXCUSE FOR PERSECUTION THAN ATHEISM. THE RACISM OF ONE GROUP DOES NOT PARDON THAT OF ANOTHER. EVERYONE HAS RIGHTS NO GOVERNMENT MAY INFRINGE. NO GOVERNMENT CAN CLAIM SOVEREIGNTY OR LACK OF DEVELOPMENT AS AN EXCUSE TO VIOLATE RIGHTS OR TO PREVENT THE WORLD FROM DENOUNCING VIOLATIONS. NO STATE, PARTY, GROUP, CAUSE, IDEOLOGY, OR IDEAL CAN JUSTIFY THE SYSTEMATIC ABUSE OF THE BASIC RIGHTS OF HUMAN BEINGS. DOUBLE STANDARDS, HYPOCRISY, OBFUSCATION, AND COWARDICE HAVE NO ROLE IN HUMAN RIGHTS. THE PHYSICAL PERSON, HIS BELIEFS AND ASPIRATIONS, AND HIS RIGHT TO PRACTICE AND PURSUE THEM OPENLY AND PEACEFULLY NEED RESPECT AND PROTECTION BY STATES AND THE UNITED NATIONS -- THE PREMIERE INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATION.

WHEN SURVEYING THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS AROUND THE WORLD, ONE'S ATTENTION IS QUICKLY DRAWN TO SOUTH AFRICA. APARTHEID CONTINUES TO HOLD SWAY IN THAT COUNTRY AND TO DENY THE VAST MAJORITY OF ITS PEOPLE FUNDAMENTAL HUMAN RIGHTS. THE EXISTENCE OF THAT CRUEL SYSTEM HAS LED TO A VIOLENT RESPONSE FROM SOME OF ITS FRUSTRATED OPPONENTS. THIS, IN TURN, HAS LED THE GOVERNMENT TO ADOPT EVEN HARSHER METHODS OF CONTROL AND REPRESSION. UNLESS THE CYCLE OF VIOLENCE IS BROKEN AND A PEACEFUL DISMANTLING OF APARTHEID OCCURS, THE SOUTH AFRICANS OF TOMORROW WILL INHERIT A RUINED ECONOMY AND A NATION FULL OF BITTERNESS AND HATE. THE UNITED NATIONS HAS A RESPONSIBILITY TO HELP ELIMINATE APARTHEID IN A WAY THAT DOES NOT INCREASE THE SUFFERING OF THE PEOPLE OF THAT REGION AND DENY THEM THE BRIGHT FUTURE TO WHICH THEY ARE ENTITLED.

MR. CHAIRMAN, THIS COMMITTEE HAS BEFORE IT A REPORT ON HUMAN RIGHTS IN AFGHANISTAN BY SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR PROFESSOR ERMACORA. IN HIS REPORT, DRAFTED AFTER HE GAINED LIMITED ACCESS TO SOME OF WHAT LITTLE AFGHANISTAN KABUL CONTROLS, ERMACORA CONCLUDES THAT SOVIET TROOPS IN AFGHANISTAN ARE THE MAIN CAUSE OF THE INTENSE ARMED CONFLICT AND THE EXISTENCE OF 5.5 MILLION REFUGEES.

ONCE AN INDEPENDENT NON-ALIGNED COUNTRY, AFGHANISTAN IS NOW A HUMAN RIGHTS HORROR STORY. THE FARCICAL REGIME IN KABUL DEPENDS TOTALLY UPON MOSCOW. THE HEAD OF STATE OF THAT REGIME IS REPLACED AS OFTEN AS SUITS THE SOVIETS. TRANSMITTERS INSIDE THE SOVIET UNION EVEN JAM FOREIGN BROADCASTS TO AFGHANISTAN.

THE AFGHAN PEOPLE, DESPITE SUFFERING ONE MILLION DEAD, CONTINUE TO RESIST; THE SOVIETS ARE FURTHER FROM VICTORY THAN IN 1979. ONLY THE WITHDRAWAL OF THEIR TROOPS CAN LEAD TO A PROCESS OF GENUINE NATIONAL RECONSTRUCTION AND RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS. THE PEOPLE OF AFGHANISTAN HAVE THE RIGHT TO LIVE FREE OF TERROR, OCCUPATION, AND SUBJUGATION. THEY HAVE THE RIGHT TO LIVE IN ACCORD WITH THEIR RELIGIOUS AND CULTURAL TRADITIONS AND TO DETERMINE THEIR INTERNAL POLITICAL STATUS AND THEIR FOREIGN RELATIONS FREE OF INTERVENTION.

IN IRAN, THE STATE OF HUMAN RIGHTS REMAINS PRECARIOUS. THE REPORT OF THE SPECIAL REPRESENTATIVE, MR. GALINDO POHL, PROVIDES NUMEROUS CREDIBLE ALLEGATIONS OF SERIOUS

AND SYSTEMATIC ABUSES OF HUMAN RIGHTS BY THE IRANIAN GOVERNMENT: TORTURE, ARBITRARY DETENTION, SUMMARY EXECUTIONS, AND MANY OTHER GRAVE VIOLATIONS CONTINUE.

SCORES OF POLITICAL DETAINEES HAVE BEEN EXECUTED THIS PAST YEAR. AS WE POINTED OUT IN AN EARLIER STATEMENT, AT LEAST 12 BAHA'IS CURRENTLY AWAIT EXECUTION MERELY FOR THEIR BELIEFS. AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL REPORTS TORTURE AND UNCLASSIFIED ILL-TREATMENT OF POLITICAL DETAINEES AND STONING TO DEATH AND MUTILATION CARRIED OUT AS PUNISHMENT. A GOVERNMENT WIDELY RECOGNIZED AS AN OUTLAW REGIME FOR ITS ACTIONS ABROAD IS ALSO ONE OF THE WORST OFFENDERS IN THE AREA OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS. THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN IRAN MUST STAY UNDER ACTIVE REVIEW.

THE COMMITTEE ALSO HAS A VOLUMINOUS REPORT ON THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE. AS ALWAYS, PROFESSOR VOLIO HAS PREPARED A CAREFUL AND WELL-BALANCED ACCOUNT OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN CHILE. THE COOPERATION EXTENDED BY THE GOVERNMENT OF CHILE AIDED HIS ENDEAVOR GREATLY . HE VISITED ANY AND ALL INSTITUTIONS AND SPOKE WITH ANYONE HE REQUESTED. UNLIKE THE AUTHORITIES IN AFGHANISTAN AND IRAN, THE GOVERNMENT OF CHILE DEMONSTRATED ITS GOOD FAITH BY THE RANGE AND DEPTH OF ITS COOPERATION WITH THE UN'S HUMAN RIGHTS MACHINERY.

MR. CHAIRMAN, THE UNITED STATES HAS CONCERNS ABOUT THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE AND AT THE LAST TWO SESSIONS OF THE COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS WE PARTICIPATED IN THE DRAFTING AND PRESENTATION OF RESOLUTIONS ON CHILE. WE ARE PARTICULARLY TROUBLED BY PERSISTENT REPORTS OF CLANDESTINE GROUPS, ALLEGEDLY CONTAINING MEMBERS OF THE SECURITY FORCES, ACTING WITH VIRTUAL IMPUNITY AND CARRYING OUT ABDUCTION, TORTURE, AND EVEN MURDER. THE GOVERNMENT MUST EXERT MAXIMUM EFFORT TO HALT THESE ACTS AND PROSECUTE THOSE RESPONSIBLE.

CHILE IS NOT AND DOES NOT PRETEND TO BE A DEMOCRACY. WE BELIEVE THAT CHILE'S LONG AND NOBLE TRADITION OF DEMOCRACY AND RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS BEGAN TO ERODE IMMEDIATELY BEFORE THE CURRENT GOVERNMENT TOOK POWER, UNCLASSIFIED

CONTINUES TO BE VIOLATED, AND WILL CONTINUE TO BE UNTIL THE PEACEFUL RETURN OF GENUINE DEMOCRACY. IT IS, THEREFORE, WITH REGRET THAT THE UNITED STATES HAS HAD TO VOTE CONSISTENTLY AGAINST THE RESOLUTIONS ON CHILE ADOPTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY. THESE RESOLUTIONS HAVE TAKEN AN UNBALANCED APPROACH TO THE CHILEAN SITUATION, REFUSING TO ADMIT THAT PROGRESS HAS OCCURRED AND THAT THE GOVERNMENT IS NOT THE ONLY SOURCE OF VIOLENCE AND HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS. UNFORTUNATELY, SOME DELEGATIONS USE THE DEBATE ON CHILE TO ENGAGE IN POLITICALLY MOTIVATED SLANDER. SOME OF THE MOST ARDENT SUPPORTERS OF THE CHILE RESOLUTIONS COMMIT AT HOME WHAT THEY CLAIM TO SEE AND DECRY IN CHILE: REPRESSION, TORTURE, EXILE, AND THE DENIAL OF OTHER BASIC RIGHTS.

WE URGE THOSE WHO GENUINELY CARE ABOUT HUMAN RIGHTS TO PROMOTE AN OBJECTIVE ASSESSMENT OF CHILE. SUCH AN ASSESSMENT WOULD ENCOURAGE THE MANY CHILEANS, INSIDE AND OUTSIDE THE GOVERNMENT, TO CONTINUE COOPERATING WITH THE COMMISSION AND TO PERSIST IN THEIR EFFORTS FOR A PEACEFUL RETURN TO DEMOCRACY.

THIS COMMITTEE HAS ANOTHER EXCELLENT REPORT BY THE SPECIAL REPRESENTATIVE ON EL SALVADOR, PROFESSOR PASTOR RIDRUEJO, WHICH CAPTURES REMARKABLY WELL THE SOCIAL, ECONOMIC, AND POLITICAL CONDITIONS IN THAT STRUGGLING DEMOCRACY. PROFESSOR PASTOR, WITHOUT IGNORING THE DEFICIENCIES THAT EXIST, HAS EXPLAINED CLEARLY THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT'S COMMITMENT TO HUMAN RIGHTS AND PEACE. THIS COMMITMENT HAS CONTINUED FIRM DESPITE NATURAL CALAMITY, SERIOUS ECONOMIC PROBLEMS, AND ASSAULTS FROM SMALL, INCREASINGLY DESPERATE, AND VICIOUS GUERRILLA BANDS SEEKING TO KILL DEMOCRACY IN EL SALVADOR.

WE JOIN PROFESSOR PASTOR IN DENOUNCING THE INDISCRIMINATE USE OF LAND MINES BY THE GUERRILLAS AND THEIR EFFORTS TO DESTROY THE NATION'S ECONOMY. WE HOPE PRESIDENT DUARTE'S REPEATED EFFORTS TO END THE VIOLENCE WILL BE MATCHED BY THE ILLEGAL ARMED OPPOSITION. MR. CHAIRMAN, SOME OBSERVERS SEEM TO IGNORE THAT EL SALVADOR HAS A VIGOROUS LEGAL PEACEFUL OPPOSITION THAT PARTICIPATES OPENLY IN THE COUNTRY'S POLITICAL PROCESS. EL SALVADOR IS A FUNCTIONING DEMOCRACY -- THE ONLY ONE SUBJECT TO REPORTS TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY. WE WONDER WHETHER U.N. HUMAN RIGHTS RESOURCES COULD NOT BE BETTER USED.

WHILE WE HAVE NO REPORT ON GUATEMALA, SOME HERE SEEM TO FAVOR RE-OPENING THE CASE OF GUATEMALA IN THE GA. THE UNITED STATES OPPOSES ANY SUCH EFFORT; THE DECISION OF THE COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS ON GUATEMALA MUST BE RESPECTED. WE ARE AWARE OF CONTINUING HUMAN RIGHTS PROBLEMS IN GUATEMALA. MORE IMPORTANTLY, HOWEVER, THE GOVERNMENT OF PRESIDENT CEREZO IS ALSO AWARE OF THOSE PROBLEMS AND COMMITTED TO SOLVING THEM.

THIS LEADS ME, MR. CHAIRMAN, TO OBSERVE THAT SOME HERE FIND IT EASY AND CHEAP TO INVESTIGATE AND CRITICIZE COUNTRIES SUCH AS CHILE, EL SALVADOR, AND GUATEMALA. WHILE THESE RELATIVELY SMALL COUNTRIES CLEARLY DIFFER IN MANY IMPORTANT WAYS, THEY ARE SIMILAR IN HAVING OPEN SOCIETIES THAT WELCOME VISITORS; IN COOPERATING WITH THE U.N.'S HUMAN RIGHTS REPRESENTATIVES; NONE HAS OVERBLOWN

INTERNATIONAL PRETENSIONS; AND NONE FORMS PART OF THE INTERNATIONAL TERROR NETWORK NOR POSES ANY THREAT TO OTHER STATES. WORSE OFFENDERS, SOME IN THE SAME GEOGRAPHICAL AREA, GO UNTOUCHED APPARENTLY BECAUSE MANY FEAR THEM.

ONE SUCH CASE IS NICARAGUA -- A COUNTRY WHOSE RULERS HAVE BETRAYED ITS REVOLUTION. PROMISES OF DEMOCRACY, HUMAN RIGHTS, MIXED ECONOMY, NON-ALIGNMENT, AND RESPECT FOR THE SOVEREIGNTY OF NICARAGUA'S NEIGHBORS QUICKLY FELL BY THE WAYSIDE. THE REGIME'S REPRESSIVE INTERNAL MACHINERY WENT INTO HIGH GEAR, ITS MILITARY FORCES BECAME THE LARGEST IN CENTRAL AMERICAN HISTORY, ITS DOORS OPENED TO INTERNATIONAL TERRORISTS, AND ITS LEADERS SWORE FIDELITY TO THE SOVIET EMPIRE. THE PRISONS FILLED WITH DISSIDENTS. THE INDEPENDENT PRINT AND ELECTRONIC MEDIA WERE SHUT. THE ECONOMY CRASHED TO A HALT. RATIONING, SHORTAGES, LONG LINES, AND A BLACK MARKET SPROUTED. SHAM ELECTIONS CREATED A SHAM PARLIAMENT. LIKE THE PIGS IN GEORGE ORWELL'S ANIMAN FARM, THE COMANDANTES LIVE IN LUXURIOUS VILLAS, OWN NEW CARS, HAVE SPECIAL STORES FOR THEMSELVES, AND GO SHOPPING IN NEW YORK. CRITICS, QUICKLY LABELED "CONTRAS," SOMOCISTAS, AND AGENTS OF THE CIA, FACE DETENTION, LONG PRISON SENTENCES, TORTURE, AND EVEN DEATH. HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF NICARAGUANS HAVE FLED INTO EXILE OR TAKEN UP ARMS.

THE GROWING REBELLION AGAINST THEIR TOTALITARIAN DREAMS AND BANKRUPT SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC POLICIES HAS DRIVEN THE SANDINISTAS TO SIGN THE GUATEMALA PEACE ACCORD, RE-OPEN LA PRENSA, ALLOW CENSURED BROADCASTS OF RADIO CATOLICA, AND PARDON FEWER THAN 1000 PRISONERS. WE SHOULD HAVE NO ILLUSIONS. THE MACHINERY OF REPRESSION REMAINS INTACT. PERSONS ARRESTED FOR POLITICAL "CRIMES" RECEIVE NO DUE PROCESS. SOME 9,000 POLITICAL PRISONERS REMAIN IN PRISONS SUCH AS EL CHIPOTE, LAS TEJAS, LA FORTALEZA, TIPITAPA, AND MANY MORE. FREEDOM REMAINS ONLY A HOPE; IT WILL REMAIN SO UNLESS THE WORLD INSISTS THAT THE SANDINISTAS HONOR THEIR PROMISES.

MR. CHAIRMAN, ANOTHER REGIME ENGAGING IN MASSIVE AND SYSTEMATIC ABUSES OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND RESISTING THE DEMOCRATIC REVOLUTION THAT HAS SWEPT OVER 90 PERCENT OF LATIN AMERICA IS CASTRO'S IN CUBA. HIS REGIME TOOK POWER BY VIOLENCE AND KEEPS IT THAT WAY. FOR NEARLY 30 YEARS, CASTRO HAS OPPRESSED HIS PEOPLE: SOME 1.5 MILLION HAVE FLED ABROAD; TENS OF THOUSANDS HAVE DIED IN FRONT OF

FIRING SQUADS OR IN THE TORTURE CHAMBERS OF THE

ALL-POWERFUL STATE SECURITY APPARATUS; HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF POLITICAL DISSIDENTS HAVE PASSED THROUGH THE GATES OF CASTRO'S PRISONS AND LABOR CAMPS; AND THOUSANDS REMAIN IMPRISONED TODAY, SOME FOR OVER 20 YEARS.

FOR TOO LONG THE NAIVE OF THIS WORLD WERE FOOLED BY CASTRO'S REVOLUTIONARY CACHET. AS EVIDENCE OF CASTRO'S CRIMES AGAINST THE CUBAN PEOPLE HAS MOUNTED, HOWEVER, THE UNCLASSIFIED

REVOLUTION HAS BEGUN RAPIDLY TO LOSE ITS ABILITY TO DECEIVE. AT THE LAST SESSION OF THE COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS, A PROCEDURAL MOTION APPROVED BY A MARGIN OF ONE VOTE PREVENTED THE COMMISSION FROM ACTING ON A PROPOSED RESOLUTION ON HUMAN RIGHTS IN CUBA. THAT RESOLUTION, NEVERTHELESS, CONTRIBUTED FURTHER TO ALTERING THE WORLD'S PERCEPTION OF CUBA'S GOVERNMENT. ON OCTOBER 29, TO CITE ONE EXAMPLE, THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT PASSED A RESOLUTION, INTRODUCED BY SPANISH MEMBERS, DEPLORING THE STATE OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CUBA; IT CALLED UPON THE U.N. COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS TO PREPARE "A COMPREHENSIVE REPORT ON THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN CUBA, WITH SPECIAL REFERENCE TO THE CONDITIONS UNDER WHICH POLITICAL PRISONERS ARE KEPT." THE MOST RECENT REPORT OF THE OAS INTER-AMERICAN HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION ALSO BLASTS CASTRO'S HUMAN RIGHTS RECORD.

OUR EFFORT IN GENEVA PUSHED THE CASTRO REGIME TO TRY TO IMPROVE ITS DETERIORATING IMAGE. IN JUNE, THE SAME REGIME THAT A FEW MONTHS EARLIER IN GENEVA HAD CLAIMED THAT IT HELD AT MOST 200 POLITICAL PRISONERS, ANNOUNCED THE RELEASE OF 350 POLITICAL PRISONERS. SINCE THE COMMISSION MEETING, CASTRO HAS RELEASED A SMALL NUMBER OF LONG-TIME POLITICAL PRISONERS (PLANTADOS) AND OPENED A VERY FEW OF HIS NUMEROUS PRISONS FOR LIMITED INSPECTION BY SELECTED FOREIGN GUESTS. HE HAS ALSO REACHED AN AGREEMENT WITH THE UNITED STATES TO FACILITATE THE EXIT OF SOME OF THE MANY CUBANS WISHING TO LEAVE CUBA.

THESE ARE COSMETIC ACTS. AVAILABLE EVIDENCE CLEARLY INDICATES THAT WIDESPREAD AND SYSTEMATIC VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS PERSIST IN CUBA: ARRESTS FOR POLITICAL CRIMES AND TORTURE CONTINUE; THE JUDICIARY REMAINS UNDER TIGHT STATE CONTROL; A FAIR TRIAL IS IMPOSSIBLE; FREE SPEECH REMAINS PROHIBITED; ALL CUBAN MEDIA AND PUBLISHING

ACTIVITIES ARE UNDER STATE DIRECTION; AND RELIGIOUS PRACTICE IS DISCOURAGED. THE INDIVIDUAL EXISTS ONLY FOR THE GLORIFICATION OF THE STATE; THE STATE, IN TURN, EXISTS ONLY FOR THE GLORIFICATION OF MR. CASTRO.

MR. CHAIRMAN, ON PREVIOUS OCCASIONS I HAVE COME BEFORE THIS COMMITTEE AND OTHER UN FORUMS AND SPOKEN IN CRITICAL TERMS OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN THE SOVIET UNION. I INTEND TO DO SO AGAIN TODAY. IN FAIRNESS, MR. CHAIRMAN, MY DELEGATION ACKNOWLEDGES THAT WE BEGIN TO HEAR SOME NEW SOUNDS FROM THE SOVIET UNION ON HUMAN RIGHTS. AFTER YEARS OF REFUSAL, THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT HAS CONSENTED TO TALK WITH U.S. OFFICIALS ABOUT A RANGE

OF HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES. WE READ ADMISSIONS OF SHORTCOMINGS IN HUMAN RIGHTS BY SOVIET PUBLICATIONS: "IZVESTIA" HAS ADMITTED THAT PSYCHIATRIC ABUSE EXISTS IN THE SOVIET UNION. THE NUMBER OF JEWS, ARMENIANS, AND ETHNIC GERMANS ALLOWED TO EMIGRATE HAS INCREASED APPRECIABLY. SOME PROGRESS HAS BEEN MADE IN RESOLVING DIVIDED FAMILY CASES. APPROXIMATELY 200 POLITICAL DISSIDENTS HAVE BEEN RELEASED FROM DETENTION OVER THE PAST YEAR -- THE LARGEST RELEASE SINCE THE IMMEDIATE POST-STALIN ERA WHICH SAW TENS OF THOUSANDS FREED.

THE SOVIET RECORD ON HUMAN RIGHTS, NEVERTHELESS, REMAINS HIGHLY UNSATISFACTORY. THE GOVERNMENT IS NOT IN COMPLIANCE WITH THE HELSINKI FINAL ACT OR ITS OTHER OBLIGATIONS IN THE AREA OF HUMAN RIGHTS. MOST OF THE APPARENT PROGRESS REMAINS SUBJECT TO ARBITRARY REVERSAL. PERHAPS AS MANY AS SEVERAL THOUSAND POLITICAL PRISONERS REMAIN LOCKED AWAY, DENIED DUE PROCESS AND SUFFERING CONDITIONS OF DETENTION AND TREATMENT BELOW INTERNATIONALLY ACCEPTED NORMS. EMIGRATION PROCEDURES ARE ARBITRARY AND SHROUDED IN SECRECY AND IN CONFUSING

THOUGHT AND ACTION -- AN ATTITUDE WHICH HAS WROUGHT INCALCULABLE DAMAGE TO SOVIET PERFORMANCE IN A NUMBER OF AREAS AND DENIED US ALL THE BENEFITS OF THE GREAT CREATIVITY OF THE RUSSIAN PEOPLE. THE SYSTEM CONTINUES TO LACK THE LEGAL FOUNDATIONS NECESSARY FOR BUILDING A SOCIETY GENUINELY RESPECTFUL OF BASIC RIGHTS AND FREEDOMS. MY GOVERNMENT SINCERELY HOPES THAT THE HESITANT STEPS THUS FAR TAKEN BY THE SOVIET UNION IN THE HUMAN RIGHTS FIELD WILL NOT BE THE LAST ONES. THE SOVIET UNION HAS A LONG WAY TO GO.

THE HUMAN RIGHTS PICTURE IN EASTERN EUROPE REMAINS GENERALLY GRIM. WHATEVER PROGRESS HAS BEEN MADE IN THE SOVIET UNION HAS, AS A RULE, YET TO BE MATCHED IN EASTERN EUROPE. BULGARIA, FOR EXAMPLE, CONTINUES ITS BRUTAL POLICIES OF FORCED ASSIMILATION OF THE ETHNIC TURKISH MINORITY THAT MAKES UP ONE TENTH OF BULGARIA'S TOTAL POPULATION. BIZARRE RACIAL AND HISTORICAL THEORIES HAVE BEEN CONCOCTED TO "PROVE" THAT THE TURKISH MINORITY NEVER EXISTED OR THAT BULGARIAN TURKS ONLY THOUGHT THEY WERE BULGARIAN TURKS. OFTEN AT GUN POINT, THEY HAVE BEEN FORCED TO CHANGE THEIR NAMES AND ABANDON THEIR TRADITIONS, LANGUAGE, AND RELIGION. AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL ESTIMATES THAT AT LEAST 100 ETHNIC TURKS WERE KILLED BY BULGARIAN SECURITY FORCES DURING THE PERIOD 1984 - 1985. ALL MENTION OF ETHNIC TURKS HAS DISAPPEARED FROM BULGARIA'S OFFICIAL DOCUMENTS; EVEN SPEECHES AND INTERVIEWS GIVEN BY THE HEAD OF STATE IN PAST YEARS HAVE BEEN EDITED TO REMOVE MENTION OF BULGARIAN TURKS. THIS CRUEL ASSAULT ON THE TURKS OF BULGARIA MUST STOP. WE URGE BULGARIA TO RESPOND TO THE MANY OFFERS OF TURKEY TO DISCUSS THIS ISSUE IN A SERIOUS MANNER.

OTHER COUNTRIES OF EASTERN EUROPE ALSO CONTINUE TO VIOLATE THE HUMAN RIGHTS OF THEIR PEOPLE IN A SYSTEMATIC WAY. THE FREEDOMS OF SPEECH, EMIGRATION, ASSEMBLY, AND RELIGION ARE DENIED OR SEVERELY RESTRICTED THROUGHOUT THE REGION. MR. CHAIRMAN, IT IS ONE OF THE GREAT TRAGEDIES OF OUR TIME, THAT MORE THAN 40 YEARS AFTER THE DEFEAT OF THE NAZIS WHO SOUGHT TO ENSLAVE EUROPE, THE EASTERN HALF OF THAT CONTINENT STILL REMAINS IN THE NIGHT OF TYRANNY.

THE PEOPLE OF CAMBODIA CONTINUE TO BE DENIED THEIR FUNDAMENTAL RIGHTS. THE GOVERNMENT OF VIETNAM, WHICH DISREGARDS HUMAN RIGHTS AT HOME, CONTINUES IN ITS INSISTENCE ON TERRORIZING AND OCCUPYING ITS NEIGHBOR. SOME 500,000 VIETNAMESE HAVE SETTLED IN CAMBODIA AND THE SO-CALLED GOVERNMENT OF THAT COUNTRY DEPENDS ENTIRELY ON THE PRESENCE OF VIETNAMESE TROOPS FOR ITS SURVIVAL. THIS ORGANIZATION HAS AN OBLIGATION TO THE LONG-SUFFERING KHMER PEOPLE TO END THEIR AGONY AND TO ALLOW THEM TO LIVE IN PEACE AND TO ENJOY THE FULL EXERCISE OF THEIR HUMAN RIGHTS. THIS ORGANIZATION MUST, THEREFORE, INSIST THAT VIETNAM END ITS WAR AGAINST CAMBODIA.

MY STATEMENT TODAY IS NOT AN EXHAUSTIVE REVIEW OF THE STATE OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN THE WORLD TODAY. I WAS ABLE TO TOUCH ONLY BRIEFLY ON A FEW OF THE MOST GLARING EXAMPLES OF SYSTEMATIC DENIAL OF HUMAN RIGHTS. THERE ARE MANY MORE. RULERS ALL OVER THE WORLD DENY THEIR PEOPLE GOD-GIVEN RIGHTS. HE MIGHT BE A FLIGHT LIEUTENANT WHO OVERTHROWS AN ELECTED GOVERNMENT AND DECLARES HIMSELF CHAIRMAN, OR AN AGING DICTATOR WHO FORCES HIS PEOPLE TO ADDRESS HIM AS THE "GREAT LEADER" AND HIS SON AS THE "BELOVED LEADER." IT MIGHT BE A REGIME WITH THE WORD "DEMOCRATIC" IN ITS TITLE THAT HAS KILLED 15,000 PERSONS IN 1986 IN THE WAKE OF A COUP. BUT WHEREVER AND FOR

NOTING THE OBLIGATION OF THE GOVERNMENT OF CHILE TO RESPECT AND PROTECT HUMAN RIGHTS IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE INTERNATIONAL INSTRUMENTS TO WHICH CHILE IS A PARTY,

BEARING IN MIND THAT THE CONCERN OF THE INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY AT THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE WAS EXPRESSED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY IN A NUMBER OF RESOLUTIONS, PARTICULARLY RESOLUTION 33/173 OF 20 DECEMBER 1978 ON DISAPPEARED PERSONS AND RESOLUTION 41/161 OF 4 DECEMBER 1986 IN WHICH THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY INVITED THE COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS TO ADOPT THE MOST APPROPRIATE MEASURES FOR THE EFFECTIVE RESTORATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS IN THAT COUNTRY, INCLUDING THE EXTENSION OF THE MANDATE OF THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR,

CONSIDERING THAT THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR PROPOSES TO SUBMIT TO THE COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS AT ITS FORTY-FOURTH SESSION A FINAL REPORT ON THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE,

RECALLING THE PERTINENT RESOLUTIONS OF THE COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS, PARTICULARLY RESOLUTION 1987/60 OF 12 MARCH 1987, IN WHICH THE COMMISSION DECIDED, INTER ALIA, TO EXTEND THE MANDATE OF THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR FOR ONE YEAR AND TO CONSIDER THIS SUBJECT, AS A MATTER OF HIGH PRIORITY, IN VIEW OF THE PERSISTENCE OF SERIOUS VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE,

DEPLORING ONCE AGAIN THE FACT THAT THE REPEATED APPEALS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY, THE COMMISISON ON HUMAN RIGHTS AND OTHER INTERNATIONAL ORGANS TO RE-ESTABLISH HUMAN RIGHTS AND FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS HAVE BEEN IGNORED BY THE CHILEAN AUTHORITIES,

CONSIDERING THE REPORTS PREPARED BY VARIOUS NON-GOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS WHICH HAVE MADE PUBLIC THE SERIOUS VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE,

OBSERVING THAT THE MAINTENANCE OF STATES OF EMERGENCY CONSTITUTES A SOURCE OF FREQUENT VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND GIVES RISE TO THE ARBITRARY INTERVENTION OF THE PUBLIC AUTHORITIES IN THE FREE EXERCISE OF DEMOCRATIC ACTIVITIES,

NOTING THAT, ALTHOUGH OPPOSITION PUBLICATIONS HAVE IN SOME CASES BEEN AUTHORIZED, THESE ARE FREQUENTLY SUBJECTED TO ARBITRARY RESTRICTIONS AND LIMITATIONS,

INCLUDING THE DETENTION AND PROSECUTION OF THEIR EDITORS,

REGRETTING THAT MEASURES TAKEN BY THE GOVERNMENT OF CHILE, SUCH AS SIGNING INTERNATINAL INSTRUMENTS AGAINST TORTURE AND AUTHORIZING THE INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE OF THE RED CROSS TO VISIT PLACES OF DETENTION IN SOME CASES, HAVE NOT PUT AN END TO THE PRACTICE OF TORTURE AND ARBITRARY DETENTION,

NOTING THAT, IN THE ABSENCE OF AN INSTITUTIONAL FRAMEWORK FOR HOLDING FREE ELECTIONS, THE ADOPTION OF LAWS ON POLITICAL PARTIES AND ELECTORAL REGISTRATION DO NOT CONSTITUTE AN EXPRESSION OF THE PEOPLE'S SOVEREIGNTY OR MEET THE BASIC REQUIREMENTS OF A DEMOCRATIC RULE OF LAW NOR COMPLY WITH THE PRINCIPLE OF NON-DISCRIMINATION ON GROUNDS OF POLITICAL OR OTHER OPINIONS RECOGNIZED IN THE

INTERNATIONAL COVENANT ON CIVIL AND PPOLITICAL RIGHTS,

1. TAKES NOTE WITH INTEREST OF THE PROVISIONAL REPORT OF THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR ON THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE, SUBMITTED IN ACCORDANCE WITH COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS RESOLUTION 1987/60;

FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS;

3. EXPRESSES ITS DEEP DISTRESS AT THE ABSENCE OF A LEGAL AND POLITICAL STRUCTURE WHICH PROTECTS THE UNRESTRICTED EXERCISE OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS, A BASIC CONDITION FOR THE FREE EXPRESSION OF THE PEOPLE'S SOVEREIGNTY;

4. AGAIN EXRESSES ITS CONVICTION THAT A LEGAL AND POLITICAL ORDER BASED ON THE EXPRESSION OF THE PEOPLE'S WILL THROUGH AN ELECTORAL PROCESS OPEN, ON AN EQUAL FOOTING, TO ALL CITIZENS AND ON FREE ELECTIONS, IS FUNDAMENTAL FOR FULL RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE AS IT IS IN ANY OTHER COUNTRY;

5. EXPRESSES ITS DEEP CONCERN AT THE SERIOUSNESS OF THE SIGNIFICANT AND WELL-DOCUMENTED COMPLAINTS OF SERIOUS VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE, AS DESCRIBED IN THE REPORT OF THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR, WHICH REFERS TO VIOLATIONS OF THE RIGHTS TO LIFE, PHYSICAL AND MORAL INTEGRITY, LIBERTY, SECURITY, DUE PROCESS AND PROCEDURAL GUARANTEES, THE RIGHT TO ENTER AND LEAVE THE COUNTRY FREELY, FREEDOM OF MOVEMENT AND FREEDOM OF SPEECH AND INFORMATION;

6. EXPRESSES ITS DISTRESS AT THE DENIAL OF FUNDAMENTAL RIGHTS AND FREEDOMS THROUGH THE MAINTENANCE OF ARBITRARY EXECUTIVE POWER DURING THE PROLONGED PERIOD IN WHICH STATES OF EMERGENCY HAVE BEEN IN FORCE, AT THE CLIMATE OF INSECURITY, THE USE OF UNLAWFUL COERCION, TORTURE AND ILL-TREATMENT BY THE SECURITY FORCES, THE RENEWAL OF

ADMINISTRATIVE BANISHMENTS AND THE PRACTICE OF FORCED DISAPPEARANCES, AS WELL AS THE EXISTENCE OF BANDS AND

GROUPS, WHETHER PRIVATE OR CONNECTED WITH THE SECURITY FORCES, THAT ENGAGE WITH IMPUNITY IN ACTIONS RANGING FROM INTIMIDATION TO ASSASSINATION;

7. EXPRESSES ITS CONCERN AT THE DEINAL BY THE CHILEAN AUTHORITIES OF THE EXERCISE OF THE RIGHTS OF FREE EXPRESSION, ASSEMBLY AND ASSOCIATION, THROUGH THE USE OF REPRESSIVE METHODS AND VIOLENT RESPONSES TO SOCIAL AND POLITICAL OPPOSITION DEMONSTRATIONS, IN PARTICULAR, MILITARY SEARCHES OF MARGINAL SETTLEMENTS AND UNIVERSITY PREMISES AND ACTS OF INTIMIDATION AGAINST JOURNALISTS AND RELIGIOUS AND LAY HUMAN RIGHTS BODIES;

8. EXPRESSES ITS GRAVE CONCERN AT THE INEFFECTIVENESS OF THE GOVERNMENT AUTHORITIES IN PREVENTING THE ILL-TREATMENT OF INDIVIDUALS BY THE MILITARY, POLICE AND SECURITY FORCES AND EXPRESSES PARTICULAR CONCERN THAT THE JUDICIARY HAS OFTEN FAILED TO ACT INDEPENDENTLY AND THAT THE COMPETENT AUTHORITIES HAVE FAILED TO TAKE THE NECESSARY STEPS TO CONDUCT FULL INVESTIGATIONS AND PROSECUTE THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR THE NUMEROUS UNSOLVED CASES OF ABDUCTION, TORTURE, DISAPPEARANCE AND MURDER;

9. URGES THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT TO RESPOND TO THE REQUESTS OF VARIOUS SOCIAL AND POLITICAL SECTORS FOR THE EARLY, UNCONDITIONAL RE-ESTABLISHMENT OF A PLURALIST DEMOCRACY;

10. EMPHASIZES THE NEED FOR THE GOVERNMENT OF CHILE TO RESTORE AND RESPECT HUMAN RIGHTS IN CONFORMITY WITH THE PRINCIPLES OF THE UNIVERSAL DECLARATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND TO COMPLY WITH THE OBLIGATIONS IT HAS ASSUMED UNDER VARIOUS INTERNATIONAL INSTRUMENTS, SO THAT THE PRINCIPLE OF LEGALITY, DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS AND THE EFFECTIVE ENJOYMENT AND EXERCISE OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS MAY BE RESTORED, AND, IN PARTICULAR:

Dear Dick:

Your letters of November 6 and 20 both got here within three days, so the system seems to be working again. As you know, Harry is in Valparaiso today, so I'm doing this week's letter.

The first comment I should make is that congratulations to you, Bob and Peter, are very much in order. Your success in getting (1) an abstention at the UNGA, (2) requests made to the G-5 governments to join us in seeking SAL postponement, and (3) Presidential approval of a free elections statement and then White House agreement to have Fitzwater issue it, all against considerable odds and conventional wisdom that it couldn't be done, reflects extraordinary effort and bureaucratic skill. I know pressure has been heavy on all of you the last weeks, and we'd like you to know it's warmly appreciated. Now then - what have you done for us lately?

November 20 Letter

-- SAL. I just want to note what you well know: that if we fail to achieve postponement, it will be important to ask those who oppose us to at least abstain - so as to keep the percentage of abstentions at least as high, if not higher, than last year. Anything less will be trumpeted by Pinochet as a victory.

-- UNGA. Did Chile withdraw its resolution on Mexico before or after the procedural vote on whether it should be discussed? If after, how did we vote procedurally - for consideration, as USUN recommended? Any idea why Walters agreed to abstain on the Mexican resolution on Chile, after taking the position he did in his letter to Carlucci and his Third Committee statement? Did he give any explanation to Abrams? Could Powell have talked to him, do you suppose?

-- Reagan/Pinochet Letter. In the midst of all your triumphs, please continue to press the NSC to get this out. I'm concerned that if it slips into the Christmas period, it will never be sent.

-- CIVITAS Grant. We know Norma Parker went to the Hill, but has the formal letter of notification actually been sent? If so, what was the date and when do the 15 days expire? Harry remains willing to call Obey, as Norma asked, but he is waiting first to hear Ted Weihe's report on his conversation with Mike Merrick, to see if Mike thinks Harry's call is needed. As for the need to lay off Norma for a while on new projects, we got your message.

-- Frei the Candidate. Frei Jr. continues to out-run everybody else in trial heats in the opinion polls, despite the fact that he is rarely photographed or quoted in the press (not censorship, he just is not politically active). Most of the opposition agrees in theory that nominating a candidate is a good idea, once agreement has been reached on a common platform. As you know, the Abeliuk-Cerda draft platform has been submitted to all the center-left parties for comment. It has not been made public, and the drafters say the intention is never to make it public in its entirety, only a summary once it has been blessed by the parties. That, of course, is ridiculous, given the Chilean fondness for leaking - the economic portion was printed in Friday's La Segunda (enclosed, page 10. See also the cartoon on page 9). Even if talks on the platform bog down, as well they may, we expect the PDC at least to return to the candidate idea. Aylwin at one point said they would not propose a candidate who is a member of any party (as Frei definitely is), and others have said it should be someone to the right of the PDC (and of Frei), in order to maximize attractiveness to the military. Nevertheless, Frei's name, reputation and lack of enemies may still prove irresistible.

-- Rural Wages and Working Conditions. Chris Lynch promises some data in either a telegram or the next letter. Your question is an important one, and it's an example of just the kind of feedback/ guidance we appreciate having.

November 6 Letter:

-- Letelier. The two most urgent next steps are (1) the follow-up note on the military prosecutor, for which we are still awaiting Department approval, and (2) delivery of the letters rogatory to Orozco - by DiGenova if he can come in December or January, but by someone else if he can't. We like the idea of USG espousal of the family's claim, but obviously the timing must be carefully considered in relation to SAL, GSP, the letters rogatory, etc. In any event, consideration of that step should not delay action on (1) and (2).

-- CODEL Edwards. Did Gelbard meet with him and what did he learn?

-- Videotapes and Handbills. We sent Peter a videotape of one set of Pinochet campaign commercials. There've been several others, notably one obstensibly celebrating the International Housing Year, which we'll also try to get on tape for you. I've asked all of the staff to keep an eye out for handbills and campaign literature that we can pouch up.

Gonzalez Vergara. Every so often we find ourselves unconsciously adopting the terminology that Pinochet and his minions have purposefully created to paper over reality. One example is referring to the "judge" who decided not to reopen the passport case. The gentleman in question is Brig. Gen. Jaime Gonzalez Vergara, he is the commander of the Army's Second Division, and he ranks 15th in precedence among army generals (see enclosed list). Speaking of the court case, Fabiola told me on November 17, that the appeal to the Military Appeals Court has been put in 27th place on their agenda - so it will be quite some time before the appeal is considered, let alone decided. I happened to be speaking to her on that date because the night before her office was broken into, despite the presence of a night watchman in the building. They do not appear to have taken anything, including radios, typewriters, and other items of value, but they threw files all over the floor and made a considerable mess. The police say they found no fingerprints.

Military Visits. I understand you're working on a telegram giving us guidance on a whole series of military visits and exercises planned for the first half of 1988. We welcome that, but if that takes too long to clear, please give us something on FIDA just by itself, so we can proceed with planning.

Questions We've Posed to You:

-- Ambassador's Visit to Olivares. Dr. Olivares, the Vicariate physician whom we regard as a classic political prisoner - imprisoned for political reasons having nothing to do with what he has or has not done - will complete a year in prison on December 17, without trial. The Vic is deeply concerned that the Government is not, in this case, as in so many others, detaining for a few weeks or months and then letting the prisoner go (Bustos, e.g.), but seems bent on holding him permanently hostage in order to keep the Vic in line. They have urged the Ambassador himself to visit him in jail, and Fresno, who had earlier in the year opposed the idea, now says he thinks it would help. At the "Letter of Santiago" mass in the Cathedral on November 25, celebrating the Church's dedication to human rights, Olivares was the only specific case mentioned in Fresno's homily. Harry liked your idea of his going with other ambassadors; the Dutch and the Uruguayan we know have made prison visits, so there's two we could ask. Let us know what Abrams says.

-- Stationing an AID Rep in Santiago. Peter was to ask Tropp for a reaction to our cable on this subject, and his thoughts on what steps we should take to get a decision.

-- Republican Polling Firm. We asked whether Lagomarsino or Sensenbrenner ever followed up with the NRI on Sensenbrenner's idea of getting a polling firm with Republican connections to consider doing some polling here. If you think it necessary or helpful, pleas

CORTE DE APELACIONES 30.11.87 CONFORME COPIA

LUIS BORK VEGA y RAMON CASTILLO GONZALEZ, Presidente y Secretario General de la Comisión Chilena de Derechos Humanos de Valparaíso respectivamente, ambos abogados y domiciliados en calle Blanco 604, Valparaíso, a SS.I., respetuosamente, decimos:

Que venimos en interponer recurso de protección en favor de SERGIO DEL SOLAR DU[illegible], técnico en computación civil, domiciliado en calle Madrid Nº 271, Población Centro, cédula de identidad 5.485.235-5, por las razones de hecho y de derecho que pasamos a exponer.

LOS HECHOS:

El día domingo 29 de noviembre de 1987, alrededor de las 19.00 hrs. aproximadamente, llegaron al domicilio de Sergio del Solar un grupo de cuatro (4) individuos que presentaban similares características físicas: altos, robustos, morenos, bien vestidos, usando lentes oscuros y grandes bigotes, al parecer postizos, quienes ingresaron a la casa identificándose (con toda clase de improperios) como funcionarios de la Central Nacional de Informaciones (C.N.I).

En esos momentos sólo se encontraba en la casa de Sergio del Solar su señora esposa, doña Julia Elena Bustos Billiá, a quien, una vez en el interior, los individuos hicieron saber que eran miembros del [illegible], o sea, Acción Chilena Anticomunista, y preguntaron "por el de barba", refiriéndose a Sergio del Solar, al mismo tiempo que comenzaban a inspeccionar la casa, introduciéndose en las habitaciones y pateando insistentemente el suelo, como buscando algún puerto o último inadvertido, todo lo anterior, sólo se debe a la prepotencia con que actuaron, pues que en tal calidad, en numerosas oportunidades ha manifestado y ha denunciado públicamente hechos y situaciones que atentan contra los derechos fundamentales de la persona humana, lo que le ha valido ser considerado por el ACHA como uno de sus blancos en esta oportunidad.

Por otra parte, preocupa que este tipo de organizaciones disponga de una información tan detallada y acuciosa de las actividades de Sergio del Solar, al punto de poder exhibir a su cónyuge un set amplísimo de fotos del amparado en las situaciones más diversas (familiares, profesionales, etc.) incluso, fotos tomadas sólo con días de anticipación a los acontecimientos a que nos referimos.

EL DERECHO:

Los hechos relatados en el presente recurso configuran graves y evidentes violaciones a las siguientes garantías individuales consagradas en las pertinentes disposiciones de nuestra Constitución Política del Estado:

a) Artículo 19 Nº 1, que asegura a todas las personas el derecho a la vida y a la integridad física y psíquica, y parece indudable que la amenaza que estos individuos hicieron a la persona de Sergio del Solar constituye una clara violación de su derecho a la vida y a su integridad física y también psíquica, por el tremendo peso psicológico que significa a cualquier persona vivir con una amenaza de muerte tan grave y proveniente de un grupo organizado y que se especializa en este tipo de acciones como es el ACHA.

b) Artículo 19 Nº 2, que asegura a todas las personas la igualdad ante la ley, y que establece que en Chile no hay personas ni grupos privilegiados, y parece indudable que ni el ACHA ni las personas que lo integran tienen el privilegio de andar sembrando el terror en las personas ni el privilegio de ingresar a hogares sin ser invitados y sin orden alguna, ni el privilegio de decidir quien deba morir y por qué motivos, y parece ser que es ese, precisamente el privilegio de que creen gozar el ACHA gra.. dichos grupos y sobre quienes lo: dirigen.

d) Informen a S .I. sobre cualquier otros antecedente que obre en su poder y sirva para individualizar a tale. grupos y las personas que los conforman.

SEGUNDO OTROSI: Sírvase S.I. tener presente que en nuestras calidades de Abogados habilitados, patrocinamos este recurso, siendo nuestro domicilio el de Blanco 694, Valparaíso, pudiendo actuar conjunta, separada o alternativamente en estos autos.

1. (C) SUMMARY: IN A SIX-PAGE INTERVIEW APPEARING IN THE NOVEMBER 19 ISSUE OF THE CONSERVATIVE MAGAZINE "QUE PASA", PRESIDENT PINOCHET EXPRESSED STRONGLY WORDED VIEWS ON THE PLEBISCITE, FOREIGN ELECTION OBSERVERS, INTERNATIONAL PRESSURES, AND THE OPPOSITION. HE REACTED INDIGNANTLY AGAINST THE POSSIBILITY THAT A "NO" VOTE COULD WIN THE PLEBISCITE, SAYING IT WOULD BE AS IF A MAN WERE KICKED OUT OF HIS HOUSE BY HIS OWN FAMILY, BRINGING "UNPREDICTABLE" CONSEQUENCES. HE STATED THAT FOREIGN ELECTION OBSERVERS, MOST OF WHOM WOULD COME JUST TO HEAR THE OPPOSITION'S "PREFABRICATED" STORIES, WOULD NOT BE WELCOMED OFFICIALLY. YET HE CHAFED AT THE OPPOSITION CHARGES THAT HIS WAS A TYRANNICAL REGIME. PINOCHET'S COMBATIVE VIEWS WERE MODERATED ONLY BY THE ADMISSION THAT THE GOC HAD A LOT OF WORK AHEAD TO CONQUER THE UNDECIDED

PROCEED CALMLY AND DELIBERATELY IN ORDER TO AVOID UNNECESSARY WEAR AND TEAR. HE SHOWED THE "QUE PASA" JOURNALISTS CHARTS GRAPHING HIS RISING SUPPORT IN THE POLLS. YET HE ADMITTED THAT THE UNDECIDED VOTERS WERE NUMEROUS. ONLY A DETERMINED STANCE ON HIS PART COULD SHAKE THEM OUT OF THEIR PASSIVITY. AT ONE POINT IN THE INTERVIEW HE SUGGESTED THAT THE PLEBISCITE MIGHT BE CALLED "SUDDENLY" FOR SEPTEMBER, WHILE IN ANOTHER HE MISCHIEVOUSLY SAID IT COULD BE FOURTEEN MONTHS OFF (IN JANUARY, 1989).

3. (U) AS FOR THE POSSIBILITY OF CONSTITUTIONAL REFORM TO ALLOW FOR OPEN PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS, THE PRESIDENT RETORTED THAT THOSE WHO HAD PROPOSED SUCH CHANGES SINCE 1982 WERE NOW "SHIPWRECKED." HE SCOFFED AT THE IDEA THAT THE PRE-ELECTIONS CLIMATE SHOULD BE LIBERALIZED, SAYING THAT MANY POLITICAL LEADERS WERE ALREADY SPEAKING THEIR MIND IN TV FORUMS, AND THAT WHEN PARTIES BECAME LEGALIZED THEY WOULD HAVE ACCESS TO TV.

4. (U) THE PRESIDENT TURNED GRIM WHEN ASKED IF HE HAD CONSIDERED THE POSSIBILITY THAT A "NO" VOTE COULD WIN THE PLEBISCITE, RESPONDING THAT IT WOULD BE AS IF A MAN WERE REJECTED BY HIS FRIENDS, WIFE AND CHILDREN, LEAVING HIM NO OPTION BUT TO "PACK HIS BAGS AND LEAVE." IN HIS EYES THE PLEBISCITE WAS A SIMPLE CHOICE BETWEEN ORDER AND DISORDER, AND A FAILURE WOULD BRING CONFIDENTIAL

"UNPREDICTABLE" CONSEQUENCES. LIKEWISE HE NEGATED THE POSSIBILITY THAT PARLIAMENTARY ELECTIONS A YEAR LATER COULD RESULT IN AN UNFRIENDLY CONGRESS. WHOEVER TRIUMPHS IN THE PLEBISCITE, HE SAID, "COMMITS THE COUNTRY TO HAVE A CONGRESS WHICH SERVES CHILE."

---

5. U) ASKED IF HE WOULD ACCEPT FOREIGN ELECTION OBSERVERS, PINOCHET SAID IT WOULD BE LIKE HAVING OFFICIALS COME TO YOUR HOUSE TO SEE WHAT YOU DO, AS THOUGH YOU WERE A "NO-GOOD THIEF" (SEE SEPTEL). THE OBSERVERS WOULD NOT BE GIVEN OFFICIAL STATUS. MOST WOULD BE SHOWN ONLY THE "PREFABRICATED" REPORTS CONCOCTED BY THE OPPOSITION. HOWEVER HE INSISTED THAT THE PLEBISCITE WOULD HAVE TO BE RECOGNIZED AS A VALID ELECTORAL INSTRUMENT, SINCE EVEN "MUBARAK'S AND MRS. AQUINO'S (ELECTION) WERE ACCEPTED AS LEGITIMATE, AND SHE DID NOT EVEN HAVE ELECTORAL REGISTRIES."

6. (U) PINOCHET RIDICULED THE OPPOSITION FOR BEING SO FIXED ON THE PAST THAT THEY ARE UNABLE TO CAPTURE WHAT THE COUNTRY NEEDS AND WANTS. HE NOTED THAT THE KEY OPPOSITION PARTY (E.G., THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATS) TRIED TO IMPOSE ITS CANDIDATES ON THE OTHERS, WITHOUT SUCCESS. NOW RICARDO LAGOS IS OFFERING A PARTY FOR DEMOCRACY, WHICH COULD BE THE "SAME AS IN NICARAGUA, WELL PRESENTED, WITH A PRETTY RIBBON, JUST LIKE THE COMMUNISTS GIVE THEIR GULLIBLE FRIENDS."

9. (C) COMMENT: THIS IS PINOCHET IN HIS CLASSICALLY DEFENSIVE POSTURE: COMBATIVE, INFALLIBLE, VOCIFEROUSLY NEGATIVE TOWARD EVERYTHING BUT HIS OWN ACCOMPLISHMENTS IN OFFICE. HIS COMMENTS ON FOREIGN OBSERVERS SHOW THAT HE ONLY RELUCTANTLY WILL ALLOW THEM IN, AS IF HE HAD SOMETHING TO HIDE, AND HE HAS DISMISSED THEIR FINDINGS OUT OF HAND, SINCE THEY WILL BE INFLUENCED BY THE OPPOSITION. DESPITE HIS TRIUMPHANT ATTITUDE, HE GRUDGINGLY ACKNOWLEDGES THAT THE GOVERNMENT HAS FAR TO GO TO WOO THE UNDECIDED VOTERS. THE IDEA OF A "NO" VOTE WINNING THE PLEBISCITE EVIDENTLY CAUSES HIM GRAVE CONCERN. BY HIS REFUSAL TO ADMIT THE POSSIBILITY OF LOSING EITHER THE PLEBISCITE OR THE PARLIAMENTARY ELECTIONS, HE FUELS FURTHER SPECULATION THAT HE WILL RIG THE RESULTS BY ONE MEANS OR ANOTHER.
END COMMENT.

SUBJECT: MEXICAN RESOLUTION ON HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE -- DEMARCHE BY CHILEAN AMBASSADOR IN WASHINGTON ON 11/25/87

1. ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ ENTIRE TEXT

2. SUMMARY. CHILEAN AMBASSADOR ERRAZURIZ ASKED TO MEET WITH ARA ASSISTANT SECRETARY ABRAMS ON THE AFTERNOON OF NOVEMBER 25. SINCE THE AMBASSADOR HAD JUST RETURNED THAT MORNING FROM A QUICK TRIP TO CHILE, IT WAS ANTICIPATED THAT ERRAZURIZ WOULD SEEK TO PASS ALONG HIGH LEVEL GOC VIEWS ON THE SAME WIDE RANGE OF ISSUES HE HAD JUST LISTED IN A LITANY OF COMPLAINTS TO AMBASSADOR BARNES (SANTIAGO 9170). INSTEAD, HE ONLY ADDRESSED THE MEXICAN AND CHILEAN HUMAN RIGHTS RESOLUTIONS AT THE UNGA. HIS MAIN PURPOSE WAS TO STRESS HOW NEGATIVE THE IMPACT WOULD BE IN CHILE IF THE USG SUPPORTED THE "UNBALANCED" MEXICAN-SPONSORED RESOLUTION. ASSISTANT SECRETARY ABRAMS SAID OUR FINAL POSITION WOULD DEPEND ON THE TEXT, BUT HE SAID WE WOULD

PROBABLY NOT VOTE FOR THE MEXICAN RESOLUTION AND SUGGESTED THAT AN ABSTENTION WAS A POSSIBILITY AND HE ADDED THAT OUR VOTE WOULD BE ACCOMPANIED BY AN EXPLANATORY STATEMENT. RESPONDING TO A SUBSEQUENT TELEPHONE CALL FROM THE AMBASSADOR ON FRIDAY NOVEMBER 27 (SEE PARA 6), ABRAMS CONFIRMED THAT THE US INTENDED TO ABSTAIN. END SUMMARY

THE CHILE RESOLUTION ON MEXICO

3. ERRAZURIZ LAMENTED, GOOD NATUREDLY, THAT WHILE MANY DELEGATIONS IN NEW YORK PRIVATELY PRAISED THE SUBSTANCE OF CHILE'S RESOLUTION ON HUMAN RIGHTS DEFICIENCIES IN MEXICO, NOT ONE SINGLE DELEGATION SAID IT WOULD VOTE FOR OR OTHERWISE SUPPORT THE CHILEAN SPONSORED RESOLUTION. ALL DELEGATIONS STRESSED THAT THEY NEEDED TO GET ALONG WITH MEXICO INTERNATIONALLY. ERRAZURIZ SUGGESTED WE READ CAREFULLY THE SPEECH MADE BY THE CHILEAN UN PERMREP CONCERNING THE COMPLICATED SITUATION IN MEXICO -- REMARKS HE SAID HAD BEEN SERIOUSLY PREPARED BY THE GOC. IN THE SPEECH ERRAZURIZ SAID CHILE DESCRIBED CRITICALLY MEXICO'S "ARROGANT" BEHAVIOR INTERNATIONALLY AS WELL AS THE STRUCTURE OF ITS DOMESTIC SYSTEM. ERRAZURIZ ALSO SAID WE SHOULD BE AWARE OF THE TOUGH BUT SERIOUS DISCUSSION WHICH TOOK PLACE PRIVATELY WITH THE MEXICAN PERMREP WHO HAD BEEN RATHER "DEMAGOGIC."

THE MEXICAN RESOLUTION ON CHILE

4. ERRAZURIZ THEN STRESSED THAT THE GOC'S MAIN CONCERN INVOLVED HOW THE USG WOULD VOTE ON THE MEXICAN-SPONSORED TEXT. HE DESCRIBED THE STEPS TAKEN BY THE GOC DURING THE CONFIDENTIAL

PAST YEAR ON HUMAN RIGHTS WHICH THE MEXICAN-SPONSORED RESOLUTION HAD EITHER IGNORED OR DISTORTED. WHEN ABRAMS ASKED ABOUT THE LATEST AMENDMENTS PUT FORWARD BY THE MEXICANS, ERRAZURIZ SAID THEY ONLY MADE THE RESOLUTION EQUAL TO INSTEAD OF WORSE THAN LAST YEAR'S. HE URGED THE US TO BE CONSISTENT AND VOTE AGAINST THE RESOLUTION AGAIN THIS TIME, THOUGH HE STRESSED, EVEN MORE, HOW DAMAGING A POSITIVE VOTE WOULD BE TAKEN BY THE GOC AND BY OTHERS IN CHILE.

5. INDEED, HE WENT SO FAR AS TO EXPLAIN HOW CHILE'S TRANSITIONAL BUT STILL "NON-DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT" DID NOT HAVE THE BUFFERS IN PLACE THAT LET DEMOCRACIES REACT SLOWLY AND, AT TIMES, MORE CAUTIOUSLY TO PROVOCATIONS. HE INDIRECTLY THREATENED THAT HIS GOVERNMENT MIGHT OVERREACT TO THIS YEAR'S UNGA DEBATE BY CANCELLING ITS PERMISSION FOR UN SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR VOLIO TO VISIT CHILE IN DECEMBER. ABRAMS EXPLAINED THAT OUR VOTE DEPENDED ON THE FINAL TEXT AND THAT IF IT DIDN'T CHANGE SUBSTANTIALLY WE PROBABLY WOULD NOT VOTE FOR IT. ABRAMS EXPLAINED THAT ONE POSSIBILITY WOULD BE AN ABSTENTION BY THE USG COUPLED WITH AN EXPLANATION OF OUR VOTE.

ADDENDUM -- ERRAZURIZ TELEPHONES ON 11/27

6. ERRAZURIZ CALLED TO SAY "HE WAS HEARING" THAT THE USG WAS GOING TO ABSTAIN AT THE UNGA WHICH WOULD BE "BAD NEWS" IN CHILE. ABRA'S CONFIRMED THAT THE US WOULD ABSTAIN WITH AN EXPLANATION OF THE VOTE. HE REVIEWED THE LOGIC OF THE US POSITION AS FOLLOWS: CONINUING US CONCERNS ABOUT THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN CHILE MAKE IT IMPOSSIBLE TO VOTE "NO;" BUT WE WILL NOT VOTE "YES" BECAUSE OF ELEMENTS OF UNFAIRNESS IN THE MEXICAN-SPONSORED RESOLUTION. THEREFORE, AN ABSTENTION WITH AN EXPLANATION IS THE MOST APPROPRIATE ACTION. ERRAZURIZ REGRETTED THAT SUCH A STEP CONFIDENTIAL

AT THE UNGA WOULD REPRESENT "AN ESCALATION IN THE U.S. CONFLICT WITH CHILE" AND COMPLAINED THAT WE HAD NOT CONSULTED WITH THE GOC ABOUT THIS CHANGE IN OUR VOTE FROM LAST YEAR.

MEMORANDUM OF CONVERSATION

December 1, 1987

TO: Ambassador Walters

FROM: Ambassador Piedra

SUBJECT: Conversation with [redacted] on Mexico's Resolution on Human Rights in Chile

cc: Ambassador Okun, Ambassador Korn, CDR L. Martiny R. Immerman, C. Bunton, J. Kriendler, Albert Nahas

On Friday evening I was approached by the head of the [redacted] delegation to the UN, [redacted] who in a very informal way let me know that he was very much concerned about the Mexican resolution on human rights in Chile. According to him, the resolution was unbalanced and distorted. The resolution [redacted] said, did not take into account the improvements that had taken place in Chile since last year. Furthermore, he commented it is ironical that Cuba and other countries well known for their human rights violations should cosponsor a resolution on human rights in Chile or for that purpose on any other country. And what is even worse, he added, is that the resolution is backed by so many democratic countries who apparently see the abuses that have taken place in Chile, but choose to ignore the human rights abuses of other countries.

[redacted] was so concerned about what he called "the injustice of the resolution" that he called [redacted] to report what was going on and ask for further instructions as to how to vote in the General Assembly. Even though he was not able to talk to [redacted] he did speak to Foreign Minister [redacted] who suggested the possibility [redacted] might change its vote at the General Assembly.

Death Threats

Chile: television and theater actors, writers and directors

Nissim Sharim	Peggy Cordero
Julio Jung	Gabriela Medina
Coca Rudolfi	Carlos Valenzuela

Amnesty International has received reports that some of the 78 actors who received death threats during November, have been sent further warnings.

Nissim Sharim, Julio Jung, Coca Rudolfi, and Peggy Cordero have all received telephone threats. Nissim Sharim said he was told that he and others would have their throats cut, Julio Jung was told that they were going to kill him, while the two women were warned that they were going to suffer an accident. Another actress, Gabriela Medina, had a red cross sprayed on her house.

Carlos Valenzuela, an actor who was not on the original death list has also been intimidated. On 5 December, he was the winner of a dancing contest. In the speech he gave following the competition, he made a dedication to all the actors who had been receiving death threats. This speech was broadcast live on television throughout Chile.

As he was returning home, he realized that he was being followed by four cars, so he decided to go to a friend's house. When he reached the block of flats where his friend lives, he saw two men get out of each car. Fearing an abduction, he rang the doorbell of a flat and was given refuge. A recurso de proteccion (a request to the courts for protection) has been submitted to the Corte de Apelaciones (Santiago Appeals Court).

TO: The Ambassador

THRU: DCM - Mr. Jones

FROM: Labor Attache - Don Knight

SUBJECT: Call on Olivares

I ran into Mons. Valech this afternoon in the Vic, when I delivered to Enrique Palet the attached suggested list of Congressmen and Senators which Valech might wish to see in Washington. Valech told me the Supreme Court will take up the Olivares case on December 7. He added that perhaps it would be best to hold off on any further attempts to see Olivares until after the court has had the opportunity to consider the case. Further attempts to visit might be taken by the members of the court as "pressure" on them to decide favorably for Olivares. Valech stated he had issued a statement today on this matter, and expects it to be in the papers on December 2. His statement repeats what Cardinal Fresno said about the Olivares matter at the November 25 ceremony.

Valech asked that I pass this on to you, since he knows you are interested in perhaps visiting Olivares. He asked that you wait a few days longer to see what the court does on December 7.

On the list of people he might see in Washington, he asked the name of the Senator you mentioned who has a son-in-law teaching here in Santiago. I told him I could not remember exactly, but that it might be Patrick Leahy. I told him I would check with you and get back to him on Thursday. MEMORANDUM December 2, 1987

FROM: Ambassador Piedra

SUBJECT: Conversation with the Permanent Representative of Chile, Pedro Daza

cc: Ambassador Okun, Ambassador Korn,
POL: R. Immerman, J. Kriendler, C. Bunton,
ECO: A. Nahas, IO/UNP, ARA/SC

During our December 2 lunch, Ambassador Daza (Chile) and I had a frank discussion on the political and economic situation in Chile and U.S.-Chilean relations. Daza initiated the conversation by expressing his disappointment about the U.S. vote on the Mexican resolution on human rights in Chile. He said that he and the Chilean Government could not understand why the U.S. Government did not vote against the Mexican resolution on the basis of Chile's record which he expressed as follows:

1. "Chile has maintained a foreign policy which in many ways coincides with that of the United States. Chile has never taken a position hostile to the United States or against our interests as some of the other Latin American countries have done in the past and are still doing at present.

2. "Chile's economic policy has been a success, and it follows principles which are very much backed and fostered by the Reagan Administration. In comparison to the other Latin American countries that are experiencing serious economic and social problems, Chile has made tremendous progress which is hardly ever recognized in certain international fora. Sound Chilean economic policies have had dividends that favored all sectors of Chilean society. The statistics are there to prove it.

3. "The human rights situation has improved significantly in Chile in spite of the barrage of propaganda which tries to prove the contrary. Velic's report on Chile points out these improvements but nothing was mentioned in the Mexican resolution. On the contrary, the resolution was even worse than the one presented last year. Chile treated the Special Rapporteur with all due respect and gave him all sorts of facilities. This was not recognized by those who only see the dark side of Chile's story.

4. "Chile is definitely moving toward a democratic system. There are going to be free elections and they are not going to be 'the Mexican way.' The elections in Chile are going to be honest and open but, what happens if Pinochet runs and wins the election? Will the international community accept the verdict of the Chilean people or will it insist on fraud?

5. "Chile has made mistakes in the past. The Chilean Government is willing to admit it, but it must be remembered that mistakes have been made by others also. The Chilean Government is trying to rectify these errors but the international community does not seem to be willing to listen to Chile's pleas for understanding and patience. After all, human rights violations in other countries are well-known, yet they don't have special rapporteurs or receive the international criticism to which Chile has been subjected. How can it be possible that countries, such as Cuba, that have a long record of human rights violations, co-sponsor a resolution on human rights violations in another country? This seems a travesty and an irony of history."

In general, Daza was very pessimistic about the future of Latin America. Latin American democracies were having tremendous economic difficulties in spite of the huge amounts of aid they have received. "How have they used the funds?", Daza asked rhetorically. "Where has the money gone"? Most of the Latin American countries have made very little progress in the social area, as available data tends to indicate. This trend does not speak well of many of the Latin American democracies where inflation, unemployment, and social problems are still rampant.

Chile, on the contrary, has accomplished -- he reiterated -- significant social improvements, and the economy is growing consistently. Chile's international debt has diminished substantially while that of some of the other major Latin American countries is mounting rapidly. This proves that the economic policies of the Chilean Government are working and that money is being saved and invested in a productive way.

Daza was very complimentary of the United States. He said the U.S. is a wonderful country much to be admired and imitated. But at the same time, he said that we had to be careful because we are losing ground in Latin America. Daza expressed his concern about the possible negative reaction of the Chilean people, resulting from what he considers our erroneous policy vis-a-vis his country. He stressed that we should not be misled about press reports that the majority of the Chileans are against Pinochet. It is very possible, he said, that the elections in Chile will prove the contrary. The Chilean people recognize what Pinochet's government has done in the social and economic areas and are grateful for many of the improvements that have taken place. The armed forces, a power to be reckoned with (and friendly to the U.S.), are very disappointed with the U.S. Many of the junior officers who are not familiar with our customs and traditions may take a totally different attitude toward our country in the years to come and this, he said, can be dangerous for the future of U.S.-Chilean relations.

Do not forget, Daza said, that the Latin American democracies often take attitudes unfriendly towards the United States. For example, he said, "just analyze the voting in the United Nations." Then, he added, if Gabriel Valdés were in power in Chile today, he would most probably have joined forces with many of the other Latin American countries and supported resolutions not favored by the United States. Furthermore, if he would have been in Mexico at the meeting of the Group of 8 Presidents -- adding Chile to the list of 8 -- he would probably have supported the reincorporation of Cuba into the Organization of American States, in spite of U.S. opposition.

Finally, Daza brought out the case of Haiti. Haiti, he said, is the best example of how counterproductive it is to force free elections and a democratic system on a country that is not prepared for it. According to Daza, for democracy to be successful you must prepare the ground for it. Otherwise, disappointment and frustration will follow.

Comments:

Daza was definitely disappointed about the U.S. vote on the Mexican resolution at the UN. He did not show any resentment or antipathy toward the U.S. On the contrary, he expressed more than once his admiration for our country and for everything for which it stands. Nevertheless, he indicated his concern for Latin America as a whole and for the newly established Latin American democracies in particular. Many of them, he said, were following economic policies that in the long run could turn out to be disastrous and endanger the very foundations of political freedom.

Daza never denied the mistakes made by Chile but he did insist on the need for a greater degree of understanding on the part of the United States and other well-established democracies. The same understanding they sometimes show for regimes that are not only gross violators of human rights, but are also violently anti-U.S.

Dear Mr. Secretary,

I write to ask for your help.

In this week of focus on human rights in the Soviet Union, we need your intervention to stop persecution and death threats in another part of the world.

Here in our own hemisphere, the Chilean Government stands aloof from escalating violence as the scheduled presidential plebiscite approaches. As you may have noted in the enclosed New York Times report, 77 of Chile's most eminent actors, directors and playwrights remain in their own country despite death squad threats.

I welcome the recent official criticisms of General Augusto Pinochet's regime. However, I believe we can and must do more. I urge you to press for guarantees of safety for the 77 artists, and demand an accounting of Chilean Government action to stop death squad activities.

I further urge you to exercise the leverage provided by the Congress in Section 701 of the International Financial Institutions Act, through bans on the Generalized System of Preferences, and with pressure through the Overseas Private Investment Corporation to temper General Pinochet's rule during the transition to democracy. When threats to peaceful Chileans are answered with threats to U.S./Chilean ties, Augusto Pinochet will lose the support of his own government.

Surely, Mr. Secretary, at the least, we can hold a regime receiving American assistance to this rudimentary standard of civilized conduct: That the government protect the people from "vigilante" ultimatums.

2. SUMMARY: THE VICE-PRESIDENT OF CHILE'S HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION MAXIMO PACHECO CALLED UPON ACTING U.S. PERMANENT REPRESENTATIVE OKUN ON NOVEMBER 30. HIS VISIT CAME IN THE WAKE OF U.S. MOVE FROM A 'NO' VOTE TO AN ABSTENTION ON THE ANNUAL GA RESOLUTION ON THE STATE OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE. PACHECO WAS CLEARLY PLEASED BY U.S. ABSTENTION AND URGED THAT WE MOVE TO A 'YES' VOTE SOON. PACHECO SAID U.S. MOVE FROM A NEGATIVE VOTE WOULD HAVE A POSITIVE IMPACT UPON THE CHILEAN POLITICAL PROCESS. HE EXPRESSED STRONG DOUBTS

ABOUT PINOCHET'S COMMITMENT TO RETURN CHILE TO DEMOCRACY AND THOUGHT THAT THE PLEBISCITE WOULD HAVE VERY SERIOUS NEGATIVE CONSEQUENCES FOR CHILE REGARDLESS OF THE RESULTS OF THE VOTING. END SUMMARY.

3. FORMER FREI MINISTER OF EDUCATION AND CURRENT VICE PRESIDENT OF CHILE'S HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION MR. MAXIMO PACHECO MET AT HIS REQUEST WITH ACTING PERMANENT REPRESENTATIVE AMBASSADOR OKUN ON NOVEMBER 30. THE MEETING WAS IN SPANISH. MISOFFS BUNTON AND AMSELEM ALSO PARTICIPATED.

4. U.S. ABSTENTION ON CHILE RESOLUTION: IN RESPONSE TO AMBASSADOR OKUN'S QUESTION, PACHECO SAID THAT THE U.S. MOVE TO AN ABSTENTION ON THE ANNUAL GA RESOLUTION ON THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE WOULD HELP IMPROVE THE U.S. IMAGE AMONG CHILEANS, PARTICULARLY YOUNGER ONES, AND WOULD HAVE A POSITIVE IMPACT ON CHILE'S POLITICAL PROCESS. PACHECO SAID HE HAD LONG FELT IT WAS BAD FOR THE UNITED STATES TO BE IN COMPANY OF PARAGUAY, INDONESIA, THAILAND, AND LEBANON IN VOTING 'NO' ON THE CHILE RESOLUTION. U.S. 'NO' VOTES, HE CLAIMED, UNDERMINED AMBASSADOR BARNES'S WORK IN FAVOR OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE; AN ABSTENTION WAS A STEP IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION AND ONE WHICH HE AND OTHERS HOPED WOULD CULMINATE IN A 'YES' VOTE.

5. AMBASSADOR OKUN POINTED OUT THAT THE RESOLUTION ADOPTED ON NOVEMBER 27 IN THE GA'S THIRD COMMITTEE (SOCIAL AND HUMANITARIAN AFFAIRS),

ALTHOUGH AN IMPROVEMENT OVER THOSE ADOPTED PREVIOUSLY, REMAINED UNBALANCED. THE RESOLUTION MADE NO MENTION OF THE SIGNIFICANT DECLINE IN THE NUMBER OF POLITICAL EXILES NOR DID IT ADMIT THAT THE GOC WAS NOT THE ONLY SOURCE OF POLITICAL VIOLENCE IN CHILE. UNTIL THOSE AND OTHER DEFICIENCIES WERE CORRECTED IT WAS HIGHLY UNLIKELY THAT THE U.S. COULD CHANGE ITS ABSTENTION TO A POSITIVE VOTE.

6. AMBASSADOR OKUN ASKED WHAT, IF ANY, IMPACT THE U.S. MOVE TO AN ABSTENTION WOULD HAVE ON THE GOC. PACHECO ANSWERED THAT PRESIDENT PINOCHET SEEMED TO HAVE COME TO BELIEVE THAT THE U.S. WOULD NEVER CHANGE ITS NEGATIVE VOTE IN THE GA AND THAT THE U.S. WOULD SUPPORT HIM UNTIL HE DIED. HE ALSO SAID THAT EVEN SENIOR PERSONS WITHIN THE JUNTA HAD BEEN PUZZLED BY THE U.S. VOTE AND HAD FELT THAT THE U.S. WAS IDENTIFYING ITSELF TOO CLOSELY WITH

PINOCHET.

7. POLITICAL PROCESS: AMBASSADOR OKUN ASKED ABOUT THE CURRENT POLITICAL SITUATION IN CHILE AND EXPRESSED U.S. SUPPORT FOR A PROCESS THAT WOULD LEAD TO A PEACEFUL RETURN TO CHILE'S DEMOCRATIC TRADITIONS. ACCORDING TO PACHECO, A GREAT ERROR OF THE VOLIO REPORT WAS ITS VIEW THAT THE SCHEDULED PLEBISCITE AND THE VOTER REGISTRATION DRIVE LEADING UP TO IT WERE STEPS TOWARDS DEMOCRACY. PACHECO SAID THAT HE WAS MORE AND MORE CONVINCED THAT PINOCHET HAD NO INTEREST IN PROMOTING A PROCESS LEADING TO DEMOCRACY.

8. ACCORDING TO PACHECO, PINOCHET WAS A MESSIANIC ANTI-COMMUNIST, LOVED PERSONAL POLITICAL POWER, AND WAS HAUNTED BY FEAR OF WHAT COULD HAPPEN TO

HIM AND HIS FAMILY SHOULD THE JUNTA STEP DOWN. PINOCHET'S ANTI-COMMUNIST STANCE WAS IRONIC SINCE, ACCORDING TO PACHECO, PINOCHET WAS THE GREATEST RECRUITER OF COMMUNISTS IN CHILE. HE SHARED WITH THE COMMUNISTS A DISDAIN FOR DEMOCRACY; PINOCHET AND THE COMMUNISTS THRIVED ON POLITICAL CHAOS AND VIOLENCE. PINOCHET, BY ACCUSING HIS OPPONENTS, INCLUDING THE HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION, OF BEING COMMUNISTS ENHANCED THE STATURE OF THE COMMUNISTS AND MADE THEM APPEAR TO BE A MAJOR FORCE WORKING FOR A RETURN TO DEMOCRACY IN CHILE.

OF NEARLY 8 MILLION PERSONS, THE GOC HAD SO FAR REGISTERED AROUND 3.5 MILLION. PACHECO ADMITTED THAT TWO-THIRDS OF THOSE REGISTERED SO FAR WERE PROBABLY PINOCHET SUPPORTERS AND THAT IF A PLEBISCITE WERE HELD TODAY PINOCHET WOULD WIN LEGITIMATELY. AS REGISTRATION CONTINUED, HOWEVER, THE OPPOSITION WOULD GAIN THE EDGE. REGARDLESS OF HOW THE PLEBISCITE TURNED OUT, PACHECO SAID HE FEARED CHILE COULD BECOME UNGOVERNABLE. IF PINOCHET WON -- EITHER GENUINELY OR THROUGH FRAUD -- CHILEANS WOULD NOT BELIEVE THE VOTE COUNT HAD BEEN HONEST. IF PINOCHET LOST, HIS LEGITIMACY AS RULER WOULD COME UNDER SEVERE AND OPEN ASSAULT. PACHECO EXPECTED LARGE-SCALE CIVIL DISTURBANCES IN THE WAKE OF THE PLEBISCITE.

COPPER AND AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTION AND PRICES WERE UP AND THERE HAD BEEN A MODERNIZATION OF CERTAIN SECTORS OF THE ECONOMY. ON THE OTHER HAND, PACHECO SAID CHILE'S POOR HAD BECOME POORER AND UNEMPLOYMENT REMAINED HIGH. THE ECONOMY WAS BASED ON SOCIAL INJUSTICE. PACHECO SAID THAT DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN INVESTORS MADE A MISTAKE IN BELIEVING THAT CHILE'S CURRENT ECONOMIC SITUATION WAS SUSTAINABLE. HE SAID THAT POLITICAL SECURITY BROUGHT ABOUT LASTING ECONOMIC SECURITY -- NOT THE OTHER WAY AROUND. HE HOPED THAT U.S. INVESTORS WOULD DEVELOP A GREATER SENSITIVITY FOR CHILE'S POLITICAL SITUATION.

12. PACHECO'S PLANS: HE TOLD AMBASSADOR OKUN THAT HE HAD APPOINTMENTS IN WASHINGTON TO SEE A NUMBER OF OFFICIALS IN THE DEPARTMENT, THE NSC, AND THE WHITE HOUSE. HE HOPED TO RETURN TO NEW YORK AROUND DECEMBER 5 OR 6 AND, IF POSSIBLE, CALL UPON AMBASSADOR WALTERS. AMBASSADOR OKUN ASKED HIM TO REMAIN IN TOUCH WITH THE MISSION. WALTERS

U.S. Bishops Meet

Statement on Central America

"It is our impression that the crises that today afflict Central America, indeed Latin America in general, are inadequately grasped by policymakers and citizens alike" in the United States, said the U.S. bishops in a statement on Central America approved Nov. 19 during their meeting in Washington. Their statement urged that attention be given to all the nations of Central America, not focused only on some; it said the problems of all of Latin America must be considered; it called the policy of support for the contras "morally flawed"; it repeated the bishops' belief that conflicts in the region should be resolved through negotiation, not through arms; it said the region should not be allowed to serve as a battleground for the superpowers; and it pointed to divisions within the U.S. Catholic community that have arisen over Central America. The bishops urged "fellow Catholics, whatever their political views, to consider how they might best bring moral perspectives to bear on the human anguish of today's Central America." The bishops also urged the leaders of both major U.S. political parties "to use the period leading up to the 1988 elections to construct a national consensus around the real challenges facing us in the hemisphere, not allowing deeper polarizaton to develop over issues of less central importance." The text of the bishops' statement follows.

Introduction

We meet at a time of unprecedented hope for peace in Central America. We celebrate the wisdom and courage of those who made at least more probable what was deemed almost impossible brief months ago. Meeting in Guatemala on the feast of the Lord's transfiguration, El Salvador's patronal feast, the five presidents of Central America committed their governments to a process of peace and reconciliation for each of their countries and for the region. We pray they will succeed, with divine guidance, in bringing it to a successful end.

We are fully sensitive to the delicacy of these present weeks in which the schedule for compliance moves forward. We wish our words here to be seen both as a further expression of our strong support for the unfolding peace process as well as the expression of our continual effort to reflect critically on the moral issues at stake. We have addressed matters of our country's relations with Central America for over a decade. We have joined with our Central American brothers in the episcopate in urging the adoption of sincere dialogue and negotiation among contending parties. And with them we have insisted, as we continue to insist, that true peace can come about only when the fundamental causes of the conflicts, especially the historic denials of social justice, are sincerely faced.

Peace, as the cessation of hostilities, may truly be at hand, for which all must give fervent thanks. But genuine peace, a gift from God and the fruit of justice, will continue to elude us until men and women of good will, here and throughout the hemisphere, resolve to construct together the civilization of love to which we are called.

"Central America has lately become a focus of attention and concern for the entire world." So wrote the bishops of Central America and Panama three years ago in their major document on the regional crisis, "Our Salvation Is Christ." Central America has clearly been a focus of great attention and concern here in the United States, as we ourselves noted in our statement on Central America in 1981, and it is of very special concern for us in the church.

Over the years we have prayed and preached and worked in varied ways for peace and justice in that troubled region. We have expressed our solidarity with our brother bishops and their local churches whose pilgrimage is marked with great suffering. We have spoken out publicly, numerous times, seeking to direct the policies of our country into ever more constructive ways.

All of these and more — our prayer, our expressions of ecclesial solidarity, our efforts to influence public policy — are distinct and proper elements of our pastoral mission today. As the Holy Father noted last spring in Santiago:

"The church, as is clearly stated in the Second Vatican Council, 'is not identified with any political community nor bound by ties to any political system' (Gaudium et Spes,

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1983)

...t it is also true that, as an im...e of the mission it received from ...esus Christ, the church must cast the ...ght of the Gospel on all temporal situa...ons, including political activity, so that ...ociety will increasingly manifest those ...oral and ethical values that reveal the ...anscendental character of the person ...nd the need to protect his inalienable ...ights."

This year marks a decade of sustained attention by our episcopal conference to the issues of Central America. In this period we can note certain welcome developments in one or another country — advances in a democratic polity, election of civilian presidents, diminution of some of the most heinous human rights violations. Overall, however, the decade has witnessed a deterioration in the social, political and economic life of the region. It is this situation of crisis, and the role of our own government in affecting it, to which we direct our attention here.

It is our impression that the crises that today afflict Central America, indeed Latin America in general, are inadequately grasped by policymakers and citizens alike; that the policy focus has been distorted by an almost exclusive attention to one country; and that the broad public discussion that should inform our policy has become falsely constricted. It is in an effort to help stimulate fresh, and one hopes deeper, thinking about our government's policy toward the region that these reflections are offered.

Central America Today

Over the course of this decade the standard and quality of life of the great majority of Central Americans has declined. Untold suffering and misery have increased dramatically and the region has been brought to the very brink of devastation.

In part, this is true for much of the hemisphere where the 1980s have been termed a "lost decade" for the economies of most Latin American countries. Unemployment and underemployment have soared; inflation in some countries has reached previously unimagined heights; almost every country is saddled with heavy external debt, the total indebtedness of Latin America now approaching $400 billion. It is this tragedy that the Holy Father addressed when he met with the U.N. Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean last April, noting that the crisis experienced by the region as a whole was the most serious of the past half century. It is this "perspective of pain" that moved him to issue, in Chile, "an appeal to the public authorities, to private enterprise, to whatever persons or institutions in the entire region within sound of my voice and, naturally, to the developed nations, summoning them to meet this formidable moral challenge which was described a year ago in the 'Instruction on Christian Freedom and Liberation' in the following terms: 'The aim of this in-depth reflection is to work out and set in motion ambitious programs aimed at the socio-economic liberation of millions of men and women caught in an intolerable situation of economic, social and political oppression' (No. 81)."

Central America's Specific Problems

The current crises of Latin America, especially the economic crises of growth, of inflation, unemployment and debt, are fully reflected in the small and poor countries that make up the Central American isthmus. But these countries have also experienced their own special suffering in recent years.

Poverty, injustice and violence; excessive militarism and rampant corruption; a deterioration of family life and of cultural values; widespread religious and ideological confusion; and bitter internal wars that in the decade have taken over 150,000 lives, displaced nearly 2 million more, and caused hundreds of millions of dollars of damage — these are some of the core realities of much of today's Central America.

In the recent public debates in our country over U.S. policy toward the region, these realities seem to be relegated to positions of secondary importance, when they are not ignored altogether. A near exclusive focus of attention on Nicaragua and a policy debate reduced to the question of U.S. support for an armed opposition reflects, in our view, a skewed and inadequate approach.

Voices From Central America

A more complete view can be found in the joint messages of the Central American episcopates issued at their regular biennial assemblies. At both their 1986 and 1984 assemblies, speaking as bishops and pastors, they identified the same five problem areas as of greatest concern to their local churches. We would do well to consider them.

At the top, unsurprisingly, is the problem of armed violence — the violation of human rights, the existing armed conflicts and the danger of their expansion. Next is the related issue of militarism, of the exaggerated role assumed by the armed forces in most of those societies, due in part to generous subsidies provided by outside powers. Third is the matter of rampant corruption, both public and private. Fourth, what may seem an unlikely public policy issue but which is of great concern to the bishops of Central America, the manipulation of Catholic faith and of popular religiosity by three distinct groups: the aggressively proselytizing fundamentalist sects, many with financial ties to the United States; the politically more radical Catholic sectors identified as the "popular church"; and the intransigent conservative sectors who try to put the Gospel at the service of their own interests. And fifth, the attacks on the institutions of marriage and the family from several quarters but including, according to the bishops, campaigns financed by foreign governments imposing values hostile to the existing culture.

We consider it worth re-stating what our brother bishops of Central America have to say about the fundamental issue which most directly relates to the policy of our own government, that of the problem of violence, of war and of peace:

"Armed violence has come to several of our republics, and with it the danger of turning into a regional conflict. This violence continues to bear down on our countries, causing forced displacement of people within each country, the painful drama of refugees, widows and orphans whose numbers grow constantly, the abandonment of farms, the increasing unemployment, hunger and illness, the lack of doctors and medicines.

"And though the causes of conflicts were internal, two outside forces have come into play; the ideological, generally Marxist, on the part of the revolutionary groups, and the other, that of national security which generally issues in repression by the military and the intervention of superpowers seeking to maintain spheres of influence; in their quest for a perilous balance of power, they feed the arms race, foment militarization and place the peace of the region at permanent risk.

"We can do no less than condemn the war and the consequent sending of arms to Central America and we issue a fervent invitation to the dialogue for peace.

"In this connection, we offer our encouragement to our sister church of El Salvador which has struggled to bring about a dialogue and has been accepted as mediator by both sides. We support as well those efforts of other nations to seek effective ways of ending armed intervention in our countries, the removal of outside forces from the region and the freedom for Central Americans peacefully to settle their differences. At the same time we implore the great powers to resolve their differences in peace and not continue the useless shedding of blood in our region" (Message from the XXI Plenary Meeting of SEDAC, Tegucigalpa, Nov. 29, 1984).

In these few lines the bishops of Central America and Panama have encapsulated much of the real problem of Central America and its only acceptable solution; namely, that the devastation of war affects disproportionately the most vulnerable, the poorest, and sets back already weakened economies; that while the conflicts have indigenous roots in the longstanding patterns of injustice, superpower interference has added the geopolitical dimension, threatening the expansion into a still wider war; that the answer lies in effective dialogue among the contending parties, facilitated by sister nations of Latin America, with the superpowers resolving to deal with one another outside the Central American arena.

Central America and U.S. Policy

With this panoramic view in mind, let us look briefly at each of the countries, examining features that relate to aspects of U.S. policy.

El Salvador, once the center of attention, has all but disappeared from the policy discussion. The costly war, now in its eighth year, may have left our newspapers but not the lives of the people of El Salvador. People are still being killed — in armed confrontations, in aerial bombardments, from land mines. Both sets of combatants commit serious violations of commonly accepted human rights. Killings and disappearances by so-called death squads still continue, although not, to be sure, at the appalling levels of a few years ago. The criminal justice system barely functions; there is no single known instance of military personnel being criminally punished for human rights abuses against Salvadoran citizens. The earthquake of October 1986 caused such destruction, leaving 300,000 people homeless, that it was comparable, in the words of Archbishop Rivera, to a second war.

Refugees and displaced persons are still prominent aspects of the Salvadoran reality. Many of the "internal refugees," people who had fled to church-run centers as far back as 1980, have been helped to relocate, but people continue to flock to the city from conflict areas and many continue to seek refuge in the United States. Whatever their individual and personal motivations, most of these people have escaped from truly desperate circumstances, from a country torn by war and devastated by natural disaster, and should be allowed — once having made the difficult journey here — to remain at least until conditions in El Salvador genuinely improve. A civilian presidency is the beginning, not the end, of necessary reforms and improvements.

Many refugees as well continue to live in camps in Honduras and should be enabled, but not forced against their will, to return when their safe passage and security in their homeland can be assured. We urge the U.N. High Commission for Refugees to continue its role in providing for and protecting these persons.

The recently enacted Immigration Reform and Control Act has caused great concern among many in El Salvador, including the nation's bishops, who fear that it may result in the forced repatriation of large numbers of Salvadorans. There are reports that some Salvadorans are already returning, partly because employers have fired or refused to hire undocumented Salvadorans in the sometimes mistaken fear of incurring sanctions. The return of many thousands would have repercussions far beyond the obvious economic ones, almost certainly increasing the civil strife and violence that have for too long wracked that tiny country.

The dialogue for peace between the government and the opposition, which the church and especially Archbishop Rivera Damas have tirelessly pursued had, until lately, largely broken down. The new Central American peace process, the most hopeful development in years, calls for internal dialogue in El Salvador and may succeed in reviving the necessary talks. We continue to urge our government to provide every possible encouragement to this process.

Finally, the question of military aid to El Salvador. This was the central issue before us in 1981 as we discussed and voted on our statement on Central America. We concluded then, as Archbishop Romero had pleaded just before his assassination, that the United States should not provide arms to the then military-civilian junta. We acknowledge changes since that time, including the election of a civilian president. And while we also acknowledge the right in principle of a sovereign state to seek abroad the means for its own defense, we cannot accept that outside powers, essentially our country and the Soviet Union, vie with one another in adding fuel to the flames of an already burning house. In the sense in which it applies to both powers, we join with the Central American bishops when they say, as cited above, "We can do no less than condemn the war and the consequent sending of arms to Central America."

We have further concerns about our military aid to El Salvador, which fairly represents a still larger problem. Over the last five years El Salvador has received substantial military aid, starting with the 1980 allocation that Archbishop Romero opposed of less than $6 million, through the high point in 1984 of over $200 million to the present levels of over $100 million.

At some point, one must ask what these expenditures have resulted in. The government has not fallen nor has the insurgency been defeated, that is clear. But have we in fact, while intending to support the emergence of civilian and democratic rule, created a situation which makes it more difficult for the civilian sectors to exercise the necessary control over the military? And is this not of a piece with the problem noted over recent years of ever higher percentages of our bilateral aid being consigned to military and strategic, rather than to development, purposes? When, as in this present year, two-thirds of all bilateral aid is so committed, while in 1973 it was but a quarter, we must strongly question the military emphasis of our foreign aid program.

Nicaragua is the one country of the region not receiving economic or military assistance from the United States government; it has become increasingly dependent on such aid from the Soviet Union and its allies, an issue of growing concern to the democracies of the region. The war of attrition waged by irregular forces of Nicaraguan dissidents (the "contras"), funded largely by entities, both public and private, of this country, has been the dominant fact of Nicaragua's life today and the overriding policy issue. Tensions between the United States and Nicaragua were aggravated by the breakdown in bilateral relations between the two countries.

Significant human rights violations have been reliably attributed to both sides. Contra attacks against noncombatants, forced recruitment and kidnappings, and extensive use of land mines have been widely noted. So have Sandinista abusive treatment of prisoners and detainees, the excessive restrictions on trade union activities, on freedom of expression and other civil liberties, and the reported violation of due process associated with the special tribunals. Nicaragua's record in this regard is not, according to the principal international human rights monitors, the worst in the region, but it is sufficiently bad to concern all who favor the growth of democratic institutions.

One area of special concern to us as bishops has been the deeply disturbing conflict that has developed between the government and the leaders of the Catholic Church, with the government on several occasions marshaling the exceptional powers of the state to deprive the church of personnel, property and the free exercise of ministry. The expulsion of a bishop, the expatriation of a key aide to the archbishop, the closing of the bishops' radio station and the archdiocesan newspaper, all in the last two years, as well as the prior expulsion of several foreign clergy and religious have been matters of deep concern, whose resolution we have repeatedly urged. We welcome the steps already taken to redress these concerns within the framework of the peace process, specifically the re-opening of Radio Catolica and permission for three of the clerics to return. We urge that the remaining obstacles be swiftly addressed. We stand with the church in Nicaragua in the defense of their right to preach the Gospel without harassment or interference.

The war has been the central issue and the unfortunate, almost exclusive, focus of the policy debate in this country. There is no issue of U.S. hemispheric policy that has so sharply and bitterly divided the American people as has the policy of our government to arm and train that part of the Nicaraguan opposition generally referred to as the contras.

Some of our fellow citizens, indeed some of our faithful, seem genuinely convinced that so evil is the Sandinista regime, or so inevitable an eventual Soviet-Cuban aggression through Managua, that they countenance few restrictions on what the United States may do to prevent such an outcome.

We have long argued that a significant U.S.-Nicaragua problem exists but only a political solution can finally be successful in Nicaragua as in Central America generally; there is no politically or morally acceptable military solution. Further intensification of the military conflict must be avoided and the tide turned decisively in a new direction.

We have argued that direct military aid to forces seeking the overthrow of a government with which we are not at war and with which we maintain diplomatic relations is at least legally doubtful and morally wrong. U.S. mining of Nicaraguan harbors, training and supplying of irregular forces and otherwise aggressing against another sovereign nation seem clearly to violate treaty obligations under the U.N. and OAS charters and the Rio Treaty and to violate as well the principles of customary international law. The finding by the International Court of Justice that our government was guilty of nine different violations of international law is at least persuasive. But it is not ours to argue the law, nor is our objective to present policy based on the legal issues.

We do believe the policy of support for the contras to be morally flawed, however sincere the intentions of the persons who have crafted and implemented it. Our Catholic teaching demands that several stringent criteria be met before one can discard the overriding "presumption in favor of peace and against war" (U.S. bishops' 1983 pastoral letter on war and peace, 83).

Some would argue that the condition of sufficient cause was well met. As troubled as we have been by aspects of today's Nicaragua, it seems to us far from clear that Sandinista abuses could merit such lethal response. Still less do the criteria of likelihood of success, proportionality and even proper authority seem to have been met. Without formally judging any of these criteria, we do hold that the criterion of last resort has truly been disregarded and it is on this matter that we consider the U.S. contra policy to be most seriously in error.

As the Central American peace process is beginning to demonstrate, there are alternatives to a war policy; there are available structures — the Central American governments themselves, newly united by the peace accord signed in Guatemala last August, the now-forming regional parliament, the Contadora Group — all committed to the peaceful resolution of the conflicts and the protection of basic rights and freedoms. It is these profoundly hopeful efforts to construct peace with justice that we are called to encourage and support. The peaceful means, far from having been exhausted, have just begun to be explored.

Guatemala inaugurated its first civilian president in 20 years in January 1986 and some important changes have clearly taken place. For two decades of military rule, Guatemala had endured the most sustained and pervasive political violence in the Americas. Estimates of the numbers killed in just the past decade vary but all agree the victims, many of them Indians, numbered in the tens of thousands. The now familiar term "disappearance" first entered the human rights vocabulary because of Guatemala, and for years arbitrary arrest, torture, disappearance and political killings were everyday occurrences.

Although military violence against civilians in the countryside has been sharply reduced, it nevertheless still continues. The so-called model villages and the conscripted civil patrols, both highly controversial programs of former governments, continue in many areas effectively preventing the desired repatriation of thousands of refugees fom nearby Mexico. A "self-amnesty" law promulgated by the previous government just days before President Cerezo's inauguration, eliminating any possible punishment from crimes committed during previous terms of office, is a source of deep discord among many Guatemalans. According to the major human rights organizations, the rule of law has yet to be established in Guatemala and the overall human rights situation, while improved, remains very bad, particularly for the indigenous populations.

Still, there have been noteworthy advances. There appears to be no state-sponsored violence; the kidnappings and killings are believed to be the work of individual members of the security forces, not responsive to civil authority as before. There is a freely elected Congress; the president has succeeded in dissolving the much-feared Technical Investigation Department (DIT), he has sponsored the important regional initiative of a Central American parliament and has pursued a policy toward Nicaragua known as "active neutrality." He has also apparently sought to keep U.S. assistance to the Guatemalan military at minimal levels.

Guatemala, as the traditionally most prominent nation of Central America, may well be able to play a key role in the regional quest for peace. We trust that our government will do all possible to encourage President Cerezo's independent role, including his active neutrality policy, and will make aid to the Guatemalan military contingent on genuine accountability and elimination of human rights abuses.

Honduras, the second poorest country in the hemisphere, has been triply burdened by the wars waged in the three countries on its borders. It has become the host of thousands of Salvadoran, Nicaraguan and Guatemalan refugees. It has become the staging area for the principal contra forces attacking Nicaragua. And it has become the site of very large and repeated U.S. military exercises. Although it acquired an elected civilian government earlier in this decade than its neighbors, Honduras has ironically undergone greater militarization in these years than during the time of military rule.

Honduran citizens, some say as many as 16,000, have been displaced from areas of contra activities. There have been numerous reports of Hondurans abused by contras and victimized by Nicaraguan cross-border attacks; the presence of large numbers of U.S. troops creates a particular set of problems. Whatever the truth of these reports, it seems abundantly clear that Honduras has become a pawn in conflicts not of its own making and deserves to be freed at least of the excessive attentions of our military. We do not see a justification for expending so much capital and effort in developing temporary military installations and conducting repeated and costly military exercises when the Honduran people so clearly need a different kind of assistance.

Costa Rica has been spared many of the social and political upheavals that plague the region, although its grave economic crises and the large influx of undocumented aliens from neighboring countries pose daunting challenges. Fortunately, Costa Rica has long maintained a democratic and socially responsive form of government and is justly famous for having abolished its armed forces in 1949. The growing militarization of the region that the Central American bishops so lament should in no way be allowed to erode Costa Rica's exemplary non-militaristic tradition.

The country's most recent source of pride, the awarding of the 1987 Nobel Peace Prize to President Oscar Arias Sanchez, both acknowledges this tradition of peacemaking and symbolizes the universal acclaim for the Arias-led Central America peace process. With the bishops of Central America we join in fervent gratitude for this magnificent initiative of President Arias and the other four presidents of Central America and pledge our prayers and fullest support for the success of the Esquipulas II accords.

Panama, often viewed as marginal to Central America, yet shares many of its problems. Recent internal conflicts there have highlighted the excessive military control and intervention in the civil area of government. We commend the recent and repeated calls of the Panamanian bishops for full and effective protection of civil rights and the democratic process, and for the socio-economic promotion of those large sectors of the poor who remain outside the nation's progress.

We urge that our government devise one consistent policy toward Panama, fully respectful of Panama's national sovereignty and the 1977 Torrijos-Carter treaties, while stressing respect for and promotion of human and social rights and the democratic process as essential for national and regional peace.

Summary Recommendations

We conclude by summarizing some of the concerns we have expressed over the years and again in this statement, which we commend to the community of the church and to all our fellow citizens. We pray that a renewed, more informed, public discussion may develop around these issues that so affect the future well-being of the hemisphere.

Central America in Context

1. Central America is but a part, a small but integral part, of Latin America. We urge our government to expand its policy vision beyond the immediate crises of Central America to the whole of the hemisphere. The problems and needs and dangers facing the rest of Latin America are far greater than those confronting the isthmus and, if left unattended, will overwhelm and cancel out any progress made in the Central American area.

Priority of Economic Justice

2. The most urgent policy issues facing Latin America today are economic. U.S. policy, both public and private, should give highest priority to addressing the problems of Latin America's staggering external debt, fragile economies and concentration of productive agricultural land. The return to democracy in the major countries of South America, as well as the advances of democratic rule in Central America, are put at greatest risk by the hemispheric crisis of growth and the external debt problem.

The Superpowers and the Region

3. The issues of geopolitics which have so dominated the U.S. public discourse on Central America in recent years should be taken up directly with the principal sources of U.S. concern, the Soviet Union and Cuba. While U.S.-Soviet competition is a concern to parties in the region, the task of preventing the introduction of Soviet bases or strategic weapons or combat forces into our border region should be dealt with as any other major issue threatening world peace, by direct negotiation between the United States and the Soviet Union. We should not use Central American lives as pawns in a superpower struggle.

"While U.S.-Soviet competition is a concern to parties in the region, the task of preventing the introduction of Soviet bases or strategic weapons or combat forces into our border region should be dealt with...by direct negotiation between the United States and the Soviet Union."

The Peace Process

4. Of the interlocking scourges of poverty, injustice and violence that beset Central America today, the violence of war may, ironically, be the easiest to contain. Its end is, in any case, a precondition for dealing with the others. We make our own the repeated urgings of the bishops of Central America that governments and insurgents alike pursue with vigor the dialogue and reconciliation process called for by the Central American peace accord.

Today the essential framework for negotiations is the Esquipulas II peace process initiated by President Arias. It is not a perfect instrument, it involves risk and it cannot satisfy every legitimate concern at once; but it is the most reasonable and hopeful plan yet devised and must be given every chance. We pray that the active participation of bishops in each of the national reconciliation commissions will help assure a reconciling peace based on truth.

The Necessary U.S. Support for the Peace Process

5. Our own government which has historically exercised exceptional influence in the region is in a particularly favored position today to further the incipient peace process. We urge U.S. policy to match in deed what has been repeatedly stated in principle, namely that the United States is truly committed to a peaceful resolution of the conflicts through the political processes of the dialogue and negotiations.

The Supportive Role of Other American States

6. The Central American bishops have often decried the unhelpful involvement of powers external to Latin America and have praised the peacemaking efforts of neighboring countries, essentially the four states that border Central America, the Contadora group of Mexico, Panama, Colombia and Venezuela, together with the "new democracies" of South America, Peru, Brazil, Argentina and Uruguay. The new Central America peace accord, itself "encouraged by the visionary and permanent will of the Contadora and Support group," also calls upon those Latin republics to assist in verifying compliance with the process.

These countries are as concerned as we are for the peaceful resolution of Central American conflicts and are well suited to assure its success. It is vital that our government maintain explicit support for and cooperate with the provisions of the Arias peace plan, and encourage the contributions of these other American states.

Refugees

7. The flight of so many hundreds of thousands of Central Americans from their homelands over this decade, including the desperate efforts of unprecedented numbers to seek refuge in this country, is the clearest sign of the human tragedy that besets the region. We have urged that their plight be given the high attention it deserves and that the needs of these persons be generously responded to by all the countries of the region and by our own.

Specifically, we urge our parishes, religious communities and social service agencies to increase their already commendable assistance to all refugees, asylum seekers and displaced persons in need. We are conscious in a special way at this time of those who may not fulfill the legal requirements of the present legislation on legalization. We urge our government to interpret the conditions for granting political asylum as broadly and generously as possible and we strongly urge that even those Central Americans who are not able to make a prima facie claim to refugee status under the law be allowed, on humanitarian grounds, to remain here temporarily under the conditions of what is known as extended voluntary departure status.

Our Need for Reconciliation

8. Finally, just as we recognize the need for internal reconciliation within the sharply divided societies of Central America, if peace and progress are to be achieved, so we must acknowledge that our own social fabric has been damaged in recent years precisely over the Central American issues. Our society, indeed our Catholic community, has been divided, we believe unnecessarily so, in these last years because of divergent views about Central America and we acknowledge ed for reconciliation.

We urge the leaders of both our national parties to use the period leading up to the 1988 elections to construct a national consensus around the real challenges facing us in the hemisphere, not allowing deeper polarization to develop over issues of less central importance. We urge our fellow Catholics, whatever their political views, to consider how they might best bring moral perspectives to bear on the human anguish of today's Central America. We encourage their efforts to support the poor of Central America with humanitarian aid and development funds.

Conclusion

We offer these reflections as bishops, seeking to view these issues of public policy from the perspective of our faith and the social teachings of the church. We offer them as citizens, conscious of our responsibility to contribute according to our abilities to the formulation of ever more just and humane policies.

We renew our long-standing call for the pursuit of negotiation, peace and reconciliation at a time of great opportunity and danger for the region. There are signs of significant progress in the extraordinary efforts of the nations of Central America to fashion a regional peace accord and begin to carry it out. We especially applaud the efforts of Cardinal Obando y Bravo, Archbishop Rivera Damas and the other bishops of the region to mediate and advance the process of negotiations. But these efforts need to be actively supported, built upon and enlarged. They need the strong and persistent support of the United States. We ask our government to do everything possible to support regional efforts to turn from war to negotiations, from violations of human rights to respect for human freedom. Let us turn our energies and resources in the region from supplying weapons of war to building instruments of peace, from armed conflict to constructive negotiations on how peace might be established and freedom and democracy might be strengthened. Let us also together work to overcome the economic injustices which are still at the heart of so much conflict in this troubled region.

This year marks the 20th anniversary of the great development encyclical of Paul VI, Populorum Progressio. In commenting on that letter of his predecessor, Pope John Paul devoted this year's World Day of Peace message to the themes of development and solidarity, the keys for peace, and highlighted several of the same principles we have raised in our statement.

"The spirit of solidarity," John Paul insists, "is a spirit that is open to dialogue," one fruit of which can be regional agreements "to promote the common good and encourage bilateral negotiations." Nations must be free to grow and develop as equal partners. "Seeking economic, military or political superiority at the expense of the rights of other nations places in jeopardy any prospects for true development or true peace." Among the great problems facing us today, the pope mentions the developing world's external debt and the crucial problem of disarmament, noting the serious threats to world peace presented by "current East-West tensions and North-South inequalities." "All states have responsibility for world peace and this peace cannot be ensured until a security based on arms is gradually replaced with a security based on the solidarity of the human family."

We believe that peace is possible, that peace in Central America can and must be built up through dialogue and the processes of political rather than military activities, and that it must be sustained by the solidarity of the other nations, including the needed economic assistance that the wealthier countries can provide.

We ask God's blessings on the suffering people of Central America, especially those most affected by the years of crisis, the refugees, the wounded, the bereaved. In this year of Mary, we ask Our Lady of the Americas to watch over all who suffer for, and who work for, peace in Central America. ■

Statement on Central America

"It is our impression that the crises that today afflict Central America, indeed Latin America in general, are inadequately grasped by policymakers and citizens alike" in the United States, said the U.S. bishops in a statement on Central America approved Nov. 19 during their meeting in Washington. Their statement urged that attention be given to all the nations of Central America, not focused only on some; it said the problems of all of Latin America must be considered; it called the policy of support for the contras "morally flawed"; it repeated the bishops' belief that conflicts in the region should be resolved through negotiation, not through arms; it said the region should not be allowed to serve as a battleground for the superpowers; and it pointed to divisions within the U.S. Catholic community that have arisen over Central America. The bishops urged "fellow Catholics, whatever their political views, to consider how they might best bring moral perspectives to bear on the human anguish of today's Central America." The bishops also urged the leaders of both major U.S. political parties "to use the period leading up to the 1988 elections to construct a national consensus around the real challenges facing us in the hemisphere, not allowing deeper polarizaton to develop over issues of less central importance." The text of the bishops' statement follows.

Introduction

We meet at a time of unprecedented hope for peace in Central America. We celebrate the wisdom and courage of those who made at least more probable what was deemed almost impossible brief months ago. Meeting in Guatemala on the feast of the Lord's transfiguration, El Salvador's patronal feast, the five presidents of Central America committed their governments to a process of peace and reconciliation for each of their countries and for the region. We pray they will succeed, with divine guidance, in bringing it to a successful end.

We are fully sensitive to the delicacy of these present weeks in which the schedule for compliance moves forward. We wish our words here to be seen both as a further expression of our strong support for the unfolding peace process as well as the expression of our continual effort to reflect critically on the moral issues at stake. We have addressed matters of our country's relations with Central America for over a decade. We have joined with our Central American brothers in the episcopate in urging the adoption of sincere dialogue and negotiation among contending parties. And with them we have insisted, as we continue to insist, that true peace can come about only when the fundamental causes of the conflicts, especially the historic denials of social justice, are sincerely faced.

Peace, as the cessation of hostilities, may truly be at hand, for which all must give fervent thanks. But genuine peace, a gift from God and the fruit of justice, will continue to elude us until men and women of good will, here and throughout the hemisphere, resolve to construct together the civilization of love to which we are called.

"Central America has lately become a focus of attention and concern for the entire world." So wrote the bishops of Central America and Panama three years ago in their major document on the regional crisis, "Our Salvation Is Christ." Central America has clearly been a focus of great attention and concern here in the United States, as we ourselves noted in our statement on Central America in 1981, and it is of very special concern for us in the church.

Over the years we have prayed and preached and worked in varied ways for peace and justice in that troubled region. We have expressed our solidarity with our brother bishops and their local churches whose pilgrimage is marked with great suffering. We have spoken out publicly, numerous times, seeking to direct the policies of our country into ever more constructive ways.

All of these and more — our prayer, our expressions of ecclesial solidarity, our efforts to influence public policy — are distinct and proper elements of our pastoral mission today. As the Holy Father noted last spring in Santiago:

"The church, as is clearly stated in the Second Vatican Council, 'is not identified with any political community nor bound by ties to any political system' (Gaudium et Spes,

). But it is also true that, as an imperative of the mission it received from Christ, the church must cast the light of the Gospel on all temporal situations, including political activity, so that society will increasingly manifest those moral and ethical values that reveal the transcendental character of the person and the need to protect his inalienable rights."

This year marks a decade of sustained attention by our episcopal conference to the issues of Central America. In this period we can note certain welcome developments in one or another country — advances in a democratic polity, election of civilian presidents, diminution of some of the most heinous human rights violations. Overall, however, the decade has witnessed a deterioration in the social, political and economic life of the region. It is this situation of crisis, and the role of our own government in affecting it, to which we direct our attention here.

It is our impression that the crises that today afflict Central America, indeed Latin America in general, are inadequately grasped by policymakers and citizens alike; that the policy focus has been distorted by an almost exclusive attention to one country; and that the broad public discussion that should inform our policy has become falsely constricted. It is in an effort to help stimulate such, and one hopes deeper, thinking about our government's policy toward the region that these reflections are offered.

Central America Today

Over the course of this decade the standard and quality of life of the great majority of Central Americans has declined. Untold suffering and misery have increased dramatically and the region has been brought to the very brink of devastation.

In part, this is true for much of the hemisphere where the 1980s have been termed a "lost decade" for the economies of most Latin American countries. Unemployment and underemployment have soared; inflation in some countries has reached previously unimagined heights; almost every country is saddled with heavy external debt, the total indebtedness of Latin America now approaching $400 billion. It is this tragedy that the Holy Father addressed when he met with the U.N. Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean last April, noting that the crisis experienced by the region as a whole was the most serious of the past half century. It is this "perspective of pain" that moved him to issue, in Chile, "an appeal to the public authorities, to private enterprise, to whatever persons or institutions in the entire region within sound of my voice and, naturally, to the developed nations, summoning them to meet this formidable moral challenge which was described a year ago in the 'Instruction on Christian Freedom and Liberation' in the following terms: 'The aim of this in-depth reflection is to work out and set in motion ambitious programs aimed at the socio-economic liberation of millions of men and women caught in an intolerable situation of economic, social and political oppression' (No. 81)."

Central America's Specific Problems

The current crises of Latin America, especially the economic crises of growth, of inflation, unemployment and debt, are fully reflected in the small and poor countries that make up the Central American isthmus. But these countries have also experienced their own special suffering in recent years.

Poverty, injustice and violence; excessive militarism and rampant corruption; a deterioration of family life and of cultural values; widespread religious and ideological confusion; and bitter internal wars that in the decade have taken over 150,000 lives, displaced nearly 2 million more, and caused hundreds of millions of dollars of damage — these are some of the core realities of much of today's Central America.

In the recent public debates in our country over U.S. policy toward the region, these realities seem to be relegated to positions of secondary importance, when they are not ignored altogether. A near exclusive focus of attention on Nicaragua and a policy debate reduced to the question of U.S. support for an armed opposition reflects, in our view, a skewed and inadequate approach.

Voices From Central America

A more complete view can be found in the joint messages of the Central American episcopates issued at their regular biennial assemblies. At both their 1986 and 1984 assemblies, speaking as bishops and pastors, they identified the same five problem areas as of greatest concern to their local churches. We would do well to consider them.

At the top, unsurprisingly, is the problem of armed violence — the violation of human rights, the existing armed conflicts and the danger of their expansion. Next is the related issue of militarism, of the exaggerated role assumed by the armed forces in most of those societies, due in part to generous subsidies provided by outside powers. Third is the matter of rampant corruption, both public and private. Fourth, what may seem an unlikely public policy issue but which is of great concern to the bishops of Central America, the manipulation of Catholic faith and of popular religiosity by three distinct groups: the aggressively proselytizing fundamentalist sects, many with financial ties to the United States; the politically more radical Catholic sectors identified as the "popular church"; and the intransigent conservative sectors who try to put the Gospel at the service of their own interests. And fifth, the attacks on the institutions of marriage and the family from several quarters but including, according to the bishops, campaigns financed by foreign governments imposing values hostile to the existing culture.

We consider it worth re-stating what our brother bishops of Central America have to say about the fundamental issue which most directly relates to the policy of our own government, that of the problem of violence, of war and of peace:

"Armed violence has come to several of our republics, and with it the danger of turning into a regional conflict. This violence continues to bear down on our countries, causing forced displacement of people within each country, the painful drama of refugees, widows and orphans whose numbers grow constantly, the abandonment of farms, the increasing unemployment, hunger and illness, the lack of doctors and medicines.

"And though the causes of conflicts were internal, two outside forces have come into play; the ideological, generally Marxist, on the part of the revolutionary groups, and the other, that of national security which generally issues in repression by the military and the intervention of superpowers seeking to maintain spheres of influence; in their quest for a perilous balance of power, they feed the arms race, foment militarization and place the peace of the region at permanent risk.

"We can do no less than condemn the war and the consequent sending of arms to Central America and we issue a fervent invitation to the dialogue for peace.

"In this connection, we offer our encouragement to our sister church of El Salvador which has struggled to bring about a dialogue and has been accepted as mediator by both sides. We support as well those efforts of other nations to seek effective ways of ending armed intervention in our countries, the removal of outside forces from the region and the freedom for Central Americans peacefully to settle their differences. At the same time we implore the great powers to resolve their differences in peace and not continue the useless shedding of blood in our region" (Message from the XXI Plenary Meeting of SEDAC, Tegucigalpa, Nov. 29, 1984).

In these few lines the bishops of Central America and Panama have encapsulated much of the real problem of Central America and its only acceptable solution; namely, that the devastation of war affects disproportionately the most vulnerable, the poorest, and sets back already weakened economies; that while the conflicts have indigenous roots in the longstanding patterns of injustice, superpower interference has added the geopolitical dimension, threatening the expansion into a still wider war; that the answer lies in effective dialogue among the contending parties, facilitated by sister nations of Latin America, with the superpowers resolving to deal with one another outside the Central American arena.

Central America and U.S. Policy

With this panoramic view in mind, let us look briefly at each of the countries, examining features that relate to aspects of U.S. policy.

El Salvador, once the center of attention, has all but disappeared from the policy discussion. The costly war, now in its eighth year, may have left our newspapers but not the lives of the people of El Salvador. People are still being killed — in armed confrontations, in aerial bombardments, from land mines. Both sets of combatants commit serious violations of commonly accepted human rights. Killings and disappearances by so-called death squads still continue, although not, to be sure, at the appalling levels of a few years ago. The criminal justice system barely functions; there is no single known instance of military personnel being criminally punished for human rights abuses against Salvadoran citizens. The earthquake of October 1986 caused such destruction, leaving 300,000 people homeless, that it was comparable, in the words of Archbishop Rivera, to a second war.

Refugees and displaced persons are still prominent aspects of the Salvadoran reality. Many of the "internal refugees," people who had fled to church-run centers as far back as 1980, have been helped to relocate, but people continue to flock to the city from conflict areas and many continue to seek refuge in the United States. Whatever their individual and personal motivations, most of these people have escaped from truly desperate circumstances, from a country torn by war and devastated by natural disaster, and should be allowed — once having made the difficult journey here — to remain at least until conditions in El Salvador genuinely improve. A civilian presidency is the beginning, not the end, of necessary reforms and improvements.

Many refugees as well continue to live in camps in Honduras and should be enabled, but not forced against their will, to return when their safe passage and security in their homeland can be assured. We urge the U.N. High Commission for Refugees to continue its role in providing for and protecting these persons.

The recently enacted Immigration Reform and Control Act has caused great concern among many in El Salvador, including the nation's bishops, who fear that it may result in the forced repatriation of large numbers of Salvadorans. There are reports that some Salvadorans are already returning, partly because employers have fired or refused to hire undocumented Salvadorans in the sometimes mistaken fear of incurring sanctions. The return of many thousands would have repercussions far beyond the obvious economic ones, almost certainly increasing the civil strife and violence that have for too long wracked that tiny country.

The dialogue for peace between the government and the opposition, which the church and especially Archbishop Rivera Damas have tirelessly pursued had, until lately, largely broken down. The new Central American peace process, the most hopeful development in years, calls for internal dialogue in El Salvador and may succeed in reviving the necessary talks. We continue to urge our government to provide every possible encouragement to this process.

Finally, the question of military aid to El Salvador. This was the central issue before us in 1981 as we discussed and voted on our statement on Central America. We concluded then, as Archbishop Romero had pleaded just before his assassination, that the United States should not provide arms to the then military-civilian junta. We acknowledge changes since that time, including the election of a civilian president. And while we also acknowledge the right in principle of a sovereign state to seek abroad the means for its own defense, we cannot accept that outside powers, essentially our country and the Soviet Union, vie with one another in adding fuel to the flames of an already burning house. In the sense in which it applies to both powers, we join with the Central American bishops when they say, as cited above, "We can do no less than condemn the war and the consequent sending of arms to Central America."

We have further concerns about our military aid to El Salvador, which fairly represents a still larger problem. Over the last five years El Salvador has received substantial military aid, starting with the 1980 allocation that Archbishop Romero opposed of less than $6 million, through the high point in 1984 of over $200 million to the present levels of over $100 million.

At some point, one must ask what these expenditures have resulted in. The government has not fallen nor has the insurgency been defeated, that is clear. But have we in fact, while intending to support the emergence of civilian and democratic rule, created a situation which makes it more difficult for the civilian sectors to exercise the necessary control over the military? And is this not of a piece with the problem noted over recent years of ever higher percentages of our bilateral aid being consigned to military and strategic, rather than to development, purposes? When, as in this present year, two-thirds of all bilateral aid is so committed, while in 1973 it was but a quarter, we must strongly question the military emphasis of our foreign aid program.

Nicaragua is the one country of the region not receiving economic or military assistance from the United States government; it has become increasingly dependent on such aid from the Soviet Union and its allies, an issue of growing concern to the democracies of the region. The war of attrition waged by irregular forces of Nicaraguan dissidents (the "contras"), funded largely by entities, both public and private, of this country, has been the dominant fact of Nicaragua's life today and the overriding policy issue. Tensions between the United States and Nicaragua were aggravated by the breakdown in bilateral relations between the two countries.

Significant human rights violations have been reliably attributed to both sides. Contra attacks against noncombatants, forced recruitment and kidnappings, and extensive use of land mines have been widely noted. So have Sandinista abusive treatment of prisoners and detainees, the excessive restrictions on trade union activities, on freedom of expression and other civil liberties, and the reported violation of due process associated with the special tribunals. Nicaragua's record in this regard is not, according to the principal international human rights monitors, the worst in the region, but it is sufficiently bad to concern all who favor the growth of democratic institutions.

One area of special concern to us as bishops has been the deeply disturbing conflict that has developed between the government and the leaders of the Catholic Church, with the government on several occasions marshaling the exceptional powers of the state to deprive the church of personnel, property and the free exercise of ministry. The expulsion of a bishop, the expatriation of a key aide to the archbishop, the closing of the bishops' radio station and the archdiocesan newspaper, all in the last two years, as well as the prior expulsion of several foreign clergy and religious have been matters of deep concern, whose resolution we have repeatedly urged. We welcome the steps already taken to redress these concerns within the framework of the peace process, specifically the re-opening of Radio Catolica and permission for three of the clerics to return. We urge that the remaining obstacles be swiftly addressed. We stand with the church in Nicaragua in the defense of their right to preach the Gospel without harassment or interference.

The war has been the central issue and the unfortunate, almost exclusive, focus of the policy debate in this country. There is no issue of U.S. hemispheric policy that has so sharply and bitterly divided the American people as has the policy of our government to arm and train that part of the Nicaraguan opposition generally referred to as the contras.

Some of our fellow citizens, indeed some of our faithful, seem genuinely convinced that so evil is the Sandinista regime, or so inevitable an eventual Soviet-Cuban aggression through Managua, that they countenance few restrictions on what the United States may do to prevent such an outcome.

We have long argued that a significant U.S.-Nicaragua problem exists but only a political solution can finally be successful in Nicaragua as in Central America generally; there is no politically or morally acceptable military solution. Further intensification of the military conflict must be avoided and the tide turned decisively in a new direction.

We have argued that direct military aid to forces seeking the overthrow of a government with which we are not at war and with which we maintain diplomatic relations is at least legally doubtful and morally wrong. U.S. mining of Nicaraguan harbors, training and supplying of irregular forces and otherwise aggressing against another sovereign nation seem clearly to violate treaty obligations under the U.N. and OAS charters and the Rio Treaty and to violate as well the principles of customary international law. The finding by the International Court of Justice that our government was guilty of nine different violations of international law is at least persuasive. But it is not ours to argue the law, nor is our objective to present policy based on the legal issues.

We do believe the policy of support for the contras to be morally flawed, however sincere the intentions of the persons who have crafted and implemented it. Our Catholic teaching demands that several stringent criteria be met before one can discard the overriding "presumption in favor of peace and against war" (U.S. bishops' 1983 pastoral letter on war and peace, 83).

Some would argue that the condition of sufficient cause was well met. As troubled as we have been by aspects of today's Nicaragua, it seems to us far from clear that Sandinista abuses could merit such lethal response. Still less do the criteria of likelihood of success, proportionality and even proper authority seem to have been met. Without formally judging any of these criteria, we do hold that the criterion of last resort has truly been disregarded and it is on this matter that we consider the U.S. contra policy to be most seriously in error.

As the Central American peace process is beginning to demonstrate, there are alternatives to a war policy; there are available structures — the Central American governments themselves, newly united by the peace accord signed in Guatemala last August, the now-forming regional parliament, the Contadora Group — all committed to the peaceful resolution of the conflicts and the protection of basic rights and freedoms. It is these profoundly hopeful efforts to construct peace with justice that we are called to encourage and support. The peaceful means, far from having been exhausted, have just begun to be explored.

Guatemala inaugurated its first civilian president in 20 years in January 1986 and some important changes have clearly taken place. For two decades of military rule, Guatemala had endured the most sustained and pervasive political violence in the Americas. Estimates of the numbers killed in just the past decade vary but all agree the victims, many of them Indians, numbered in the tens of thousands. The now familiar term "disappearance" first entered the human rights vocabulary because of Guatemala, and for years arbitrary arrest, torture, disappearance and political killings were everyday occurrences.

Although military violence against civilians in the countryside has been sharply reduced, it nevertheless still continues. The so-called model villages and the conscripted civil patrols, both highly controversial programs of former governments, continue in many areas effectively preventing the desired repatriation of thousands of refugees fom nearby Mexico. A "self-amnesty" law promulgated by the previous government just days before President Cerezo's inauguration, eliminating any possible punishment from crimes committed during previous terms of office, is a source of deep discord among many Guatemalans. According to the major human rights organizations, the rule of law has yet to be established in Guatemala and the overall human rights situation, while improved, remains very bad, particularly for the indigenous populations.

Still, there have been noteworthy advances. There appears to be no state-sponsored violence; the kidnappings and killings are believed to be the work of individual members of the security forces, not responsive to civil authority as before. There is a freely elected Congress; the president has succeeded in dissolving the much-feared Technical Investigation Department (DIT), he has sponsored the important regional initiative of a Central American parliament and has pursued a policy toward Nicaragua known as "active neutrality." He has also apparently sought to keep U.S. assistance to the Guatemalan military at minimal levels.

Guatemala, as the traditionally most prominent nation of Central America, may well be able to play a key role in the regional quest for peace. We trust that our government will do all possible to encourage President Cerezo's independent role, including his active neutrality policy, and will make aid to the Guatemalan military contingent on genuine accountability and elimination of human rights abuses.

Honduras, the second poorest country in the hemisphere, has been triply burdened by the wars waged in the three countries on its borders. It has become the host of thousands of Salvadoran, Nicaraguan and Guatemalan refugees. It has become the staging area for the principal contra forces attacking Nicaragua. And it has become the site of very large and repeated U.S. military exercises. Although it acquired an elected civilian government earlier in this decade than its neighbors, Honduras has ironically undergone greater militarization in these years than during the time of military rule.

Honduran citizens, some say as many as 16,000, have been displaced from areas of contra activities. There have been numerous reports of Hondurans abused by contras and victimized by Nicaraguan cross-border attacks; the presence of large numbers of U.S. troops creates a particular set of problems. Whatever the truth of these reports, it seems abundantly clear that Honduras has become a pawn in conflicts not of its own making and deserves to be freed at least of the excessive attentions of our military. We do not see a justification for expending so much capital and effort in developing temporary military installations and conducting repeated and costly military exercises when the Honduran people so clearly need a different kind of assistance.

Costa Rica has been spared many of the social and political upheavals that plague the region, although its grave economic crises and the large influx of undocumented aliens from neighboring countries pose daunting challenges. Fortunately, Costa Rica has long maintained a democratic and socially responsive form of government and is justly famous for having abolished its armed forces in 1949. The growing militarization of the region that the Central American bishops so lament should in no way be allowed to erode Costa Rica's exemplary non-militaristic tradition.

The country's most recent source of pride, the awarding of the 1987 Nobel Peace Prize to President Oscar Arias Sanchez, both acknowledges this tradition of peacemaking and symbolizes the universal acclaim for the Arias-led Central America peace process. With the bishops of Central America we join in fervent gratitude for this magnificent initiative of President Arias and the other four presidents of Central America and pledge our prayers and fullest support for the success of the Esquipulas II accords.

Panama, often viewed as marginal to Central America, yet shares many of its problems. Recent internal conflicts there have highlighted the excessive military control and intervention in the civil area of government. We commend the recent and repeated calls of the Panamanian bishops for full and effective protection of civil rights and the democratic process, and for the socio-economic promotion of those large sectors of the poor who remain outside the nation's progress.

We urge that our government devise one consistent policy toward Panama, fully respectful of Panama's national sovereignty and the 1977 Torrijos-Carter treaties, while stressing respect for and promotion of human and social rights and the democratic process as essential for national and regional peace.

Summary Recommendations

We conclude by summarizing some of the concerns we have expressed over the years and again in this statement, which we commend to the community of the church and to all our fellow citizens. We pray that a renewed, more informed, public discussion may develop around these issues that so affect the future well-being of the hemisphere.

Central America in Context

1. Central America is but a part, a small but integral part, of Latin America. We urge our government to expand its policy vision beyond the immediate crises of Central America to the whole of the hemisphere. The problems and needs and dangers facing the rest of Latin America are far greater than those confronting the isthmus and, if left unattended, will overwhelm and cancel out any progress made in the Central American area.

Priority of Economic Justice

2. The most urgent policy issues facing Latin America today are economic. U.S. policy, both public and private, should give highest priority to addressing the problems of Latin America's staggering external debt, fragile economies and concentration of productive agricultural land. The return to democracy in the major countries of South America, as well as the advances of democratic rule in Central America, are put at greatest risk by the hemispheric crisis of growth and the external debt problem.

The Superpowers and the Region

3. The issues of geopolitics which have so dominated the U.S. public discourse on Central America in recent years should be taken up directly with the principal sources of U.S. concern, the Soviet Union and Cuba. While U.S.-Soviet competition is a concern to parties in the region, the task of preventing the introduction of Soviet bases or strategic weapons or combat forces into our border region should be dealt with as any other major issue threatening world peace, by direct negotiation between the United States and the Soviet Union. We should not use Central American lives as pawns in a superpower struggle.

"While U.S.-Soviet competition is a concern to parties in the region, the task of preventing the introduction of Soviet bases or strategic weapons or combat forces into our border region should be dealt with...by direct negotiation between the United States and the Soviet Union."

The Peace Process

4. Of the interlocking scourges of poverty, injustice and violence that beset Central America today, the violence of war may, ironically, be the easiest to contain. Its end is, in any case, a precondition for dealing with the others. We make our own the repeated urgings of the bishops of Central America that governments and insurgents alike pursue with vigor the dialogue and reconciliation process called for by the Central American peace accord.

Today the essential framework for negotiations is the Esquipulas II peace process initiated by President Arias. It is not a perfect instrument, it involves risk and it cannot satisfy every legitimate concern at once; but it is the most reasonable and hopeful plan yet devised and must be given every chance. We pray that the active participation of bishops in each of the national reconciliation commissions will help assure a reconciling peace based on truth.

The Necessary U.S. Support for the Peace Process

5. Our own government which has historically exercised exceptional influence in the region is in a particularly favored position today to further the incipient peace process. We urge U.S. policy to match in deed what has been repeatedly stated in principle, namely that the United States is truly committed to a peaceful resolution of the conflicts through the political processes of the dialogue and negotiations.

The Supportive Role of Other American States

6. The Central American bishops have often decried the unhelpful involvement of powers external to Latin America and have praised the peacemaking efforts of neighboring countries, essentially the four states that border Central America, the Contadora group of Mexico, Panama, Colombia and Venezuela, together with the "new democracies" of South America, Peru, Brazil, Argentina and Uruguay. The new Central America peace accord, itself "encouraged by the visionary and permanent will of the Contadora and Support group," also calls upon those Latin republics to assist in verifying compliance with the process.

These countries are as concerned as we are for the peaceful resolution of Central American conflicts and are well suited to assure its success. It is vital that our government maintain explicit support for and cooperate with the provisions of the Arias peace plan, and encourage the contributions of these other American states.

Refugees

7. The flight of so many hundreds of thousands of Central Americans from their homelands over this decade, including the desperate efforts of unprecedented numbers to seek refuge in this country, is the clearest sign of the human tragedy that besets the region. We have urged that their plight be given the high attention it deserves and that the needs of these persons be generously responded to by all the countries of the region and by our own.

Specifically, we urge our parishes, religious communities and social service agencies to increase their already commendable assistance to all refugees, asylum seekers and displaced persons in need. We are conscious in a special way at this time of those who may not fulfill the legal requirements of the present legislation on legalization. We urge our government to interpret the conditions for granting political asylum as broadly and generously as possible and we strongly urge that even those Central Americans who are not able to make a prima facie claim to refugee status under the law be allowed, on humanitarian grounds, to remain here temporarily under the conditions of what is known as extended voluntary departure status.

Our Need for Reconciliation

8. Finally, just as we recognize the need for internal reconciliation within the sharply divided societies of Central America, if peace and progress are to be achieved, so we must acknowledge that our own social fabric has been damaged in recent years precisely over the Central American issues. Our society, indeed our Catholic community, has been divided, we believe unnecessarily so, in these last years because of divergent views about Central America and we acknowledge our need for reconciliation.

We urge the leaders of both our national parties to use the period leading up to the 1988 elections to construct a national consensus around the real challenges facing us in the hemisphere, not allowing deeper polarization to develop over issues of less central importance. We urge our fellow Catholics, whatever their political views, to consider how they might best bring moral perspectives to bear on the human anguish of today's Central America. We encourage their efforts to support the poor of Central America with humanitarian aid and development funds.

Conclusion

We offer these reflections as bishops, seeking to view these issues of public policy from the perspective of our faith and the social teachings of the church. We offer them as citizens, conscious of our responsibility to contribute according to our abilities to the formulation of ever more just and humane policies.

We renew our long-standing call for the pursuit of negotiation, peace and reconciliation at a time of great opportunity and danger for the region. There are signs of significant progress in the extraordinary efforts of the nations of Central America to fashion a regional peace accord and begin to carry it out. We especially applaud the efforts of Cardinal Obando y Bravo, Archbishop Rivera Damas and the other bishops of the region to mediate and advance the process of negotiations. But these efforts need to be actively supported, built upon and enlarged. They need the strong and persistent support of the United States. We ask our government to do everything possible to support regional efforts to turn from war to negotiations, from violations of human rights to respect for human freedom. Let us turn our energies and resources in the region from supplying weapons of war to building instruments of peace, from armed conflict to constructive negotiations on how peace might be established and freedom and democracy might be strengthened. Let us also together work to overcome the economic injustices which are still at the heart of so much conflict in this troubled region.

This year marks the 20th anniversary of the great development encyclical of Paul VI, Populorum Progressio. In commenting on that letter of his predecessor, Pope John Paul devoted this year's World Day of Peace message to the themes of development and solidarity, the keys for peace, and highlighted several of the same principles we have raised in our statement.

"The spirit of solidarity," John Paul insists, "is a spirit that is open to dialogue," one fruit of which can be regional agreements "to promote the common good and encourage bilateral negotiations." Nations must be free to grow and develop as equal partners. "Seeking economic, military or political superiority at the expense of the rights of other nations places in jeopardy any prospects for true development or true peace." Among the great problems facing us today, the pope mentions the developing world's external debt and the crucial problem of disarmament, noting the serious threats to world peace presented by "current East-West tensions and North-South inequalities." "All states have responsibility for world peace and this peace cannot be ensured until a security based on arms is gradually replaced with a security based on the solidarity of the human family."

We believe that peace is possible, that peace in Central America can and must be built up through dialogue and the processes of political rather than military activities, and that it must be sustained by the solidarity of the other nations, including the needed economic assistance that the wealthier countries can provide.

We ask God's blessings on the suffering people of Central America, especially those most affected by the years of crisis, the refugees, the wounded, the bereaved. In this year of Mary, we ask Our Lady of the Americas to watch over all who suffer for, and who work for, peace in Central America.

REF: SANTIAGO 8722

1. - C - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY. RICARDO GARCIA, WORRIED ABOUT WHAT THE US MAY DO ON SAL III AND FRUSTRATED OVER WHAT HE CONSIDERS UNHELPFUL UN VOTES, MAKES ANOTHER PLEA DECEMBER 3 FOR SUPPORT FOR THOSE IN CHILE WHO ARE WORKING FOR CHANGE. END SUMMARY.

3. THE MOST INTENSE PART OF MY HOUR LONG CONVERSATION WITH FOREIGN MINISTER GARCIA DECEMBER 3 (HELD AT HIS REQUEST AT THE DIPLOMATIC ACADEMY AND NOT AT THE FOREIGN MINISTRY) WAS ON SAL III. GARCIA SAID HE WANTED TO KNOW WHAT WE WERE UP TO, SINCE HE HAD HEARD THAT WE WERE NOT CONCERNED ABOUT THE "TECHNICAL (ECONOMIC)" ASPECTS OF THE LOAN NOR EVEN THE HUMAN RIGHTS OR ADVANCE TOWARD DEMOCRACY ELEMENTS. RATHER, ACCORDING TO HIS INFORMATION, THE US WAS TAKING A PURELY "POLITICAL" APPROACH DESIGNED TO COMPLICATE THE INSTITUTIONAL TRANSITION IN CHILE. I TOLD HIM HE WAS

CORRECT IN STATING WE HAD NO TECHNICAL PROBLEMS AND REMINDED HIM OF FINANCE MIN. BUCHI'S COMPLAINT THAT WE WERE EVEN TOO LOUD IN OUR PRAISES OF CHILEAN ECONOMIC ACCOMPLISHMENTS. HE WAS WRONG, HOWEVER, IN THINKING WE HAD NO CONCERNS ON HUMAN RIGHTS OR DEMOCRACY; AND OF COURSE, THERE WERE "POLITICAL" MATTERS. I THEN

REVIEWED FOR HIM OUR EXISTING LEGISLATION AND PARTICULARLY THE DISCONTENT IN THE CONGRESS LAST YEAR FOLLOWING OUR ABSTENTION ON SAL II AND OUR NEGATIVE VOTE IN THE UNGA ON THE CHILE HUMAN RIGHTS RESOLUTION. IN THAT SENSE, WE HAD A VERY "POLITICAL" CONTEXT IN WHICH TO MAKE OUR DECISIONS AND HAD TO WEIGH CAREFULLY WHAT WOULD HELP AND WHAT WOULD COMPLICATE OUR INTERESTS IN CHILE. TO THAT END, WE WERE ALSO CONSULTING WITH OTHER COUNTRIES REPRESENTED ON THE BOARD.

4. GARCIA RESPONDED THAT THERE WOULD BE A LOT OF DIFFERENCE BETWEEN WHETHER WE TOOK THE LEAD OR, AS HE CLAIMED WAS THE CASE LAST YEAR, "LET THE LOAN GO THROUGH." I COMMENTED THAT GIVEN THE CONGRESSIONAL SITUATION, OUR CHOICE WAS SUCH THAT WE COULD NOT VOTE IN FAVOR AND THAT THE OPINIONS OF OTHER COUNTRIES WOULD INFLUENCE US AS MUCH AS OURS WOULD THEIRS; BUT THAT IN ANY CASE WHAT I DID KNOW WAS THAT NO DECISION HAD YET BEEN MADE. GARCIA THEN USED THE EXAMPLE OF HELPING BY "NEGATIVE" AS COMPARED TO "POSITIVE" MEANS. THE SAL ASIDE, HE SAID WORKING AGAINST A CERTAIN ACTION COULD HAVE SOME RESULTS, AND EXPLANATIONS COULD BE MADE TO SOFTEN THE IMPACT OF THE NEGATIVE STEPS; SIMILARLY POSITIVE STEPS COULD BE TAKEN, WITH EXPLANATIONS AS TO THE RESERVATIONS ONE MIGHT HAVE. IN THE LATTER CASE, THAT SORT OF POSITIVE ACTION COULD ENCOURAGE OTHER POSITIVE STEPS WITHIN CHILE; THE "NEGATIVE"

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

APPROACH WAS NOT LIKELY TO. I SAID THAT HE HAD TO FACTOR IN THE ESSENTIAL ELEMENT THAT WE WERE NOT WORKING IN A VACUUM AND THAT OUR ABILITY TO BE MORE "POSITIVE" REQUIRED SOME "POSITIVE" CHILEAN ACTIONS TO WHICH WE COULD RESPOND AND THOSE WERE OFTEN NOT FORTHCOMING. GARCIA SAID WE HAD TO REMEMBER THAT THE "POSITIVE" APPROACH WAS THE ONE THAT WOULD HELP THOSE WHO WERE WORKING FOR CHANGE, WHEREAS THE "NEGATIVE" ONE MADE THEIR LOT MORE DIFFICULT. AT THIS POINT GARCIA HAD TO LEAVE, BUT ASKED ME TO CALL HIM BEFORE HE GOES TO QUITO FOR THE SOUTH PACIFIC FOREIGN MINISTERS MEETING DECEMBER 8 IF THERE WAS ANYTHING I COULD TELL HIM ON THE SAL. HE SAID IN ANY CASE HE WOULD CALL ME SOON AFTER HE RETURNED ON THE 11TH SO WE COULD CONTINUE TALKING ABOUT MUTUALLY REINFORCING ACTIONS, A BENEFICIAL RATHER THAN A VICIOUS CIRCLE OF ACTIONS.

5. EARLIER HE HAD EXPRESSED HIS FRUSTRATIONS WITH THE

UNGA VOTE ON HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE BECAUSE THE MEXICAN RESOLUTION HAD ALMOST COMPLETELY IGNORED THE VOLIO REPORT. HE REGRETTED WE HAD NOT VOTED AGAINST THE RESOLUTION. I TOLD HIM WE WERE NOT HAPPY WITH MUCH OF IT, IN PART BECAUSE VOLIO'S RECOMMENDATIONS WERE NOT GIVEN SUFFICIENT WEIGHT, BUT ALSO THAT WE FELT THERE WERE STILL SERIOUS HUMAN RIGHTS PROBLEMS IN CHILE. HE ASKED ME AT THAT POINT ABOUT OUR OWN ANNUAL REPORT, WHICH HE CALLED MORE IMPORTANT IN TERMS OF ITS IMPACT THAN VOLIO'S. AFTER OUTLINING THE PROCESS FOR HIM, I SAID IN OUR JUDGMENT THERE HAD BEEN

6. ON THE SUBJECT OF THE INCREASE IN DEATH THREATS, LIKE THOSE DIRECTED AT GROUPS OF ACTORS, GARCIA SAID HE WONDERED WHETHER THE THREATS MIGHT NOT BE STAGED

BY THE FAR LEFT, BUT NOTED HE WAS VERY WORRIED LEST ANY INCIDENT SHOULD TAKE PLACE BECAUSE OF THE STORM IT WOULD CAUSE. WHEN I ASKED WHY THE GOVERNMENT COULDN'T MAKE A FORMAL STATEMENT CONDEMNING SUCH CONFIDENTIAL

THREATS NO MATTER WHERE THEY CAME FROM,HE SAID HE HAD ALREADY MADE THE SUGGESTION; BECAUSE HE FELT A FOREIGN MINISTRY STATEMENT WASN'T ENOUGH, BUT HE DIDN'T KNOW IF HIS RECOMMENDATION WOULD BE ACCEPTED. HE ALSO SAID HE HAD BEEN THE ONE TO PERSUADE THE MILITARY PROSECUTOR TO ALLOW THE ICRC TO VISIT THE YOUNG WOMAN WHO HAS BEEN KEPT IN CONTINUOUS IN-COMMUNICADO STATUS FOR THE PAST MONTH BY MILITARY PROSECUTOR TORRES.

8. EARLIER IN THE CONVERSATION HE MADE TWO NICARAGUAN RELATED ALLUSIONS:

A. ORTEGA AT THE OAS REMINDED HIM OF THE STYLE OF ORATORY CHARACTERISTIC OF THE ALLENDE PERIOD IN CHILE, APPEARING TO BE WEAK AND DEFENSELESS AND BLAMING OUT-

SIDE EVIL FORCES;

B. HE COMPLAINED ABOUT THE AMENDMENT OFFERED BY SEN. HARKIN TO PROVIDE FUNDS FOR THE NATIONAL ENDOWMENT TO PROMOTE DEMOCRACY IN CHILE AS BEING THE EQUIVALENT OF THE U.S. SENDING ARMS TO THE CONTRAS IN NICARAGUA, AS IF WE HAD TO BALANCE OFF OUR POLICIES THERE BY TEACHING CHILEANS ABOUT DEMOCRACY. BEFORE HIS LAST TRIP TO THE U.S. FOR THE OAS, I HAD URGED HIM TO TALK TO MEMBERS OF CONGRESS(BUT HE SAID HIS SCHEDULE DID NOT ALLOW HIM TO DO THAT). HAD HE DONE SO HE MIGHT HAVE UNDERSTOOD BETTER SOME OF THE PREOCCUPATIONS ABOUT CHILE IN THE U.S.

9. COMMENT: FOR THE SECOND TIME IN SEVERAL MONTHS GARCIA HAS SOUGHT TO CONVEY A PLEA FOR SUPPORTING THE "GOOD GUYS" BY TAKING IT EASY ON SOME OF OUR "CONCERNS." WHAT HE HAS YET TO DO IS TALK ABOUT WHAT THE QUIDS AND QUOS WOULD BE, THOUGH THAT MAY BE WHAT HE HAS IN MIND FOR OUR NEXT MEETING. IT IS A VERSION OF DEL VALLE'S "HAVE FAITH" APPEAL, WITH THE EXCEPTION THAT GARCIA IS MORE CONVINCING. WITH REGARD TO THE CARRENO CASE, JUDGING FROM STATEMENTS ALSO MADE BY INTERIOR MINISTER FERNANDEZ, THE GOVERNMENT SEEMS TO HAVE DECIDED TO BLOW UP THE THREAT OF THE RODRIGUEZ FRONT (FPMR) STILL MORE, AFTER HAVING MAINTAINED FOR YEARS THAT PINOCHET'S

Dear Mr. Fox:

Please find enclosed a letter and information I received from my constituent, [redacted], regarding various human rights cases in Chile. As you will note, [redacted] requested that I bring these cases to the Department of State's attention.

I would appreciate it if you would provide me with any information you may have regarding this matter so that I can satisfactorily respond to [redacted].

Thank you for your assistance with this issue.

E.O.12356: DECL: OADR
TAGS: UNGA, UNHRC, PHUM, PREL, CI, US
SUBJECT: 42ND UNGA: THIRD COMMITTEE: ADOPTION
-- OF RESOLUTION ON CHILE

1. (U) AS REPORTED SEPTELS, THE UNGA'S THIRD COMMITTEE (SOCIAL AND HUMANITARIAN AFFAIRS) ADOPTED ON NOVEMBER 27 A RESOLUTION ENTITLED "SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS IN CHILE." THE RESOLUTION WAS PASSED BY A VOTE OF 81-5-47(U.S.). THE U.S. ABSTENTION WAS A MARKED DEPARTURE FROM OUR LONG-STANDING PRACTICE OF CASTING NEGATIVE VOTES ON THE GA RESOLUTION DEALING WITH THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE. THE RESOLUTION WAS SPONSORED BY: ALGERIA, AUSTRALIA, AUSTRIA, CUBA, DENMARK, FRANCE, GREECE, ITALY, LUXUMBOURG, MEXICO, NETHERLANDS, NORWAY, PORTUGAL, SPAIN, SWEDEN, AND YUGOSLAVIA.

2. (U) THE VOTES WERE CAST AS FOLLOWS:

4. (C) AS EXPECTED, OUR SWITCH TO ABSTENTION WAS BOTH HAILED AND CONDEMNED. THE WESTERN EUROPEANS WERE PARTICULARLY PLEASED WITH OUR CHANGED VOTE. WE MADE CLEAR, HOWEVER, THAT OUR ABSTENTION DID NOT MEAN A CHANGE IN OUR POLICY: WE HAD ALWAYS BEEN CONCERNED ABOUT THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE BUT THE UNBALANCED NATURE OF THE GA TEXTS ON CHILE HAD PREVENTED US FROM EXPRESSING THAT CONCERN WITH OUR VOTES. THE EUROPEANS SEEMED INTERESTED IN WHETHER OUR ABSTENTION WAS A "FRUSTRATED YES" OR A "FRUSTRATED NO." WE EXPLAINED THAT IT WAS BOTH: THE TEXT WAS TOO UNBALANCED FOR A 'YES' BUT CONTAINED ENOUGH TRUTH

TO PREVENT A 'NO'.

5. (C) THE CHILEAN DELEGATION WASTED NO TIME IN LETTING US KNOW THAT THEY WERE EXTREMELY DISPLEASED WITH OUR VOTE CALLING IT A "GRAVE ERROR." THE CHILEAN COUNSELLOR TOLD US THAT ONCE AGAIN THE U.S. HAD FAILED TO DISTINGUISH ITS ENEMIES FROM ITS FRIENDS.

6. (C) THE MEXICAN DELEGATION, THE PRINCIPAL SPONSORS OF THE RESOLUTION ON CHILE, SEEMED MODERATELY PLEASED WITH OUR MOVE TO AN ABSTENTION. MEXICAN SRE IO DIRECTOR MONTANO TOLD US, HOWEVER, THAT GIVEN THE CONCESSIONS HE HAD

SUBJ: NDI SEMINAR ON ELECTORAL PROCESSES; FUND-RAISING FOR FREE ELECTIONS CAMPAIGN

1. (U) ON DECEMBER 2 THE NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTE (NDI) CONCLUDED A FOUR-DAY SEMINAR ON ELECTORAL PROCESSES AND DEMOCRACY WHICH IT HAD CONDUCTED FOR THE FREE ELECTIONS MOVEMENT (FEM) IN SANTIAGO. THE SEMINAR CALLED "ACTION THROUGH THE VOTE", BROUGHT TOGETHER OVER 250 LOCAL ORGANIZERS AND CAMPAIGN DIRECTORS WITH 20 INTERNATIONAL EXPERTS IN CAMPAIGN ORGANIZATION, POLLING AND MEDIA FROM THE U.S., WEST GERMANY, CANADA, THE PHILIPPINES, SPAIN AND VENEZUELA. IT WAS CO-SPONSORED BY CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC ORIENTED "EDITORIAL ACONCAGUA" AND SOCIALIST THINK TANK "VECTOR". IN A PRESS CONFERENCE FOLLOWING THE SEMINAR, FEM COORDINATOR GENARO ARRIAGADA ANNOUNCED A

2. (C) IN A BREAKFAST MEETING WITH THE AMBASSADOR, DCM AND POLOFFS, NDI PARTICIPANTS SAID THEY THOUGHT THE CONFERENCE HAD ACHIEVED ITS OBJECTIVE OF FOSTERING A GREATER SENSE OF ELAN AND IMPARTING SPECIFIC TECHNICAL SKILLS TO LEADERS AND ACTIVISTS. THEY FELT THAT ARRIAGADA HAD EFFECTIVELY MOLDED TOGETHER THE THREE DIFFERENT CURRENTS OF THE FEM, SERGIO MOLINA'S GROUP OF NOTABLES, THE POLITICAL PARTIES GROUP (COPPEL) HEADED BY ANDRES ZALDIVAR, AND THE LEFTIST COMMITTEE (CIEL) LED BY RICARDO LAGOS. THEY WERE IMPRESSED BY THE MOTIVATION AND ENTHUSIASM SHOWN BY THE VOLUNTEERS, DESPITE THEIR LACK OF POLITICAL EXPERIENCE. AN APPEALING CAMPAIGN SONG HAS BEEN TAPED. THE CAMPAIGN HAS SHOWN A GREAT DEAL OR ORGANIZATIONAL CAPABILITY, AND ITS LEADERS KNOW HOW TO TAP THE NECESSARY EXPERTISE. THE PARTICIPANTS ALSO FELT THE SESSIONS WERE VERY USEFUL IN GIVING FEM WORKERS FROM ALL OVER CHILE A SENSE THAT THEY WERE NOT ISOLATED.

3. (C) THEY ARE DEEPLY WORRIED, HOWEVER, ABOUT THE LACK OF FINANCIAL RESOURCES. ARRIAGADA'S OPERATION HAS BEEN FUNCTIONING ON VERY LITTLE FUNDS, WITH ONLY ONE TELEPHONE AND WITH COMMITMENTS FOR SOME 600,000 DOLLARS FROM

WESTERN EUROPEAN PARTIES WHICH HAVE NOT YET MATERIALIZED. IN A FEW WEEKS IT MAY RUN COMPLETELY DRY. "PEOPLE IN THE FIELD HAVE BEEN PUMPED UP BUT THEY ARE CRYING FOR MATERIALS, DIRECTION, AND LEADERS TO WORK WITH," SAID NDI STAFFER PAT KEEFER. THE DELAY IN AID FUNDING TO THE CIVITAS OPERATION HAS HURT THE CREDIBILITY OF PROJECT LEADER MONICA JIMENEZ AND INTENSIFIED CONCERN ABOUT PROSPECTS FOR THE VOTER REGISTRATION DRIVE. (NATIONAL ELECTORAL SERVICE DIRECTOR JUAN IGNACIO GARCIA TOLD NDI REPRESENTATIVES THAT HE NOTED THAT THE FEM HAD SCALED DOWN ITS GOALS SINCE LAST SEPTEMBER. HE ADDED THAT AT CURRENT RATES OF ENROLLMENT THE SERVICE WOULD BE LUCKY TO REGISTER FOUR MILLION VOTERS BY MARCH 1, 1988.) IF MAJOR FINANCIAL SUPPORT IS NOT FORTHCOMING SHORTLY, THE FREE ELECTIONS DRIVE MAY WELL LOSE MUCH OF ITS MOMENTUM AND FALL PREY TO FACTIONALISM.

4. (C) AFTER SEEKING ASSURANCE THAT THE CHARGES OF FOREIGN ASSISTANCE WOULD NOT SERIOUSLY DAMAGE THE CAMPAIGN, THE NDI LEADERS SAID THEY WERE WILLING TO TRY TO RAISE SEPARATE FUNDS FOR THE FEM, PERHAPS USING THE LUGAR-KENNEDY-CARTER-FORD FREE ELECTIONS COMMITTEE WHICH SHOULD.SOON BE ACTIVATED.

APPENDIX 1

Dr. Ramiro OLIVARES SANHUEZA

Dr. Olivares, 29 years' old, is a member of the medical team of the Vicaria de la Solidaridad. The following extracts are taken from statements by two of his colleagues.

1.

"Ramiro is a tall, thin man, ... with a thick black beard that cannot hide his youth nor his easy and contagious smile. Easy to get on with, he dedicates himself to his profession and patients with a genuine commitment, as a true professional.

In an atmosphere where the suffering caused by human rights abuse is a daily occurence, it is easy to feel dejected, depressed, exhausted, impotent - but with him it is difficult to see any of these signs. On the contrary, he carries out his work with great care and optimism, giving the best of himself.

Little has changed about him during this painful and unjust imprisonment for doing what had to be done, for adhering to the medical ethics of a well-trained doctor.

When we visit him in prison as when we have seen him at work, the idea that he should be being tried as a terrorist seems absurd ...

We want him to be freed"

Spanish text

Ramiro es un muchacho alto delgado, ... a quien una barba negra y espesa no le oculta su juventud, ni su sonrisa fácil y contagiosa. De trato fácil, confiado, y sin rebuscamiento se entrega a su profesión y a sus pacientes con un compromiso genuino, de auténtico profesional.

En un medio donde el dolor de la trasgresión a los derechos humanos del hombre es el pan cotidiano, no cuesta mucho sentirse abatido, deprimido, agobiado, impotente, pero en el cuesta ver alguna de estas manifestaciones; por el contrario asume su tarea con pausa, con optimismo ofreciendo lo mejor de si.

Poco en él ha cambiado en esta dolorosa experiencia de injusto encarcelamiento, por hacer lo que había que hacer, por ceñirse a la accion ética de un médico bien formado.

Cuando lo visitamos en la cárcel como cuando le hemos visto trabajar, resulta tan absurda la idea de que sea un procesado por terrorista...

... Le queremos libre"

"I met Ramiro some years ago at a time of personal growth. Out of this grew the feelings of esteem, mutual respect, affection and friendship.

Later he joined the Medical Team of the Vicaria where he showed other facets of his personality: his great capacity for work and his social, human and professional commitment to those who had been badly affected by the [illegible].

loday, Ramiro is in prison for having attended a wounded person that is for honouring to the Hippocratic Oath, for abiding by the ethical code of every doctor ..."

Spanish text

"Conoci a Ramiro hace años en una instancia de crecimiento y desarrollo. De alli, fue naciendo la estima, el respeto mutuo, el afecto, la amistad.

Más tarde se integra al Equipo de Salud de la Vicaria y va mostrando otras facetas de su personalidad: su enorme espiritu de trabajo y su compromiso social, humano y profesional con los dañados por la represion de la dictadura.

Hoy Ramiro está encarcelado por atender a un herido, o sea por cumplir con el juramento Hipocrático, por cumplir con el código ético de todo médico..."

The case so far:-

- 6 May 1986 Dr. Olivares and Gustavo Villalobos went before the III military prosecutor (fiscal militar), Captain Luis Acevedo, who ordered their immediate arrest. They were imprisoned first in the Santiago Penitentiary (Penitenciaria) before being transferred to the Santiago Public Prison (Carcel Publica);

- 7 May, a special military prosecutor (fiscal militar ad-hoc), Fernando Torres, appointed to take over case from Luis Acevedo;

- defence lawyers from the Vicaria presented a recurso de amparo (similar to writ of habeas corpus) against the incommunicado detention order;

- both men charged by Fiscal Torres under Article 6 of the Arms Control Law, (Ley de Control de Armas) that applies to those who "organize, belong to, finance, assist, instruct, or incite or encourage the creation and functioning of, private militias, combat groups, or militarily organized parties ..."

- defence lawyers presented a recurso de queja (complaint) against the charges before the military appeals court (Corte Marcial), which was turned down. The military prosecutor in charge of the case, Fiscal Torres, was asked to modify the criteria as the charges covered by the Arms Control Law did not apply in this case. A complaint was presented before the military appeals court, which was unanimously turned down by the 5-member court, who sustained that the crime committed by Dr. Olivares and Gustavo Villalobos corresponded to Article 6 of the Arms Control Law. An appeal was lodged with the Supreme Court against this decision

- 7 August 1986, Ramiro Olivares and Gustavo Villalobos were released on bail following the Supreme Court's ruling. The same court, however, maintained the criteria that the deeds fell within the domain of art. 6 of the Arms Control Law;

- 11 December, charges modified by military prosecutor, Fiscal Torres - upgraded to charges covered by Anti-terrorist Law Ley Antiterrorista.

- 12 December, Ramiro Olivares arrested for the second time by members of Investigaciones (criminal investigations squad) and taken before Fiscal Torres. He was informed that the charges against him had been modified and that he now faced charges under the Anti-terrorist Law. Lawyers appealed against this decision which was, however, confirmed by the military appeals court (Corte Marcial). He was immediately transferred to the Penitenciaria and then to the Anexo Capuchinos.

- December 86 - March 87: legal representations against the new charges are rejected by the higher courts.

The trial is still in the sumario (investigation) stage and the defence lawyers have had no access to the trial documents.

The following are some of the main arguments advanced by the defence lawyers in his case:-

- Hugo Gómez arrived at the Vicaria where he was treated by Dr Olivares for his injuries - no attempt had been made to treat him in a clandestine way - a normal medical file had been opened for him. This, they suggested, confirms that their intention had been to provide professional services in accordance with ethical practice rather than any desire to knowingly aid the armed opposition.

- Gómez gave his name and was accompanied by his sister and wife - giving the impression that he was not attempting to hide anything;

- Dr. Olivares and Hugo Gomáz had never met before that day nor since until they were confronted in court;

- Dr. Olivares never met nor had any dealings with the other people on trial for taking part in the incident (at the bakery) that resulted in the death of the policeman.

- following the rearrest of Dr. Olivares on 12 December, lawyers from the Legal Department of the Vicaria held a press conference during which they stated that since the release on bail of the five men in the summer "absolutely nothing had happened" that could warrant the modification of the charges against Ramiro Olivares - ("Entre eso y ahora no he pasado nada; absolutamente nada"). They added that on several occasions the higher courts had upheld the military prosecutor's original decision to bring charges under article 8 of the Arms Control Law.

Governor Charles Robb and I met privately with President Pinochet at the La Moneda, the presidential palace in Santiago. (We were escorted to La Moneda by U.S. Ambassador Harry Barnes and his political counsellor John Keane; neither, however, accompanied us in the meeting -- Barnes went on to the Embassy and Keane waited in the anteroom).

We were met at the door of the President's office by Pinochet and a bevy of print and television mini-cam photographers. Pinochet was dressed in a well-tailored grey suit, white shirt with red and blue geometrically patterned tie held down with an oversized pearl tie tack, light grey translucent socks and black loafers. He shook hands with both of us in turn, immediately making and holding eye contact, as if to get an initial read on our characters. He then escorted Governor Robb to one of two green textile upholstered seats to the right of his own; I occupied the other. A fourth chair, about fifteen feet removed from the President's, was immediately and silently occupied by another civilian-suited man who was not introduced but later was referred to as "the general". On the wall behind "the general" and President Pinochet was a magnificent tapestry emblazoned at the bottom with the ubiquitous Chilean motto: Por La Rason o La Fuerza. Immediately behind Pinochet's chair was a table, which was something of an impromptu altar holding a crucifix, a small triptich depicting the Virgin, and an open Bible posed on a stand. Above the stand were two large enframed medallions of Pope Paul. The coffee table in front of our chairs was occupied by an oversized book covered with a bronzed image of the Pope's profile. The President's chair was a less than modest wooden affair elevated above the chairs in which Robb and I sat. He occupied it comfortably, legs uncrossed, arms on the chair arms, unblinking eyes focussed on his American interlocutor. Martial music played in the background as the guard changed in the plaza outside the building.

Governor Robb leaned forward in his chair and spoke through the translator seated between him and Pinochet. "I want to thank you, Mr. President, for receiving me. I appear to have come down with a virus and apologize for being late for this meeting. This is my first visit to Chile, though my wife was here some twenty years ago. I am here to learn firsthand about your country. One reads many things about you and about Chile. I prefer to ascertain the facts firsthand. I should tell you, Mr. President, that like you I am a military man, though I cannot claim your depth of experience. I have served in the Marines and the Marine reserves for thirty-one years. And like you, I share a concern about the focus of communism ...

Pinochet cut in. Leaning forward, he began a lecture in a high, nasal voice. "Communism," he said, "is a driving force in the world. The objective of communism is to dominate the world. This has been true throughout history and is unrelenting. It goes back to Peter the Great (sic) and Trotsky and Lenin and Stalin. It has infected the world, even, if my guest will permit me, your own country, your own Senate. It is a problem in Mexico and in this hemisphere. We must fight against communism."

CONFIDENTIAL

Governor Robb said that the President is "acknowledged world-wide as a forceful leader." He wondered about the President's age and his continued stamina, and how the President could project into the future.

Pinochet replied: "I am not young but I have much energy. Not because I am personally strong or even because the Chilean public makes me strong." He pointed to the Bible and crucifix behind him. "I get my energy, my strength, from God. I get my energy from the Bible."

He went on to explain that Chile would use its strength to fight communism. Chileans are a "strong people. After all, the people of Chile fought off the Spanish for 200 years. With only 10 million people we held off the Argentines who had 20 million." Chile had had a brush with communism in modern history, internally. "Allende was a communist effort to undermine Chile. The Soviets have spent $200 million to undermine me. But they have failed. And they will fail."

Governor Robb said that "again, one gets information from the press and others which may not always be accurate. I share with you a concern for communism. And I share a concern for the future of democracy and freedom. Could you share with us your thoughts on achieving democracy?"

Pinochet explained that the Constitution (of 1980) laid out the process. "The Constitution was voted on and approved by a majority, by 66.4% of the electorate. We will stick with it. It is the law of the land."

Governor Robb asked if President Pinochet thought he would win the plebiscite. His reply was: "Speaking between military men, a general never enters into a battle he chooses to lose." He knocked on the wooden arm of his chair. "When I am President ..." er, "if I am President ..." The general seated with us interrupted and added gratuitously "no hay ni un duda general" (this went untranslated).

Governor Robb then asked: "if you were to lose the plebiscite, would you then run for the presidency as a civilian (in the ensuing election)?" Pinochet: "No, it is against the Constitution. It cannot be done. This is the law." He went on, "as to whether I am a civilian, I am a civilian. I have achieved the highest civilian position in the land. Eisenhower did the same thing. He was a general until he was elected president. Then he was a civilian. Do you know how many cabinet members I have?"

Robb: "No sir, I don't."

Pinochet: "Eighteen. Do you know how many are civilians?"

Robb: "No."

Pinochet: "Fourteen. Only four wear uniforms. This is a civilian government." Then, grinning and waving his hand as though to brush something aside: "I even have women in my government."

President Pinochet noted that "we cannot have a fake election. We must follow the law of the Constitution. To pull off a fake election would fail in Chile. Our elections are always honest." He noted that once, "after Allende, we found that some 50,000 voters had voted 3 or 4 times. We have now made this impossible through a reliable system of computers."

DECLASSIFIED

Governor Robb noted in an attempt at humor that "even in the United States, in Mr. Fisher's state of Texas, there have been instances of vote manipulation." Pinochet did not smile. "That is because there are so many Mexicans there," he said.

Governor Robb then asked "about your position on human rights. What can you tell me, Mr. President, that would assure your critics that there are human rights in Chile? I understand that one or two cases have been prosecuted by the government. Are you confident that you are making progress here?"

Pinochet turned to the "the general." "There is one case? I am unaware of it." Then to Robb: "What are human rights? We have built 750,000 homes for Chileans. We have elevated the education, health, clothing, nutrition for our people. This is human rights." He went on. "You know, I am aware of outside criticisms. But we are indifferent to outside pressures. We had a study done by outside experts who told us that for $10 million we could improve our image abroad, stressing the positive things about our government. Ten million dollars! Do you realize how many houses can be built for $10 million? I would rather spend it here."

Robb asked if Pinochet would accept an international body to investigate the human rights situation. Pinochet: "they have been here. The most recent is the United Nations group that has been here for three years. Three years of investigation but there is nothing concrete. All they do is accent the bad; they never say anything about the good. Let me ask something. What about Mexico? Eh? The earthquake in Mexico unearthed graveyards of people who had been eliminated by their government. Yet the North Americans do nothing about it. You know even your ally during the second world war had a terrible record on human rights."

"And that is another thing. We have a free economy. We had a choice. We could have a government-dominated economy where every businessman, in effect, would be a soldier of the state." He held out an imaginary rifle. "Or we could have an unrestricted economy where people are subject to competition and free to choose. We have the second form. That is a human right. Stalin killed 10 million entrepreneurs."

Governor Robb shifted gears: "How would the President characterize Chile's relations with the United States?"

Pinochet shrugged and replied: "normal a baja (normal to low)." He went on "ever since the first day of independence, when your first envoy arrived, there have been problems..." He suggested that today there were communists in the U.S. government. Specifically, he singled out "Sol Linowitz, who talks like a democrat but thinks like a communist (he pointed to and tapped his head) and Mark Shneider (a Kennedy aide who was a State Department human rights specialist). And I cannot understand or get along with your Ambassador (Barnes)." He went on to say that he had learned about American Ambassadors when he read about Diem (in Vietnam), then muttered something (which I did not catch in Spanish nor in the English translation) about reading a book from page 63 onward.

Governor Robb said that he understood the problem of communism "but I want to make clear, Mr. President, that while maybe 3% of our population are communists, we would not characterize the people you referred to in that light."

DECLASSIFIED

Pinochet backed off slightly. "You have 3%. In Chile, we have 33%. So my perspective is different. You know, there are even communists in my government — I am aware of it — though I haven't found them. But have you read Lenin's book on the U.S.? Have you read Gramschi (Italian Marxist author)? You should read them, especially Gramschi."

Governor Robb thanked the President for his time. He then asked me if I had any questions of Pinochet. I replied in the negative. Robb then repeated to President Pinochet his apologies for having a fever and expressed hope that he had not transmitted it to the President. We stood up. I pointed to the book on the coffee table and asked the President if this had been a gift from the Pope. The President guided me to his altar table. "Yes, and this too was a gift from the Holy Father." He pointed to the two large framed medallions and touched the Bible. I then asked "and Mr. President, did you discuss the theme of communism with the Holy Father?" "Yes," came the reply, then a pause and a smile, "I also discussed capitalism with him."

We walked to the door. Robb stopped and asked one last question: "Mr. President, who of the neighboring countries would you say is your closest ally?"

Pinochet stopped and thought. Then he said, "Peru is a disorganized mess. Brazil — disorganized. Uruguay has been infiltrated from below by the Tumpamaros. And Argentina..." He simply held out his arms and hands and crossed them back and forth without further comment.

Observations

Our visit to Chile was brief, only lasting one full day. Yet we covered a lot of ground. In addition to Pinochet we met separately with his Interior Minister (Sergio Fernandez, who designed the constitutional and plebiscite structure and is now preparing the plebiscite), Christian Democratic Party President Patricio Alwin and two lawyers from the Vicariate of Solidarity. We lunched collectively with Edgardo Boeninger (V.P. of the Christian Democrats), Heraldo Munoz (of the Socialist Party), Andres Allamand (V.P. of the rightist Renovacion Nacional), Efraiso Friedman (a politically liberal businessman formerly of the National Party) and Francisco Orrego (a thoughtful rightist who was formerly Ambassador to Britain and is now on the University of Chile Advisory Council). Separately Nancy and I had dinner with the Francisco Tomics (his father lost to Allende in the upset Presidential election of 1970), the Ignacio Walkers (he is a Princeton Ph.D. who is rapidly rising as an opposition political economist; she is Chile's counterpart to Joan Baez — the country's most prominent politically active folk singer and the producer of Chile's most popular children's television show) and Sebastian and _____ _____ (he is a markedly successful merchant banker who has also developed a popular t.v. show which discusses socio-political issues; she works as a family counsellor in the barrios of Santiago). Throughout the day, we were ably guided and tutored by U.S. Ambassador Barnes and his earnest and well informed political counsellor John Keane.

While our exposure was admittedly brief, it confirmed in my mind the validity of the analogy that posits that in the lead-up to the Chilean plebiscite, there are three elements: "solids," which are represented by the Pinochet government and the Communists and non-democratic Socialists; "liquids," personified by the Christian Democrats and the numerous center-right and center-left parties; and "gas," which is the entrepreneurial class.

UNCLASSIFIED

Despite his obsession with communism and his new-found religious fanaticism, Pinochet cannot be discussed as an opera buffo dictator. His Administration may, indeed, be an incarnation of the national personality suggested by the credo "Por La Rason o La Fuerza." His free market economic policies are entirely reasonable and, indeed, admirable. They work. Chile's entrepreneurial community is perhaps as efficient and productive as any in the Western World. Its economic infrastructure, from its subway system to its airlines to its shipping, mining, banking and manufacturing is certainly the most efficient in Latin America. Pinochet is correct in his assertion that Chile has not succumbed to the economic and social "disorganization" of Peru, Argentina, Uruguay, Mexico and Brazil.

A counterbalance to his use of reasonable economic measures is his employment of fuerza in the social sector. To be fair, one has to acknowledge that improvements in housing, declines in infant mortality and other social improvements, including the widely acknowledged clean up by Junta member Stange of the carabineros or uniformed police, represent significant accomplishments on the human rights front. And, indeed, one can argue intelligently that by contrast, the consequences of Brazil's economic decline represents a more pervasively devastating violation of human rights than Pinochet's repressive social policy. Nevertheless, there is no question that human rights as we value them are being systematically violated in Chile.

Interior Minister Fernandez told us point-blank that we were exaggerating the influence of television on the electoral process "the viewer ratings of news or political events is insignificantly low...television is for entertainment in Chile, shows like Dallas..." and, besides, "there is coverage of opposition news on the (non-state owned) channels (e.g. the Catholic University network)." Yet I interviewed the host of a Catholic station show who said he had to pre-submit tapes to government censors who repeatedly blacked out any hint of opposition discussion. And the creator of the widely popular Chilean equivalent of Sesame Street was suddenly removed from the air when she declined Mrs. Pinochet's invitation to appear with her at a September 11 celebration.

There is convincing evidence of repressive excess. Most glaring among them is the case of 19 year-old Rodrigo Rojas de Negri whom credible witnesses claim was doused with flammable liquid and set afire by an army patrol as he sought to attend an opposition rally in July of 1986. We heard a series of less dramatic but still frightful allegations from the Vicariate of Solidarity lawyers. While some appeared to be examples of individual rather than systematic excess, there is no question in my mind that Pinochet condones the use of force to guarantee "discipline" and "order". His justification for use of force is the threat of communism; he has a phobia of Marxist-Leninism. He sees it encroaching on Chile from abroad and from within. It is fair to say that as with all Chilean political forces, the domestic Communists and non-democratic Socialist forces are understandably threatening to Pinochet's vision of the future. The opposition does not appear to have succeeded in "domesticating" these forces; the Communists heartily embrace the slogan "destroy the dictatorship by any means necessary." They appear tempted to armed insurrection yet they prefer to gamble on the plebiscite as an action forcing event. Edgardo Boeninger and other opposition leaders posit that the Communists and extreme left Socialists are hopeful Pinochet prevails and may, indeed, be deliberately and clandestinely thwarting the opposition's efforts. We did not meet with any of the hard left but my impression is that like Pinochet, they too are "solids," unrelenting in their perspective and modus operandi.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

As to the "liquids," it is clear that the democratic opposition is sloshing about, seeking (at least to date) unsuccessfully to reach a stable state. The Christian Democrats want to personify the opposition with a specific candidate. Most frequently mentioned is Edwardo Frei, Jr. But the other opposition parties are resisting. They point out the obvious drawbacks. One is the tactical problem articulated vociferously by Heraldo Munoz of the Socialist Party: "the problem is that if you name someone specifically, it provides someone to attack...it is best to focus the energy on attacking Pinochet while keeping the opposition amorphous." Others are less theoretical; they point out that the problem is that there are just too many ambitious democrats and none wish to give another the advantage. And while Frei seems to be emerging as the leading choice if a choice can be made, Mrs. Walker, who claims to know him well, told me that "he does not have a burning desire to be president, and you have to want it badly to prevail."

DECLASSIFIED

It is clear from our breakfast meeting with Patricio Alwin that the opposition is having financial problems with their campaign. He proudly points to the polls of urban areas which show Pinochet with only a 25-30% favorable rating. Yet he notes with dismay that 50% of the vote in Chile is rural and that Pinochet cleverly uses his appointive powers for alcaldes and other local office holders to buttress his campaign (and I learned from evangelist Congressman Daso Coimbra in Brazil, that Pinochet is directing "significant monies" into the Pentecostal churches in the barrios "which is greatly appreciated.") The opposition has been unable to raise significant monies internally to enable them to meet their goal of registering over 3.6 million presumably sympathetic voters.

It is here that the third element enters the analysis — the "gaseous" entrepreneurial class. The opposition desperately needs them, both symbolically as well as financially. But they seem to have disappeared into thin air. They have prospered under Pinochet. He leaves them alone and they have drawn on the Chilean work ethic to prosper beyond expectations in a free-enterprise environment. Pinochet reminds them all too often of the threat that had been imposed by Allende. And they are deeply concerned by the Christian Democrats' present economic platform. Small wonder that they have lost their enthusiasm for the democratic process.

One does not come away from Chile with a sense of optimism about the prospects for democracy. To be sure, it is not a closed case; there is much that can happen between now and next year, probably late summer, when the plebscite will be held. But my admittedly superficial impression is that there exists a very high probability Pinochet may well prevail at at least this step of the re-democratization process.

DECEMBER 11 1987

Dear Mr. Green:

This is in response to your inquiry concerning the arrest and imprisonment in Chile of Dr. Fanny Pollarolo, Dr. Alvaro Erazo and Dr. Eriberto Lira. Your inquiry was on behalf of your constituent [redacted].

These three doctors, who have all been released on bail, were charged with instigating support for the October 7th general strike in Chile. They were charged under a provision of the state security law that prohibits fomenting or inciting actions that may result in the impeding of free access to, or the destruction of, public property. Doctors Erazo and Lira were released within a few days of their arrest. Doctor Pollarolo was released on December 1st.

The United States Embassy in Santiago followed these cases and will monitor any future judicial actions related to them.

I hope this information is useful to you and your constituent. If we can be of further assistance, please do not hesitate to contact us.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

The Honorable Senator Riegle

Washington, D.C. 20510

Dear Senator Riegle:

I am writing to express my concern about Dr. Ramiro Olivares, a 29-year old medical doctor working with the Vicaria de la Solidaridad, a human rights organization in Chile. He was arrested on December 12, 1986 as a result of professional services he gave in late April and early May, 1986, to an injured man. He is currently in prison in Chile.

I respectfully ask you to request the Ambassador of Chile, Hernan Errazuriz, to raise the case of Dr. Olivares with the Chilean authorities and request his immediate and unconditional release.

Thank you.

3. CHILEAN PERMANENT REPRESENTATIVE PEDRO DAZA MET U.S. MISSION LATIN AMERICAN AREA ADVISOR AMBASSADOR ALBERTO PIEDRA ON DECEMBER 2 FOR A LENGTHY DISCUSSION OF THE U.S.

ABSTENTION ON THE RESOLUTION ON HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE, CHILE'S INTERNAL POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT, AND U.S - CHILE AND U.S. - LATIN AMERICA RELATIONS.

4. HUMAN RIGHTS AND THE CHILEAN POLITICAL PROCESS: DAZA EXPRESSED HIS DISAPPOINTMENT WITH THE U.S. MOVE FROM A NEGATIVE VOTE TO AN ABSTENTION ON MEXICO'S RESOLUTION ON THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE (REF A). HE SAID HIS GOVERNMENT COULD NOT UNDERSTAND WHY THE U.S. HAD NOT VOTED AGAINST THE RESOLUTION AS IT HAD IN PREVIOUS YEARS. DAZA DISCOUNTED THE U.S. CLAIM THAT THE TEXT OF THE RESOLUTION THIS YEAR WAS SOMEWHAT BETTER THAN THAT PUT FORTH PREVIOUSLY. HE SAID THE RESOLUTION WAS WORSE; IT DID NOT ACKNOWLEDGE THE FULL COOPERATION THE GOC HAD EXTENDED SPECIAL RAPPOUTEUR VOLIO. DAZA SAID THE RESOLUTION DID NOT REFLECT VOLIO'S REPORT WHICH HAD MENTIONED CHILE'S PROGRESS IN THE FIELD OF HUMAN RIGHTS.

5. DAZA OPENLY ACKNOWLEDGED THAT CHILE HAD MADE MISTAKES IN THE FIELD OF HUMAN RIGHTS, BUT ASSERTED THAT THE GOVERNMENT WAS ATTEMPTING TO RECTIFY THOSE ERRORS EVEN THOUGH THE INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY DID NOT SEEM WILLING TO LISTEN TO THE GOC'S PLEAS FOR PATIENCE AND UNDERSTANDING. HE SAID CHILE WAS DEFINETLY MOVING TOWARD DEMOCRACY AND WOULD HOLD FREE ELECTIONS -- THEY WOULD BE GENUINE ELECTIONS NOT MEXICAN - STYLE ELECTIONS. DAZA SAID IT WAS PARTICULARLY IRONIC THAT AMONG THE SPONSORS ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

OF THE RESOLUTION ON CHILE WERE COUNTRIES WITH SEVERELY FLAWED HUMAN RIGHTS RECORDS. HE WONDERED HOW A COUNTRY SUCH AS CUBA THAT HAD A LONG RECORD OF SERIOUS HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS COULD CO-SPONSOR A RESOLUTION ON HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE.

6. CHILE'S ECONOMY: DAZA TOLD PIEDRA THAT THE GOC'S ECONOMIC POLICY HAS BEEN A SUCCESS AND THAT IT FOLLOWED PRINCIPLES SUPPORTED AND PROMOTED BY THE REAGAN ADMINISTRATION. CHILE HAD MADE TREMENDOUS PROGRESS IN THE ECONOMIC SPHERE THAT WERE HARDLY EVER ACKNOWLEDGED IN CERTAIN INTERNATIONAL FORUMS. THE STATISTICS, HE SAID, SHOWED THAT SOUND GOC ECONOMIC POLICIES HAD BENEFITED ALL SECTORS OF CHILEAN SOCIETY. CHILE'S INTERNATIONAL DEBT HAD DIMINSIHED SUBSTANTIALLY AND SAVINGS AND INVESTMENTS WERE GROWING.

7. HE CONTRASTED CHILE'S ECONOMIC PERFORMANCE WITH THAT OF MOST OF THE REST OF LATIN AMERICA. THE DEBT BURDEN OF

OTHER LATIN COUNTRIES WAS MOUNTING. LATIN DEMOCRACIES, DESPITE HAVING RECEIVED LARGE AMOUNTS OF AID, WERE HAVING TREMENDOUS ECONOMIC DIFFICULTIES, SUCH AS HIGH RATES OF INFLATION AND UNEMPLOYMENT, AND WERE MAKING VERY LITTLE PROGRESS IN THE SOCIAL SPHERE. DAZA SAID THAT THIS POOR SOCIO-ECONOMIC PERFORMANCE DID NOT BODE WELL FOR DEMOCRACY IN LATIN AMERICA.

8. U.S. - CHILE RELATIONS: DAZA SPOKE VERY HIGHLY OF THE UNITED STATES SAYING IT WAS A COUNTRY TO BE ADMIRED AND IMITATED. HE EXPRESSED CONCERN ABOUT A NEGATIVE REACTION FROM THE CHILEAN PEOPLE OVER THE APPARENT CHANGE IN U.S. POLICY TOWARDS CHILE. HE SAID THAT THE U.S. SHOULD NOT BE MISLED BY PRESS REPORTS CLAIMING THAT THE MAJORITY OF CHILEANS OPPOSED PINOCHET. THE CHILEAN PEOPLE RECOGNIZED WHAT THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT HAD ACCOMPLISHED IN SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC AREAS. THE ARMED

EVER INDICTED IN IT.

-- THIS POINT - POSSIBILITY OF ENFORCING U.S. COURT JUDGMENT IN CHILE, IS THE ONE ETCHEBERRY WANTS TO THINK ABOUT FURTHER. HE IS CERTAIN THAT ANY EFFORT TO ENFORCE JUDGMENT AGAINST GOC WOULD BE REJECTED BY CHILEAN COURTS ON JURISDICTIONAL GROUNDS, BUT HE THINKS IT IS POSSIBLE THAT LETELIER FAMILY COULD BRING ACTION AGAINST CONTRERAS AND ESPINOZA AS INDIVIDUALS, INDIVIDUALS WHO HAVE BEEN INDICTED IN U.S. COURTS.

-- WE ASSUME THAT THE LAST QUESTION REFERS TO A POSSIBLE PURSUIT OF CIVIL REMEDIES IN THE CHILEAN COURTS BY THE LETELIER FAMILY, AND NOT TO THE USG'S DIPLOMATIC ESPOUSAL OF THE LETELIER CLAIM. ONE MIGHT ARGUE, IN THE SUPPOSITION THAT THINGS GOT AS FAR AS AN INDICTMENT, THAT GOC MIGHT PREFER CIVIL REMEDIES RATHER THAN PRISON TERMS FOR ITS EX-AGENTS. ON THE OTHER HAND, A FINANCIAL PAYMENT TO THE FAMILY WOULD BE SEEN AS AN ADMISSION OF THE GOC'S RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE ACTIONS OF CONTRERAS AND ESPINOZA, AND CURRENT GOC IS CLEARLY MOST UNWILLING TO MAKE ANY SUCH ADMISSION.

SUBJECT: The Effect on a Pre-existing U.S. Court Judgment When the United States Espouses a Claim for Injury to a U.S. National By A Foreign State

Issue Presented:

When an injury is caused by a foreign State to a U.S. national, the United States can choose to espouse the claim of the U.S. national as an injury to the United States. This Memorandum addresses the question of whether espousal affects a pre-existing, unsatisfied judgment by a U.S. court in favor of the U.S. national on the same issue as the espoused claim.

Conclusion:

Although there are no cases directly on point, it appears that, as a matter of U.S. and international law, espousal of a national's claim extinguishes a prior court judgment if the claim is settled. If the claim is not settled, a prior court judgment against a foreign State may be extinguished, but probably is not extinguisned if the U.S. Government expressly states that the espousal is not intended to have that effect.

Discussion:

When a U.S. national has been injured by a foreign State, he must exhaust remedies available in that State's municipal legal system. Once this is done, if the foreign State's actions constitute a violation of international law, the U.S. Government may present the claim internationally. A claim is "espoused" when the Executive Branch of the U.S. Government, usually through diplomatic channels, makes the private claim the subject of a formal claim for reparation to be paid to the United States by the Government of the State responsible for the injury. See Restatement (Second) of Foreign Relations Law § 211, Comment b (1965). The decision to espouse is wholly within the discretion of the Executive and is not subject to judicial review. See, e.g., United States ex rel. Keefe v. Dulles, 222 F.2d 390 (D.C. Cir. 1954).

When a claim is espoused by the Executive, the U.S. national's claim is considered, under both U.S. law and international law, to become the U.S. Government's own claim. M. Whiteman, Digest of International Law 1217-1222 (1967). This explains the Executive's ability not only to settle the claim without the consent of the injured party, but to compromise or waive it altogether as well. Restatement (Second) of Foreign Relations Law §§ 205, 213 (1965). Further, once the claim is settled, the Executive can dispose of the proceeds at its own discretion. La Abra Silver Mining Co. v. United States, 175 U.S. 423 (1897) (regarding disposition of proceeds paid by Mexico to the United States pursuant to the Claims Convention of 1868). The only apparent limit on the Executive may be where a defendant foreign State acknowledges the validity of the U.S. national's claim and indicates an intention to pay it, but the Executive barters the claim away for some other public purpose. In that case, the claim against the foreign State is extinguished, but the U.S. national may have a cause of action against the U.S. Government. See Gray v. United States, 21 Ct. Cl. 340 (1866) (French Spoilation Case) (U.S. bartering away a claim acknowledged as valid is a fifth amendment taking of private property); see also Seery v. United States, 127 F. Supp. 601 (Ct. Cl. 1955); Turney v. United States, 115 F. Supp. 457 (Ct. Cl. 1953).

Once the espoused claim is settled, the U.S. national's private claim is extinguished. Henkin states that "Except as an agreement might provide otherwise, international claims settlements generally wipe out the underlying private debt, terminating any recourse under domestic law as well." L. Henkin, Foreign Affairs and the Constitution 262 (1979). Consequently settlement of an espoused claim should extinguish the ability to enforce any pre-existing court judgment or arbitral award against the foreign Government on that claim.

Prior to the time when the claim is actually settled, the private claim appears to be suspended. In Dames and Moore v. Regan, 453 U.S. 654 (1981), the Supreme Court found that the Executive had the power, in the resolution of a major foreign policy dispute, to suspend litigation in U.S. courts on claims which are subject to the jurisdiction of an international tribunal established pursuant to an executive agreement not disapproved by Congress. The Executive order which suspended these claims provided that the suspension of a claim terminates if the Claims Tribunal determines that it has no jurisdiction over the claim. This suspension resulted in the nullification of all judgments obtained by U.S. nationals against Iran and in the prohibition on any further litigation based on such claims.

In the Meade Case, 76 U.S. 691 (1869), U.S. national Meade was a creditor of Spain who submitted his claim to the U.S. Government for espousal. When Spain failed to ratify a treaty for settlement of outstanding claims against Spain by U.S. nationals, Meade pursued his claim before a special Spanish Commission and obtained an award of $373,879.88. The Settlement Treaty, however, was then ratified and went into effect, whereby the United States renounced all claims of U.S. nationals against Spain in exchange for a lump-sum payment to the United States. Meade's claim fit within the Settlement Treaty but for technical reasons he was unable to file a claim with the U.S. Government under the procedures set up to disburse the lump sum. Consequently Meade tried to sue the United States for payment on the award he had received from the Spanish Commission. The Supreme Court found that (1) the United States had validly renounced Meade's claim when it had negotiated the Settlement Treaty; (2) Meade's request for diplomatic protection could not be revoked even during the time when the U.S.-Spain negotiations had stalled; and (3) the United States had assumed no liability for the subsequent Spanish award.

Where the espoused claim is never settled, the private claim arguably still has been "merged" into the public demand of the Government and thereby has been extinguished. Note, "The Nature and Extent of Executive Power to Espouse the International Claims of United States Nationals," 7 Vanderbilt J. Transnat'l L. 94 at 105, 124 (1973). This view comports with the extensive power of the Executive to control the claim once espoused. It does not preclude the Executive from asserting that the espousal is not intended to affect any prior court judgment unless a claims settlement agreement is actually reached. Indeed, the seemingly absolute control of the Executive over the conditions under which it espouses and settles the claim suggests that the Executive can condition the degree to which the national is deprived of the private cause of action against the foreign State. Both Professor Richard Lillich and Professor Stefan Reisenfeld stated in telephone conversations to me that, in their views, unless a settlement of the claim occurred, a prior court judgment would remain effective, especially if the formal espousal stated expressly that prejudice to the judgment was unintended from the mere act of espousal.

The status of a U.S. national's espoused claim could alternatively be viewed as akin to an assignment of the claim to the Government from the national for a period of time; in that case the claim could revert to the national in certain circumstances. The Harvard Draft Convention on the International Responsibility of States for Injuries to Aliens, 55 A.J.I.L. 548 (1961) states in Article 23(1) that "If a claim is presented both by a claimant and by the State of which he is a national, the right of the claimant to present or maintain his claim shall be suspended while redress is being sought by the State." In the explanatory note to Article 23(1) the Drafters state that the espoused claim is still fundamentally a claim of the national, though once espoused the national's control over his claim is greatly diminished. Espousal suspends the right of the national to maintain his claim, but if the State allows the matter to lapse through inaction, then the right of the national to present his claim "revives." The Drafters concluded that:

> If a State desires to cut off the right of the individual to maintain the claim, it may do so through a waiver, compromise, or settlement ... or by express action by the State forbidding its national to press the claim further. To permit the individual's rights to be cut off by "espousal" of the claim followed by inaction by the State would be inconsistent with the salutary requirements of formality, publicity, and deliberation which flow from the requirement that an actual waiver of an individual's claim be effected only through the medium of an international agreement.

On this theory, it would also seem that where the Executive actively relinquishes the claim, the claim should revert back to the national. It should be noted that the Harvard Draft Convention is an unofficial document prepared under the auspices of the Harvard Law School and in some respects engages in progressive development rather than just codification of the rules of international law. Further, as described above in the Meade case, a period of inaction does not result in revival of the private claim if the Executive does eventually settle the claim.

PINOCHET WAS CORDIAL AND LOQUACIOUS, OFFERING ROBB HIS WELL-KNOWN VIEWS ON U.S. WEAKNESS IN THE FACE OF COMMUNISM. THE PRESIDENT DENIED THE EXISTENCE OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS IN CHILE AND CHARACTERIZED RELATIONS WITH THE U.S. AS DIFFICULT ALWAYS. PINOCHET AFFIRMED THAT HIS VITALITY AND ENERGY ARE THE WORK OF GOD, INFERRING THAT HE HAS A DIVINE MISSION. IT IS UNCONSTITUTIONAL FOR PINOCHET TO RUN IN A COMPETITIVE ELECTION IF THE JUNTA DOES NOT DESIGNATE HIM CANDIDATE FOR THE PLEBISCITE, HE NOTED. 3. GOVERNOR ROBB SHOWEDIMPRESSIVE GRIT IN FOLLOWING THROUGH ON AN INTENSE PROGRAM OF MEETINGS DESPITE ANILLNESS INVOLVING HIGH FEVER AND QUAKING CHILLS DURING HIS 36 HOUR VISIT. IN THE MEETING HE AND ASSISTANT RICHARD FISHER HAD WITH PINOCHET, ROBB CLEVERLY MENTIONED HIS LONG MILITARY BACKGROUND. THE PRESIDENT WAS APPARENTLY ALSO IMPRESSED BY ROBB'S OPEN-MINDED APPROACH, HIS STATEMENT THAT HE CAME TO CHILE TO LEARN, AND HIS MENTION OF THE CONCERN HE SHARES WITH PINOCHET ABOUT COMMUNISM AND TERRORISM. WARMING UP, PINOCHET LAUNCHED INTO A LONG FAMILIAR DISCOURSE ON THE SCOURGE OF COMMUNISM AND ITS THREAT TO ALLEGEDLY DEBILITATED WESTERN DEMOCRACIES. PINOCHET SAID HE IS PARTICULARLY CONCERNED BY COMMUNIST INFILTRATION OF THE U.S. BECAUSE OF AMERICAN RESPONSIBILITIES IN THE WORLD. HE CITED COMMUNIST INROADS IN THE U.S. SENATE (SIC), THE PRESS, AND AMONG VERY INFLUENTIAL AMERICANS. HE ACCUSED BY NAME ROBB'S FRIEND SOL LINOWITZ AND SENATOR KENNEDY'S STAFFER MARK SCHNEIDER OF BEING COMMUNISTS. BUT HE ALSO EMPHASIZED THAT THE COMMUNISTS ARE MORE OF A THREAT TO CHILE THAN TO THE U.S. BECAUSE ONE THIRD OF CHILEANS VOTE FOR COMMUNISTS (FYI: PINOCHET MAKES NO DISTINCTION BETWEEN SOCIALISTS AND COMMUNISTS. END FYI).

4. IN RESPONSE TO A QUESTION FROM ROBB, PINOCHET SAID THAT RELATIONS WITH THE U.S. HAVE BEEN DIFFICULT SINCE INDEPENDENCE AND ARE LIKELY TO REMAIN THAT WAY. HE SAID THEY ARE NOW "NORMAL TO POOR", AND CRITICIZED THE AMBASSADOR STRONGLY, A MAN WHOM PINOCHET SAID HE "COULD NOT UNDERSTAND OR DEAL WITH". HE BRUSHED OFF CRITICISM FROM ABROAD WITH THE

COMMENT THAT CHILE HAS BEEN FIGHTING FOREIGNERS FOR 400 YEARS SUCCESSFULLY AND WILL CONTINUE TO DO SO. "CHILE CAN STAND ALONE." AT VARIOUS MOMENTS THE GENERAL LAMBASTED MEXICO AND THE MEXICANS, A COUNTRY AND A PEOPLE FOR WHOM HE OBVIOUSLY HAS GREAT DISDAIN.

5. WHEN ROBB ASKED WHAT HE WAS GOING TO END HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS, PINOCHET DENIED THEIR EXISTENCE AND TRIED TO FOCUS THE CONVERSATION

ON THE WORK HIS GOVERNMENT IS DOING TO IMPROVE THE STANDARDS OF LIVING OF THE POOR. AGAIN HE ATTACKED MEXICO, NOTING THAT THE EARTHQUAKE IN THAT COUNTRY REVEALED THAT THE MEXICAN AUTHORITIES HAD BEEN MURDERING PEOPLE IN PRISON. THE U.S.G. NEVER UTTERED A PEEP, WHICH IS A DOUBLE STANDARD THAT IRKS HIM. EVEN SO, HE NOTED THAT HE ALLOWS VOLIO AND OTHER HUMAN RIGHTS "INVESTIGATORS" TO PROWL AROUND CHILE, "BUT THEY CANNOT FIND ANY VIOLATIONS TO REPORT." WHEN ROBB COUNTERED THAT HE HAS HEARD THAT ONLY ONE OR TWO CASES OF HUMAN RIGHTS CRIMES BY SECURITY FORCE PERSONNEL HAD BEEN PROSECUTED, PINOCHET SHOT BACK. "WAS THERE ONE CASE?" HE SAID, IN AN ANGRY TONE, CLEARLY UPSET THAT THERE MIGHT HAVE BEEN A SINGLE PROSECUTION.

6. ROBB COMMENTED TO PINOCHET THAT HE APPEARED STRONG BUT AGING. PINOCHET REPLIED "I AM VERY STRONG. I HAVE MUCH VITALITY, ENERGY....AND

IT COMES FROM GOD" AS HE POINTED TO A CRUCIFIX AND THE BIBLE WHICH WERE NEARBY. GOD, HE REITERATED, GIVES HIM ENERGY TO ACCOMPLISH WHAT HE MUST, INFERRING THAT HE HAS A DIVINE MISSION.

7. TURNING TO THE POLITICAL PROCESS, ROBB ASKED IF PINOCHET WOULD RUN AS A CIVILIAN IN A COMPETITIVE ELECTION IF HE WERE NOT SELECTED AS THE JUNTA CANDIDATE FOR THE PLEBISCITE. PINOCHET SAID FLATLY HE COULD NOT RUN UNDER THOSE CIRCUMSTNACES. IT WOULD BE UNCONSTITUTIONAL (FERNANDEZ ELABORATED ON THIS POINT LATER, DISCUSSED BELOW). THEN PINOCHET ENERGETICALLY INSISTED THAT HE IS CIVILIAN: "LIKE DWIGHT EISENHOWER, I AM HOLDING THE HIGHEST CIVILIAN OFFICE". ON THE CHANCES OF THE JUNTA'S CANDIDATE BOMBING IN THE PLEBISCITE, PINOCHET REPLIED THAT A "MILITARY OFFICER NEVER ENTERS A WAR HE THINKS HE COULD LOSE". FINALLY, PINOCHET SAID, REFERRING TO THE FUTURE: "WHEN I AM PRESIDENT"....(THEN CORRECTED HIMSELF "IF I AM PRESIDENT....(HE WAS AT THIS POINT INTERRUPTED BY A GENERAL SITTING WITH THE GROUP, PROBABLY THE MINISTER SECRETARY GENERAL OF THE PRESIDENCY GENERAL SERGIO VALENZUELA, WHO SAID "THERE IS NO DOUBT YOU WILL BE PRESIDENT, MI GENERAL"). PINOCHET CONTINUED: "I WILL BE A CIVILIAN PRESIDENT WITH A CIVILIAN CABINET." (NOTE: THE FOREGOING ACCOUNT OF THE MEETING WAS PROVIDED BY RICHARD FISHER. END NOTE).

MEETING WITH MINISTER OF INTERIOR SERGIO FERNANDEZ

9. FERNANDEZ CLAIMED THAT ALL PRECAUTIONS WOULD BE TAKEN TO ENSURE A FRAUD-PROOF PLEBISCITE. HE RESPONDED TO ROBB'S QUESTIONS ABOUT OBSERVERS BY SAYING THAT ANYONE WHO WANTED COULD WATCH THE VOTE COUNTING (IN ADDITION TO THE POLITICAL PARTY REPRESENTATIVES), AND THAT WOULD INCLUDE FOREIGNERS. BUT THERE WOULD BE NO SPECIAL STATUS ACCORDED TO OBSERVERS FROM ABROAD. THE AMBASSADOR, WHO ATTENDED THE MEETING, TOOK THIS TO MEAN THAT FOREIGN DELEGATIONS WOULD GET NO SPECIAL TREATMENT OR FACILITIES AND WILL NOT HAVE UNIQUE PRIVILEGES TO APPROACH THE VOTING TABLES.

BRIEFING MEMORANDUM
S/S

TO: C: Ambassador Kampelman

FROM: ARA: Elliott Abrams

SUBJECT: Your December 30 Meeting with Chilean Ambassador Hernan Felipe Errazuriz

BACKGROUND

Ambassador Errazuriz is calling on you to transmit concern about recent USG actions which his government considers hostile and/or interference in Chile's internal affairs. Ambassador Barnes was given a stern lecture along these lines by the Chilean Foreign Ministry on December 28 (see reporting cable at tab A) and Errazuriz probably intends to follow-up on that action. Informally Errazuriz has implied that relations are bound to deteriorate further and this could eventually have an impact on the level of diplomatic representation in Washington and Santiago.

The recent US actions which the GOC construes as being "anti-Chilean" are:

1. Our decision to abstain on a resolution on human rights in Chile presented at the last UNGA by Mexico. In previous years, the U.S. voted "no" on generally similar resolutions and the Chileans, therefore, privately have interpreted our vote as reflecting a hardened position against them. In public, however, Foreign Minister Garcia has tried to downplay the importance of our abstention.

2. On December 15, the U.S. abstained on a World Bank structural adjustment loan for Chile. Our strategy had been to have the loan postponed pending reforms by the Chilean Government to ensure a free and fairer electoral process in Chile. Given a lack of support from key European allies, our effort failed and we ended up abstaining, as we did in 1987. The Chileans knew that we were attempting to block the loan -- though they never fully understood our political strategy of conditioned-postponement -- and complained bitterly about it in both private and public.

UNCLASSIFIED

3. The Department released a high-level statement in support of democracy in Chile (see tab B) on December 17. This statement drew vocal criticism from pro-Pinochet forces and the conservative media which called it foreign interference in Chile's internal affairs. An earlier statement by the EC also angered the GOC but drew less fire.

4. On December 24, the President suspended Chile's GSP privileges after a two-year examination of official GOC practices in the area of worker rights (see tab C).

5. In its pre-Christmas Continuing Resolution, the Congress specifically earmarked one million dollars for use by the National Endowement for Democracy in support of the free elections campaign in Chile. The Government of Chile has interpreted this independent action of members of our legislature as if it were part of integrated USG plot against the Junta.

TALKING POINTS

o The four recent decisions by the Administration closely reflect our long-standing policy of encouraging a return to full democracy and respect for human and civil rights in Chile. Two of them, the World Bank loan vote and the GSP suspension, were mandated by legislation.

o These steps indicate our concern that the Government of Chile is not making sufficient progress in creating a climate of respect for civil and human rights in advance of the important presidential plebiscite likely later in 1988.

o Foreign Minister Garcia indicated to Secretary Shultz at their September 28 meeting in New York that the GOC would move quickly to guarantee such liberties but as yet we perceive few if any positive steps being taken.

o The following negative actions indicate that the GOC's sincerity in respecting individual rights must be seriously called into questions

> --The extension of the "state of emergency" on December 3, which grants the government widespread powers to curtail rights of assembly, association, and expression.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

--The Government has mounted a full-blown campaign on television in favor of a "yes" vote in the plebiscite, but it uses its influence to make sure that the opposition remains shut off from this crucial medium.

--Lack of progress on the Letelier-Moffitt case is but one example of the GOC's unwillingness to prosecute human rights abusers and reinstate a rule of law in the true sense of the word. Yet another note of ours was rejected on December 29.

o In expressing these concerns, the US is not discriminating against Chile. We judge Chile's actions in the light of its own professed commitment to the international and Western standards regularly proclaimed by the Junta, and against Chile's own traditions and possibilities.

o If anything, we gave Chile preferential treatment on GSP. For instance, while in 1986 Romania was removed from GSP and Paraguay suspended for worker rights violations, Chile, although also found to be in violation, was given another year in which to make improvements. The State Department took the lead in obtaining this extra time for Chile.

o Similarly, the US has tried to dissuade Members of Congress from punitive economic sanctions as we have decried unbalanced and discriminatory moves against Chile in international fora. Our lack of support for the Mexican resolution at the UNGA bears this out.

o We will continue to monitor developments in the area of human and civil rights in Chile with great interest. As our recent statement points out, we feel that for the electoral process to have credibility and the will of the Chilean people to be accurately expressed, a climate of freedom and fair competition must be established many months before a plebiscite.

o Regarding the Congressional grant of funds to the NED for use in Chile, we believe this independent action reflects well known views of the people of the United States. The NED's non-partisan programs in support of fair democratic processes world-wide are well known to the Government of Chile, and should not be a cause for concern in any way.

MEMORANDUM

DECONTROL

Letelier: The Civil Case and Chile's Demand to Submit to International Adjudication the Matter of U.S. Court Jurisdiction

The purpose of this memorandum is to review the civil case filed by the families of the victims against various individuals and the Republic of Chile and to recall the position taken by the Government of Chile seeking international adjudication of the matter of U.S. court jurisdiction over the Republic of Chile in the case. (Letelier, et. al. v. Central Nacional de Informaciones, et. al (Civil Action 78-1477) in the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia).

In 1978 the families of the victims filed a civil suit in the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia against various individuals and the Republic of Chile for wrongful death. By a diplomatic note dated November 17, 1978, the U.S. Embassy in Santiago forwarded to the Chilean Ministry of Foreign Relations a copy of the complaint and other relevant papers in service of process pursuant to the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act (28 USC 1608 (a)(4)).

The Foreign Ministry returned the papers to the Embassy via its note of January 16, 1979 (attachment 1). In that note the Government of Chile objected to the service of process, stated that it did not recognize the authority of a U.S. court to assert jurisdiction over the Government of Chile, and in general terms outlined its views on sovereign immunity. The note indicated a hope that the matter would be resolved in a mutually satisfactory way, but if not the note stated:

> "....the Government of Chile would wish to consult with the Government of the United States of America for the purpose of finding a solution consistent with international law for the fundamental differences which would then exist between the two governments as to jurisdiction. Among the alternatives which might be considered in that event would be the possible submission of such a jurisdictional dispute to international adjudication."

The Department notified the clerk of the court of the Chilean response. The U.S.G. did not reply to the note. On May 2, 1979 Judge Pratt entered a default against the Republic of Chile. On August 14, 1979 the Embassy of Chile presented note no. 180 to the Department (attachment 2). It noted the time elapsed without a U.S. response; restated its objection to U.S. court jurisdiction; and, asked the Department to forward to the court an attached Memorandum of Law on the subject. The note stated:

> "In the Chilean note of January 15, 1979, the Chilean Ministry of Foreign Relations suggested the possibility of international adjudication, and the Chilean Embassy would welcome an indication from the Department of State as to whether the United States is prepared to submit to international adjudication any jurisdictional dispute which may arise as a result of a United States judicial decision in this matter."

There is no indication that the U.S.G. responded to this note. The Department did forward the Memorandum of Law to the court. The plantiffs moved to strike the memorandum because it was a pleading not signed by council. The court denied the motion ruling that the memorandum was not a "pleading" but a "suggestion", under Rule 12 (h)(3), that the Court lacks subject matter jurisdiction. In an opinion dated March 11, 1980, Judge Green (to whom the case was reassigned) ruled that subject matter jurisdiction did exist under section 1605 (a)(5) of the FSIA. (488 F. Supp. 665 (1980)) (attachment 3).

Thereafter, apparently, in its note no. 102 of June 11, 1980 Chile again demanded international adjudication of the immunity issue. (We have not found a copy of this note, yet.) Peter ?.

The civil case continued. On November 5, 1980 a judgment was entered by Judge Green holding that plaintiffs were entitled to damages for pain and suffering, and wrongful death, punitive damages, and attorney fees. (502 F. Supp. 259 (1980) (attachment 4).

On January 15, 1981 the Ministry presented to the U.S. Embassy a strongly worded protest, (attachment 5), stating: "the Ministry protests in the strongest terms for the continued attempted arrogation of jurisdiction and the intention of the District Court of imposing a sentence passed by an internal American Court on the Republic of Chile."

In early April 1981, Department records indicate that the Department gave the Chilean Embassy an aide Mémoire (attachment 6) in general response to the preceding Chilean notes. It said: "The United States view of the relevant principles of international law is reflected in the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act of 1976. Under United States law and practice, the U.S. courts are responsible for deciding the factual and legal issues involved in this civil case."

Evidently, in May 1981, Chile responded, in note no. 13 and again proposed international adjudication. (The text of the note has not been found.) Peter

On July 28, 1983 Judge Lasker (USDC, S.D. New York) (567 F. Supp. 1490) held that under certain circumstances attachment of assets of the Chilean national airline would be appropriate to satisfy plaintiffs' default judgment. This opinion was overturned on appeal (748 Fed. 2d 790) when the court ruled that the FSIA did not allow execution against LAN's assets.

On August 27, 1987, in note no. 7731 (attachment 7) in response to the espousal by the United States of the civil claim, Chile recalled its earlier protests and offer and reminded the USG of its invitation to resolve the jurisdictional issue by international adjudication. In its notes no. 11364 of December 28, 1987 (attachment 8) and its note of May 24, 1988 (attachment 9) Chile renewed the offer.

Comment: To the best of our knowledge, the U.S. Government never once formally responded to the Chilean request for international adjudication, unless the aide-memoire of early April 1981 can be considered a response. Chile is likely to regard our unresponsiveness as a pending issue that must be dealt within the context of consideration of the 1914 Treaty. 7

THE LETELIER DISPUTE: BACKGROUND AND FACTUAL SUMMARY

INTRODUCTION

On September 21, 1976, Orlando Letelier was assassinated on the streets of Washington, D.C. when a bomb exploded underneath his automobile. Killed along with Letelier, a former Chilean Ambassador to the United States and cabinet member, was Ronni Moffitt, an assistant to Letelier and a passenger in his car. Letelier's second passenger, Ronni's husband Michael Moffitt, was injured by the explosion. What follows is a brief account of the events leading up to and following the murder of Orlando Letelier; it reflects information that is available to the United States and which will be presented more fully at an appropriate time. The account should be viewed solely as an orienting summary and not as an exhaustive statement of all of the facts possessed by the United States Government. Nonetheless, the summary will show that senior officials of the Government of Chile planned and participated in the assassination of Orlando Letelier and obstructed, through acts of deception and evasion, all efforts to prosecute those individuals responsible for this brutal and illegal act of state-sponsored terrorism.

The evidence available to the United States is voluminous. It includes the confessions and statements of two DINA (the Chilean secret police) agents, both participants in the assassination of Orlando Letelier, as well as statements by the wife of one of these agents, herself a DINA agent. The evidence also includes statements by Ronni Moffitt, American investigators of the Letelier assassination, an explosives expert, the Director of the Paraguayan Intelligence Service in 1976, a LAN-Chile (the Chilean national airline) employee, several DINA employees who worked for one of the participant-confessors, an individual connecting a DINA participant to a CNM (Cuban, anti-Castro revolutionary group) participant in the assassination, two Venezuelan intelligence officers, several Chilean military/intelligence officers and two Cuban, anti-Castro revolutionaries.

In addition to the wide array of testimonial evidence possessed by the United States, an extensive collection of documentary evidence provides support for much of the testimony offered by those mentioned above and others. Documentary material corroborating the accounts of the participant-confessors and others include telephone records, flight manifests, bills, payment stubs, receipts, photographs, passports, identification cards and documents, simulation film, visa applications, immigration forms, diplomatic cables and various assorted documents. The combination of testimonial and documentary evidence provides compelling proof that the Government of Chile and certain of its officials and employees planned and participated in the assassination of Orlando Letelier and its subsequent cover-up.

HISTORICAL BACKGROUND

In September 1970, Salvador Allende was elected President of Chile, and Allende chose Orlando Letelier to serve as Ambassador to the United States. Letelier occupied this post in Washington, D.C. for almost three years, returning to Chile to assume the first of several cabinet positions in May 1973. Several months later, in September 1973, a military coup left Allende dead and Orlando Letelier under arrest. Letelier spent twelve months in confinement, often under brutal conditions, before he was released and expelled by the government of Augosto Pinochet.

In late 1974, Letelier returned to Washington, D.C. to accept a position at the Institute for Policy Studies (IPS). During his time at IPS, he developed friendships with two of his assistants, Ronni and Michael Moffitt, and became recognized as an articulate spokesman for the opposition to the regime of Pinochet. In response to Letelier's anti-Pinochet activism, Chile revoked Letelier's citizenship during the middle of 1976. Chile became increasingly concerned that Orlando Letelier would unify the various opposition factions and establish a Government in Exile.

THE ASSASSINATION: PREPARATIONS AND EXECUTION

In late June or early July 1976, Colonel Pedro Espinoza, Director of Operations for DINA, solicited Michael Vernon Townley, an expatriate American living in Chile, and Armando Fernandez, a lieutenant in the Chilean Army, to participate in a mission, the result of which would be the assassination of Orlando Letelier. Townley had been recruited to join DINA two years earlier and had performed several missions for DINA during that period, including collaborating with CNM members in the attempted assassinations of Chilean opposition leaders in Mexico City in 1975.

In performing the groundwork for the Letelier operation, at the orders of Espinoza and Juan Manuel Contreras, the Director of DINA, Townley and Fernandez were sent to Paraguay to obtain fake Paraguayan passports and visas for entry into the United States. After about a week in Paraguay, Townley and Fernandez received the fake documents; however, acting on a tip, the then-U.S. Ambassador to Paraguay, George Landau, photocopied the visa applications and accompanying passports and revoked the visas. Landau also asked the head of the Paraguayan intelligence service, Colonel Guanes, to retrieve the false passports from DINA. DINA returned the passports unused, although the photographs were removed.

Despite the problems encountered in Paraguay, Contreras and Espinoza decided to proceed with the plan to assassinate Letelier. They ordered Fernandez to travel to the United States to surveil Letelier; Fernandez would be accompanied by a female DINA agent, "Liliana Walker." The DINA leaders also sent two other agents, Captains Riveros and Mosquiera, to the United States using false Chilean passports bearing the same names as the Paraguayan visa applicants; the intention of this scheme was to cover for the failed Paraguayan passport mission and confuse any American investigators who might discover that the Government of Chile was behind the assassination of Letelier. Riveros and Mosquiera entered the United States on August 22, 1976, staying for two weeks; meanwhile, Fernandez and Walker arrived on August 26, using false Chilean passports.

During August, Espinoza also met with Townley and conveyed orders that the mission was "still on" and that Townley should meet with leaders of the CNM and secure their assistance. Espinoza hoped that Townley could convince the Cubans to actually kill Letelier and that Letelier's murder could be made to look like a suicide or accident. Nonetheless, the bottom line was that Letelier had to be killed, and Townley was specifically authorized to use a bomb if necessary.

Townley, traveling with a false Chilean passport, arrived at New York's Kennedy Airport aboard a LAN-Chile plane on September 9. He carried with him tri-nitrate of lead and blasting caps to be used in the assassination of Orlando Letelier. Through the contact of a LAN-Chile official, Townley met with Fernandez at the airport as pre-arranged. Fernandez turned over to Townley a map containing Letelier's address, his surveillance notes and some cash.

Having rented a car and driven to New Jersey, Townley contacted an old associate, CNM member Virgilio Paz. Through Paz, Townley was able to set up a meeting the next day with Guillermo Novo and Dionisio Suarez, two leaders of the CNM. At this meeting, Townley asked the two Cubans to cooperate in the Letelier killing. After a few days, the Cubans agreed to participate.

On the night of September 15, 1976, Townley and Paz drove from New Jersey to Washington, D.C. They carried with them a modified Fanon-Courier remote electronic paging device, plastic explosives and TNT, all supplied by the CNM. For the next two days, Townley and Paz watched Letelier's daily movements. On September 18, Suarez joined Paz and Townley in Washington, D.C., bringing with him the blasting cap used in the explosive device. In D.C., the conspirators purchased baking tins, tape and gloves at a Sears store and a battery pack with leads, slide switches and tools at a Radio Shack store to be utilized in the assassination of Letelier. That night, September 18, 1976, Townley, Paz and Suarez constructed the bomb, and Townley attached the device to the undercarriage of Orlando Letelier's automobile.

On September 19, Townley flew to Newark, New Jersey and was met by Alvin Ross Diaz, another CNM member. Before flying from Newark to Miami, Florida, Townley went to Kennedy Airport and submitted a false immigration form to indicate that the person whose identity he used on entering the United States had departed for Spain. In Miami, on September 20 and 21, Townley met, respectively, with CNM leader Felipe Rivero and Ignacio Novo, Guillermo's brother.. On September 21, Townley heard that a bomb had exploded in Washington, D.C. killing Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt and injuring Michael Moffitt. Townley would later learn from Virgilio Paz that the bomb had malfunctioned on the scheduled September 20 and that Paz and Suarez had removed the bomb, corrected the malfunction and reinstalled the device prior to its September 21 detonation. Having "successfully" completed his mission, Townley left Miami on September 22 aboard LAN-Chile to return to Santiago, Chile.

THE U.S. INVESTIGATION AND THE CHILEAN COVER-UP

Immediately after the assassination, as the United States Government began investigating the events surrounding the murder of Letelier, senior officials of the Government of Chile began concealing the involvement in the death of Letelier of both themselves and other Chilean officials and employees. The first break in the American investigation was the discovery of the participation of Guillermo Novo, Virgilio Paz, Dionisio Suarez and Alvin Ross and that DINA was also involved.

During June and July 1977, investigators from the United States Department of Justice and the Federal Bureau of Investigation requested the assistance of the Chilean government in their investigations of links between the Cubans and Chilean government officials and employees. After a period of delay, the Government of Chile provided a written statement to the Americans which contained patently false information.

Discovering through sources that there was a connection between the Letelier killing and the trip to the United States by two persons using Chilean passports bearing the same names as those who had applied for visas in Paraguay in July 1976, the United States sent formal Letters Rogatory to the Chilean Supreme Court on February 17, 1978. The Letters Rogatory requested the Chilean government to produce for questioning the individuals who had entered the United States using those names; the U.S. also attached the pictures that Ambassador Landau had photocopied in Paraguay -- pictures of Townley and Fernandez.

After the Chilean Supreme Court received the Letters Rogatory, Contreras ordered Townley and Fernandez to lie to the Court, suggesting cover-up stories for each of them. After the Chilean Supreme Court refused to recognize the appearance of Mosquiera and Riveros as compliance with the Letters Rogatory, the Chilean government finally produced Townley and Fernandez. In court on March 31, 1978, Fernandez lied repeatedly about his involvement in the Letelier assassination and Townley, as an American citizen, invoked the privilege against self-incrimination contained in the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

On April 7, 1978, Earl Silbert, the U.S. Attorney for the District of Columbia, reached an agreement with Enrique Montero, Chilean Undersecretary of the Interior, whereby Townley was expelled from Chile and returned to the United States. Back in the United States, Townley refused to talk until he met with Chilean General Hector Orozco, a special military prosecutor. After giving a truthful statement to Orozco, Townley confessed to assassinating Orlando Letelier and provided the American authorities with extensive details of the involvement of senior-level Chilean officials in the planning, execution and cover-up of the Letelier murder. Much of Townley's statement was later corroborated by a wide range of documentary and testimonial evidence.

Upon Townley's confession in the United States, the Chilean authorities intensified their efforts to cover-up their actions relating to the death of Letelier. Orozco returned to Chile and obtained accurate statements from Fernandez, Espinoza and Contreras. After hearing Contreras state that he had acted under the authority of "the Chief" -- the reference being to President Pinochet -- and realizing the magnitude of the conspiracy, Orozco decided that a coordinated plan had to be devised to further mask the roles of the Government of Chile and certain of its officials and employees in the assassination of Orlando Letelier.

THE EXTRADITION PROCEEDINGS

On August 1, 1978, a grand jury in Washington, D.C. indicted Contreras, Espinoza, Fernandez and five Cubans with various crimes stemming from their participation in the murder of Letelier. Of the eight persons indicted, only Alvin Ross and Ignacio and Guillermo Novo were in custody; Paz and Suarez were still fugitives, and the three Chileans were in Chile.

The United States issued a formal extradition request for Contreras, Espinoza and Fernandez with the Government of Chile on September 21, 1978. During the next several weeks, Orozco told Fernandez and Espinoza to lie at the extradition proceedings, and the three destroyed the truthful statements given by Fernandez and Espinoza several months earlier. President Pinochet also met with Fernandez and told him, "Be a good soldier, tough it out and this problem will have a happy end." On October 17, 1978, Contreras, Espinoza and Fernandez lied under oath before the Chilean Supreme Court, providing fallacious cover stories for the trips to Paraguay and the United States. On May 13, 1979, Israel Borquez, President of the Chilean Supreme Court, refused to extradite any of the three Chileans to the United States. On October 1, 1979, the full Chilean Supreme Court also rejected the U.S. extradition request. The Chilean Supreme Court also ordered all Chilean investigations into these matters suspended.

Because many of the crucial conspirators in the plot to assassinate Orlando Letelier were not brought before a U.S. court, the United States was severely hampered in its efforts to prosecute those responsible for this act of international terrorism. Both the refusal of the Chilean Supreme Court to cooperate with American authorities and the Chilean government's failure to conduct a thorough and honest investigation into the assassination were pivotal in shielding the guilty parties from responsibility for their illegal and brutal actions.

THE CRIMINAL AND CIVIL CASES IN THE UNITED STATES

Following the indictments handed down in August 1978, the United States instituted criminal proceedings against the three Cubans in custody, Ignacio and Guillermo Novo and Alvin Ross. On February 14, 1979, after a six week trial, Ross and Guillermo Novo were convicted of murder and conspiracy, the Novo brothers were convicted of lying to a grand jury and Ignacio Novo was convicted of misprison of a felony. However, on September 15, 1980, a federal appellate court overturned the convictions of Ross and Guillermo Novo on evidentiary grounds and overturned the conviction of Ignacio Novo on the ground that he should have received a separate trial. On retrial, Guillermo Novo was found guilty of lying to a grand jury, and subsequently, Ignacio Novo pleaded guilty to lying to a grand jury.

Also following the criminal indictments, the families of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt filed a civil suit against the perpetrators of the Letelier assassination, including the Republic of Chile. When all defendants failed to answer, default judgments were entered. However, after Chile sent a diplomatic note protesting jurisdiction, the district court agreed to review the jurisdictional issue. On March 11, 1980, the court held that Chile was not immune from the jurisdiction of U.S. courts. The Government of Chile then failed to appeal the ruling or participate in the trial on the merits. Thus, the district court, on November 5, 1980, entered judgment in favor of the plaintiffs for approximately $5,000,000, holding the defendants jointly and severally liable. Neither Chile nor the individual defendants appealed.

The families of Letelier and Moffitt then brought suit against LAN-Chile, an airline wholly owned by the Government of Chile, to execute the judgment against the Republic of Chile. The district court ruled in favor of the families, appointing Michael Moffitt as receiver for LAN-Chile's assets. On appeal, however, the federal appellate court held that LAN-Chile's separate juridical existence had to be recognized despite the fact that it was wholly owned by the Government of Chile. The Court stated that the families would have to look directly to Chile to satisfy their judgment. The United States Supreme Court denied certiorari on the judgment-creditors' appeal. Thus, the families of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt exhausted their legal remedies in the United States in pursuit of obtaining compensation from the Republic of Chile for its egregious act of state-sponsored terrorism. The fact remains, however, that the families possess a legally-cognizable judgment against the Government of Chile which the Government refuses to acknowledge.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

In 1985, a Chilean military court granted Contreras' request to dismiss in its entirety the suspended investigation into the "Passport Cases" (Chile's euphemism for the Letelier assassination). The Letelier family, a civil party to the suit under Chilean law, appealed this decision. As the appeal was pending, a major break occurred in the Letelier case.

On February 4, 1987, following discussions with American authorities, Armando Fernandez voluntarily left Chile and entered the United States. Fernandez agreed to testify fully and truthfully and plead guilty to the charge of being an accessory after the fact to the murder of an internationally protected person. Fernandez' testimony corroborated almost entirely Michael Townley's earlier statements, reconfirming and adding to the extensive body of evidence linking highly-placed Chilean officials, including Contreras, Espinoza, Orozco and even Pinochet to the Letelier assassination and/or cover-up.

Armed with this dramatic, new evidence, the United States again formally requested the expulsion from Chile of Contreras and Espinoza on May 11, 1987. On May 22, a Chilean military court of appeal reversed the decision of the lower court and ordered that the investigation of the "Passport Cases" be returned to the status of "suspended" rather than "closed", a small victory for the Letelier family. However, on June 17, the Government of Chile rejected the U.S. request for expulsion.

On July 17, 1987, the U.S. sent a diplomatic note to Chile asking the Chilean government to prosecute Contreras and Espinoza in Chile if they refused to expel them to the United States. On July 28, Assistant Secretary of State Elliot Abrams presented Chilean Ambassador Errazuriz with a diplomatic note requesting Chile to pay ex gratia compensation to the families of Letelier and Moffitt.

In August, the Letelier family petitioned the lower military court to reopen the "Passport Cases." Later that month, the Chilean government sent two notes to the United States, the first refusing to expel or prosecute Contreras and Espinoza and the second rejecting any form of compensation for the families of the victims. And on October 13, the Chilean military court refused to reopen the "Passport Cases." The Letelier family once again filed an appeal.

To add momentum to its investigation, the U.S. Government transmitted a Letter Rogatory requesting General Orozco to furnish information about his knowledge of many aspects of the Letelier assassination and cover-up. After stalling for several months, the Chilean Supreme Court, on April 14, 1988, required Orozco to answer only 12 of the approximately 250 questions put to him. When Orozco's answers were received, they proved to be either minimally informative or patent lies.

Due to the virtual exhaustion of domestic legal proceedings both in the United States and Chile and the Government of Chile's continued refusal to cooperate with diplomatic and legal requests for assistance, the United States, in mid-April, formally espoused the claims of its U.S. citizens arising out of the Letelier assassination. On May 24, in a tersely worded note, the Government of Chile rejected the U.S. demands and refused to consider any further U.S. demands relating to the assassination of Letelier until an international tribunal settled certain jurisdictional issues.

On May 4, the Chilean military appeals court upheld the refusal of the lower court to reopen the "Passport Cases," and the Letelier family again appealed. This last hope of obtaining some cooperation from the Chilean government was extinguished in July 1988, when the Chilean Supreme Court denied the appeal, affirming the decision to keep the investigation in suspension. Despite the continued obstructive tactics of the Chilean government, the United States continues to demand that Chile cooperate in bringing this matter to a satisfactory resolution.

SUBJECT: Talking Points on the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act for Your Meeting with Rep. Howard Berman

BACKGROUND: Last year, Rep. Berman and Senator Kennedy introduced legislation in the House and Senate to amend the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act (FSIA) in order to permit easier attachment of property in settlement of U.S. court decisions against foreign governments by victims of state-sponsored terrorism. The underlying purpose of these amendments was to allow the relatives of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt, who were killed in Washington, D.C. in 1976 by a bomb placed under their car by agents of the Chilean Government to collect on a five million dollar judgement against the GOC awarded them by a U.S. court. The families in question had attempted to attach GOC assets in the U.S. in payment of this settlement, but further court rulings found such assets not attachable. The legislation is designed to make attachment easier.

Berman's legislation passed the House in the last session but Kennedy, at our urging, did not push his bill in the Senate and it was not acted on. Kennedy had agreed to hold off on his bill while we went ahead with the invocation of a 1914 bilateral treaty in an attempt to settle the Letelier dispute. While the Chilean Government has not eschewed participation in the treaty process, it has tried to stall the implementation of the terms of the treaty and there has been little progress to date. Citing this lack of progress and a desire to obtain compensation for the families of the victims in the Letelier crime, Berman reintroduced his legislation and Kennedy may do so as well.

The Department's position is to oppose the retroactive aspect of the proposed amendments for both technical and political reasons. Both have been amply explained to Berman and Kennedy by Judge Sofaer, Ambassador Gillespie, and Mike Skol. It would be worthwhile if you would also weigh in on the political aspect, using the following talking points:

TALKING POINTS

- I understand that you have introduced amendments to the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act intended to make easier the attachment of Chilean property in the U.S. to compensate the families of the victims in the Letelier case.

- While I am as interested as you in obtaining justice in this case, I do not feel that attachment of property is the best means of doing so.

- Chile is on the verge of an election probably 1988 crucial to its transition to democracy. ~~Pinochet~~ is on the way out, with few political means left at his disposal.

- The confiscation of Chilean property in the U.S. or the imminent threat of attachment would give him the kind of cause he needs to try and revive his flagging hopes. Such a step would rekindle anti-U.S. nationalism in Chile.

- The Chilean opposition has told us that it does not want the Letelier case to be a campaign issue in the coming months. Nor would a newly-elected democratic regime want to begin its tenure in office by having Chilean property attached in the U.S.

- We believe that a democratic government will voluntarily cooperate in resolving the case and may well honor our diplomatic espousal claim for payment of damanges to the families. That would allow the case to be settled to the benefit of both countries, and further the cause of justice.

- We therefore ask that you reconsider the retroactive nature of your legislation so as not to jeopardize Chile's transition to democracy and the full settlement of the Letelier case.

Letelier returned to the United States in late 1974 to accept a position with the Institute of Policy Studies in Washington, D.C. There, he met Ronni Karpen and her future husband Michael Moffitt, both of whom became assistants to Letelier. During his time at the Institute, Letelier became increasingly involved in politics, eventually attaining the status of a recognized leader of the opposition to the Pinochet government in Chile -- an articulate spokesman who was perhaps the individual most capable of unifying the various opposition entities. On September 10, 1976, the day on which he was to address a crowd of 5,000 at New York's Madison Square Garden to mark the occasion of the third anniversary of the coup in Chile, Letelier learned that the Chilean government issued a decree revoking his Chilean citizenship, citing Letelier's anti-government activism. (The decree was actually dated June 7, but was published on September 9.).

As Letelier was gaining international prominence for his opposition to the repressive government of Pinochet, operatives in the Chilean secret police, the Department of National Intelligence (DINA), were laying the groundwork for his assassination. In mid-1974, Pedro Espinoza Bravo, then director of operations for DINA and a Lieutenant Colonel in the Chilean army, had recruited electronics expert Michael Vernon Townley, an expatriate American citizen living in Chile, to join DINA, eventually providing him with a house and car and several DINA staff assistants. Townley's first mission for DINA, in December, 1974, involved the purchase of sophisticated electronic equipment at Audio Intelligence Devices in Miami, Florida under the assumed name of Kenneth Enyart. After successfully completing that mission, Townley met with then-Colonel Juan Manuel Contreras Sepulveda, the director of DINA, who ordered Townley to travel to Mexico for the purpose of assassinating several Chilean opposition leaders who were scheduled to meet in Mexico City in early 1975.1/

Before traveling to Mexico, Townley contacted in the United States several members of the Cuban Nationalist Movement (CNM), a group of Cuban exiles dedicated to the overthrow of Fidel Castro's communist government in Cuba, in the hope of seeking their assistance in the Mexican mission. Townley met first with Felipe Rivero in Miami and then later with Guillermo Novo Sampol and Jose Dionisio Suarez Esquivel in New Jersey. As a result of these meetings, the leadership of CNM decided to assist DINA in the Mexico City mission, sending Virgilio Paz Romero with Townley to Mexico. The mission was a failure.2/

Townley and Paz* continued to work together after the Mexico City failure, spending the last part of 1975 conducting DINA intelligence missions in Europe. Early in 1976, Paz traveled with Townley to Chile to receive intelligence training from DINA and to obtain medical care for his shoulder. While in Chile, Paz stayed with Townley and his wife, Mariana Ines Callejas de Townley (also a DINA agent) until the middle of June 1976.3/ The time spent together between Townley and Paz helped to strengthen the ties between DINA and CNM; it would be members of these two organizations working in tandem, under the direction of DINA orders, who would assassinate Letelier.

II. THE ASSASSINATION: PREPARATIONS AND EXECUTION

In late June or early July 1976, Colonel Espinoza solicited Townley and Chilean Army Lieutenant Armando Fernandez Larios to participate in the Letelier assassination mission. The three met on the outskirts of Santiago to discuss the mission. As Fernandez remained in an automobile, Espinoza told Townley the details of his mission -- that Townley was to enlist the aid of the CNM and that he was to make the death of Letelier appear to be an accident or suicide. Espinoza informed Townley that he and Fernandez would travel to Paraguay shortly to acquire fake Paraguayan passports and visas to enter the United States, documents which would be used in traveling to the United States to assassinate Orlando Letelier.4/

Espinoza told Fernandez that he would accompany Townley to Paraguay. After returning from Paraguay, Fernandez was to go to the United States to surveil Letelier -- to "see what he was up to." Fernandez, however, was not privy to the meeting between Espinoza and Townley; although he suspected that his mission would result in more than simple intelligence gathering because of the involvement of important DINA operatives like Townley and Espinoza, he did not suspect the true purpose of his involvement until he later heard about Letelier's assassination on the radio.5/

On July 17, 1976, Colonel Benito Guanes Serrano, head of the Paraguayan intelligence service, J-2, received a telegram from Contreras informing him that two DINA officers would soon arrive in Asuncion, Paraguay for the purpose of acquiring false Paraguayan passports. The telegram added that the passports were needed to conduct an intelligence mission in the United States. At the time, Paraguay and Chile were both members of Operation Condor, a consortium of South American intelligence agencies who cooperated in anti-communist and anti-terrorist activities, and thus, the request for false documentation did not strike Guanes as particularly unusual. Evidently, the Chileans had previously been unsuccessful in obtaining false passports through Argentina.6/

In late July 1976, Townley and Fernandez traveled to Paraguay using the names Juan Andres Wilson Silva and Alejandro Rivadeneira, respectively. They explained to Paraguayan officials that the false passports were needed to perform a security check on the operations of the Chilean copper company CODELCO. (Fernandez would later tell a different cover story, that he and Townley had been sent to Paraguay to obtain passports to travel to the United States to meet with General Vernon Walters of the CIA, who would be able to provide them with a list of U.S. politicians sympathetic to the Chilean government.) Townley and Fernandez applied for, and received after about a week in Paraguay, Paraguayan passports under another set of assumed names, Townley as Juan Williams Rose and Fernandez as Alejandro Romeral Jara. The two also applied for visas for entry into the United States using the new Paraguayan passports. The visas were apparently issued routinely by the U.S. Consul on July 27, 1976. Before the two departed for the United States to complete their mission against Letelier, however, they were ordered to return to Santiago and to discontinue the operation. Fernandez and Townley believed that the mission had been wisely terminated, since they suspected that American authorities had been informed by Paraguayan officials that the visas were for Chileans.7/

On the same day that the U.S. Consul approved the visa applications in Paraguay, George Landau, the U.S. Ambassador to Paraguay at the time, became suspicious of the visa applications and had them and the accompanying Paraguayan passports photographed. After some investigation, he decided to revoke the visas. He contacted Guanes, who in turn requested that DINA return the passports unused. The passports were cancelled and given to Landau. When Landau received the passports, the photographs of the two Chilean agents had been removed.8/

In early August 1976, Espinoza contacted Fernandez and ordered him to go to the United States immediately to perform the previously discussed surveillance on Letelier. Fernandez would be accompanied by a female companion using the name Liliana Walker Martinez and was to use the cover story that the two were officials of the Chilean Department of Public Works traveling on government business. Both Fernandez and Walker were given false Chilean official passports; Fernandez traveled on this occasion as Armando Faundez Lyon. Fernandez and Walker entered the United States on August 26, 1976.9/

During the middle of August 1976, Espinoza also contacted Townley again, telling him that the mission to assassinate Letelier was "still on." Espinoza ordered Townley to contact the leadership of the CNM and secure their assistance in the Letelier murder. When Townley reached the United States, according to instructions, he was to meet Fernandez for a briefing on the intelligence gathered by Fernandez. Although Townley was to coordinate the assassination attempt, the plan called for the Cubans to actually murder Letelier after Townley was safely out of the United States. Espinoza again emphasized that Townley was to make the murder look like an accident or suicide. However, Espinoza remarked that the "bottom line" was that Letelier should be killed and specifically approved the use of a bomb to kill Letelier if the favored means of operation proved too difficult.10/

Before either Townley or Fernandez departed for the United States, DINA officials began to concoct a cover story for the Paraguayan passport fiasco. Having removed the pictures from the Paraguayan passports, unaware that Ambassador Landau had previously photographed them, Espinoza ordered two DINA agents, Army Captains Rene Riveros Valderrama and Rolando Mosqueira Jarpa to visit the United States under false Chilean official passports: Riveros under the name Juan Williams Rose and Mosqueira under the name Alejandro Romeral Jara. The two traveled to Washington, D.C. on August 22, 1976 and returned to Chile in early September 1976. Their entry into the United States under the same name as the Paraguayan visa applicants (who were actually Townley and Fernandez) caused great confusion to investigators of the Letelier assassination for well over a year after the crime was committed.11/

Meanwhile, Fernandez had also traveled to the United States. After arriving, he called the Institute for Policy Studies in Washington, D.C. to obtain Letelier's home address, using the pretext of having to make a delivery. According to Fernandez, the Institute told him that Letelier would be out of town for the next three weeks. Fernandez then went to Letelier's home address in Bethesda, Maryland to confirm the address. He believed that the information he had received was accurate because he observed a car parked in front of the house with a Chilean insignia on the back. This, he assumed, was Letelier's automobile. After completing this task, Fernandez called Espinoza and told him that Letelier was out of town; Espinoza agreed with Fernandez that he could do nothing more in Washington and told him he should return to Chile after taking some vacation time in the U.S. Fernandez thereupon, on September 6, 1976, traveled with his sister to New York City, where he stayed several days. Upon learning that his father was critically ill in Chile, Fernandez called Espinoza and requested permission to return immediately. Espinoza informed Fernandez that Townley would be arriving in New York City very shortly, on September 9, 1976, and ordered Fernandez, before returning to Chile, to meet Townley upon his arrival at Kennedy International Airport to brief him on the information he had collected on Letelier.12/

Townley, traveling with a false Chilean official passport under the name Hans Petersen Silva, arrived at Kennedy Airport aboard a LAN-Chile plane (the Chilean national airline) on September 9, 1976. He carried with him several of the materials needed for constructing the bomb which would ultimately be used to assassinate Orlando Letelier. He met Fernandez at Kennedy Airport through the contact of a New York-based LAN-Chile official, Fernando Cruchaga. As he had in other DINA operations, Townley was able to use LAN-Chile employees to assist in this mission because he had established close, personal relationships with the vast majority of LAN-Chile pilots, particularly the chief pilot, as well as a sizable number of other LAN-Chile personnel. In a meeting in the men's room, Fernandez supplied Townley with the information he had acquired regarding Letelier and some cash. After spending several hours in the LAN-Chile first-class lounge, Fernandez returned that evening to Chile with Liliana Walker. Upon arrival in Santiago, he briefed Espinoza at DINA headquarters. Back in the United States, Townley rented a car and headed for New Jersey.13/

In New Jersey that evening, Townley met with his old associate, CNM member Virgilio Paz, at the Bottom of the Barrel Restaurant in Union City, N.J., and Townley told Paz that he wished to speak with Guillermo Novo. The next day, Townley met with Novo and Dionisio Suarez at the Estrella Restaurant in Union City, and Townley formally asked Novo and Suarez for assistance in the Letelier murder. The two CNM leaders responded that they would have to take the request under consideration. A few days later, they contacted Townley to inform him that they were willing to participate in the assassination. Townley called a DINA official in Chile who used the identity Lucho Gutierrez to pass along the news of the successful recruitment of the Cubans and to receive confirmation of his orders.

Late in the evening of September 15, 1976, Townley and Paz drove to Washington, D.C., their automobile loaded with explosives. They arrived at around 4:00 A.M. the following morning. They then spent the next two days watching Letelier, his home and his daily movements in order to verify the information provided by Fernandez, some of which was determined to be erroneous. On September 17, they followed Letelier to work and watched the activity around his office from a restaurant across the street. That evening, Townley and Paz purchased some of the materials needed to construct the bomb at a Sears store near Letelier's home in Bethesda, Maryland. Suarez joined Paz and Townley in Washington, D.C. on September 18, bringing with him the blasting cap used in the explosive device. The three purchased additional materials needed for assembling the bomb at a Radio Shack store that evening.

Townley, Paz and Suarez then returned to Townley's motel room where they proceeded to construct the bomb using plastic explosives and TNT supplied by the CNM. However, the TNT had been previously sent to the CNM by Townley via LAN-Chile to replace explosives loaned to him by the CNM during the Mexico City operation. The bomb was to be detonated with a Fanon-Courier electronic pager, a device which had been modified in Chile several months earlier by Townley after the CNM had sent, unrelated to the Letelier mission, several such pagers to him via LAN-Chile. On the night of September 18, 1976, Townley, Suarez, and Paz drove to Letelier's house to install the bomb, and Townley, agreeing to the demands of the CNM, himself affixed the bomb to a cross-member beneath Letelier's automobile. After returning to his motel room, Townley called his wife in Chile, informing her that a bomb had been placed under Letelier's car and asking her to relay that information to DINA headquarters.

Early the next morning, Townley flew to Newark under the identity of Kenneth Enyart. Alvin Ross Diaz met him at the airport and drove him to Guillermo Novo's apartment, where Townley recounted the events of the past few days in Washington. After visiting his sister in Westchester County, New York, Townley went to Kennedy Airport to submit a false United States Immigration and Naturalization Service Form I-94 showing that Hans Petersen Silva, the holder of the official Chilean passport, had flown to Madrid, Spain. He then flew from Newark to Miami, Florida, still using the Kenneth Enyart identity. Townley attempted to purchase a new return ticket to Santiago with the help of LAN Chile employees (as Townley was short of funds). On September 20, Townley met with Felipe Rivero; the two discussed the DINA/CNM relationship only in general terms, and Townley did not bring up the assassination of Letelier. Townley then spent the rest of the day shopping and spent the evening and night at his parents' home in Boca Raton, Florida.14/

On September 21, 1976, Townley called Virgilio Paz to determine why he had not heard or seen anything in the press about Letelier. Paz refused to discuss the subject and hung up on Townley. Townley then contacted Ignacio Novo to arrange a meeting. Novo suggested to Townley that he should listen to the news on his car radio, as something important had happened in Washington. That "something" was that the bomb planted below Letelier's car had been detonated, killing Letelier and his assistant, Ronni Moffitt. Michael Moffitt, Ronni's husband and another assistant to Letelier, was in the back of the car and was injured, although not critically. Townley would later learn from Virgilio Paz that the bomb had malfunctioned on the scheduled September 20 and that the CNM had been forced to remove the bomb, correct the malfunction and reinstall the device prior to its September 21 detonation.

Before meeting with Novo, Townley reached a LAN-Chile pilot, Ronald Berger, at the Dupont Plaza Hotel Annex who agreed to sign a voucher for a one-way ticket to Santiago in the name, Kenneth Enyart, with the charges being made against the pilot's internal account. Townley then met with Ignacio Novo and filled him in on the details of the assassination. Subsequent to meeting with a number of LAN-Chile employees at the Dupont Plaza, Townley returned to Chile on September 22, traveling under the identity of Kenneth Enyart with a fraudulently obtained U.S. passport.15/

III. THE U.S. INVESTIGATION AND THE CHILEAN COVER UP

Upon his return to Chile, Townley supplied Espinoza with the details of the mission. Espinoza seemed satisfied with the results of Townley's efforts and destroyed the false Chilean passport in the name of Hans Petersen Silva which Townley had used to enter the United States. Soon thereafter, Espinoza called Fernandez into his office at DINA headquarters and told Fernandez not to worry, that the assassination had been carried out by the "opposition" to the Pinochet government to discredit the regime before the Chilean Foreign Minister was scheduled to speak at the U.N. that week. Espinoza told Fernandez, "That is what you will say." Although Espinoza never told Fernandez that he had participated on a mission to assassinate Letelier, the implications of Espinoza's comments made it clear to Fernandez that that was exactly what he had done.16/

Immediately after the September 21 assassination, the United States government began an investigation of the events surrounding the murder of Letelier under the direction of both the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) and the Department of Justice. The investigation eventually uncovered the participation of the Cuban exiles; through informers, the investigators ascertained that Guillermo Novo, Virgilio Paz, Dionisio Suarez and Alvin Ross had all participated in the crime. Further informer contact with the Cubans revealed that DINA had also been involved.17/

On June 28, 1977, during a meeting with the Chilean Ambassador to the United States, Jorge Cauas, Assistant United States Attorney Eugene Propper, one of the lead investigators on the Letelier case, requested the assistance of the Chilean government in the investigation of the extent of contact between the Cubans and DINA or any other Chilean government organization. Propper was subsequently advised that the Chilean government was initiating an investigation to provide him with the answers he sought. Special Agent Robert Scherrer of the FBI repeated Propper's request for information at a meeting with General Ernesto Baeza Michaelsen, the director of Investigaciones de Chile, on July 15, 1977. Baeza told Scherrer that he would speak personally with President Pinochet to expedite the investigation. That same evening, Scherrer met Colonel Contreras, who denied having any information regarding the Cubans and their contact with his organization, DINA. Contreras denial of knowledge about the Cubans was almost certainly a blatant lie. After a period of delay, the Chilean government submitted a written answer to the requests to the Department of Justice which contained patently false information. The Chilean government added that additional requests for information by the United States would have to be made through the proper judicial channels in accordance with international law.18/

The only significant lead that the American investigators obtained regarding the identity of the Chilean officials involved in the Letelier assassination was that two persons traveling under official Chilean passports had entered the United States using the same names as the Chileans who had applied for visas in Paraguay in July 1976. Realizing that the Chilean government was not cooperating in the investigation, on February 17, 1978, the investigators sent formal Letters Rogatory to the Chilean Supreme Court through the District Court for the District of Columbia. This was the appropriate step under the international legal procedures that the Chileans had demanded. The Letters Rogatory requested the Chilean government to produce for questioning "Juan Williams Rose" and "Alejandro Romeral Jara," the names of the Chileans who had entered the United States and applied for U.S. visas with Paraguayan passports; at this time, the investigators did not know that two different sets of people were involved to cover the tracks of Townley and Fernandez.19/

After the Chilean Supreme Court received the Letters Rogatory, Contreras summoned Townley to his office. Contreras was no longer the director of DINA, the name of which had been changed to the National Information Center (CNI) during the ensuing period, having been promoted to General and installed as the director of the Chilean Army Engineers. Contreras had been replaced at CNI by retired Chilean Army General Odlanier Mena. At first, Contreras suggested to Townley that he flee Chile to avoid questioning. When Townley refused, Contreras suggested the cover story that Townley had planned to travel to the United States only to obtain a list of U.S. politicians sympathetic to the Pinochet regime, but that the trip had never taken place.20/

Around the same time, Contreras also met with Fernandez and instructed him to deny ever having been to the United States. The new head of CNI, General Mena, refused to believe Fernandez' repeated denials of his trip to the United States and continued to press Fernandez. On several occasions, Fernandez sought counsel from Contreras, who finally advised Fernandez to admit that he had traveled to the United States on official business for CODELCO, the Chilean national copper company. Later, with the help of Espinoza, Contreras and Fernandez developed the CODELCO cover story more fully. Apparently, Fernandez and Contreras also met with Townley to coordinate stories. Fernandez would explain to investigators that he had gone to the United States to investigate manipulation of funds by CODELCO employees.21/

The investigation began to pick up momentum when pictures of Townley and Fernandez appeared in the international press in March 1978, identifying the two as the Chilean agents who had entered Paraguay seeking a visa for entry into the United States under false Paraguayan passports. The American investigators had attached to the Letters Rogatory the photographs of Townley and Fernandez that Ambassador Landau had copied from the false Paraguayan passports in July 1976. The publication of the photographs swiftly led to the identification of Townley and Fernandez as the individuals that had visited both Paraguay and the United States, rather than Mosqueira and Riveros (the other "Williams" and "Romeral" who had entered the United States as part of the cover up and who were identified by the Chilean passport numbers given in the Letters Rogatory).22/

On March 22, 1978, the Chilean government produced Riveros and Mosqueira in a Chilean court in response to the Letters Rogatory. The United States protested that they were not the individuals whose photographs had been included with the Letters Rogatory. The Chilean court refused to recognize the appearance of Riveros and Mosqueira as compliance with the Letters Rogatory, and after continued pressure on the Chilean government, the American investigators were allowed to interview Fernandez on March 30, 1978 prior to his appearing before a Chilean magistrate pursuant to the Letters Rogatory.23/

In that interview, Fernandez provided the American investigators with "explanations" for the Paraguayan passport trip and his subsequent trip to the United States. According to Fernandez, the Paraguayan passports were needed for a mission to the United States to contact General Walters, an important man who could help the Chileans obtain a list of United Nations individuals sympathetic to the Pinochet regime in Chile; the trip to the United States, on the other hand, was merely to accompany a DINA agent as a reward for his arduous and valued service to DINA. He also stated that he had coincidentally bumped into Townley at Kennedy Airport and that they had only exchanged pleasantries as Fernandez was on his way back to Chile. All of these claims made by Fernandez during the interview would later prove to be blatant lies, a fact that Fernandez would subsequently admit to American investigators.

The next day, Fernandez and Townley both appeared in a Chilean court in response to the Letters Rogatory. Fernandez reiterated the false cover story. Townley refused to testify; as an American citizen, he was entitled to invoke the fifth amendment privilege against self-incrimination.24/

Shortly after his refusal to testify before the Chilean judge, the United States formally requested the expulsion of Townley from Chile. On April 7, 1978, Earl Silbert, the United States Attorney for the District of Columbia, and Enrique

Montero, Chilean Undersecretary of the Interior, reached an agreement through which Townley would be returned to the United States and Chile would henceforth cooperate in the investigation of the Letelier assassination. The next day, the Chilean government complied with the agreement, and Townley was turned over to FBI agents in Chile and taken to the United States in custody. Back in the United States, Townley refused to make a statement until he could see General Hector Orozco Sepulveda, the special military prosecutor appointed to investigate the "Passport Cases" (the Chilean government's euphemism for the Letelier assassination). Upon Orozco's order to tell the truth, Townley first made a statement to Orozco and then gave a statement to the American investigators having reached a plea bargaining agreement. The expulsion of Townley and Orozco's order to testify would prove to be the only genuine acts of cooperation in the Letelier assassination investigation that the Government of Chile would undertake, despite the assurances given to Silbert by Montero.25/

Townley's statement confirmed the gravest suspicions of the American investigators: not only had the conspiracy to assassinate Letelier reached the highest level of the Chilean government -- at least to the head of DINA, Contreras, and perhaps even to the head of the government, President Augusto Pinochet, but after the assassination, the Chilean government had actively impeded the progress of the U.S. investigation. According to both Townley and his wife, Mariana Callejas, only Contreras or someone higher up in the government possessed the authority to order a mission such as the assassination of Letelier. Much of Townley's statement was later corroborated by a wide range of documentary evidence, from a vivid reconstruction of the explosion that killed Letelier to Townley's travel receipts. Statements by other individuals, such as Jack Holcomb, the owner of Audio Intelligence Devices, Fernando Cruchaga, a LAN-Chile employee in New York, and Mariana Callejas, further corroborated Townley's statement.26/

As Townley was finally testifying truthfully in the United States about the events leading up to and following the Letelier assassination, the efforts of the guilty parties in the Chilean government to escape justice continued. Orozco returned to Chile with Townley's statement and confronted Fernandez with an accurate account of the events in Paraguay and the United States between July and September of 1976. Fernandez then gave a true statement to Orozco, who proceeded to order Contreras (who had resigned from the Chilean military in March 1978) to make a statement. Contreras finally capitulated, having been confronted with the statements given by Fernandez, Espinoza and Townley. Contreras admitted to Orozco that he had ordered Espinoza to have Letelier assassinated. He claimed that he was acting under the authority of "the Chief," the reference being to President Pinochet. After hearing Contreras' statement and realizing the magnitude of the conspiracy, Orozco told Fernandez not to worry, that everything would be resolved and that he should return to work.27/

III. THE CRIMINAL TRIALS AND EXTRADITION PROCEEDINGS

On August 1, 1978, a grand jury in Washington, D.C. handed down indictments based on the results of the investigation by American law enforcement authorities. The indictment charged Contreras, Espinoza, Fernandez, Guillermo Novo, Alvin Ross, Virgilio Paz and Dionisio Suarez with murder and conspiracy to murder in violation of the United States Code and the District of Columbia Code. It also charged Guillermo and Ignacio Novo with making false statements to a grand jury about their involvement with DINA and Ignacio Novo with misprison of a felony. Only the Novo brothers and Alvin Ross were in custody in the United States; Paz and Suarez were still fugitives and Contreras, Espinoza and Fernandez apparently were in Chile. Evidence later indicated that Fernandez, Espinoza and Contreras were subsequently detained in a military hospital pursuant to a provisional arrest request from the United States.28/

The United States issued a formal extradition request for the three Chileans on September 21, 1978. The attorney for the United States in Chile, Alfredo Etcheberry, submitted an exhaustive petition in favor of extradition supported by extensive and elaborate documentation collected during the course of the assassination investigation. Etcheberry argued that the evidence presented was more than sufficient to satisfy the requirements of the 1902 Extradition Treaty between Chile and the United States, a treaty which requires only enough evidence to bring the accused to trial for the offense under the laws of the nation where the fugitive is found.29/

Before the proceedings on the extradition request were able to begin in the Chilean Supreme Court, Orozco summoned Espinoza and Fernandez from their detention. Orozco ordered them to lie in their declarations before the Supreme Court. Upon their protests that they had already provided him with truthful written declarations, Orozco returned the statements to Fernandez and Espinoza, who promptly destroyed them. Fernandez also met prior to the Supreme Court proceedings with President Pinochet, who told Fernandez, "Be a good soldier, tough it out and this problem will have a happy end."30/

On October 17, 1978, Contreras, Espinoza and Fernandez lied under oath to the Chilean Supreme Court during the extradition proceedings in compliance with the orders of General Orozco. Fernandez told the Court that he traveled to Paraguay with Townley to obtain false passports needed for a trip to the United States to meet with General Vernon Walters of the CIA to obtain a list of American politicians supportive of the Pinochet government. He then told the familiar cover story about his trip to the United States with Liliana Walker, that they were checking on irregularities in the finances of CODELCO. Contreras and Espinoza also used these cover stories in their testimony to the Supreme Court.31/

Prior to the Chilean courts issuing a decision on the extradition request, the criminal proceedings against the defendants in custody in the United States began. On February 14, 1979, after a six week trial, a jury in the District Court for the District of Columbia found Guillermo Novo and Alvin Ross guilty on both the murder and conspiracy charges, both of the Novo brothers guilty of lying to a grand jury about their involvement with DINA and Ignacio Novo guilty of misprison of a felony. Ross and Guillermo Novo received two consecutive sentences of life in prison for their roles in the murder, while Ignacio Novo was sentenced to eight years in prison for his actions. Each of the defendants filed an appeal.32/

On May 13, 1979, Israel Borquez Montero, President of the Chilean Supreme Court, handed down his decision rejecting the extradition request by the United States. He stated that under Chilean law the prosecution needed to show a "well-founded presumption" of the guilt of the accused before going forward with a criminal indictment. Thus, according to Borquez, such a standard had to be applied in the extradition proceedings since the Extradition Treaty stated that the law of the nation in which the accused were located was to be determinative of the sufficiency of evidence for extradition. He held that Townley's plea bargained statement to the American investigators, which Chilean law views as a "compensated accusation" since the witness receives a reduced sentence in return for his testimony, could not be viewed as impartial evidence under Chilean law. As such, neither Townley's testimony nor the evidence garnered with the aid of information provided by Townley, particularly when viewed in light of prior inconsistent statements given by Townley, could be afforded the weight necessary to reach the "well-founded presumption" required to extradite Contreras, Espinoza and Fernandez to the United States.

After excluding all of this evidence, all that remained which supported the United States' request, Borquez stated, was certain "absurd or contradictory" testimony made by Fernandez, Espinoza and Contreras. Borquez ordered that these contradictions be "made a matter of record" and that his decision be forwarded to the ongoing Chilean military investigation for the purpose of examining what "responsibility may be charged to Fernandez, Espinoza and Contreras in the homicides of Letelier and Moffitt."33/

The United States appealed Borquez' decision to the full Chilean Supreme Court, which upheld Borquez' denial of the extradition request on October 1, 1979. The U.S. had argued that Borquez had committed reversible error by failing to accord Townley's testimony the weight of a "well-founded presumption" against Fernandez, Espinoza and Contreras; the attorney for the United States argued that a number of Chilean statutes recognize the evidentiary value of plea-bargained testimony and thus Borquez' decision should be overturned. The Supreme Court ignored this contention, supporting not only the bases given in Borquez' decision, but also going beyond Borquez' ruling by invalidating all evidence gathered by American investigators in Chile under the reasoning that such American actions violated Chilean sovereignty and by refusing to consider Townley's statement given to Orozco on the ground that Orozco was not authorized to act outside of Chilean territory. The Court reversed Borquez' order that the military investigation pursue the contradictions in the testimony of Fernandez, Espinoza and Contreras, stating that criminal charges could not be based on "simply reflections, reasoning or mere suspicions" that these contradictions aroused. The Supreme Court ruled that not until the United States produced new evidence beyond that which it had produced for the extradition request could there be any further Chilean action with respect to resolving the Letelier assassination.34/

Almost a year later, on September 15, 1980, the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit reversed the criminal convictions of the Novo brothers and Alvin Ross. The murder and conspiracy convictions of Guillermo Novo and Ross were held invalid because the court below admitted into evidence the testimony of two informants who had "deliberately elicited" admissions of guilt from the defendants while the informants were in prison with the defendants. The court based this ruling on a United States Supreme Court opinion handed down not only after the trial, but also after oral argument on the appeal. The court reversed Ignacio Novo's conviction for lying to the grand jury and misprison of a felony, holding that trying Ignacio Novo jointly with the murder defendants was likely to confuse the jurors and prejudice the defendant due to the complexity of the evidence and the disparity between the charges against him and the other defendants.35/

The United States retried Guillermo Novo and Alvin Ross in early 1981. On May 30, a jury acquitted both defendants of the murder charges while convicting Guillermo Novo of lying to a grand jury about his involvement with DINA. Ignacio Novo later pleaded guilty to the charge of lying to a grand jury. Without further access to the other indicted individuals, the criminal case could proceed no further in the United States. Official Chilean action on the case ended in the middle of 1982 when the Supreme Court issued an order staying the investigation of the "Passport Cases" pending discovery of new evidence.36/

Because many of the crucial conspirators in the plot to assassinate Letelier were not brought before a U.S. court, the United States was severely handicapped in its attempts to bring the participants in this act of international terrorism to justice. Both the refusal of the Chilean Supreme Court to cooperate fully with American authorities, particularly with respect to the extradition request, and the Chilean government's failure to conduct an honest and thorough investigation into the assassination were pivotal in shielding the guilty parties from the consequences of their illegal and brutal actions.

IV. THE CIVIL CASE AGAINST CHILE

After the issuance of the criminal indictment in August 1978, the families of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt filed a civil suit in the District Court for the District of Columbia. The complaint alleged that Townley, Ross, Paz, Suarez and Ignacio and Guillermo Novo acted in concert with and at the direction of the Republic of Chile, its intelligence arm, DINA, and DINA operatives and officials, Espinoza, Fernandez and Contreras, to cause the death of Letelier and Moffitt. Such action, the plaintiffs asserted, violated Letelier's and Moffitt's rights under the United States Constitution, international law, the common law and U.S. statutory law.

The court entered a default judgment against all of the defendants when all failed to respond to service of process. Subsequently, the government of Chile sent a diplomatic note and an attached memorandum of law to the clerk of the court via the United States Department of State, protesting the American actions and arguing that it was protected from the jurisdiction of U.S. courts by the doctrine of sovereign immunity, specifically, the 1976 Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act (FSIA).

On March 11, 1980, several months prior to the overturning of the convictions of the Novo brothers and Alvin Ross, the court ruled against Chile, holding that the FSIA did not protect the government of Chile from the civil jurisdiction of United States courts. The court stated that Section 1605(a)(5) of the Act specifically confers jurisdiction over foreign states for official, non-commercial conduct which results in personal injury or death in the United States. Although Section 1605(a)(5) exempts "discretionary" acts from its sweep, the court held that governmental officials do not have the "discretion" to commit illegal acts. The court also held that the act of state doctrine does not excuse Chile from the court's jurisdiction since the result of Chile's alleged actions occurred in the United States and, thus, to hold otherwise would emasculate the FSIA.[37]

The government of Chile failed to appeal the ruling and elected not to participate in the trial on the merits. On November 5, 1980, the District Court for the District of Columbia entered a judgment in favor of the families of Letelier and Moffitt finding that the plaintiffs had produced sufficient evidence, particularly Townley's prior sworn testimony, to entitle them to a default judgment. The court awarded compensatory and punitive damages of approximately $5,000,000 to the plaintiffs, holding the individual defendants and the Government of Chile jointly and severally liable. Neither Chile nor the individual defendants appealed.38/

The families of Letelier and Moffitt thus became judgment creditors of the government of Chile. They brought suit in the District Court for the Southern District of New York in an attempt to execute the judgment against LAN-Chile, an airline which was wholly owned by the Republic of Chile. The Government of Chile again did not participate in the proceedings; LAN-Chile, however, appeared to defend its assets against attachment.

Claiming that it was a "separate juridical entity" from the Government of Chile, LAN-Chile asserted that it could not be held liable for the government's debts. The airline further arguments included the contention that the FSIA protects a government's commercial assets from execution if those assets are unrelated to the commission of the tort. Meanwhile, the judgment creditors took the position that if the court would not allow them to levy on simply any assets of Chile in the United States that they were able to find, the court should nonetheless "pierce the corporate veil" of LAN-Chile because of LAN-Chile's participation and assistance in the assassination mission. They argued that the FSIA offered no protection to LAN-Chile because its assets were used in the commission of the tort.

The District Court agreed with the judgment creditors, holding that "internationally recognized equitable principles" permitted the court to disregard LAN-Chile's separate juridical existence. The court further held that the FSIA did not prevent execution against a foreign government's commercial assets if the assets were used in the "commercial activity upon which the claim is based." Even though this section of the FSIA applies to the execution of judgments based on commercial claims and not to personal injury or death caused by the actions of a foreign government official, the court ruled that execution was proper, because in the absence of clear congressional intent, Section 1605(a)(5) should not be interpreted to create "a right without a remedy."39/

The Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit disagreed with the District Court's analysis and reversed the judgment. The Second Circuit held that LAN-Chile's separate juridical existence had to be recognized even though it was a wholly owned entity of the Republic of Chile. According to the court, joint participation in the commission of a tort is not the type of "abuse" of the corporate form meriting the "piercing of the corporate veil" as laid out by the Supreme Court in a prior case (Bancec). Further, the court ruled that LAN-Chile's participation, if any, was not "commercial activity" in the sense as that term is used in the FSIA. The court added that while this may leave the judgment creditors with a "right without a remedy" under American domestic law, they might still be able to obtain relief by pressing their claim in an international tribunal or if the government of Chile decides to honor the judgment as an act of goodwill. The Supreme Court denied certiorari on the judgment creditors' appeal.40/

Thus, the families of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt exhausted their legal remedies in the United States in pursuit of obtaining compensation from the government of Chile for its egregious act of state-sponsored terrorism. The fact remains, however, that the families had a legally cognizable claim to damages which the government of Chile refused, and continues to refuse, to acknowledge. Despite repeated stonewalling from both the courts and government in Chile, the families of Letelier and Moffitt have continued to press their claim, just as the United States continues to seek justice for both the victims and the perpetrators of the Letelier assassination.

V. RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

The Republic of Chile, consistent with past efforts, took further to steps in 1985 to assure that a full and fair accounting of the events leading up to and following the assassination of Letelier would never be undertaken in Chile, when a military court granted Contreras' request to dismiss in its entirety the suspended investigation into the "Passport Cases." This decision was based on the expiration of the statute of limitations for passport fraud, which is five years in Chile. Meanwhile, the statute of limitations for murder in Chile is fifteen years, thus indicating the extent to which the military court has continued to deny any role of the Chilean government or its officials in the Letelier assassination. The Letelier family, a civil party to the suit under Chilean law, appealed this ruling. As the appeal was pending in early 1987, a major break occurred in the Letelier case.41/

On February 4, 1987, Armando Fernandez Larios voluntarily entered the United States following discussions with several U.S. governmental officials in which he offered to testify fully and truthfully and plead guilty to the charge of being an accessory after the fact to the murder of an internationally protected person. Fernandez' statement to the United States government corroborated almost entirely Michael Townley's earlier statements, reconfirming and adding to the solid body of evidence linking highly placed Chilean officials, including Contreras, Espinoza, Orozco and Pinochet to the Letelier assassination and/or investigation cover up.42/

As the type of dramatic new evidence which the Chileans had been demanding for the continuance of their investigation, Fernandez' voluntary decision to come forward with the truth rekindled the efforts of the Letelier and Moffitt families, along with the United States government, to force the Chileans to bring the responsible parties in the Letelier assassination to justice. On May 11, 1987, the United States again formally requested by diplomatic note the expulsion from Chile of Contreras and Espinoza, the two former DINA leaders who had played a crucial role in the planning, execution and cover up of the Letelier assassination.43/

On May 22, a military court of appeal in Santiago reversed the decree of a lower court which had permanently closed the "Passport Cases." This appeal by the Letelier family had lain dormant for almost two years when the appeals court finally took this action. The result of the reversal, however, was hardly a major triumph for the Letelier family; the court dictated merely that the investigation be returned to "suspended" status, meaning that the investigation would not be reopened without further, new evidence.44/

On May 27, the Chilean Foreign Ministry publicly reported the U.S. request for the expulsion of Contreras and Espinoza and indicated to the Chilean press that it intended to reject the request. The Foreign Ministry took this action without responding in any formal manner to the United States. On June 17, more than a month after receiving the diplomatic note requesting expulsion, the government of Chile rejected the United States request in its own diplomatic note, again making known the note's content publicly. In response, Assistant Secretary of State Elliot Abrams called Chilean Ambassador to the United States Errazuriz into his office in Washington on June 24 to convey the deep dissatisfaction of the United States over the Chilean government's continued unwillingness to resolve this international dispute.45/

On July 17, the United States continued to apply diplomatic pressure on Chile to cooperate in the Letelier case by sending a diplomatic note demanding that the Chilean government prosecute Contreras and Espinoza in Chile if it refused to expel them to the United States. On July 28, Assistant Secretary Abrams presented Ambassador Errazuriz with another diplomatic note, this one requesting that the government of Chile pay ex gratia compensation to the families of the victims of the Letelier assassination. Under the terms of the note, ex gratia compensation would absolve Chile of its moral responsibility to the victim's families without admitting guilt in the assassination.46/

Taking advantage of the favorable May appeals court ruling, the Letelier family petitioned the lower military court to reopen the "Passport Cases" on August 20, 1987. The petition argued that the new evidence presented by Fernandez' testimony was more than sufficient to require a new investigation. On August 21, the United States sent another diplomatic note to the Chilean government urging the government of Chile to grant the Letelier petition and finally cooperate in resolving the case, now over ten years old.47/

On August 28, 1987, the Chilean government responding by delivering two diplomatic notes to the United States Government. The first vigorously defended the Chilean government's decision not to expel or prosecute Contreras and Espinoza, implying that it considered the criminal proceedings in the Letelier case settled. The second note rejected the United States request for compensation to the victims' families, denying any responsibility for the assassination and questioning the exercise by the United States courts of jurisdiction in the civil suit against Chile. Far from indicating any willingness to cooperate in bringing the case to an end, the Chilean government offered only to submit the question of the jurisdiction of U.S. courts over Chile to an international tribunal.48/

On October 13, 1987, a Chilean military court refused to reopen the "Passport Cases," holding that the new evidence submitted, Fernandez' statement about his involvement in the Letelier assassination, lacked any "probative value." The United States issued a strongly worded statement decrying Chile's continued lack of cooperation and obstruction of justice on October 16. On October 20, the Foreign Ministry of Chile publicly responded to the United States' statement by disingenuously claiming that it had cooperated with the investigation all along. The same day, the Letelier family filed an appeal in a military appeals court of the October 13 refusal to reopen the "Passport Cases.49/

In an attempt to add momentum to the investigation, the United States served General Orozco, the military investigator in charge of the Letelier case in Chile at the time of Townley's expulsion, with a Letter Rogatory requesting information about his knowledge of many aspects of the Letelier assassination and subsequent cover up. The Chilean courts stalled for several months before finally requiring a response from Orozco. On April 14, 1988, the Chilean Supreme Court refused to require Orozco to answer all but twelve of the approximately 250 questions put to him by the United States. When Orozco's responses were received, they were either obviously false or generally evasive.50

On May 4, 1988, the Chilean military appeals court upheld the refusal of the lower court to reopen the "Passport Cases." The Letelier family appealed this decision to the Chilean Supreme Court. This last hope of extracting some form of cooperation from the Chilean government was extinguished on July 14, 1988, when the Supreme Court affirmed the decision to keep the "Passport Cases" in suspension on the ground that Fernandez' confession added nothing new to the evidence already available.51/

Because of Chile's continued refusal to cooperate with diplomatic and legal requests for assistance by the United States and the exhaustion of domestic legal proceedings, both criminal and civil, in the United States and Chile by the United States Government and by the families of the victims of the Letelier and Moffitt murders, the United States decided to espouse the claims of the United States citizens involved in the case. The Department of State has formally requested through diplomatic channels that the Government of Chile pay the United States and the claimants it represents $12,000,000 to compensate for the personal and national injury incurred as a result of the Chilean government's participation and cover up of the Letelier assassination. The Republic of Chile has formally denied this request as well.

VI. THE CURRENT POSTURE OF THE DISPUTE

The United States continues to demand that Chile cooperate in seeing that the participants in this act of political terrorism, the murders of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt, are prosecuted and that the families of the victims are fairly compensated. The United States has vowed never to rest until a satisfactory resolution has been reached.52/

Having reached both diplomatic and judicial impasses in efforts to obtain the Chilean government's cooperation in fully investigating the facts surrounding the involvement of the Government of Chile and certain of its officials and employees in (i) the assassination of Orlando Letelier and the attendant murder and injury of Ronni Moffitt and Michael Moffitt, respectively, and (ii) the subsequent cover-up of the actions of the Chilean government and certain of its officials and employees in this heinous and illegal act of international terrorism, the United States has decided to convoke the International Commission of Investigation pursuant to the provisions of the Treaty for the Settlement of Disputes that may Occur Between the United States and Chile, which entered into force on January 19, 1916. Specifically, the United States requests the Commission to investigate and report upon the facts surrounding the deaths of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffitt in Washington, D.C. on September 21, 1976, including the involvement of the Government of Chile and certain of its officials and employees in those deaths, and to investigate and report upon the extent to which the Government of Chile and certain of its officials and employees obstructed subsequent investigations into these deaths.

ANNOTATION

This annotation refers the reader to the documentation for this account currently available in State Department files. Well known historical facts are not cited. Where additional documentary support may be needed to support assertions in the summary, or where any weakness exists in State Department files, it has been noted.

Much of the documentary-type evidence (as opposed to testimonial evidence) among the Extradition Request Documents are illegible. This is a result of the poor quality of the copies at the U.S. Attorney's office. The original photographs of these documents are in the files at the U.S. Attorney's Office; each document can be identified by its number on the document list which precedes the documents in their package. The appropriate file box numbers for the extradition materials can be identified by the Letelier Case File Manifest which also precedes the package.

4. Townley Statement, E.R. #41, pp. 2-5.

5. Fernandez Proffer to District Court, D.S. #2, pp. 2-3, 7. There are some declarations in Townley's statement which contradict Fernandez' claims about how little he knew about the purpose of the mission. In this case, however, Townley's statement corroborates Fernandez' claim that Fernandez stayed in the car during Townley's initial meeting with Espinoza.

8. Scherrer Statement, E.R. #51; Guanes Statement, E.R. #114. There is more information available regarding how Landau became suspicious of the visa applications. Since this information about the Paraguayan Passport incident is relevant to the ultimate solution of the case, it should be determined whether this information can be used in this unclassified document or whether it should be declassified.

9. Fernandez Statement, E.R. #127, p. 8; Fernandez Proffer, D.S. #2, pp. 4-5; "Faundez" and "Walker" Travel Documents; E.R. #131-34. The true identity of Liliana Walker remains unknown.

10. Townley Statement, E.R. #41, pp. 14-15.

11. Riveros and Mosqueira Statements and Travel Documents, E.R. #141-49. There appears to be some contradictions among the explanations given about the purpose of Riveros' and Mosqueira's trip to the U.S. They claimed they were making a delivery for Espinoza to a Chilean Army General Floody in the U.S. Floody asserts that they told him they were in the U.S. to make contact with CIA Deputy Director General Vernon Walters. See Floody's Statement, E.R. #150. General Walters, for his part, claims that he did not have any contact with DINA after his retirement in June 1976 and, therefore, Floody's version of events is absurd. See Walters' Statement, E.R. #151. In fact, Mosqueira later used the "General Walters" cover story in his testimony before the Chilean Supreme Court during the extradition proceedings. See Borquez Extradition Decision, D.S. #7. It is most likely that the "Walters" cover story was actually used by Riveros and Mosqueira since Fernandez later used the same story to explain his and Townley's mission to Paraguay before the Chilean Supreme Court during the extradition proceedings in 1978. The use of the same story to cover for the missions to Paraguay and the U.S. by the different "Williams'" and "Romerals" would have neatly completed the open circle created by the failed mission to Paraguay, that is if Landau had not copied the photographs of the false Paraguayan passports, thus exposing the Chilean cover up of the Paraguay mission.

12. Fernandez Proffer, D.S. #2, pp. 4-6; Etcheberry Submission, D.S. #6, p. 61. For documents confirming the dates of Fernandez' presence in the U.S. under the name of Faundez Lyon, see E.R. #133-38.

13. Townley Statement, E.R. #41, pp. 15-18; Fernandez Proffer, D.S. #2, p. 6; LAN-Chile Flight Manifest, E.R. #138; Cruchaga Statement, E.R. #106. It is here, in the explanation of what Fernandez told Townley, that the contradictions between the testimony of Townley and Fernandez are most acute. Townley indicates that Fernandez told him, in some detail, about Letelier's automobile, his place of work, and his "daily movements." Fernandez, on the other hand, claims that gave Townley only a map with some surveillance notes. If Townley's version is true, it contradicts Fernandez' statement that Letelier was out of town at the time of his visit and that he only observed Letelier's house and car in Letelier's absence. Although it is not perfectly clear whether Letelier was actually in Washington while Fernandez was there, both the Schedule of Letelier's Activities, D.S. #32, and Etcheberry's Submission, D.S. #6, pp. 60-61, indicate that Letelier was present in Washington for at least two days while Fernandez was there.

14. Townley Statement, E.R. #41, pp. 19-39. This description of events is entirely Townley's, although some of it is corroborated by his wife, Mariana Callejas' Grand Jury Testimony, E.R. #96. Furthermore, there is a good deal of documentary evidence which supports Townley's story. See E.R. #55-73.

15. Townley Statement, E.R. #41, pp. 39-40; Townley's Passport and Passport Application under the name Kenneth Enyart, E.R. #42-43. The identity of the pilot as Berger comes from de Letelier v. Republic of Chile (see infra note 39).

16. Townley Statement, E.R. #41, pp. 39-40; Fernandez Proffer, D.S. #2, p. 7. Again, the extent of Fernandez' knowledge about the purpose of his mission to the U.S. may be greater than he admits.

18. Propper Statement, E.R. #155; Chilean Response to Request for Information, E.R. #156; Townley Statement, E.R. #41, p. 42.

19. Propper Statement, E.R. #155; Letters Rogatory, E.R. #157.

20. Townley Statement, E.R. #41, pp. 41-42. Note that this is the same cover story used to explain the Paraguayan passport trip and the trip by Riveros and Mosqueira to the U.S.

21. Fernandez Proffer, D.S. #2, pp. 7-9; Townley Statement, E.R. #41, p. 42. Townley's statement mentions that Townley, Fernandez and Contreras met at this time to plan the cover up. Fernandez, meanwhile, does not mention any such meeting.

22. Townley Statement, E.R. #41, p. 41; Fernandez Proffer, D.S. #2, pp. 9-10; Letters Rogatory, E.R. #157. Fernandez' statement seems a bit confused about the sequence of events that led to his identification as "Romeral." This may be attributable to the fact that he made his statement nearly ten years after these events occurred. Townley's version seems closer to the other historical accounts about the timing of these events. See also E.R. #139-41, documents identifying Townley and Fernandez as the DINA agents who were in Paraguay and later the United States.

23. Fernandez Proffer, D.S. #2, p. 10. Unclassified information is needed which documents the presentation of Riveros and Mosqueira in response to the Letters Rogatory. The Letters Rogatory, E.R. #157, may actually contain this information. Locating the official answers provided by Fernandez to the Letters Rogatory would also be helpful.

24. Etcheberry Submission, D.S. #6, p. 49; Fernandez Statement, E.R. #127, pp. 2,8.

25. Fernandez Proffer, D.S. #2, p. 11; Silbert/Montero Agreement, D.S. #4. It is unclear why the Chilean government decided to expel Townley. Possibly, Townley's expulsion was a result of intergovernmental rivalries, especially that between Contreras and Mena. The desire on Mena's part to discredit his rival and predecessor, Contreras, briefly dominated the Chilean response to the American investigation. However, when it was discovered that Contreras was willing to implicate even Pinochet in the assassination, the Chilean government again started stonewalling. See infra note 28. This rivalry between Mena and Contreras is detailed in historical accounts (specifically Labyrinth). Reliable unclassified or declassified information is needed to clarify this aspect of the account.

35. U.S. v. Sampol, 636 F.2d 621 (D.C. Cir. 1980), D.S. #8. The two Supreme Court cases which form the basis for the Sampol court's evidentiary ruling are Massiah v. U.S., 377 U.S. 201 (1964) and U.S. v. Henry, 447 U.S. 264 (1980).

36. Etcheberry Memo on Status of "Passport Cases," D.S. #11. TO: Ambassador Barnes

FROM: Peter DeShazo

SUBJECT: Recent Developments in Chile and Washington

Welcome back! Several important developments have taken place since you left Santiago and I wanted to bring you up-to-date on what's happening. I won't go into detail on matters which are discussed in the enclosed reports or cables.

1. Capel-Civitas. [redacted]

2. Cooperatives Grant from NED. [redacted]

5. 1987 Human Rights Report. Our HRR was approved by the NSC with no changes. Ambassador Schifter was not specifically asked about Chile at the press conference he held when the reports were made public but did make passing reference to the human rights situation there. La Moneda and the Chilean Embassy here have expressed their unhappiness with the report, considering it false and unfair. (See my memo on lunch with DCM Maturana). Hernan Felipe has requested an appointment with Elliott on Wednesday, 17 to discuss "human rights" and I assume he will register some sort of complaint at that time.

6. UNHRC. Attached is a copy of a joint HA/ARA/IO memo to the Secretary on the UNHRC Chile strategy. The Secretary approved it, as had Walters earlier. The Secretary's instructions to the delegation in Geneva are to seek a balanced resolution we can support and, to that end, to circulate "elements," inreality the same language of the draft resolution that ARA and HA had prepared for us to introduce as a U.S. resolution. The overwhelming concern of the delegation is Cuba and all else appears to be of vastly secondary importance. Still, Valladares has been outspoken in claiming that the U.S. will not introduce a resolution to have Chile removed from item 5 and will actively seek a balanced resolution on Chile. Our control over the process from here on is slight, since all of HA's nominees for the delegation were rejected by Valladares, who has crossed bureaucratic swords with Schifter. Those in our delegation assigned responsibility for Chile are Amb. Piedra and Lou Amselam. While this may not seem too promising, our original strategy of having a U.S. resolution introduced was guaranteed to fail, given Walters' and Jose Sorzano's firm opposition to it. More about this in the last COM letter.

10. A draft copy of a letter from Reagan to Pinochet has been done and is enclosed. Let's discuss later.

11. Worldwide support for democracy in Chile. I have attached the many responses we have received from Posts concerning our demarche on support for democracy in Chile.

12. On Tuesday 9 I gave, at the request of Amembassy Madrid and with Bob G's blessing, an interview with El Pais, Radio Nacional Espanola, ABC, and EFE via telephone on U.S. policy toward Chile. Topics raised were the predictable ones and I stuck closely to policy line. Comment that in my opinion the GOC had not yet established the conditions for a free and fair election at this moment, noting limitations on human and civil rights, was reported on in Chilean press. From Maturana, I learned that La Moneda was displeased with my comments. Embassy Madrid claimed the interviewed helped clarify mistaken view in Spain of our policy.

SECRET UNCLASSIFIED

13. Enclosed is copy of Dick Howard's memo to Gelbard on revised strategy for Chile. Dick wishes to use this as basis for consultation with you Elliott, Bob, himself, Bob H. and me.

14. Letters Rogatory. The Chilean Supreme Court has halted the processing of the Letters Rogatory until the original of the "missing" page 24 is replaced. Robin Frank is obtaining a complete new set from Judge Parker and a new Spanish set to send down to Chile with a dip note asking the Foreign Ministry not to "lose" a page this time. Court will not take up matter until after February recess anyway. A newspaper contacted Orozco's home and got his housekeeper, who promised that he would "cooperate fully with justice as he has always done!"

15. Letelier Espousal. We are ready to move on espousal the minute we get a written commitment from Sam Buffone, the lawyer for the Leteliers, Karpens, and Moffitt. Mike Kozak working on it. We will review the entire matter in our meeting later in the week.

NR

17. Hearings on Chile. Mark Tavlarides has told us that he will postpone hearings on human rights in Chile until sometime in March. He will invite Schifter and Gelbard to testify for the State Department.

18. Reporting. Recent reports from Santiago indicate that all may not be well in Pinochet's campaign to convince the military of the viability of his candidacy. Further comments on polls and an interesting piece on the letters rogatory, indicating the problem they cause for the GOC. Also reporting on the common declaration of the 13 parties which banded together for the "no" vote. Generally, however, things have been slow, as they should be in the vacation month of February. Wish that were the case around here!

RELEASED IN PART
B6

Senator Ted Stevens
United States Senate
Washington DC 20510

1988 JAN -6 AM 9:02

Dear Senator Stevens,

On November 2, 1987 Edwin Paul Tillman the Director of the Centro Universitario Del Norte in Coban Guatemala was kidnapped by heavily armed men at 6 ave of zone 4 in Guatemala City. Edwin was in his vehicle with license plate number 33-30-74. Before Sr. Tillman's position with the Universitario he was an employee of the National Institute for Agrarian Transformation.

Edwin Tillman's family has gone to the National Police in Guatemala City to denounce his kidnapping. The police said they knew of the kidnapping and were investigating the case.

Would you please see that this matter is legitimately investigated? As you know, human rights advocates around the world are watching Guatemala to see if civil rule of law can be established and respect for human rights wrested by the elected government from the military and para military.

As you know, during the 1980's Guatemala has the worst record of human rights abuses in the hemisphere. I am strongly committed to the furtherance of justice and positive change there, particularly for the poor majority. While these changes may run counter to the present U.S. policy in Central America, they are definitely in our best long term interests. In my opinion our support for fast, effective, change allowing the poor majority to organize and obtain the resources necessary for their improvement will not only prove to be our best long term strategy, but will also allow us the satisfaction of supporting our highest held democratic values and respect for human life and dignity.

Would you please also report to me the present status of the Moakley-Deconcini bill S-332. I followed it's action through the House, but lost tract of its progress in the Senate. As you know, this bill would encourage the United States to be more responsible towards its commitment to the UN definition of political refugees of which we are a signatory.

In January, I intend to be traveling in Guatemala. I hope to meet with the [redacted] Office there under Bishop Gerardi, as well as GAM, (The mother's of the disappeared). I am also hoping to speak with Ambassador Michel and to discuss the plight of the Guatemalan refugees in Chiapas Mexico with Bishop Samuel Ruiz in San Christobal. I am attempting to line up contacts with knowledgeable, concerned individuals who can provide me with factual up to date information regarding human rights and positive change for the poor majority in Guatemala. Is there anyone else you would recommend I see while there? Are there any messages or information you would like me to relate to any of the above persons from you? Would you like to receive any information from any of these contacts?

Please let me know if there is anything you are aware of that I can do to improve the present deplorable human rights abuses and rampant poverty known by the majority in Guatemala. Is the U.S. government or Ambassador Michel taking a position on the present government enforced labor camps known as developmental zones? Are we taking any position regarding the present very restricted lack of freedom of movement within Guatemala by Guatemalans? Would the U.S. feel compelled to make policy statements if these restrictions on freedom and liberty were taking place Nicaragua?

Please excuse the hodgepodge of issues arising in this letter. I had intended to write you about each of them as they arose, but now find myself addressing them all, here. I do want to add however my wish that you do whatever possible to assist in resolving the hunger problem reoccuring in Africa.

I would like to take this opportunity to wish you and your family a very happy holiday season.

I pray that knowledge, understanding, and brotherly concern will guide and give strength to our policies in the coming year.

Sincerely yours,

Donna Mack

2. NED PRESIDENT CARL GERSHMAN PREDICTABLY DREW INTENSE BUT LIMITED MEDIA COVERAGE; MOST BUT NOT ALL OF IT WAS INTENDED TO BE HARMFUL. HE WENT AWAY WITH A FAIRLY CLEAR IDEA OF HOW HE INTENDS TO ALLOCATE THE SPCIAL CONGRESSIONAL APPROPRIATION OF ONE MILLION DOLLARS.

3. THE PRO-GOVERNMENT AND CONSERVATIVE PRINT MEDIA ATTEMPTED TO CAPITALIZE ON GERSHMAN'S VISIT TO CONTINUE THE DRUM ROLL AGAINST ALLEGED UNSCRUPULOUS, EVEN TREASONOUS OPPOSITION PARTIES FOR THEIR FOREIGN PANHANDLING. THEIR JOB WAS MADE DIFFICULT BY HIS AVOIDANCE OF COMMENTS TO THE PRESS. THE MOST OBVIOUS IMMEDIATE IMPACT WAS THE RELUCTANCE OF A FEW ORGANIZATIONS TO SEEK NED FUNDING. OTHERS WOULD PREFER NOT TO RECEIVE FUNDS OUT OF THE MILLION DOLLAR POT ALTHOUGH THEY WOULD LIKE SUPPORT FROM NED'S DISCRETIONARY ACCOUNT OR ONE OF THE RELATED INSTITUTES (FTUI, CIPE, NRI, NDI). ON THE RIGHT, ANOTHER LIKELY IMPACT OF THE PUBLICITY IS A REDUCTION OF CONTRIBUTIONS BY LOCAL SUPPORTERS TO THE CONSERVATIVE THINK TANK CEP (CENTER FOR PUBLIC STUDIES). MUCH HARDER TO MEASURE OF COURSE IS WHETHER THE MEDIA BARRAGE HAS TURNED SIGNIFICANT NUMBERS OF PEOPLE AWAY FROM THE OPPOSITION THEREBY INDIRECTLY HELPING PINOCHET.

NONETHELESS, THERE WAS NO RELUCTANCE TO MEET WITH GERSHMAN AND A NUMBER OF GROUPS, INCLUDING CEP, DID HAVE ENOUGH COURAGE TO JUSTIFY PUBLICLY THEIR RELATIONS WITH NED.

4. AN EXCLUSIVE INTERVIEW OF CARL GERSHMAN BY LUCIA SANTA CRUZ WHICH APPEARED IN THE JANUARY 10 EDITION OF DAILY "EL MERCURIO" SET OUT THE FACTS REGARDING NED IN A BALANCED LIGHT AND INDICATIONS ARE THAT IT HAS FILED SOME OF THE ROUGH EDGES OFF THE OPPOSITION TO NED OF SOME DEMOCRATIC CONSERVATIVES. IT COULD ALSO EASE THE CRITICISM DIRECTED AT THOSE DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION LEADERS WHO WORK WITH NED-FUNDED PROJECTS. ONLY TIME WILL TELL WHETHER THE WORK THAT WILL BE ACCOMPLISHED WITH THE "MILLION DOLLARS" SPECIAL APPROPRIATION WILL OUTWEIGH THE NEGATIVE IMPACT OF THE INTENSE PUBILICITY IT ATTRACTED TO NED ACTIVITIES HERE AND THE EFFECT OF THE LATTER ON RELATIVE SUPPORT

CHILE: JUDICIAL ASSISTANCE IN LETELIER CASE

Q. What is the role of the State Department in processing the request for judicial assistance in the Letelier case?

A. -- THE REQUEST BY U.S. FEDERAL JUDGE BARRINGTON PARKER IS PART OF THE U.S. GOVERNMENT'S ON-GOING INVESTIGATION INTO THE 1976 CAR-BOMB MURDER OF FORMER CHILEAN AMBASSADOR ORLANDO LETELIER AND HIS ASSISTANT RONNI MOFFIT.

-- CRIMINAL CHARGES ARE PENDING AGAINST former SENIOR OFFICIALS OF THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT AND OTHERS FOR THEIR ROLE IN THIS CRIME.

-- THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE HAS FORWARDED TO THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE A LETTERS ROGATORY REQUEST FOR ASSISTANCE BY THE FEDERAL COURT FOR THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA TO APPROPRIATE CHILEAN JUDICIAL AUTHORITIES TO REQUIRE GENERAL HECTOR OROZCO TO ANSWER QUESTIONS CONCERNING HIS ROLE IN THE CHILEAN INVESTIGATION OF THE MURDERS.

-- THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE IS PRESENTLY PREPARING TO FORWARD THIS REQUEST TO OUR EMBASSY IN SANTIAGO FOR PRESENTATION TO THE GOVERNMENT OF CHILE.

Q. Do we expect the Chilean Government and General Orozco to cooperate with the U.S. investigation?

A. -- WE CONSIDER THE LETELIER-MOFFIT MURDERS TO BE AN ACT OF INTERNATIONAL TERRORISM WHICH HAS NOT YET BEEN RESOLVED.

-- THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT HAS REPEATEDLY ASSURED US OF ITS COOPERATION IN ARRIVING AT A JUST SOLUTION IN THIS MATTER.

-- THE LETTERS ROGATORY ARE FULLY CONSISTENT WITH INTERNATIONAL LAW AND PRACTICE.

-- WE THEREFORE EXPECT THAT THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT WILL HONOR OUR REQUEST FOR ASSISTANCE.

1. (C-ENTIRE TEXT).

2. THIS IS AN ACTION CABLE. SEE PARAS 8-14.

3. SUMMARY: THE DEPARTMENT REQUESTS EMBASSIES IN SELECTED MEMBER STATES OF THE UN HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION (UNHRC) TO PRESENT TO HOST GOVERNMENT HIGH LEVEL OFFICIALS U.S. VIEWS CONCERNING A NUMBER OF PRINCIPAL ISSUES TO BE CONSIDERED AT THE 44TH SESSION. THE U.S. WANTS TO GAIN THE SUPPORT OF HOST GOVERNMENTS, TO HEAR THEIR VIEWS ON ISSUES OF SPECIAL CONCERN TO THEM, AND TO ENCOURAGE INTERCHANGE AND COOPERATION AMONG DELEGATIONS DURING THE COMMISSION SESSION. THIS MESSAGE DESCRIBES THE U.S. GENERAL APPROACH TO THE WORK OF THE COMMISSION AS WELL AS OUR VIEWS ON A NUMBER OF SPECIFIC ISSUES WHICH WILL ARISE. RESULTS OF DISCUSSIONS SHOULD BE TRANSMITTED TO THE DEPARTMENT ASAP (INFO US MISSION GENEVA FOR USDEL AND USUN). REQUESTS FOR ADDITIONAL DEMARCHES ON THESE AND OTHER SUBJECTS ARE LIKELY BEFORE AND DURING THE SESSION. END SUMMARY.

4. THE UNHRC: THE COMMISSION IS THE PRINCIPAL ORGAN IN THE UNITED NATIONS FOR THE ACHIEVEMENT OF THE UN CHARTER PURPOSE OF PROMOTING AND ENCOURAGING RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS AND FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS. IT IS COMPOSED OF 43 STATES MEMBERS OF THE UNITED NATIONS, ELECTED BY ECOSOC FOR THREE-YEAR TERMS. BOTSWANA, NIGERIA, SAO TOME & PRINCIPE, PORTUGAL AND SPAIN ARE NEW MEMBERS OF THE COMMISSION IN 1988. IT REPORTS

CONFIDENTIAL

THROUGH THE ECOSOC TO THE UN GENERAL ASSEMBLY'S THIRD COMMITTEE.

5. U.S. DELEGATION: THE UNITED STATES REPRESENTATIVE TO THE COMMISSION, APPOINTED BY PRESIDENT REAGAN ON DECEMBER 3, 1987, IS ARMANDO VALLADARES. (SEE REFTEL A FOR BIOGRAPHIC INFORMATION.) POSTS SHOULD BE ALERT TO

THE INTENSIVE DISINFORMATION CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED BY THE CUBAN GOVERNMENT AGAINST MR. VALLADARES TO DISTRACT ATTENTION FROM THE SUBSTANCE OF ALLEGATIONS CONCERNING HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES IN CUBA AND MAY DRAW ON REFTEL B TO REFUTE ANTI-VALLADARES ALLEGATIONS. POSTS SHOULD EMPHASIZE THAT THE U.S. REPRESENTATIVE AND THE U.S. DELEGATION WILL BE LOOKING FORWARD TO REGULAR CONSULTATION BETWEEN DELEGATIONS IN THE INTEREST OF IDENTIFYING AREAS FOR COOPERATION. MR. VALLADARES PLANS TO BE IN GENEVA IN JANUARY TO BEGIN CONSULTATIONS WITH THE WESTERN EUROPEAN AND OTHER GROUP (WEOG) COUNTRIES ON THE FULL RANGE OF HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES.

5. AGENDA: THE PROVISIONAL AGENDA INCLUDES MANY CARRY-OVER ITEMS FROM PREVIOUS SESSIONS WHICH PARALLEL HUMAN RIGHTS RESOLUTIONS PRESENTED IN THE UNGA. NUMBERING AMONG THESE ARE HUMAN RIGHTS IN THE ISRAELI-OCCUPIED TERRITORIES, CHILE, SOUTH AFRICA, IRAN, AFGHANISTAN, EL SALVADOR, GUATEMALA, AND A GENERAL ITEM RELATING TO THE REALIZATION OF ECONOMIC RIGHTS AND THE SO-CALLED RIGHT TO DEVELOPMENT. OTHER CONTINUING ITEMS CONCERN DRAFTING EXERCISES NOW UNDERWAY -- A DRAFT CONVENTION ON THE RIGHTS OF THE CHILD AND A DRAFT DECLARATION ON THE PROTECTION OF HUMAN RIGHTS DEFENDERS. HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS IN A NUMBER OF SPECIFIC COUNTRIES ARE ANNUALLY CONSIDERED UNDER AGENDA ITEM 12, ENTITLED "QUESTION OF THE VIOLATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS IN ANY PART OF THE WORLD..." ANOTHER SIGNIFICANT REPEAT

ITEM IS THE HUMAN RIGHT OF PEOPLES TO SELF-DETERMINATION. ISRAELI-OCCUPIED TERRITORIES, AFGHANISTAN, KAMPUCHEA AND THE WESTERN SAHARA ARE RAISED UNDER THIS ITEM.

7. U.S. APPROACH TO THE UNHRC: REFLECTING U.S. TRADITIONAL EMPHASIS ON HUMAN RIGHTS, WE INTEND TO PARTICIPATE FULLY IN COMMISSION DELIBERATIONS, WITH THE GOAL OF SHAPING AND ADVANCING THE INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS AGENDA. UNFORTUNATELY, THE UNHRC DISPLAYS THE SAME DOUBLE STANDARD OF THE UNITED NATIONS SYSTEM

GENERALLY: THERE IS A TENDENCY TO CONCENTRATE ATTENTION ON ISRAEL, SOUTH AFRICA AND NON-COMMUNIST STATES IN LATIN AMERICA AND TO IGNORE OTHER AREAS OF THE WORLD. WE WILL ENCOURAGE THE COMMISSION TO ADOPT AN EVENHANDED APPROACH THAT ADVOCATES THE UNIVERSAL ENJOYMENT OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND GIVES EQUAL ATTENTION TO SERIOUS VIOLATIONS NO MATTER WHERE THEY OCCUR.

A MAJOR CONCERN IN PAST YEARS HAS BEEN NAME-CALLING, PARTICULARLY IN RESOLUTIONS UNDER ITEMS 4 AND 9 (VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN THE OCCUPIED ARAB TERRITORIES AND SELF-DETERMINATION). LAST YEAR WE THWARTED ALL BUT ONE NAME-CALLING REFERENCE TO THE USG, AND THE TREND IN THE UNGA INDICATES THAT WE HAVE MADE OUR POINT TO THE GREAT MAJORITY OF MEMBERS. NEVERTHELESS, WE CANNOT AFFORD TO RELAX.

8. ACTION REQUEST: ACTION ADDRESSEES ARE REQUESTED TO APPROACH HOST GOVERNMENTS AT A HIGH LEVEL, DRAWING ON TALKING POINTS BELOW, TO EXPLAIN U.S. VIEWS CONCERNING MAJOR ISSUES DURING THE UPCOMING UNHRC MEETING, TO REQUEST THEIR SUPPORT ON ISSUES OF IMPORTANCE TO US, CONFIDENTIAL

AND TO SOLICIT THEIR VIEWS IN PREPARATION FOR COOPERATION AMONG DELEGATIONS DURING THE COMMISSION SESSION. TALKING POINTS ON THE GENERAL U.S. APPROACH TO THE UNHRC SHOULD BE COMBINED WITH TALKING POINTS ON SPECIFIC COUNTRY AND THEMATIC ISSUES (PARAS 9 AND 10). POSTS WILL RECEIVE ADDITIONAL CABLES AS NEEDED DISCUSSING OTHER ITEMS WHICH MAY CAUSE CONTROVERSY. ALL UNHRC MEMBER ADDRESSEES ARE REQUESTED TO PROVIDE, AS SOON AS POSSIBLE, THE NAMES OF THE HEADS OF DELEGATIONS. MISSIONS SHOULD INFO ALL REPLIES TO USUN AND U.S. MISSION GENEVA FOR U.S. DEL.

GENERAL TALKING POINTS:

-- THE UNITED STATES AND (COUNTRY) ARE MEMBERS OF THE UNITED NATIONS HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION, WHICH WILL HOLD ITS ANNUAL MEETING IN GENEVA FROM FEBRUARY 1 TO MARCH 11, 1988.

UNCLASSIFIED

-- THE UNITED STATES DELEGATION WILL, AS USUAL, PARTICIPATE ACTIVELY IN THE FULL RANGE OF COMMISSION DELIBERATIONS. AMONG THE ITEMS ON WHICH WE INTEND TO TAKE THE INITIATIVE WILL BE A RESOLUTION ON HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES IN CUBA.

-- THE U.S. DELEGATION WILL BE HEADED BY ARMANDO VALLADARES, A MEMBER OF THE DELEGATION LAST YEAR AND PERSONALLY SELECTED BY PRESIDENT REAGAN TO LEAD OUR EFFORT THIS YEAR. MR. VALLADARES, A HUMAN RIGHTS ACTIVIST WITH WORLD STATURE, IS EXCEPTIONALLY WELL QUALIFIED TO SPEAK TO THE CUBA ISSUE AND ALSO WILL AUTHORITATIVELY REPRESENT U.S. POSITIONS ON THE FULL RANGE OF AGENDA ITEMS AND ISSUES.

-- IN THE INTEREST OF EFFECTIVE PROTECTION AND PROMOTION OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND HUMANITARIAN CONCERNS,

THE UNITED STATES LOOKS FORWARD TO EXTENSIVE CONSULTATION AND COOPERATION WITH (COUNTRY) BEFORE AND DURING THE COMMISSION SESSION.

(C). CHILE: THE USG ABSTAINED ON THE 1987 UNGA RESOLUTION SPONSORED BY MEXICO, CUBA AND OTHER COUNTRIES BECAUSE IT WAS UNBALANCED, THE PROSPECTS FOR DEVELOPING A MORE ACCEPTABLE VERSION IN THAT FORUM POOR, AND BECAUSE WE WISHED TO UNDERSCORE OUR COMMITMENT TO DEMOCRACY WHILE AVOIDING A NO VOTE WHICH COULD HAVE BEEN MISINTERPRETED IN SANTIAGO AS SUPPORT FOR THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT. AT LAST YEAR'S UNHRC WE SUPPORTED A CONSENSUS RESOLUTION WHICH, ALTHOUGH FLAWED, REFLECTED OUR BASIC CONCERNS REGARDING THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN CHILE. THIS YEAR WE FAVOR A RESOLUTION WHICH WOULD CLOSELY REFLECT THE CONCLUSIONS OF THE UN'S SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR, I.E. HIS CONCLUSIONS ON PROGRESS AS WELL AS PROBLEMS IN CHILE.

PROCEDURALLY, TO CORRECT A UN DOUBLE STANDARD, OUR PREFERENCE WOULD BE TO MOVE CHILE FROM ITEM 5, WHERE IT EXISTS ALONE AS AN OBJECT OF UNHRC SCRUTINY, TO ITEM 12 WHERE CHILE WOULD BE DISCUSSED IN CONJUNCTION WITH OTHER COUNTRY SPECIFIC HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATIONS. WE RECOGNIZE THIS MAY NOT BE POSSIBLE. IF SO, WE MAY AGREE THAT CHILE AT THIS SESSION CAN STAND AGAIN AS A SEPARATE ITEM, BUT IN RETURN WE WILL SEEK AGREEMENT THAT IT BE CONSIDERED SIMULTANEOUSLY WITH THE OTHER ITEM 12 COUNTRIES. IN APPROACHING HOST GOVERNMENTS YOU MAY DRAW UPON THE FOLLOWING POINTS:

TALKING POINTS:

-- 1988 WILL BE A WATERSHED YEAR FOR CHILE. ISSUES RELATED TO THE ANTICIPATED PRESIDENTIAL PLEBISCITE WILL DETERMINE WHETHER CHILE REESTABLISHES FULL AND EFFECTIVE DEMOCRACY OR HEADS TOWARDS POLARIZATION AND VIOLENCE.

-- A RETURN TO DEMOCRACY IS THE KEY TO FULLY RESPECTED HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE. TO THAT END THE U.S. DELEGATION WISHES TO SEE A BALANCED RESOLUTION ADOPTED IN GENEVA WHICH REFLECTS ALL OF THE CONCLUSIONS REACHED BY THE UN'S SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR.

-- SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR VOLIO HAS POINTED OUT THAT UNSOLVED MURDER, TORTURE, AND KIDNAPPING CASES CONTINUE TO OCCUR IN CHILE, AS WELL AS TERRORISM AND REPRESSION DIRECTED AT THE MEDIA BY THE GOVERNMENT. THE VIOLENCE IS NOT EXCLUSIVELY THE FAULT OF THE GOVERNMENT, BEING PARTIALLY SUPPORTED BY EXTERNAL TERRORIST GROUPS.

-- UNHRC ACTION ON CHILE WILL INFLUENCE DEVELOPMENTS IN THAT COUNTRY. WE WISH TO KEEP IN TOUCH IN GENEVA AND IN CAPITALS AS UNHRC CONSIDERATION OF CHILE EVOLVES.

Dear Sr. Vargas:

I am writing to you in your capacity as Member of the International Commission established by the Treaty for the Settlement of Disputes that May Occur Between the United States and Chile, signed at Washington July 24, 1914.

On January 12, 1989, the United States, by diplomatic note to the Government of Chile, invoked the Treaty and informed the Government of Chile of its intention to submit to the Commission a dispute between the United States and Chile involving the assassination of Orlando Letelier and Ronni Moffit in Washington, D.C. in 1976.

The United States Government has credible evidence proving that Chilean Government officials were responsible for planning and directing this assassination and for obstructing subsequent investigations into the assassination. The United States Government has repeatedly sought the cooperation of the Government of Chile on numerous occasions in this regard -- in its request for extradition of the responsible Chilean officials, in its request that those officials be criminally prosecuted in Chile, in its request that those individuals be expelled to the United States, in its request that the Government of Chile appoint a special investigator to prosecute the criminal case in Chile, and, finally, in its request that the Government of Chile compensate the United States citizens and the United States Government for injuries suffered as a result of the assassinations. The Government of Chile has rejected each request.

You will recall that Article II of the Treaty provides for an International Commission of Investigation composed of five members. In 1965 the United States and Chile agreed that Madame Suzanne Bastid should serve as the President of the International Commission, and in 1972 the Government of Chile appointed as Commissioners you and Manfred Lachs of Poland.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

On January 12, 1989, the United States appointed as Commissioners Judge William Mulligan of the United States and Sir John Freeland of the United Kingdom.

Attached you will find a copy of the letter I have sent today to Madame Bastid convoking the Commission. Attached to it are copies of the U.S. diplomatic note to Chile; the 1914 treaty; a summary of diplomatic efforts to resolve the dispute; a summary of information about the dispute available to the United States; suggested rules of procedure; and a list of Commissioners with their addresses and phone numbers.

The United States looks forward to the Commission's investigation and report. The Government of Chile will be provided with a copy of this letter.

Sincerely,

Abraham D. Sofaer

1. (C) SUMMARY: IN A BRIEF ONE-DAY VISIT CODEL LAFALCE MET WITH FINANCE MINISTER BUCHI, FOREIGN MINISTER GARCIA, AND WITH VARIOUS PRO-GOVERNMENT ANH OPPOSITION FIGURES AT SOCIAL EVENTS. WHILE THE DISCUSSIONS CENTERED PRIMARILY ON ECONOMIC ISSUES, THE MEETING WITH FOREIGN MINISTER GARCIA WAS NOTED FOR A SOMETIMES HEATED EXCHANGE ON CHILE'S PROGRESS IN RETURNING TO DEMOCRACY AND THE SERIOUS CONCERNS WITH THE COUNTRY'S HUMAN RIGHTS RECORD. END SUMMARY.

2. (C) IMMEDIATELY AFTER ARRIVAL, THE CODEL PROCEEDED TO THE MEETING WITH FINANCE MINISTER BUCHI. (THE AMBASSADOR GAVE AN OVERVIEW ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL BRIEFING EN-ROUTE ON THE BUS.) THE MEETING WITH FINANCE MINISTER BUCHI FOCUSED ON BOTH HISTORICAL AND CURRENT PROBLEMS, WITH BUCHI STRESSING THE DELIBERATE NATURE OF CHILEAN ECONOMIC DECISIONS TAKEN OVER THE LAST DECADE AS THE PREREQUISITE FOR CREATING A STABLE

3. (C) IMMEDIATELY AFTER, THE CODEL MET WITH FOREIGN MINISTER GARCIA. FOREIGN MINISTER GARCIA, FOR HIS PART, CONCENTRATED ON THE INSTITUTIONAL POLITICAL ASPECTS OF PRESENT DAY CHILE AND OUTLINED THE PATH THE GOVERNMENT HAD SET OUT FOR RETURN TO DEMOCRACY. DISPLAYING WHAT HE CALLED MORE "PASSION" THAN HE USUALLY USES, HE STRESSED THE INJUSTICE OF THE ACTION TAKEN BY THE U.S. IN WITHDRAWING GSP AND THE LACK OF APPRECIATION IN MANY COUNTRIES OF THE PROBLEMS CHILE HAS FACED IN THE PAST, THE THREATS IT STILL FACES, AND THE COMMITMENT OF THE GOVERNMENT TO CARRY THROUGH ON THE PROMISES EMBODIED IN THE 1980 CONSTITUTION. , SEVERAL MEMBERS, INCLUDING CONGRESSMEN LAFALCE, HERTEL AND VENTO STRESSED THE SERIOUSNESS OF CONCERNS IN THE U.S. OVER THE SLOW PACE OF THE RETURN TO DEMOCRACY AND THE EXTENT OF HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES. CHAIRMAN LAFALCE SAID THERE WAS VERY STRONG SUPPORT (AT LEAST 90 PERCENT) IN THE CONGRESS FOR ADMINISTRATION POLICIES TOWARD CHILE AND HE TOLD GARCIA THE PLEBISCITE DIDN'T LOOK LIKE ANYTHING MORE THAN AN ELABORATE SHOW TO MAKE THE PROCEDURES LOOK DEMOCRATIC. CONGRESSMAN MFUME FOR HIS PART PUSHED GARCIA ON WHY CHILE WAS INCREASING ITS LINKS WITH SOUTH AFRICA AT A TIME WHEN MOST OF THE REST OF THE WORLD WAS CUTTING BACK. GARCIA IN A LENGTHY COMMENT ON EACH OF THE VARIOUS QUESTIONS POSED DISPLAYED BOTH THE "PASSION" AS WELL ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

5. (U) AT A RECEPTION HOSTED BY THE AMBASSADOR THAT EVENING, WE ARRANGED FOR MEMBERS OF THE CODEL TO MEET WITH OPPOSITION POLITICAL FIGURES, LABOR LEADERS, AND ECONOMISTS TO GIVE A MORE ROUNDED PICTURE OF THE CHILEAN SITUATION. SEVERAL MEMBERS ASKED FOR A IN-DEPTH BRIEFING ON COPPER ISSUES, AND WE ARRANGED FOR EXPERTS FROM CODELCO (THE STATE-OWNED COPPER CORPORATION) TO TALK WITH THE CONGRESSMEN AT THE RECEPTION. WE ALSO INCLUDED OTHER GOC OFFICIALS AND SUPPORTERS. THE CHILEAN BUSINESSMEN REPORTEDLY CRITICIZED US "INTERFERENCE", PARTICULARLY SINCE, IN THEIR VIEW, CHILE WAS THE ONLY COUNTRY PAYING ITS DEBTS.

THE LARGE MERCEDES BUSES RENTED FOR THE CODEL HAD EUROPEAN AIR CONDITIONERS, UNSUITABLE FOR THE SANTIAGO SUMMER HEAT. CODEL LAFALCE WAS THE FIRST LARGE CODEL IN AT LEAST 4 YEARS AND PREVIOUS BUS AND HOTEL ARRANGEMENTS WERE ADEQUATE FOR SMALLER GROUPS. (CODEL EDWARDS THE FOLLOWING DAY ALSO EXPERIENCED HOTEL DIFFICULTIES.) WE HAVE ANALYZED THE VISIT AND ARE TAKING STEPS, SUCH AS CHANGING HOTELS, TO AVOID SIMILAR PROBLEMS WITH CODEL ROE. DEPARTMENT IS REQUESTED TO WARN ANY PROSPECTIVE VISITORS WHO INSISTS ON USING THE HOTEL SHERATON IN SANTIAGO THAT THEY CAN ANTICIPATE DELAYS IN GETTING INTO THEIR ROOMS. HOTEL MANAGEMENT ANSWERED THE EMBASSY'S PROTESTS BY SAYING THAT CHILEAN LAW FORBIDS THEM FROM EVICTING PEOPLE FROM THEIR ROOMS.

SUBJECT: CODEL SMITH MEETING WITH DUARTE: NICARAGUA NEVER INTENDED TO COMPLY WITH E-II

REF: SAN SALVADOR 00182

1. FOLLOWING IS A MORE DETAILED ACCOUNT OF CODEL SMITH'S JAN. 6 MEETING WITH PRESIDENT DUARTE. REFTEL COVERED DUARTE'S VIEWS ON COMPLIANCE WITH ESQUIPULAS II.

2. [redacted] - ENTIRE TEXT.

3. SUMMARY

IN HIS JANUARY 6 MEETING WITH REPS. SMITH, EARLY, MYERS, VOLKMER, ROGERS, AND CROCKETT, PRESIDENT DUARTE SAID THAT NICARAGUA NEVER INTENDED TO AND NEVER WILL COMPLY WITH THE ESQUIPULAS II (E II) PEACE ACCORDS. HE BELIEVES THE INTERNATIONAL FOLLOW-UP AND VERIFICATION COMMISSION (CIVS), AT THE INITIATIVE OF MEXICO AND PANAMA, WILL HELP THE SANDINISTAS BY CLAIMING IN ITS REPORT FOR THE CENTAM PRESIDENTS' JANUARY 15 SUMMIT IN COSTA RICA THAT NONE OF THE FIVE CENTRAL AMERICAN COUNTRIES HAVE FULFILLED THE PLAN'S PROVISIONS. DUARTE EMPHASIZED THAT EL SALVADOR HAS COMPLIED FULLY WITH E II BY GRANTING A GENERAL AMNESTY, CEASE-FIRE, ETC., ALL AT CONSIDERABLE POLITICAL AND ASSISTANCE COSTS TO HIS GOVERNMENT. DUARTE SAID HE PLANS TO STATE UNEQUIVOCALLY AT THE SAN JOSE SUMMIT THAT EL SALVADOR HAS FULLY COMPLIED WITH E II AND NICARAGUA HAS NOT. DUARTE ALSO TOLD THE CODEL THAT THE SANDINISTAS CONTINUE TO SUPPORT THE FMLN. END SUMMARY.

4. EL SALVADOR PAYING THE PRICE FOR E II COMPLIANCE

PRESIDENT DUARTE TOLD THE CODEL THAT EL SALVADOR FELT A DUTY TO COMPLY FULLY WITH THE PROVISIONS OF THE E II PEACE PLAN. IN THAT SPIRIT IT IMPLEMENTED A GENERAL AMNESTY FOR ALL PRISONERS ACCUSED OF COMMITTING POLITICAL CRIMES. "IF WE BELIEVE IN PARDON, THEN IT MUST BE A COMPLETE PARDON." AS A RESULT OF THE GENERAL AMNESTY, HOWEVER, EL SALVADOR IS PAYING A PRICE, BOTH DOMESTICALLY AND ABROAD. THE U.S.G. MAY REDUCE AID TO EL SALVADOR BY 45 PERCENT

(THE OBEY AMENDMENT); MANY IN EL SALVADOR ARE CRITICAL OF THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATS AND THEY MAY SUFFER AS A RESULT IN THE MARCH 1988 ELECTIONS.

5. "SANDINISTAS WILL NEVER COMPLY WITH E II"

DUARTE SAID THAT NICARAGUA NEVER INTENDED TO COMPLY WITH E II AND NEVER WILL BECAUSE THE SANDINISTAS DO NOT WANT TO LOSE CONTROL IN NICARAGUA. HE SAID THE SANDINISTAS ARE VERY CLEVER ABOUT MANAGING THEIR IMAGE INTERNATIONALLY. THE SANDINISTAS ADOPTED A STRATEGY OF MINIMAL COMPLIANCE, JUST ENOUGH TO SATISFY INTERNATIONAL OPINION BUT NOT ENOUGH TO THREATEN THEIR MONOPOLY ON POWER. THE NICARAGUANS FREED ONLY 1000 OF ITS 9600 POLITICAL PRISONERS. THEY REOPENED "LA PRENSA," BUT THEY STILL RESTRICT THE PAPER BY CONTROLLING ITS PAPER SUPPLY AND CERTAIN EXPENDITURES. IN ADDITION, DUARTE SAID, ALL NICARAGUAN RADIO STATIONS ARE CONTROLLED BY THE GOVERNMENT. THE CATHOLIC RADIO STATION WAS ALLOWED TO OPEN, BUT IS NOT PERMITTED TO CARRY NEWS PROGRAMS. DUARTE SAID THE SANDINISTAS WILL USE THESE MEASURES AS PROOF OF THEIR COMPLIANCE AND BLAME THE U.S. FOR THEIR INABILITY TO COMPLY FULLY. DUARTE SAID THAT ORTEGA LIED TO HIM WHEN HE SHOOK ORTEGA'S HAND THREE TIMES AND ORTEGA RESPONDED THREE TIMES THAT HE WOULD COMPLY WITH WHAT THEY HAD AGREED TO AT THE GUATEMALA MEETING. ORTEGA NEVER INTENDED TO COMPLY, DUARTE SAID, HE ADOPTED A DELIBERATE POLICY OF MINIMAL COMPLIANCE FOR PUBLIC RELATIONS REASONS. DUARTE REPEATED THAT ORTEGA WAS A LIAR AND HE INTENDED TO SAY SO BOTH PUBLICLY AND PRIVATELY AT THE SAN JOSE MEETING.

6. SANDINISTAS WAITING FOR U.S. ELECTIONS

DUARTE SAID THE SANDINISTAS ARE PARTIALLY COMPLYING TO GAIN TIME, HOPING TO PRECIPITATE AN END TO U.S. SUPPORT FOR THE CONTRAS. THE SANDINISTAS BELIEVE THAT POSSIBILITIES FOR CONTINUED CONTRA AID WILL DIMINISH AS THE U.S. PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS NEAR. HOWEVER, DUARTE NOTED, IF THE U.S. CUTS AID TO THE CONTRAS, THE NICARAGUANS WILL FIND ANOTHER EXCUSE NOT TO COMPLY WITH E II.

7. CIVS TO SUPPORT NICARAGUANS

DUARTE TOLD THE CODEL THAT THE CIVS, UNDER THE INITIATIVE OF MEXICO AND PANAMA, WILL TRY TO DEFLECT CRITICISM OF NICARAGUA BY CLAIMING IN ITS REPORT TO THE JANUARY 15 CENTRAL AMERICAN PRESIDENTS' SUMMIT IN SAN JOSE THAT NONE OF THE FIVE CENTRAL AMERICAN COUNTRIES HAS COMPLIED WITH THE E II ACCORDS. HE NOTED THAT THE CIVS AD HOC COMMISSION WILL BE IN EL SALVADOR ON JANUARY 9 AND HE PREDICTED IT WOULD ARGUE THAT EL SALVADOR HAS NOT COMPLIED WITH E II, EVEN THOUGH IN FACT IT HAS DONE EVERYTHING TO COMPLY.

8. DUARTE TO SET RECORD STRAIGHT IN SAN JOSE

DUARTE SAID THAT HE PLANS TO STATE CLEARLY AT THE SAN JOSE MEETING THAT NICARAGUA HAS NOT ABIDED BY THE PEACE PLAN'S PROVISIONS AND PREDICTED ANOTHER IDEOLOGICAL CONFRONTATION WITH ORTEGA. HE WARNED E II WILL FAIL IF THE FIVE COUNTRIES DECIDE TO EXTEND DEADLINES BECAUSE IT WOULD BECOME ANOTHER PROTRACTED, RESULTLESS CONTADORA PROCESS. DUARTE EMPHASIZED THAT THE FOUR DEMOCRATIC PRESIDENTS MUST MAKE UP THEIR MINDS WHETHER THEY WILL ACCEPT A MARXIST-LENINIST NEIGHBOR THAT BELIEVES IN EXPORTING REVOLUTION, OR CONTINUE INSISTING ON DEMOCRACY IN NICARAGUA.

9. E II HAS HAD SOME POSITIVE EFFECTS

DUARTE NOTED THAT E II HAS PRODUCED SOME POSITIVE RESULTS. FIRST, IT HAS BECOME A POINT OF REFERENCE TO MEASURE PROGRESS IN CENTRAL AMERICA. SECOND, IT HAS IMPROVED AT LEAST SOME CONDITIONS IN EVERY CENTRAL AMERICAN COUNTRY. HOWEVER, HE EMPHASIZED THAT THIS IS NOT ENOUGH, THE COUNTRIES MUST STRIVE FOR FULL COMPLIANCE.

10. SANDINISTA SUPPORT FOR FMLN

REP. SMITH ASKED DUARTE WHETHER THERE IS ANY VISIBLE EVIDENCE OF SANDINISTA SUPPORT FOR THE FMLN. DUARTE REPLIED THAT THE NICARAGUANS DO NOT WANT TO STOP AND WILL NOT STOP SUPPORTING THE FMLN. HE EXPLAINED THAT THE FMLN STILL HAS ITS COMMUNICATIONS AND LOGISTICS FACILITIES, AND HEADQUARTERS IN MANAGUA. IN ADDITION, HE SAID THE GOES IS EXPECTING AN ESCALATION IN THE WAR WITH THE FMLN GUERRILLAS. IN THEIR TALKS WITH THE GOES IMMEDIATELY AFTER E II, THE FMLN/FDR THREATENED TO ACQUIRE SURFACE-TO-AIR MISSILES. DUARTE SAID THAT SANDINISTA DEFECTOR MAJOR MIRANDA CONFIRMED THAT IS GUERRILLAS HAD ALREADY BEEN TRAINED TO USE THEM.

11. DUARTE TOLD THE CODEL THAT THE PEACE PLAN, WHICH WAS DESIGNED TO WEAKEN GUERRILLA MOVEMENTS, HAS FAILED IN EL SALVADOR BECAUSE THE FMLN, AS LONG AS IT COULD COUNT ON CONTINUED SUPPORT FROM CUBA AND NICARAGUA, REMAINED SUFFICIENTLY STRONG TO RESIST DEMANDS THAT IT ACCEPT AND ABIDE BY THE PEACE PLAN'S PROVISIONS.

TONS OF MARIJUANA AND 2.8 METRIC TONS OF HEROIN.

- MEXICO HAS MAINTAINED A FIRM COMMITMENT TO ERADICATE ILLICIT DRUG CROPS IN 1987. MEXICO'S NARCOTICS CONTROL PROGRAM INCLUDES AERIAL AND MANUAL ERADICATION ACTIVITIES, INTERDICTION OF NARCOTICS SHIPMENTS, BILATERAL LAW ENFORCEMENT AND MUTUAL LEGAL ASSISTANCE DIRECTED AT UNDERMINING THE TRAFFICKERS, MILITARY INVOLVEMENT IN NARCOTICS ERADICATION, AND EFFORTS TO INCREASE PUBLIC AWARENESS OF THE SERIOUS THREAT POSED TO SOCIETY BY TRAFFICKERS AND DRUG ABUSE. GOM LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES HAVE COOPERATED ON MANY OCCASIONS WITH DEA, US CUSTOMS AND OTHER USG AGENCIES IN 1987. THEY HAVE USED DEA-PROVIDED INFORMATION TO VERIFY THE LOCATIONS OF AND DESTROY LARGE MARIJUANA AND OPIUM PLANTATIONS IN VARIOUS MEXICAN STATES. FOR EXAMPLE, ON JUNE 2, THE PGR RAIDED AND DESTROYED AN 80 HECTARE MARIJUANA FARM, THE LARGEST ILLEGAL DRUG OPERATION EVER DISCOVERED IN THE STATE OF SONORA.

- THE GOM'S PERMANENT CAMPAIGN AGAINST NARCOTICS TRAFFICKING IS ADMINISTERED BY THE ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE (PROCURADURIA GENERAL DE LA REPUBLICA - PGR). THE AERIAL ERADICATION PROGRAM REPRESENTS THE SINGLE MOST EFFECTIVE MEANS OF LESSENING THE AVAILABILITY OF DRUGS IN THE UNITED STATES AND MEXICO. THE PGR HAS INCREASED THE SIZE OF ITS FLEET OF ERADICATION AIRCRAFT AND TAKEN IMPORTANT MEASURES TO IMPROVE THE EFFICIENCY OF ITS ANTI-NARCOTICS OPERATIONS IN 1987. DESPITE SEVERE DOMESTIC ECONOMIC PROBLEMS, THE GOM HAS DEDICATED AN INCREASINGLY LARGE PERCENTAGE OF ITS BUDGET TO COMBAT NARCOTICS TRAFFICKING. THE PGR BUDGET

UNCLASSIFIED

FOR DRUG ERADICATION PROGRAMS HAS JUMPED FROM USD 15.9 MILLION IN 1984 TO USD 18.1 MILLION IN 1987. THE PGR ERADICATED MORE HECTARES (2.47 ACRES PER HECTARE) OF OPIUM POPPY AND MARIJUANA IN 1986 AND 1987 THAN IT HAD IN 1985 OR 1984.

- THE MEXICAN MILITARY HAS BECOME INCREASINGLY INVOLVED IN NARCOTICS ERADICATION AND INTERDICTION. THE MEXICAN ARMY REPORTED IT HAD MANUALLY ERADICATED 6,028 HECTARES OF OPIUM POPPY AND 10,000 HECTARES OF MARIJUANA DURING THE FIRST TEN MONTHS OF 1987. THE US EMBASSY IN MEXICO IS UNABLE TO VERIFY THE MILITARY'S CLAIMS. MORE THAN 25,000 ARMY PERSONNEL (25 PERCENT OF TOTAL TROOPS) ARE ENGAGED FULL-TIME IN MANUAL ERADICATION OPERATIONS. THERE WERE PERIODS BOTH IN 1986 AND 1987 WHEN UP TO 50,000 TROOPS WERE EMPLOYED AT ONE TIME IN SPECIAL ANTI-NARCOTICS CAMPAIGNS. THE MEXICAN MILITARY PURCHASED 12 NEW HELICOPTERS IN 1987 TO TRANSPORT TROOPS ENGAGED IN ANTI-NARCOTICS EFFORTS. THE MEXICAN ARMY HAS MOUNTED SEVERAL JOINT OPERATIONS WITH THE PGR TO DESTROY DRUG FIELDS IN THE STATES OF MICHOACAN, GUERRERO AND OAXACA. SINCE OCTOBER OF 1986, THE MEXICAN NAVY HAS BEEN EXTREMELY COOPERATIVE IN WORKING WITH THE US COAST GUARD AND OTHER USG AGENCIES TO CARRY OUT ANTI-DRUG EFFORTS AS WELL AS IN LAUNCHING INTERDICTION OPERATIONS AGAINST SUSPECTED DRUG SMUGGLERS OPERATING IN MEXICAN TERRITORIAL WATERS. THE MEXICAN NAVY REPORTED IT DESTROYED 125 HECTARES OF MARIJUANA AND CONFISCATED 1,928 KILOS OF COCAINE FROM JANUARY-OCTOBER 1987.

- MEXICO WILL CONTINUE TO BE A MAJOR PRODUCER OF ILLICIT NARCOTICS FOR THE FORESEEABLE FUTURE. ITS 2,000 MILE BORDER WITH THE UNITED STATES MAKES IT A

STATED THAT DEFEATING NARCOTICS TRAFFICKING IS A NATIONAL PRIORITY. THE DECISIVE SUPPRESSION OF DRUG TRAFFICKING, HE SAID, WAS NECESSARY NOT ONLY TO AVOID UNDESIREABLE DRUG CONSUMPTION IN OTHER NATIONS BUT TO AVOID THE TRANSFORMATION OF MEXICO FROM A TRANSIT AND PRODUCER COUNTRY TO ONE THAT CONSUMES DRUGS. IN DECEMBER, THE PRESIDENT OF THE MEXICAN SUPREME COURT DENOUNCED NARCOTICS TRAFFICKING AS A FACTOR IN SOCIAL AND POLITICAL INSTABILITY. THE MEXICAN LEADERS' REMARKS ARE SIGNS OF GREATER RECOGNITION BY THE GOM THAT FIGHTING NARCOTICS PROMOTES MEXICAN INTERESTS, AND NOT JUST THOSE OF THE UNITED STATES AND OTHER DEVELOPED COUNTRIES. HOWEVER, MANY MEXICAN OFFICIALS CONTINUE TO ARGUE THAT DRUG CONSUMPTION IN THE UNITED STATES AND OTHER DEVELOPED NATIONS FUELS DRUG PRODUCTION IN MEXICO. IT WILL ONLY DECREASE, THEY CLAIM, AFTER THE USG REDUCES DRUG ABUSE AMONG ITS OWN CITIZENS. NEITHER THE MEDIA NOR THE GENERAL PUBLIC SEEM YET TO BE FULLY AWARE OF THE MAGNITUDE OF THE THREAT TO MEXICO POSED BY

- NARCOTICS TRAFFICKING ORGANIZATIONS IN MEXICO HAVE TRADITIONALLY EXERTED STRONG, BUT DIRECTED RATHER THAN GENERALIZED, INFLUENCE IN REGIONS WHERE THEY OPERATE. THEY SEEM TO FOCUS MOST OF THEIR EFFORTS TOWARD LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICIALS AND THEIR SUPERVISORS. IN OCTOBER, FOR EXAMPLE, THE CHIHUAHUA STATE ATTORNEY GENERAL ANNOUNCED THAT HIS OFFICE HAD BEGUN INVESTIGATIONS INTO THE ALLEGED INVOLVEMENT OF FIVE MUNICIPAL PRESIDENTS IN NARCOTICS ACTIVITIES. THE POLITICAL INFLUENCE OF THE DRUG TRAFFICKERS HAS CONSEQUENCES FAR BEYOND THE NARCOTICS INDUSTRY. IN VARIOUS STATES, DRUG MONEY BOLSTERS WEAK ECONOMIES BY PROVIDING INVESTMENT CAPITAL AND EMPLOYMENT, THEREBY DISCOURAGING SERIOUS GOVERNMENT CRACKDOWNS AGAINST TRAFFICKING.

- THE EMERGENCE OF NARCOTERRORISM IS POSSIBLE IN RURAL AREAS BECAUSE OF THE GENERAL UNPREPAREDNESS OF LOCAL POLICE AND THE ISOLATION OF MANY MARIJUANA AND POPPY FIELDS. NARCOTERRORISM DOES NOT EXIST IN THE TRADITIONAL SENSE OF ALLIANCE WITH LEFTIST GUERRILLAS. IT DOES EXIST, HOWEVER, IN THE FORM OF VIOLENCE AGAINST POLICE AND RIVAL TRAFFICKERS. SOME NARCOTICS

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

TRAFFICKERS UNDOUBTEDLY EMPLOY RUTHLESS TACTICS TO DISCOURAGE THOSE WHO WOULD LIKE TO PUT THEM OUT OF BUSINESS. ON OCCASION, TRAFFICKERS HAVE MASSACRED MEXICAN POLICE WHO DISCOVERED IMPORTANT NARCOTICS OPERATIONS. DRUG-RELATED RURAL VIOLENCE ALSO ERUPTS SPORADICALLY WHEN PEASANT FARMERS QUARREL OVER CULTIVATION RIGHTS.

- CORRUPTION, OF COURSE, EXISTS IN THE MEXICAN GOVERNMENT BUREAUCRACY AND MANY CORRUPT OFFICIALS REMAIN FREE FROM PROSECUTION. CORRUPTION, HOWEVER, EXISTS WHEREVER DRUG TRAFFICKERS OPERATE, WHETHER IN MEXICO, BOLIVIA, PERU, OR THE UNITED STATES. THE SUCCESS OF THE TRAFFICKERS DEPENDS IN LARGE PART UPON THEIR ABILITY TO CORRUPT THE SYSTEM. OFFICIAL PROTECTION OF NARCOTICS INTERESTS BY SOME MEXICAN STATE GOVERNMENT AND LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICIALS WOULD NOT EXIST WITHOUT SOME TOLERANCE FROM ABOVE. OFFICIAL PROTECTION OF NARCOTICS ACTIVITIES RANGES FROM SIMPLY LOOKING THE OTHER WAY TO FACILITATING SAFE PASSAGE OF DRUGS THROUGH CUSTOMS OR MILITARY/POLICE CHECKPOINTS. THE GOM HAS INTENSIFIED ITS EFFORTS TO COMBAT NARCOTICS

CORRUPTION. IT IS UNREASONABLE TO EXPECT THE GOVERNMENT BY ITSELF TO ELIMINATE IT UNLESS THERE IS A CHANGE IN SOCIETAL ATTITUDES TOWARDS CORRUPT PRACTICES
- AN ADMITTEDLY LONG-TERM PROCESS.

- THE DE LA MADRID ADMINISTRATION HAS DEVELOPED SOME INSTITUTIONAL MEASURES TO CURB CORRUPTION BY GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS. IT CREATED A COMPTROLLER
GENERAL'S OFFICE TO OVERSEE THE CONDUCT OF GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES AND ESTABLISHED COMPTROLLER OFFICES IN VARIOUS GOVERNMENT AGENCIES TO RECEIVE COMPLAINTS. A NEW CODE OF PUBLIC ETHICS WAS PROMULGATED WHICH REQUIRES GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS MAKING FOUR TIMES THE

THE ARREST AND CONVICTION OF FORMER PEMEX CHIEF AND SENATOR, JORGE DIAZ SERRANO, ON CHARGES OF EMBEZZLING MILLIONS OF DOLLARS OF GOVERNMENT FUNDS AND THE 1984 EXTRADICTION FROM THE U.S. OF FORMER MEXICO CITY POLICE CHIEF, ARTURO DURAZO MORENO, FOR EXTORTION AND ILLEGAL WEAPONS POSSESSION CONSTITUTE THE TWO MOST PROMINENT ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF DE LA MADRID'S ANTI-CORRUPTION CAMPAIGN. THESE TWO HIGHLY VISIBLE CASES CONSTITUTE A CERTAIN DETERRENT AGAINST BLATANT ACTS OF CORRUPTION.

- NO FIGURES ARE AVAILABLE ON THE EXTENT OF MONEY LAUNDERING IN MEXICO. MEXICAN BANKS, ALL BUT TWO OF WHICH ARE NATIONALIZED, DO NOT PROVIDE INFORMATION TO THE USG ON THEIR ACTIVITIES. BANKING IN MEXICO IS NOT VIEWED AS ATTRACTIVE FOR LARGE SCALE MONEY LAUNDERING DUE TO THE DIFFERENCE IN THE PESO AND THE DOLLAR AND EXTREME FLUCTUATIONS IN THE EXCHANGE RATE. HOWEVER, THERE IS REASON TO BELIEVE THE POTENTIAL EXISTS FOR EXTENSIVE MONEY LAUNDERING OF NARCOTICS PROFITS THROUGH INVESTMENT IN LEGITIMATE BUSINESSES AND BECAUSE OF EXTENSIVE TRADE AND FINANCIAL TIES BETWEEN THE U.S. AND MEXICO. SOUTH AMERICAN TRAFFICKERS ARE EXPECTED TO MAKE GREATER USE OF MEXICAN FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS TO LAUNDER PROFITS FROM DRUG SHIPMENTS WHICH ENTER THE U.S. THROUGH MEXICO.

- THE MEXICAN GOVERNMENT IS AWARE OF THE MONEY-LAUNDERING PROBLEM. MEXICAN LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICIALS RECENTLY ARRESTED A NUMBER OF MEXICAN CUSTOMS OFFICIALS, BANKERS AND THE HEAD OF A MONEY LAUNDERING OPERATION IN CALEXICO, BAJA CALIFORNIA. HOWEVER, IN

GENERAL TERMS, MEXICO DOES NOT HAVE THE INVESTIGATIVE AND PROSECUTORIAL RESOURCES TO DEVELOP ITS OWN CASES AGAINST MONEY LAUNDERERS. A HIGH-LEVEL PGR OFFICIAL RECENTLY CALLED FOR STRICTER PENALTIES AGAINST LAUNDERERS OF DRUG MONEY BUT THERE WERE NO SIGNIFICANT CHANGES IN MEXICAN BANK SECRECY LAWS OR CRIMINAL CODES IN 1987 THAT MIGHT AFFECT MONEY LAUNDERING.

- MEXICAN AUTHORITIES ARRESTED 9,800 PERSONS FOR DRUG TRAFFICKING IN 1987. MEXICO NEEDS TO STRENGTHEN FURTHER ITS CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEM, HOWEVER, IN ORDER TO CARRY CASES FROM ARREST THROUGH CONVICTION TO IMPRISONMENT. MEXICAN LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICIALS LACK EXPERIENCE IN THE COLLECTION AND USE OF EVIDENCE. MEXICO HAS NO NATION-WIDE CRIMINAL IDENTIFICATION SYSTEM, ITS FORENSIC CAPABILITIES ARE THREE DECADES BEHIND CURRENT TECHNOLOGY, AND POLICE COMMUNICATIONS LINKS ARE RELATIVELY INEFFECTIVE. MEXICO WILL NEED TO CHANNEL CONSIDERABLE RESOURCES INTO ITS CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEM IN ORDER TO CORRECT THESE DEFICIENCES.

- DESPITE THESE PROBLEMS, THE MEXICAN ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE HAS TAKEN IMPORTANT ENFORCEMENT ACTIONS AGAINST SEVERAL MAJOR DRUG TRAFFICKING ORGANIZATIONS WHICH HAD BEEN SUPPLYING CONSIDERABLE AMOUNTS OF NARCOTICS TO THE UNITED STATES. THE MOST SIGNIFICANT ARRESTS INCLUDE:

-- EDUARDO NEVAREZ LOPEZ, A CLASS I HEROIN TRAFFICKER ARRESTED IN JULY 1987;

-- NICOLAS NAVA DUQUE, CO-LEADER OF A LARGE MARIJUANA AND HEROIN TRAFFICKING RING, IN OCTOBER 1987. POLICE LOCATED OPIUM GUM LABS AND MARIJUANA FIELDS, AND CONFISCATED PROPERTY AND WEAPONS AS PART OF THIS INVESTIGATION.

IN ALL OF THESE CASES, THE ABOVE-LISTED ORGANIZATION HEADS WERE ARRESTED ALONG WITH OTHER RING-MEMBERS. THEY REMAIN IN POLICE CUSTODY AWAITING TRIAL. THE DISMANTLING OF THESE ORGANIZATIONS IS SIGNIFICANT. WHILE MANY DRUG RINGS CONTINUE TO OPERATE IN MEXICO, THE PGR HAS ACTED FORCEFULLY AGAINST TRAFFICKERS WHENEVER POSSIBLE.

- DRUG TRAFFICKERS RAFAEL CARO QUINTERO AND ERNESTO FONSECA CARRILLO, AMONG OTHER DEFENDENTS, REMAIN IN PRISON AND ARE UNDERGOING PROSECUTION FOR THEIR INVOLVEMENT IN THE MURDER OF DEA AGENT ENRIQUE CAMARENA. THE TRIAL PROCESS BEGAN UPON CARO QUINTERO'S EXPLUSION FROM COSTA RICA IN APRIL 1985, AND THE PROSECUTION HAS ALREADY PRESENTED ITS EVIDENCE IN THE TRIAL. UNDER THE MEXICAN JUDICIAL SYSTEM, WITH FEW EXCEPTIONS, THE TRIAL JUDGE, RATHER THAN A JURY, MAKES THE DETERMINATION OF GUILT AND SETS THE PUNISHMENT. THE JUDGE IN THIS CASE IS CURRENTLY REVIEWING THE EVIDENCE. SINCE THE MEXICAN JUDICIAL SYSTEM CALLS FOR THE PRESENTATION OF WRITTEN EVIDENCE (RATHER THAN ORAL

- RELATED TO THE CARO QUINTERO'S IMPRISONMENT, MEXICAN AUTHORITIES FOUND TWO TUNNELS IN OCTOBER 1987 WHICH RAN FROM HOMES NEAR THE FEDERAL PENITENTIARY TO WITHIN 30 METERS OF CARO QUINTERO'S CELL. MEXICAN OFFICIALS ARE INVESTIGATING THE APPARENT ESCAPE ATTEMPT. THE TUNNELS HAVE NOT YET BEEN SEALED BUT ARE UNDER 24-HOUR GUARD.

- THE COURT CASE RELATED TO THE DETENTION OF DEA SPECIAL AGENT VICTOR CORTEZ BY JALISCO STATE JUDICIAL POLICE IS ALSO UNDER JUDICIAL REVIEW. COPIES OF SWORN DEPOSITIONS MADE BY SPECIAL AGENT CORTEZ HAVE BEEN GIVEN TO MEXICAN JUDICIAL AUTHORITIES. IT IS NOT POSSIBLE TO PREDICT EITHER THE LENGTH OF THE PROCEEDINGS IN THIS CASE OR THE OUTCOME.

- THE PGR REPORTED THAT IT ERADICATED A TOTAL OF 2,520 HECTARES OF OPIUM POPPY AND 3,580 HECTARES OF MARIJUANA IN 1987 - SIX PERCENT MORE OPIUM POPPY AND 20 PERCENT MORE MARIJUANA DESTROYED THAN IN 1986. THE PGR DESTROYED MOST OF THESE CROPS BY AERIALLY-APPLIED HERBICIDES. THE PGR MANUALLY DESTROYED MARIJUANA AND OPIUM PLANTATIONS ON ITS OWN AND AS PART OF JOINT PGR-MEXICAN ARMY SWEEPS IN GUERRERO, MICHOACAN AND OAXACA. THE PGR ALSO INITIATED A SPECIAL PROJECT IN

THE STATE OF MICHOACAN IN WHICH FEDERAL AND STATE GOVERNMENT AUTHORITIES COMBINED RESOURCES TO MANUALLY ERADICATE A PARTICULARLY LARGE MARIJUANA CROP THERE. THE USG DONATED AN IMPORTANT QUANTITY OF MATERIAL RESOURCES, INCLUDING BACKPACK SPRAYERS, TO HELP THIS SPECIAL CAMPAIGN SUCCEED.

- OPERATION VANGUARD HAS BEEN ABLE TO REPORT POSITIVE DESTRUCTION RATES OF FROM 95 TO 99 PERCENT. THIS ERADICATION VERIFICATION PROGRAM, BASED ON DIRECT OBSERVATION, TYPICALLY LOOKS AT 60 PERCENT OF THE FIELDS SPRAYED BY THE PGR ON A MONTHLY BASIS. NAVIGATORS ON VANGUARD VERIFICATION FLIGHTS RECEIVE THEIR FLIGHT COORDINATES FROM THE PGR'S OFFICE OF RECONNAISSANCE AND ERADICATION VERIFICATION. DEA HAD NO ROLE IN SELECTING WHICH FIELDS WOULD BE VERIFIED ALTHOUGH ON A NUMBER OF OCCASIONS, THIS PGR OFFICE HAS

ORDERED RECONNAISSANCE MISSIONS TO VERIFY THE LOCATIONS OF POSSIBLE DRUG FIELDS BASED ON INFORMATION PROVIDED

UNCLASSIFIED

BY DEA.

- THE PGR'S ABILITY TO ERADICATE MORE DRUGS IN 1987 IS ATTRIBUTABLE IN LARGE PART TO ITS STRATEGIC PLAN FOR THE 1987 FALL CAMPAIGN. THE PLAN WAS BASED ON EXTENSIVE AERIAL RECONNAISSANCE WHICH INDICATED A WIDER DISTRIBUTION OF DRUG FIELDS THAN IN PAST YEARS. THE PGR DECIDED TO MOUNT ERADICATION OPERATIONS IN ALL AREAS WHERE DRUGS WERE DETECTED, NOT ONLY IN THE TRADITIONAL GROWING ZONES, EVEN THOUGH THE MORE DISPERSED OPERATIONS ADDED TO THE LOGISTICAL DEMAND ON PERSONNEL AND EQUIPMENT. ERADICATION COVERAGE WAS FIXED ON AREAS WHERE THE HIGHEST CONCENTRATIONS OF DRUG FIELDS WERE LOCATED. THIS APPROACH ENABLED THE PGR TO ERADICATE MORE DRUGS EVEN THOUGH PGR SPRAY PLANES FLEW 12 PERCENT FEWER HOURS THAN IN 1986.

- IN MID-1987, THE PGR ADDED 12 NEW BELL 206 HELICOPTERS TO EXPAND AND MODERNIZE ITS FLEET, SOME UNITS OF WHICH WERE PURCHASED A DECADE AGO. TWO ADDITIONAL BELL 206 HELICOPTERS WERE PURCHASED WITH INSURANCE MONIES DUE TO THE PGR FROM HELICOPTER CRASHES. AS THESE HELICOPTERS WERE INTEGRATED INTO THE FLEET, THE PGR USED THEM TO REPLACE HELICOPTERS WHICH REQUIRED ROUTINE OR EXTRAORDINARY MAINTENANCE. IN THIS WAY, THE PGR MAINTAINED TEN PAIRS OF SPRAY AND SUPPORT HELICOPTERS FLYING ERADICATION MISSIONS THROUGHOUT THE FALL CAMPAIGN. THIS ALSO CONTRIBUTED TO IMPROVED 1987 ERADICATION RESULTS.

- MEXICAN LAW ENFORCEMENT AUTHORITIES AND THE

UNCLASSIFIED

MILITARY HAVE INCREASED THEIR EFFORTS TO SEIZE ILLICIT DRUGS PRODUCED IN OR TRANSITTING THROUGH MEXICO. 1987 SEIZURES OF MARIJUANA WERE CLOSE TO 400 METRIC TONS, DOUBLE THE AMOUNT CAPTURED IN 1986. SEIZURES OF OPIUM AND HEROIN REACHED 350 KILOS, WELL ABOVE THE AMOUNTS CAPTURED IN 1986 AND 1985. WITHOUT DOUBT, MEXICO CONTINUES TO BE A MAJOR TRANSIT COUNTRY FOR COCAINE ORIGINATING IN SOUTH AMERICA AND DESTINED FOR THE UNITED STATES. COCAINE SEIZURES IN 1987 HAVE INCREASED DRAMATICALLY TO OVER 9,800 KILOS, UP FROM 2,563 KILOS IN 1985 AND 5,323 KILOS IN 1986. DEA-MEXICO HAS

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

PARTICIPATED IN POST-SEIZURE FOLLOW-ON INVESTIGATIONS IN THESE CASES. SOME OF THE MOST SIGNIFICANT COCAINE SEIZURES OCCURRED IN THE PAST 100 DAYS INCLUDING: 992 KILOS ON SEPTEMBER 21 IN SONORA; 2,268 KILOS SEIZED IN OCTOBER NEAR TIJUANA; 630 KILOS SEIZED IN DECEMBER IN BAJA CALIFORNIA; AND 416 KILOS SEIZED IN LATE DECEMBER IN HIDALGO IN A RAID ON A COCAINE LABORATORY.

- GOM AUTHORITIES DISMANTLED 13 ILLICIT DRUG LABORATORIES IN 1986 AND 1987. SEVERAL OF THESE LABS WERE DISCOVERED BASED ON INFORMATION PROVIDED BY DEA-MEXICO. WHILE THESE ARE NOT IMPRESSIVE NUMBERS, THE CHARACTERISTICS OF LABS FOUND IN MEXICO MAKE THEIR DISCOVERY EXTREMELY DIFFICULT. LABS ARE SMALL, PORTABLE AND USUALLY LOCATED IN REMOTE AREAS. GIVEN THE UNSOPHISTICATED EQUIPMENT USED, IT IS DIFFICULT TO DISTINGUISH SUCH LABS FROM TYPICAL RURAL KITCHENS. POLICE WILL NEED BETTER INTELLIGENCE AND LOGISTICAL CAPABILITIES IF THEY ARE TO SEIZE MORE HEROIN LABORATORIES. DEA DOES NOT BELIEVE THERE IS ANY SIGNIFICANT AMOUNT OF COCAINE REFINING IN MEXICO EITHER ALTHOUGH SEVERAL COCAINE LABS HAVE BEEN FOUND IN MEXICO, INCLUDING A LARGE LAB IN HIDALGO IN DECEMBER.

THIS LAB WAS SIGNIFICANT NOT ONLY FOR ITS SIZE BUT ALSO BECAUSE OF THE APPARENT INVOLVEMENT OF SOUTH AMERICAN DRUG TRAFFICKERS. IT IS TOO SOON TO KNOW WHETHER THE PRESENCE OF THIS SOUTH-AMERICAN OPERATED COCAINE CONVERSION LAB IN MEXICO IS AN ISOLATED OCCURRENCE OR EVIDENCE OF AN EMERGING TREND. OTHER REPORTED LAB SEIZURES INVOLVED SMALL-SCALE OPERATIONS AND IN SOME CASES THE LABS WERE ACTUALLY DRUG DISTRIBUTION CENTERS.

- SEVERAL INDEPENDENT EVALUATIONS OF THE PGR AERIAL ERADICATION PROGRAM WERE COMPLETED IN THE FIRST HALF OF 1987. THE STUDIES, INCLUDING A MAJOR REVIEW BY THE GENERAL ACCOUNTING OFFICE, HAVE BEEN USED TO IDENTIFY AREAS IN WHICH THE PROGRAM CAN BE IMPROVED. THESE INCLUDE AIRCRAFT MAINTENANCE, PROGRAM MANAGEMENT, AND

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

AIRCRAFT UTILIZATION. ALL EVALUATIONS OF THE PGR PROGRAM POINT TO A NEED TO IMPROVE AIRCRAFT MAINTENANCE

UNCLASSIFIED

OPERATIONS. A MAJOR PROBLEM HAS BEEN DECLINE IN THE RATE OF AVAILABILITY OF AIRCRAFT FOR ERADICATION MISSIONS. THE RATE OF AVAILABILITY OF AIRCRAFT, DEFINED AS THE NUMBER OF AIRCRAFT OPERATIVE DIVIDED BY THE TOTAL NUMBER OF AIRCRAFT IN THE FLEET, HAS FALLEN FROM 77 PERCENT IN 1982 TO 65 PERCENT IN 1987. THE REASONS FOR THE DECLINE ARE MANY, INCLUDING A LARGER NUMBER OF AIRCRAFT TO MAINTAIN IN MORE LOCATIONS AND DIFFICULTIES RELATED TO RETAINING AN EXPERIENCED MAINTENANCE STAFF.

- THE EMBASSY AND PGR WORKED TOGETHER IN 1987 TO CORRECT MAINTENANCE AND ADMINISTRATIVE DEFICIENCIES WHICH HAVE LESSENED THE EFFICIENT USE OF EXISTING EQUIPMENT AND MANPOWER. THE USG-FUNDED AIRCRAFT MAINTENANCE CONTRACT IS BEING RECOMPETED IN 1988. THE PGR AND EMBASSY COOPERATED TO REVISE A REQUEST FOR PROPOSAL (RFP) TO IMPROVE THE TERMS OF THE NEW MAINTENANCE CONTRACT THAT WILL SUPPORT THE AERIAL ERADICATION FLEET, BEGINNING IN APRIL 1988. THE NEW CONTRACT ESTABLISHES CLEAR LINES OF AUTHORITY OVER MAINTENANCE RESPONSIBILITES, A PRINCIPAL DEFICIENCY OF EARLIER VERSIONS. TO ENSURE CONTINUED SUPPORT OF THE PGR AERIAL ERADICATION FLEET, UNTIL THE NEW CONTRACT IS NEGOTIATED, THE GOM HAS EXTENDED THE CURRENT AVIATION MAINTENANCE CONTRACT THROUGH MARCH 31, 1988. A DRAFT RFP FOR THE NEW MAINTENANCE CONTRACT WILL BE AVAILABLE TO PROSPECTIVE BIDDERS IN JANUARY 1988.

- THE EMBASSY HAS ALSO SUBMITTED TO THE GOM A LETTER OF AGREEMENT (LOA) TO DEFINE BOTH GOVERNMENTS'

OBLIGATIONS AND EXPECTATIONS WITH RESPECT TO SUPPORTING THE PGR'S AIRFLEET. THE LOA DETAILS A COOPERATIVE EFFORT TO IMPROVE THE PGR'S ABILITY TO AERIALLY ERADICATE ILLICIT NARCOTICS CROPS THROUGHOUT MEXICO. THE SUCCESS OF THIS EFFORT DEPENDS TO A GREAT EXTENT ON INCREASING THE AVAILABILITY OF PGR AIRCRAFT FOR ERADICATION AND SUPPORT MISSIONS.

- THE EMBASSY AND PGR ALSO WORKED TOGETHER TO REFURBISH AND UPGRADE THE PHYSICAL FACILITIES AND SUPPORT EQUIPMENT AT SELECTED PGR AIRBASES. THESE

UNCLASSIFIED

IMPROVEMENTS ARE EXPECTED TO INCREASE THE OVERALL EFFECTIVENESS OF ERADICATION OPERATIONS. NAU AND PGR TECHNICAL STAFF CONDUCTED A SERIES OF FIELD TESTS BOTH OF HERBICIDES AND SPRAY EQUIPMENT TO IMPROVE AERIAL FUMIGATION EFFICIENCY. THE EMBASSY PLANS TO INCREASE ITS FIELD PRESENCE AND ACCESS TO PROGRAM AREAS IN 1988 BY HIRING TWO MORE ADVISORS.

- THE EMBASSY HAS BEEN WORKING CLOSELY WITH THE PGR TO TRAIN NEW HELICOPTER PILOTS. THE PGR OPERATED WITH AN ONGOING PILOT SHORTAGE IN 1987. A SEVERE SHORTAGE DEVELOPED OVER THE PAST THREE YEARS BECAUSE OF JOB-RELATED DEATHS AND INJURIES, RESIGNATIONS AND DISMISSALS FOR DISCIPLINARY CAUSES. THE RANKS OF PGR PILOTS HAVE DIMINISHED FROM 159 IN 1985 TO JUST OVER 100 THIS YEAR. THE PGR NEEDS ABOUT 150 PILOTS TO ADEQUATELY CREW ITS FLEET. IN NOVEMBER, WITH USG FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE, THE PGR MOUNTED A THREE MONTH TRAINING PROGRAM TO QUALIFY 20 NEW BELL 206 PILOTS, 15 BELL 206 FUMIGATION PILOTS AND 5 BELL 212 FUMIGATION PILOTS. THE PGR HAS ALSO RAISED PILOTS' WAGES, PER DIEM RATES AND TAKEN FURTHER STEPS, SUCH AS THE

A.3. PLANS, PROGRAMS, TIMETABLES (1988)

- INCREASED LIAISON AT ALL LEVELS OF LAW ENFORCEMENT IN MEXICO IS ANTICIPATED, WITH A VIEW TOWARD BETTER COOPERATION IN ALL AREAS OF MUTUAL CONCERN. DURING 1988, ALL FBI OFFICES IN THE U.S., ESPECIALLY THOSE ALONG THE U.S.- MEXICAN BORDER, WILL BE SPECIFICALLY TASKED TO DEBRIEF ALL SOURCES ON DRUG INTELLIGENCE ON MEXICO, INCLUDING SPECIFIC INFORMATION CONCERNING CULTIVATION AREAS. THIS INFORMATION WILL THEN BE PASSED ON TO THE THE FBI AND DEA. ADDITIONALLY, INFORMATION WILL BE SOUGHT ON THE IDENTITY OF ANY ASSETS HELD BY IDENTIFIED DRUG TRAFFICKERS IN THE UNITED STATES OR MEXICO, AS A FOLLOW-ON TO THE RECENT SIGNING OF A MUTUAL LEGAL ASSISTANCE TREATY.

UNCLASSIFIED

- ATTEMPTS WILL BE MADE TO SATISFY ALL REQUESTS FOR ASSISTANCE FROM MEXICAN AUTHORITIES PERTAINING TO INVESTIGATIVE EFFORTS IN THE UNITED STATES. WHEN POSSIBLE, PROFESSIONAL TRAINING WILL BE OFFERED TO MEXICAN LAW ENFORCEMENT PERSONNEL.

- AS IN THE PAST, THE PGR INTENDS TO CONTRACT THE SERVICES OF A U.S. COMPANY TO ASSIST IN MAKING AIRCRAFT AVAILABLE FOR ERADICATION UNDER THE TERMS OF THE NEW MAINTENANCE CONTRACT. THE USG WILL PROVIDE PROCEDURAL GUIDANCE IN THE CONTRACTOR SELECTION PROCESS AND FUNDS TO FINANCE THE CONTRACT. THE CONTRACTOR WILL TRAIN PGR PERSONNEL, PROCURE AIRCRAFT PARTS AND OVERHAUL/REPAIR SERVICES, AND PROVIDE TECHNICAL CONSULTATION AND ADVICE WITHIN THE SCOPE OF THE CONTRACT.

- IN 1987, THE PGR ASSISTED DEA IN CONDUCTING GROUND TRUTH MISSIONS TO COLLECT MARIJUANA SAMPLES FROM ILLICT FIELDS AS PART OF OPERATION VANGUARD. IN 1988, DEA PLANS TO EXPAND THIS PROJECT TO INCLUDE OPIUM POPPY SAMPLING. THE PGR HAS PROMISED TO ASSIGN A REBUILT BELL 212 HELICOPTER TO SUPPORT THIS AND OTHER VANGUARD OPERATIONS.

- THE PGR AERIAL ERADICATION PROGRAM ALSO REQUIRES A SUBSTANTIAL AMOUNT OF FIELD SUPPORT IN ORDER TO FUNCTION PROPERLY. NAU HAS PROGRAMMED ITS FIELD SUPPORT ACTIVITIES IN 1988 TO ASSIST THE PGR. THIS PROJECT COMPLEMENTS NAU'S MAIN EFFORT OF IMPROVING AIRCRAFT AVAILABILITY RATES FOR AERIAL ERADICATION

- NAU AND THE PGR ARE PLANNING AN AERIAL SURVEY OVER PART OF THE OPIUM GROWING REGION OF GUERRERO. THE SURVEY WILL COVER AREAS NOT PHOTOGRAPHED DURING A SIMILAR MISSION IN FEBRUARY 1986. AS 1987 ENDED, FINAL APPROVAL OF THE SURVEY PLAN RESTED WITH THE MINISTRY OF DEFENSE. FAVORABLE WEATHER CONDITIONS WILL LAST ONLY THROUGH FEBRUARY AFTER WHICH THE SPRING RAINS BEGIN. THE PGR IS SEEKING A QUICK AND FAVORABLE DECISION FROM THE MINISTRY OF DEFENSE.

- INM AND NAU ARE PREPARING A FIVE-YEAR AERIAL SURVEY PLAN. A TOTAL OF THREE PGR AIRCRAFT WOULD BE OUTFITTED BY USG UNDER THE PLAN FOR AERIAL SURVEY WORK, BY JUNE OF 1990. THE PLAN WILL ALSO PROVIDE INFORMATION ON THE ADDITIONAL PERSONNEL, TRAINING AND MATERIAL RESOURCES THAT AN ENLARGED PROGRAM WOULD REQUIRE.

- IN 1988, NAU WILL EVALUATE PGR REQUIREMENTS FOR NEW AIRCRAFT TO CARRY OUT AERIAL ERADICATION. EMPHASIS WILL BE PLACED ON ACHIEVING THE PROPER MIX OF BELL 206 AND BELL 212 HELICOPTERS FOR MAXIMUM ADVANTAGE IN ATTACKING BOTH OPIUM POPPY AND MARIJUANA CULTIVATIONS. THE GOM MAY CONFISCATE THE ENTIRE PROPERTY, EVEN IF ONLY A PORTION OF IT WAS DEDICATED TO GROWING DRUG CROPS. THE GOM HAS MADE PROGRESS IN CONFISCATING PROPERTY AND FINANCIAL ASSETS OF DRUG TRAFFICKERS. DURING THE DE LA MADRID ADMINISTRATION, THE GOM HAS MODIFIED RULES OF CRIMINAL PROCEDURE TO PERMIT THE PREEMPTORY SEIZURE OF DRUG TRAFFICKERS' PROPERTY AT THE BEGINNING OF THE LEGAL PROCESS RATHER THAN AT THE END. THESE CHANGES HAVE

PERMITTED THE GOM TO CONFISCATE REAL ESTATE, PERSONAL PROPERTY AND FINANCIAL ASSETS ACQUIRED THROUGH NARCOTICS-RELATED ACTIVITES, EVEN IF SUCH PROPERTY IS TITLED UNDER THE NAMES OF RELATIVES OR ASSOCIATES. WHILE THESE PROVISIONS WERE APPLIED SELECTIVELY IN 1987, WE EXPECT THE GOM TO EMPLOY THEM WITH GREATER FACILITY IN THE FUTURE, SINCE THE GOVERNMENT BENEFITS FROM ASSETS SEIZURES, AND AS MORE MEXICAN PROSECUTORS FAMILIARIZE THEMSELVES WITH THESE PROCEDURES. IN JUNE 1987, A MEXICAN OFFICIAL REPORTED TO THE MEXICAN CONGRESS THAT THE GOM HAD CONFISCATED AND REDISTRIBUTED

A.5. DOMESTIC DRUG ABUSE IN MEXICO

- THERE IS NO ACCURATE INFORMATION CURRENTLY AVAILABLE REGARDING THE EXTENT OF DRUG ABUSE IN MEXICO. PAST DRUG SURVEYS HAVE FOCUSED ON DRUG USE AMONG LIMITED POPULATION SETS, PARTICULARLY HIGH SCHOOL AND COLLEGE STUDENTS AND PATIENTS IN DRUG TREATMENT PROGRAMS. DRUG TREATMENT CENTERS IN MEXICO MENTION THAT MARIJUANA, WHICH IS CHEAP AND WIDELY AVAILABLE, IS THE MOST FREQUENTLY ABUSED DRUG, FOLLOWED BY THE ABUSE OF INHALANTS. THE PATTERNS OF DRUG ABUSE VARY BY REGION. NORTHERN MEXICO APPEARS TO BE MOST AFFECTED IN THE LARGE BORDER TOWNS, WITH LARGE CITIES SUCH AS

MEXICO CITY AND GUADALAJARA AND RESORT REGIONS SUCH AS MAZATLAN IN CENTRAL MEXICO REPORTING HIGH LEVELS OF ABUSE. WOMEN REPORTEDLY PREFER TO CONSUME PRESCRIPTION DRUGS WHILE MEN ARE MORE FREQUENT CONSUMERS OF ILLEGAL DRUGS AND INHALANTS. NOT UNEXPECTEDLY, YOUTHS BETWEEN THE AGES OF 18 AND 24 REPRESENT THE LARGEST GROUP OF CONSUMERS. THE ABUSE OF HEROIN AND COCAINE DOES NOT APPEAR TO HAVE EMERGED AS A PROBLEM IN MEXICO, AS THE COST OF THESE DRUGS IS BEYOND THE ECONOMIC REACH OF THE AVERAGE MEXICAN.

- IF DRUG AWARENESS IS MEASURED BY MEDIA COVERAGE, PUBLIC AWARENESS SHOULD HAVE INCREASED SIGNIFICANTLY DURING THE PAST YEAR. THE MEDIA HAVE REPORTED WITH INCREASING FREQUENCY, IN QUOTING SECRETARIAT OF EDUCATION OFFICIALS, THAT MARIJUANA CONSUMPTION IS ON THE RISE, PARTICULARLY IN SCHOOLS. REPORTING HAS CHANGED FROM A YEAR AGO WHEN THE MEDIA FAITHFULLY REFLECTED THE OFFICIAL GOM VIEW THAT CONSUMPTION WAS A

UNCLASSIFIED

PROBLEM IN THE UNITED STATES, NOT IN MEXICO.

- PRIVATE ORGANIZATIONS NOW PRIVATELY ADMIT TO THE EXISTENCE OF MUCH HIGHER LEVELS OF DRUG ABUSE THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY THAN MANY OFFICIALS ACKNOWLEDGE. GIVEN THIS ATTITUDE, NOT ALL GOM OFFICIALS HAVE BEEN COMMITTED TO WAGING A TRULY CONCERTED ANTI-DRUG CAMPAIGN.

B.1. NATURE OF ILLICIT DRUG PRODUCTION

- SMALL SCALE FARMERS CONTINUE TO PRODUCE MOST OF THE ILLEGAL OPIUM POPPY AND MARIJUANA IN MEXICO. MUCH OF THE PROCESSING AND TRANSPORTATION HAS BEEN ORGANIZED BY A FEW LARGER ORGANIZATIONS WHICH HAVE CONTROLLED THE MEXICAN ILLEGAL NARCOTICS TRADE FOR YEARS. TRAFFICKERS HAVE TAUGHT FARMERS ADVANCED GROWING TECHNIQUES INVOLVING THE USE OF IRRIGATION, IMPROVED SEED, AND FERTILIZER TO INCREASE YIELDS, IMPROVE POTENCY AND TO EXTEND THE CROP GROWING SEASON. THEY HAVE TRIED TO MAKE AERIAL ERADICATION MORE DIFFICULT BY PLANTING SMALLER FIELDS IN MORE REMOTE AREAS, AT HIGH ALTITUDES AND IN MOUNTAINOUS TERRAIN. THIS EFFORT HAS REDUCED THE SPRAYING EFFECTIVENESS OF THE BELL 206 HELICOPTERS, THE PGR'S PRIMARY SPRAY AIRCRAFT. IN ADDITION, GROWERS HAVE RESPONDED TO THE AERIAL APPLICATION OF HERBICIDE BY IMMEDIATELY HARVESTING MATURE PLANTS AND EVEN BY WASHING THE PLANTS TO REMOVE THE HERBICIDE. WHEN YOUNG PLANTS ARE SPRAYED, GROWERS MOVE QUICKLY TO REPLANT THEIR FIELDS.

UNCLASSIFIED
UNCLASSIFIED

- IN RECENT YEARS, TRAFFICKERS HAVE ENCOURAGED THE PRODUCTION OF ILLICIT CROPS IN NON-TRADITIONAL GROWING AREAS, SO THAT MARIJUANA IS NOW GROWN IN VIRTUALLY ALL PARTS OF MEXICO. OPIUM POPPY, WHICH WAS TRADITIONALLY GROWN PRIMARILY IN THE TRI-STATE AREA OF SINALOA, DURANGO AND CHIHUAHUA, IS ALSO BEING FOUND IN THE STATES OF GUERRERO, CHIAPAS AND OAXACA.

- DEA BELIEVES THAT PATTERNS OF HEROIN PRODUCTION AND TRAFFICKING HAVE BEEN CHANGING. FARMERS NOW PROCESS THEIR OWN OPIUM INTO A LESS REFINED BUT MORE

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

POTENT "BLACK TAR" HEROIN. RISING IMPORTS OF MEXICAN BLACK TAR HEROIN REPRESENT A NEW AND SIGNIFICANT THREAT TO THE US DRUG CONSUMER. THIS PRODUCT HAS BECOME WIDELY AVAILABLE IN THE UNITED STATES AND IS POPULAR BECAUSE OF ITS HIGH PURITY AND LOW PRICE. THE SHARP INCREASE IN HEROIN-RELATED HOSPITAL EMERGENCIES HAS BEEN CONNECTED TO INCREASED USE OF BLACK TAR HEROIN.

- THERE IS NO EVIDENCE THAT MEXICAN FARMERS ARE CULTIVATING THE COCA PLANT.

B.2. FACTORS AFFECTING PRODUCTION

- THE MEXICAN ECONOMY CONTINUES TO DETERIORATE FROM GOM DEFICITS DUE TO HIGH INTEREST ON THE DOMESTIC DEBT, THE FALL OF THE MEXICAN STOCK MARKET AND A RESURGENCE OF CAPITAL FLIGHT IN RECENT MONTHS, SPIRALING INFLATION EXPECTED TO TOP 140 PERCENT FOR 1987, AND ONGOING PESO DEVALUATION. RESULTING UNEMPLOYMENT AND UNDEREMPLOYMENT PROVIDE FERTILE GROUND FOR A LARGE UNDERGROUND ECONOMY AND ASSOCIATED ILLEGAL ACTIVITIES, INCLUDING THE CULTIVATION OF ILLICIT CROPS AND NARCOTICS TRAFFICKING.

- MEXICO IS AN INDUSTRIALIZED COUNTRY THAT PRODUCES SOME CHEMICALS THAT ARE DIVERTED TO HEROIN PRODUCTION AND REFINING.

B. 3. MAXIMUM ACHIEVABLE REDUCTIONS

- THE GOM'S DECLARED OBJECTIVE CONTINUES TO BE TO ELIMINATE THE CULTIVATION OF OPIUM POPPY AND MARIJUANA THROUGHOUT THE NATION, A GOAL WHICH IS VIRTUALLY IMPOSSIBLE, GIVEN MEXICO'S SIZE AND GEOGRAPHY AS WELL AS THE LIMITS ON RESOURCES AVAILABLE FOR THE TASK.

- THE PGR ERADICATED 2,520 HECTARES OF OPIUM POPPY AND 3,580 HECTARES OF MARIJUANA IN 1987. THE CROPS DESTROYED COULD HAVE YIELDED 25 METRIC TONS OF OPIUM

AND 4,050 METRIC TONS OF MARIJUANA, RESPECTIVELY. THE MAXIMUM REDUCTIONS IN ILLICIT DRUG PRODUCTION WHICH ARE

UNCLASSIFIED

ACHIEVABLE THROUGH ERADICATION IN 1988 ARE 3,025 HECTARES OF OPIUM POPPY AND 4,400 HECTARES OF MARIJUANA - A 20 PER CENT INCREASE OVER 1987 RESULTS. THIS RESULT WOULD REDUCE POTENTIAL MARKET SUPPLIES BY 30 METRIC TONS OF OPIUM AND 4,970 METRIC TONS OF MARIJUANA. REDUCTIONS ANTICIPATED FOR 1989 ARE 3,600 HECTARES, OR 36 METRIC TONS, OF OPIUM AND 4,840 HECTARES, OR 5,470 METRIC TONS, OF MARIJUANA.

- LAST YEAR, THE US EMBASSY IN MEXICO UNILATERALLY FIXED 1987 ERADICATION TARGETS AT 7,200 HECTARES OF MARIJUANA AND 4,160 HECTARES OF OPIUM POPPY. THE TARGETS WERE PREMISED ON A NUMBER OF ASSUMPTIONS, INCLUDING THE PGR'S ABILITY TO MAINTAIN AN AVERAGE RATE OF AIRCRAFT AVAILABILITY OF 80 PERCENT FOR ITS AIRFLEET AND THE PRESENCE IN MEXICO OF SIX TURBO THRUSH T-65 FIXED-WING SPRAY AIRPLANES.

- IN RETROSPECT, THE EMBASSY-SET TARGETS FOR 1987, WHICH WERE 75 PERCENT ABOVE 1986 RESULTS FOR OPIUM POPPY AND 142 PERCENT ABOVE 1986 RESULTS FOR MARIJUANA, WERE OVERLY OPTIMISTIC. THE EMBASSY'S BASIC ASSUMPTIONS WERE NOT MET WITH RESPECT TO AIRCRAFT AVAILABILITY RATES (ONLY 68 PERCENT) OR WITH RESPECT TO THE USE OF TURBO THRUSH PLANES. THE SHORTFALL IN ERADICATION RESULTS WAS ALSO DUE IN PART TO THE BURGEONING SHORTAGE OF HELICOPTER PILOTS.

- THERE ARE NO ESTIMATES AVAILABLE FOR THE AMOUNT OF DRUGS THE MEXICAN MILITARY MIGHT ERADICATE IN 1988.

UNCLASSIFIED
UNCLASSIFIED

B.4. METHODOLOGY FOR ESTIMATES

- WE ANTICIPATE THE PGR WILL BE ABLE TO ERADICATE 20 PERCENT MORE HECTARES OF DRUG FIELDS IN 1988 THAN IT DID IN 1987. MEXICAN OFFICIALS IN CHARGE OF THE CIVILIAN ANTI-NARCOTICS EFFORT HAVE EXPRESSED THEIR INTENT TO IMPROVE FUTURE RESULTS OVER PAST PERFORMANCE BUT HAVE NOT SET NUMERICAL GOALS FOR THEIR ERADICATION PROGRAMS.

- IN ORDER TO PAVE THE WAY FOR A BETTER

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

PERFORMANCE, THE PGR AND THE EMBASSY HAVE IDENTIFIED AND IMPLEMENTED SOLUTIONS TO A NUMBER OF PROBLEMS THAT AROSE IN 1987. STEPS HAVE BEEN TAKEN TO REBUILD THE PGR'S PILOT CORPS, TO IMPROVE THE PERFORMANCE OF THE PGR'S MAINTENANCE OPERATIONS, AND TO FORTIFY OPERATIONS SUPPORT SERVICES. CORRECTING THE PILOT SHORTAGE THROUGH AN INTENSIVE HELICOPTER PILOT TRAINING PROGRAM SHOULD ENABLE THE PGR TO FLY MORE HELICOPTERS, RAISING THE AVERAGE NUMBER OF SPRAY CRAFT OPERATING SIMULTANEOUSLY. WE EXPECT THE PGR TO INCREASE ITS OPERATIONAL CAPACITY BY MORE THAN 40 PERCENT.

- WEIGHT REDUCTIONS OF ILLICIT CROPS ARE BASED ON A YIELD OF ONE METRIC TON OF OPIUM FOR EACH 100 HECTARES OF OPIUM POPPY AND 1.13 METRIC TONS OF MARIJUANA FOR EACH HECTARE OF MARIJUANA CULTIVATION.

- AVAILABLE EVIDENCE DOES NOT JUSTIFY A HIGHER ESTIMATE FOR MARIJUANA OR OPIUM PRODUCTION IN 1988 THAN IN THE PAST FEW YEARS.

E.1. RESOURCE ESTIMATES

- THE FOLLOWING TABLE REFLECTS ESTIMATED REDUCTION OF ILLICIT DRUG PRODUCTION WHICH CAN BE ACHIEVED OVER THE NEXT TWO YEARS WITHIN EXISTING KNOWN FUNDING LEVELS:

REDUCTION	1988	1989
OPIUM POPPY (HECTARES)	3,025	3,600

- WHILE WE BELIEVE THE GOM CAN ACHIEVE THESE RESULTS WITHIN ITS CURRENT LEVEL OF RESOURCES, MEXICO IS EXPERIENCING SEVERE DOMESTIC ECONOMIC DIFFICULTIES, INCLUDING RAPIDLY RISING INFLATION AND A LARGE PUBLIC SECTOR BUDGET DEFICIT. THE PGR'S REQUESTS FOR ADDITIONAL ALLOCATIONS FROM THE CENTRAL GOVERNMENT BUDGET FOR NARCOTICS CONTROL PROGRAMS IN 1988 ARE LIKELY TO FACE INTENSE SCRUTINY. IT IS POSSIBLE TO FORESEE A NEGATIVE IMPACT WHICH COULD BE WROUGHT ON THE PROGRAM IF THE GOM HAS TO CUTBACK THE PGR BUDGET IN REAL TERMS. HOWEVER FROM THE EXPRESSED DEDICATION OF TOP GOM OFFICIALS WE DO NOT BELIEVE THIS LIKELY. THE IMPACT ON ERADICATION RESULTS WOULD BE PARTICULARLY SEVERE IF THE PGR IS UNABLE TO ADEQUATELY COMPENSATE ITS AVIATORS AND

UNCLASSIFIED

AVIATION SUPPORT STAFF.

- WE BELIEVE THAT THE USG CONTRIBUTION TO THE GOM ANTI-NARCOTICS PROGRAMS SHOULD NOT FALL BELOW CURRENT LEVELS. IT IS LIKELY WE WILL NEED TO REQUEST ADDITIONAL FUNDS AT SOME POINT IN THE NEAR FUTURE IN ORDER TO OFFSET THE RISING COST OF AIRCRAFT MAINTENANCE AND TO SUPPORT THE NEW AIRCRAFT THE GOM HAS ACQUIRED FOR ITS ERADICATION FLEET. SUBJECT: Survey Trip for the U.S.-Mexico Presidents' Meeting February 13

A survey team headed by White House Director of Presidential Advance Jim Hooley and including DAS Paul Taylor visited Matzatlan January 14 and 15. The Deputy Chief of Mexican Protocol participated in the visit but stressed that he did not have decision-making authority, something which rested with the Presidential Chief of Staff.

The preliminary conclusions of the survey team, subject to full White House approval and concurrence by Mexican authorities, are:

-- Matzatlan is an acceptable city for the Presidents' meeting.

-- The need for the President to depart from Los Angeles and return to the ranch before dark on February 13 severely limits time on the ground. Four hours are available in Matzatlan but might be extended to four and a half.

-- U.S. participants may travel to Matzatlan in three planes: the President's from Los Angeles, your flight from Nassau and a third plane directly from Washington.

-- The Camino Real Hotel is suitable for the meetings and U.S. delegation facilities. It is a picturesque 170 room hotel located on a cliff above a Pacific cove which can be easily secured. The setting offers various scenes for bilateral meetings, lunch and informal moments such as a walk in the garden or on the beach.

-- A press briefing center and other facilities that cannot fit in the Camino Real Hotel can be located in the El Cid Hotel nearby.

-- President de la Madrid will probably be accommodated at an adjacent hotel, the Casa Pueblo Bonito.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

UNCLASSIFIED

-- President Reagan and his immediate party can arrive near the meeting site by helicopter from the Matzatlan Airport.

-- Substantive meetings can include a one-on-one session of the Presidents with simultaneous bilaterals by ministers, a plenary session of the Presidents and their ministers and a working lunch.

-- In the interest of conserving the Presidents' time, their principal public statements could be limited to substantive toasts at lunch. Their comments can stress the culmination of the cooperative relationship between the U.S. and Mexico they have achieved during their administrations and which in the past three months has yielded a Framework Agreement on Trade and Investment, a Mutual Legal Assistance Treaty, a Textile Agreement, a major financial package, and possibly by February 13, a civil aviation agreement and three telecommunications agreements.

-- It might be difficult to get Mexican concurrence on a positive joint communique judging from the tortured and defensive statement the Mexicans issued when the MLAT was concluded. In lieu of a communique, you and Secretary Sepulveda might consider jointly briefing the U.S. and Mexican press immediately following the President's departure and before you leave for Nassau.

-- A pre-advance team is tentatively scheduled to return to Matzatlan January 27 to work with officials from the Mexican President's office who are currently in Stockholm with President de la Madrid for a meeting of the Group of Six.

Your Excellency:

The recent death threats to Miguel Angel Alfaro and German Ossbahnius, members of the Comite de Defensa de los Derechos del Pueblo, is of great concern to me and my fellow citizens. No person should have to live with the fear that someone will murder his or her. Civilized governments guarantee citizens the right to live without fear.

I am aware that the Santiago Appeals Court has ordered investigations into these death threats and I welcome this action. I am also aware that many death threats, abductions, torture, and killings have been directed toward government critics in the last few years. The strong connection between human rights abuse and criticism of the government of Chile is more than coincidental. As a professor of strategic planning and management, I teach about the positive effect of change as a result of criticism. I would be happy to provide you with research results which demonstrate that positive change is often a result of critical evaluation of the existing situation.

Please take the appropriate actions to ensure the physical safety of Senors Miguel Angel Alfaro and German Ossbahnius. The recent court decision ordering a police investigation into the death threats is only a beginning. Please take action to ensure that this investigation has the full cooperation of all branches of the security forces in Chile.

I look forward to the day when Chile is again a safe place for all people. I thank you for your cooperation in addressing this matter.

Sincerely,

Jon Zahrly Ph.D.

SUBJECT: Thoughts on Your Visit to Mexico, February 13, 1988

This will be your sixth and probably last meeting with President de la Madrid. It may also be the most important, certainly not the casual drop-in affair it might appear.

In his final year in office, de la Madrid faces challenges as difficult as the debt crisis he confronted when he began his term in 1982. His certain successor, Carlos Salinas de Gortari, will inherit a Mexico undergoing wrenching economic and political change. Their handling of this transitional period will have enormous consequences for the United States. And our handling of this meeting could deeply affect what they do in the next few years.

The meeting should be both a summing up of the achievements in US/Mexico relations during your terms of office and a shaping of the future direction in which your successor and de la Madrid's will move our two countries. The record of achievement is impressive:

- Mexico has joined GATT; we have made impressive bilateral progress in trade talks, and signed a ground-breaking framework agreement on trade and investment;
- With our help, Mexico is managing its heavy foreign debt burden in a responsible manner;
- We have implemented a new immigration law without disrupting relations;
- Difficult environmental problems along our common border are being managed successfully;
- Energy relations, a source of friction under the Carter Administration, are excellent.

Perhaps most important of all, we have turned the relationship in a direction based more on cooperation than confrontation; more on dialogue than rhetoric. Strong personal relationships have been developed, and frequent meetings held, between Ed Meese, Jim Baker, Clayton Yeutter and other high USG officials and their Mexican counterparts. Under de la Madrid, Mexicans have begun to accept the idea that undertaking formal obligations with the United States across a broad range of issues need not compromise their deep sense of national sovereignty and dignity. This psychological change is fragile, but could be decisive to a constructive future for both nations.

We should give de la Madrid full credit for his politically courageous effort to lead Mexico through its economic crisis. At considerable cost to his own popularity, he has persisted in responsible, albeit painful and austere, policies aimed at modernizing the Mexican economy.

Difficult problems remain in our relationship, but most of these are being managed:

- Central Americans have taken charge of the regional peace process, leaving Mexico and the other Contadora countries ineffectually on the margin. Foreign Secretary Sepulveda's efforts to obstruct our objectives have failed; we can continue our strategy of keeping Mexico marginalized;

- At the UN and the OAS, the Mexicans have been less active in their opposition to us, and have lately avoided name-calling resolutions.

My greatest concern is in the area of anti-drug efforts. Some in the Administration and Congress will seek to deny Mexico certification as a "cooperating country" under recent narcotics legislation -- a step that would carry a heavy stigma and entail significant economic costs. Failure to renew Mexico's certification could seriously affect their cooperation with our anti-drug effort and damage the full range of our bilateral relationship. Another contentious political debate in the Congress over certification would also hurt. If we don't manage this properly, it will undercut all the progress we have achieved in other areas, and it could weaken de la Madrid's and Salinas' efforts to preserve Mexican stability.

Mexico has, in fact, made significant efforts in the fight against drugs. They understandably resent statements by US officials deprecating these efforts or alleging criminal complicity by high GOM officials. Nevertheless, there are areas in which Mexican cooperation could be substantially improved; we will want you to make some very specific requests of de la Madrid in this regard.

I suggest that you make drugs the focal point of your private discussion with de la Madrid (as opposed to the more open sessions, which should focus on accomplishments.) He must face the reality that the drug issue has explosive potential for us both. We will provide specific requests for you to convey to de la Madrid regarding actions he can and must take.

E.O. 12356: N/A
SUBJECT: ELECTRICITY SECTOR BUDGET AND GOALS FOR 1988

1. SUMMARY: THE MEXICAN GOVERNMENT CUT THE PROPOSED 1988 BUDGETS FOR THE ELECTRICITY UTILITIES BY 8 PERCENT AS PART OF THE PROGRAM TO REDUCE THE FEDERAL BUDGET DEFICIT. THE BUDGETS FOR THE TWO STATE OWNED UTILITIES NOW TOTAL ABOUT 3.5 BILLION DOLLARS. NONETHELESS, OFFICIALS EXPECT THE UTILITIES WILL BE ABLE TO SATISFY THE DEMAND FOR ELECTRICITY DURING 1988 WHICH IS PROJECTED TO GROW BY 5 PERCENT TO 83,022 GIGAWATT HOURS, INCLUDING 2,000 GWH OF EXPORTS. INSTALLED GENERATING CAPACITY IS PROGRAMMED TO INCREASE BY 1,558 MEGAWATTS DURING 1988 INCLUDING 675 MW AT THE LAGUNA VERDE NUCLEAR PLANT AND 700 MW AT THE MANZANILLO THERMOELECTRIC PLANT. TOTAL GENERATING CAPACITY SHOULD REACH 24,962 MW BY THE END OF THE YEAR. END SUMMARY.

2. THE GOVERNMENT-OWNED CORPORATION WHICH HAS SOLE RESPONSIBILITY FOR GENERATING ELECTRICITY IN MEXICO,
UNCLASSIFIED

COMISION FEDERAL DE ELECTRICIDAD (CFE), HAD ITS PROPOSED BUDGET FOR 1988 CUT BY 8 PERCENT TO 6.8 TRILLION PESOS, ABOUT 3.1 BILLION DOLLARS AT THE CURRENT EXCHANGE RATE OF

2,200 PESOS TO ONE DOLLAR. IN A SIMILAR FASHION, THE GOVERNMENT-OWNED COMPANY WHICH DISTRIBUTES ELECTRICITY IN THE CENTRAL PART OF MEXICO, COMPANIA DE LUZ Y FUERZA DEL CENTRO (CLFC), HAD ITS PROPOSED BUDGET CUT BY 8 PERCENT TO 846 BILLION PESOS, ABOUT 385 MILLION DOLLARS. THESE BUDGET CUTS WERE PROPOSED AT THE END OF DECEMBER BY THE SECRETARIAT OF PLANNING AND BUDGET AS PART OF THE EFFORT TO REDUCE GOVERNMENT EXPENDITURES AND THE BUDGET DEFICIT. THE CHANGES WERE APPROVED IMMEDIATELY BY THE CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES. MOST OF THE CUTS (94 PERCENT BY ONE ESTIMATE), WILL COME OUT OF THE INVESTMENT BUDGETS OF THESE TWO PARASTATAL FIRMS, WITH THE BALANCE BEING SQUEEZED OUT OF SALARIES. AS A RESULT SEVERAL CONSTRUCTION PROJECTS WILL BE SLOWED OR DEFERRED UNTIL NEXT YEAR.

3. DESPITE THE SMALLER THAN EXPECTED BUDGET, ELECTRIC COMPANY OFFICIALS BELIEVE THEY WILL BE ABLE TO SATISFY DOMESTIC DEMAND THIS YEAR EVEN AT THE RISK OF SACRIFICING MEDIUM AND LONG TERM GOALS. CFE OFFICIALS PLAN TO PUT 1,558 MEGAWATTS OF NEW GENERATING CAPACITY INTO COMMERCIAL OPERATION DURING 1988 INCLUDING 675 MW AT THE LAGUNA VERDE NUCLEAR PLANT AND 700 MW AT THE MANZANILLO THERMOELECTRIC PLANT. BY THE END OF THE YEAR, CFE EXPECTS TO HAVE 24,962 MW OF INSTALLED CAPACITY. CFE IS PLANNING TO GENERATE 99,250 GIGAWATT HOURS OF ELECTRICITY, 4.3 PERCENT MORE THAN IN 1987, OF WHICH ABOUT 64 PERCENT WILL COME FROM BURNING OIL AND GAS, 23 PERCENT FROM DAMS, 8 PERCENT FROM COAL, 5 PERCENT FROM GEOTHERMAL SOURCES, AND AN UNDETERMINED BUT SMALL AMOUNT

FROM THE NUCLEAR PLANT. (TRANSMISSION LINES FROM THE LAGUNA VERDE NUCLEAR PLANT TO THE CITY OF PUEBLA HAVE BEEN STRUNG BUT THE FUEL RODS HAVE NOT BEEN LOADED INTO THE REACTOR YET. CFE EXPECTS TO GET A GREEN LIGHT IN EARLY FEBRUARY FROM THE MEXICAN NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION TO LOAD THE FUEL RODS.)

4. TOTAL ELECTRICITY SALES FOR 1988 ARE EXPECTED TO GROW 5 PERCENT TO 83,022 GIGAWATT HOURS. (THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE AMOUNT GENERATED AND THE AMOUNT SOLD IS DUE TO LOSS IN TRANSMISSION, THEFT AND CONSUMPTION BY CFE ITSELF.) CFE PLANS TO SELL 62,527 GWH, INCLUDING 2,000 GWH OF EXPORTS TO THE UNITED STATES. (CFE HAS CONTRACTED TO SELL 2,000 GWH OF ELECTRICITY PER YEAR FOR THE NEXT NINE YEARS FROM ITS CERRO PRIETO GEOTHERMAL PLANT, LOCATED NEAR MEXICALI, TO TWO CALIFORNIA UTILITIES.) CLFC, WHICH IS BEING ABSORBED BY CFE, PLANS TO SELL 20,495 GWH OF ELECTRICITY DURING 1988.

5. SINCE 1981 ELECTRICITY SALES HAVE GROWN BY AN AVERAGE OF 5.9 PERCENT YEAR, MOSTLY DUE TO AN INCREASE OF 600,000 NEW CUSTOMERS EACH YEAR. DURING THE SAME PERIOD PRODUCTION GREW BY ABOUT 5.4 PERCENT. NONETHELESS, CFE OFFICIALS CALCULATE THAT MEXICO STILL HAS ABOUT 11 PERCENT SPARE PRODUCTION CAPACITY. THEY PROJECT THAT CFE'S SPARE CAPACITY WILL SHRINK TO 4 PERCENT BY 1990 BECAUSE RELATIVELY SMALL AMOUNTS OF NEW GENERATING CAPACITY IS PROGRAMMED FOR INSTALLATION OVER THE NEXT TWO YEARS.

6. OTHER GOALS OF THE TWO MEXICAN ELECTRICITY COMPANIES FOR 1988 INCLUDE:

- INCREASING TRANSFORMER CAPACITY BY 4,026 MVA;

Chile: Monica Garcia, human rights lawyer

Amnesty International has received reports that Monica Garcia, the lawyer acting on behalf of actress Carla Cristi, has herself received a death threat. On 26 January she received a phone call at her home with the message that a bomb would be planted in her garden.

A recurso de protecction (petition to the courts requesting police protection) was presented to the Santiago Appeals Court (Corte de Apelaciones de Santiago) on 27 January.

Carla Cristi was granted police protection for 10 days on 27 January.

Further recommended action: telegrams/telexes/airmail letters:
Urging the courts to carry out a full investigation into the threats against Monica Garcia and Carla Cristi and asking that those responsible be brought to justice.

Dear Dick:

I thought that once the Ambassador was off and February a little closer that things would become quieter. As usual, such has not been the case.

CODEL Roe got off and the members seemed very happy with all that we did for them during their visit. They came, however, with the determination not to touch the political situation with the proverbial pole. [redacted]

B6

[redacted] The delegation did stimulate a lot of expectations about what the House Committee might do to increase scientific cooperation; I hope they follow through. The Ambassador and Perry will be following up with the Committee staff.

Reactions to your January 14 Letter:

Polls - You will have received at least two cables from us, reporting on the Gallup and CERC nationwide polls, and perhaps by the time you read this a third summarizing the results of polls covering Santiago and selected other cities by Diagnos, CED-SUR-Ilet, and FLACSO. I think it is important to focus on:

A. The populace of Santiago (and to a lesser extent of Concepción, Valparaiso and other large towns) is not representative of the country as a whole. The Santiago population, moreover, is not heavily registered to vote. There is much stronger support for Pinochet, and much less interest in the opposition -- partly out of opposition neglect -- in the hinterland. The opinions we have been hearing for years of very strong backing for the President in farming areas appear to be true. Farm-oriented folk are heavily registered. The fact that earlier polls relied almost exclusively on the views of Santiagobos misled many observers, including us.

B. Economic growth over the last few years has bolstered people's optimism, which helps Pinochet. Granted, workers' wages have not improved. But there are now hundreds of thousands of people with jobs who lacked them four years ago, and a family with only one wage earner before, or no wage earner at all, now with two or three bread winners has a significantly higher family income, which counts more than the earnings of the individual.

C. The government as such has much more support than does Pinochet personally. A major segment of the society (30-40 percent or more) is satisfied with the way things are going. Hence the GOC's clever media campaign which focuses on continuity of current policies and the framework. It soft-sells the theme of Pinochet himself, except to the extent that he is shown inaugurating the housing projects and so forth. The message is that the system needs to be preserved. And the companion message is that the alternative is a return to the UP. It should be no surprise that the government has much greater support among the rural poor, middle-aged, elderly and women, of whom the2nd and 3rd categories are much more heavily registered.

D. For a variety of reasons (GOC propaganda, bad memories, the opposition's own mistakes) the image of the opposition political parties is awful. An astonishing number of people, particularly in the provinces, think that "if the political parties return to power there will be chaos." Only 5 percent of the populace are in strong disagreement with this statement!! The "chaos" theme appears to have fertile ground in which to be nourished. As we have said before, the opposition has two formidable tasks: present a convincing image and get its supporters registered.

To sum up, yes, this is a real horse race and Pinochet could win a technically clean plebiscite. We cannot expect him to make many mistakes. It is really up to the opposition to successfully exploit its innate advantage, the fact that all polls show that a large majority of the people want a safe and orderly transition to stable and secure democratic rule under sound leadership.

Bear in mind also that only one trustworthy nationwide poll has been taken so far other than the dubious Gallup one, and that was

SECRET
UNCLASSIFIED

Carlos Huneeus' survey. That gave Pinochet 31 percent. While this substantiates all the points we've just made in the analysis above, it is a long way from predicting a Pinochet victory. In fact, as you've seen from [redacted] reports, Pinochet's advisers accept that figure as an accurate gauge of his strength and are profoundly depressed by it - and so, reportedly, is the General himself. The advisers, at least, are talking once again about other names the junta could designate.

B1

Cousiño on the Implications of a Pinochet Victory - This, of course, will be the subject of a post reporting plan think piece that we are scheduled to transmit in a couple of months, but here is a sneak preview of John's ideas. The possible scenarios will depend in part on the margin of victory in a clean plebiscite. (A stolen election is a different story).

If he wins big, say 60 percent or more of the valid votes cast, the huge majority of the population will accept it and Chile will enter a period of relative tranquility, dominated politically by the Congressional elections. All the legal political parties will participate in the election, including the PDC and the PPD (which by that time will include most of the Almeydistas even though the most conspicuous PS/A rascals will not be able to run for office. From behind the scenes they will share PPD power with Lagos, Nuñez and others). The FPMR will continue to be an irritant but will not grow much. The biggest issue could be an economic recession, when the political protagonists will be the trade unions again, as they were in 1982-83. The opposition would try to exploit the issue, and this time they may be more successful because they will have more tools to work with and may be less foolish than they were in 1983. Solid gains for popular participation could come out of that struggle. Of course, Cousiño is right that the presence of a Congress (and a more independent judiciary) will result in gradual chipping away of "protected democracy." Indeed, Chile might resemble Mexico in terms of restraint on the powers of the President by the mid-1990's - in this particular, very unlikely, scenario.

If Pinochet wins by a small margin, more people will believe the opposition's inevitable charges of fraud. (Those charges will fly regardless of the margin; the issue is whether anyone believes fraud made a difference.) More people inside and outside Chile will believe that Chile is ripe for popular rebellion. That mistaken conviction alone will lead to a host of trouble, probably something like the protests of 1983, plus the growth of the FPMR to several thousand members. Taken together these situations could pose a problem, not for government stability, but for the maintenance of civil liberties and control of human rights violations. A clamp-down would be inevitable, although Congressional elections will be held anyway to boast "legitimacy." There would be a revival of the "dirty war" that you are so familiar with from Argentina, and Chile's status as international pariah would be reinforced rather than diminished. this situation would continue until the discredit of the regime, primarily from economic problems, leads the military to negotiate with the centrist opposition, which will not wither despite dire (and I think simplistic) predictions to the contrary. The communist party will continue to be a great pariah and the armed forces as institutions will retain their relatively high prestige among the populace. The communist party's own stupidity in pursuing a strategy of violence and popular rebellion, and the strong moderate tendencies of the Chilean people, amply apparent in all the polls, virtually guarantee that the PDC and other moderate parties will continue to be the alternative to military tutelage, perhaps despite themselves. Nevertheless, the PDC would probably move considerably to the left and ally itself with the Socialists, so Chile would become polarized between conservatives and an opposition that is dominated by the democratic left. From that we could expect a change eventually to a government that is no less difficult for us than that of,say, Alan Garcia. By the way, we do not know which 1978 speech of Pinochet Cousiño has in mind but we will ask him when he returns.

Impact of Publicity about NED Funding - We have already reported our views on the impact. In sum, the publicity given to NED and other outside funding has fueled the government's arsenals with ammunition for its campaign to discredit the opposition. The Government has been using the argument of foreign dependence for years against the opposition. The publicity gave the GOC's propaganda greater credibility. But the opposition desperately needs the money and covert funding would have been worse, since it never remains covert .

Sergio Molina's Sidestep - Bob Gelbard's assessment that the opposition continues to lack a common purpose is accurate. More than that, we would say it remains incapable of reconciling its conflicting priorities. But we do not think Sergio's decision is a reflection of that. In our view he has a clear-headed strategy of creating a NAMFREL-like organization that hopefully will have credibility outside and inside Chile when it issues judgments on the fairness and honesty of the electoral process. Molina probably also had in the back of his mind the idea of preserving for himself the possibility of being a compromise choice for the Presidency if the "no" vote wins and the military are looking around for a moderate, prestigious opposition leader. Our guess is that the publicity surrounding Molina's foreign funding may have killed his chances, but memories are short and so many people have made comebacks in politics it is hard to be certain.

Gershman Visit - We too were pleased with Lucia Santa Cruz' interview of Carl and believe that it was very helpful in taking some of the heat out of the attack on the NED. At the same time it's clear that the government will continue to beat the nationalistic drums against foreign intervention, and to good effect. The question is will it affect the results of the plebiscite? The democratic opposition is very clear in its analysis. They're going to be accused of being tools of foreigners anyway so why not have the benefit of the money. And, more importantly, without the funding they can't win so there's nothing to be lost. That same analysis does not apply, however, to elements of the democratic right, such as the think-tanks, who have other sources of money that might be in jeopardy. As Carl found out from his visit, they still want the funds, but intend to proceed cautiously. Please keep us closely advised of progress on the AID grant to CAPEL.

KR

Letelier Case - I'm glad you called L to task for not giving us more early warning on the fact that the letters were going public. I was puzzled by your question as to the use we made of the Department's talking points - we never got any. I said very little to Bustos when I delivered the letters - just that we trusted they would get an expeditious transmittal to the Supreme Court and full cooperation in obtaining the answers. He was non-committal, holding them at arm's length. Please keep us posted on the espousal issue.

By the way, Harry asked Retamal when he saw him January 21 what is the ordinary course of events for an "exhorto." He said that it goes from the Foreign Ministry to the Supreme Court, whose fiscal dispatches it to the appropriate lower court to carry out the requested action. Harry asked if there were to be a long delay in responding to the lower court's request to the person concerned, could the Supreme Court's fiscal follow up. The reply was that he could.

Sec. 557 - We particularly appreciated receiving the text of Sec. 557 of the Continuing Resolution, "United States Policy Toware Chile." USIS has distributed it in English and Spanish as part of its "Texto Oficial" series. I assume - without actually going back and comparing language - that this is essentially the Bereuter resolution, the hortatory version without sanctions. What have you heard about his intentions, or lack thereof, to push the sanctions version this year?

N/R

NR

More on the Polls - We read with interest State 26937 on Peter's conversations with Gallup. Rich Jarvis immediately called Ashton and requested an appointment. Ashton replied that he had written the Ambassador a letter that he would like us to read first, and asked Rich to call back next week. Ashton's statement to Webb that those who are undecided mostly belong in the "no" column and his attempt to shift all the blame for misrepresentation to the GOC contrast with what we are seeing here. As you will note from the enclosed press release by Gallup Chile, the presentation of the results regarding preferences for the plebiscite is grossly misleading (see paragraph in the box). You might want to share the release with Gallup New Jersey.

MEMORANDUM FOR: The President

FROM: George P. Shultz

SUBJECT: Your meeting with Mexican President de la Madrid, February 13, 1988

I. WHERE DOES OUR RELATIONSHIP STAND?

- Significant advances on many issues since you last met in August 1986: Framework Agreement on Trade and Investment; Mutual Legal Assistance Treaty; Mexican GATT accession; progress on border, migration, and a number of trade matters. Nearing new accords on aviation, search and rescue, and telecommunications.

- De la Madrid has adopted economic reforms and followed responsible foreign debt policies, with US support. Accumulated foreign exchange reserves now $15 billion, part of which to be used to buy US zero-coupon bonds as collateral for Mexican bonds-for-debt swap proposal.

- Domestic costs for Mexico remain high: continued austerity, rampant inflation (nearly 160 percent) political unpopularity for de la Madrid and his party's presidential candidate, Carlos Salinas de Gortari. Although certain to win election, Salinas will face continued economic crisis and political problems.

- Economic cooperation has improved our political relationship, but problems remain, some serious:

  --Anger in law enforcement community and Congress at perceived foot-dragging, corruption, creating pressures to deny Mexico certification under recent narcotics legislation. Would severely damage relationship and narcotics effort itself. (Mexicans believe criticisms unjustified; cite Mexican casualties, resources allocated to drug war, US failure to attack demand.)

  --Differences continue over Central America.

  --Internal pressures to open Mexico's political system growing during election campaign. Next six-year term may be crucial in this regard. Some evolution underway. Salinas making encouraging statements.

II. WHAT DO WE WANT?

- Recognition that cooperation, dialogue and accomplishments under your and de la Madrid's Administrations benefit both countries; must continue.
- Favorable tone and course for relationship under the next US and Mexican administrations.
- Impetus to discussions underway on trade et al.
- De la Madrid's commitment to specific, rapid, and visible actions on narcotics.
- Continuation of de la Madrid's politically courageous policies aimed at modernizing Mexico's economy.
- A more balanced Mexican approach on Central America.
- Continued refusal to allow expanded Soviet presence.

III. WHAT DOES DE LA MADRID WANT?

- Visible evidence that his policy of closer cooperation with the US pays off for Mexico, while preserving Mexican independence.
- Strong expression of US support for the difficult economic reforms he is imposing on Mexico.
- Improving access to US markets for Mexican exports.
- US recognition that Mexican anti-narcotics effort has in fact been substantial.
- Easing of US pressures and criticisms over Central America and UN/OAS voting.

IV. WHAT CAN BE ACHIEVED FROM THIS VISIT?

- Public recognition that you and de la Madrid have accomplished much and put US/Mexico relations on a new course that can be followed by your successors.
- Strengthening of Mexican commitment to domestic economic reform, responsible debt policies.
- Realization by de la Madrid that stronger action in specific anti-narcotics areas is essential.
- Perhaps some softening of Mexico's support for Sandinistas; continued resistance to expanded Soviet presence.

SUBJECT: TRAVEL ADVISORY - CHILE CAUTION

1. THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE ADVISES U.S. CITIZENS TRAVELING TO CHILE THAT TRAVEL IS ESSENTIALLY NORMAL FROM A SECURITY STANDPOINT; HOWEVER, A STATE OF EMERGENCY GRANTING BROAD POWERS TO THE CHILEAN POLICE AND MILITARY IS IN EFFECT THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY. BUSINESS, INDUSTRY, TOURIST AND TRAVEL FACILITIES CONTINUE TO OPERATE NORMALLY, AND MOST VISITORS ENCOUNTER LITTLE DIFFICULTY. IF U.S. CITIZENS ARE ORDERED TO STOP BY CHILEAN AUTHORITIES, THEY SHOULD DO SO IMMEDIATELY AND IDENTIFY THEMSELVES WITH A PASSPORT OR TOURIST CARD. BOMBINGS AND OTHER TERRORIST ACTIVITIES, AS WELL AS ANTI-GOVERNMENT DEMONSTRATIONS OCCUR SPORADICALLY IN THE MAJOR CITIES. FOR LOCAL SECURITY REASONS, DO NOT TAKE PHOTOGRAPHS OF DEMONSTRATIONS OR OF MILITARY AND POLICE BUILDINGS OR INSTALLATIONS.

2. VISITORS ARE URGED TO REGISTER WITH THE U.S. EMBASSY UPON ARRIVAL IN SANTIAGO, ESPECIALLY IF THEY PLAN AN EXTENDED STAY IN THE CHILE. FOR FURTHER INFORMATION,

2. IN RECENT CONVERSATIONS WITH MOFA FIRST LATIN AMERICA AND CARIBBEAN DIVISION DEPUTY DIRECTOR SATOH WE HAVE EMPHASIZED, IN RESPONSE TO REFTEL INSTRUCTIONS, THE NEED FOR COORDINATION BETWEEN OUR GOVERNMENTS IN SUPPORTING DEMOCRACY IN CHILE. WE HAVE ALSO BRIEFED SATOH ON THE STEPS THE USG HAS TAKEN AND WILL TAKE TO PROMOTE CHILEAN DEMOCRACY, AND REQUESTED FROM HIM AN OVERVIEW OF JAPANESE GOVERNMENTAL AND PRIVATE SUPPORT, PARTICULARLY FINANCIAL, FOR CHILEAN DEMOCRACY.

3. SATOH RESPONDED THAT THE GOJ FULLY ENDORSED THE GOAL OF DEMOCRACY IN CHILE AND THROUGHOUT LATIN AMERICA, BUT HAD A DIFFERENT PERSPECTIVE THAN OURS ON THE BEST MEANS TO THIS END. THE GOJ'S EMPHASIS HAS BEEN AND WILL CONTINUE TO BE ON PROMOTING ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT, SATOH SAID. WHILE DEVELOPMENT MAY NOT BE ABSOLUTELY NECESSARY FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A MORE DEMOCRATIC POLITY, IT IS ESSENTIAL FOR SUCH A SYSTEM TO FLOURISH, AND IN THIS SENSE, SATOH REASONED, THE GOJ, BY PROMOTING DEVELOPMENT, IS SUPPORTING DEMOCRACY.

4. WE AGREED WITH SATOH'S LINKING OF DEMOCRACY AND DEVELOPMENT, BUT NOTED THAT FAILURE TO SUPPORT DEMOCRACY COULD UNDERMINE DEVELOPMENT JUST AS SURELY AS INATTENTION TO DEVELO11FNT COULD WEAKEN DEMOCRACY. IN THIS CONTEXT, WE ASKED IF THE GOJ OR ANY PRIVATE JAPANESE GROUPS WERE PROVIDING FUNDS TO DEMOCRATIC, NON-GOVERNMENTAL ELEMENTS IN CHILE. SATOH RESPONDED THAT THE GOJ WAS NOT PROVIDING SUCH FUNDS, NOR, TO THE BEST OF HIS KNOWLEDGE, WERE ANY JAPANESE POLITICAL PARTIES, FOUNDATIONS, OR OTHER ORGANIZATIONS.

SUBJECT: 44TH SESSION OF UN HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION: VOLIO VIEWS CHILEAN SITUATION

REF: SANTIAGO 539 (NOTAL)

1. (CONFIDENTIAL - ENTIRE TEXT.)

2. THIS IS HRC 004.

3. SUMMARY: IN JANUARY 28 MEETING WITH MISSION POLITICAL COUNSELOR, UN SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR ON CHILE FERNANDO VOLIO (COSTA RICA) EXPRESSED GRATITUDE FOR USG SUPPORT AS EXPRESSED BY A/S SCHIFTER, STATED THAT MUCH PROGRESS HAD BEEN MADE IN CHILE, REGRETTED THAT

COMMISSION RESOLUTIONS ON SPECIFIC COUNTRIES RARELY REFLECTED THE RAPPORTEURS' SUBMISSIONS, AND SAID HE WOULD TRY TO HAVE COSTA RICA AND/OR COLOMBIA INTRODUCE IN THE COMMISSION A MOTION TO SUPPRESS ITEM 5, WHICH MENTIONS ONLY CHILE. NEITHER COUNTRY (NOR PAKISTAN) TOOK THIS STEP WHEN THE SESSION CONVENED ON FEBRUARY 1. END SUMMARY

4. VOLIO, IN TOWN TO PUT THE FINAL TOUCHES ON HIS REPORT, ASKED POLCOUNS TO SEE HIM AT THE PALAIS LATE JANUARY 28. VOLIO, JOINED BY HUMAN RIGHTS CENTER STAFFER CARLOS VILLAN DURAN (SPAIN), ASKED WHY AMBASSADOR HINTON HAD WISHED TO SEE HIM, AND WAS TOLD IT CONCERNED HIS (VOLIO'S) TRAVEL PLANS.

5. VOLIO THEN RECOUNTED THAT A/S SCHIFTER HAD WRITTEN HIM TO EXPRESS USG APPRECIATION FOR HIS DEDICATED WORK AS SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR, FOR WHICH VOLIO WAS VOLUBLY GRATEFUL. NONETHELESS, HE REGRETTED THAT COMMISSION MEMBERS DID NOT SUSTAIN RAPPORTEURS SUCH AS HIMSELF. THE MEMBERS PAID LITTLE ATTENTION TO THEIR REPORTS AND PRESENTED RESOLUTIONS TO ADVANCE POLITICAL OBJECTIVES. HE CITED MEXICO AS PARTICULARLY CULPABLE VIS-A-VIS CHILE.

6. VOLIO STATED FIRMLY THAT HE HAD BEEN WELL AND WIDELY RECEIVED DURING HIS LAST VISIT TO CHILE. VOLIO BELIEVED THAT THERE HAD BEEN MAJOR IMPROVEMENTS IN HUMAN RIGHTS OBSERVANCE AND SPOKE APPROVINGLY OF THE REFERENDUM. HE AVERRED THAT SPECIAL RAPPORTEURS' REPORTS SHOULD REFLECT SUCH IMPROVEMENTS, AND NOT MERELY POINT OUT GOVERNMENTS' LAPSES. SO SHOULD RESOLUTIONS.

7. VOLIO WAS DISTRESSED THAT THE US DELEGATION

APPARENTLY WOULD NOT MOVE TO SUPPRESS THE AGENDA ITEM ON CHILE. HE STATED THAT THE "DISCRIMINATION" IMPLIED WAS DEEPLY RESENTED IN CHILE. THE RETENTION OF ITEM 5 STRENGTHENED THE HAND OF THE "DUROS" (HARD-LINERS) IN CHILE WHO ARGUED AGAINST CONTINUED COOPERATION WITH THE UN AND ITS SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR. HE STATED THAT HE WOULD DISCUSS WITH COSTA RICAN PERMREP OBREGON AND COLOMBIAN PERMREP CHARRY WHETHER THEIR DELEGATIONS MIGHT MOVE TO SUPPRESS ITEM 5.

8. POLCOUNS RESPONDED THAT US REPRESENTATIVE VALLADARES, IN HIS GENEVA MEETINGS, HAD STATED THAT THE US WOULD NOT THIS YEAR SEEK THE SUPPRESSION OF ITEM 5. WERE ANOTHER DELEGATION TO SO MOVE, THE US DELEGATION WOULD SUPPORT IT. THE US DELEGATION WOULD INSIST THAT ITEMS 5 AND 12 (VIOLATIONS IN ANY PART OF THE WORLD) BE DEBATED SIMULTANEOUSLY, AS LAST YEAR.

9. SEPARATELY, ON JANUARY 29, POLCOUNS CONTACTED COLOMBIAN MISSION FIRST SECRETARY LUIS LUNA, WHO HAD NOT HEARD THAT COLOMBIA WOULD SEEK SUPPRESSION OF ITEM 5. THE COSTA RICAN PERMREP DID NOT MENTION THAT POSSIBILITY TO VALLADARES IN THEIR JANUARY 22 MEETING (SEPTEL/NOTAL). HAVING HEARD FROM VILLAN AND OTHER SOURCES THAT PAKISTAN MIGHT DO SO, POLCOUNS SOUGHT AND RECEIVED ON JANUARY 29 A CATEGORICAL DENIAL FROM PAKISTAN MISSION CHARGE ASIF EZDI.

10. COMMISSION PLENARY APPROVED AGENDA BY CONSENSUS AT INAUGURAL MEETING ON FEBRUARY 1. COMMISSION BUREAU MET THAT AFTERNOON TO APPROVE PLAN FOR ORGANIZATION OF WORK SUBMITTED BY SECRETARIAT. THAT PLAN SHOWS DEBATE ON

2. THIS IS HRC-003.

3. AT THE REQUEST OF THE CHILEAN SPECIAL REPRESENTATIVE FOR HUMAN RIGHTS AFFAIRS, AMBASSADOR MARIO CALDERON, US REPRESENTATIVE TO THE COMMISSION ARMANDO VALLADARES MET WITH HIM FOR HALF AN HOUR ON FEBRUARY 1. MISSION POLITICAL COUNSELOR AND CHILEAN MISSION FIRST SECRETARY RICARDO SATELER SAT IN.

CONFIDENTIAL
UNCLASSIFIED

ARGUED THAT RETENTION OF THIS "PROCEDURAL" POINT WAS RESENTED IN CHILE AS EVIDENCE OF "DISCRIMINATION" AGAINST COUNTRY. THREE YEARS AGO, WHEN CHILE HAD AGREED TO COOPERATE WITH SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR FERNANDO VOLIO (COSTA RICA), CHILE HAD SIMULTANEOUSLY SOUGHT THE SUPPRESSION OF ITEM 5. CALDERON EXPRESSED THE FEAR THAT ITS RETENTION WOULD STRENGTHEN THE HAND OF THOSE IN CHILE OPPOSED TO FURTHER COOPERATION WITH THE UN. HE NOTED THAT VOLIO WAS OPPOSED TO THE RETENTION OF THE SEPARATE ITEM.

5. VALLADARES REPLIED THAT THE U.S. DECISION NOT TO RAISE THIS QUESTION THIS YEAR DID NOT MEAN THAT HIS DELEGATION WOULD NOT SUPPORT AN INITIATIVE BY ANOTHER DELEGATION TO DO SO. CALDERON COMMENTED THAT THERE WERE SEVERAL DELEGATIONS WHICH WOULD SUPPORT A U.S. DELEGATION MOVE TO SUPPRESS ITEM 5, BUT, LIKE THE U.S., NONE WOULD TAKE THE INITIATIVE.

6. CALDERON STATED THAT THE TENDENCY OF SOME DELEGATIONS TO PRESENT RESOLUTIONS WITHOUT REFERENCE TO THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR'S REPORT -- INDEED, IN SOME CASES, BEFORE THE REPORT HAD BEEN PRESENTED -- DISCREDITED BOTH THE UN HUMAN RIGHTS MACHINERY AND THOSE OFFICIALS IN COUNTRIES LIKE CHILE WHO STILL TOOK A COOPERATIVE STANCE TOWARD THE UN. VALLADARES STATED THAT THE U.S. HAD GREAT RESPECT FOR VOLIO, EXPRESSED PARTICULARLY BY A/S SCHIFTER. THE U.S. HOPED THAT THE RESOLUTION ON CHILE WOULD REFLECT THE PRESENT SITUATION IN ALL ITS ASPECTS. CALDERON COMMENTED THAT VOLIO HAD CHARACTERIZED HIS DRAFT REPORT TO HIM AS "FAVORABLE" TO THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT.

CONFIDENTIAL

7. SEPARATELY, MEXICAN DELEGATION MEMBER VICENTE MONTEMAYOR CANTU ASKED WHETHER THE U.S. DELEGATION WOULD SUPPORT A POSSIBLE MEXICAN INITIATIVE TO ENSURE THAT ITEMS 5 AND 12 (VIOLATIONS IN ANY COUNTRY) BE DEBATED SIMULTANEOUSLY. MISSION POLCOUNS STATED THAT U.S. WAS FIRST COMMITTED TO SUPPORT ANY INITIATIVE TO SUPPRESS ITEM 5, AND ASKED WHETHER ANY COUNTRY WOULD SO MOVE.

MONTEMAYOR RESPONDED THAT NEITHER COSTA RICA NOR COLOMBIA, THE TWO MOST LIKELY CANDIDATES, HAD RAISED THAT POSSIBILITY IN THE GRULA MEETING EARLY FEBRUARY 1. NONETHELESS, HE CAUTIONED, THE COMMISSION WAS "UNPREDICTABLE." SUCH A MOVE WOULD TOUCH OFF A LENGTHY DEBATE WHICH WOULD STALL THE COMMISSION ON A PROCEDURAL ISSUE. IN THAT CASE, MEXICO WOULD CONSIDER MOVING TO ENSURE "CLUSTERING" DEBATE ON ITEMS 5 AND 12, AS HAPPENED LAST YEAR. POLCOUNS TOLD HIM THAT U.S. POSITION REGARDING SUCH AN APPARENTLY IMPROBABLE, EVEN HYPOTHETICAL, DEVELOPMENT WOULD BE DETERMINED ONLY WHEN IT TOOK PLACE.

8. SUBSEQUENT TO DRAFTING OF THIS CABLE, OPENING SESSION OF UNHRC APPROVED AGENDA AS INTRODUCED. NO ONE RAISED QUESTION OF ITEM 5. PETRONE

1. [redacted] - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: AS INSTRUCTED, POST MADE DEMARCHE ON ENCOURAGING THE EXTREME LEFT IN EL SALVADOR TO RENOUNCE VIOLENCE AND PARTICIPATE IN ELECTIONS. AN ADVISER TO THE FRENCH SOCIALIST PARTY (PS) INDICATED TO US THAT THE PS ALREADY HAS URGED THE DEMOCRATIC REVOLUTIONARY FRONT (FDR) TO ENGAGE IN THE POLITICAL PROCESS. HOWEVER, SHE ARGUED THAT THE SALVADORAN OPPOSITION SHOULD NOT BE REQUIRED TO LAY DOWN ARMS BEFORE PARTICIPATING IN POLITICS. AN MFA OFFICIAL AGREED WITH OUR PRESENTATION BUT - IN LINE WITH THE GOF'S NORMAL RELUCTANCE TO GET INVOLVED IN CENTRAL AMERICAN CONTROVERSIES - DID NOT/NOT OFFER TO TAKE ANY ACTION. END SUMMARY.

REVOLUTIONARY DEMOCRATIC FRONT (FDR) AND ITS COMPONENT GROUPS, URGE THEIR PARTICIPATION IN THE DEMOCRATIC PROCESS IN EL SALVADOR AS THE BEST WAY TO ACHIEVE THE "POLITICAL SOLUTION" THEY ARE CALLING FOR.

4. DUFLO REPLIED THAT THE PS HAS ALREADY ENCOURAGED THESE GROUPS TO ENGAGE IN DEMOCRATIC POLITICS. SHE INDICATED THAT "THIS WEEK" FDR LEADERS RUBEN ZAMORA AND HECTOR OQUELI WERE RETURNING TO EL SALVADOR FOR THE SECOND TIME SINCE LAST NOVEMBER. THIS TIME THEY WERE NOT/NOT ACCOMPANIED BY THE GROUP OF INTERNATIONALLY PROMINENT OBSERVERS THAT HAD BEEN PRESENT ON THE PREVIOUS OCCASION AND CONSEQUENTLY WOULD RUN A SIGNIFICANT RISK OF BEING TARGETED BY TERRORISTS. ASIDE FROM THIS PROBLEM, THE FDR LEADERS ARE UNDECIDED ABOUT RUNNING CANDIDATES IN THE LEGISLATIVE AND MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS IN MARCH BECAUSE THERE MAY BE INSUFFICIENT TIME TO ORGANIZE AN EFFECTIVE CAMPAIGN.

DUARTE HAS PERSEVERED IN BRINGING EL SALVADOR INTO COMPLIANCE WITH THE ESQUIPULAS II PEACE PLAN. LEFTIST POLITICIANS SHOULD JOIN THE FUNCTIONING DEMOCRATIC PROCESS THERE AND DISSOCIATE THEMSELVES FROM ARMED EFFORTS TO DISRUPT IT.

6. DISAGREEING, DUFLO COMMENTED THAT THE GOVERNMENT OF EL SALVADOR IS NOT/NOT DEMOCRATIC. PRESIDENT DUARTE IS AS BEHOLDEN TO THE MILITARY ESTABLISHMENT AS THE FDR IS LINKED TO THE FARABUNDO MARTI NATIONAL LIBERATION FRONT (FMLN). UNDER THESE CIRCUMSTANCES, NEGOTIATIONS BETWEEN THE GOVERNMENT AND THE REBELS SHOULD DEAL SIMULTANEOUSLY WITH A CEASE-FIRE AND POLITICAL CONDITIONS, JUST AS THE U.S.-BACKED INSURGENTS IN NICARAGUA HAVE DEMANDED. THE SALVADORAN OPPOSITION SHOULD NOT/NOT BE REQUIRED TO LAY DOWN ARMS AS A PREREQUISITE TO POLITICAL TALKS OR PARTICIPATION.

7. DEMARCHE TO FOREIGN MINISTRY

ON JANUARY 8 EMBOFF MADE SIMILAR DEMARCHE TO MFA SUB-DIRECTOR FOR MEXICO, CENTRAL AMERICA, AND THE CARIBBEAN ALAIN LE GOURRIEREC AND PRESENTED TALKING POINTS, PER INSTRUCTIONS IN REFTEL A. LE GOURRIEREC THANKED EMBOFF FOR INFORMATION AND SAID THAT THE MFA'S

SUBJECT: EL SALVADOR: DEMARCHE ON FDR PARTICIPATION

THE PS IS THE MOST IMPORTANT FRENCH POLITICAL GROUP THAT HAS CONTACT WITH THE FDR, BILATERALLY AND VIA THE SOCIALIST INTERNATIONAL (SI). HIGHER OFFICIALS IN THE PS (WITH LESS EXTREME VIEWS THAN DUFLO'S) PROBABLY HAVE ENCOURAGED THE FDR TO MOVE TOWARD POLITICAL PARTICIPATION, AS DUFLO INDICATED. THEY MAY ALSO HAVE URGED THE FDR TO DISTANCE ITSELF FROM THE FMLN, DESPITE HER RESERVATIONS ON THIS.

2. LE GOURRIEREC'S RESPONSE TO OUR DEMARCHE WAS PREDICTABLE, SINCE THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT RARELY CRITICIZES USG POLICIES ON CENTRAL AMERICA. HOWEVER, GIVEN THE GOF'S LOW INTEREST IN THE REGION AND PREFERENCE FOR NONINVOLVEMENT IN POLITICAL CONTROVERSIES THERE, NO OFFICIAL FRENCH ACTION CAN BE EXPECTED TO RESULT FROM THE DEMARCHE. RODGERS

TAGS: PHUM, PGOV, CI
SUBJECT: THREE MORE BOMBING DEATHS INCREASE CONCERNS OVER EXTREMIST VIOLENCE

REF: (A) SANTIAGO 512

1. CONFIDENTIAL - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. A BOMB EXPLOSION LATE JANUARY 31 IN A PUBLIC HOUSING PROJECT APARTMENT IN ONE OF SANTIAGO'S POOR NEIGHBORHOODS CAUSED THREE DEATHS, PERHAPS ONE INJURY, AND CONSIDERABLE SPECULATION AS TO WHO OR WHAT CAUSED THE EXPLOSION. INITIAL PRESS REPORTS STATED THAT THREE YOUNG MEN WERE KILLED WHEN A BOMB THEY WERE PREPARING PREMATURELY EXPLODED, DESTROYING THE APARTMENT AND SERIOUSLY DAMAGING OTHER PARTS OF THE BUILDING. A FOURTH PERSON REPORTEDLY WAS INJURED, BASED ON BLOOD TRAILS, BUT MANAGED TO FLEE THE SCENE. ACCORDING TO THE PRESS, THE MEN WERE PART OF A MANUEL RODRIGUEZ PATRIOTIC FRONT (FPMR) CELL ASSIGNED TO SET OFF A SERIES OF BOMBS THAT EVENING IN AN OPERATION LABELED "OPERATION SHINING". THERE WERE ALSO REPORTS THAT WEAPONS AND FPMR AND M-R PROPAGANDA MATERIAL WERE FOUND IN THE BOMBED-OUT APARTMENT.

3. THE PRESS PUBLISHED THE NAMES OF THE THREE WHO WERE KILLED, LISTING THEM AS THE SON OF THE APARTMENT OWNER, A SANTIAGO UNIVERSITY STUDENT LEADER, AND A THIRD YOUTH. ON FEBRUARY 2, HOWEVER, THE INVESTIGATIONS POLICE ANNOUNCED THAT THE DEAD PERSONS HAD BEEN IDENTIFIED THROUGH FINGERPRINT ANALYSIS TO BE THREE OTHER YOUNG MEN. THE STUDENT LEADER AND THE APARTMENT OWNER'S SON WERE BEING SOUGHT BY THE POLICE AS THOSE WHO FLED THE APARTMENT COMPLEX AFTER THE EXPLOSION. ONE OF THE THREE DEAD YOUTHS WAS REPORTEDLY ACTIVE IN OPPOSITION EFFORTS BUT THE OTHER TWO, INCLUDING A UNIVERSITY OF CHILE STUDENT, HAD NO RECORD OF SUCH INVOLVEMENT.

4. OPPOSITION NEWSPAPERS REPORT THE FRENTE NACIONALISTA DE COMBATE (NATIONALIST COMBAT FRONT - FNC) CALLED RADIO SANTIAGO FEBRUARY 1 TO CLAIM CREDIT FOR THESE DEATHS. AN FNC SPOKESMAN REPORTEDLY SAID THE THREE WERE KILLED AS AN ACT OF VENGENCE FOR THE BOMBING DEATH ON JANUARY 26 OF A CARABINERO SPECIAL FORCES OFFICER (REFTEL). FURTHER, THE FNC CLAIMED THAT IT WILL KILL THREE EXTREMISTS FOR EVERY MILITARY PERSON MURDERED BY TERRORISTS. THE OTHER

SANTIA 00723 00 OF 02 060352Z 6600 ARA5306
NEWSPAPERS MADE NO MENTION OF THE FNC CLAIM.

5. GROUPS OF STUDENTS AT THE UNIVERSITY OF CHILE STAGED PROTESTS FEBRUARY 2 AFTER LEARNING OF THE DEATH OF THE 18 YEAR OLD ENGINEERING STUDENT. THEY CALLED ON THE GOC TO APPOINT A SPECIAL JUDGE TO INVESTIGATE THESE DEATHS.

6. COMMENT: THESE THREE DEATHS BRING THE POLITICALLY MOTIVATED DEATH TOTAL FOR JANUARY TO 5, A SHARP INCREASE OVER THE PREVIOUS JANUARY TOTAL. THESE DEATHS ALSO PROMPTED CONCERN OVER WHICH GROUPS MAY BE BEHIND THE SUDDEN INCREASE IN BOMBINGS AIMED AT CAUSING PERSONAL INJURIES. THE FNC, FIRST SURFACED IN EARLY 1987 WHEN IT WAS LINKED TO THE DECEMBER 31, 1986, RAID ON THE INTERGOVERNMENTAL COMMITTEE FOR MIGRATION (ICM) OFFICES. ALTHOUGH THE GOC CREDITED THIS RAID TO LEFT-WING TERRORISTS, THE FNC IS MORE LIKELY A RIGHT-WING GROUP. DURING 1987 IT WAS INVOLVED BY NAME IN A NUMBER OF THREATS AND INTIMIDATION ATTEMPTS AGAINST GROUPS OR INDIVIDUALS WHO OPPOSE THE CURRENT GOVERNMENT. THE REPORTS THAT IT NOW CLAIMS RESPONSIBILITY FOR THESE LATEST DEATHS MAY SIMPLY BE THE RESULT OF CRANK CALLS DESIGNED TO CONFUSE THE ISSUE, PARTICULARLY SINCE THIS GROUP HAS NOT BEEN LINKED IN THE PAST TO ACTS OF VIOLENCE. THE POSSIBILITY THAT THE THREE MAY HAVE BEEN KILLED AS AN ACT OF REVENGE TO THE DEATH OF THE CARABINERO MAJOR CANNOT BE DISMISSED, HOWEVER, SINCE RIGHT-WING EXTREMIST GROUPS HAVE PREVIOUSLY STATED THEIR WILLINGNESS TO EXTRACT IMMEDIATE JUSTICE FOR TERRORIST KILLINGS OF SECURITY FORCE MEMBERS. WHILE THE THREE MAY HAVE BEEN KILLED THROUGH CARELESSNESS IN HANDLING EXPLOSIVE MATERIALS, MEMBERS OF THE SECURITY FORCES WERE PUBLICLY IMPLICATED IN PAST BOMBING INCIDENTS, WHICH CAUSES A DEGREE OF PUBLIC SKEPTICISM TO ARISE AS TO WHO MIGHT BE RESPONSIBLE FOR THIS LATEST OCCURRENCE.

7. A NUMBER OF QUESTIONS REMAIN TO BE ANSWERED ABOUT THIS BOMBING, PARTICULARLY AS TO THE INITIAL CONFUSION OVER THE IDENTITY OF THE VICTIMS AND A REPORT THAT MEMBERS OF THE SECURITY FORCES MAY HAVE BEEN IN THE APARTMENT BEFORE THE EXPLOSION. THE DESIGNATION BY THE GOC OF A SPECIAL INVESTIGATION INTO THIS MATTER SHOULD QUIET SPECULATIONS ABOUT WHO MIGHT BE RESPONSIBLE, AND DAMPEN PUBLIC CONCERNS OVER THE APPARENT INCREASED USE BY EXTREMISTS OF BOMBS TO INTIMIDATE.

2. CHARGE CALLED JANUARY 26 ON JAPANESE DCM TETSUO HANAW FOR ONE OF OUR PERIODIC BILATERAL REVIEWS OF CHILEAN POLITICAL SITUATION. ALTHOUGH NEITHER HAD ANY DETAILED READOUT ON USG-GOJ BILATERALS ON LATIN AMERICA IN HONOLULU, HANAWA SAID U.S. SIDE HAD EXPRESSED "DISQUIET" OVER PROSPECTS FOR INSTABILITY IN CHILE. ASKED WHETHER JAPAN SHARED THIS DISQUIET, HANAWA REPLIED, "IT IS DIFFICULT FOR US TO KNOW." HANAWA SAID, HOWEVER, THAT HE HAD CONCLUDED THAT THE MILITARY JUNTA, DESPITE ITS EARLIER HESITANCY, HAD NOW DECIDED IT HAD NO ALTERNATIVE BUT TO NAME PRESIDENT PINOCHET AS THE SOLE CANDIDATE IN THE FORTHCOMING PLEBISCITE, WHICH HANAWA SAID WAS, OF COURSE, FAR FROM A DEMOCRATIC PROCEDURE. HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS CONTINUED TO BE SERIOUS, AND IN GENERAL THE SITUATION WAS NOT ENCOURAGING. THE U.S. STATEMENTS URGING DEMOCRACY AND GREATER RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS

HAD NOT HAD THE DESIRED EFFECT. GIVEN ALL THIS, JAPAN'S POLICY WAS TO BE "VERY CAUTIONS."

3. COMMENT. HANAWA SHARES THE AMERICAN DISTASTE FOR AUTHORITARIAN GOVERNMENT, AND IN THAT RESPECT WOULD DISAGREE WITH NARITA (REF A). HE IS WELL AWARE, HOWEVER, THAT HIS GOVERNMENT'S POLICY IS NOT TO GET INVOLVED. SUBJECT: SANDINISTA GOVERNMENT SUPPORT TO FMLN

1. FOLLOWING IS AN INFORMAL EMBASSY TRANSLATION OF A DOCUMENT SUBMITTED BY SALVADORAN FONMIN ACEVEDO TO THE INTERNATIONAL VERIFICATION AND FOLLOW-UP COMMISSION (CIVS) ON JANUARY 9 LISTING EXAMPLES OF NICARAGUAN SUPPORT FOR THE FMLN IN VIOLATION OF THE ESQUIPULAS II ACCORDS.

2. (BEGIN TRANSLATION)

TO THE SECRETARY GENERAL OF THE UNITED NATIONS: I HAVE THE PLEASURE TO ADDRESS YOUR EXCELLENCY IN YOUR CAPACITY OF SECRETARY PRO-TEMPORE OF THE INTERNATIONAL VERIFICATION AND FOLLOW-UP COMMISSION, AND USE THE OCCASION TO REQUEST THAT THE AD-HOC GROUP DURING ITS VISIT TO NICARAGUA ON JANUARY 5 AND 6, CONDUCT AN INSPECTION OF THE FOLLOWING SUPPORT ACTIVITIES BY THE SANDINISTA GOVERNMENT TO THE FMLN (FARABUNDO MARTI NATIONAL LIBERATION FRONT) FROM AND WITHIN THE TERRITORY OF THAT COUNTRY:

I.- TRAINING CENTERS

- 1) THE TRAINING CENTER FOR FMLN COMMANDERS IS LOCATED IN THE HEADQUARTERS OF THE FSLN MERCENARIES BATTALION 30-11, WHOSE INSTRUCTORS ARE SOVIET CITIZENS.

- BESIDES, THE FMLN HAS A SURVIVAL SCHOOL CALLED "CARLOS ARGUERO" ON NICARAGUAN TERRITORY.

- 2) ALSO, FMLN MEMBERS RECEIVE MILITARY TRAINING IN THE HEADQUARTERS OF THE "SANDINISTA POPULAR MILITIA" (MPS).

II.- BASES (WAREHOUSES FOR ARMS, TRAINING, AMMUNITION, EQUIPMENT, AND OTHER SUPPLIES)

- 1) THE FMLN HAS A LOGISTIC BASE LOCATED IN EL REALEJO, PASO ESTERO CABALLO, COSIGUINA PENINSULA, NICARAGUA.

- 2) SINCE LAST JUNE, THE FMLN HAS HAD TWO AIRCRAFT STATIONED IN NICARAGUA THAT ARE USED IN THEIR OPERATIONS AND ARE ABLE TO REACT IMMEDIATELY TO FMLN HIGH COMMAND ORDERS TO PROVIDE AIR SUPPORT.

- 3) THE SANDINISTA REGIME RECEIVES FMLN MEMBERS AS COLLEAGUES, SERVING AS A LIAISON ENABLING THEM TO TRAVEL TO OTHER COUNTRIES.

- IN JUNE 1987, SIX FARN MEMBERS ENDED A POLITICAL-MILITARY TRAINING COURSE IN NICARAGUA AND HAVE REJOINED THE NATIONAL UNIVERSITY OF EL SALVADOR AS ACTIVISTS IN CHARGE OF RECRUITING, POLITICAL INDOCTRINATION AND MILITARY TRAINING ACTIVITIES ON THE UNIVERSITY CAMPUS.

III.- DOMICILE OF FMLN-FDR LEADERS

- 1) THE RESIDENCE OF JOSE TRINIDAD (PRTC) IS AROUND KM. 18-20, OLD HIGHWAY TO LEON, NICARAGUA.

- 2) THE F.P.L. (POPULAR LIBERATION FORCES) HEADQUARTERS ARE LOCATED IN COLONIA LA ESPERANZA, NICARAGUA.

- 3) THE P.R.T.C. (CENTRAL AMERICAN REVOLUTIONARY WORKERS' PARTY) HEADQUARTERS ARE LOCATED AT 300-400 METERS ON THE DIRT ROAD THAT RUNS INTO THE OLD HIGHWAY TO LEON, NICARAGUA.

- 4) THE BUILDING OF THE D.R.U. (UNIFIED REVOLUTIONARY DIRECTORATE) HEADQUARTERS IS LOCATED AT KM. TEN-AND-A-HALF OF THE SOUTH HIGHWAY, EXACTLY AT THE ENTRANCE OF A POLICE SCHOOL IN MANAGUA, NICARAGUA. A COMPLETE RADIO COMMUNICATIONS SYSTEM INSTALLED THERE OPERATES TWENTY-FOUR HOURS A DAY TRANSMITTING ORDERS TO THE DIFFERENT WAR FRONTS IN EL SALVADOR. IT IS OPERATED BY TEN MEMBERS OF THE F.M.L.N., TWO FROM EACH GUERRILLA ORGANIZATION.

- 5) AN F.P.L. SAFE-HOUSE IS LOCATED ON THE OLD HIGHWAY TO LEON, AT KM. FOURTEEN-AND-A-HALF. THE F.P.L. MAINTAINS A RADIO-COMMUNICATIONS SYSTEM THERE TO COORDINATE DAILY OPERATIONS AT THE VARIOUS WAR FRONTS IN EL SALVADOR.

- 6) THE SAFE-HOUSE OF FMLN LEADER SHAFICK J. HANDAL IS LOCATED AT KM. 13 ON THE ROAD TO MASAYA, NICARAGUA. THE PALACE-LIKE HOUSE, ON THE TOP OF A HILL, ALSO HAS A RADIO COMMUNICATIONS SYSTEM.

- 7) THE RESIDENCE OF P.R.T.C. LEADERS ROBERTO ROCA AND MARIO LOPEZ, IS LOCATED AT KM. 9, ON THE OLD HIGHWAY TO LEON, NICARAGUA, WHERE AN FMLN PRINT SHOP IS LOCATED.

- 8) THE RESIDENCE OF E.R.P. (PEOPLE'S REVOLUTIONARY ARMY) LEADER JOAQUIN VILLALOBOS, IS LOCATED AT KM. 16-AND-A-HALF, ON THE SOUTH HIGHWAY, BY THE DETOUR POINT, NEAR A FARM COMPOSED OF OTHER RESIDENCES IN WHICH THE INFORMATION COMMISSION (COMISION DE INFORMACION, COMIN) OPERATES AND WHERE E.R.P. LEADERS MEET. AT THIS LOCATION THERE ARE COMMUNICATIONS EQUIPMENT, PHOTOGRAPHIC AND RECORDING STUDIOS, AND ALSO ADDITIONAL CONFERENCE ROOMS.

THE PSEUDONYMS OF THE SECRETARIES ARE CELIA AND MERCEDES, THE LATTER IS THE SPOUSE OF COMMANDER RAMON SUAREZ.

- 13) THE P.R.T.C. COORDINATES ITS STRATEGIC PLANS FOR EL SALVADOR FROM ITS BASE LOCATED ON THE HIGHWAY TO LEON, 2 KMS. BEFORE THE XILUAX LAKE TOURIST CENTER.

- 14) A P.R.T.C. HOUSE IS IN CALCOM, LOCATED 3 KMS. FROM THE ENTRANCE TO LEON, NICARAGUA.

- 15) A HOUSE FOR P.R.T.C. MEMBERS IS LOCATED IN THE CENTER OF XILUAX LAKE TOURIST AREA.

- 16) A SAFE HOUSE AT JILOA LAKE, NICARAGUA, IS MANAGED BY LUISA AND JULIA (PSEUDONYMS).

- 17) AN FMLN HOSPITAL IS LOCATED IN REPARTO SANTO DOMINGO, MANAGUA, NICARAGUA.

- 18) BESIDES THE "SAFE-HOUSES" IN MANAGUA, AND THE FOUR HOUSES ON THE SOUTH HIGHWAY OCCUPIED BY FMLN MEMBERS DURING THE LAST 18 MONTHS, BETWEEN 8 AND 10 FMLN MEMBERS OCCUPY ANOTHER HOUSE IN BARRIO LOMA LINDA, MANAGUA. IT HAS AN ANTENNA WITH WHICH IT RECEIVES AND TRANSMITS SIGNALS TO AND FROM EL SALVADOR. PHYSICAL TRAINING IS CONDUCTED IN THIS HOUSE.

- THE FIVE SALVADORANS OF THE FMLN COMMAND AND CONTROL CENTER CONTINUE OPERATING IN NICARAGUA, AND AT LEAST TEN KEY PERSONS OF THE FMLN/FDR RESIDE IN MANAGUA. THAT IS WHY FMLN/FDR REPRESENTATIVES WHEN THEY MET WITH THE PRESIDENT OF COSTA RICA, DR. OSCAR ARIAS, ON LAST SEPTEMBER 7, PROVIDED TELEPHONE NUMBERS IN NICARAGUA WHERE THEY COULD BE CONTACTED IN THE FUTURE.

- 6) FMLN PROPAGANDA PRINTING FACILITIES FOR WHICH THE NICARAGUAN GOVERNMENT SUPPLIES ALL THE NECESSARY EQUIPMENT, EXCEPT THE PAPER AND INK, ARE LOCATED IN A BUILDING IN MANAGUA, 200 HUNDRED METERS FROM THE GOVERNMENT PALACE. THE BUILDING WAS DAMAGED BY THE EARTHQUAKE AND WAS APPARENTLY ABANDONED, BUT IT STILL HAS ELECTRIC AND TELEPHONE SERVICE.

V.- ROUTES FOR MOVING ARMS AND AMMUNITION
- ---

- 1) PRESIDENT DANIEL ORTEGA PUBLICLY ADMITTED FOR THE FIRST TIME, IN AN INTERVIEW PUBLISHED IN THE JUNE 24, 1987 EDITION OF THE MEXICAN NEWSPAPER EXCELSIOR," THAT THE SANDINISTAS HAVE GIVEN AID TO THE FMLN/FDR. THE ARTICLE CITES ORTEGA STATING THAT "IN SOME CASES MEMBERS OF THE NICARAGUAN ARMED FORCES DELIVERED ARMS TO THE SALVADORAN REVOLUTIONARIES."

- 2) IN EL SALVADOR THERE ARE TWO PRINCIPAL ROUTES USED IN THE NOTABLE INCREASE IN RESUPPLY ACTIVITIES FROM THE NICARAGUAN TERRITORY:
- A) AN ENTRY POINT AT THE MOUTH OF RIO LEMPA, MONTECRISTO ISLAND NORTHWARD, EL ESPINO BEACH, USULUTAN; AND EL CUCO BEACH, SAN MIGUEL.

- B) JUCUARAN COASTAL AREA, EXTENDING NORTHWARD TO THE WAR FRONTS, SOMETIMES PARALLELING THE ROUTES ORIGINATING FROM THE RIO LEMPA AREA.

- 3) SINCE SEPTEMBER, 1987 THERE HAVE BEEN SEVEN DELIVERIES OF MATERIAL TO THE GUERRILLAS BY SEA.

- 4) A BOAT CARRYING SMALL MACHINE-GUNS AND SUB MACHINE-GUNS SAILED FROM PUNTA MATA, NICARAGUA. ON OCTOBER 3, 1987 AND DOCKED IN LA CRIBA, LA UNION DEPARTMENT, EL SALVADOR.

- ON THE SAME DATE A THREE COLUMN LOGISTIC SUPPLY TEAM, COMPOSED OF 78 GUERRILLAS, WAS INTERCEPTED NEAR OJO DE AGUA ARRIBA, USULUTAN DEPARTMENT. EACH MEMBER WAS CARRYING HIS OWN WEAPON PLUS 4 OR 5 M-16 AND AR-15 RIFLES.

- 26 WEAPONS WERE CAPTURED, SEVEN OF THEM BRAND NEW, WITH THEIR OWN AMMUNITION. PRELIMINARY TRACING OF THE SERIAL NUMBERS INDICATED THAT SOME OF THE WEAPONS WERE CONSIGNED TO THE AMERICAN ARMY IN VIETNAM, AND ARE CONSIDERED TO BE A PART OF THE LOGISTICAL SUPPLY RECEIVED BY SEA BETWEEN SEPTEMBER 27 AND OCTOBER 4, 1987.

VII. OTHER PERTINENT INFORMATION.

- 1) THE SANDINISTA GOVERNMENT ACKNOWLEDGES THE EXISTENCE OF MONSIGNOR OSCAR ARNULFO ROMERO REFUGE, LOCATED IN LEON, NICARAGUA.

- 2) SEMINARS ARE GIVEN AT THE CENTRAL AMERICAN UNIVERSITY OF NICARAGUA TO PROMOTE "THE UNION OF REFUGEES AND RESIDENTS."

- 3) THE SANDINISTA GOVERNMENT, THROUGH THE NICARAGUAN SOCIAL SECURITY AND WELFARE INSTITUTE, MANAGES THE FMLN REFUGE IN BARRIO BUENAVISTA LA LOMA, RIVAS DEPARTMENT, NICARAGUA. THE INSTITUTE HAS APPOINTED LIC. FLORENTIN MELENDEZ AS A "GENERAL COORDINATOR" OF REFUGEES IN NICARAGUA. IN THIS PLACE A "CHRISTIAN COMMUNITY" OPERATES.

- 4) IN THE TEXTIL-VESTUARIO COOPERATIVE, "EFRAIN HERNANDEZ," FOUNDED IN JANUARY, 1981 WITH THE SUPPORT OF THE UNITED NATIONS HIGH COMMISSION FOR REFUGEES (UNHCR), SALVADORAN FAMILIES ARE FORCED TO WORK, UNAWARE OF THE DESTINATION OF THE END PRODUCTS, UNDER THREATS OF WITHDRAWAL OF SHOES, FOOD, AND CLOTHES.

- I TAKE THIS OPPORTUNITY TO POINT OUT TO THE SECRETARY PRO-TEMPORE THAT, DURING THE ESQUIPULAS II MEETING, PRESIDENT ORTEGA ADMITTED THAT HIS GOVERNMENT PROVIDES SUPPORT TO THE FMLN. HE ALSO ADMITTED BEFORE THE PRESIDENT OF THE REPUBLIC, ENGINEER JOSE NAPOLEON DUARTE, THAT NICARAGUA HAD INCREASED THE MILITARY ASSISTANCE TO EL SALVADOR. AFTER THE SIGNATURE OF THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PEACE AGREEMENT, THE SANDINISTA GOVERNMENT TOLD THE FMLN/FDR LEADERS THAT THEY HAD TO REDUCE THEIR PRESENCE AND VISIBILITY IN NICARAGUA. THEY (THE FMLN/FDR LEADERS) PROCEEDED TO MOVE NON ESSENTIAL PERSONNEL TO MEXICO AND PANAMA.
- MY GOVERNMENT IS CONVINCED AND CONFIDENT THAT THE REQUESTED INSPECTION WILL CONTRIBUTE TO IMPROVE THE PERFORMANCE OF THE DUTIES OF THE INTERNATIONAL VERIFICATION AND FOLLOW-UP COMMISSION AND TO ACHIEVE THE NOBLE AIMS EXPRESSED IN THE CENTRAL AMERICAN PEACE AGREEMENT.

- I TAKE THIS OPPORTUNITY TO REITERATE TO YOUR EXCELLENCY THE ASSURANCES OF MY HIGHEST CONSIDERATION.

TO: The Secretary

FROM: ARA - Elliott Abrams
HA - Richard Schifter
IO - N. Shaw Smith, Acting

SUBJECT: 44th Session of the UN Commission on Human Rights: Handling the Issue of Chile.

ISSUE FOR DECISION

How can we best achieve a balanced resolution reflective of the Volio reports which we could support on the situation of human rights in Chile at the 44th session of the U.N. Commission on Human Rights, Geneva, February 1 - March 11.

ESSENTIAL FACTORS

Although all Bureaus are agreed on the approach described below, you will recall that last year this issue was submitted to the President for decision, because of conflicting views. We, therefore, think it useful to have your approval before proceeding.

The United Nations annually passes two resolutions on human rights in Chile: The General Assembly adopts one; the Commission on Human Rights another. Human rights in Chile will be on the agenda at the next session of the Commission.

The Mexican delegation traditionally has taken the lead in drafting and presenting texts on Chile in the General Assembly and the Commission. Since 1981, the United States, as a rule, has found these resolutions unbalanced and has not voted in favor of them --virtually the only democratic government not to do so. In our view, Mexico's texts reflect to a great extent the concepts of some of Pinochet's most extreme foreign and domestic opponents. At the 1986 session of the Commission, however, the United States presented its own text on Chile. After lengthy and very difficult negotiations, the Commission unanimously adopted a text drawn to a large degree from our draft. Our highest priority at the 1987 Commission was, as it will be at the 1988 Commission, to present a resolution on the situation of human rights in Cuba. We did not draft a resolution on Chile, but instead our delegation undertook long negotiations that modified Mexico's text sufficiently to allow for consensus support.

DECL: OADR

Since 1978 the Commission has designated a Rapporteur, currently Costa Rica's former Foreign Minister Fernando Volio, to travel to Chile and submit a report to the Commission on human rights in that country. Volio, a staunch defender of democracy, has consistently provided balanced, quality reports on Chile and has personally intervened in some human rights cases.

While the situation of human rights in Chile remains unsatisfactory, Volio's actions-- combined with the anticipated 1988 plebicite--have helped stimulate the Chilean Government to better its record. In 1987, the number of political exiles has declined; some progress has been made in limiting abuses by security forces, and restrictions on the media have been somewhat eased. It is important, therefore, that the Commission's eventual resolution this year reflect as much as possible Volio's conclusions and recommendations. Mexico's texts have sought to ignore Volio's reports and to paint an exaggerated picture of human rights violations in Chile.

Passage of a balanced Chile resolution in large part based on the Volio reports at the 1988 UNHRC would have both multi-lateral and bilateral benefits. It would significantly enhance the credibility of the Administration's human rights position and encourage the restoration of democracy in Chile. By supporting such a resolution, we would undercut the efforts of the far left to take the initiative on Chile and isolate the U.S. from other democratic countries at this key moment in Chilean political history.

In 1988 as never before, the Chilean Government, military, and opposition are watching us closely for any shift that suggests we might be wavering in our conviction that the time to return to democracy is now or that we are less concerned about human rights in Chile than before. Our "yes" vote on a balanced resolution would be well-regarded by European and Latin American moderates, Chilean democrats, and by members of the U.S. Congress and would maintain the consistency of our policy to foster a climate of respect for human and civil rights prior to the presidential plebiscite.

Equally important, negotiating a favorable resolution on Chile that we can support could assist our effort to pass a resolution on Cuba, one of the most neglected yet abysmal human rights cases in the world. While we recognize the important differences between the case of Chile and that of Cuba, we need to remain uncompromising in our demand for respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms in both countries.

Ambassador Walters concurs in this approach.

RECOMMENDATION

That you instruct the Department to provide our delegation with the attached elements reflective of the Volio reports which would serve, subject to updating after the issuance of the 1988 Volio report, as the basis for a balanced resolution on Chile which the United States could support.

SUBJECT: Checklist for Your Meeting with US Ambassador to Mexico, Charles Pilliod on Monday, February 8 at 2:00 P.M.

PRESIDENTIAL SUMMIT MEETING

Attached are two memoranda which you sent to the White House setting out the basic objectives for the President's trip to Mazatlan, Mexico.

You may wish to raise the following points about the presidential summit with Ambassador Pilliod:

-- Do you agree with our approach to the meeting of placing bilateral relations in the best possible public light while hitting the GOM hard in the private meetings on areas of disagreement?

-- We will place great emphasis on increasing Mexican effectiveness in combatting narcotics trafficking. Do you believe that the GOM is capable of doing more?

-- President Reagan will discuss with President de la Madrid the narcotics certification issue. What is your assessment of the impact in Mexico if we fail to certify Mexico as fully cooperating with us on the narcotics issue?

-- Do you share our view that Mexico is unlikely to change its approach on Central America as long as Sepulveda is Foreign Secretary? How do you think we should treat this issue at the summit?

-- I understand that Foreign Secretary Sepulveda wishes to have a joint press conference after the summit. I do not wish to share a podium with Sepulveda. Do you have any ideas on how we can ensure that the US perspective is treated properly by the Mexican media?

ASSESSMENT OF PRI-PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE SALINAS

Ambassador Pilliod recently met with Carlos Salinas de Gortari and has developed some impressions on the man and on what we can likely expect from his administration. You may wish to ask Ambassador Pilliod to discuss his views on Salinas, as well as, on how US actions in the coming months could influence the PRI candidate in his selection of a cabinet.

MEMORANDUM FOR COLIN L. POWELL
THE WHITE HOUSE

SUBJECT: Aide Memoire on Narcotics Issues for the President's Trip to Mazatlan, Mexico

Attached is an Aide Memoire containing US recommendations for actions which the Mexican Government can take to strengthen its effort against narcotics production and trafficking.

As indicated in the suggested talking points for the President's private meeting with President de la Madrid, it is recommended that the President hand the Aide Memoire to the Mexican President at an appropriate point during their conversation.

Providing the proposed Aide Memoire to President de la Madrid is a vital element in our strategy of encouraging Mexico to take stronger action on this very important issue in our relations.

EXDIS

FOLLOWING RECEIVED FROM AMBASSADOR CHARLES J PILLIOD MAZATLAN MEXICO DTD 12 FEB SENT ACTION SECSTATE WHITE HOUSE BEING REPEATED FOR UR INFO:

QUOTE: [redacted] EXDIS
EXDIS
DECAPTIONED
SUBJECT: AMBASSADOR'S VISIT WITH PRESIDENT DE LA MADRID, FEBRUARY
11, 1988: SUBJECT MEETING BETWEEN PRESIDENT DE LA MADRID
AND PRESIDENT REAGAN IN MAZATLAN, FEBRUARY 13.
A ONE-ON-ONE MEETING WAS HELD WITH PRESIDENT DE LA MADRID ON THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 11, AT LOS PINOS, THE MEXICAN WHITE HOUSE. THE PURPOSE OF THE MEETING WAS TO BRIEF PRESIDENT DE LA MADRID ON THE AGENDA FOR THE SUMMIT AND PROVIDE HIM WITH SOME BACKGROUND ON THE U.S. POSITION, AS WELL AS TO OBTAIN HIS COMMENTS.
OVERALL EXPECTATIONS.
THE AMBASSADOR ADVISED PRESIDENT DE LA MADRID THAT THE U.S. DESIRED
THAT THIS SESSION END ON A POSITIVE NOTE, PARTICULARLY IN VIEW OF THE FACT THAT IT WOULD PROBABLY BE THE LAST BETWEEN THESE TWO PRESIDENTS. PRESIDENT DE LA MADRID CONFIRMED THAT THIS APPROACH COINCIDED WITH HIS ATTITUDE AND IT WAS HIS INTENTION TO WORK TOWARDS THIS OBJECTIVE.
THE GLOBAL RELATIONSHIP.
THE DISCUSSION COVERED THE ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF THE PAST FIVE YEARS WHICH PRESIDENT DE LA MADRID FELT HAD BEEN MARKED BY A CONSTRUCTIVE, COOPERATIVE APPROACH ON THE PART OF BOTH COUNTRIES. HE EXPRESSED THE HOPE THAT THIS WOULD CONTINUE NOT ONLY FOR THE BALANCE OF HIS TERM, BUT ALSO FOR THE NEXT SIX-YEAR PERIOD OF HIS SUCCESSOR.
ECONOMIC RELATIONS.
PRESIDENT DE LA MADRID WAS MADE AWARE OF THE FACT THAT PRESIDENT REAGAN AS WELL AS VARIOUS SECRETARIES INVOLVED WOULD BE INTERESTED IN HIS PERSONAL OPINIONS OF THE CURRENT ECONOMIC PROGRAM WITH

88D246,16

PARTICULAR EMPHASIS ON HTE SOLIDARITY PACT, INFLATION, AND THE DEBT-FOR-BONDS-SWAP ISSUE. ON HIS PART, DE LA MADRID POSED A NUMBER OF QUESTIONS ON THE PROSPECTS FOR MAINTAINING FREE TRADE IN VEIW OF THE TRADE BILL DISCUSSION UNDERWAY IN THE U.S. CONGRESS. HE WAS ASSURED OF PRESIDENT REAGAN'S RESOLVE TO VETO ANY BILL WHICH MIGHT COME OUT OF THE CONGRESS AND SENATE WHICH PRESIDENT REAGAN CONSIDERED PROTECTIONIST IN NATURE. WE CAN ANTICIPATE HOWEVER THAT THIS WILL BE A SUBJECT WHICH PRESIDENT DE LA MADRID WILL PURSUE. AS TO THE OFTEN MENTIONED INCLUSION OF MEXICO IN A US/CANADA THREE WAY TRADE AGREEMENT IT WAS FELT THAT WE SHOULD FIRST GET SOME EXPERIENCE WORKING TOGETHER UNDER THE RECENTLY SIGNED FRAMEWORK ACCORD. PERHAPS IN THE NEXT ADMINISTRATION A MORE FORMAL BILATERAL AGREEMENT SHOULD BE NEGOCIATED WHICH COULD LEAD TO A THREE NATION ACCORD IN THE FUTURE.
NARCOTICS.
CONSIDERABLE ATTENTION WAS GIVEN TO THIS ITEM AS PRESIDENT DE LA MADRID FEELS VERY STRONGLY THAT DRUGS ARE ONE OF THE MOST SERIOUS PROBLEMS WHICH FACES THIS GENERATION. HE FEELS THAT IT IS A WORLD
PROBLEM, NO COUNTRY IS IMMUNE, AND, UNLESS WE ALL DO MORE TO GAIN CONTROL OVER THE GROWTH OF DRUGS, WE STAND IN DANGER OF LOSING A WHOLE GENERATION. PRESIDENT REAGAN, WILL HAVE NO DIFFICULTY IN OBTAINING PRESIDENT DE LA MADRID'S COOPERATION. HE HAS SPOKEN OUT ON THE QUESTION OF DRUGS IN THE PAST AND WILL BE READY AND WILLING TO DO SO AGAIN.
MY ONLY COMMENT REGARDING BRIEFINGS GIVEN PRESIDENT REAGAN IS THAT COMMENTS BE COUCHED IN A COOPERATIVE FORM. RATHER THAN ASKING PRESIDENT DE LA MADRID TO MAKE A PRONOUNCEMENT, I WOULD SUGGEST PRESIDENT REAGAN REFER TO THE FACT THAT THEY SHOULD BOTH REINFORCE THEIR PUBLIC STANDS ON THIS ISSUE. THIS APPROACH WILL ASSURE US OF COMPLETE COOPERATION. MEXICO FEELS VERY STRONGLY THAT THE USG SHOULD REINFORCE LAWS AGAINST POSSESSIN AND USE. CERTAINLY THE TRACK RECORD SHOWS THAT SUCCESSFUL COUNTRIES HAVE ATTACKED DRUGS, USAGE IN THIS MANNER AND MEXICO'S ARGUMENT IS DIFFICULT TO DISPUTE.
AS A RESULT OF THE LAST ATTORNEY GENERAL MEETING THE FOLLOWING INITIATIVES ARE EITHER IN PROGRESS OR BEING SET UP.

A. REPRESENTATIVES OF U.S. CUSTOMS WILL MEET WITH GOVERNMENT OF MEXICO REPRESENTIVES TO DISCUSS EXPANDED COOPERATION ON

[redacted] EXDIS TOSEC 30012

REPORTING AND TRACKING BORDER ALL TRAFFIC OF SUSPECTED SMUGGLERS.—THIS WILL INCLUDE EXCHANGE OF TAIL NUMBERS AND POSSIBLY AIR PATROL COVERAGE ON BOTH SIDES OS THE BORDER.

B. REPRESENTATIVES OF THE U.S. TREASURY DEPARTMENT AND THE MEXICAN AUTHORITIES TO DISCUSS WAYS AND MEANS TO CONTROL THE SMUGGLING OF ARMS INTO MEXICO WHICH HAS BECOME A MAJOR CONCERN.

IMMIGRATION.

THERE IS NO DIFFERENCE OF OPINION ON THIS SUBJECT.

THROUGH CLOSE COOPERATION WITH THE MEXICAN GOVERNMENT, WE CONTINUE

TO KEEP THEM INFORMED OF PROGRESS OF THE SIMPSON/RODINO IMMAGRATION

PROGRAM AND HAVE YET TO RECEIVE A FORMAL COMPLAINT. THEY ARE ALSO WORKING CLOSELY WITH US ON LONG-RANGE STUDIES BASED ON THE DEMOGRAPHICS WHICH INDICATE MEXICO WILL HAVE A SURPLUS OF LABOR OVER THE NEXT TEN YEARS WHILE THE UNITED STATES WILL FACE A SHORTAGE.

WE AR IN THE PROCESS OF SETTING UP A MEETING BETWEEN THE TWO IMMIGRATION DEPARTMENTS FOR THE PURPOSE OF GETTING A BETTER HAND ON THE ILLEGAL IMMIGRANTS COMING IN FROM COUNTRIES TO THE SOUTH OF MEXICO, AND HAVE BEEN ASSURED OF THE MEXICAN COVERNMENTS COOPERATION.

CENTRAL AMERICA.

THIS SUBJECT CENTERED AROUND A RE-HASH OF OUR OPINION OF THEIR FOREIGN POLICY. THE AMBASSADOR AGAIN EXPLAINED THAT WE ACCEPTED THE FACT THAT THEIR POLICY OF NON-INTERVENTION AND SELF-DETERMINATION WAS BASED ON THEIR HISTORICAL REALTIONSHIP WITH THE UNITED STATES AND WE HAD LEARNED TO LIVE WITH IT. HOWEVER WE ARE VERY MUCH CONCERNED WITH ITS APPLICATION. WITHIN THEIR INTERPRE-TATION OF INTERVENTIONISM WE ARE INTERVENTIONISTS AND WILL CONTINUE

TO BE SO LONG AS IT IS NECESSARY TO SUPPORT AND PROTECT DEMOCRACY ANYWHERE IN THE WORLD. WEARE AND WILL REMAIN IN CENTRAL AMERICAN AS LONG AS THE FRAGILE DEMOCRACIES INVOLVED NEED OUR ASSISTANCE. THE MAJORITY OF THAT ASSISTANCE, CONTRARY TO PUBLIC OPINION, IS ECONOMIC, NOT MILITARY. OUR BUDGET FOR THE FOUR CENTRAL AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES FOR THIS YEAR APPROACHES $1 BILLION IN ECONOMIC

ASSISTANCE, WITH AN ADDITIONAL OUTLAY OF $250 MILLION IN MILITARY AID. THE TWO ARE INTERLOCED AND ANY REDUCTION WOULD BE DISASTROUS

AT THIS TIME.

OUR CONCERN WITH THE MEXICAN POLICY IS THAT THEY HAVE CONTINUALLY SELECTED THE UNITED STATES AS THE INTERVENTIONIST IN THE TERRITORY,

WHILE LITTLE OR NO MENTION HAS BEEN OF THE ACTIVITIES OF THE SOVIETS, OR CUBANS, SANDINISTAS IN THEIR CONTINUED SUPPORT OF ARMS

TO THE INSURGENTS IN SALVADOR, HONDURAS OR GUATEMALA. THEY ARE PERCEIVED TO BE THE SPOKESMEN FOR THE SANDINISTAS AND IN THE INTER-NATIONAL FORA MEXICO SEEMS TO COME DOWN ON THE SIDE OF THE SOCIALIST COUNTRIES AS OPPOSED TO THE UNITED STATES.
PRESIDENT DE LA MADRID VIOLENTLY DENIED THAT THIS WAS THE CASE -- OR THE INTENT -- AND POINTED TO THE FACT THAT FROM TIME TO TIME HE HAS CRITICIZED CUBAN AND NICARAGUAN ACTIVITIES IN CENTRAL AMERICA ALONG WITH THE UNITED STATES. THEIR POLICY, HE STATED, IS TO OPPOSE ALL INTERVENTION.
FRANKLY, NO NEW GROUND WAS COVERED, AS I HAVE DISCUSSED THIS WITH HIM A NUMBER OF TIMES. SECRETARY SEPULVEDA HAD MADE HIM AWARE OF OUR FEELINGS REGARDING THE RECENT PANAMA AND BUENOS AIRES INCIDENTS, AND HE CONCURRED WITH SEPULVEDA'S STATEMENTS THAT THEY WERE UNTRUE
ASSUMPTIONS ON OUR PART. HE FURTHER STATED THAT THEY WERE FULLY AWARE OF THEIR COMMITMENT ON NAME-CALLING AND HAD EVERY INTENTION OF COMPLYING.
THE END OF THE DISCUSSION WAS THAT WE BOTH AGREED LITTLE WOULD BE GAINED BY SPENDING A GREAT DEAL OF TIME ON THIS ISSUE IN THE PRESIDENTIAL MEETING. I GAINED THE IMPRESSION, HOWEVER, THAT HE WOULD LIKE TO SEE AN EASEMENT OF THEIR AGGRESSIVE APPROACH TOWARDS THE UNITED STATES IN THIS SECTOR. I'LL FOLLOW UP.
WORLD PEACE AND DISARMAMENT.
PRESIDENT DE LA MADRID SAID HE WAS VERY INTERESTED IN DISCUSSING THIS WITH PRESIDENT REAGAN, PARTICULARLY IN VIEW OF HIS INVOLVEMENT WITH THE GROUP OF SIX.
SOVIET PRESENCE IN MEXICO.
THE OFTEN MENTIONED POSSIBILITY OF APPROVAL FOR SOVIET CONSULATES IN THE U.S. BORDER AREAS WAS DISCUSSED, AND AGAIN PRESIDENT DE LA MADRID EMPHATICALLY DECLARED THAT UNDER NO CIRCUMSTANCES WOULD SUCH A REQUEST IF RECEIVED BE CONSIDERED.
CONCLUSION.
PRESIDENT DE LA MADRID WANTED ME TO CONVEY THE MESSAGE THAT HE WAS LOOKING FORWARD TO MEETING WITH PRESIDENT REAGAN AND THAT HE AND MEMBERS OF HIS CABINET WOULD CONTINUE TO WORK IN COOPERATION WITH THE U.S. GOVERNMENT FOR FURTHER ADVANCEMENT IN ALL ARES OF MUTUAL INTEREST.

1. PRESIDENT IN MEXICO - THE SIXTH MEETING BETWEEN THE PRESIDENTS REAGAN AND DE LA MADRID WAS WARMER IN SPIRIT THAN EARLIER SESSIONS. RELATIONS GREW TENSE TWO YEARS AGO AFTER THE KILLING OF A U.S. DRUG AGENT AND THE KIDNAPPING OF ANOTHER. (FOOTAGE OF PRESIDENT REAGAN: "TODAY WE HELP PAVE THE WAY FOR A NEW GENERATION OF POLITICAL LEADERS IN BOTH OUR COUNTRIES WHO WILL SOON FOLLOW US AND BUILD ON THE FOUNDATION WE'VE LAID.") A REMAINING SORE POINT BETWEEN THE TWO COUNTRIES IS THE PRODUCTION AND TRANSPORTATION OF HUGE AMOUNTS OF HEROIN, COCAINE AND MARIJUANA FROM MEXICO INTO THE U.S. MANY IN THE U.S. BELIEVE MEXICO HAS BEEN INEFFECTIVE IN STOPPING PRODUCTION AND BRINGING THE DRUG TRAFFICKERS TO JUSTICE. WHEN THE TWO LEADERS MET ALONE MR. REAGAN WARNED THAT THIS IS THE YEAR WE HAVE TO SHOW RESULTS. ON NICARAGUA, DE LA MADRID STILL OPPOSES U.S. MILITARY SUPPORT OF THE CONTRAS. WHAT IS WORKING, THE TWO LEADERS AGREED, IS ECONOMIC GROWTH, TRADE AND JOBS. TODAY THEY CONGRATULATED THEMSELVES ON SOME PROGRESS THERE AND CALLED FOR MORE. (SHEILA KAST, MEXICO)

S/S

[redacted]

TO: The Secretary

FROM: ARA - Elliott Abrams

SUBJECT: Briefing the President for his Visit to Mexico

I. SETTING

- o De la Madrid faces ongoing economic crisis. Inflation 160% and climbing, labor unhappy with declining real income, interest on domestic debt exacerbating public sector deficit - 18% of GNP.
- o De la Madrid has drastically cut government operating and investment budget, frozen government employment, despite election year pressures to expand economy.
- o December Economic Solidarity Pact buys time, but unless inflation declines significantly, labor/business pressures for wage/price increases, radical measures, will build just months before July Presidential election.
- o Popularity of de la Madrid's handpicked successor, Carlos Salinas de Gortari, suffering from his identification with GOM austerity policies. Campaign off to shaky start. Salinas certain to win, but perhaps with voter absenteeism, electoral fraud.
- o Despite pressures, de la Madrid remains committed to major structural economic reform, responsible foreign debt policy, export-led strategy; Needs our help.
- o Salinas campaigning on platform of continued economic modernization, more open political system. Says Mexico must deal with its narcotics trafficking problem. Has avoided foreign policy issues.

II. Bilateral Relations

- Relations mix of close, productive dialogue, excellent economic, border cooperation, tense problems over drugs, Central America, other foreign policy issues, frequent misunderstandings, mutual suspicions.

- Cooperative tone the two Presidents set in previous meetings has resulted in Framework Understanding on Trade and Investment, MLAT, textile agreement, financial and debt cooperation, and substantial progress on CIVAIR and communications agreements, all in past six months.

- De la Madrid is concerned US will use economic, political leverage to pressure Mexico on foreign policy, drug issues. Worries US pressures and criticisms could become election campaign issues - wants positive, harmonious Summit meeting. So do we.

III. Critical Role of Narcotics Issue

- In past year, Mexico has increased anti-drug resources, improved its eradication results, signed with us a Mutual Legal Assistance Treaty, arrested major traffickers, and increased cooperation on interdicting drug shipments.

- Nevertheless, drug flows sharply increasing, and trafficking networks expanding. Some concern that Mexico could turn into another Colombia.

- Narcotics is ticking time bomb in relations. President must submit determination to Congress by March 1 on whether Mexico and others are "fully cooperating" with us on drugs.

- Despite Mexico's considerable effort, certification is in jeopardy because results are unsatisfactory. Apparent lack of political will, mismanagement, and corruption undermine efforts.

- Even if President certifies Mexico as fully cooperating country, some in Congress may seek to override, require us to invoke sanctions.

- The political stigma of denying certification would seriously damage bilateral relations, make US major issue in Mexican election, reverse positive momentum, reduce freedom of incoming Mexican Administration to cooperate with us.

- Persuading de la Madrid to take strong, visible and timely measures to strengthen anti-narcotics programs is most important objective of Presidential meeting.

UNCLASSIFIED

IV. OTHER MAJOR US OBJECTIVES

- Soften Mexican policies in Central America and on other foreign policy issues.

  --Little prospect of favorable changes in Mexican policy while Sepulveda is Foreign Secretary.

  --Mexico's influence in Central America waning. They have little to offer; we want to keep them on margin.

- Encourage de la Madrid to continue his courageous effort to modernize Mexican economy, overcome economic problems, maintain political stability.

  --US policies on debt, trade, investment, border matters are all favorable to bilateral cooperation, and support Mexican economic recovery and reforms. We want to keep momentum going at Summit, bolster Mexican confidence, encourage them to stay the course.

- Give impetus to early completion of negotiations in progress: CIVAIR, Search and Rescue, communications.

- Publicly, we intend to spotlight impressive list of recent bilateral accomplishments via President's public comments, your press conference, signing of textile, telecommunications agreements.

- Persuade de la Madrid to prevent expansion of Soviet presence and activities in Mexico directed at US.

  --Although Mexicans deny it, Soviets pressing to open consulate near US border.

V. US STYLE AT THE SUMMIT

- Given the tremendous progress in relations reflected in recent major agreements, Summit can be friendly, highly favorable image booster for both Presidents, demonstrating ability to discuss, cooperate, resolve mutual problems.

- Public statements and appearances will play the crucial role in this.

- Frank, open discussions in private meetings on tough subjects have become the custom for both governments. If done with mutual respect, effort to understand and accommodate other side's interests, further progress is realistic expectation for the meeting.

Talking Points

SETTING

-- This is an important meeting. De la Madrid under great economic pressure, waging courageous effort to profoundly reform Mexico's economy, at considerable cost to his political popularity.

-- He deserves credit for bringing Mexico through 1982 debt crisis (which he inherited), the disastrous 1985 Mexico City earthquake, and 1986 oil price collapse, with remarkably little political and social disorder.

-- His certain successor, Carlos Salinas de Gortari's election campaign off to slow start. But he seems committed to continuing Mexico's economic/political modernization, says Mexico must deal with drug problem.

-- How we conduct meeting will affect political climate in Mexico and prospects for continued progress and close cooperation between your successor and incoming Mexican Salinas Administration.

o TREMENDOUS PROGRESS IN ECONOMIC RELATIONS

-- We can be proud of the tremendous progress in US-Mexican economic relations during your and de la Madrid's terms in office. Mexicans overcoming fears of formal agreements with US. Impressive list of agreements and accomplishments.

-- Mexican GATT Accession and Bilateral Framework Understanding on Trade and Investment provide vehicles for major expansion of bilateral trade and investment relations, consistent with your interest in stronger North America trade ties.

-- We can use this meeting to keep progress moving and to avoid a lame-duck attitude by officials of either side.

-- Mexicans are managing their external debt problem responsibly; will continue to need our support.

-- Your public statements should highlight positive accomplishments of past five years, urge continued progress, cooperation, in final year for both of you.

CONFIDENTIAL UNCLASSIFIED

PROBLEM AREAS

-- In past year, Mexico has increased anti-drug resources, improved its eradication results, signed with us a Mutual Legal Assistance Treaty, arrested major traffickers, and increased cooperation on interdicting drug shipments.

-- Nevertheless, despite considerable costs in resources, lives, Mexican anti-drug programs viewed by many as inadequate. Traffickers and drug producers gaining ground. Some fear Mexico could turn into another Colombia.

-- Program undermined by mismanagement, corruption, apparent lack of political will to take tough, dangerous measures needed to reduce trafficking and production.

-- By March 1 you must certify to Congress whether major drug producing countries, including Mexico, are fully cooperating with us. Some in Congress will seek to overturn a positive certification on Mexico.

-- Stigma of denying certification would create political furor in Mexico, set back narcotics cooperation, make US major issue in Mexican election campaign, and reduce freedom of incoming Salinas Administration to cooperate with us.

-- Need to persuade de la Madrid to take stronger, visible actions to demonstrate will and ability to win drug war. This will be a major focus of your private meeting with him.

-- You will have an aide-memoire to give him, outlining some specific actions to visibly strengthen Mexican program, ensure certification.

OTHER MAJOR ISSUES

-- Mexicans continue to disagree with our approach in Central America, and are not helpful. But their influence and Contadora's waning. Not much GOM can do for us and we want to keep them on the margin, work around their occasional unhelpful activities.

-- Therefore, suggest we minimize discussion of subject, not ask Mexicans for changes they won't make, help they won't give. But be alert to prospects for more favorable approach by incoming Mexican administration.

-- With regard to Congressional vote on aid to the Nicaraguan Resistance, you will want to stress to de la Madrid that you are determined to continue support for the Resistance and for the peace process.

-- Soviets are working to expand presence in Mexico, targeted against US. Need to strongly urge de la Madrid to continue resisting such pressures.

-- Immigration reform legislation has not created bilateral problem we and Mexicans feared. We are engaging in a two-part dialogue - Working Group on Border Matters, and Congressionally appointed "Commission for Study of International Migration and Development."

-- Population movements and employment will continue to be major mutual concerns, and we should encourage the dialogue on these subjects and seek ways to ameliorate and control illegal immigration. Mexicans seem prepared to cooperate if there is something in it for them.

STRUCTURE OF MEETING

-- While you meet privately with de la Madrid, remainder of US and Mexican delegations will meet to discuss agenda items.

-- Following your private meeting, you can meet with US delegation to compare notes, and then we will go to a working luncheon, to continue discussion of agenda items.

-- Because of the importance of the public aspect of the meeting, I plan to brief the press on the visit following your departure to assure that the tremendous progress and accomplishments of your and de la Madrid's administrations, reflected in the meeting, are highlighted.

THE MEXICAN DEBT SWAP PROPOSAL

Summary: The debt swap proposal is a flexible and imaginative addition to the LDC debt menu and gives an unprecedented USG imprimatur to a scheme to repay debt below par. It is an interesting test of the viability of a market-based workout of debt relief between creditors and LDC debtors, done with a minimum of third-party involvement and guarantee. However, the program may stumble over the differing perceptions of Mexico and the banks of the discounts banks will offer. Two key variables are the discount at which the new bonds are expected to trade and the depth of banks' desire to exit from Mexican debt. Mexico is working hard to make the proposal succeed; a failure would renew domestic pressure to reduce debt service by other means.

Will the Proposal Work?

The proposal remains as announced December 29. Mexico would be relieved of the obligation to make interest and principal payments on a portion of its existing bank debt. In exchange, it will make interest payments on a new debt issue, the principal of which is in effect prepaid. The gain to Mexico depends primarily on the size of the discount banks offer, but it is also a function of future levels of LIBOR and assumptions concerning Mexico's ability to reschedule bank debts. If Mexico assumes that it will be able to reschedule principal payments on its commercial bank debt indefinitely, it will need to receive a sizable discount--on the order of 30 percent--just to break even. At lower exchange prices, however, the benefit to Mexico would rise substantially. An exchange at 55 cents on the dollar, for instance, would be worth the equivalent of a $2.5-$5.5 billion lump sum payment to Mexico.

Crucial to the plan's success are the depth of the banks' desire to exit from Mexican debt holdings and the discount at which the new Mexican bonds are expected to trade. Most US banks will not offer their debt at 50 or 60 cents on the dollar if the new bonds are expected to be subject to further heavy discounting in the Eurobond market. Success thus depends greatly on the market's estimation of the likelihood of Mexico making interest payments over the next 20 years on the new bonds.

UNCLASSIFIED

880246.6

UNCLASSIFIED

There is no consensus within the financial community on the price at which the new bonds will trade in the secondary market. Treasury and Morgan Guaranty, for example, maintain that the new bonds will trade at close to par. Others, such as Salomon Brothers, argue that investors will assign the same risk premium to the (uncollateralized) interest payments on the new bonds as they do to interest on existing Mexican Eurobonds, which yield 17-18 percent. As a result, Salomon expects the bonds to trade below 70.

Mexico's Stake in the Program

The GOM hopes to use the debt service savings to counter domestic critics of the economic adjustment program begun in December. Mexico has set a February 19 deadline for bids and the initial results will be known shortly thereafter. In early March the GOM plans to begin the transition from its stabilization program of voluntary wage and price restraints and budget cuts to a more long-term regime. In Mexico, the USG is perceived as playing a major role in the debt swap proposal, which is viewed as part of our cooperation in efforts to manage the debt problem. A successful program would lend a needed popular boost to the electoral campaign of PRI candidate Carlos Salinas, who is closely identified with the unpopular austerity policies of the de la Madrid administration, and would reap some goodwill for the United States. As long as the proposal is not an obvious flop, it is in the GOM's interest to declare it a success.

If the debt/bond program stumbles because banks make few bids at discounts acceptable to Mexico, there will be renewed domestic pressure on the GOM to reduce debt service by some other means. President de la Madrid wants the debt/bond swap to demonstrate the rewards of the GOM's debt policy and show that creditors are making sacrifices along with Mexico. If the economic adjustment program fails to shrink the current 160 percent inflation rate, the GOM already has shown it may try to shift the blame to debt service and the earlier debt/equity swaps. The most likely scapegoats would be those banks which do not participate or make only token offers. It may be that the USG would get some of the onus if the program fails, as well.

MEXICO'S ECONOMY -- AT A GLANCE

- The Mexican economy grew about 1.5 percent in real terms in 1987 but was plagued by several persistent problems.

  -- In 1987 inflation reached 158.8 percent - it was nearly 15 percent in December alone.

  -- The government financial deficit rose from 16.3 percent in 1986 to an estimated 17 percent in 1987.

  -- The stock market collapsed in October/November.

  -- After considerable capital repatriation (an estimated $3-4 billion was repatriated from late 1986 through mid-1987), about $2 billion was expatriated in the last quarter of 1987. This lead to the floating of the "free" peso in November and the devaluation of the "controlled" peso in December. (Capital flight appeared to have disappeared in January 1988 as Mexico's domestic interest rates soared.) About 2,204 "controlled" pesos were needed to buy a US dollar at the end of 1987 versus about 921 at the end of 1986, an increase of nearly 140 percent.

  -- President de la Madrid was joined by representatives of labor and the private sector in mid-December in announcing an Economic Solidarity Pact to cope with Mexico's economic problems. Among other things the Pact increased the minimum wage by 38 percent but also increase the prices of a number of government goods and services (i.e. fuel, electricity, telephone service and transportation). Key to the success of the Pact is the ability of the Government to reduce its deficit.

  -- Mexico's foreign reserves reached record high levels in 1987 thanks in large part to the strength of Mexico's external trade surplus. Its strong reserve position permitted a plan aimed at reducing the amount of its external debt and debt service. The plan uses U.S. Treasury bonds as collateral for Mexican government bonds.

  -- Mexico continued moves to restructure its economy in 1987. The most remarkable changes were seen in the trade policy area: tariffs and import licenses were slashed while official reference prices were eliminated entirely. Mexico and the U.S. signed a Framework Understanding in November which enables each side to call for consultations on a broad range of trade and investment matters. In addition, the authorities continued to reduce the number of parastatal enterprises.

Introduction

Secretary Sepulveda opened the meeting by repeating the welcome to the U.S. party that President de la Madrid had made during the arrival ceremony. He suggested that the Textile Agreement signed in the plenary could not be done immediately because the press which would cover the signing was currently with the two Presidents as they initiated their meeting. He suggested, given the brevity of time available, that the plenary meeting turn immediately to issues on the agenda. Secretary Shultz agreed to that procedure.

Secretary Sepulveda noted that these meetings underscored the importance of the U.S.-Mexican relationship and had facilitated better cooperation between the two countries. The attorneys general, for example, had had several meetings during the current administrations. Also, attorneys general from the border states of Mexico and the United States had met and there had been interparliamentary meetings between the two countries. As a result of these efforts we had developed a capacity to prevent problems and to create greater understanding. The meetings of presidents had shown the way to commercial agreements which had been reached as a result of the instructions that they have issued. Further understandings on steel, textiles, beer, wine and spirits had been reached recently. Secretary Sepulveda added that we had increased our cooperation in the effort against narcotics with the recent agreement on juridical cooperation, the Mutual Legal Assistance Treaty (MLAT). Secretary Sepulveda continued that his government gave great importance to the U.S. ratification of the agreement on maritime boundaries and the MLAT, both of which had been ratified by the Mexican Congress. In finance and debt, he recalled that we had recently elaborated on our system of cooperation in an initiative which merited the support of the international financial community. He said that the issue of narcotics was of equal concern to both the United States and Mexico, and deserved special attention in this meeting, including the measures that both countries were taking in this area. Border cooperation, he said, was very broad but he must mention the commercial deficit along the border. This had been a fact since 1982 but lately it had become much worse. The flow of goods, persons, and traffic had recently been restricted by U.S. actions, and he mentioned vehicular restrictions in particular. The Simpson-Rodino legislation was an important matter for Mexico related to workers' rights. The U.S. had a demand for labor which caused much migration of workers to the United States from Mexico. Returning to narcotics, Secretary Sepulveda said that, from the political point of view, his government was concerned over the possibility that the handling of the question of certifying narcotics cooperation could become confrontational. He asserted that denial of certification ought not happen, no good would come of it.

Secretary Shultz expressed appreciation for the Mexican welcome. He said that he had been pleased to see Governor Labastida of Sinaloa whose work we admired. He agreed with Sepulveda's comment about the value of bilateral meetings which now numbered in the hundreds. The record of recent agreements was astonishing and we were having success in solving problems. He hoped that we could continue to work on problems in the time that the two current governments had left in office together and that we could leave a positive legacy for our successors. He did not wish to get into an argument on the matters that Secretary Sepulveda had raised but because he had commented substantively on many subjects, Secretary Shultz wanted to lay down a marker that he did not agree with many of the things that Secretary Sepulveda had said. He did agree with the implicit agenda that Sepulveda had suggested by the topics he had mentioned but thought that it would be best for the cabinet members present on both delegations to address topics in their principal areas of responsibility. He said when we got through the topics that Secretary Sepulveda had mentioned we could "stagger around in foreign policy" if there were time.

Textile Agreement

At this point in the counterparts' meeting, the exchanges were suspended for a signing of the bilateral Textile Agreement by Ambassador Yeutter and Secretary Hernandez. Photographs were taken, but neither cabinet member made any remarks.

Secretary Sepulveda asked how the U.S. delegation would like to proceed. He said that either the Secretary of State could continue expressing his points of view or the meeting could turn to the narcotics topic on the agenda.

Secretary Shultz agreed that it would be good at this point to turn to narcotics. Secretary Sepulveda said he was struck by the note of disagreement in Secretary Shultz' last intervention, but he had only been listing agenda topics; with what on the list did the Secretary disagree? The Secretary responded, "You have a way of twisting things. You left the impression that we had a trade surplus with you. Would that it were so." Sepulveda explained that he was talking only about trade along the border to which Secretary Shultz asked "what sense does that make? We should both look at our overall trade flows." Secretary Sepulveda said the GOM balance of payments account has a line item for such transactions, but rather than get sidetracked on a minor matter, he suggested moving directly to narcotics. Secretary Shultz agreed.

Narcotics

Attorney General Garcia Ramirez noted that it was not a pleasure to start the substantive agenda with a controversial subject. He added that this was a serious problem for both the United States and Mexico; both were cooperating closely on narcotics and he and Attorney General Meese had met ten times. He would go again to Washington for another meeting "when the cherries are in blossom." Looking at the balance sheet on narcotics cooperation, he said that the air fleet used in Mexico's fight against narcotics had grown 25% at Mexican expense. Cocaine seizures had increased substantially from 2.5 tons in 1986 to more than 9 tons of cocaine in 1987, and already in 1988 a ton of cocaine had been seized. Opium and marijuana cultivation, however, had grown, but no country had eliminated production of those drugs after it had begun. Garcia said that if the MLAT were ratified by the U.S. Senate, the two countries' cooperation would be more effective not only against narcotics but in other legal matters as well. Sixty percent of the budget of the office of the Mexican Attorney General and thirty percent of its personnel were dedicated to the fight against narcotics as were 25,000 to 30,000 Mexican troops. President de la Madrid had called upon the states and all Mexicans to join in the campaign against narcotics. Twice the President had spoken of drug trafficking as "an affair of state." It was a danger for our society, a sickness for the young; it generated violence and corruption wherever it existed. The two countries were working more closely but needed to do even more. This was a matter he had discussed at length with Attorney General Meese but he was at the service of the U.S. Administration to discuss the subject further whenever we wished.

Secretary Shultz welcomed the Attorney General's comments and underscored our agreement with President de la Madrid that narcotics constituted a problem of state. Attorney General Meese responded that he and his Mexican counterpart had been very pleased with the communication and cooperation that had been achieved between their two offices but both men felt frustration that more had not been done. He agreed with Garcia Ramirez that the increase in the amount of cocaine seized was a two-edged sword. It reflected better law enforcement but also more trafficking in the drug. Noting the requirement that the United States government must certify whether countries involved in narcotics production or transshipment were cooperating fully, he said it would be premature to discuss the subject because it was a matter under review within the U.S. administration. Nonetheless, the certification requirement itself, mandated by law, underscored the level of U.S. concern. He praised the Mexican government and the efforts of Ambassador Pilliod that resulted in the MLAT that had been concluded. He noted that, as regards exchange of information, a new level of cooperation had been reached. At the December meeting of Attorneys General of the border states of Mexico and the U.S., agreements had been reached on exchange of tail numbers of planes illegally transitting the border and tracking narco-traffickers from third countries. He agreed that the Mexican antinarcotics aircraft fleet had expanded, but noted that maintenance and aircraft availability could be improved He added that eradication had improved in marijuana but heroin eradication had reached a plateau and more needed to be done. We were looking for a Mexican point of contact to work on the south side of the international border to cooperate with Operation Alliance. There was a relationship between drug trafficking and the illegal movement of arms and criminals, and we needed to improve our cooperative effort on both sides. That was a matter of political will for both countries and 1988 was the time to move forward.

Attorney General Garcia said he shared the frustration of Attorney General Meese over the results of our efforts to date. We could not be satisfied until we had eradicated narcotics production and trafficking, and the corruption and violence that accompanied them. Unfortunately there was an upward trend throughout the world in the production and trafficking of illicit drugs. We had made progress in the United States and Mexico but not enough to be satisfied. He agreed with Attorney General Meese that the flow of narcotics across the border was linked to other undesirable flows. Mexican authorities had increased their seizures of illegal arms from the United States. They were working within limitations, but nearly a fourth of the prisoners currently incarcerated in Mexico had been found guilty of drug-related crimes. Seizures, arrests, and the numbers of people engaged in the war against narcotics and the number of people killed in that effort were all evidence of the Mexican commitment.

Trade

Secretary Sepulveda suggested that, in light of the little time available for the counterparts meeting before the Presidents adjourned their tete-a-tete, the meeting should move to trade.

Secretary Hernandez recalled that Ambassdor Yeutter and he had met many times and many places and the two countries had made remarkable achievements, as exemplified by the Textiles Agreement just signed. He said that Mexico must maintain a trade surplus in order to service its debt. He agreed with Secretary Shultz that cross border trade was only one part of the total bilateral trade, and that Mexico did indeed enjoy a surplus. He noted that there were no serious problems in the trade area between the two countries and that the delegations would meet later this month under the Framework Understanding. Already we had addressed issues of investment, patents and intellectual property, and he was hopeful that the two countries would soon extend the agreement on countervailing duties and subsidies. He said that Mexico would like U.S. views on Mexican adhesion to the GATT Subsidy Code. Mexico was not ready to negotiate a trade agreement along the lines of the recently negotiated U.S.-Canadian pact but the two countries could start discussing sectoral agreements. We had concluded important accords on steel, textiles, beer, and wine. Mexico was concerned about restrictive trade legislation now before the U.S. Congress and the GOM appreciated assurances from Ambassdor Yeutter that certain protectionist aspects of the proposed legislation were not acceptable to the U.S. administration. On graduation, he noted that the U.S. approach was that countries that had opened their markets would not have their benefits under GSP affected and therefore he expected the forthcoming GSP review to continue Mexico's GSP benefits. He appreciated very much the work that Ambassador Pilliod had done to facilitate trade cooperation.

Ambassador Yeutter said that he agreed with the remarks that Secretary Hernandez had made on bilateral trade issues and he particularly appreciated working with his Mexican counterpart. The Framework Agreement was off to a good start because it was doing what both sides had hoped it would. The two governments had cooperated on the Uruguay Round and Mexico had an ambassador in Geneva with whom we worked closely. He expressed condolences on the death Abel Garrido (the late Mexican trade negotiator). On cellular telephones, he expressed concern regarding Mexico's current work on standards; Japan and Sweden were working to promote their companies' products -- perhaps too vigorously in view of GATT commitments on the subject. He noted, too, that Proctor and Gamble was concerned about the pricing of its products under the current Mexican stabilization program which included price controls; a more timely price response to inflation was needed. Ambassador Yeutter opined that perhaps the most difficult problem in the trade area was on intellectual property; if the two countries could make some progress on that issue, the United States could try to do more for Mexico under the Generalized System of Preferences. With the graduation recently of four Asian newly industrialized countries, Mexico had become the largest beneficiary under the US GSP program. It could do even better should progress on intellectual property permit improved American treatment of imports from Mexico.

UNHRC RESOLUTION ON CHILE AND REMINDED AMBASSADOR WALTERS OF MEXICO'S STRONG REPUDIATION OF THE CHILEAN RESOLUTION ON THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN MEXICO AT THE 42ND UNGA. MOYA CITED THE CHILEAN RESOLUTION AS AN EXAMPLE OF THE SPURIOUS POLITICIZATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS DISCUSSION AT THE UN. HE CITED THIS AS A REASON THE GOM WOULD MAINTAIN LAST YEAR'S STANCE ON THE CUBA RESOLUTION. HE THEN REQUESTED THE U.S. TO CONSIDER THE CHILE RESOLUTION "SERIOUSLY." SUBJECT: SITREP NUMBER 22 - FINAL WRAP-UP

REF: MEXICO 3075

1. THIS IS THE FINAL WRAP-UP CABLE IN OUR SERIES OF SIT-REPS CONCERNING THE FEBRUARY 13 MEETING IN MAZATLAN BETWEEN PRESIDENTS RONALD REAGAN AND MIGUEL DE LA MADRID.

2. SUMMARY: FROM THE PERSPECTIVE OF THE U.S. EMBASSY IN MEXICO, THE VISIT WAS SUCCESSFUL AND ACCOMPLISHED ITS MAJOR GOALS. WE HAVE EMERGED FROM THIS MEETING WITH RELATIONS BETWEEN THE TWO COUNTRIES AT THEIR HIGH POINT IN THE ADMINISTRATIONS OF PRESIDENTS REAGAN AND DE LA MADRID. MUCH INDEED HAS BEEN ACCOMPLISHED TO STRENGTHEN THE MEXICO-U.S. RELATIONSHIP OF WHICH BOTH PRESIDENTS AND BOTH COUNTRIES CAN BE JUSTIFIABLY PROUD. IN THE OPINION [redacted]

OF THIS EMBASSY, IF WE CAN MAINTAIN THESE POSITIVE FEELINGS AND THIS MUTUAL RESPECT AND AVOID ANY UNNECESSARY DE-STABILIZATION IN THE COMING MONTHS WE CAN VIRTUALLY ASSURE THAT THE NEXT PRESIDENT OF MEXICO WILL

UNCLASSIFIED

SELECT HIS CABINET MEMBERS FROM AMONG THOSE EXPERTS WHO WANT TO BUILD ON THE FOUNDATION WHICH THESE TWO LEADERS HAVE SET. END SUMMARY.

3. LOGISTICALLY ALL ARRANGEMENTS WERE SMOOTH. EMBASSY WOULD LIKE TO CONGRATULATE WHITE HOUSE LEAD ADVANCE STEVE TIEMANN WHO DID A MAGNIFICENT JOB, BOTH IN PLANNING ALL DETAILS OF THE VISIT, AND IN COORDINATING SMOOTHLY AND EFFECTIVELY WITH HIS MEXICAN COUNTERPARTS. THE COOPERATION WE RECEIVED FROM ALL LEVELS OF THE MEXICAN GOVERNMENT WAS OUTSTANDING. THEY OBVIOUSLY HAD TOP-DOWN INSTRUCTIONS TO BE FLEXIBLE AND FACILITATIVE. GOM PROTOCOL CHIEF AMBASSADOR PEDRO GONZALEZ RUBIO WAS PERSONALLY INVOLVED AND AVAILABLE TO MAKE DECISIONS OR TO GET FAST DECISIONS FROM MEXICO CITY AUTHORITIES WHEN NECESSARY.

4. SUBSTANTIVELY, ALTHOUGH THE COUNTERPART MEETING BEGAN ON A RATHER ACRIMONIOUS NOTE WITH SECRETARY SEPULVEDA DEPARTING FROM THE AGREED-UPON AGENDA TO EXPRESS HIS WISH TO DISCUSS THE TREATMENT OF MEXICANS IN THE U.S. AND BORDER LICENSING OF VEHICLES, SECRETARY SHULTZ RESTORED ORDER QUICKLY AND THE MEETING PROCEEDED AS PLANNED. PERHAPS FORTUITOUSLY, TIME WAS NOT SUFFICIENT TO DISCUSS ALL AGENDA ITEMS AND THE FOREIGN POLICY QUESTIONS WERE NOT DEALT WITH AT THE COUNTERPART LEVEL.

5. WHILE WE HAVE NOT HAD ACCESS TO THE DETAILED NOTES FROM THE TETE-A-TETE, AMBASSADOR PILLIOD, WHO ATTENDED [redacted]

THE DEBRIEFING WITH THE PRESIDENT, REPORTED THAT THE TWO PRESIDENTS DISCUSSED DRUGS, THE MEXICAN ECONOMIC SOLIDARITY PACT, THE ZERO COUPON BOND SWAP AND IMMIGRATION REFORM. PRESIDENT REAGAN MADE CLEAR TO PRESIDENT DE LA MADRID OUR DEDICATION TO PEACE IN CENTRAL AMERICA, OUR CONTINUING SUPPORT FOR THE DEMOCRATIC RESISTANCE IN NICARAGUA, AND OUR CONCERNS THAT MEXICAN POLICY IS TOO ONE-SIDEDLY PRO-SANDINISTA. THE PRESIDENT REPORTED THAT PRESIDENT DE LA MADRID DID NOT RESPOND TO THE CHARACTERIZATION OF MEXICAN POLICY. PRESIDENT REAGAN INDICATED THAT HE WAS SURPRISED BY PRESIDENT DE LA MADRID'S STRONG STATEMENT ON DRUG TRAFFICKING AND CONSUMPTION.

6. COVERAGE OF THE VISIT BY THE MEXICAN MEDIA WAS EXTENSIVE, PROMINENT AND POSITIVE. USIS HAS SENT DAILY

MEDIA REACTION CABLES INDICATING THE SCOPE AND DEPTH OF THE REACTION. SUFFICE IT TO MENTION HERE THREE COLUMNS FROM THREE LARGE CIRCULATION NEWSPAPERS ONE ON THE LEFT - UNO-MAS-UNO, ONE IN THE MIDDLE LEFT--EXCELSIOR, AND ONE IN THE MIDDLE RIGHT- EL SOL. LEFTIST NATIONALIST UNOMASUNO'S FEBRUARY 14 EDITORIAL SAID "IT SHOULD BE STRESSED THAT PROGRESS HAS BEEN ACHIEVED IN ECONOMIC AND FINANCIAL COOPERATION...ALL OF THIS IN THE CONTEXT OF THE REAGAN-DE LA MADRID RELATIONSHIP, MAINTAINED IN A CLIMATE OF CORDIALITY, DIGNITY AND MUTUAL RESPECT." EXCELSIOR'S COLUMNIST GARCIA SOLER NOTED "THE IMPORTANT THING IS THAT THE PRESIDENTS OF TWO NEIGHBORING AND SO DIFFERENT NATIONS CAN MEET, WITHOUT THINKING THAT THE WEAK ONE IS TOLD WHAT TO DO, OR THAT AUTONOMY CAN BE SUPPORTED ONLY BY OPEN AND NOISY CONFRONTATION." 2. THE FOLLOWING POSITION PAPER, DRAWN FROM AN ACTION MEMORANDUM APPROVED BY THE SECRETARY IS FOR USDEL'S USE FOR AGENDA ITEM 5 AND 12 AT THE 44TH SESSION OF THE UNHRC. SELECTED INFO POSTS LATER MAY BE CALLED UPON TO PRESENT TO HOST GOVERNMENTS U.S. VIEWS CONCERNING CHILE, DRAWING UPON THE TALKING ELEMENTS BELOW.

4. PROBLEM:

HOW CAN THE U.S. BEST ACHIEVE A BALANCED RESOLUTION REFLECTIVE OF THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR'S REPORTS WHICH THE U.S. COULD SUPPORT ON THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE

5. RELATIVE IMPORTANCE TO THE U.S.:

PASSING A BALANCED RESOLUTION ON THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN CHILE IN LARGE PART BASED ON THE RAPPORTEUR'S REPORTS IS OF GREAT IMPORTANCE TO THE U.S.

6. U.S. POSITION:

PASSAGE OF A BALANCED RESOLUTION ON CHILE BASED ON THE REPORTS OF THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR WOULD ENHANCE THE CREDIBILITY OF THE U.S. HUMAN RIGHTS POSITION AND ENCOURAGE THE RESTORATION OF DEMOCRACY IN CHILE. BY SUPPORTING SUCH A RESOLUTION, THE U.S. WOULD UNDERCUT THE EFFORTS OF THE FAR LEFT TO TAKE THE INITIATIVE ON CHILE AND ISOLATE THE U.S. FROM OTHER DEMOCRATIC COUNTRIES AT THIS KEY MOMENT IN CHILEAN POLITICAL HISTORY.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~
~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

IN 1988 AS NEVER BEFORE, THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT, MILITARY, AND OPPOSITION ARE WATCHING US CLOSELY FOR ANY SHIFT THAT SUGGESTS WE MIGHT BE WAVERING IN OUR CONVICTION THAT THE TIME TO RETURN TO DEMOCRACY IS NOW, OR THAT WE ARE LESS CONCERNED ABOUT HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE THAN BEFORE. OUR YES VOTE ON A BALANCED RESOLUTION WOULD BE WELL REGARDED BY EUROPE, LATIN AMERICAN MODERATES AND CHILEAN DEMOCRATS AND WOULD MAINTAIN THE CONSISTENCY OF THE U.S. POLICY ON HUMAN RIGHTS.

EQUALLY IMPORTANT, NEGOTIATING A FAVORABLE RESOLUTION ON CHILE THAT WE CAN SUPPORT COULD ASSIST OUR EFFORT TO PASS A RESOLUTION ON CUBA. WHILE THE U.S. RECOGNIZES THE IMPORTANT DIFFERENCES BETWEEN THE CASE OF CHILE AND THAT OF CUBA, THE U.S. NEEDS TO REMAIN UNCOMPROMISING

CONFIDENTIAL
THE DEMAND FOR RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS AND FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS IN BOTH COUNTRIES.

7. INSTRUCTIONS:

USDEL UNHRC SHOULD RAISE THIS MATTER AT THE NEXT MEETING OF THE WESTERN GROUP AND OTHERS (WEOG).

USDEL SHOULD STRONGLY URGE INTERESTED WEOGS TO WORK TO PRODUCE AN ACCEPTABLE, BALANCED TEXT AT THE EARLIST OPPORTUNITY, AND REPORT PROMPTLY BY CABLE AS TO DEVELOPMENTS ON THIS ISSUE.

USDEL MAY NOT, REPEAT NOT, INTRODUCE A RESOLUTION ON CHILE; IT SHOULD, HOWEVER, DRAW UPON THE FOLLOWING "SUGGESTED ELEMENTS FOR A CHILE HUMAN RIGHTS

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~
~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

RESOLUTION" GIVEN IN PARAGRAPH 10 IN TALKING WITH OTHER DELEGATIONS TO ENCOURAGE ACHIEVEMENT OF A BALANCED RESOLUTION WHICH THE U.S. COULD SUPPORT.

8. BACKGROUND:

THE MEXICAN DELEGATION TRADITIONALLY HAS INTRODUCED RESOLUTIONS ON CHILE IN THE UNGA AND IN THE UNHRC. THE U.S., IN THE PAST, FOUND THESE RESOLUTIONS UNBALANCED AND VOTED AGAINST THEM. AT THE 1986 SESSION OF THE UNHRC, THE COMMISSION UNANIMOUSLY ADOPTED A TEXT DRAWN TO A LARGE DEGREE FROM THE U.S. DRAFT RESOLUTION ON CHILE. AT THE 1987 SESSION, THE U.S. DID NOT PRESENT A DRAFT RESOLUTION ON CHILE, BUT OUR DELEGATION UNDERTOOK LONG NEGOTATIONS THAT MODIFIED MEXICO'S TEXT SUFFICIENTLY TO ALLOW FOR CONSENSUS ADOPTION.

SINCE 1978, THE COMMISSION HAS DESIGNATED A SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR FOR CHILE AND THE CURRENT RAPPORTEUR, FERNANDO VOLIO OF COSTA RICA, A STAUNCH DEFENDER OF DEMOCRACY, HAS CONSISTANTLY PROVIDED BALANCED AND FACTUAL REPORTS ON THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN CHILE AND HAS PERSONALLY INTERVENED IN SOME HUMAN RIGHTS CASES.

9. TALKING POINTS:

UNCLASSIFIED
CONFIDENTIAL

UNCLASSIFIED
CONFIDENTIAL
WHILE THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE REMAINS UNSATISFACTORY, THE U.S. IS ENCOURAGED BY THE REPORT OF THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR INDICATING THAT THE NUMBER OF POLITICAL EXILES HAS DECLINED, THAT SOME PROGRESS HAS BEEN MADE IN LIMITING ABUSES BY SECURITY FORCES, AND THAT RESTRICTIONS ON THE MEDIA HAVE BEEN SOMEWHAT EASED. IT IS IMPORTANT, THEREFORE, THAT THE COMMISSION'S EVENTUAL RESOLUTION THIS YEAR REFLECT AS MUCH AS POSSIBLE THE RAPPORTEUR'S CONCLUSIONS AND

CONFIDENTIAL
CONFIDENTIAL

RECOMMENDATIONS.

A BALANCED RESOLUTION SHOULD EXPRESS CONCERN OVER HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS COMMITTED BY BOTH THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT AND FAR LEFT AND FAR RIGHT TERRORIST GROUPS.

10. SUGGESTED ELEMENTS FOR A CHILE HUMAN RIGHTS RESOLUTION:

A). POINTS FOR PREAMBLE:

HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION'S RESPONSIBILITY TO PROMOTE AND ENCOURAGE RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS AND FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS; ITS DETERMINATION TO REMAIN VIGILANT WITH REGARD TO VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS WHEREVER THEY OCCUR.

CHILEAN GOVERNMENT'S OBLIGATION TO RESPECT AND PROTECT HUMAN RIGHTS IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE INTERNATIONAL INSTRUMENTS TO WHICH CHILE IS A PARTY, AN OBLIGATION WHICH IS NOT DIFFERENT FROM THAT OF ANY OTHER GOVERNMENT WHICH IS A PARTY TO INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS INSTRUMENTS.

SUCCESSIVE UNHRC RESOLUTIONS ON THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE SHOULD BE CITED, AND IN PARTICULAR RESOLUTION 11 (XXXV) OF 6 MARCH 1979, BY WHICH THE COMMISSION APPOINTED A SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR; AND RESOLUTION 1987/60 (MARCH 12, 1987), IN WHICH THE COMMISSION AGREED MOST RECENTLY TO EXTEND THE MANDATE OF THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR FOR ONE MORE YEAR, AND TO GIVE HIGH PRIORITY TO THE STUDY OF THIS ISSUE.

UNCLASSIFIED
UNCLASSIFIED

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY ALSO EXPRESSED CONCERN ON THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE, IN RESOLUTION A/RES/42/147 (DECEMBER 7, 1987), WHICH INVITED THE COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS TO TAKE THE MOST APPROPRIATE STEPS FOR THE EFFECTIVE RESTORATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS IN CHILE, INCLUDING THE MAINTENANCE OF THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR.

B). POINTS FOR OPERATIVE LANGUAGE:

COMMEND THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR FOR HIS REPORT ON THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE.

THE GOVERNMENT OF CHILE HAS PERMITTED THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR TO ENTER THE COUNTRY AND PROVIDED THE COOPERATION AND FREEDOM OF ACCESS TO PERSONS OF ALL SOCIAL, POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC INTERESTS NECESSARY FOR HIS INVESTIGATIONS. THIS IS A POSITIVE ELEMENT.

THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT HAS NOW SIGNED THE UNITED NATIONS AND ORGANIZATION OF AMERICAN STATES CONVENTIONS ON TORTURE. THIS TOO IS A POSITIVE STEP, BUT THE GOVERNMENT SHOULD ALSO BE URGED TO RATIFY THOSE CONVENTIONS AND PUBLISH ITS RATIFICATION IN THE DIARIO OFICIAL, AND THEN TO IMPLEMENT THEM FULLY.

SIGNIFICANT HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS IN CHILE NEVERTHELESS PERSIST, AS DESCRIBED IN THE REPORT OF THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR (REFERS TO AGGRAVATED HOMICIDES ALLEGEDLY COMMITTED BY PERSONS SUBJECT TO MILITARY JURISDICTION, TORTURE AND ABUSES BY SECURITY FORCES, ACTS OF OFFICIAL AND PRIVATE VIOLENCE, INCLUDING TERRORISM, THE PRECARIOUS SITUATION OF THE CHILEAN MEDIA, AND THE SUPPRESSION OF FUNDAMENTAL RIGHTS AND FREEDOMS THROUGH THE MAINTENANCE OF ARBITRARY EXECUTIVE POWERS DURING STATES OF EMERGENCY). THESE ARE ALL

CAUSE FOR CONTINUING CONCERN.

UNCLASSIFIED

ANOTHER SUBJECT OF CONCERN IS THE KIDNAPPINGS AND OTHER ACTS OF VIOLENCE WHICH HAVE OCCURRED IN THE ATMOSPHERE OF INSECURITY EXISTING IN CHILE; THESE ACTS OF VIOLENCE, COMING FROM WHATEVER POLITICAL EXTREME, FURTHER POLARIZE EXISTING DIVISIONS.

WE SHOULD ALSO CALL ATTENTION TO THE SUFFERING IMPOSED ON VICTIMS OF TERRORISM.

A LEGAL AND POLITICAL STRUCTURE, BASED ON THE CONSENT OF THE GOVERNED, EMERGING FROM A CIVILIZED AND CONSTRUCTIVE NATIONAL DIALOGUE, REPRESENTATIVE OF THE WILL OF THE PEOPLE AS EXPRESSED IN FREE ELECTIONS, AND RESPECTING THE FULL EXERCISE OF LEGAL RIGHTS IS ESSENTIAL TO THE FULL OBSERVANCE OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE, AS IN ANY OTHER NATION.

IT IS IMPORTANT TO ENCOURAGE THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT SPECIFICALLY TO CONTINUE STEPS TO FACILITATE THE REGISTRATION OF THE LARGEST POSSIBLE NUMBER OF VOTERS AND TO EASE FURTHER LEGAL RESTRICTIONS ON THE FORMATION OF POLITICAL PARTIES AND THEIR PARTICIPATION IN THE ELECTORAL PROCESS.

SIMILARLY, THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT SHOULD TAKE ALL POSSIBLE STEPS TO BROADEN AND GUARANTEE THE RIGHT OF POLITICAL PARTIES TO CAMPAIGN PEACEFULLY.

IT SHOULD ALSO TAKE STEPS WHICH WOULD LEAD TO THE RETURN TO FULL DEMOCRACY UNDER A CIVILIAN GOVERNMENT CHOSEN IN A FAIR, FREE AND OPEN ELECTION.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~
~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

WE SHOULD RECOGNIZE POSITIVE STEPS UNDERTAKEN BY THE GOVERNMENT, INCLUDING THE ACTIVITIES OF THE ADVISORY COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS WITHIN THE MINISTRY OF THE INTERIOR, AND THE PERMISSION GRANTED TO NUMEROUS INTERNATIONAL FIGURES AND GROUPS TO ENTER CHILE TO GATHER INFORMATION ON HUMAN RIGHTS CONDITIONS.

BUT WE SHOULD EXPRESS SPECIAL CONCERN OVER THE FAILURE OF THE AUTHORITATIVE INSTITUTIONS TO ENSURE THE

UNCLASSIFIED

THOROUGH INVESTIGATION AND PROSECUTION OF THE MANY UNSOLVED CASES OF MURDER, KIDNAPPING AND TORTURE AS WELL AS THE MANY CASES OF DISAPPEARANCES.

WE SHOULD URGE THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT TO:

-- RESPECT HUMAN RIGHTS FULLY AND TO RE-ESTABLISH DEMOCRATIC INSTITUTIONS AND THE PRINCIPLE OF LEGALITY IN CONFORMITY WITH THE UNIVERSAL DECLARATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS, WHICH ARE ESSENTIAL TO THE EFFECTIVE ENJOYMENT AND EXERCISE OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS AND ARE IN THE BEST DEMOCRATIC TRADITION OF CHILE.

-- REVERSE THE TREND TOWARD GREATER JURISDICATION OF MILITARY COURTS IN CRIMINAL CASES AND RE-ESTABLISH TRADITIONAL CIVIL COURT JURISDICTION.

-- RETURN CHILE TO THE RULE OF LAW BY REVOKING ALL STATES OF EXCEPTION, BEGINNING WITH THE STATE OF EMERGENCY.

-- TAKE AT LEAST THE FOLLOWING STEPS, IN CONFORMITY WITH THE SPECIFICALLY LABELLED RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR AND THOSE SET FORTH ELSEWHERE IN THAT DOCUMENT, AND ADOPT THE MEASURES NECESSARY AND CONDUCIVE THERETO:

PROVIDE FOR THE PROTECTION OF PUBLIC ORDER AGAINST ACTS OF VIOLENCE BY PUNISHING PERSONS FOUND TO HAVE BEEN GUILTY OF SUCH ACTS, THROUGH THE EXERCISE OF DUE PROCESS OF LAW AND RESPECT FOR THE RIGHTS OF THE ACCUSED, WITHOUT USING TERRORISM AS A JUSTIFICATION FOR ANY ABUSE OF AUTHORITY.

ALLOW THE RETURN OF ALL CHILEAN CITIZENS NOW LIVING ABROAD WHO WISH TO RETURN, AND RECOGNIZE THEIR CONTINUING RIGHT TO ENTER AND LEAVE FREELY, ACKNOWLEDGING THAT THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT HAS MADE PROGRESS IN THIS REGARD DURING 1987.

PERMIT, AS PART OF AN EFFORT TO STRENGTHEN THE ALREADY EXISTING WIDE DIVERSITY OF POLITICAL OPINION EXPRESSED IN CHILEAN MEDIA, INCREASED ACCESS TO THE MEDIA, PARTICULARLY TELEVISION MEDIA, BY ALL POLITICAL GROUPS COMMITTED TO DEMOCRACY AND NON-VIOLENCE.

RESPECT ACTIVITIES RELATED TO THE DEFENSE AND PROMOTION OF HUMAN RIGHTS.

ENSURE THAT THE COOPERATION BETWEEN THE SECURITY FORCES AND THE INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE OF THE RED CROSS, UNDER THE TERMS OF THE ACCORDS REACHED AMONG THEM, BE INCREASINGLY EXPANDED.

ADOPT AND IMPLEMENT THE CONSTITUTIONAL FUNDAMENTAL ACTS RELATING TO VOTING RIGHTS, PARTICULARLY THE FUNDAMENTAL ELECTORAL ACT.

THE COMMISSION SHOULD EXTEND THE MANDATE OF THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR FOR ONE YEAR AND REQUEST HIM TO REPORT ON THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE TO THE GENERAL

IT SHOULD ALSO RECOMMEND TO THE ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL COUNCIL THAT IT MAKE APPROPRIATE ARRANGEMENTS TO ENSURE THAT THE NECESSARY FINANCIAL RESOURCES AND SUFFICIENT STAFF ARE PROVIDED TO IMPLEMENT THE PRESENT RESOLUTION.

FINALLY, THE COMMISSION SHOULD DECIDE TO CONSIDER, UNDER THE AGENDA ITEM "QUESTION OF THE VIOLATION OF

Dear Secretary Fox,

Recently, I was contacted by Dr. Jan Zahrly expressing concern over a human rights case in Chile. Dr. Zahrly is particularly concerned with the recent death threats to Miguel Angel Alfaro and German Oschsenius. I am enclosing a copy of the constituent's correspondence for your information.

I find this matter disturbing and would appreciate it if you could investigate the concerns raised in the attached letter. Please direct any questions or correspondence to Denise Sullivan Pernick of my staff, at SD-105 Dirksen Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

Donald W. Riegle, Jr.

BRIEFING PAPER

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

POINT PAPER: MEXICO -- NARCOTICS

OVERVIEW:--NARCOTICS IN MEXICO

-- Mexico is the largest single foreign supplier of marijuana and heroin to the United States; one third of the cocaine consumed in the United States transits Mexico.

-- Congress, unsatisfied with Mexico's efforts, threatens to impose sanctions provided in the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1986.

-- Intimidation and corruption by traffickers remain problems.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

-- Eradication results against marijuana and opium poppy in 1986 and 1987 improved but production is spreading and increasing.

  - o Efforts to remedy aviation asset mismanagement, and alleviate pilot shortage are slow.

-- Mexican drug arrests and cocaine seizures are up in 1987 but significant enforcement efforts usually occur because of DEA intelligence or presence.

  - o Trials in the Camarena and Cortez cases are perceived to be proceeding too slowly.

-- Mexican Senate has ratified the Mutual Legal Assistance Treaty (MLAT) that we signed in December.

  - o Mexico has turned over many non-Mexicans to U.S. enforcement authorities but has never used the U.S.-Mexico Extradition Treaty.

-- As an adjunct of the U.S. anti-drug border effort, Operation Alliance, Mexico has agreed to plan joint operations in which each country will operate on its respective side of the border but has refused a proposal for joint overflights for purposes of radar detection and interdiction of drug-smuggling planes.

WHAT NEEDS TO BE DONE

-- De la Madrid must be convinced that narcotics trafficking poses a significant threat to Mexican political stability.

-- Emphasis should be on building a mechanism to transmit high level political will effectively to the working level.

  - o The Mexican President should be urged to create a high-level autonomous oversight commission to monitor the effectiveness and integrity of drug programs and personnel.

POINT PAPER: MEXICAN IMMIGRATION

OVERVIEW

Immigration, legal and illegal, has a major impact on U.S.-Mexican relations. The U.S. issues more immigrant visas to Mexican nationals than to citizens of any other country -- 55,000 in FY 87. Visitors visas totalled nearly a half a million in the same period.

To cope with the twin issues of illegal immigration and the need for Mexican agricultural laborers, the Congress passed the Immigration Reform and Control Act (IRCA) of 1986. Both the Executive Branch and a Congressional Commission headed by former Ambassador Diego Asencio have discussed implementation of the new law with senior Mexican officials. While Mexico welcomes the safety valve and dollar remittances of Mexican workers in the U.S., the GOM is chary of appearing to encourage immigration.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS: THE IMMIGRATION REFORM AND CONTROL ACT (IRCA)

-- The Government of Mexico (GOM) is concerned about the impact of IRCA legislation on its economy. Of special interest to the GOM are:

-- The Special Agricultural Worker (SAW) and H-2A temporary agricultural worker programs. Both are designed to provide farm labor in the U.S. One program (SAWs) is designed to lead to permanent residence while the other does not. 146,000 Mexicans have applied for SAW status; only a few thousand for H-2A's. The GOM favors the H-2A program because they fear the SAW program will result in the permanent loss of skilled manpower in Mexico.

-- Legalization provisions under IRCA have benefited more than a half million illegal Mexicans. The effect of the new law has been to regularize their status.

WHAT NEEDS TO BE DONE

-- Fuller implementation of IRCA will be mutually beneficial to both Governments. We recommend you:

- o Indicate the USG is prepared to consult with the GOM on any immigration matter arising out of IRCA that could cause friction between our two countries.
- o Point out that the legislation has not resulted in massivedeportation of Mexicans but rather legal status for many.
- o Emphasize that the special agricultural programs in IRCA can provide significant foreign exchange for Mexico from remittances by Mexican nationals legally in the U.S.

POINT PAPER: MUTUAL LEGAL ASSISTANCE TREATY

OVERVIEW: MUTUAL LEGAL ASSISTANCE TREATIES AND US AGENDA

-- Mutual legal assistance treaties ("MLATS") are an important law enforcement tool, developed over the past 10-20 years. They establish mechanisms by which the Justice Department of one country will help obtain within its territory evidence, records, witness testimony, etc. needed by the law enforcement authorities in the other country.

-- The MLAT with Mexico has been a USG priority since the late 1970's; it is particularly important because Mexico is a border state and, a major narcotics producing and transit state. It is the first Latin American country with which the US has negotiated an MLAT.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

-- The Mutual Legal Assistance Treaty was signed in Mexico City in December 1987 and ratified by the Mexican Congress on December 29.

-- You recently transmitted the MLAT to the US Senate for its consideration (at White House as of 1/28).

WHAT NEEDS TO BE DONE

-- The Administration has made obtaining Senate advice and consent to the MLAT a top priority, after consideration of the INF treaty.

-- Some Senators may balk at giving advice and consent to the MLAT because they perceive a lack of GOM cooperation in other areas of anti-narcotics trafficking cooperation, and do not believe Mexico will implement the MLAT in good faith. GOM cooperation in narcotics matters across the board in the coming months will assist the Administration in convincing the Senate that the MLAT should be approved because it will be an important tool in anti-trafficking cooperation.

o Of particular importance would be the extradition to the United States of major traffickers, such as Veronica Kiera-Wahl, and other criminals, including Puerto Rican terrorist William Guillermo Morales under the existing bilateral extradition treaty. Although Mexico has expelled numerous criminals to the US informally it has never extradited anyone to the United States under the 1979 Extradition Treaty. Senate critics point to this record as evidence that Mexico will not meet its obligations under the new MLAT.

POINT PAPER: POPULATION

I. OVERVIEW

-- Mexico hosted the 1984 International Conference on Population, and President de la Madrid addressed it.

-- Mexico is the eleventh most populous country, with 81.9 million people. Population is expected to be about 104 million by 2000.

-- Urban population is a staggering 70 percent. Mexico City's estimated population of 18 million (23 percent of the total population) is increasing at 3.5 percent annually.

-- Official policy is to decrease population growth chiefly by modifying fertility through voluntary family planning.

-- Population policy is considered a fundamental instrument for development and a highly effective health measure.

II. RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

-- The GOM now spends $85-90 million annually on its population programs which serve as a model for many developing countries.

-- The population growth rate dropped from 3.7 percent in 1974 to about 2 percent in 1987. The GOM's goal is a further reduction to 1.9 percent in 1988 and to 1.0 percent by 2000.

-- The GOM credits its family planning programs for a 43 percent drop in the illegal abortion rate over the last 10 years.

-- In spite of successful programs, about one half of the population currently is under 15 years of age. Unemployment is high; almost a million persons enter the workforce annually and the current labor force of 28 million will double in 10-14 years.

III. WHAT NEEDS TO BE DONE

-- President de la Madrid is a strong supporter of family planning and is proud of his role in the success of Mexico's population programs.

o We should recognize his support and the programs' success.

-- In 1987 the United States contributed approximately $7 million to Mexico's family planning effort.

o The U.S. should continue its assistance to Mexico's family planning efforts.

E.O. 12356: DECL:OADR
TAGS: PHUM, UNHRC-1, CI
SUBJECT: CHILEAN AMBASSADOR CHARGES THAT OUR ANNUAL COUNTRY REPORT ON HUMAN RIGHTS FOR CHILE IS AN EFFORT TO DESTABILIZE THE GOVERNMENT

1. SUMMARY: GOC AMBASSADOR ERRAZURIZ, IN DISCUSSIONS WITH HA A/S SCHIFTER FEBRUARY 16, ASSERTED THAT THE 1987 COUNTRY REPORT ON CHILE IS FILLED WITH ERRORS, FAILS TO NOTE IMPROVEMENTS, AND IS AN EFFORT TO DESTABILIZE THE GOC. SCHIFTER REFUTED ERRAZURIZ'S ALLEGATIONS AND SAID HE WOULD STUDY ANY WRITTEN CRITIQUE WHICH THE GOC EMBASSY WILL PREPARE. ERRAZURIZ ALSO COMPLAINED ABOUT LACK OF U.S. SUPPORT FOR MOVING THE CONSIDERATION OF CHILE FROM AGENDA ITEM 5 TO 12 AT THE UNHRC. END SUMMARY

2. DURING A MEETING WITH A/S SCHIFTER ON FEBRUARY 16 IN THE HUMAN RIGHTS BUREAU, CHILEAN AMBASSADOR ERRAZURIZ SAID THAT THE 1987 COUNTRY REPORT ON HUMAN RIGHTS IS

CONFIDENTIAL
UNCLASSIFIED

"NON-CONSTRUCTIVE," FILLED WITH ERRORS, AND FAILS TO REFLECT IMPROVEMENTS MADE DURING 1987. THE GOC, HE SAID, SEES THE REPORT AS AN EFFORT TO DESTABILIZE THE GOVERNMENT. THE NET EFFECT OF THIS "NEGATIVE" REPORT HAS FRUSTRATED THE VERY GOC OFFICIALS WHO WERE INSTRUMENTAL IN IMPROVING HUMAN RIGHTS. ERRAZURIZ ADDED THAT THE COUNTRY REPORT IS IN SHARP CONTRAST TO UN RAPPORTEUR VOLIO'S REPORT WHICH PRESENTS A MORE POSITIVE PICTURE OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION. ERRAZURIZ CITED THE REPORT'S OVERALL LENGTH AS AN EXAMPLE OF THE UNFAIR TREATMENT OF CHILE. (FYI: THE CHILE REPORT AT 18 PAGES IS THE MOST LENGTHY IN ARA. END FYI) SCHIFTER CONCEDED THE POINT ON LENGTH AND SAID THAT WE WILL ADDRESS THIS IMBALANCE IN NEXT YEAR'S COUNTRY REPORT.

3. SCHIFTER RESPONDED TO THE REST OF ERRAZURIZ'S ALLEGATIONS BY READING KEY PASSAGES FROM THE REPORT TO DEMONSTRATE THAT IT DOES, IN FACT, LIST IMPROVEMENTS AND URGED ERRAZURIZ TO EXAMINE THE REPORT CAREFULLY. ERRAZURIZ AGREED TO PREPARE A DETAILED CRITIQUE OF THE COUNTRY REPORT CITING POSSIBLE ERRORS AND OTHER COMPLAINTS. ERRAZURIZ SAID HIS FULL-TIME EMBASSY HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICER WOULD PREPARE AN UNOFFICIAL CRITIQUE FOR OUR COMMENTS. SCHIFTER TOLD ERRAZURIZ THAT IF HE WOULD RE-EXAMINE THE REPORT, HE WILL SEE THAT IT DOES LIST IMPROVEMENTS AND TAKES GREAT CARE TO LIST TERRORIST ACTIVITIES AS WELL. SCHIFTER ADDED THAT HE ALSO HIGHLIGHTS CHILE'S POSITIVE EFFORTS IN HUMAN RIGHTS IN HIS PUBLIC APPEARANCES AND IN CONVERSATIONS WITH FOREIGN GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS.

4. WITH CONSIDERABLE EMOTION, ERRAZURIZ SAID THAT HE

HAD NOW LOST HIS PERSONAL CREDIBILITY WITH HIS OWN GOVERNMENT BECAUSE OF THE "NEGATIVE" REPORT. HUMAN RIGHTS, HE ARGUED, IS THE CAUSE FOR THE DETERIORATION OF U.S.-CHILEAN RELATIONS AS EVIDENCED BY OUR ABSTENTION AT THE WORLD BANK, THE SUSPENSION OF GSP AND OPIC GUARANTEES, AND THE LACK OF SUPPORT FOR CONSIDERATION OF CHILE UNDER ITEM 5 AT THE UNHRC. IN ERRAZURIZ'S VIEW,

ALMOST ALL LEVERAGE THE USG ONCE HAD OVER CHILE IS NOW GONE. ERRAZURIZ SAID THAT HE BELIEVES SCHIFTER IS PERSONALLY COMMITTED TO HUMAN RIGHTS AND EXPRESSED APPRECIATION FOR HIS EFFORTS. THE CHILEAN PEOPLE ONLY SEE THE END RESULT OF THE PRESSURE WHICH IS THE DETERIORATION OF U.S.-CHILE RELATIONS.

5. SCHIFTER NOTED THAT SOME ADMINISTRATION MOVES HAVE TAKEN CONGRESSIONAL PRESSURE OFF CHILE. HE REMINDED ERRAZURIZ THAT THE GOC MUST TAKE RESPONSIBILITY FOR SOME OF ITS PROBLEMS WHICH INCLUDED VERY POOR PUBLIC RELATIONS, ESPECIALLY IN CONGRESSIONAL CIRCLES. ERRAZURIZ TOOK THE POINT.

6. ERRAZURIZ EXPRESSED CONSIDERABLE IRRITATION AT THE LACK OF SUPPORT BY THE USDEL AT THE UNHRC FOR MOVING THE

CONSIDERATION OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE FROM AGENDA ITEM FIVE TO ITEM 12. SCHIFTER REPLIED THAT THE U.S. POSITION WAS TO SUPPORT THE MOVE IF PROPOSED BY ANOTHER DELEGATION BUT NOT TO INITIATE THE CHANGE. ERRAZURIZ SAID THAT, IN HIS VIEW, THE USDEL UNDERCUT THE POSSIBILITY FOR A CHANGE BY MAKING IT KNOWN THAT THE U.S. WAS NOT IN FAVOR OF THE MOVE.

7. SUMMARY: IT APPEARS TO US THAT ERRAZURIZ HAD ONLY GLANCED AT THE COUNTRY REPORT AND WAS REFLECTING INJURED PRIDE RATHER THAN A STUDIED ASSESSMENT OF THE REPORT. WHEN PRESSED, HE COULD NOT PROVIDE SPECIFIC EXAMPLES TO

POINT PAPER: FINANCIAL AND DEBT SITUATION

OVERVIEW: FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC DEBT SITUATION

-- Mexico, with its $106 billion in debt, is the LDC second only to Brazil in the size of its external debt. Interest payments alone ($8 billion) in 1987 equalled an estimated 36% of merchandise export earnings.

-- The Mexican government's domestic debt is of serious concern as well--debt service amounts to several times that of the foreign debt and is now the primary cause of increasing budget deficits and inflation. It is largely held by Mexicans and must be continuously rolled over on a term of less than one month at extremely high interest rates in order to attract investors trying to keep up with inflation and reduce capital flight.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

-- Mexico's current IMF program ends in March, 1988, as does availability of the new money provided by the commercial banks under the 1987 rescheduling agreement. On both fronts Mexico has done well and, in view of its level of reserves, is unlikely to need another IMF program or commercial rescheduling this year.

-- Mexico's recent foreign debt exchange offer is an innovative, market-based approach to alleviating voluntarily the problems between debtor countries and their private creditors. The principal of the Mexican bonds is to be collateralized by a special U.S. Treasury 20-year zero-coupon bond issue. Mexico would buy the Treasury bonds by using up to $1.8 billion of its reserves.

WHAT NEEDS TO BE DONE

-- Since private investment capital could provide Mexico with an alternative to debt for financing economic development, we believe that Mexico should actively solicit foreign direct investment.

SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY (S&T) COOPERATION WITH MEXICO

OVERVIEW

- - Extensive S&T cooperative effort with Mexico is important focus of our bilateral relationship.

- - We are engaged in mutually beneficial cooperation across a broad range of scientific and technological areas, including energy, transportation, biomedical sciences, nuclear safety, and agriculture.

- - Cooperation has taken place primarily through technical agencies and has had positive impact on our bilateral political and economic relationships.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

- - We and the Mexicans have agreed to restructure the Mixed S&T Commission, which in the past has been less than fully effective due to excessively bureaucratic procedures, under the Department of State and the Mexican Foreign Ministry.

- - The Mixed Commission will focus on policy and general cooperation areas with specific project management activities delegated to technical agencies on both sides.

- - The reorganized Mixed Commission is scheduled to meet March 22-24 in Mexico City.

WHAT NEEDS TO BE DONE

- - Presidential Summit should give positive impetus to continued S&T cooperation with Mexico.

- - Point to upcoming session of the reconstituted S&T Mixed Commission in Mexico City next month as example of bilateral cooperation which has both technical and economic benefits for both sides.

CHILE: SCHIFTER NOTED THAT THE U.S. SUPPORTS A RESOLUTION CRITICAL OF CHILE, AS LONG AS IT IS BALANCED WITH RECOGNITION OF THOSE IMPROVEMENTS WHICH HAVE TAKEN PLACE, AS REFLECTED IN THE REPORT OF SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR VOLIO. THE MEXICANS ALWAYS PREPARE AN EXTREME DRAFT REFLECTING THE VIEWS OF CHILEAN COMMUNIST EXILES AND OUR WEOG FRIENDS USUALLY DO NOT PROPOSE A TEXT TO COUNTER THE MEXICANS. THE U.S. WILL BE CIRCULATING TEXT ELEMENTS IN GENEVA FOR A RESOLUTION WHICH WOULD ENCOURAGE DEMOCRATIC ELEMENTS IN CHILE, AND WE HOPE NORWAY WILL SUPPORT THIS BALANCED POSITION.

POINT PAPER: Energy Issues

OVERVIEW

-- Since the mid-1970s when Mexico became a major oil exporter, oil has played an increasingly significant role in Mexico's economy.

-- Throughout most of the 1980s, oil has accounted for about half of Mexico's hard currency earnings and between 25 and 40 percent of the government's revenues.

-- Nearly half of all Mexico's crude exports go to the U.S., making them our fourth largest supplier in 1987 providing over 600,000 barrels a day.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

-- A new two year agreement was signed November 30, between the U.S. and Mexico for continued Strategic Petroleum Reserve (SPR) crude supply.

-- Agreement calls for 65,000 barrels per day (U.S. Congress subsequently approved funding for 50,000 barrels a day) with a 10 percent upward or downward adjustment margin.

-- The Strategic Petroleum Reserve, as of the end of 1987, contains over 540 million barrels in storage, of which 215 million barrels, or 40 percent, were purchased from Mexico.

WHAT NEEDS TO BE DONE

-- Current U.S.-Mexico energy trade relations are excellent.

-- To maintain this excellent relationship it is crucial that Administration continue to oppose an oil import fee or any form of energy protectionism.

POINT PAPER: TRADE AND INVESTMENT

Overview: Trade and Investment Relations

-- Mexico is our third largest export market. Total U.S.-Mexico trade in 1987 near $35 billion. Mexico's manufactured exports grew at 35-40 percent in 1986-87.

-- Since 1983, Mexico has achieved substantial liberalization in the level of tariffs and in the use of import licensing. Official reference prices have been eliminated.

-- Mexico has complemented these measures by acceding to the GATT in 1986 and by signing the Framework Understanding.

-- Increased border trade and the rapid development of the Mexican in-bond (maquiladora) industry are important factors in overall trade growth.

-- More needs to be done before foreign investors feel welcome. Investment climate impaired by ownership restrictions, performance requirements, inadequate intellectual property protection, and unclear rules of the game.

-- Mexico needs the job creation, managerial training, modern technology, market access and financing investors offer.

Recent Developments

-- Framework Agreement on Trade and Investment signed on November 6, 1987; represents a new stage in our maturing relationship, reinforcing ties and establishing a mechanism to strengthen our special relationship.

-- Consultative mechanism will enable us to resolve issues quietly at the working level and avoid political posturing.

What Needs To Be Done

-- Presidents express their commitment to progressively reduce barriers to bilateral trade and investment, using the Framework Agreement and the GATT as mechanisms for achieving this.

-- Suggest reinstituting the debt/equity swap program and greater transparency in the approval process as positive signals to investors; urge conclusion of an OPIC agreement.

BRIEFING MEMORANDUM
S/S

[redacted]

9701293

TO: The Secretary

FROM: ARA - Elliott Abrams

SUBJECT: The President's Trip to Mexico: Talking Points for the Plenary and the Working Luncheon Between US and Mexican Delegations

SETTING

While President Reagan and President de la Madrid meet privately, the rest of the US and Mexican delegations, led by Secretary Sepulveda and you, will hold a plenary discussion. Sepulveda will lead off each agenda item. You may wish to give an initial response. Other delegation members can join in as appropriate.

During the first several minutes of the plenary, Ambassador Yeutter and Trade Secretary Hernandez will be in an adjoining room signing a textile agreement, and Ambassador Pilliod will sign a telecommunications agreement. We suggest you and Sepulveda agree to defer the trade and investment items on the agenda until they rejoin the group.

When the President's private meeting and the plenary conclude, there will be 15 minutes for the Presidents to meet with their respective delegations, prior to the working luncheon. You can use this period to compare notes and decide what points to stress during the luncheon.

At the luncheon, we expect further discussion of agenda items already covered in the President's one-on-one and in the Plenary, as well as of agenda items not already covered.

Near the end of the luncheon, the Presidents will exchange substantive toasts with the media present.

Attached are talking points in agenda order for your use during the plenary and during the working luncheon. The President's talking points for the luncheon also are in agenda order, and are similar to yours.

UNCLASSIFIED

880246.4

The luncheon is the last bilateral event of the Summit. Your efforts in support of the President should be to steer discussion towards any priority objectives for this visit not yet achieved. Your two memoranda to the President laid out our objectives, and we have provided a checklist below.

CHECKLIST OF SUMMIT OBJECTIVES (in agenda order)

1. The Global Relationship

Objective. Highlight the tremendous accomplishments in relations during the past 5 years, demonstrating that a constructive, cooperative relationship -- including formal agreements -- is mutually beneficial.

The President's public statements should establish the right atmosphere, as will your press conference and the signing of two agreements during the meeting.

Objective. Arrive at an understanding, perhaps implicit, on follow-up action for the remaining months of the US and Mexican Administrations.

Neither side wants nor can afford a lame duck attitude.

Objective. Establish a basis for continuing the momentum of progress after new Presidents take office.

Salinas de Gortari's public statements reflect an intention to pursue the political and economic modernization of Mexico. He also seems well-disposed toward the United States. We want to convey US willingness to work with him for reciprocal advantage.

2. Economic Relations

Objective. Continued Mexican commitment to economic reforms, while preserving political/economic stability.

US support, particularly our cooperation in managing the debt problem, will bolster de la Madrid's confidence.

Objective. Commitment to vigorous use of the Framework Understanding and the GATT process to reduce barriers to trade and investment. An explicit joint commitment to this effect may be feasible.

If the President's vision of a North American free trade arrangement is mentioned, it would be well to put this clearly in context as a worthy goal for the future. Pushing too hard would strengthen those elements opposed to the closer relationship with the US toward which de la Madrid is leading Mexico.

Objective. Encourage the Mexicans to do more to improve the climate for private foreign and domestic investment.

Even though de la Madrid has said he will not change Mexico's investment law, much could be done to ease or remove performance requirements.

3. Narcotics

Objective. We want de la Madrid to understand the importance of this problem, and agree to give urgent consideration to the actions recommended in the aide-memoire the President will have given him. This is the most important objective of this Summit.

If we do not have a strong indication to this effect from de la Madrid by the time of the luncheon, the subject will require more discussion there.

4. Border and Immigration Affairs

Objective. Continuation of our excellent bilateral cooperation and dialogue on these subjects.

We want reaffirmation of the continued close cooperation and dialogue, but we don't want an overall "Border Commission", which might give the Mexican Foreign Relations Secretariat a greater, and probably unconstructive, role.

5. Central America

Objective. A more balanced Mexican approach on Central American issues.

We do not expect any breakthrough on this subject. However, in light of Sepulveda's contention that he didn't know about the name-calling content of the CIVS paper, he may be conciliatory on related subjects. If so, you might urge a concrete demonstration of willingness to be more balanced, such as in the UN Human Rights Commission. Contingency talking points on this are attached for a private aside with Sepulveda.

CONFIDENTIAL UNCLASSIFIED

6. World Peace and Disarmament

Background The Mexicans' insistence on this item reflects de la Madrid's involvement with five other heads of state on the disarmament issue through the Group of Six.

Objective Explain US policy and stress progress we have made with the Soviets.

Since President de la Madrid has considerable personal prestige invested in issue, he will want to be seen raising it with President Reagan. We suggest letting him make his points and then move on quickly to other issues.

7. Soviet Presence in Mexico

Background. This item is not on the agreed agenda, but we have recommended that the President raise it privately with de la Madrid.

Objective. Containment of Soviet efforts to expand their presence in Mexico, particularly for espionage.

This is not a subject to raise in the luncheon. We are planning to have Ambassador Pilliod follow up by discussing the matter with Secretary of Government Bartlett, who is responsible for domestic security and has a cooperative attitude, but who probably won't be at the summit meeting.

Conclusion.

The public face that is given to this visit could be as important as what is said in private. The President's substantive toast was drafted with this in mind, as well as to build a solid foundation for dealing with the future Salinas Administration.

Your press conference following the lunch will offer the final opportunity to set the public tone of the Summit and the overall state of US/Mexico relations. Moreover, it presents a chance to publicly lock in the Mexicans to any commitments they may have made during the course of the day. Positive GOM responses on narcotics for instance, if properly treated in the US and Mexican press, may stiffen GOM's resolve to fulfill them and quell some Congressional antipathy toward Mexico.

The press conference takes on even more importance when you recall that in 1983 Sepulveda sabotaged the highly successful La Paz Summit by putting a negative twist on his briefing of the Mexican press.

POINT PAPER - US-MEXICAN RELATIONS

OVERVIEW: BROAD, COMPLEX, INCREASINGLY INTERDEPENDENT RELATIONS

--Mexico our fourth largest trading partner, largest secure foreign oil supplier, major LDC debtor. Economic, border, tourism and law enforcement relations are intensifying.

--Country in severe economic crisis, per capita income down 15% since 1982, widespread unemployment, inflation over 150%.

--Economic and border cooperation excellent, as Mexico opens economy. Political relations cordial by historical standards, but fragile, subject to mutual suspicions and misunderstandings.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS: AGREEMENTS ON BROAD RANGE OF ISSUES/ FRICTIONS OVER DRUGS, FOREIGN POLICY

--Unprecedented range of agreements recently, including Mexican GATT accession; Trade and Investment Framework Understanding; Mutual Legal Assistance Treaty, agreements on textiles, steel, civil aviation, (pending) telecommunications, border environment. Dialogue has reduced friction over US immigration reform.

--At last UNGA, Mexicans backed off support for UN name-calling resolutions aimed at US, but otherwise remained uncooperative.

--Although fundamental differences over Central America remain, Mexican influence waning as Central Americans take charge of peace process. Mexicans continue diplomatic support for Sandinistas, but refrain from economic assistance.

--Drugs remain major source of friction. US law enforcement community deeply unhappy with Mexican anti-narcotics performance. Mexicans believe criticisms unfair, taking major casualties in drug war and expending considerable resources.

WHAT NEEDS TO BE DONE?

--Establish rapport with incoming (December) Mexican Administration under Carlos Salinas de Gortari. Respond favorably to Salinas' statements on economic/political modernization of Mexico.

--Strengthen Mexican will and action on drug problem, which are undermining bilateral relations and Mexican security. (Give de la Madrid list of proposed actions).

--Reduce effectiveness of Mexico's opposition to us on foreign policy issues. Seek better accommodation under Salinas Administration, including favorable personnel changes in Foreign Relations Secretariat.

"United States - Mexico Joint Contingency Plan for Accidental Releases of Hazardous Substances Along the Border. Concluded under Annex II to the 1983 Border Environment Agreement". Signed January 29, 1988.

"United States - Mexico Weather Station Agreement dated July 31, 1970 was extended for one year beginning on April 1, 1987 at the GOM's request. Mexico will again request an extension on April 1, 1988 and we will likely agree to the extension.

ADMINISTRATION:

"AUTOMOBILES: On October 30, 1987, a new regulation concerning the importation and registration of foreign manufactured vehicles by diplomatic, consular and admin/technical personnel and the acquisition of new, locally manufactured vehicles by these same personnel was published by the Government of Mexico. The principal feature of the new regulation is that no distinction is made between diplomatic, consular and admin/technical staff concerning the importation of foreign vehicles and the acquisition of locally manufactured vehicles. All personnel are now treated equally.

COMMERCIAL:

"Understanding Between the Government of the United Mexican States and the Government of the United States of America Concerning a Framework of Principles and Procedures for Consultations Regarding Trade and Investment Relations". - Entered into force November 6, 1987.

ECONOMIC:

"24 month oil supply contract for the Strategic Petroleum Reserve renewed by PEMEX and the Department of Energy on November 30, 1987. Amount contracted is 65,000 BPD of Isthmus crude oil at market prices, established by PEMEX pricing formula. Assuming average price of $17.00 per barrel, total value of sales to DOE will come to about $400 million".

"Interface of air traffic control systems agreement reached in late January 1988 (FAA and SENEAM)".

"On December 30 adjustments to the Bilateral Steel Understanding were agreed upon between the U.S. and Mexico in which Mexico reduced its steel tariffs and eliminated all official reference prices on steel and the U.S. will adjust the Mexican steel quota and add a new quota category".

NARCOTICS ASSISTANCE UNIT:

"USG Letters of Agreement (LOA) with GOM during 1987 are: Field Support in the amount of $500,000; Aviation Maintenance in the amount of $1,500,000 and $2,250,000; Field Support in the amount of $1,000,000; National Drug Survey in the amount of $150,000 and Contract Extension for Aviation Maintenance in the amount of $1,500,000".

LEGAL:

"USG Agreement with GOM Mutual Legal Assistance Treaty signed in 1987".

TREASURY DEPARTMENT:

"Two-year extension of the Exchange Stabilization Agreement (allows Mexico to draw up to $300 million to support the peso in case of balance of payments problems). Signed December 30, 1987.

"Agreement to sell Mexico up to USD two billion in zero coupon bonds to help restructure its public sector debt". Announced December 29, 1987.

AGENCY FOR INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT:

"Socio-Economic and Demographic Studies of Sub-Systems of the Northern-Central Region". Signed 9/1/87 to 8/31/88. ($100,000.00)

"A Survey on Practice of Oral Rehydration Therapy in Mexico". Signed 8/15/87 to 4/15/88. ($80,000.00)

"Grant Agreement Between the GOM and The United States of America for National Immunization Support Program". Signed 8/30/87 to 8/29/88. ($60,000.00)

"Clinical Training in the Management of Oral Rehydration Therapy Project". Signed 7/3/87 to 8/4/87. ($45,000.00)

"Support for Launching of New Package of Oral Rehydration Salts". Signed 5/27/87 to 5/26/88. ($52,756.00)

"Cooperation Agreement Between PAHO, CEDAT and NIH for Strengthening Capability to Train Hospital Maintenance Personnel in Spanish-Speaking Countries". Signed 7/1/87 to 9/30/87. ($10,000.00)

"National Immunization Support Program". Signed 7/13/86 to 4/15/88. ($50,000.00)

"Section 416 Food Assistance Program". Signed 6/3/87 to 6/2/87. ($8,721,880.00)

NOTE: In addition, AID/M has channeled approximately 65.8 million dollars, obtained from a variety of sources, into such diverse activities as training, research, health, food aid, schools and hospitals, special projects and population.

UNITED STATES TRAVEL AND TOURISM AGENCY:

"Agreement between the U.S. and the United Mexican States on Development and Facilitation of Tourism". In April 1983, the U.S. and Mexico rewrote a 1978 Tourism Agreement. 26

AGREEMENTS PROPOSED:

"Five year agreement on cooperation in Earth Sciences proposed by U.S. Geological Survey to its Mexican counterpart agency, Consejo de Recursos Minerales. CRM is interested but unable to get approval from the GOM for lack of funds".

"Civair Bilateral Agreement - Basic points on amendment to existing civair agreement have been reached. It may be possible to sign Memorandum of Understanding to that effect if the final points can be worked out and if authorization can be obtained to sign without an agreement on aviation security. The GOM (SRE) steadfastly refuses to agree to U.S. terms on security issues".

"Private land mobile agreement to be signed in connection with Summit but not at Mazatlan. Will be done through exchange of diplomatic notes. U.S. note to be sent to SRE on 2/3/88".

"Low power UHF and VHF agreement is being concluded, however, due to amount of paperwork involved will not be ready for signature at Mazatlan".

"Multilateral Agreement under international Maritime Organization (IMO) to designate the Gulf of Mexico as a Special Area under Annex V of the MARPOL Convention (would restrict dumping of garbage by vessels in Gulf of Mexico)". - Expected to be finalized this fiscal year".

"Multilateral Agreement under IMO to establish uniform standards for removal of Abandoned Petroleum Platforms that present hazards to navigation". - Expected to be finalized this fiscal year.

NARCOTICS ASSISTANCE UNIT:

"Letters of Agreement for Field Support and Aviation Maintenance totaling more than USD 13,000,000, with signing projected for the third quarter of FY 1988".

ECONOMIC:

"Bilateral Textile Agreement - Memorandum of Understanding signed December 31 in Washington. U.S. proposed final text submitted to Mario Rodriguez in Washington on January 28 and to SECOFI in Mexico on February 1. There is a high level of interest within the GOM to expedite clearance of language but signing at Mazatlan depends on whether working level review by the GOM can be completed in time.

AGRICULTURE:

"U.S. Department of Agriculture and Secretariat of Agriculture and Water Resources of Mexico Cooperative Agreement Regarding Cotton Variety Research and Multiplication". - Expected to be signed in March, 1988.

SCIENCE:

Memorandum of Understanding between the Environmental Protection Agency and the Secretariat of Desarrollo Urbano y Ecologia (SEDUE) on Air Pollution Monitoring". - To be concluded this year.

"MEXUS Pacific Fisheries Agreement". To be concluded this year.

"Memorandum of Understanding between the Department of Housing and Urban Development and SEDUE on sister cities' working groups".- To be concluded this year.

ADMINISTRATION:

IVA: We are currently negotiating with GOM officials to arrange a more equitable IVA (tax) reimbursement system for our personnel assigned to Mexico. Although no significant progress has been made to date, we are hopeful, given our successful negotiations on the automobile issue, that we will be able to resolve this matter.

NOTE: Mexican official personnel in the U.S. are issued tax exemption cards. U.S. personnel in Mexico have to go through a lengthy and burdensome bureaucratic process in order to obtain tax reimbursement -- months after a purchase has been made.

AGREEMENTS TO BE SIGNED AT SUMMIT:

ECONOMIC:

Cellular radio agreement just about completed and may be ready for Summit.

DEFENSE:

"Maritime Search and Rescue Agreement between the Mexican Navy and the United States Coast Guard". - Expected to be signed immediately before or during the Presidential Summit at Mazatlan, Feb. 13, 1988.

POINT PAPER: PUBLIC PERCEPTIONS AND MUTUAL UNDERSTANDING

OVERVIEW

-- This topic was added to the list of bilateral concerns at the January 1987 Binational Commission meeting.

-- Mexican and U.S. foundations and academic institutions explored ways of promoting mutual understanding through exchanges with broad public impact at a session co-sponsored by the Council of the Americas in May 1987.

-- USIA hosted the Bilateral Cultural Commission meeting which produced a list of programs to expand U.S.-Mexican cultural exchanges in June 1987.

  o USIS Mexico is already implementing these programs.

  o USIA's annual exchange budget for Mexico has been increased to over $1 million.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

-- The past year has seen a significant increase in Mexican willingness to address this topic as important to bilateral relations.

WHAT NEEDS TO BE DONE

-- We seek continued Mexican support for cultural cooperation as a unique way of strengthening bilateral relations and encouraging improved mutual understanding.

  o We support programs for Mexican Studies in the U.S. and U.S. Studies in Mexico, including exchanges of relevant texts, curriculum materials and specialists.

  o Improved perceptions depend greatly on better education of journalists on both sides of the border in the realities of the U.S.-Mexico relationship.

  o The challenges and opportunities of the common border need to be addressed in our exchange programs.

Point Paper: Disarmament

Overview

-- While Mexico supports both INF and START, the Mexican Ambassador to The Conference on Disarmament (CD), Nobel Prize winner Alfonso Garcia-Robles, has been a frequent and harsh critic of many US positions, such as nuclear testing and outer space issues, including SDI.

Recent Developments

-- The Mexican sponsored resolution at the United Nations General Assembly called for immediate conversion of the Limited Test Ban Treaty (LTBT) into a Comprehensive Test Ban (CTB). The US and allies vigorously opposed this and voted no.

-- At the January 22nd Six Nation Initiative Press Conference held in Stockholm, President de la Madrid emphasized the need for conventional arms control both in the developing and industralized areas.

What Needs To Be Done

-- It would be important for US-Mexican arms control relations to emphasize that, while differences in policies will continue to exist, a moderate and constructive tone from Mexico at the CD and at the UN would greatly help to resolve differences and to produce better understanding from both perspectives.

-- Comprehensive Test Ban: Emphasize that for the US this is a long-term objective, to be viewed in the context of a time when we no longer need to depend on nuclear deterrence and only after the achievement of broad, deep and verifiable arms reductions.

-- Conventional Forces Arms Control: The US welcomes President de la Madrid's suggestion. Conventional weapons arms control is not merely an East-West problem. Of the over 130 conflicts since World War II, mostly in the developing world, involving over 20 million deaths, all have been fought with conventional weapons.

-- For its part, the US and its NATO allies are seeking ways to reduce the high concentration of conventional forces in Europe, and to redress the stark imbalances in that area in favor of the Soviets and their allies.

1: SUMMARY: MEXICAN PRESIDENT DE LA MADRID REITERATED HIS FIRM POSITION ON DRUGS AT HIS MEETING WITH PRESIDENT REAGAN ON FEBRUARY 13 IN MAZATLAN, SINALOA. IN HIS TOAST AT THE SUMMIT LUNCHEON, HE
UNCLASSIFIED

DEFENDED MEXICAN EFFORTS TO FIGHT DRUG ACTIVITIES AND CHALLENGED OTHER COUNTRIES TO MATCH THE AMOUNT OF RESOURCES AND PERSONNEL, ON A PERCENTAGE BASIS, THAT MEXICO EMPLOYS IN ITS ANTI-DRUG CAMPAIGN. HE INSISTED THAT THE DRUG PROBLEM COULD NOT BE SOLVED UNTIL ALL ASPECTS, INCLUDING CONSUMPTION IN DEVELOPED COUNTRIES, WERE EFFECTIVELY ATTACKED. THESE REMARKS ECHO SIMILAR STATEMENTS HE AND OTHER MEXICAN LEADERS HAVE MADE FREQUENTLY IN THE PAST. END SUMMARY.

2. IN HIS FEBRUARY 13 MEETING WITH PRESIDENT REAGAN, DE LA MADRID TOOK A TOUGH LINE ON DRUGS, AS HE AND OTHER MEXICAN LEADERS HAVE DONE MANY TIMES IN THE PAST. IN HIS TOAST, DE LA MADRID DEPLORED THE DISINFORMATION AND LACK OF INFORMATION REGARDING MEXICO'S FIGHT AGAINST NARCOTICS. SOME U.S. SECTORS, HE SAID, APPARENTLY DO NOT RECOGNIZE THE TRUE DIMENSION OF MEXICO'S EFFORTS AND SUCCESSES IN ITS ANTI-DRUG CAMPAIGN. ANY OTHER COUNTRY WOULD FIND IT DIFFICULT TO DEDICATE AS MANY BUDGETARY RESOURCES AND AS MUCH MANPOWER, ON A PERCENTAGE BASIS, TO THIS EFFORT.

3. DEFEATING INTERNATIONAL NARCOTICS TRAFFICKING, CONTINUED DE LA MADRID, WILL NOT BE POSSIBLE AS LONG AS OTHER COUNTRIES DO NOT ATTACK DRUG PRODUCTION, DISTRIBUTION, AND CONSUMPTION WITH SIMILAR EFFICIENCY. HE ALSO INDICATED THAT CONSUMPTION WAS A KEY ELEMENT OF THE DRUG PROBLEM.

4. DE LA MADRID SAID THAT MEXICO REAFFIRMS ITS DETERMINATION TO FIGHT NARCOTICS TRAFFICKING, WHICH HE CALLED A "CANCER" FOR MODERN SOCIETY AND A RISK TO UNCLASSIFIED

NATIONAL SECURITY.

5. COMMENT: DE LA MADRID AND OTHER MEXICAN LEADERS HAVE SPOKEN OUT FREQUENTLY AGAINST DRUG TRAFFICKING AND IN SUPPORT OF THEIR ANTI-NARCOTICS EFFORTS (REFTELS). THEY HAVE OFTEN CITED THE TREMENDOUS RESOURCES (AS MUCH AS SIXTY PERCENT OF THE PGR BUDGET) AND MANPOWER (AS MUCH AS TWENTY-FIVE PERCENT OF THE ARMY) EMPLOYED IN THEIR ANTI-DRUG CAMPAIGN. ALTHOUGH THEY UNDOUBTEDLY INCLUDE IN THEIR STATISTICS ALL INDIRECT EXPENSES AND MANPOWER THAT SUPPORT THEIR DRUG INTERDICTION AND ERADICATION PROGRAMS, THE RESOURCES EMPLOYED IN THIS EFFORT ARE NONETHELESS IMPRESSIVE, ESPECIALLY GIVEN THE ECONOMIC TROUBLES THE COUNTRY FACES. END COMMENT.

POINT PAPER: AVIATION AND TELECOMMUNICATIONS AGREEMENTS

OVERVIEW: U.S.-MEXICO AVIATION AND TELECOMMUNICATIONS RELATIONS

Aviation - Provisions of the 1960 Air Transport Agreement between our nations are outdated and do not cover adequately industry needs. We have held several rounds of negotiations since January 1987 aimed at revising and liberalizing the current agreement. We want expanded opportunities for carriers of both sides for scheduled service and provisions for all-cargo service.

Telecommunications - Our nearly 2,000-mile-long common border makes telecommunications cooperation between our nations essential. Indeed, cooperation in this area has been very good. Agreements concerning public radiotelephone service based on cellular technology, private radio service for mobile units, and low-power television broadcasts will soon be ready for signature.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

-- Aviation - A U.S. delegation was in Mexico January 26-29 to resume negotiations to revise and liberalize the existing agreement. Mexican tourism interests strongly support an updated agreement because of the boost it should provide to that sector.

-- Telecommunications - We have recently completed negotiations on public radiotelephone service. This agreement should be ready for signature by February 13th. We have also completed negotiations on private radio service for mobile units. This agreement will be concluded through an exchange of diplomatic notes prior to the summit. Negotiations on low-power television broadcasts are 90-percent complete, and both countries are pursuing them on a high-priority basis. However, legal and linguistic review will probably require another few months.

WHAT NEEDS TO BE DONE

-- Aviation - The two sides are close to agreement. If an agreement is reached, it may be ready for signature at the summit.

-- Telecommunications - If the aviation agreement is available for signature, it may be desirable to have the telecommunications service agreement signed at the same time.

POINT PAPER: Downing of KAL Jet

OVERVIEW: Incontrovertible Facts Link North Korea to Disaster

-- The evidence is compelling that North Korea was behind the downing of Korean Airlines flight No. 858. We believe that this heinous deed of state-sponsored terrorism should not go unanswered.

-- We believe that South Korea has already been in touch with Mexico on this matter and has provided significant evidence of North Korean culpability. We have been working closely with South Korea to ensure that condemnation of North Korea takes place and that such further acts of terrorism are deterred.

WHAT NEEDS TO BE DONE

-- The KAL issue will most likely come up at the International Civil Aviation Organization Council meeting in March. Mexico is a member of the Council and will have an opportunity to register its displeasure with North Korean conduct.

-- Want to urge the Mexicans to support South Korea at the International Civil Aviation Organization meeting.

POINT PAPER: MARITIME BOUNDARY TREATY UPDATE

OVERVIEW:

-- Treaty was signed in 1978 and ratified by Mexico in 1979.

-- Establishes 200 mile maritime boundary delimiting fisheries and continental shelf jurisdictions.

-- Treaty has not yet been approved by U.S. Senate.

-- Although Senate Foreign Relations Committee unanimously approved Treaty in 1980, before full Senate action, U.S. geologist charged Treaty was "give away" of hydrocarbon interests. Senator Boschwitz requested delay until charges could be studied.

-- 1981 U.S. Geological Survey report found:

   -- Oil and gas potential of Mexican area uncertain.

   -- Technology for deep water drilling in Gulf of Mexico not yet developed but might be by year 2000.

-- May 1982, Senate Foreign Relations Committee hearings postponed at State Department's request because Department was unable to obtain full Administration consensus to urge ratification.

-- In the meantime, the same boundaries have been enforced provisionally on the basis of a 1976 Executive Agreement.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS:

-- The situation has not changed.

WHAT NEEDS TO BE DONE:

-- If pressed, reply to President de la Madrid that ratification remains under study, but would be difficult at this time.

POINT PAPER: BORDER COOPERATION

OVERVIEW: RANGE OF EFFECTIVE COOPERATION

-- US and Mexico have effective arrangements on boundaries, water, environment, bridges and crossings, customs, natural disasters, housing and urban development, border health and other matters.

-- Mexico encouraging growth of in-bond industries (maquilas) which help economy and create jobs -- USG sees benefits but Congressional/labor interests concerned over US job loss.

-- More bridges, crossings and facilities built or expanded under current arrangements (since 1983) than in last 20 years.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

-- A contingency plan on inland spills of hazardous substances signed January 29 complements four action-oriented annexes dealing with specific air, water and land pollution problems under border environmental agreement you and de la Madrid signed in 1983.

-- US Commissioner of International Boundary and Water Commission (IBWC) has proposed a comprehensive solution to still-troubling Tijuana sanitation problem.

-- Conflicting US interests in stricter border inspection for drugs and illegal aliens and promotion of border commerce are evident in traffic backups and costly delays of border commerce.

-- US recently urged Japan to use discretion in its investments in maquilas to minimize an adverse political reaction in the US.

WHAT NEEDS TO BE DONE

-- You should strongly endorse continuation of border environmental cooperation under 1983 agreement.

-- If again raised by de la Madrid, you should oppose creation of a comprehensive "border commission" -- we have good mechanisms now -- this would create duplicative and needless bureaucracy.

-- Two governments should continue excellent cooperation on bridges and crossings through biannual consultations and periodic "Border Walk" inspection visits.

-- 100th anniversary of IBWC in 1989 will be occasion to pay tribute to US-Mexican cooperation, growth, and development, and to build upon this record of progress in next century.

SUBJECT: GSP AND WORKER RIGHTS: MEETING WITH MFA OFFICIAL TO CONTINUE DIALOGUE
REF: SANTIAGO 318

1. CONFIDENTIAL - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. DUE TO CONTINUING INTEREST AMONG NEWS MEDIA AND GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS REGARDING THE U.S. DECISION TO SUSPEND GSP BENEFITS TO CHILE, POLCOUNSELOR TOOK THE OPPORTUNITY IN A FEBRUARY 5 MEETING WITH HEAD OF MFA AMERICAS DEPARTMENT TO REITERATE U.S. READINESS TO CONTINUE A DIALOGUE WITH THE GOC ON THIS ISSUE, AS WE HAD INDICATED IN OUR DIPLOMATIC NOTE OF LAST DECEMBER. THIS PROMPTED MFA HEAD OF BILATERAL AFFAIRS, JAIME LAGOS, TO INVITE POLCOUNSELOR IN ON FEBRUARY 18. POLCOUNSELOR, ACCOMPANIED BY LABATT, MET WITH LAGOS AND U.S. DESK OFFICER RENE ROJAS AND NEW DEPUTY DIRECTOR OF NORTH AMERICAN AFFAIRS ALVARO BAZAN.

3. LAGOS NOTED THE GOC PLEASURE WITH THE U.S. WILLINGNESS TO CONTINUE THIS DIALOGUE. STATING THAT HE WAS NOT PREPARED TO DISCUSS TECHNICAL MATTERS, LAGOS SAID THE MFA ONLY WANTED TO USE THE MEETING TO EXPLORE HOW SUCH DISCUSSIONS MIGHT GET UNDERWAY. HE HAS BEEN IN CONTACT WITH LABOR VICE MINISTER ARTHUR, WHO EXPRESSED HIS WILLINGNESS TO CONTINUE THESE TALKS. THE MFA WANTED, HOWEVER, TO RECEIVE A U.S. DIPLOMATIC NOTE RESPONDING TO THEIR JANUARY 6 NOTE (REFTEL), WHICH WOULD PERMIT THE MFA TO TURN THE TECHNICAL DISCUSSIONS OVER TO THE LABOR MINISTRY.

4. LAGOS STRESSED THAT GOC ACCEPTANCE OF THE U.S. OFFER TO CONTINUE TALKS WAS, AS NOTED IN THE JANUARY 6 NOTE, CONDITIONED ON THE U.S. HEARING POINTS OF VIEW ON CHILEAN LABOR LAWS AND CONDITIONS FROM NON-OPPOSITION LABOR LEADERS. HE SUGGESTED THE DISCUSSIONS MIGHT BEGIN IN EARLY MARCH WHEN ARTHUR RETURNS FROM AN ILO MEETING, AND AFTER THE MFA RECEIVES THE SUGGESTED NOTE.

5. POLCOUNSELOR REITERATED U.S. INTEREST IN KEEPING A DIALOGUE OPEN, NOTING THAT THE U.S. DECISION WAS TO SUSPEND GSP BENEFITS AND THE USG MIGHT RECONSIDER IF APPROPRIATE STEPS ARE TAKEN. HE ADDED THAT THE U.S. DOES NOT HAVE A FIXED SET OF MEASURES IN MIND THAT THE GOC MIGHT TAKE AND THAT WE WERE OPEN TO A WIDE RANGING DISCUSSION. NEVERTHELESS, HE ADDED, IT SEEMED

SANTIA 01186 88 OF 02 2308512 S298 ARA6738

THAT A LOGICAL POINT OF DEPARTURE WOULD BE THE LETTER FROM AMBASSADOR ERRAZURRIZ OF NOVEMBER 1986 IN WHICH THE GOC INDICATED IT WOULD BE TAKING CERTAIN MEASURES. LAGOS AGREED THAT THIS WOULD BE A GOOD STARTING POINT.

6. WITH RESPECT TO LAGOS' POINT ABOUT HEARING NON-OPPOSITION LABOR LEADERS, POLCOUNSELOR SAID EMBASSY OFFICIALS HAVE ALWAYS BEEN WILLING TO MEET WITH ALL CHILEAN LABOR LEADERS, AND WE WOULD BE QUITE INTERESTED IN HEARING THE VIEWS OF NON-OPPOSITION AS WELL AS OPPOSITION UNION OFFICIALS DURING THE COMING MONTHS.

7. DURING COURTESY CALL BY CHARGE ON THE NEW DIRECTOR GENERAL OF THE FOREIGN MINISTRY, AMBASSADOR OCTAVIO ERRAZURIZ, LATTER ALSO RAISED THE GSP ISSUE, AS AN EXAMPLE OF GOC DECISIONS THAT ARE BEING MADE FOR POLITICAL PURPOSES AND POLITICAL REASONS, CITING AFL-CIO PRESSURE. CHARGE RESPONDED THAT GOC WAS MISTAKEN IN VIEWING THIS AS A POLITICAL DECISION. IT WAS BASED SOLELY ON U.S. LAW AND A FACTUAL READING OF CHILEAN LABOR LAWS AND THE WAY THEY ARE INTERPRETED AND APPLIED. FAR FROM BEING PRESSURED BY PRIVATE SECTOR, US AGENCIES WERE WELL DISPOSED TOWARD CHILE. THE TURNING POINT WAS THE NOVEMBER 1986 LETTER FROM AMBASSADOR HERNAN FELIPE ERRAZURIZ. THE U.S. WAS DEEPLY DISILLUSIONED BY GOC'S FAILURE TO KEEP PROMISES MADE IN THAT LETTER. INTERESTINGLY, ERRAZURIZ DID NOT ARGUE THE POINT, BUT REITERATED LAGOS' REQUEST FOR A DIPLOMATIC NOTE REPLYING TO THE MINISTRY'S NOTE, SO THAT A DIALOGUE COULD BEGIN. HE DID NOT REPEAT LAGOS' ASSERTION THAT THE DIALOGUE OFFER HAD CONDITIONS ATTACHED.

8. EMBASSY WILL SEND A DIPLOMATIC NOTE RESPONDING TO THE MFA'S JANUARY 6 NOTE, NOTING OUR UNDERSTANDING OF THE GOC'S WILLINGNESS TO CONTINUE DISCUSSIONS ON THE GSP ISSUE AND EXPRESSING OUR TRADITIONAL POLICY OF OPENNESS TO TRADE UNION OFFICIALS OF ALL SECTORS ON THIS AND OTHER MATTERS.

CONSULAR SECTION

2/22/88

John,

For what it's worth, here's something one of our FSN's told me this morning.

Her husband knows Federico Whilloughby (sp?), and when they heard that he'd had an accident over the weekend, they called him. He said that someone had deliberately run him off the road, that he knew who they were, and that he was prepared to fight to the last ditch. He couldn't (wouldn't?) give the names over the phone, as it's tapped.

Regards,
Larry

SUBJECT: CARDINAL CONDEMNS DISAPPEARANCE IN CHILE

REFS: (A) 87 SANTIAGO 7857 (NOTAL); (B) SANTIAGO 723 (NOTAL)

1. (U) THE CONTINUED DISAPPEARANCE OF FIVE MEN (REF A), WHO WERE LAST SEEN IN MID-SEPTEMBER, PROMPTED CARDINAL FRESNO TO MAKE PUBLIC DECLARATION ON FEBRUARY 11 DENOUNCING THE LACK OF CLARIFICATION OF THESE CASES. THE CARDINAL NOTED THAT THE LIMITED INFORMATION AVAILABLE ON THESE DISAPPEARANCES INDICATES THE FIVE WERE VICTIMS OF ACTIONS BY UNKNOWN THIRD PARTIES, AND MUST BE CONSIDERED AS HAVING BEEN KIDNAPPED OR "INVOLUNTARILY DISAPPEARED." BECAUSE THE FIVE MEN WERE RELATED TO EXTREME LEFT POLITICAL PARTIES, AND THE MANNER IN WHICH THEY DISAPPEARED FOLLOWED PATTERNS SET FOR DISAPPEARED PEOPLE IN 1973-78, THE CARDINAL STATED, ONE MUST CONSIDER THESE CASES AS A RETURN TO A TYPE OF ABUSIVE REPRESSION WHICH HAD BEEN THOUGHT OVERCOME IN CHILE. THE CARDINAL NOTED HIS CONCERN ABOUT THE SILENCE SURROUNDING THE INVESTIGATION AND EXPRESSED HIS DISILLUSION WITH THE APPARENT LACK OF PROGRESS.

3. (U) FOLLOWING THE CARDINAL'S DECLARATION, THE FAMILIES OF THE FIVE DISAPPEARED MET ON FEBRUARY 15 WITH THE PAPAL NUNCIO, WHO OFFERED HIS SUPPORT. A SPOKESMAN FOR THE INVESTIGATIONS POLICE ALSO RESPONDED TO THE CARDINAL BY ISSUING A STATEMENT FEBRUARY 12 INDICATING THAT THEIR INVESTIGATIONS INTO THESE DISAPPEARANCES HAD BEEN UNSUCCESSFUL BUT WILL CONTINUE

4. (U) ON FEBRUARY 15 CARDINAL EMERITUS RAUL SILVA RECEIVED A LETTER REPORTEDLY FROM THE CHILEAN ANTI-COMMUNIST ACTION (ACHA). THE COMMUNIST-DOMINATED NATIONAL CONFEDERATION OF RESTAURANT WORKERS RECEIVED A SIMILAR LETTER. THE ACHA LETTERS CONSISTED OF PHOTOS OF THREE OF THE FIVE DISAPPEARED AND A NOTE WHICH STATED "ACHA NEVER PARDONS", "FOR A FREE CHILE," AND NOW THEY WON'T SEE THEM AS THEY SAW THEM."

5. (C) COMMENT: IT IS UNUSUAL FOR THE CARDINAL TO SPEAK OUT PUBLICLY AND SO SHARPLY ON SPECIFIC HUMAN RIGHTS CASES. HIS HAVING DONE SO INDICATES THE LEVEL OF CONCERN BUILDING IN CHILE OVER A POSSIBLE RETURN TO THE PRACTICE OF DISAPPEARANCES. THE INVOLVEMENT OF ACHA IN THIS, PARTICULARLY FIVE

1. ADMIRAL ZUMWALT, IN A LETTER TO HA A/S SCHIFTER, REQUESTED INFORMATION ON THE STATUS OF DAGABERTO LOPEZ. WE APPRECIATE INFORMATION PROVIDED IN REF A, BUT NEED ADDITIONAL INFORMATION TO PROVIDE A FULL REPORT TO ZUMWALT.

2. ACCORDING TO THE INFORMATION PROVIDED BY ZUMWALT, WHICH ORIGINATED FROM AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL, LOPEZ WAS ARRESTED ON NOVEMBER 9, 1984 AND CHARGED WITH TAKING PART IN AN ARMED ATTACK ON A POLICE STATION IN WHICH TWO POLICEMEN WERE KILLED. HE IS CURRENTLY DETAINED IN THE CENTRO DE DETENCION PREVENTINA SANTIAGO SUR, AND HIS CASE NUMBER IS 1766-84.

IN ADDITION, AMNESTY MAINTAINS THAT THE ONLY EVIDENCE LINKING LOPEZ TO THE CRIME IS THE TESTIMONY OF ONE POLICEMAN THAT HE SAW LOPEZ WALK PAST THE POLICE STATION IN A SUSPCIOUS MANNER A HALF HOUR BEFORE THE ATTACK. ELEVEN DEFENSE WITNESSES, HOWEVER, HAVE ALLEGEDLY SWORN THAT THEY WERE WITH LOPEZ IN A DISTANT PART OF SANTIAGO AT THE TIME OF THE ATTACK. AMNESTY ALSO CLAIMS THAT SEVERAL OF THE DEFENSE WITNESSES HAVE BEEN THREATENED IN AN EFFORT TO MAKE THEM RECANT THEIR TESTIMONY.

4. ACCORDING TO REF. A, VICARIATE LAWYERS ARE DEFENDING LOPEZ, WHICH, SHOWS THAT THE VICARIATE SUPPORTS HIS CLAIM OF INNOCENCE AND TORTURE. WE UNDERSTAND HIS CASE REMAINS UNDER INVESTIGATION.

5. ACTION REQUEST: WE WOULD LIKE TO GIVE ADMIRAL ZUMWALT A COMPLETE UPDATE OF THIS CASE BY COB FEBRUARY 29. WE PARTICULARLY WANT TO KNOW IF LOPEZ'S ATTORNEYS AGREE WITH AMNESTY'S ACCOUNT OF THE CASE. HOW FREQUENTLY DOES THE VICARIATE DEFEND ACCUSED TERRORISTS? DOES ITS WILLINGNESS TO DEFEND LOPEZ INDICATE THAT THE VICARIATE IS CONVINCED HE IS NOT GUILTY AND NOT A MEMBER OF A TERRORIST ORGANIZATION? IS IT NORMAL FOR THE CHILEAN AUTHORITIES TO HOLD A PRISONER FOR SUCH AN EXTENDED PERIOD IF THE GOC DOES NOT HAVE A GOOD CASE FOR THE PROSECUTION? DOES THE EMBASSY HAVE

1. CHARGE TOOK ADVANTAGE OF COURTESY CALL DECEMBER 19 ON NEW FOREIGN MINISTRY DIRECTOR GENERAL OCTAVIO ERRAZURIZ TO CALL HIS ATTENTION TO A PHOTOGRAPH IN THAT MORNING'S LA EPOCA OF A "NEWS" BULLETIN WHICH IS POSTED IN THE LOCKED GLASS DISPLAY CASES OF THE CITY'S METRO STATIONS. THE CASES CONTAIN A BULLETIN BOARD, CLEARLY MARKED "DIRECTORATE GENERAL OF THE METRO," WITH VARIOUS PUBLIC NOTICES, INCLUDING A SHEET CALLED "ENFOQUES DE 7 DIAS" (THE WEEK'S NEWS), OF WHICH WE HAD NOT PREVIOUSLY HEARD. ACCORDING TO LA EPOCA, IT APPEARS IN EVERY ONE OF THE CITY'S SUBWAY STATIONS.

2. THIS WEEK'S ISSUE APPEARS TO FOCUS PRINCIPALLY ON U.S. FINANCIAL AID TO VARIOUS OPPOSITION ORGANIZATIONS, CHARGING THAT THE "UNITED STATES HAD JOINED THE CAMPAIGN OF HAVANA AND MOSCOW, POLITICALLY AND ECONOMICALLY." THE SUBHEAD ON ONE SECTION IS

"REAGAN IS A GREAT LIAR."

3. CHARGE NOTED THAT THE CONTENT OF THE BULLETIN WAS SIMILAR TO WHAT WE WERE ACCUSTOMED TO READING IN SOME SECTORS OF THE CHILEAN PRESS, BUT WE WERE TAKEN ABACK BY ITS APPEARANCE ON GOVERNMENT PROPERTY. AS THE POLITICAL CAMPAIGN IN CHILE HEATS UP, THE RHETORIC WILL UNDOUBTEDLY BECOME MORE STRIDENT, BUT WE HOPED THAT WE COULD EXPECT THAT A MINIMUM LEVEL OF CIVILITY WOULD BE MAINTAINED IN OFFICIAL GOVERNMENT PRONOUNCEMENTS. ERRAZURIZ DISCOUNTED THE IMPORTANCE OF THE BULLETIN, AND SAID THE METRO SYSTEM WAS IN ANY EVENT PRIVATE, OR AT LEAST, HE ADDED HASTILY, "IN THE PROCESS OF PRIVATIZATION."

4. ERRAZURIZ EXPRESSED THE GOC'S DEEP DISAPPOINTMENT WITH THE DEPARTMENT'S LATEST HUMAN RIGHTS REPORT ON CHILE, WHICH NOT ONLY CONTAINED INACCURACIES BUT SHOWED DELIBERATE BIAS. CHARGE TOLD HIM THAT PROCESS OF REACHING AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE EMBASSY AND ALL THE VARIOUS OFFICES OF THE DEPARTMENT ON THE WORDING OF THIS YEAR'S REPORT WAS EASIER THAN IN ANY OF THE PREVIO TWO YEARS HE HAD BEEN INVOLVED. THERE WAS NO DISPUTE ABOUT THE FACTS. HE CAUTIONED ERRAZURIZ THAT THE DEEP CONCERN IN THE U.S. ABOUT HUMAN RIGHTS WENT FAR BEYOND POLITICS, AND WOULD HAVE TO BE ADDRESSED EVENTUALLY, REGARDLESS OF THE OUTCOME OF THIS YEAR'S POLITICAL PROCESS IN BOTH COUNTRIES. REGRETABLY, FOR THE TIME BEING WE HAD CONCLUDED THAT THOSE IN THE GOC WHO WERE WILLING TO TALK TO US ABOUT HUMAN RIGHTS HAD NO CONTROL OVER THE VIOLATIONS THAT OCCURRED. ERRAZURIZ DID NOT COMMENT.

2. WE HAVE REVIEWED THE SUGGESTED ELEMENTS FOR A CHILE HUMAN RIGHTS RESOLUTION CONTAINED IN PARA 10 OF REFTEL, AND HAVE THE FOLLOWING COMMENTS ON A FEW OF THE SUB PARAGRAPHS:

A. THERE IS A WIDE DIVERSITY OF POLITICAL OPINION EXPRESSED IN CHILE BUT IT IS USUALLY MANIPULATED BY THE GOC, AND TELEVISION REMAINS LARGELY OFF LIMITS TO THE OPPOSITION. THIS SUB-PARAGRAPH MIGHT BE CHANGED TO READ AS FOLLOWS: "PERMIT, AS PART OF AN EFFORT TO EXPAND THE DIVERSITY OF POLITICAL OPINION EXPRESSED IN CHILEAN MEDIA, INCREASED ACCESS TO THE MEDIA, PARTICULARLY TELEVISION MEDIA, BY ALL

B. ACCESS BY THE INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE OF THE RED CROSS TO PEOPLE DETAINED UNDER THE ANTI-TERRORIST LAW, AND THEREFORE BEING HELD FOR INVESTIGATIONS BY MILITARY TRIBUNALS, HAS BEEN RESTRICTED BY THESE TRIBUNALS. WE SUGGEST THE SUB-PARAGRAPH ON THIS ISSUE BE CHANGED TO READ AS FOLLOWS: "ENSURE THAT THE COOPERATION BETWEEN THE SECURITY FORCES AND THE INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE OF THE RED CROSS BE INCREASING EXPANDED AND, IN PARTICULAR, TO FACILITATE READY ACCESS BY THE ICRC TO PEOPLE DETAINED UNDER THE ORDER OF MILITARY TRIBUNALS." (FYI: THE MILITARY PROSECUTOR OFTEN INVOKES THE ANTI-TERRORIST LAW TO JUSTIFY HOLDING PEOPLE IN AN INCOMMUNICADO STATUS FOR EXTENDED PERIODS OF TIME, AND WILL NOT PERMIT THE ICRC TO VISIT THESE PRISONERS WHILE THEY ARE IN THIS STATUS. THIS IS A LOOP-HOLE IN THE EXISTING AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE ICRC AND THE SECURITY FORCES, AND THE SOURCE OF MOST CHARGES OF TORTURE.)

C. IN THE OPERATIVE LANGUAGE, WE SUGGEST THE SUB-PARAGRAPH ON FACILITATING THE REGISTRATION OF VOTERS AND EASING LEGAL RESTRICTIONS ON THE FORMATION OF POLITICAL PARTIES BY DELETED. VOTER REGISTRATION IS CONTINUING AT AN ACCEPTABLE PACE AND IT NOW APPEARS THAT AN ESTIMATED DOZEN POLITICAL PARTIES WILL BECOME REGISTERED, INCLUDING SIX TO EIGHT FROM THE OPPOSITION

TAGS: PREL, XX, ES, MX
SUBJECT: MORE ON SOURING MEXICAN/SALVADORAN RELATIONS

REFS: (A) SAN SALVADOR 2142; (B) MEXICO 4988
(C) SAN SALVADOR 2121

1. (C) SUMMARY

THE DIPLOMATIC SQUABBLE BETWEEN MEXICO AND EL SALVADOR CONTINUES FOLLOWING A SHARPLY WORDED FEB. 16 DIPLOMATIC NOTE FROM SALVADORAN FONMIN ACEVEDO TO FONMIN SEPULVEDA DEMANDING THE IMMEDIATE EXPULSION OF THE FMLN/FDR FROM MEXICAN TERRITORY. ACEVEDO'S DIPNOTE APPEARED IN SALVADORAN NEWSPAPERS ON FEB. 17. IN RETALIATION, THE MEXICAN EMBASSY HERE ARRANGED FOR THE PUBLICATION ON FEB. 18 OF THE CONTENT OF SEPULVEDA'S EVEN ANGRIER REPLY REFUTING GOES CHARGES THAT MEXICO IS HARBORING MEMBERS OF THE FMLN/FDR IN VIOLATION OF THE ESQUIPULAS II (E-II) ACCORDS. THE SEPULVEDA LETTER ENDS BY QUOTING AN OLD ACEVEDO DIPNOTE FROM OCTOBER 8, 1987 IN WHICH THE GOM IS THANKED PROFUSELY FOR ITS CONTRIBUTIONS TO EL SALVADOR'S COMPLIANCE WITH THE E-11. THE SOURING GOES/GOM RELATIONS COME AT A TIME WHEN MEXICO SEEMS INCREASINGLY AT ODDS WITH THE OTHER CENTRAL AMERICAN DEMOCRACIES AS WELL. THE DISPUTE WILL NOT HELP GOES EFFORTS AT THE ONGOING 44TH UNHRC IN GENEVA. END SUMMARY.

2. (U) GOES: KICK FMLN/FDR OUT OF MEXICO

LOCAL PAPERS ON FEB. 17 PUBLISHED THE TEXT OF A DIPLOMATIC NOTE DATED FEB. 16 FROM FONMIN ACEVEDO TO FONMIN SEPULVEDA DEMANDING THE IMMEDIATE EXPULSION FROM MEXICO OF MEMBERS OF THE FMLN/FDR IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE ESQUIPULAS II AGREEMENT. THE DIPNOTE STATED THAT THE GOES "CONSIDERS UNACCEPTABLE THE NEGATIVE AND UNPRECEDENTED ATTITUDE OF THE GOVERNMENT OF MEXICO WITH REGARD TO SUPPORT PROVIDED TO THE FMLN/FDR GROUPS, TO THE DETRIMENT OF THE FRIENDLY RELATIONS THAT SHOULD EXIST BETWEEN OUR TWO COUNTRIES. THIS SUPPORT IS MANIFESTED THROUGH THE ACT OF ALLOWING THE USE OF MEXICAN TERRITORY TO THE FMLN/FDR GROUPS TO DEVELOP ACTIVITIES THAT CAUSE AND SEEK DESTABILIZATION OF THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT AND THE DEMOCRATIC SYSTEM OF EL SALVADOR."

3. (U) THE NOTE EXPRESSED CONCERN THAT MEXICO, AS A MEMBER OF THE CONTADORA GROUP AND THE E-II INTERNATIONAL VERIFICATION AND FOLLOW-UP COMMISSION (CIVS), WOULD PERMIT THE PRESENCE AND ACTIVITIES OF THE FMLN/FDR ON ITS TERRITORY. THE NOTE CONCLUDES WITH A REQUEST THAT THE GOM "IMMEDIATELY EXPEL FMLN/FDR MEMBERS FROM ITS TERRITORY AND PERMANENTLY CLOSE THE OFFICES OF THESE GROUPS." THE DIPNOTE PROVIDED THE ADDRESS OF THE OFFICES OF THE "POLITICAL-DIPLOMATIC COMMISSION" OF THE FMLN/FDR IN MEXICO CITY (BENJAMIN FRANKLIN NUM. 231, DEP. P#30, COL. MIPODROMO CONDESA; TELEPHONE: 516-15#6.)

4. (U) GOM: REJECTS CHARGES, QUOTES OLD NOTE

THE FULL TEXT OF SEPULVEDA'S REPLY WAS CARRIED IN THE PRESS HERE ON FEB. 18. SEPULVEDA DENIED CATEGORICALLY THAT MEXICO IS PERMITTING THE USE OF ITS TERRITORY FOR DESTABILIZING ACTIVITIES BY THE FMLN/FDR. THE REPLY STATES THAT, "THE SIMPLE FACT THAT THE GOM HAS AND IS PERMITTING THE ENTRY INTO ITS TERRITORY OF PERSONS WHO IN THEIR COUNTRIES WOULD BE MEMBERS OF THE OPPOSITION IF THEY COULD LIVE AND BE POLITICALLY ACTIVE THERE, DOES NOT CONSTITUTE AID OR SUPPORT NOR CAN BE A REASON FOR COMPLAINT." THE LETTER THEN QUOTES FROM AN OCT. 8, 1987 DIPNOTE FROM ACEVEDO TO SEPULVEDA IN WHICH THE GOM IS THANKED PROFUSELY FOR HAVING HELPED MAKE POSSIBLE EL SALVADOR'S COMPLIANCE WITH THE E-II ACCORDS.

5. (C) COMMENT

SEPULVEDA IS ON VERY THIN ICE IN ARGUING THAT THE GOM IS ALLOWING THE FMLN/FDR SANCTUARY IN MEXICO MERELY BECAUSE THEY CANNOT FUNCTION AS A POLITICAL OPPOSITION IN EL SALVADOR. THE FACT IS THAT THE DUARTE GOVERNMENT HAS URGED REPEATEDLY THE RETURN AND INCORPORATION INTO THE DEMOCRACTIC SYSTEM OF THE FMLN/FDR, BUT NEITHER THE FMLN NOR THE FDR LEADERS HAVE CHOSEN TO TAKE UP THE INVITATION. INSTEAD, THE FMLN HAS VOWED TO SABOTAGE THROUGH VIOLENCE THE UPCOMING MARCH 20 ELECTIONS, AND THE FDR HAS DECLINED TO PARTICIPATE IN THE ELECTIONS CITING A VARIETY OF EXCUSES. TO THE GOES, SEPULVEDA'S REPLY WILL BE READ AS ANOTHER THINLY VEILED EXCUSE FOR CONTINUED MEXICAN SYMPATHY FOR THE FMLN/FDR.

6. (C) THE PUBLIC RELEASE OF ACEVEDO'S DIPNOTE WAS NOT AN UNINTENTIONAL DIPLOMATIC SNAFU, BUT RATHER IS SYMPTOMATIC OF THE GROWING GOES FRUSTRATION WITH WHAT IS SEEN AS MEXICAN HYPOCRICY ON HUMAN RIGHTS, ITS HEGEMONIAL ATTITUDE, AND ITS BLATANT SYMPATHY FOR THE SANDINISTAS IN THE PEACE PROCESS. THE DETERIORATING GOES/GOM RELATIONS COME AT A TIME WHEN MEXICAN RELATIONS WITH THE OTHER CENTAM DEMOCRACIES ARE ON A DOWNTURN AS WELL. THE MEXICAN AMBASSADOR TO HONDURAS HAS BEEN DECLARED PERSONA NON GRATA, COSTA RICA'S PRESIDENT ARIAS HAS PUBLICLY REJECTED THE MEXICAN POLITICAL SYSTEM AS A DEMOCRATIC MODEL, AND GUATEMALA'S PRESIDENT CEREZO IS ACCUSING THE MEXICANS OF SUPPORTING THE GUATEMALAN GUERRILLA MOVEMENT. IRRITATION AMONG THE DEMOCRACIES WITH MEXICO IS LIKELY TO CONTINUE AND INCREASE FURTHER UNTIL THE GOM RECOGNIZES THE FAILURE OF ITS CENTRAL AMERICA POLICIES AND TAKES CORRECTIVE ACTION. IN THE MEANTIME, THE POISONED ATMOSPHERE BETWEEN THE GOES AND THE GOM WILL LIKELY SPILL OVER TO THE 44TH SESSION OF THE UNHRC IN GENEVA AND REDUCE CHANCES FOR A FAVORABLE OUTCOME ON THE SALVADORAN RESOLUTION.

2. SUMMARY: NDI REPS EXPRESSED SATISFACTION WITH THE PROGRESS AND PLANNING OF THE FREE ELECTIONS MOVEMENT (NOW CALLED THE "NO" CAMPAIGN BECAUSE THE ONLY HOPE FOR FREE ELECTIONS IS A TRIUMPH FOR THE."NO" IN THE PLEBISCITE.) THE CAMPAIGN WILL RECEIVE DIRECTLY A TOTAL OF 500 THOUSAND U.S. DOLLARS FROM THE SPECIAL APPROPRIATION TO NED KNOWN AS THE HARKIN AMENDMENT, IN ADDITION TO 200 THOUSAND DOLLARS FROM THE NDI BUDGET. A SPANISH FOUNDATION WITH A CHILEAN OFFICE WILL PROBABLY BE THE FORMAL GRANTEE. FINANCING FROM HOLLAND AND SPAIN HAS BEGUN TO FLOW IN MEANINGFUL QUANTITIES. THE NEXT NATIONWIDE POLL, TO BE CONDUCTED BY FLACSO, WILL OCCUR IN APRIL AND RESULTS WILL BE REVEALED IN MAY. IN AN UNRELATED DEVELOPMENT, THE COMMUNISTS ARE COMPLICATING THE "NO" CAMPAIGN WITH A COUNTER EFFORT DESIGNED TO INVALIDATE THE PLEBISCITE A PRIORI, AND THEREBY EXACERBATE VOTER REGISTRATION RELUCTANCE. THE PC SLOGAN IS THE STANDARD ONE THAT UNITY AROUND "SOCIAL MOBILIZATION" (READ PROTEST MARCHES) CAN UPSET THE DICTATOR'S DESIGNS, AND THE PC IS TRYING TO ORGANIZE PEOPLES' ASSEMBLIES. THE OPPOSITION HOPES TO NEUTRALIZE THIS COMMUNIST EFFORT IN THE "POBLACIONES" WITH THE HELP OF AVEC'S ORGANIZATION AND CIVIC EDUCATION PROGRAMS. END SUMMARY.

3. NDI REPS KEN WOLLACK AND PAT KEEFER VISITED SANTIAGO FEBRUARY 17-19 TO LOOK INTO THE ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE TWO GRANTS IT WILL BE ADMINISTERING FOR THE FREE ELECTIONS CAMPAIGN, (NOW KNOWN AS THE "NO" CAMPAIGN, EVEN THOUGH MUCH OF ITS FOCUS CONTINUES TO BE VOTER REGISTRATION). THE TWO GRANTS INCLUDE ONE OF ITS OWN(200 THOUSAND U.S. DOLLARS) AND ONE APPROVED BY THE NED (250 THOUSAND U.S. DOLLARS). UPON LEARNING FROM GENARO ARRIAGADA (MANAGER OF THE "NO" CAMPAIGN)AND OTHERS THAT THE CAMPAIGN HAS RECEIVED NEW SUPPORT FROM THE NETHERLANDS AND ITALY WHICH CAN BE USED WITH FLEXIBILITY, E.G., FOR PAYING RENT, SALARIES AND OTHER OVERHEAD, THE NDI REPS DECIDED THAT NED/NDI GRANT FUNDS WOULD BE ALLOCATED FOR ADVERTISING, POLLING, COMPUTERIZATION AND PRINTING OF CAMPAIGN LITERATURE. THEY HAVE REPORTEDLY RECEIVED A COMMITTMENT FROM CARL GERSHMAN TO PROVIDE AN ADDITIONAL 250 THOUSAND U.S. DOLLARS FROM THE REMAINING FUNDS OF THE HARKIN AMENDMENT'S ORIGINAL

ONE MILLION DOLLARS, WHICH WILL BE EMPLOYED IN THE SAME FOUR AREAS. (MORE DETAILED STATUS OF FOREIGN FUNDING BEING REPORTED BY SEPTEL).

4. THE NDI WILL BE PROVIDING TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE, INCLUDING A VISIT BY FLACSO POLLSTER ANGEL FLISHFISH WITH U.S. POLLSTER PETER HART IN MARCH. COMPUTER

AND REGISTRATION EXPERT GLEN COWAN WILL VISIT SANTIAGO IN LATE MARCH AND PETER HART WILL COME IN APRIL. THE FLACSO POLL WILL BE CONDUCTED IN APRIL AND THE RESULTS WILL BE RELEASED IN.MAY.. THE APRIL POLL WILL BE A TRULY NATIONAL ONE. WE RAISED WITH THE NDI REPS OUR QUESTIONS ABOUT THE FLACSO SAMPLE AND THE RELIABILITY OF ITS RESULTS. NDI REPS WILL PASS THIS TO HART FOR THE MARCH DISCUSSIONS.

5. NDI REPS SEEMED PLEASED WITH THE LEVEL OF PLANNING WITHIN THE CAMPAIGN. A NUMBER OF DETAILS NEED TO BE WORKED OUT, SUCH AS HOW THE NAMFREL-LIKE EFFORT OF SERGIO MOLINA'S COMMITTEE OF NOTABLES WILL MESH WITH THE OTHERS. ANOTHER OUTSTANDING QUESTION IS WHAT ORGANIZATION WILL BE THE GRANTEE. IT NOW APPEARS THAT A SPANISH FOUNDATION CREATED BY PDC VICE PRESIDENT ANDRES ZALDIVAR MAY BE THE CHOICE. NO ONE ELSE WAS WILLING TO RECEIVE THE FUNDS.

6. IN A DEVELOPMENT UNRELATED TO THE NDI VISIT, THE "NO" CAMPAIGN IS CONCERNED BY THE POTENTIAL NEGATIVE IMPACT OF A "CAMPAIGN AGAINST FRAUD" BEING LAUNCHED BY THE COMMUNIST PARTY (PC) WITH ITS ALLIES THE "HISTORICAL"

6. IN A DEVELOPMENT UNRELATED TO THE NDI VISIT, THE "NO" CAMPAIGN IS CONCERNED BY THE POTENTIAL NEGATIVE IMPACT OF A "CAMPAIGN AGAINST FRAUD" BEING LAUNCHED BY THE COMMUNIST PARTY (PC) WITH ITS ALLIES THE "HISTORICAL" SOCIALISTS AND THE MIR. (NOTE: THE PC'S COLLEAGUES IN THE UNITED LEFT, THE ALMEYDA SOCIALISTS, CHRISTIAN LEFT, MAPU AND LUENGO RADICALS HAVE JOINED THE "NO" CAMPAIGN TO THE PC'S CHAGRIN. THUS THE "UNITED LEFT" IS UNDER STRAIN. THE PC HAS DEVISED THE "ANTI-FRAUD" CAMPAIGN TO REDUCE ITS ISOLATION AND DISCREDIT THE PLEBISCITE.)

7. THE THEME OF THE COMMUNISTS' "CAMPAIGN" IS THAT FRAUD IS ALREADY UNDERWAY AND "SOCIAL MOBILIZATION" IS THE ONLY MEANS TO COMBAT IT. THE "NO"CAMPAIGN LEADERS ARE CONCERNED THE PC INITIATIVE MAY REINFORCE VOTER APATHY.

8. PARRYING THE PC THRUST, OPPOSITION SPOKESMEN SERGIO MOLINA, CHRISTIAN DEMOCRAT ADOLFO ZALDIVAR

(ANDRES' BROTHER) AND SOCIALIST EDGARDO CONDEZA HAVE REFUSED TO LABEL THE PROCESS A FRAUD. MOLINA COMMENTED PUBLICLY THAT THE DRAFT VOTING AND VOTE-COUNTING LAW AFFORDS GUARANTEES THAT IF FULFILLED ENSURE HONESTY. ZALDIVAR SAID THE OPPOSITION WILL BE PREPARED AND ABLE TO COMBAT FRAUD WITH ITS POLL WATCHERS. ALL THREE HAVE SAID THAT IF ADEQUATE SAFEGUARDS ARE HONORED THE RESULTS WILL BE RESPECTED.

9. THE COMMUNIST CAMPAIGN IS PARTICULARLY TROUBLESOME IN CERTAIN POOR NEIGHBORHOODS, ACCORDING TO ANDRES ZALDIVAR. IN "POBLACIONES" THE MESSAGE OF FRAUD IS MIXED WITH CALLS FOR UNREASONABLE SOCIAL SPENDING AND OTHER DEMANDS IF THE GOC IS DEFEATED IN THE PLEBISCITE. THE COMMUNISTS ARE ORGANIZING POPULAR "ASSEMBLIES" FOR SOCIAL JUSTICE AND AGAINST FRAUD, THE APPEAL OF WHICH IS HARD FOR THE DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION TO COMBAT. ZALDIVAR IS RELYING ON THE CATHOLIC CHURCH-SPONSORED "POBLACION" ORGANIZATION AVEC (ALSO FUNDED BY NED) TO HELP NEUTRALIZE THE COMMUNIST CAMPAIGN WITH ITS OWN CIVIC EDUCATION EFFORT RELATED TO THE PLEBISCITE.

Dear Secretary Fox,

Recently, I was contacted by Mr. Mel Ravitz expressing concern over several human rights cases in Chile, Syria and Greece. Mr. Ravitz is particularly concerned with the case of Reinalda del Carmen Pereira Plaza in Chile, Fadil al-Fadil in Syria and David Matzinikolaou-Kastrisios in Greece. I am enclosing a copy of the constituent's correspondence for your information.

I find this matter disturbing and would appreciate it if you could investigate the concerns raised in the attached letter. Please direct any questions or correspondence to Denise Sullivan Pesnick of my staff, at 50-105 Dirksen Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

SUBJECT: CHILEAN AMBASSADOR COMPLAINS ABOUT 1987 HUMAN RIGHTS REPORT. COMMENTS ON U.S.-CHILEAN RELATIONS

1. ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~, ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY. ON FEBRUARY 18, 1988, CHILEAN AMBASSADOR HERNAN FELIPE ERRAZURIZ CALLED ON ARA ASSISTANT SECRETARY ELLIOTT ABRAMS TO COMPLAIN ABOUT THE 1987 HUMAN RIGHTS REPORT AND LAMENT WHAT HE CONSIDERS THE POOR STATE OF CURRENT U.S.-CHILEAN RELATIONS. ERRAZURIZ CLAIMED THAT THE HUMAN RIGHTS REPORT CONTAINED FALSE INFORMATION AND PROVIDED AN UNDULY DARK VIEW OF WHAT IS HAPPENING IN CHILE. HE CRITICIZED THE REPORT FOR NOT FULLY MENTIONING POSITIVE STEPS THE GOC HAS TAKEN RECENTLY TO IMPROVE THE SITUATION OF HUMAN AND CIVIL RIGHTS AND IN FAMILIAR TERMS

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~
DEMOCRACY ACCORDING TO A CLEARLY ESTABLISHED TIMETABLE. THE U.S., HE BEMOANED, HAS SINGLED CHILE OUT FOR SPECIAL PUNISHMENT WITH THIS REPORT AND REFUSES TO OPEN ITS EYES TO THE POPULARITY OF THE REGIME. HE URGED THE U.S. TO SHOW SOME UNDERSTANDING OF THE POLITICAL PROCESS IN CHILE AND REFRAIN FROM INTERFERING IN IT. SHOULD THE TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY ACCORDING TO THE GOC PLAN FAIL, HE PREDICTED DIRE CONSEQUENCES, INCLUDING "A RETURN TO 1973."

3. ABRAMS DEFENDED THE HUMAN RIGHTS REPORT AS A BALANCED AND FAIR ASSESSMENT OF THE SITUATION. HE CITED VERBATIM THE MANY POSITIVE REFERENCES TO GOC ACTION MADE IN THE REPORT AND DENIED THAT IT WAS PREPARED WITH ANYTHING BUT AN OPEN MIND. THE MAJOR QUESTION IN PRESENT AND FUTURE U.S.-CHILEAN RELATIONS, ABRAMS POINTED OUT, IS THE NATURE OF THE PLEBISCITE AND THE CAMPAIGN LEADING UP TO IT. IN ORDER FOR THE PLEBISCITE TO PRODUCE A LEGITIMATE RESULT, HE ARGUED, IT MUST BE HONEST AND BE VISIBLY SEEN TO BE HONEST BOTH ABROAD BUT, MORE IMPORTANTLY, IN CHILE. THE ABILITY OF CHILE'S FUTURE PRESIDENT TO EFFECTIVELY GOVERN THE COUNTRY WILL TO A LARGE DEGREE DEPEND ON THE PURITY OF THE PLEBISCITE. OUR RELATIONS, HE CLAIMED, THEREFORE WILL HINGE ON THE NATURE OF THE PLEBISCITE. ABRAMS URGED ERRAZURIZ TO POINT OUT TO U.S. OFFICIALS WHATEVER IMPROVEMENTS THE GOC FEELS IT IS MAKING IN THE AREA OF HUMAN AND CIVIL RIGHTS AND TO DEFEND ITS RECORD BY NOTING THESE ACCOMPLISHED DEEDS. END SUMMARY.

4. CHILEAN AMBASSADOR HERNAN FELIPE ERRAZURIZ, ACCOMPANIED BY DCM PATRICIO MATURANA CALLED ON ELLIOTT ABRAMS ON FEBURARY 17. PETER DESHAZO OF ARA/SC WAS ALSO PRESENT. AFTER BRIEFLY DISCUSSING THE ELECTION OF ENRIQUE

IGLESIAS AS PRESIDENT OF THE IDB THAT AFTERNOON, ERRAZURIZ LAUNCHED INTO A ENERGETIC ATTACK ON THE U.S. HUMAN RIGHTS REPORT. THE PAST 60 DAYS HAVE BEEN "VERY DIFFICULT" IN MATTERS OF BILATERAL RELATIONS, HE SAID, NOTING THE DECEMBER 17 STATEMENT RELEASED BY THE DEPARTMENT, THE GSP CUTOFF, THE SAL VOTE AND THE HUMAN RIGHTS REPORT. HE FOUND THE REPORT TO BE "ABSOLUTELY WRONG" AND "WORSE THAN LAST YEAR'S." HE CLAIMED THAT THE U.S. MISCONSTRUED THE CURRENT SITUATION IN CHILE, DWELLING ON THE NEGATIVE WHILE GLOSSING OVER RECENT POSITIVE STEPS TAKEN BY THE GOC. THE TONE OF THE REPORT WAS ESPECIALLY TROUBLESOME, HE CLAIMED, AND DOES NOT MESH WITH THE LAST VOLIO REPORT.

5. MUCH DISTRUST IS ARISING IN RELATIONS, ERRAZURIZ SAID, WHICH IS HARMFUL TO BOTH SIDES. THE NEXT FEW MONTHS WILL BE VITAL, NOT ONLY IN TERMS OF RELATIONS BUT ALSO IN THE POLITICAL DEVELOPMENTS WHICH WILL TAKE PLACE. HE SAID THAT A GREAT DISCUSSION IS OCCURRING IN CHILE OVER THE TIMING OF THE PLEBISCITE. POLLS NOW SHOW THAT PINOCHET'S POPULARITY IS ON THE RISE. THE CHILEAN ECONOMY IS LOOKING GOOD AND THE GOVERNMENT ENJOYS A LARGE WINDFALL FROM COPPER REVENUES. AS FOR POSITIVE STEPS, THE OPPOSITION IS NOW APPEARING ON TV. IN THIS AREA, THE GOVERNMENT, HE CLAIMS, CONTROLS ONLY ONE TV STATION, WHILE THE LARGEST IS RUN BY THE CATHOLIC CHURCH AND THE OTHER TWO BY THE CHURCH AND THE UNIVERSITY OF CHILE, ALL INDEPENDENT OF GOVERNMENT CONTROL. (COMMENT: BY THIS ERRAZURIZ INFERRED THAT THE GOC HAS NO CONTROL OVER THE MATTER OF TV AND THAT IF THE U OF CHILE AND CHURCH WILL IT, THE OPPOSITION WILL HAVE MAJOR ACCESS. END COMMENT). A NEGATIVE SIDE OF THE CURRENT SITUATION IS THAT THERE IS "A LOT OF TERRORISM" LATELY AIMED AGAINST THE MILITARY, NOTING PARTICULARLY THE BOMBING OF A HOSPITAL WAITING ROOM IN VALPARAISO. (COMMENT: HE CLEARLY INFERRED THAT THE LEFT WAS RESPONSIBLE FOR THIS BOMBING AGAINST A MILITARY-RELATED TARGET. END COMMENT).

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

6. IN CHILE, ERRAZURIZ CLAIMED, U.S.-CHILEAN RELATIONS ARE PERCEIVED AS BEING STRAINED AND THE FAR LEFT TAKES ADVANTAGE OF THIS FACT. HE THEN LAUNCHED INTO THE STANDARD DESCRIPTION OF THE UNIQUENESS OF CHILE'S SALVATION FROM MARXISM. THE GOC'S SURE MARCH TO DEMOCRACY COULD BE UPSET BY U.S. "PRESSURE," HE STATED, NOTING THAT HE PREFERRED NOT TO USE THE WORD "AGGRESSION." HE THEN ASKED FOR ABRAMS' OPINION OF RELATIONS.

7. REFERRING TO THE HUMAN RIGHTS REPORT, AS ABRAMS CLAIMED THAT IT IS "FILLED WITH COMPLIMENTS" FOR THE GOC, A STATEMENT ERRAZURIZ TOOK IMMEDIATE EXCEPTION TO, ARGUING THAT CHILE HAS BEEN UNFAIRLY PUNISHED. HE CLAIMED THAT HE COULD PROVIDE INFORMATION TO SHOW THE UNTRUTHFULNESS OF

THE REPORT AND ABRAMS URGED HIM TO FURNISH IT.

8. MOVING AWAY FROM A DISCUSSION OF THE REPORT ITSELF, ABRAMS NOTED THAT THE PLEBISCITE PROCESS WILL BE THE KEY FACTOR IN THE FUTURE OF BILATERAL RELATIONS. GIVEN THAT THE PLEBISCITE WILL PROBABLY TAKE PLACE BEFORE ANY CHANGE IN U.S. ADMINISTRATION, THE CHILEANS WILL STILL HAVE TO DEAL WITH RELATIONS AS THEY ARE AND NOTED THAT THE U.S.

CLEAN AND FAIR PLEBISCITE. NOT ONLY IS IT IMPORTANT FOR THE PLEBISCITE PROCESS TO BE HONEST, ABRAMS CLAIMED, IT MUST BE SEEN AS BEING HONEST IN ORDER TO PRODUCE A LEGITIMATE GOVERNMENT. ACCESS TO TELEVISION AND THE FULL OBSERVANCE OF HUMAN AND CIVIL RIGHTS WILL BE KEY FACTORS IN THIS. ABRAMS URGED THE CHILEANS TO ALLOW AS MANY RELIABLE OPINION POLLS AS POSSIBLE TO BE CONDUCTED UP TO THE PLEBISCITE. IF THE POLLS ARE GOOD AND SHOW PINOCHET A WINNER AND HE SUBSEQUENTLY WINS, THEN HIS VICTORY WILL BE BELIEVED. FAIR CAMPAIGN CONDITIONS AND THE PRESENCE OF IMPARTIAL OBSERVERS DURING THE VOTING WILL HAVE A BENEFICIAL RESULT IN GRANTING LEGITIMACY TO A CLEAN PLEBISCITE. IF, ON THE OTHER HAND, PINOCHET LOOKS LIKE A SURE LOSER AND SUDDENTLY WINS, PROTESTS WILL ARISE BOTH IN SANTIAGO AND WASHINGTON. THE RULES OF THE GAME AND HOW THEY ARE HONORED ARE CRUCIAL, ABRAMS SAID. THE FAIRER THE PLEBISCITE, THE BETTER WILL BE BILATERAL RELATIONS. OUR REACTION TO A POTENTIAL PINOCHET VICTORY WOULD DEPEND ENTIRELY ON THE FAIRNESS OF THE PLEBISCITE PROCESS.

9. ERRAZURIZ APPEARED MOST PLEASED BY THIS COMMENT, ASSURING ABRAMS THAT HE IS "ABSOLUTELY SURE" THAT THE PLEBISCITE WILL BE HONEST. THERE WILL, HOWEVER, BE VIOLENCE TO THREATEN THE TRANQUILITY OF THE PROCESS, ODDLY NOTING THAT "IN A SMALL VILLAGE 30 OR SO MEN COULD KILL ANY NUMBER OF PEOPLE." THE ARMY, HE STATED, CAN BE COUNTED ON TO MAINTAIN ORDER, HOWEVER. AS FOR THE PLEBISCITE AS A MECHANISM OF SELECTING A PRESIDENT, ERRAZURIZ STATED THAT IT HAS NOW BEEN RECOGNIZED BY THE OPPOSITION AS A LEGITIMATE MEANS. THE U.S., HOWEVER, ATTACKS THE CHILEAN CONSTITUTION IN THE HUMAN RIGHTS REPORT, A GRAVE ERROR. CRITICISM OF THE CONSTITUTION BY THE U.S. IS A VERY SERIOUS MATTER, HE STATED, FOR ONLY

CHILEANS HAVE THE RIGHT TO COMMENT ON THEIR CONSTITUTION. THE SUCCESS OF TRANSITIONS IN BRAZIL AND SPAIN CAME ABOUT BECAUSE NOBODY CRITICIZED THE CONSTITUTION. IN BOTH CASES THE GOVERNMENT, NOT THE OPPOSITION, BROUGHT THE TRANSITION ABOUT AND IF IN EITHER CASE THE GOVERNMENT LOST CONTROL, CHAOS WOULD ERUPT. HE REPEATED THAT THE U.S. PLAYS A VERY LARGE ROLE IN ASSURING THE SUCCESS OR LACK OF SUCCESS OF THE PLEBISCITE IN CHILE.

10. ABRAMS REITERATED THE NEED FOR THE PLEBISCITE TO BE VISIBLY FAIR. CHILE IS NOT PARAGUAY, HE STATED, AND RELIABLE POLLS SHOULD GIVE OBSERVERS AN IDEA OF RELATIVE POLITICAL STRENGTH BEFORE THE VOTING TAKES PLACE. HOWEVER, IF THE GOC MAKES MISTAKES LIKE ARRESTING REPORTERS, IT WILL LOSE ITS CREDIBILITY AND WEAKEN ITS CLAIM TO CARRYING OUT A FAIR CAMPAIGN.

11. EXPRESSING GRATITUDE FOR THIS ADVICE, ERRAZURIZ CLAIMED THAT LEFTIST-INSTIGATED VIOLENCE WOULD BE A WILD CARD IN THE PROCEEDINGS. MONEY FROM ABROAD, EVEN A PITTANCE LIKE THE ONE MILLION FROM NED, ALSO RAISES THE HACKLES OF ALL CHILEANS, WHO REJECT OUTSIDE INTERFERENCE.

12. ERRAZURIZ ASKED ABRAMS WHAT THE U.S. WOULD DO IF PINOCHET WON THE PLEBISCITE. THE REPLY WAS THAT THE CREDIBILITY OF THE VICTORY WOULD BE THE MAJOR FACTOR. IF PINOCHET CANNOT WIN FAIRLY, ABRAMS STATED, HE CANNOT RULE SUCCESSFULLY OR FOR LONG. ONCE AGAIN, THE NATURE OF THE PROCESS IS KEY.

13. WHEN ERRAZURIZ PROMISED THAT FUTURE POSITIVE STEPS WOULD BE FORTHCOMING FROM THE GOC, ABRAMS URGED HIM TO BRING THESE TO THE ATTENTION OF AMBASSADOR KAMPLEMAN, NOTING HIS INTEREST IN CHILE, AND SUGGESTED THAT FOREIGN MINISTER GARCIA CONSIDER WRITING TO SECRETARY SHULTZ TO BRING HIM UP TO DATE ON STEPS TAKEN SINCE THEIR MEETING ON SEPTEMBER 28. ERRAZURIZ PROMISED TO TAKE THESE SUGGESTIONS INTO CONSIDERATION.

14. COMMENT. ERRAZURIZ ENTERED THE MEETING IN AN UNCHARACTERISTICALLY GOOD MOOD AND LEFT IN A BETTER ONE. HE APPEARED VERY PLEASED BY WHAT WAS DISCUSSED AND TOLD

COURT TOLD AMB PIEDRA THAT FRANCE WOULD NOT MAKE A SEPARATE SPEECH ON CHILE THIS YEAR AND WOULD INCLUDE ITS COMMENTS ON CHILE IN A GENERAL REVIEW OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS.

4. THE CHILEAN AMBASSADOR MARIO CALDERON, ALSO APPROACHED AMB PIEDRA TO EXPRESS HIS CONCERN AND DISSAPOINTMENT AT CERTAIN OF THE ELEMENTS THAT WE PRESENTED TO HIM IN ACCORDANCE WITH INSTRUCTIONS.

5. SOME OF THE CONCERNS OF THE CHILEAN AMBASSADOR ARE EXPRESSED IN A MEMO DELIVERED TO AMB PIEDRA, THE CONTENTS OF WHICH ARE THE FOLLOWING:

1.- PARRAFO OPERATIVO 10 DE LOS ELEMENTOS SUGERIDOS PARA UNA RESOLUCION SOBRE DERECHOS HUMANOS EN CHILE, CONCRETAMENTE EL QUE COMIENZA "IT SHOULD ALSO TAKE STEPS...", SE CONSIDERA MUY NEGATIVO, PORQUE CONSTITUYE MANIFIESTO RETROCESO EN POSICION MANIFESTADA POR ESTADOS UNIDOS EN LO QUE SE REFIERE AL PLEBISCITO.

2.- DEMUESTRA ADEMAS UN ALTO GRADO DE DESCONOCIMIENTO DE LA REALIDAD POLITICA ACTUAL DE CHILE.

3.- EN EFECTO, EL 27 DE AGOSTO DEL ANO PASADO, EL SUBSECRETARIO ADJUNTO R. GELBAND, SENALO QUE SI EL PLEBISCITO ERA APOYADO POR AMPLIO SECTOR DE LA SOCIEDAD, BAJO CONDICIONES LIBRES Y JUSTAS, PODRIA SERVIR PROPOSITOS DEMOCRATAS".

4.- LA DECLARACION DEL PRESIDENTE REGAN DEL 17 DE DICIEMBRE DE 1987 NO DESCONOCE POSIBILIDAD DEL PLEBISCITO. SOLO INDIC GARANTIA QUE DEBE REVESTIR.

5.- DECLARACIONES DEL ENCARGADO DE NEGOCIOS A.I. DE EE.UU. EN CHILE, GEORGE JONES, TODAS POSITIVAS EN RELACION A LA MISMA MATERIA.

6.- EL RELATOR ESPECIAL VOLIO EN SUS ULTIMOS DOS INFORMES, ACEPTA MECANISMO PLEBISCITO Y CONSIDERA QUE

ESTE SE PREPARA CON SERIEDAD Y RESPONSABILIDAD.

7.- LA MISMA OPOSICION DEMOCRATICA CHILEAN LO HA ACEPTADO Y SE PREPARA ACTIVAMENTE PARA PARTICIPAR EN EL. ELABORANDO MECANISMOS DE CONTROL DE SUS RESULTADOS, ENTRE LOS CUALES PUEDEN CITARSE LA INVITACION A 300 PARLAMENTARIOS DE OTROS PAISES.

8.- EN LA PRACTICA, HOY EN CHILE EL UNICO SECTOR QUE RECHAZA EL PLEBISCITO Y ABOGA POR LA VIA VIOLENTA, COMO EWL MISMO RELATOR VOLIO LO CONSIGNA EN SUS INFORMES, ES LA EXTREMA IZQUIERDA, LIDERADA POR EL PARTIDO COMUNISTA.

Valech offered comments on the following topics:

1. The military prosecutor's request for information from the Vicariate's files:

Valech said that the prosecutor already has the files of the Chiloe Clinic which reveal the names of all persons attended, the nature of the injury and if the bill was paid for by the Vicariate.[1] In requesting similar information from the Vicariate, the military prosecutor is continuing the campaign of public pressure and harassment of the Vicariate. He intends to provide information on bills that were paid and whether any of the individuals referred to the Chiloe Clinic had bullet wounds (information requested by prosecutor Torres), but he will not provide the names of those who had been referred on the grounds that this would be immoral and unethical.[2] Valech pointedly noted that information about the prosecutor's request to the Vicariate for this data was published in a newspaper practically at the same time that they received the letter. Subsequently he learned from two reporters that the newspapers had received phone calls from the prospectur's office advising them of the existence of the letter. His conclusion is that the harassment is likely to continue throughout this year.

Footnotes:

1. He confirmed that it is standard practice for the Vicariate to pay such bills.

2. Valech indicated that he thinks there were very few who had bullet wounds, and most of those were from Carabinero buckshot or rubber bullets received during demonstrations.

CONFIDENTIAL

OPTIONAL FORM NO. 10
(REV. 1-80)

2. Cardinal Silva and the ACHA:

Valech confided that Silva had never received a threat from ACHA. Rather Silva received a copy of a leaflet containing the pictures of five disappeared persons in which ACHA states that it always fulfills its promises. There was no threat directed at the Cardinal and the same leaflet was distributed in super markets and sent in the mail to many people, according to Valech. Silva did not interpret it as a threat and nor do others in the Church but some of Silva's family members have distorted the meaning to the press.

3. Recent attacks on the Archbishopric of Talca:

Valech is suspicious of the recent break in at Archbishop Carlos Gonzalez's residence at Talca. The intruders evidently stole CH $18,000, rifled through a drawer that contained inocuous literature and set fire to it but disturbed little else. Specially noted, is the fact that the Cardex that contains very sensitive files was completely untouched. Valech made a general statement that he wonders whether groups of the extreme left might not be trying to create an impression of CNI or government harassment of Church officials and perhaps opposition leaders in order to discredit the plebiscite. Valech noted in incidents where they suspected the CNI or the Far Right was responsible for break-ins, destruction was widespread and virtually no significant files were left untouched. He cited the example of the break-in at ICEM Headquarters of New Years' Eve of 1986.

4. I mentioned to Bishop Valech that I would be traveling to five cities in the south of Chile and would be requesting audiences with Bishops in those areas, just for his information. I noted, however, that I intended to call on specifically the Bishop of Osorno and visit the radio station that has suffered a number of attacks and threats in recent months, Radio de la Costa. Valech commented that this was useful but he also wanted me to be aware that the German priest in charge of the radio station is a particularly conflictive personality.

5. Olivares Case: Valech anticipates the courts will reactivate the case against Dr. Olivares in March. It may be turned over to another Chamber of the Supreme Court, perhaps one more malleable to GOC pressure. The Chamber which last ruled on the case voted 4-1 (or 5-1, I can't recall) in favor of releasing Olivares.

UNCLASSIFIED

6. Political Scenarios:

I asked Valech what he thought the government might do in the event that it appears it will lose in the plebiscite. He responded that he strongly doubted the government would cancel the plebiscite and would allow a free election but in his view if that were done and the second round were eliminated, Pinochet would have an excellent chance of winning against a divided opposition. Nevertheless, he feels that a plebiscite is still the most likely alternative and he is not confident that the "No" will win. Recently having traveled to the interior and talking to priests as well as common people he noted significant economic progress, an absence of unemployment and general contentment. Priests told him that people's wages have risen considerably and that prosperity has finally reached many formally depressed areas. While the numbers of people are relatively few compared to the masses of Santiago, he feels that these people in rural areas will almost uniformly vote for Pinochet.

Moreover, he feels the opposition will not create a viable alternative in time -- which appears to equate with picking a single leader -- and will therefore be rejected by voters. Women in particular will vote against uncertainty in the loneliness of the booth, regardless of what they tell their husbands, sons (and pollsters) due to family pressure, he predicted.

HE PROVIDED A FULL BRIEFING ON HIS HANDLING OF THE DEFENSE OF DAGOBERTO ARTURO LOPEZ REBOLLEDO AS WELL AS WLADIMIR MANCILLA ADASME AND RUBEN RIQUELME RETAMAL, TWO OF THE OTHER FOUR MEN CHARGED IN THIS CASE. THE REMAINING TWO DEFENDANTS ARE BEING REPRESENTED BY ANOTHER VICARIATE LAWYER.

3. IT WAS OBVIOUS FROM CAUCOTO'S STATEMENT THAT THE INFORMATION WHICH AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL HAS ON THIS CASE STEMS FROM VICARIATE SOURCES. CAUCOTO INDICATED HE IS IN REGULAR CONTACT WITH AMNESTY ON THIS AND OTHER CASES. HE STRESSED, AS DO SENIOR OFFICIALS IN THE VICARIATE, THAT THE VIC DOES NOT DEFEND THOSE INVOLVED IN VIOLENT ACTS WHICH HAVE TAKEN OR THREATENED LIVES.

4. CAUCOTO IS CONVINCED LOPEZ AND THE OTHER FOUR ARE INNOCENT OF THE CRIMES CHARGED AGAINST THEM. ALL FIVE OPPOSE THE GOVERNMENT BUT CAUCOTO BELIEVES THEY WERE NOT INVOLVED IN TERRORIST ORGANIZATIONS. EMBASSY FILES REVEAL NO INFORMATION ABOUT LOPEZ AND WE HAVE NO BASIS ON WHICH TO VALIDATE OR REFUTE CHARGES OF HIS INVOLVEMENT.

5. ASKED IF THE SLOWNESS IN THIS TRIAL INDICATED ANY WEAKNESS IN THE GOC CASE, CAUCOTO STATED THAT CASES HEARD BY MILITARY TRIBUNALS ARE ALL NOTORIOUSLY SLOW IN DEVELOPMENT AND RESOLUTION. LOPEZ WAS DETAINED IN NOVEMBER 1984, BUT DEFENDANTS IN OTHER CASES HAVE BEEN HELD FOR FIVE YEARS OR LONGER. THE STRENGTH OR WEAKNESS OF A CASE HAS NO APPARENT BEARING ON THE TIME INVOLVED IN GETTING IT THROUGH THE MILITARY COURT SYSTEM.

HE SAID THERE ARE A NUMBER OF PROCEDURAL AND TECHNICAL ERRORS IN THE GOVERNMENT'S CASE WHICH CAN BE APPEALED. SHOULD THE MILITARY COURT CONFIRM THE DECISION OF THE COURT OF FIRST INSTANCE, HE WILL APPEAL TO THE SUPREME COURT.

ALL OF THIS IS TIME CONSUMING AND HE DOES NOT EXPECT A FINAL DECISION UNTIL EARLY 1989, IF NOT LATER. CAUCOTO IS CONFIDENT LOPEZ WILL BE FREED EVENTUALLY.

7. ON THE QUESTION OF TORTURE, CAUCOTO NOTED THAT LOPEZ WAS ARRESTED AND HELD 3 OR 4 DAYS INCOMMUNICADO IN A SECRET DETENTION CENTER BY THE FORMER DICOMCAR BRANCH OF THE CARABINEROS. CAUCOTO BELIEVES THAT LOPEZ AND THE OTHER FIVE DEFENDANTS (ONE WAS LATER RELEASED AFTER THE CARABINEROS DISCOVERED HE WAS IN JAIL ON THE NIGHT OF THE CRIME) WERE TORTURED TO OBTAIN CONFESSIONS. DOCTORS FROM THE LEGAL MEDICAL INSTITUTE, AN OFFICIAL ORGANIZATION ASSOCIATED WITH THE MINISTRY OF HEALTH, EXAMINED LOPEZ AFTER HE WAS RELEASED FROM SOLITARY CONFINEMENT, AND REPORTEDLY FOUND BRUISES AND OTHER MARKS USUALLY ASSOCIATED WITH VIOLENCE. WHILE THE DOCTORS DO NOT SAY THE MARKS WERE THE RESULT OF TORTURE, CAUCOTO SAID THIS ATTITUDE WAS A NORMAL CAUTION BY THE DOCTORS AND THAT THE MARKES WERE SIMILAR TO THOSE SEEN ON OTHER TORTURE VICTIMS. THAT VICARIATE REPORTS OF TORTURE ARE CREDIBLE.

8. COMMENT: GIVEN THE HIGH LEVEL OF INTEREST IN LOPEZ, EMBASSY HUMAN RIGHTS OFFICER WILL ATTEMPT TO VISIT HIM IN PRISON. OUR ACCESS TO PRISONERS HAS BEEN EXTREMELY LIMITED IN THE PAST 18 MONTHS, BUT WE CAN USE THIS CASE AS A MEANS OF TESTING THE GOC'S SINCERITY IN ALLOWING US TO VISIT DETAINEES. WE BELIEVE THAT THE SENIOR OFFICIALS OF THE VICARIATE ARE SINCERE WHEN THEY SAY THE VICARIATE WILL NOT DEFEND TERRORISTS AND THAT THEY ATTEMPT TO AVOID SUCH CASES. ON THE OTHER HAND, SOME VICTIMS OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS CHOOSE TO USE THE SERVICES OF OTHER HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS. THE FACT THAT THE VICARIATE IS NOT DEFENDING CERTAIN INDIVIDUALS DOES NOT NECESSARILY MEAN THAT THOSE DEFENDANTS ARE TERRORISTS EITHER.

The Honorable Bob Graham
United States Senate
Washington, D.C. 20510

Dear Senator Graham:

I have received your letter of February 18 concerning the disappearances of five young men in Santiago in September 1987. These cases are well known to us since we have been following them since the stories first broke in the local press, and particularly since these are the first confirmed cases of disappearances to occur in Chile since 1978.

Unfortunately we have nothing new to add to what your constituent, [redacted] stated in his letter to your office. The five men remain missing, and there has been no news about them since they disappeared. The head of the Catholic Church in Chile, Cardinal Juan Francisco Fresno, issued a public statement February 11 denouncing the lack of clarification of these disappearances. He noted his concern, which reflects the fears of the entire human rights community in Chile, that these cases may represent a return to a type of abusive repression which had been thought overcome in Chile.

I share the Cardinal's fear on this matter, and have noted our concerns to officials of the Government of Chile. We also included mention of these cases in our annual report to Congress on the human rights situation in Chile. A regression to these types of terrorist activities will, in my opinion, only cause serious harm to efforts by Chile to return to a democratic form of government.

I regret we are unable to provide more information. We will continue to follow this case closely, with the hope that the five men will be allowed to return to their families.

Thank you for your letter.

Sincerely,

Harry G. Barnes, Jr.

-- Discussed the role of television in the plebiscite.
End Summary.

Attack in Melipilla

Willoughby described in great detail how his car was run off the road on the road to Melipilla. He believes that the responsible individuals were "armed civilians," perhaps ex-CNI agents, of whom there are many and who are all but immune to prosecution. This immunity was demonstrated by the way the Carabineros handled his case. They identified the vehicle which had forced Willoughby off the road, but when he inquired later, he was told by local Carabinero officials that the affair had become "reservada."

Armed Civilians

Extremist supporters of the regime, indeed all of those who have profited from it and who have much to lose if the vote goes against them in the plebiscite, may behave unwisely and dangerously. There are armed, loosely knit groups of these extremists throughout the country, and they enjoy a high degree of immunity through their ability to threaten and blackmail.

Public affairs suggestions for the Ambassador

It is important that the Ambassador save his shots for key events such as the calling of a new state of siege or major irregularities in the plebiscite. While maintaining a low "political" profile, the Ambassador could take advantage of public exposure in non-controversial areas, most notably scientific cooperation. (I replied that the Ambassador indeed was especially interested in scientific cooperation.)

Timetables for the plebiscite

The commanders of the armed forces may make their definitive study of the Chilean political situation in June, leading to an August call for the plebiscite, which would take place in September. Hernán Felipe Errázuriz suggested that the best time for the plebiscite would be close to the U.S. elections, taking advantage of our preoccupation with our own political process. Supporting the conventional wisdom, [Willoughby] said that Pinochet will run if he is certain that he will win, but if he is less than sure, he will put up a sacrifice candidate. He will retain control of the armed forces, which of course gives him more power than a future president.

State of Siege

If the government does not feel that it has sufficient control of the situation, it may resort to a state of siege, making use of threats such as the La Serena airport bomb.

The role of television in the plebiscite process

In Chile, radio remains an unusually important means of providing information. Willoughby worked in television news for many years but received far less audience feedback than he does from his radio program now. However, while the importance of television in Chile should not be exaggerated, it is important that candidates and spokesmen have access to the medium, and that they not remain faceless, as is now the case.

STATEMENT OF JOHN G. HEALEY
EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL USA

Reports of new death threats against Chilean theatre workers have reached Amnesty International. On the night of January 24, the phone rang again and again at the Santiago home of Chilean actress Carla Cristi. An anonymous caller told her she would be tortured and murdered the following day, presumably because she was appearing in a play about exile and torture. As the phone rang, stones were thrown at her house. Police were called in and stayed for about two hours. After their departure the threats began again.

The intimidation didn't stop that night. On January 26, Monica Garcia, Carla Cristi's lawyer, received a phone call at her home with the message that a bomb would be planted in her garden. The next day the courts granted Carla Cristi ten days of police protection; however at last word the promised protection had not been provided.

Thus came the latest in a series of death threats against some 80 Chilean actors, writers, directors and theatre workers which began on November 1, 1987. The first threats, sent by a group calling itself the "Comando 135 Cultural Section 'Trizano' Action for Peace Movement," carried a deadline: Get out of Chile by November 30 or be killed. None chose to leave. Instead, hundreds of people, including theatre and entertainment figures in 59 countries responded to urgent appeals from Amnesty International and other human rights organizations and performing arts associations with letters and telegrams urging the Chilean government to protect the safety of the threatened theatre workers. In an unusual, courageous action, Christopher Reeve and actors from Spain, Argentina and the Federal Republic of Germany attended a rally on November 30 in Santiago to carry a message of solidarity from colleagues and concerned people the world over.

Despite these steps, on December 1 a bloodstained message renewed the warning: "If you do not leave, you will be the next..."

FERNANDO VOLIO, UN SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR ON HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE, ASKED POLOFF MARCH 1 TO PASS ON TO THE DEPARTMENT AND GENEVA HIS CONTINUING AND INTENSE INTEREST IN SEVERAL ASPECTS OF THE UNHRC'S CONSIDERATION OF CHILE. VOLIO FIRST EXPRESSED HIS HOPE THAT THE HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION WOULD BREAK NEW GROUND BY RECOGNIZING THE GAINS MADE IN CHILE SINCE 1985 (WHEN VOLIO BECAME RAPPORTEUR). HE ALSO

MADE A STRONG PITCH FOR OUR DOING WHAT WE CAN TO HAVE HIS LABORS RECOGNIZED IN THE RESOLUTION, ARGUING THAT THE UNHRC DOES A DISSERVICE TO THE VERY CONCEPT OF HAVING SPECIAL RAPPORTEURS WHEN IT IGNORES THEIR REPORTS IN ITS RESOLUTIONS. POLOFF ASSURED VOLIO THAT THE USG HAS CONSISTENTLY EXPRESSED ITS SUPPORT FOR A BALANCED RESOLUTION BASED ON THE REPORT OF THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR.

3. CONCERNED LEST HIS MANDATE BE NARROWED

VOLIO'S OTHER PRINCIPAL CONCERN WAS THAT THE CHILE RESOLUTION MIGHT SOMEHOW RESTRICT HIS MANDATE. HE COULD NOT ACCEPT, HE SAID, A RESOLUTION THAT IN ANY WAY WOULD SINGLE OUT FOR STUDY ANY PARTICULAR ISSUES (PRESUMABLY AT THE EXPENSE OF OTHERS). RATHER, HE FEELS STRONGLY THAT THE UNHRC, IF IT MAINTAINS CONFIDENCE IN HIM, MUST GIVE HIM FULL REIN TO INVESTIGATE THE CHILEAN SITUATION IN THE MANNER HE CONSIDERS BEST.

IN THIS COMMUNICATION, VOLIO STATED, HE EMPHASIZED THAT THE GOC NEEDED TO RECEIVE ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF THE STEPS IT HAD TAKEN TO DATE TO AMELIORATE THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN CHILE. VOLIO OPINED

THAT A LARGE SEGMENT OF CHILEAN PUBLIC OPINION SHARES THIS BELIEF.

MEMORANDUM OF CONVERSATION

Subject: Conversation Regarding GSP and Workers Rights with Jaime Lagos, Director of Bilateral Political Affairs

Participants:

CHILE

Jaime Lagos, Director of Bilateral Political Affairs, Ministry of Foreign Relations

U.S.

John F. Keane, Political Counselor

Place: Jockey Club

Date: March 2, 1988

Copies to: AMB, DCM, POL, ECON, DAO, USIS, FILES, ARA/SC, INR/IAA, INR/DB

During a conversation on several topics, Lagos noted that the Chilean Under Secretary of Labor would be returning in 10 days. He would probably be prepared to open discussions with us regarding workers rights and GSP soon thereafter. Lagos asked about the status of his request for a Diplomatic Note regarding the dialogue on workers' rights.

I answered that we were awaiting a response from Washington but that I anticipated a positive reply. I added, however, that I thought he should be aware of U.S. thinking regarding the purpose of such a dialogue. The decision to remove Chile from GSP eligibility was based on an analysis of situation of worker rights in Chile in the period prior to the decision, and of the steps that Chile had taken in 1987. The review concluded that progress had been insufficient.

In order for the U.S. to consider GSP eligibility Chile would have to take steps that would satisfy the U.S. that significant progress was being made. It was not our intention to review the situation of 1987, notwithstanding the fact that, if we did not understand something, clarification would be useful.

Lagos responded that he now understood better and would pass on my comments. He thought that, while not technician himself, there were a number of points which the GOC would want to clarify.

WESTERN EUROPE, LATIN AMERICA AND THE U.S. TO BE OBSERVERS FOR THE PLEBISCITE IN CHILE. (THE IPA, A BRAINCHILD OF MODERATE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATS, WAS ESTABLISHED BY THE CHILEAN CIRCLE OF EX-PARLIAMENTARIANS AND HAS HOSTED TWO INTERNATIONAL GATHERINGS IN SANTIAGO SINCE 1986.) IPA EXECUTIVE SECRETARY CARLOS DUPRE NOTED THAT THE INVITATIONS WERE SENT TO PARLIAMENTARY AND CONGRESSIONAL LEADERS AND WOULD SHORTLY BE SENT TO THE MEMBERS OF LAWMAKING COMMITTEES RELATING TO CHILE.

2. (U) EVEN THOUGH THE PLEBISCITE DATE HAS NOT BEEN SET, DUPRE SAID THAT A LOT OF INTEREST HAS BEEN GENERATED AND THAT MANY PARLIAMENTARY COMMITTEES WERE READY ON QUICK NOTICE TO MOBILIZE. THE FIVE-DAY PROGRAM BEING PLANNED CONTEMPLATES TWO DAYS' ORIENTATION ON THE PLEBISCITE AND MONITORING PROCESS IN SANTIAGO, TWO DAYS IN THE PROVINCES TO INCLUDE ELECTION DAY, AND A FINAL DAY'S EVALUATION SESSION IN SANTIAGO. ASKED IF GOC AUTHORIZATION WOULD BE SOUGHT, DUPRE SAID IT WASN'T NECESSARY, BUT ADDED THAT FOREIGN MINISTER GARCIA HAD PUBLICLY STATED THAT THE GOVERNMENT WOULD FACILITATE THE PRESENCE OF FOREIGN OBSERVERS.

3. (U) IN A SEPARATE STATEMENT, "NO" CAMPAIGN SPOKESMAN GENARO ARRIAGADA INDICATED THAT TWO TYPES OF OBSERVERS WOULD BE INVITED TO CHILE: PARLIAMENTARIANS TO BE COORDINATED BY THE IPA, AND PERSONALITIES FROM THE INTELLECTUAL AND CULTURAL WORLD TO BE COORDINATED BY SERGIO MOLINA'S COMMITTEE OF NOTABLES. AT THE SAME TIME IT WAS ANNOUNCED THAT ACADEMICIANS FROM WEST

GERMANY, HOLLAND, FRANCE, ENGLAND AND THE U.S. WOULD PARTICIPATE AS OBSERVERS FOR THE UPCOMING PLEBISCITE.

4. (C) THE OBSERVERS WILL BE AN IMPORTANT PART OF THE CAMPAIGN TO ASSURE A FAIR PLEBISCITE, SINCE THEIR PRESENCE ALONE MAY STAY THE HAND OF THOSE WHO WOULD BE TEMPTED TO COMMIT FRAUD.

A LARGE NUMBER WILL BE NEEDED TO FAN OUT TO THE THOUSANDS OF VOTING PLACES THAT ARE LIKELY TO BE SET UP. WE WOULD NOT BE SURPRISED IF THE CHILEAN LEFT INITIATES A DRIVE OF ITS OWN TO BRING OBSERVERS WHOSE VIEWS ARE LESS MODERATE THAN THOSE OF DUPRE AND MOLINA.

MEXICAN RESOLUTION ON CHILE: SUGGESTED CHANGES
CONTRARY TO FACT AND THE VOLIO FINDINGS.

- (POINT 8, SUB-POINT C OF OPERATIVE) REWRITE TO INCLUDE A CONDEMNATION OF THE USE OF VIOLENCE AND TERRORISM BY ANY POLITICAL GROUP AS A HINDRANCE TO THE RESTORATION OF DEMOCRACY. IN THIS REGARD, WE WILL SEEK TO HAVE LANGUAGE IN POINT 8 OF 1987 RESOLUTION REINSERTED. CURRENT LANGUAGE APPEARS TO CONDEMN ONLY GOVERNMENT AND RIGHT-WING VIOLENCE, NOT TERRORISM FROM THE FAR LEFT.

5. UK DELEGATION HAS EXPRESSED A DESIRE TO WORK CLOSELY WITH US ON CHILE RESOLUTION WITH THE GOAL OF PRODUCING A BALANCED TEXT WHICH WE CAN BOTH SUPPORT. TO THIS END, THE BRITISH HAVE ALREADY APPROACHED THE MEXICANS AND OBTAINED SOME CHANGES FROM FIRST TO SECOND MEXICAN DRAFT.

The attached letter from Rosenthal at the Anti-Defamation League to Amb. Errazuriz was also sent to Bob Gelbard. Gelbard wants to respond to Rosenthal. Can the Embassy provide us with some ideas and draft language? If it made sense, you could make reference to ~~the re-~~ sections of the numerous Weisfeller cables you've sent that we could package in a response.

REF: A) STATE 56956, B) SAN JOSE 2746

1. CONFIDENTIAL - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: AMBASSADOR WALTERS MET FEBRUARY 29 WITH CHILEAN PERMREP DAZA AT THE LATTER'S REQUEST TO DISCUSS UNHRC RESOLUTION ON CHILE. DAZA EXPRESSED GOC DISAPPOINTMENT WITH MEXICAN RESOLUTION AND SAID THE RESOLUTION CONTRADICTED SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR VOLIO'S REPORT. DAZA SAID SUGGESTED US MODIFICATIONS OF THE RESOLUTION IMPLIED CRITICISM OF CHILE. HE GAVE WALTERS A NON PAPER OUTLINING CHILEAN CONCERNS (INFORMAL TRANSLATION IS IN PARA 5, SPANISH TEXT IS IN PARA 6). WALTERS ASSURED DAZA THAT GOC CONCERNS WOULD BE REPORTED TO THE DEPARTMENT. 3. AMBASSADOR WALTERS MET BRIEFLY WITH CHILEAN PERMREP DAZA ON FEBRUARY 29 TO DISCUSS UNHRC DRAFT RESOLUTION ON CHILE. DAZA, WHO HAD RETURNED FROM SANTIAGO THAT MORNING, EXPRESSED GOC DISAPPOINTMENT WITH MEXICAN RESOLUTION AND SAID THE RESOLUTION CONTRADICTED SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR VOLIO'S REPORT. DAZA SAID SUGGESTED US MODIFICATIONS OF THE RESOLUTION IMPLIED CRITICISM OF CHILE. HE GAVE WALTERS A NON PAPER OUTLINING CHILEAN CONCERNS. AMBASSADOR WALTERS TOLD DAZA THE US FAVORS A BALANCED RESOLUTION ON CHILE WHICH ACCURATELY REFLECTS REPORT OF SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR VOLIO. THE US WILL ONLY JOIN CONSENSUS ON A RESOLUTION WHICH INCLUDES RECOGNITION OF THE PROGRESS MADE IN CHILE. HE ASSURED DAZA THAT HE WOULD REPORT GOC CONCERNS.

4. SUMMARY OF NON-PAPER: NON-PAPER ACCUSES THE US OF AN INCONSISTENT POLICY VIS-A-VIS CHILE. CITING PUBLIC STATEMENTS BY HIGH LEVEL USG OFFICIALS INDICATING SUPPORT FOR CHILE'S TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY, THE NON PAPER CHARGES THE US WITH IGNORING THE REPORT OF SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR VOLIO AND AIDING RADICAL CHILEAN POLITICAL PARTIES WHO ARE OPPOSED TO THE PLEBISCITE. END SUMMARY

5. BEGIN INFORMAL TRANSLATION

A DRAFT RESOLUTION SPONSORED BY MEXICO IS CIRCULATING IN THE UNHRC SESSION IN GENEVA CONCERNING THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN CHILE. CHILE HAS ALREADY DEMONSTRATED ITS CATEGORICAL REJECTION OF THIS DOCUMENT WHICH TRANSGRESSES BASIC PRINCIPALS OF THE PROCEDURE AND PRACTICES OF THE COMMISSION.

CIRCULATING THE RESOLUTION BEFORE THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR HAS PRESENTED HIS REPORT AND BEFORE RECEIVING THE CHILEAN RESPONSE, INDICATES COMPLETE DISREGARD FOR THE FUNCTION OF THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR. THIS IS FURTHER EVIDENCE OF THE RESOLUTION'S INTENTION TO INTERVENE.

MORE SURPRISING TO CHILE IN RELATION TO THIS RESOLUTION IS THAT THE US HAS ECHOED THIS, SUGGESTING IN ADDITION TO PARTICIPATING UNDER THE GUISE OF COSMETIC MODIFICATIONS, AMENDMENTS WHICH ALLUDE DIRECTLY TO THE PROCESS OF INSTITUTIONAL TRANSITION IN A WAY THAT TRANSGRESSES THE VOLUNTARY EXPRESSIONS OF THE PEOPLE OF CHILE, RECOGNIZED BY THE US, WHICH ARE LAID OUT IN THE CONSTITUTION OF CHILE.

THESE SUGGESTIONS BY THE U.S. ARE IN DIRECT CONTRADICTION TO THE STATEMENTS REITERATED BY HIGH LEVEL AMERICAN OFFICIALS. IN THIS RESPECT IT IS NECESSARY TO RECALL FOR EXAMPLE THE FOLLOWING:

-- STATEMENT BY DAS FOR ARA R. GELBARD, AUGUST 20, 1987 IN WHICH (HE) INDICATED THAT THE PLEBISCITE, SUPPORTED BY A LARGE SECTION OF THE SOCIETY UNDER FREE AND JUST CONDITIONS COULD SERVE THE DEMOCRATIC PURPOSE AS SOME CHILEANS HAD SUGGESTED.

-- STATEMENT BY PRESIDENT REAGAN DECEMBER 17, 1987 IN WHICH HE INDICATED GUARANTEES THAT MUST BE PRESENT IN THE ELECTORAL PROCESS IN CHILE WITHOUT QUESTIONING THE PLEBISCITE.

-- STATEMENT BY THE CHARGE, GEORGE JONES, FEBRUARY 16, 1988 IN WHICH HE MENTIONED THE FOLLOWING INSTITUTIONAL PROGRESS: "THE ELECTORAL REGISTERS, THE INSCRIPTION OF VOTERS WHICH ARE INCREASING MONTH BY MONTH AND THE DECLARATIONS OF HIGH LEVEL OFFICIALS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF CHILE IS THAT WHICH IS ESSENTIAL SO THAT THE PROCESS OBTAINS A HIGH PERCENTAGE OF THE ADULT POPULATION IN ORDER TO HAVE A PLEBISCITE. THESE ARE NOT THE ONLY POSITIVE STEPS, SOMETHING VERY FUNDAMENTAL IS PARTICIPATION OF A LARGE NUMBER OF CITIZENS IN THE POLITICAL PROCESS OF THE COUNTRY. THIS IS SOMETHING THAT WE HAVE ALWAYS TRIED TO RECOGNIZE AND IT IS VERY IMPORTANT THAT WE DO SO."

ON THE OTHER HAND THE US IS APPARENTLY IGNORING THE REPORT OF THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR, PRAISED BY THE US, WHICH INDICATED THAT THE PLEBISCITE IS BEING PREPARED WITH SERIOUSNESS AND RESPONSIBILITY.

LIKEWISE ONE SHOULD RECALL THAT THE CHILEAN

OPPOSITION, WITH THE EXCEPTION OF THE MARXISTS AND THE EXTREME LEFT, ACCEPT THE MECHANISMS OF THE PLEBISCITE. THE COMMITTEE FOR FREE ELECTIONS HAS STATED ITS INTENTION TO REORGANIZE ITSELF AS AN ENTITY THAT WILL OBSERVE THE PLEBISICTE. THE U.S. IN CONSEQUENCE, CONSOLIDATES AND SUPPORTS THE MORE RADICAL SECTORS OF CHILEAN MARXISM WHO OPPOSE THE PLEBISCITE AS THE MOST APPROPRIATE PATH FOR A PEACEFUL TRANSITION TO A STABLE AND DURABLE DEMOCRACY.

FINALLY ONE CONCLUDES THAT THE AMERICAN POSITION WITH RESPECT TO THESE SUGGESTIONS HAS BEEN ADOPTED IN A FORM INCONSISTENT WITH ESTABLISHED POLICIES AND CONTRADICTS THE DEMONSTRATIONS IT HAS CONTINUOUSLY GIVEN IN THIS REGARD AND THAT EMPHASIZED THAT THE FORM IN WHICH THE CHILEAN TRANSITION TAKES PLACE SHOULD BE EXCLUSIVELY DETERMINED BY THE CHILEANS.

THE ADOPTION OF A RESOLUTION WHICH PERVERTS THE REPORT OF SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR VOLIO, WITHOUT CONSIDERING THE RESPONSE FROM THE INSTITUTIONS, THE CONSTITUTION AND THE FREE WILL OF THE CHILEAN PEOPLE, COULD INDUCE THE CHILEAN AUTHORITIES TO ANALYZE THEIR POSITION WITH RESPECT TO THE COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS AND THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR FOR CHILE.

(THIS IS THE TEXT WHICH CAME WITH THE LAST COM LETTER, ALONG WITH A LIST OF PROSPECTIVE MEMBERS.) I PROMISED THAT I WOULD GET BACK TO THEM WITH COMMENTS ON THE LETTER AS WELL AS CATEGORIES OF PEOPLE WHO MIGHT BE APPROACHED.

3. ON THE FORMER WE THINK THE PRIMARY DEFECT IS THAT THE LETTER DOESN'T REFLECT CLEARLY ENOUGH THE REPLACEMENT OF MOLINA'S FREE ELECTIONS GROUP OF PERSONALITIES BY THE CAMPAIGN FOR THE "NO" VOTE, GRANTED THAT IN BOTH CASES THE AIM IS TO GET EVENTUALLY TO COMPETITIVE ELECTIONS. HENCE WE HAVE SUGGESTED SOME REWORDING OF THE MIDDLE PORTION OF THE LETTER IN THE TEXT WHICH IS GIVEN BELOW. THE OTHER CHANGES ARE MINOR.

ACCORDING TO UNOFFICIAL REPORTS, A SERIES OF TERRORIST ATTACKS PLANNED BY THE COMMUNISTS WILL BEGIN ON MARCH 4 IN MAJOR CHILEAN CITIES. THESE ACTS OF VIOLENCE ARE INTENDED TO CREATE CHAOS AND DISTORT THE CURRENT CHILEAN SITUATION ABROAD.

IT NOW APPEARS A COMMAND DETONATED BOMB WAS USED TO KILL CARABINERO MAJOR JULIO BENEMELIS REFER TO JANUARY MSR). SIX INTERCONNECTED BOMBS WERE PLACED IN THE CEILING OF THE HOUSE AND DETONATED WHEN THE POLICE ENTERED. A COMMAND DETONATED DEVICE IS UNUSUAL IN CHILE AND AS SUCH THIS TECHNIQUE MAY PROVIDE TERRORISTS IN CHILE WITH A NEW CAPABILITY.

TWO SENSATIONAL CRIMINAL/TERRORIST ACTIVITIES OCCURED IN LATE FEBRUARY - ON FEBRUARY 27, GOC AUTHORITIES DEFUSED 2 OF 6 EXPLOSIVE DEVICES DISCOVERED AT THE END OF THE RUNWAY, LA FLORIDA AIRPORT, LA SERENA. PRESIDENT PINOCHET'S VISIT, FEBRUARY 29, WAS CANCELLED PRIOR TO DISCOVERY OF EXPLOSIVES; ON FEBRUARY 29, A BRINK'S DELIVERY TRUCK WAS ROBBED OF CH$ 28,000,000; AN ASSAILANT AND A BRINK'S GUARD WERE KILLED. AVAILABLE INFORMATION INDICATES ASSAILANT WAS KILLED BY FELLOW GANG MEMBERS.

SOME OF THE DEMONSTRATIONS AND TERRORIST ACTIVITIES WHICH DISTURBED THE CITY OF SANTIAGO THIS MONTH WERE AS FOLLOWS:

E.O. 12356: DECL: OADR
TAGS: PHUM, UNHRC-1, CI
SUBJECT: 44TH SESSION OF UN HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION: MEXICAN RESOLUTION ON CHILE: SUGGESTED CHANGES

REF: GENEVA 2402

1. CONFIDENTIAL - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. MISSION AGREES WITH COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS BY U.S. DELEGATION IN REFTEL. WE HAVE THE FOLLOWING ADDITIONAL COMMENTS. THE MEXICAN DRAFT DOES NOT ADEQUATELY RECOGNIZE THE WORK OF VOLIO OR TAKE SUFFICIENTLY INTO ACCOUNT HIS REPORT. TO REMEDY THIS WE WOULD SUGGEST SEVERAL REVISIONS (PARAS 3 AND 4 BELOW), WHICH ARE ALSO CONSISTENT WITH THE NEED TO MAKE THE REPORT MORE BALANCED AND, IN SOME CASES, TO CORRECT INACCURACIES.

CONFIDENTIAL

3. OPERATIVE PARAGRAPH 1 WOULD BE BETTER IF IT READ: "COMMENDS THE EFFORTS OF SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR AND APPRECIATES HIS REPORT ON THE SITUATION ON HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE." (THIS LANGUAGE IS TAKEN VERBATIM FROM THE UNANIMOUSLY APPROVED 1986 UNHRC RESOLUTION.)

4. OPERATIVE PARAGRAPH 2 AS NOW WRITTEN IS A SLAP IN THE FACE AT VOLIO AND INACCURATE BECAUSE IT CHARGES HIS EFFORTS WERE FUTILE ("SAID COOPERATION...HAS NOT YET LED TO SUBSTANTIAL IMPROVEMENT.") SUGGESTED SUBSTITUTE LANGUAGE MIGHT READ: "WELCOMES THE FACT...COOPERATION IN THE FULFILLMENT OF HIS MANDATE, WHILE REGRETTING THAT THERE HAS NOT BEEN GREATER IMPROVEMENT IN HUMAN RIGHTS AND FUNDAMENTAL FREEDOMS."

5. OPERATIVE PARAGRAPH 3 AND PREAMBULAR PARAGRAPH 8: WE AGREE WITH REFTEL'S POINT, CORROBORATED BY OTHER REPORTING FROM GENEVA AND USUN AS WELL AS GOC OFFICIALS HERE THAT THE PRIMARY CONCERN OF THE GOC IS THAT THE RESOLUTION NOT INVALIDATE THE PLEBISCITE PROCESS. THEY REALLY WOULD LIKE A PRIORI LEGITIMATIZATION OF THE PLEBISCITE. WE NEED TO AVOID DOING EITHER, AND FOR THAT THE FOCUS SHOULD BE ON THE FAIRNESS AND TRANSPARENCY OF THE PROCESS. IN PARTICULAR, PREAMBULAR PARAGRAPH 8 APPEARS TO GO PRETTY FAR TOWARDS INVALIDATING THE PLEBISCITE. PERHAPS LANGUAGE SUCH AS THE FOLLOWING MIGHT DEAL WITH THIS ISSUE AS WELL AS THE PROBLEM OF CASTING THE

POLITICAL LAWS (REGISTRATION AND POLITICAL PARTIES) IN A POSITIVE RATHER THAN NEGATIVE LIGHT AS IS NOW THE CASE IN THE DRAFT:

"NOTING ITS CONVICTION THAT A LEGAL AND POLITICAL STRUCTURE BASED ON THE CONSENT OF THE GOVERNED IS ESSENTIAL TO THE FULL OBSERVANCE OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE, AS IN ANY OTHER NATION (BORROWED VERBATIM FROM THE APPROVED 1986 RESOLUTION), AND CONSIDERING THAT PROGRESS HAS BEEN ACHIEVED IN ESTABLISHING ELECTORAL REGISTERS AND LEGALIZING POLITICAL PARTIES, NONETHELESS EMPHASIZES THAT INSUFFICIENT MEASURES HAVE BEEN TAKEN TO GUARANTEE RESPECT FOR BASIC CIVIL AND POLITICAL FREEDOMS AND EQUITABLE ACCESS TO THE MEDIA."

WITH THIS LANGUAGE IN THE PREAMBLE THERE WOULD PROBABLY BE NO NEED TO REVISE OPERATIVE PARAGRAPH 3 EXCEPT PERHAPS CHANGING A COUPLE OF WORDS TO AVOID REDUNDANCY OF LANGUAGE.

7. OPERATIVE PRARGRAPHS 4 AND 5: NO PROBLEMS.

8. OPERATIVE PARAGRAPH 7: AS GENEVA HAS INDICATED, IT IS UNTRUE OR AT LEAST GROSSLY

9. OPERATIVE PARAGRAPH 8(B): MENTION COULD USEFULLY BE MADE OF THE FACT THAT CHILE HAS SIGNED THE UN AND OAS CONVENTIONS ON TORTURE AND SHOULD BE URGED TO RATIFY AND IMPLEMENT THEM VIGOROUSLY.

Dear Rabbi Rosenthal:

I am writing regarding your concern with the case of Professor Boris Weisfeiler, who disappeared in Chile in 1985. I received both your letter and the February, 1988, ADL "Latin American Report."

When you first requested information about this case, the Embassy provided copies of reports on the searches conducted both by the police and the Navy. The intensive investigation suggests that Professor Weisfeiler had probably fallen into a river. The search for the body was unsuccessful.

It is with great regret that we now witness the tragic case of Professor Weisfeiler being intentionally transformed into an issue with ethnical-political connotations as suggested in the February "Latin American Report." Allow me to be very clear on this matter: There is no responsibility on the part of Chilean authorities either for Professor Weisfeiler's presumed death or for the impossibility of recovering his body. Although anybody may be free to speculate in the case of a disappearance, there are some facts which need to be stressed.

In the first place, Professor Weisfeiler did not follow basic security procedures when he began a hiking adventure in a dangerous region unknown to him with neither guide nor assistance. There are a number of cases similar to his, experienced hikers who have disappeared in the Chilean Andes. This reckless attitude was not duly emphasized at the time, because the focus was on conducting the search and also because of respect for a person who had met a tragic fate. Painful as it may be, this is something which needs to be addressed, especially at a time when Professor Weisfeiler's disappearence has become the subject of political exploitation, as APSI has made it.

Following Professor Weisfeiler's disappearance, there was ample proof of the authorities' will to investigate thoroughly. Several search parties were sent to the zone. A special group of divers sent by the Navy conducted a search in the junction of the rivers Ñuble and Los Sauces. Unfortunately, they were unable to locate him.

There are no grounds for the allegations which attempt to link Professor Weisfeiler's disappearence with Colonia Dignidad.

Regarding Colonia Dignidad, the authorities have closely observed its activities. No credible evidence of illegal conduct within the premises has been produced in the Courts. Allegations of Colonia Dignidad being a Nazi center used by government interrogators to torture and detain Chilean citizens are absolutely unrealistic and untrue.

Chile rejects all types of racial discrimination. The ties of the Chilean government with the Jewish community are close, friendly and cooperative. As you may know, members of the Jewish community in Chile hold high positions in our government. Their integration into our society is an undeniable fact.

Chile, a country with an extended and influential Arab community, has a record of consistent admiration for the Jewish people and support for Israel in international organizations, considerably more than that of most countries in the world. Therefore, it is all the more disappointing to see a painful situation such as Professor Weisfeiler's given a political content and the ADL "Latin American Report" convey an erroneous and unwarranted impression to the American Jewish community.

I sincerely hope that in the future matters related to Chile will be treated with the necessary balance and that unsubstantiated allegations will not be reported in your organization's publications without previous presentation of evidence.

Finally, I want to thank you for your letter and the occasion it has afforded me to discuss matters of interest to your organization and to Chile. I hope to have the opportunity visiting with you on one of my trips to New York so that we can converse about matters of mutual interest.

Sincerely yours,

Hernán Felipe Errázuriz
Ambassador

SUBJECT: 44TH SESSION OF UN HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION: PROPOSED REVISION TO DRAFT RESOLUTION ON HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE AT THE UNHRC

1. CONFIDENTIAL - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. THIS IS HRC 314.

3. LISTED BELOW ARE AMENDMENTS, CHANGES, AND DELETIONS IN TEXT OF MEXICAN DRAFT ON CHILE AGREED TO FIRST IN A MEETING WITH THE 10 CO-SPONSORS OF THE TEXT (ALGERIA, CUBA, DENMARK, FRANCE, ITALY, NORWAY, PORTUGAL, SPAIN, AND YUGOSLAVIA) IN WHICH THE U.S. DID NOT PARTICIPATE, AND LATER IN A PRIVATE SESSION BETWEEN USDEL REP, VICENTE MONTEMAYOR OF THE MEXICAN DELEGATION, AND JULIAN PALACIOS OF THE SPANISH DELEGATION AS INTERMEDIARY. SPAIN IS THE WEOG COORDINATOR ON CHILE.

4. USDEL HAD PRESENTED THE SUGGESTED LIST OF DESIRED

CHANGES IN THE MEXICAN TEXT (AS OUTLINED IN STATE 069175) TO THE WEOGS EARLY THIS MORNING (MONDAY) AND SHORTLY THEREAFTER TO THE MEXICANS. IN THE MEANWHILE, USDEL LOBBIED HARD OTHER CO-SPONSORS OF THE RESOLUTION IN FAVOR OF CHANGES, RECEIVING RESPONSES WHICH INDICATED WILLINGNESS TO HELP BRING ABOUT CHANGES IN TEXT FROM THE DANES, ALGERIANS, SPANIARDS, FRENCH, AND, IN PRINCIPLE EARLIER, THE PORTUGUESE. AT THE WEOG MEETING, THE GERMANS URGED FELLOW CO-SPONSORS TO CONSIDER THE U.S. REQUEST AND AT THE SAME TIME ASKED THE U.S. TO "NOT INSIST ON GETTING EVERYTHING." THE DUTCH, ALTHOUGH NON UNHRC VOTERS, ALSO OFFERED TO HELP BROKER CHANGES AND OTHER NON CO-SPONORING VOTERS, SUCH AS THE UK, COSTA RICA, AND VENEZUELA, EXPRESSED SUPPORT FOR OUR IDEAS ON A MORE BALANCED RESOLUTION.

5. FOLLOWING ARE CHANGES, ETC., FOLLOWING ORDER GIVEN IN STATE 069175 AND USING SAME NUMBERING:

- 3. PP 5: INSERT "LARGELY" REJECTED.

- 4. ADD NEW PP 6 (A). ON ICRC. ACCEPTED IN ITS ENTIRETY.

- 5. CHANGES MADE IN PP7. NOW READS AS FOLLOWS: "NOTING THAT DURING 1987 LAWS HAVE BEEN PUT INTO EFFECT WHICH SERIOUSLY IMPAIR FREEDOM OF THOUGHT AND EXPRESSION AND SIGNIFY THE PROSCRIPTION AND INTERDICTION OF PERSONS AS REGARDS THE EXERCISE OF THEIR CIVIL AND PROFESSIONAL RIGHTS ON THE GROUND OF THEIR POLITICAL OPINIONS, THAT KILLINGS IN ALLEGED CONFRONTATIONS, ABDUCTION, UNCLARIFIED DISAPPEARANCES, AND NEW CASES OF INTERNAL EXILE HAVE OCURRED, THAT THE OVERALL STITUATION OF CONFIDENTIAL POLITICAL PRISONERS HAS NOT IMPROVED, AND THAT DEATH THREATS HAVE BEEN MADE TO REPRESENTATIVES OF THE ARTS AND CULTURAL LIFE." CO-SPONSORS OSTENSIBLY REJECT FURTHER CHANGE IN THIS PARAGRAPH.

- 6. PP8. CO-SPONSORS AGREED TO RETURN TO A MODIFIED VERSION OF 1987 CONSENSUS RESOLUTION WHICH FRAMES MATTER

MORE POSITIVELY. PARAGRAPH TO READ: "NOTING ALSO THAT THE ESTABLISHMENT OF ELECTORAL REGISTERS AND THE LEGALIZATION OF CERTAIN POLITICAL PARTIES REPRESENT INITIAL STEPS, BUT IN THE ABSENCE OF A FRAMEWORK FOR FREE ELECTIONS, DO NOT MEET THE BASIC REQUIREMENTS OF A DEMOCRATIC RULE OF LAW NOR OF THE PRINCIPLE OF NON-DISCRIMINATION BASED ON POLITICAL OPINIONS OR OF OTHER NATURE WHICH IS AN INTEGRAL PART OF THE INTERNATIONAL COVENANT ON CIVIL AND POLITICAL RIGHTS."

- 7. PP9. CHANGED TO READ: "NOTING THAT THE DECISION OF THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT TO ALLOW A NUMBER OF POLITICAL EXILES TO RETURN IS A STEP IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION" (GIVEN WILLINGNESS TO GIVE IN HERE, WE FEEL THAT MEXICANS WILL AGREE TO SOMETHING BETTER STATED THAN THIS.

- 8. OPERATIVE PARAGRAPH 1. SPONSORS ABSOLUTELY FIRM ON NOT CHANGING "TAKES NOTE WITH INTEREST" WITH "COMMENDS." THEY CLAIM THAT SUCH LANGUAGE WOULD BE INCONSISTENT WITH COMMON USEAGE, ALTHOUGH THIS IS PROBABLY NOT THE CASE. THEY DO AGREE TO ADD THE ADJECTIVE "TIRELESS" TO DESCRIBE VOLIO'S EFFORTS.

Mr. Elliott Abrams
Assistant Secretary of State for Inter-American Affairs
Department of State
2201 C Street N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20520

Dear Mr. Abrams,

Recently the sister of Dr. Boris Weisfeiler came to the American Jewish Congress asking our help in locating her brother who has been missing since January 15, 1885. I hope that after reading the following information you will also look into this matter.

Dr. Weisfeiler emmigrated from the Soviet Union to Pennsylvania in 1975. He was a college math professor and became a citizen in 1981. In January 1985 he travelled to Chile to do some hiking, a hobby he had pursued for many years. He was last seen on the fifteenth of January in 1985 hiking alone near a river close to the Colonia Dignidad in Chile. (see enclosed article for further information about this colony) Another hikersaw him, and believing he was too close to the Colonia, reported him to the local police. The police found footprints near the river and two weeks later they found his backpack with money and credit cards in it. His passport and return plane ticket were missing from his belongings. The Chilean government concluded that Weisfeiler drowned. A U.S. government report in September 1988 states that the case remains open due to the "absence of a satisfactory explanation of what happened in this case where no remains have been found."

Boris' sister Olga Weisfeiler recently emmigrated to Boston with her son. She is eager to learn what really happened to her brother. While still in the Soviet Union she wrote to fiends in the U.S. asking their assistance. Thus, Thomas E. Petri, congressman from the sixth district of Wisconsin contacted the Department of State regarding this matter. A response has also been received from the American Embassy in Chile. There is still no conclusive evidence as to what really happened to Boris Weisfeiler.

On behalf of Olga Weisfeiler we would appreciate it if you would investigate this situation. The family will be greatful for any further news. For your information, I am enclosing the response from the Embassy in Chile as well as an article that appeared in Time magazine that addressed the issue.

Please contact me as soon as you have any news. If you require any additional information from the family you may reach me at (617) 330 9630. Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

Nancy Karp

SUBJECT: 44TH SESSION OF UN HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION:
- STATEMENT GIVEN BY AMBASSADOR VALLADARES ON
- ITEM 12: "HUMAN RIGHTS AROUND THE WORLD"

1. THIS IS HRC - 312.
2. FOLLOWING IS THE TEXT OF THE INTERVENTION MADE BY U.S. AMBASSADOR VALLADARES ON MARCH 7 UNDER AGENDA ITEM 12 OF THE COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS, "THE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS AROUND THE WORLD." ENGLISH TRANSLATION FOLLOWS SEPTEL.

3. SR. PRESIDENTE, UNA VEZ MAS ESTA COMISION HA LLEGADO AL PUNTO DONDE DISCUTE LA AMPLIA GAMA DE TEMAS SOBRE LOS DERECHOS HUMANOS QUE EL MUNDO ENFRENTA HOY. MIENTRAS REFLEXIONAMOS SOBRE LOS SUCESOS DEL ANO PASADO, TENEMOS EL PLACER DE NOTAR CON SATISFACCION QUE EN TODO EL MUNDO HOY ESTA AUMENTANDO LA ATENCION A ESE IMPORTANTE DOCUMENTO CUYO 40 ANIVERSARIO CELEBRAREMOS ESTE ANO: LA DECLARACION UNIVERSAL DE LOS DERECHOS HUMANOS.

MILLONES DE OPRIMIDOS Y VICTIMAS VIVEN SIN LIBERTAD Y SU ESPERANZA ESTA EN GRAN MEDIDA DEPOSITADA EN ESTA COMISION PORQUE, LAMENTABLEMENTE, LOS ARTICULOS DE LA DECLARACION UNIVERSAL NO SON RESPETADOS DE UNA MANERA CONSISTENTE. HAY QUE RECONOCER, SIN EMBARGO, QUE ALGUN PROGRESO SE HA HECHO. ES ALENTADOR VER QUE LAS

VIOLACIONES DE LA DECLARACION SON VIGOROSAMENTE DENUNCIADAS NO SOLAMENTE POR AQUELLOS DIRECTAMENTE AFECTADOS, SINO TAMBIEN POR PERSONAS, ORGANIZACIONES Y ESTADOS QUE HACEN SUYA LA CAUSA DE LOS OPRIMIDOS. HA AUMENTADO ADEMAS EL RECONOCIMIENTO DE LOS DERECHOS HUMANOS, SON UN TEMA LEGITIMO DE DISCUSION EN LAS RELACIONES INTERNACIONALES Y, DADO LOS PRINCIPIOS

INCORPORADOS DENTRO DE LA CARTA DE LAS NACIONES UNIDAS, TAL DISCUSION NO PUEDE SER CONSIDERADA COMO INTERFERENCIA EN LOS ASUNTOS INTERNOS DE ESTADOS MIEMBROS.

EN ESTA INTERVENCION HABLAREMOS EN GENERAL DE TEMAS QUE NO HAN SIDO DISCUTIDOS ANTERIORMENTE POR ESTA SESION DE LA COMISION. EMPEZAREMOS CON COMENTARIOS SOBRE LA SITUACION EN VARIOS PAISES DONDE SE HAN DESARROLLADO IMPORTANTES HECHOS EN EL CAMPO DE LOS DERECHOS HUMANOS EN EL ULTIMO ANO.
PERO ANTES, SR. PRESIDENTE, UNA ACLARACION. NO HACEMOS ESTE EXAMEN CON ANIMOS DE ACTUAR COMO FISCAL, JUEZ, JURADO Y VERDUGO. NO LO HACEMOS PORQUE NOS CREAMOS SUPERIORES O PORQUE CREAMOS QUE NUESTRO SISTEMA ES PERFECTO O QUE TENGA SOLUCIONES PARA TODOS LOS PROBLEMAS DEL MUNDO. CONOCEMOS MUY BIEN NUESTROS FALLOS. NUNCA HEMOS INTENTADO OCULTAR ESOS FALLOS. EL QUE QUIERA PUEDE VENIR Y VER LO QUE HEMOS HECHO CON NUESTRO PAIS, LO BUENO Y LO MALO. HABLAMOS DE LA SITUACION EN OTROS PAISES NO SOLO PORQUE TENEMOS EL DERECHO DE HACERLO, COMO LO TIENEN TODOS LOS PAISES, SINO PORQUE CREEMOS QUE DEBIDO A NUESTRA PROPIA EXPERIENCIA COMO UNA DEMOCRACIA DE MAS DE 200 ANOS TENEMOS ALGO UTIL QUE APORTAR A UN DEBATE TAN IMPORTANTE COMO ES EL QUE MANTENEMOS AHORA.

SUBJECT: 44TH SESSION OF UN HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION: US ADDRESS ON HUMAN RIGHTS AROUND THE WORLD

1. THIS IS HRC 313.

2. FOLLOWING IS THE ENGLISH TEXT OF THE SPEECH MADE BY US AMBASSADOR VALLADARES ON MARCH 7 AT THE UN COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS. SPANISH TEXT SENT SEPTEL.

BEGIN TEXT:
MR. CHAIRMAN,

THIS COMMISSION HAS ONCE AGAIN REACHED THE POINT WHERE IT DISCUSSES THE BROAD RANGE OF HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES CONFRONTING THE WORLD TODAY. AS WE REFLECT ON THE EVENTS OF THE PAST YEAR, WE NOTE WITH SATISFACTION THAT THE HUMAN RIGHTS MESSAGE IS GETTING THROUGH, THAT THROUGHOUT THE WORLD TODAY INCREASING ATTENTION IS PAID TO THAT IMPORTANT STANDARD-SETTING DOCUMENT WHOSE 40TH ANNIVERSARY WE WILL CELEBRATE LATER THIS YEAR: THE UNIVERSAL DECLARATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS.

MILLIONS OF OPPRESSED VICTIMS LIVE WITHOUT FREEDOM; THEIR HOPES TO A LARGE EXTENT REST WITH THIS COMMISSION. UNFORTUNATELY, THE PROVISIONS OF THE UNIVERSAL DECLARATION ARE NOT CONSISTENTLY ADHERED TO, BUT SOME PROGRESS HAS BEEN MADE. IT IS ENCOURAGING TO

SEE THAT VIOLATIONS OF THE DECLARATION ARE VEHEMENTLY PROTESTED NOT ONLY BY THOSE DIRECTLY AFFECTED, BUT ALSO BY OTHERS -- ORGANIZATIONS AND STATES THAT MAKE THE CAUSE OF THE OPPRESSED THEIR OWN. MOREOVER, IT HAS INCREASINGLY BECOME RECOGNIZED THAT HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES ARE A LEGITIMATE TOPIC OF DISCUSSION IN INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS AND THAT, GIVEN THE PRINCIPLES INCORPORATED INTO THE CHARTER OF THE UNITED NATIONS, THEY CANNOT BE DEEMED INTERFERENCE IN THE INTERNAL AFFAIRS OF MEMBER STATES.

IN THIS INTERVENTION WE SHALL SPEAK, IN GENERAL, ABOUT THOSE ISSUES WHICH HAVE NOT BEEN THE SUBJECT OF DISCUSSION AT AN EARLIER STAGE IN THE PROCEEDINGS OF THIS COMMISSION. WE WILL BEGIN WITH A REVIEW OF THE STATE OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN SEVERAL COUNTRIES IN WHICH IMPORTANT DEVELOPMENTS AFFECTING HUMAN RIGHTS HAVE TAKEN PLACE OVER THE PAST YEAR.

BEFORE WE BEGIN, MR. CHAIRMAN, I WANT TO MAKE ONE POINT. WE DO NOT CONDUCT THIS SORT OF REVIEW BECAUSE WE WISH TO ACT AS PROSECUTOR, JUDGE, JURY, AND EXECUTIONER. WE DO NOT DO IT BECAUSE WE CONSIDER OURSELVES SUPERIOR OR BECAUSE WE THINK OUR SYSTEM IS PERFECT, OR THAT IT OFFERS SOLUTIONS FOR ALL OF THE WORLD'S PROBLEMS. WE KNOW VERY WELL OUR FAILURES. WE HAVE NEVER SOUGHT TO HIDE THOSE. WHOEVER WISHES MAY VISIT OUR COUNTRY AND SEE WHAT WE HAVE DONE, THE GOOD AND THE BAD. WE SPEAK ABOUT THE SITUATIONS IN OTHER COUNTRIES NOT ONLY BECAUSE WE HAVE THE SAME RIGHT TO DO SO AS DOES ANY OTHER COUNTRY, BUT BECAUSE WE THINK THAT OUR EXPERIENCE AS A DEMOCRACY FOR OVER 200 YEARS

DEMOCRACY, I REGRET TO SAY, HAS NOT AS YET RETURNED TO CHILE. THE PEOPLE OF CHILE ARE DEPRIVED OF THE RIGHTS SET FORTH IN THE UNIVERSAL DECLARATION. THE RAPPORTEUR, IN ANOTHER ONE OF HIS EXCELLENT REPORTS, NOTED NEW INCIDENTS OF OPPRESSION. THERE CONTINUE TO BE CASES OF ILL TREATMENT OF DETAINEES AND VIOLENCE BY

UNKNOWN GROUPS, SOME UNDOUBTEDLY LINKED TO THE SECURITY FORCES. THESE ACTS MUST CEASE JUST AS THE GROWING RESORT TO VIOLENCE BY SOME SMALL GROUPS SUPPORTED BY COUNTRIES THAT WISH TO IMPEDE THE RETURN TO DEMOCRACY IN CHILE MUST CEASE.
HOWEVER, AS ALSO NOTED BY THE RAPPORTEUR, THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT HAS TAKEN SIGNIFICANT STEPS DURING THE LAST YEAR TOWARD OPENING SOCIETY TO OPPOSITION VOICES. OPPOSITION POLITICAL PARTIES ARE IN THE PROCESS OF ORGANIZING THEMSELVES. OPPOSITION NEWSPAPERS EXIST. CHILEANS, EVEN WELL KNOWN OPPONENTS OF THE REGIME, MAY TRAVEL ABROAD, CRITICIZE THE REGIME AND RETURN HOME. IN THIS ROOM WE HAVE ALL MET OPPONENTS OF THE REGIME IN CHILE THAT COME AND GO TO AND FROM CHILE. IT IS VERY

SUBJECT: U.N. Human Rights Commission Resolution on Chile

ISSUE FOR DECISION:

How to handle the Chile issue, as it has now developed at this year's UN Human Rights Commission (UNHRC) session, when it comes up for decision, probably tomorrow or Thursday.

ARA and HA favor attempting to obtain an acceptable text by proposing a series of amendments to Mexico, the author of the UNHRC resolution on Chile, making clear we will not support the present Mexican text and, if Mexico does not accept our amendments, offering them on the floor of the Commission. IO, supporting Ambassador Walters' strong view, opposes any attempt to get improvement in the Mexican text.

BACKGROUND:

The Chile issue, as expected, has been contentious. This year, you approved the use of U.S. draft "elements" in working with friendly governments to obtain an acceptable Chile resolution. This approach was worked out by HA, ARA and IO in concert, with Ambassador Walters' concurrence.

The Mexicans, as usual, submitted a draft which was largely unacceptable to us. (Ambassador Walters strongly opposed the HA-ARA proposal of a few weeks ago, that we beat the Mexicans to the punch with our own draft.) Working with members of the Western Group, we urged the Mexicans to make changes needed to give the resolution balance.

So far, we have not been able to get enough of our essential changes accepted to establish balance. While we should continue our negotiations with the Mexicans, we need to recognize that these negotiations may not succeed. We must, therefore, consider the other options available.

box 2 of 4

ANALYSIS OF OPTIONS:

Option 1: We could vote for the present Mexican text, though it is seriously flawed. That would have us join in what is essentially an intellectually dishonest enterprise, heaping criticism on one of the lesser human rights offenders and ignoring the steps forward which Chile has taken during the last year.

Option 2: We could vote against the Mexican text, or abstain, without attempting to obtain further changes. HA and ARA believe this would confuse and dishearten the democratic opposition in Chile, as it prepares for the all-important plebiscite, and would give support to backers of Pinochet. IO (and Ambassador Walters) believe a vote against would undercut the ability of Chilean nationalists and Pinochet supporters to capitalize on the vote. They oppose an abstention, even with a strong explanation of vote, believing this would tend to validate the Mexican text.

Option 3: We could take a principled position by agreeing on a set of amendments to the Mexican text and offering it to the Mexicans on a take-it-or-leave-it basis, with the understanding that if they accept the amendments, we would join consensus on the resolution. If the Mexicans reject our amendments, we would table them formally and ask for a vote on them. In our explanation of vote, we make it clear that if the amendments are adopted we would support the resolution, but if they are not it would be neither fair nor honest to do so.

BUREAU VIEWS:

IO shares Ambassador Walters' firm opposition to negotiating further any language in the Mexican draft resolution on Chile. Cuban and Mexican sponsorship alone should seriously call into question any U.S. support. The unbalanced, unfair text and its onesided attack on Chile, with no recognition of progress achieved, demonstrates that this is another case of unmitigated Chile-bashing, in Ambassador Walters' view. The potential for adverse reaction in Chile -- an aroused Chilean nationalism and strengthened support for General Pinochet -- are diametrically opposed to the direction in which we have been nudging the GOC. Therefore, IO and Ambassador Walters believe the U.S. should vote against the Mexican text. They do not favor an abstention, as this would tend to support Chilean nationalists and Pinochet backers, while not distancing ourselves from Cuba and Mexico sufficiently.

HA and ARA disagree with this view. They believe it is essential that we signal to all concerned, both within the Government of Chile, in the democratic opposition, human rights abuses in Chile, that our problem is with the seriously flawed wording of the Mexican text, not with the principle of criticizing human rights abuses in Chile. Our position can be demonstrated only by having us put forward a text that truly reflects our analysis of the situation and our point of view. Whether we win or lose, our stance will clearly be on record.

Specifically, HA and ARA seek to make the Mexican draft more balanced, encouraging a transition to democracy by condemning acts of terrorism. We praise the GOC's cooperation with the UNHRC Rapporteur, and commend his work. We note the GOC has permitted political exiles to return and cooperated with human rights groups and the ICRC, and the fact that substantial electoral registration has taken place. These amendments track carefully with the elements for a balanced resolution which you previously approved.

Contrary to IO's assertion that US support of a Chile resolution will help Pinochet, we believe, from our frequent contacts with the Chilean opposition, that U.S. support for an amended, balanced, resolution will actually strengthen the opposition's hand, not Pinochet. USG opposition to a resolution supported by most UNHRC members will be characterized by the GOC as a victory for Pinochet.

RECOMMENDATION:

HA and ARA recommend option 3: seek changes and, if accepted, vote for the resolution. If you agree, sign the cable attached at Tab A, instructing our delegation accordingly, and the cable at Tab B, instructing posts in selected capitals to make urgent, high-level supporting demarches.

IO recommends that we vote against the Mexican text, without seeking further changes. If you agree, sign the cable at Tab C, instructing our delegation accordingly.

SUBJECT: 44TH SESSION OF UN HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION: COMMENTS
- ON REVISED DRAFT RESOLUTION ON HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE

REF: GENEVA 2579

1. WE HAVE REVIEWED THE CHANGES, AMENDMENTS, AND DELETIONS TO THE MEXICAN DRAFT TEXT CONTAINED IN REFTEL. AS SEEN FROM THIS PERSPECTIVE, IN OUR JUDGEMENT THE USDEL HAS OBTAINED A NUMBER OF CRITICAL IMPROVEMENTS TO THE RESOLUTION. IN LIGHT OF THE USDEL'S BELIEF THAT FURTHER IMPROVEMENTS MIGHT STILL BE SOUGHT IN THE DRAFT, WE HAVE THE FOLLOWING SUGGESTIONS FOR CHANGES.

2. PP7: COULD BE MORE ACCURATE IF THE LAST PHRASE WERE CHANGED TO READ "AND THAT DEATH THREATS AND OTHER ACTS OF INTIMIDATION

HAVE INCREASED AGAINST POLITIACL AND HUMAN RIGHTS ACTIVISTS, AND MEMBERS OF THE ARTS AND CULTURAL COMMUNITY."

3. PP8: THE PHRASE "BASED ON POLITICAL OPINIONS OR OF OTHER NATURE" SHOULD BE DELETED AS BEING VAGUE AND WITHOUT MEANING.

4. PP9: THE WORDING COULD BE IMPROVED BY CHANGING THE LAST PART OF THE SENTENCE TO READ "IS A STEP TOWARDS RESOLVING THIS PROBLEM," OR SIMPLY "IS A POSITIVE STEP." IN ADDITION, WORD "NUMBER" SHOULD BE MODIFIED BY "CONSIDERABLE" OR "SIGNIFICANT."

5. OP1: GIVEN THE IMPORTANCE OF SUPPORTING VOLIO AGAINST BOTH GOC AND RADICAL ATTACKS, WE URGE THAT ANOTHER ATTEMPT BE MADE AT USING THE WORD "COMMENDS." IF UNSUCCESSFUL, WE RECOMMEND "TAKES NOTE WITH APPRECIATION.

6. OP8(C): WHILE ANOTHER ATTEMPT WHOULD BE MADE AT INSERTING A REFERENCE TO TERRORISM IN THIS SUB-PARAGRAPH, WE WOULD BE WILLING TO ACCEPT THE LANGUAGE OF THE NEW OPERATIONAL PARAGRAPH 12 AS BEING CLEARLY UNDERSTOOD HERE IN CHILE.

7. OP9: SUGGEST THAT THE VAGUE PHRASE "INTERNATIONAL COMMUNITY" BE DROPPED AND REPLACED BY "UNHRC."

8. COMMENT: WHILE THE MEXICAN TEXT IS NOT AS BALANCED AS WE WOULD PREFER, WITH THE CHANGES SUGGESTED ABOVE IT WOULD DESCRIBE MORE ACCURATELY THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION AS IT NOW EXISTS IN CHILE. GIVEN THE CRUCIAL POLITICAL SITUATION IN CHILE THIS YEAR, AND THE HIGH LEVEL OF INTEREST IN THE UNHCR PROCEEDINGS, WE WOULD URGE THAT THE US DELEGATION BE INSTRUCTED TO CONTINUE THEIR EFFORTS WITH THOSE CO-SPONSORS, AND OTHER SUPPORTING THE CONCEPT OF A MORE BALANCED RESOLUTION, TO OBTAIN AS MANY OF THESE CHANGES AS POSSIBLE SO AS TO ALLOW A CONSENSUS VOTE ON THIS RESOLUTION. NOTED IN OUR 1987 HUMAN RIGHTSREPORT ON CHILE, THE HUMAN RIGHTS PICTURE HERE REMAINS MIXED, WITH SOME AREAS OF DEFINITE IMPROVEMENTS BUT WITH A NUMBER OF VERY SERIOUS PROBLEMS STILL REMAINING. IT IS OUR UNDERSTANDING THAT VOLIO'S LATEST REPORT MAKES ESSENTIALLY THE SAME BASIC POINT.

3. AS THE 44TH SESSION OF THE UN HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION DRAWS TO A CLOSE, AMONG THE KEY ITEMS FOR U.S. POLICY OBJECTIVES IS A RESOLUTION ON HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE. THIS YEAR, THE U.S. WAS UNABLE TO SHORTSTOP A DRAFT SPONSORED BY MEXICO, AND CO-SPONSORED BY CUBA. THIS DRAFT IS HIGHLY CRITICAL OF CHILE, FAILS TO RECOGNIZE THE ADVANCES WHICH HAVE OCCURRED THERE, AND IGNORES THE LATEST FINDINGS OF THE UNHRC'S SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR. AS IT NOW STANDS, THE MEXICAN DRAFT IS NOT ACCEPTABLE.

UNCLASSIFIED

4. THE SECRETARY HAS APPROVED INSTRUCTIONS TO USDEL GENEVA TO WORK WITH FRIENDLY WEOG AND LATIN DELEGATIONS TO SEEK AMENDMENTS TO THE MEXICAN TEXT, AS OUTLINED REFTEL. SHOULD THESE AMENDMENTS BE ACCEPTED, THE U.S. COULD ACCEPT THE MEXICAN DRAFT; OTHERWISE, WE COULD NOT.

ACTION REQUESTED:

5. ACTION ADDRESSEES ARE REQUESTED TO MAKE URGENT DEMARCHES, AT HIGHEST LEVEL YOU DEEM APPROPRIATE, REQUESTING SUPPORT FOR USG AMENDMENTS, BEING TRANSMITTED SEPTEL. DEMARCHES ARE NEEDED IMMEDIATELY, SINCE RESOLUTION PROBABLY WILL COME TO A VOTE THURSDAY MORNING, MARCH 10, IN GENEVA.

6. TALKING POINTS:

-- THE CURRENT MEXICAN DRAFT IS GROSSLY UNBALANCED. IT FAILS TO RECOGNIZE PROGRESS WHICH HAS OCCURRED:

-- COOPERATION WITH THE UNHRC SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR;

-- COOPERATION WITH HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS AND THE ICRC;

-- SIGNATURE OF THE UN AND OAS CONVENTIONS ON TORTURE;

-- THE BEGINNINGS OF VOTER REGISTRATION FOR THE PLEBISCITE LATER THIS YEAR.

-- THE PRESENT MEXICAN TEXT, IF PASSED, WOULD ENCOURAGE EXTREMISTS ON BOTH SIDES AND MAKE THE WORK OF ACHIEVING PROGRESS IN CHILE MORE DIFFICULT. IT COULD MEAN AN END TO THE CONTRIBUTIONS OF THE CURRENT UNHRC SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR FOR CHILE, THE RESPECTED DR. FERNANDO VOLIO OF COSTA RICA.

-- OUR AMENDMENTS SEEK TO ENCOURAGE A TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY AND TO CONDEMN ACTS OF TERRORISM. OUR

UNCLASSIFIED

GOAL IS TO OBTAIN A BALANCED RESOLUTION WHICH ACCURATELY DEPICTS THE SITUATION IN CHILE, DRAWING UPON THE POINTS MADE BY THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR.

-- IT IS ESPECIALLY IMPORTANT THAT WE SEEK TO OBTAIN BALANCE IN THE MEXICAN TEXT, SINCE VOTING AGAINST THIS TEXT, OR EVEN ABSTAINING, WOULD LIKELY SEND THE WRONG SIGNAL TO BOTH OUR FRIENDS AND THEIR OPPONENTS IN CHILE.

-- THE U.S. CANNOT SUPPORT THE PRESENT TEXT, AND URGES YOUR GOVERNMENT TO COOPERATE WITH US IN AN URGENT EFFORT TO OBTAIN THE NECESSARY AMENDMENTS.YY

E.O. 12356: DECL:OADR
TAGS: PHUM, UNHRC, CI
SUBJECT: DEPUTY FOREIGN MINISTER VIDELA ON U.S.-CHILEAN RELATIONS

ACTION COPY

REF: USUN 0614

1. ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ - ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY. BETWEEN TV SERIES "MIAMI VICE" PORTRAYING CHILEANS AS DRUG SMUGGLERS AND THE MEXICANS "SUCCESSFULLY" PUSHING THEIR RESOLUTION AT THE UNHCR, DEPUTY FOREIGN MINISTER VIDELA FINDS LITTLE REASON FOR OPTIMISM IN THE OVERALL U.S.-CHILEAN RELATIONSHIP. HE TOOK SOME HEART AT HEARING OF U.S. EFFORTS TO PROMOTE A BALANCED OUTCOME AT GENEVA BY ADVOCATING A TEXT MORE CLOSELY REALATED TO SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR VOLIO'S CONCLUSIONS. MORE BROADLY HE MADE A PLE FOR THE U.S. TO RECOGNIZE THE PROGRESS THAT WAS BEING MADE IN THE CURRENT CHILEAN TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY, DESPITE ALL THE INEVITABLE PROBLEMS. END SUMMARY.

3. THE AMBASSADOR, IN A MARCH 4 TALK WITH CHILE'S NEW DEPUTY FOREIGN MINISTER BRIGADIER GENERAL ERNESTO VIDELA, ASKED FOR VIDELA'S SENSE OF U.S.-CHILEAN RELATIONS NOW THAT HE HAD BEEN IN OFFICE FOR SOME TWO MONTHS. (VIDELA HAD PREVIOUSLY BEEN HEAD OF THE CHILEAN SECTION OF THE JOINT COMMISSION WITH ARGENTINA AND STILL EARLIER UNDERSECRETARY OF FOREIGN RELATIONS AND IS KNOWN AS ONE OF THE MOST ASTUTE AND BEST INFORMED OF CHILEAN GENERALS.)

4. VIDELA BEGAN BY EXPRESSING GREAT DESPAIR AT THE PROSPECTS FOR DOING ANYTHING REALLY POSITIVE IN THE RELATIONSHIP AND CITED AS A SYMBOLIC REASON THE DEPICTION IN A RECENT PROGRAM OF THE TV SERIES "MIAMI VICE" OF CHILEAN GENERALS AS DRUG SMUGGLERS. HE CONTENDED THAT IF IN THE U.S. MENTALITY CHILEANS WERE CHOSEN TO REPRESENT SUCH EVIL ELEMENTS THEN CHILE REALLY HAD A TERRIBLY SERIOUS PROBLEM OF IMAGE, WHICH COULDN'T BE CORRECTED BY A FEW PUBLIC RELATIONS GESTURES.

UNCLASSIFIED

CLASSIFIED

5. HE THEN JUMPED TO THE CURRENT UNHRC MEETING IN GENEVA TO COMPLAIN ABOUT THE INJUSTICE OF THE MEXICAN RESOLUTION EVEN BEING INTRODUCED BEFORE THE COMMISSION'S OWN SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR'S REPORT HAD BEEN RELEASED AND ABOUT THE U.S. NOT PUBLICLY STOPPING THE RESOLUTION ON THOSE GROUNDS ALONE. HE SAW LIKELY MEXICAN SUCCESS AS AN INDICATION OF U.S. AND MORE BROADLY WESTERN DISINTEREST IN CHILE.

6. SPEAKING STILL MORE GENERALLY, HE FELT U.S. POLICY TOWARD CHILE WAS GUIDED BY AN "OBSESSION", JUST AS IT WAS TOWARD PANAMA AND COLOMBIA. IN CHILE'S CASE IT WAS PINOCHET AND WHENEVER THE U.S. GOT CAUGHT UP IN AN OBSESSIVE TYPE APPROACH IT MADE A MESS OF THINGS, AS WAS NOW HAPPENING IN PANAMA. (AT THIS POINT VIDELA RECALLED THE GREAT MISTAKE IT HAD BEEN FOR THE U.S. TO CUT OFF ITS LINKS WITH THE CHILEAN ARMED FORCES, THE ARMY IN PARTICULAR. THERE WAS A WHOLE GENERATION LOST AND THE DEGREE OF RESENTMENT WAS CORRESPONDINGLY GREATER AND NOW THE "OBSESSIVE" MEASURES BEING TAKEN WITH REGARD TO PANAMA WERE MAKING HIS MILITARY COLLEAGUES STILL MORE UPSET ABOUT THE WAY THE U.S. MIGHT REACT WITH REGARD TO CHILE AT SOME POINT.)

7. THE AMBASSADOR TOLD VIDELA HE WAS AT BEST EXAGGERATING ON ALL POINTS. GRANTED "MIAMI VICE" IN USING CHILEANS AND NOT SOME OTHER NATIONALITY PROBABLY DID REVEAL SOMETHING PSYCHOLOGICALLY INTERESTING, BUT THAT DIDN'T TURN THE WHOLE OF THE U.S. INTO HAVING THAT SAME MENTALITY (VIDELA AGREED HE WASN'T GOING THAT FAR). IN GENEVA, JUST THAT MORNING WE HAD BEEN TALKING TO ONE OF OUR PEOPLE ABOUT THE IMPORTANCE OF ACHIEVING A RESOL ION WHICH DREW MUCH MORE HEAVILY ON SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR VOLIO'S REPORT. VIDELA WAS EXAGGERATING TOO IF HE THOUGHT THAT THE U.S. COULD AUTOMATICALLY GET ITS WAY; THE DIFFICULTIES WE HAD HAD LAST YEAR OVER OUR CUBAN RESOLUTION SHOWED THAT. WE WERE NOW DOING OUR BEST TO HELP GET A BALANCED RESOLUTION

DESPITE THE ADVANTAGES THE MEXICANS HAD BY HAVING INTRODUCED THEIR OWN.

8. WITH REGARD TO "OBSESSIONS", THE AMBASSADOR TOLD VIDELA IF THE U.S. WAS OBSESSED IT WAS NOT WITH PINOCHET, BUT WITH THE IMPORTANCE OF CHILE'S MAKING A SUCCESSFUL TRANSITION TO STABLE DEMOCRACY AND NOT TO WIDENING INTERNAL CONFRONTATIONS. IN THAT CONTEXT, IT WAS THE GOVERNMENT OF CHILE THAT COULD STILL DO A GREAT DEAL TO IMPROVE IT'S OWN IMAGE. HE REFERRED TO A CONVERSATION EARLIER IN THE WEEK WITH VIDELA AND THE FOREIGN MINISTER ABOUT CONFUSION ABROAD OVER WHY THERE WAS NO FIRM DATE FOR THE PLEBISCITE AND TOUCHED AS WELL ON THE QUESTION OF THE OPPOSITION HAVING PRACTICALLY NO ACCESS TO TV. SUCH ELEMENTS REINFORCED THE IMPRESSION THAT THE GOVERNMENT FOR ALL ITS TALK ABOUT COMMITMENT TO INSTITUTIONALIZING DEMOCRACY WAS NOT THAT INTERESTED. OBVIOUSLY IT WAS HIS GOVERNMENT'S OWN BUSINESS WHETHER THEY CARED OR NOT ABOUT THEIR IMAGE, BUT IF IT WOULD HELP ANY HE WOULD BE WILLING TO TAKE VIDELA UP ON HIS EARLIER CHALLENGE TO TALK OVER THAT INSTITUTIONAL PROCESS AND PROGRESS IN SPECIFIC TERMS BY GIVING HIM A SENSE OF HOW IT LOOKED FROM THE OUTSIDE.

9. VIDELA RECALLED AN EARLIER CONVERSATION WHERE HE HAD PREDICTED THAT TV WOULD GRADUALLY BE OPENED UP AND CITED THE PROSPECT OF POLITICAL TALK SHOWS STARTING AT THE END OF MARCH ON THE CATHOLIC UNIVERSITY NETWORK WHICH WOULD REACH ABOUT 90 PERCENT OF THE COUNTRY. HE SAID EVEN THE GOVERNMENT'S TV NETWORK WOULD START CARRYING SOME OPPOSITION NEWS IN THE FORESEEABLE FUTURE. BY WAY OF ANOTHER EXAMPLE OF IMAGE PROBLEMS, THE AMBASSADOR CITED THE RENEWAL FOR ANOTHER 90 DAYS OF THE STATE OF EMERGENCY AND THE JUSTIFICATION BY THE MINISTER OF THE INTERIOR THAT PUBLIC ORDER REQUIRED IT. THE AMBASSADOR QUESTIONED WHETHER PUBLIC ORDER REALLY REQUIRED THE RESTRICTIONS ON FREEDOM OF ASSEMBLY AND OPINION IN A PRE-ELECTORAL PERIOD AND VIDELA SAID HIS OWN ASSUMPTION WAS THAT AT SOME POINT BEFORE THE PLEBISCITE, BARRING MAJOR INTERNAL SECURITY PROBLEMS, THE STATE OF EMERGENCY WOULD BE LIFTED. VIDELA SAID HE WASN'T PRETENDING THERE WERE NO PROBLEMS AND AGREED IT WOULD BE USEFUL TO TALK OVER THE INSTITUTIONALIZATION PROCESS MORE SPECIFICALLY WITH THE AMBASSADOR.

10. HE ALSO PROPOSED THAT THEY GET TOGETHER SOON AFTER THE UNHRC HAD CONCLUDED ITS WORK ON THE CHILE RESOLUTION TO ANALYZE THAT EXPERIENCE, AS A STARTING POINT FOR TALKING FURTHER ABOUT THE U.S.-CHILEAN RELATIONSHIP. WHEN THE AMBASSADOR NOTED THAT OUR DEFINITION OF A "BALANCED" RESOLUTION WOULD NOT BE THE SAME AS THE CHILEAN ONE GIVEN THE FACT THAT VOLIO WAS CRITICAL OF MANY ASPECTS OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION, VIDELA

SAID HE RECOGNIZED THAT, BUT FELT WE OUGHT TO BE CAPABLE OF BOTH CRITICIZING THE MEXICAN APPROACH OF IGNORING VOLIO AND PROMOTING A FAIRER RESOLUTION

11. AS A FINAL POINT, HE ASKED THE AMBASSADOR TO FIND SOME OCCASIONS TO SPEAK OUT PUBLICLY ABOUT THE PROGRESS TOWARD DEMOCRACY. WHEN THE LATTER SAID HE HAD BEEN GOING ON THE ASSUMPTION THAT IT WAS BETTER NOT TO TALK THAT MUCH PUBLICLY, LEST HE BE ACCUSED OF "INTERFERENCE" IN CHILEAN INTERNAL AFFAIRS, VIDELA LAUGHED AND SAID THAT MIGHT BE A RISK, BUT IT SHOULD BE MANAGEABLE. AS IT WAS, THE EMBASSY WAS SEEN BY SOME PEOPLE AS BEING TOO CLOSE TO THE OPPOSITION AND THIS MIGHT MAKE FOR SOME BALANCE. HE RECALLED A COMMENT BY THE AMBASSADOR IN THEIR LAST CONVERSATION WHERE THE AMBASSADOR HAD SAID HE THOUGHT THERE WOUL BE SOME DIFFICULT MOMENTS IN THE RELATIONSHIP. WHILE HE APPRECIATED THE FRANKNESS, HE THOUGHT THE AMBASSADOR COULD HELP BOTH CHILE'S AND THE U.S.'S IMAGE BY INDICATING IN PUBLIC THAT ALL WAS N GLOOM. WHEN THE AMBASSADOR CITED HIS RECENT PUBLIC EFFORTS TO PROMOTE SCIENTIFIC COLLABORATION, VIDELA SAID THAT WAS ALL VERY WELL, BUT ONE NEEDED

TO GET BEYOND THE STARS AND THE SEA. FOR HIS PART, THE AMBASSADOR SAID THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT COULD HELP BY NOT CREATING THE IMPRESSION THEMSELVES THAT THE U.S. WAS ONLY ON THE SIDE OF THE OPPOSITION AND IN AN EXAGGERATED FORM AT THAT. IN THIS CONTEXT, HE CITED THE PHRASE IN AMBASSADOR DAZA'S MEMORANDUM LEFT WITH AMBASSADOR WALTERS (REFTEL) THAT THE U.S. WAS "SUPPORTING AND AIDING THE MOST RADICAL SECTORS OF CHILEAN MARXISM". THAT SORT OF ATTACK IN NO WAY HELPED. VIDELA AGREED.

12. COMMENT. THE AMBASSADOR AND VIDELA HAD COME TO KNOW EACH OTHER QUITE WELL IN HIS PREVIOUS INCARNATION AND VIDELA THEREFORE SEEMS ABLE TO SPEAK WITH A FAIR AMOUNT OF FRANKNESS. AS THE SENIOR MILITARY FIGURE IN THE FOREIGN MINISTRY HE CAN BE HELPFUL IN CONVEYING A SENSE OF WHAT HIS ARMY COLLEAGUES MAY BE THINKING BOTH ABOUT THE U.S. AND ABOUT CHILE'S TRANSITION PROCESS AS WELL. 3. IT IS A HIGHLY-BIASED, ONE-SIDED DOCUMENT THAT ACCENTUATES ALL THAT IS NEGATIVE IN CHILE AND SCARCELY MENTIONS THE POSITIVE FACTORS.

COUNTRIES LIKE CUBA AND MEXICO.

6. CUBA AND CHILE HAVE THE SAME POPULATION -- 12 MILLION. THERE ARE 1,500,000 REFUGEES FROM CUBA; LESS THAN 2,000 FROM CHILE. MOST CHILEAN EXILES HAVE RETURNED. THERE IS AN OPPOSITION PRESS AND RADIO IN CHILE; NONE IN CUBA. IN CUBA THERE IS A LAW AGAINST EMIGRATION. ANYONE WHO WANTS TO LEAVE CHILE CAN DO SO. IN CHILE THE GOVERNMENT HAS COOPERATED WITH THE UN SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR. THE INTERNATIONAL RED CROSS, AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL CAN OPERATE; IN CUBA THEY CANNOT. MILLIONS OF VOTERS ARE BEING REGISTERED IN CHILE FOR A PLEBISCITE THIS YEAR. THERE HAS NEVER BEEN ELECTION OF ANY SORT IN CASTRO'S CUBA.

7. THE PROPOSED RESOLUTION IS UNMITIGATED CHILE BASHING AND FAILS TO TAKE ANY REAL ACCOUNT OF PROGRESS THERE. IT WILL AROUSE CHILEAN NATIONALISM AND STRENGTHEN PINOCHET. I DO NOT BELIEVE THE U.S. SHOULD BE ASSOCIATED IN ANY WAY WITH THIS ONE-SIDED DOCUMENT SPONSORED BY COUNTRIES WHOSE OWN RECORD ON HUMAN RIGHTS IS OFTEN WORSE THAN CHILE'S. CHILE VOTES WITH US IN THE UN FAR MORE OFTEN THAN MOST LATIN AMERICAN COUNTRIES -- INFINITELY MORE SO THAN CUBA OR MEXICO. PETRONE

MARCH 9 STATING THAT SHE COULD NO LONGER SERVE THE GOVERNMENT AND DISAGREES WITH THE CURRENT POLITICAL EVENTS IN PANAMA. AROSEMENA, AMBASSADOR TO MEXICO FOR 18 YEARS AND A STRONG TORRIJOS/ PANAMA DEFENSE FORCES (FDP) SUPPORTER, PUBLICLY RELEASED HER LETTER OF RESIGNATION ADDRESSED TO FORMIN JORGE ABADIA.

3. (U) SANTIAGO TORRIJOS, NEPHEW OF OMAR TORRIJOS AND PANAMA'S CONSUL IN LOS ANGELES ALSO ANNOUNCED HIS BREAK WITH NORIEGA REGIME LATE YESTERDAY. TORRIJOS BLAMED THE MILITARY FOR NOT FULFILLING HIS UNCLE'S COMMITTMENT TO ESTABLISH A CONSITUTIONAL DEMOCRACY IN PANAMA. NEWS OF DIPLOMATIC DEFECTIONS APPEARED IN SEMI-INDEPENDENT PRESS BUT WAS IGNORED IN GOVERNMENT-CONTROLLED NEWSPAPERS MARCH 10.

4. (U) IN A RELATED EVENT, DEMOCRATIC REVOLUTIONARY PARTY'S (PRD) HONOR AND DISCIPLINE [redacted]

TRIBUNAL FINALLY EXPELLED FROM THE PARTY ANOTHER PROMINENT DIPLOMATIC DEFECTOR, FORMER NEW YORK CONSUL JOSE ISABEL BLANDON. PRD HAD PREVIOUSLY MOVED TO EXPEL BLANDON BUT HAD DROPPED ACTIVE PURSUIT OF THE OF HIS CASE UNTIL NOW.

POOR ATTENDANCE AT PRO-GOVERNMENT RALLIES

5. (U) SINCE THE FEBRUARY 26 MILITARY-BACKED COUP, NOREIGA/SOLIS PALMA REGIME HAS BEEN UNABLE TO MUSTER A CONVINCING SHOW OF POPULAR SUPPORT. REGIME HAS FAILED IN ATTEMPTS TO TURN OUT LARGE NUMBERS OF PEOPLE AT PUBLIC EVENTS TO SUBSTANTIATE ITS CLAIMS OF BROAD POPULAR BACKING. PRO-GOVERNMENT RALLYS AND MARCHES IN RECENT DAYS HAVE BEEN SPARCELY ATTENDED OR CANCELLED. TURNOUT FOR TWO ORGANIZED LABOR PROTESTS THIS WEEK AT EMBASSY FELL FAR SHORT OF REGIME'S EXPECTATIONS (REFS A AND B). PLANNED DEMOCRATIC REVOLUTIONARY PARTY (PRD) WOMEN'S MARCH WAS CANCELLED. EVEN NORIEGA BARNSTORMING APPEARANCES IN WORKING CLASS NEIGHBORHOODS OF COLON AND SAN MIGUELITO LACKED PARTICIPATION OF BETTER DAYS.

OPPOSITION LEGISLATOR, SINCE MARCH 7, LEGISLATORS HAVE RETURNED TO THE ASSEMBLY PALACE AND THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY HAS BEEN ABLE TO CONDUCT BUSINESS. DEBATE ON THE FLOOR REMAINS MAINLY CONTENTIOUS AND NO NEW LEGISLATION IS BEING DISCUSSED. ACCORDING TO THE LEGISLATOR, AT LEAST TWELVE REGIME-COALITION LEGISLATORS ARE WILLING TO SIDE WITH THE OPPOSITION IN CHALLENGING THE ASSEMBLY'S FEBRUARY 25 OUSTER OF PRESIDENT DELVALLE; THEY ARE DISCUSSING TIMING AND

MODALITIES. OPPOSITIONISTS ARE EAGER TO FORCE DEBATE ON THE DEVALLE OUSTER, BUT WILL WAIT UNTIL THE GOVERNMENT RESUMES RADIO BROADCAST OF ASSEMBLY SESSIONS. (THE GOVERNMENT CLAIMS THAT ITS RADIO ANTENNA IS DOWN. THERE HAVE BEEN NO ASSEMBLY BROADCASTS SINCE THE MARCH 1 OPENING OF THE LEGISLATIVE SEASON.)

7. (C) THE LEGISLATOR ALSO SAID THAT ASSEMBLY USED PRO-REGIME LABOR PARTY (PALA) OMAIRA (MAYIN) CORREA'S LETTER REQUESTING PERMISSION TO BE EXCUSED FROM ATTENDING SESSIONS AS AN AUTHORIZATION TO ASSIGN ALTERNATE PAULINO ROMERO, JR. TO HER SEAT. HE LAMENTED CORREA'S SHORTSIGHTEDNESS IN OFFICIALLY INFORMING THE ASSEMBLY OF HER INABILITY TO ATTEND, BUT ACCEPTED HER DESTITUTION AS A "FAIT ACCOMPLI."

SOLIS PALMA ON RELATIONS WITH U.S.

8. (U) MINISTER IN CHARGE OF PRESIDENCY SOLIS PALMA SAID PANAMA HAS MADE NO DECISION TO BREAK RELATIONS WITH THE U.S., BUT "THEY ARE SUSPENDED EVER SINCE THE GOVERNMENT OF WASHINGTON DID NOT RECOGNIZE THE NEW PANAMANIAN AMBASSADOR TO THE U.S." IN MARCH 9 INTERVIEW WITH A BOGOTA RADIO STATION, SOLIS PALMA SAID HIS COUNTRY FACES A DECLARATION OF ECONOMIC WAR BY THE U.S. AND TERMED THE LATEST U.S. ECOMOMIC MEASURES AS VERY VIOLENT.

9. (U) WHEN ASKED ABOUT THE POSSIBLITY OF U.S. MILITARY INVASION, THE MINISTER RESPONDED THAT

POL

NOTES FROM A VISIT TO PUNTA ARENAS MARCH 11, 1988

The notes that follow also follow the order in which I saw people the afternoon and evening of March 11, and the next morning.

1) UNIVERSITY OF MAGALLANES - Meeting with Rector Nestor Hernández (previously vice-rector for academic matters and Rector only as of a month or so ago; a chemist) and two vice-rectors, Secretary General and Patagonia Institute Director, Edmundo Pissano and ex-director Mateo Martinic. The Institute has been absorbed into the University as of 1983 because of financial problems and is in the process of being converted into a teaching (biology), as well as, a research institution. Chemical and petroleum engineering are major elements and horticulture adapted to the region is becoming more important. Only about 30% of the University's resources come from the central government, about the same from tuition fees and the rest from consultancies, including in the area of marine environmental problems associated with the petroleum industry. With the new rector having been chosen from a "trio" nominated by the governing council and with a Christian Democratic student union primarily interested in student issues, the scene is calm. There are several staff members pursuing PhDs in the U.S. and in chemistry one ongoing project under NSF sponsorship in the area of environmental monitoring.

2) COMMANDER OF THE THIRD NAVAL ZONE - Rear Admiral Fernando Lazcano Jiménez. He had served earlier in the area and was pleased to be back, has a good deal of respect for the independence and pride of people of the area, though they at times still suffer from a sense of isolation and a feeling of neglect (historically, he said, they had not been allowed to vote in presidential elections until not that many decades ago). During February he had served as acting Intendente, since both the Intendente and Army Commander were away at the same time. He had enjoyed the responsibility and learning the nature of the problems, which gave him a fuller sense of the region. He hoped, for example, that the law which provides certain incentives for the Navarino Island area could be extended to cover other parts of the region like Porvenir which could provide employment opportunities in greater measure. Although it is said that the unenployment rate is very low, that is primarily because the Argentine job market is attractive and young people tend to look there. He would hope to be able to offer more attractive possibilities nearer home. He raised the question of the U.S. abstention on the Chile human rights resolution in Geneva and I explained our continuing concerns about human rights violations, as well as our belief that the Mexican introduced resolution didn't give adequate weight to the report of Professor Volio. He said that what he had heard of the U.S statement, it sounded like a good one. We talked some, too, about exchanges between the U.S. and

UNCLASSIFIED

Chilean navies and I expressed my hopes that Admiral Merino would reconsider his rejection of our latest invitations. Admiral Lazcano said he very much favored exchanges but made no comment about the specific instance I raised.

3) INTENDENTE - Major General (R) Claudio López S. The Intendente was extremely affable, even addressing me at one point as "amigo mío". We talked for the better part of an hour, most of which he devoted to a review of the economic accomplishments of the region (set out in a Serplac booklet he gave me). He remains optimistic about the future, despite the hardships caused for the present by an unprecedent drought and consequent need to introduce water rationing (a situation he felt sure would improve with the rains that were bound to come in the next month or so; longer term projects are already underway which will provide back-up by next year). He highlights the development of the natural gas fields as represented by the Cape Horn Methanol Plant and the recently announced ammonium-urea plant to be built largely with European capital (though I heard later that the U.S. firm of Kellogg will do the initial engineering). He also sees great prospects for coal, given the open pit mines in the region. All this in addition to the more traditional fish and livestock resources, and practically no unemployment.

He noted that he is one of two retired officers currently serving as Intendente (the other in Valparaíso), and that he had turned down overseas appointments in order to be able to continue to serve the President in an area which had such a good future. He is pleased that the opposition parties have shown the realism to accept the plebiscite formula, though still worries about the influenc of the Marxist groups among them. I suggested that the government and its supporters ought to show some pleasure that there were some elements they considered responsible in the opposition instead of always attacking all of them. López' reply was essentially that there are too many who can't be trusted though he said personally he thought Christian Democratic President Patricio Aylwin was a reasonable person. As to the outcome of the plebiscite, at this stage he thought there was a good chance that the "si" would win. If, however, the "no" won, then the armed forces were bound to accept that verdict, though he worried a "no" would lead to a severe crisis of confidence in the country.

He spoke with some feeling about the "break" in his relations with the Bishop, citing one occasion when people inside the cathedral were throwing molotov coktails at the security forces, and how Bishop González told a foreign reporter that he condemned that sort of action and local reporters that he denied any such action. López spoke of the contrast with Archbishop Santos of Concepción whom he had known when posted to Valdivia where Santos was then Bishop and how well they got on despite their differences and how he still considers Santos a friend.

4) BISHOP GONZALEZ - We saw him somewhat accidentally, since we were just scheduled to visit the artisan work of the Social Action Department of the Bishopric; but before we got there were told the Bishop was free and would be glad to see us, so we went by a little later. He spoke mostly of the work that the church organizations--including church schools--will be doing to support the work of the Belen program of ILADES to promote civic education. He recalled that much of the inspiration had come from Archbishop (and then Episcopal Conference President) Piñeras' visit to the United States and his observations of work done by the U.S. Catholic Conference. (He said some funds for the Belen project are also coming from the U.S. Conference). The stress of the project, which he said is supported by most though not all the bishops in their respective diosceses, will be to explain to those in the various catholic groups what the meaning of citizenship is. At first he said they would also tell people why to vote "no", but then caught himself and spoke of helping people understand what the significance of either a "si" or a "no" vote would be. He finds that in Punta Arenas the young people are the most difficult to persuade to work on a civic education campaign, because they have a little belief it will make any difference. He is encouraged though by a meeting he held recently with a mixture of youth leaders from Christian Democratic to communists who were prepared to work on the "no" campaign as well. The presence of the communists represents, he feels, the signs of a split in the party which is encouraging in terms of weakening the appeal for violence. On theother hand, he agreed with the observation that women seem to be more inclined to support Pinochet, a phenomenon he attributed to the weight of CEMA activities in coercing women to stick to the official position.

Bishop González alluded to the present Intendente as someone with pretensions of being an educated person, but who is not despite all the books he has. He was upset because the Intendente has not repudiated his Jefe de Gabinete Alvarez for having threatened to use arms against the opposition (as in 1973). That same person was in charge in 1974 of the prison on Dawson Island where many political prisoners were being kept and was disposed to shoot a number of them. González, then a new bishop, kept working on and with the then Intendente (Benavides, subsequently a junta member in the 1980s) to avoid any executions and was successful. Alvarez both then and now was about as extreme as one could imagine. All in all Gonzalez thought that Lopez was a great gift from the government for the opposition because of his exaggerated actions and statements. The Bishop mentioned as an example the unhappiness of a leading Renovación Nacional supporter who had been told by the Intendente that complete and not independent support of the government was what was needed.

5) LA PRENSA AUSTRAL - Owner Estanislao Karelovici Kirigin and Director Pablo Cruz Karelovici, who has a long and thorough sense of what it is like to be a Magellanite, spoke of the region's isolation but also its patriotism as reflected in the support given from the first parliamentary election on to regional candidates. As an example of the "differentness" of the area he cited an event known as the "Puntarenazo" of about 1984 when Pinochet came to Punta Arenas to preside at a ceremony in the Plaza de Armas and was greeted by a chorus of people within the cathedral shouting "assassin". Pinochet has not been back since, save for two very, very quick visits and in his opinion is not likely to take chances again to visit the Punta Arenas area. Aside from socialist and communist traditions of the past, the area is largely anti-regime, people are getting tired of Pinochet and the constant propaganda campaign in his favor. The opposition still is shaky to be sure, but they are helped by the outrageousness of the Intendente who insists on utter loyalty. Karelovici said he had heard that the Intendente thinks the Prensa Austral, while clearly not pro-government, is not that hostile. That, of course, according to Karelovici, is the paper's aim: "to be objective, pluralistic and pro-Magellan region". He has heard that he is on the Intendente's list of people who are "persuadable" by the government and expects some salemanship and pressure. (The Intendente had told me earlier that he thought the owner was inclined toward "si"). The director, Cruz, according to the Intendente is connected with the Christian Left. Cruz, that evening at dinner, was called to the phone and when he came back to the table said he had just received word from one of the paper's staff that his name was one of those being circulated by people allegedly connected with the Chilean Anti-Communist League (ACHA) as under a death sentence. Both saw the paper's major function as being one of trying to present both sides of the plebiscite struggle. Radio does some of this, but only the government TV chain reaches the area. The one radio program, which actually had been going for seven years and presenting diverse views (Radio Polar), is now off the air because the same Colonel Alvarez who had made his threatening remarks on one of their programs had since refused to continue with that talk show as had two other conservative figures.

6) VISIT TO CAPE HORN METHANOL PLANT - According to the resident manager, Paul Tate, the construcion is still about four and a half months ahead of schedule and should therefore be finished about the middle of August. Management is pressing to shorten that time if possible in order to take advantage of the favorable price situation (prices about double what they were in 1986).

SUBJECT: WORKER RIGHTS - INFORMAL MEETINGS

1. SUMMARY. ON MARCH 7, THE GATT SECRETARIAT HOSTED AN INFORMAL MEETING ON THE U.S. PROPOSAL FOR A WORKING PARTY ON THE RELATIONSHIP OF INTERNATIONALLY-RECOGNIZED LABOR STANDARDS (IRLS) TO TRADE. DUE TO A PRIOR COMMITMENT, GATT COUNCIL CHAIRMAN JAMAL WAS UNAVAILABLE TO CHAIR THE MEETING SO STUART ROBINSON OF THE GATT SECRETARIAT FILLED IN. FOLLOWING UP ON POINTS RAISED AT THE LAST SUCH INFORMAL MEETING, ON JANUARY 28, THE U.S. PROVIDED ILLUSTRATIVE EXAMPLES OF HOW IRLS CAN AFFECT TRADE, DISCUSSED WHAT A WORKING PARTY MIGHT DO, AND COMMENTED ON THE HONG KONG PROPOSAL FOR A JOINT ILO/GATT GROUP OF EXPERTS STUDY GROUP. NICARAGUA, CHILE, BRAZIL, AND ROMANIA THANKED THE U.S. FOR ITS EXPLANATIONS, BUT VOICED STRONG OPPOSITION TO THE U.S. PROPOSAL, ARGUING PRIMARILY THAT THIS ISSUE IS SOLELY WITHIN THE COMPETENCE OF THE ILO. SWEDEN AND THE EUROPEAN COMMUNITY REPEATED PREVIOUS SUPPORT, AND JAPAN STATED THAT IT WAS NOT OPPOSED TO THE WORKING PARTY PROPOSAL. AT THE END OF THE MEETING, THE U.S. REP STATED THAT THE UNITED STATES WAS LIKELY TO PRESS FOR A DECISION ON ITS WORKER RIGHTS PROPOSAL AT THE MAY GATT COUNCIL MEETING. THE MEETING WAS LIGHTLY ATTENDED, AT LEAST IN PART BECAUSE OF CONFLICTING MEETINGS. AMONG THOSE ABSENT WERE MEXICO, THE PHILIPPINES, ISRAEL, HONG KONG, AUSTRALIA, AND CANADA. THE U.S. SIDE INCLUDED REPRESENTATIVES FROM USTR, LABOR, COMMERCE, STATE AND THE CUSTOMS SERVICE. END SUMMARY

2. THE U.S. REP (SHARK) LED OFF BY RESPONDING TO REQUESTS MADE AT THE LAST MEETING FOR EXAMPLES OF HOW WORKER RIGHTS AFFECT TRADE AND FOR A MORE FULL EXPLANATION OF WHAT A WORKING PARTY MIGHT DO. HE ALSO RESPONDED TO THE PROPOSAL WHICH HONG KONG MADE REGARDING AN EXPERT STUDY GROUP. THE U.S. STATEMENT, BASED ON MATERIALS PROVIDED BY THE INTERAGENCY GROUP ON WORKER RIGHTS, IS SUMMARIZED IN PARAS 3-5 BELOW.

3. WHAT A WORKING PARTY MIGHT DO - (A) LOOK AT WHETHER THERE ARE SOME IRLS THAT HAVE A BEARING ON TRADE; (B) ANALYZE HOW LACK OF RESPECT FOR WORKER RIGHTS COULD AFFECT TRADE FLOWS AND GATT OBJECTIVES; (C) LOOK AT CONCEPTUAL EXAMPLES (WITH HELP FROM THE ILO ON WHETHER THE EXAMPLES ARE REALISTIC), AND (D) DETERMINE IN A QUALITATIVE SENSE IF THERE IS A PROBLEM WHICH THE GATT SHOULD ADDRESS. SHARK REITERATED PREVIOUS STATEMENTS THAT THE U.S. HAS NO PREDISPOSITION AS TO WHAT WILL RESULT FROM THE WORKING PARTY'S STUDY OF IRLS.

4. ILLUSTRATIVE EXAMPLES - SHARK INTRODUCED THIS TOPIC BY NOTING THAT LACK OF RESPECT FOR IRLS CAN HAVE DIRECT EFFECTS ON TRADE THROUGH ARTIFICIALLY STIMULATING EXPORTS OR REPLACING IMPORTS BY DOMESTIC PRODUCTION, AS WELL AS INDIRECT EFFECTS SUCH AS PRESSURES TO RESTRICT TRADE IN IMPORTING COUNTRIES. HE BEGAN DISCUSSION OF SPECIFIC EXAMPLES BY NOTING THAT ARTICLE XXE (BRISK LEADER) SHOWS GATT RECOGNITION THAT LABOR STANDARDS CAN AFFECT TRADE. SHARK GAVE THREE ADDITIONAL EXAMPLES, ALL BASED ON THE CONCEPT OF DIFFERENT (LOWER) LABOR STANDARDS IN PRODUCTION FOR EXPORT COMPARED WITH GENERALLY PREVAILING STANDARDS: (I) COUNTRY-WIDE WORKPLACE STANDARDS FROM WHICH EXPORT INDUSTRIES ARE EXEMPTED, (II) A UNIFORM MINIMUM WAGE WHICH DOES NOT APPLY IN EXPORT PROCESSING ZONES, AND (III) LAWS THAT PERMIT UNIONS TO ORGANIZE FREE OF RESTRICTIONS, EXCEPT IN PRODUCTION FOR EXPORT OR EXPORT PROCESSING ZONES. SHARK SAID HE RECOGNIZED THAT THESE EXAMPLES RAISE ISSUES WHICH MAY BE SENSITIVE TO INDIVIDUAL COUNTRIES, WHICH IS WHY THE U.S. IS PROPOSING A WORKING PARTY TO CARRY OUT A LOW-KEY, DISPASSIONATE STUDY.

5. HONG KONG PROPOSAL - SHARK STATED THAT THE U.S. APPRECIATES THE CONSTRUCTIVE SPIRIT BEHIND HONG KONG'S PROPOSAL FOR A JOINT ILO/GATT GROUP OF EXPERTS TO STUDY WORKER RIGHTS. HOWEVER, THE U.S. WANTS THE STUDY OF WORKER RIGHTS TO TAKE PLACE UNDER GATT AUSPICES, BECAUSE WE ARE INTERESTED IN LOOKING AT HOW IRLS AFFECT TRADE, NOT AT LABOR STANDARDS PER SE.

6. THE U.S. INTERVENTION WAS FOLLOWED BY A FEW MOMENTS OF AWKWARD SILENCE. FINALLY, NICARAGUA (AMBASSADOR VARGAS) JUMPED IN BY STATING HIS GOVERNMENT WOULD OPPOSE WORKING PARTY ON THIS ISSUE IN THE GATT, SINCE THIS ISSUE IS MORE APPROPRIATE FOR THE ILO. HE ALSO SAID THE U.S. SHOULD ADOPT A FEW MORE ILO CONVENTIONS IF IT WAS SERIOUS ABOUT PURSUING THE WORKER RIGHTS ISSUE. (NOTE - THROUGHOUT THE U.S. PRESENTATION, AMBASSADOR VARGAS CHATTED LOUDLY AND BOISTEROUSLY WITH A COLLEAGUE, GIVING THE IMPRESSION THAT HE WAS HECKLING THE SPEAKER - AN UNUSUAL TACTIC FOR A GATT MEETING.)

7. CHILE'S REPRESENTATIVE (MORALES) SAID HIS GOVERNMENT WOULD AGREE TO EXAMINE WORKER RIGHTS IN THE ~~LIMITED OFFICIAL USE~~

Department of State

ILO, BUT NOT IN THE GATT. HE SAID THAT WHEN U.S. FIRST RAISED THIS ISSUE HIS GOVERNMENT THOUGHT THE U.S. WAS CONCERNED WITH ALL ELEMENTS OF WORKER RIGHTS INCLUDING MOVEMENT OF FACTORS OF PRODUCTION -- SPECIFICALLY THE RIGHT OF LABOR IN THE THIRD WORLD TO EMIGRATE TO DEVELOPED COUNTRIES. HOWEVER, CHILE CAME TO THE CONCLUSION THAT THE U.S. SELECTIVE IN RAISING WORKER RIGHTS IS TO OPEN THE DOOR FOR TAKING AWAY TRADE CONCESSIONS GRANTED BY DEVELOPED TO DEVELOPING COUNTRIES, AS THE U.S. HAS RECENTLY DONE TO CHILE BY REMOVING IT FROM THE GSP. HE STATED THAT CHILE WAS CONCERNED THAT AGREEMENT TO A WORKING PARTY MIGHT BE USED BY THE UNITED STATES AS A PRETEXT TO VIOLATE ITS TARIFF BINDINGS VIS-A-VIS OTHER COUNTRIES. MORALES STATED GRATUITOUSLY THAT CHILE HAS RATIFIED MANY MORE ILO CONVENTIONS THAN THE U.S.

8. BRAZIL, WHICH PREVIOUSLY HAD TALKED OF A "NEED TO FIND A SOLUTION TO THE U.S. PROPOSAL," DECLARED AT THIS MEETING IT WOULD OPPOSE A GATT WORKING PARTY ON WORKER RIGHTS, SINCE THIS ISSUE IS MORE APPROPRIATE FOR ILO. IN SUPPORT OF THIS POSITION, HE STATED THAT IT APPEARED THAT THE U.S. WANTS TO STUDY IN THE GATT HOW LABOR STANDARDS ARE WRITTEN AND IMPLEMENTED.

9. THE ROMANIAN REP (PADU) JOINED IN THE CHORUS, STATING THAT ROMANIA OPPOSED THE U.S. PROPOSAL AND DECRYING UNILATERAL ACTIONS BY THE UNITED STATES.

10. THE HUNGARIAN REP (BALAS) EXPRESSED APPRECIATION TO THE UNITED STATES FOR ITS PRESENTATION OF ADDITIONAL INFORMATION AND STATED THAT THIS KIND OF DETAILED INFORMATION WOULD HELP IN STUDYING THE U.S. PROPOSAL.

11. RESPONDING TO POINTS RAISED BY OTHER DELS, SHARM NOTED THAT THE U.S. AGREES THAT THE GATT IS NOT THE PLACE TO EXAMINE THE DEGREE AND LEVEL OF ENFORCEMENT OF WORKER RIGHTS, THAT WE'RE NOT LOOKING TO SURVEY WORKER RIGHTS PRACTICES OF COUNTRIES, BUT RATHER,

WITH HELP FROM THE ILO, TO ANALYZE HOW LACK OF RESPECT FOR IRLS MIGHT AFFECT TRADE. IN THIS CONNECTION, HE NOTED THAT THE PROPER FORUM FOR THE DISCUSSION OF WHO HAD SIGNED WHAT ILO CONVENTIONS WAS THE ILO, NOT THE GATT. HOWEVER, HE NOTED, U.S. WORKER RIGHTS PRACTICES WOULD STAND UP TO SCRUTINY ANYWHERE. HE ALSO NOTED THAT THOSE OPPOSING THE U.S. PROPOSAL WERE IN EFFECT GIVING A CATCH-22 ARGUMENT: THEY WERE STATING THAT THE GATT COULD NOT LOOK AT THE TRADE RELATED ASPECTS OF IRLS BECAUSE THE GATT WAS NOT COMPETENT TO DEAL WITH LABOR ISSUES. AT THE SAME TIME, IT COULD EQUALLY WELL BE ARGUED THAT THE ILO COULD NOT ADDRESS THE ISSUE BECAUSE IT IS NOT COMPETENT TO DEAL WITH TRADE MATTERS. HE ALSO RESPONDED TO CHILE'S POINT ABOUT OPENING THE DOOR TO TAKING AWAY CONCESSIONS, BY STATING THAT THIS WAS NOT A REALISTIC FEAR GIVEN THE NATURE OF THE WORKING PARTY PROCESS. THE U.S. COULD JUST AS WELL ARGUE THAT BY ABDICATING ITS RESPONSIBILITY TO ADDRESS THE ISSUE OF WORKER RIGHTS AND TRADE, THE GATT IS INVITING COUNTRIES TO TAKE UNILATERAL ACTION.

12. THE U.S. CLOSED ITS COMMENTS BY SAYING THAT THESE INFORMAL TALKS HAVE BEEN USEFUL, BUT THEY MAY HAVE REACHED THEIR PRODUCTIVE LIMIT. ALTHOUGH WE ARE WILLING TO KEEP CONSULTING WITH ANY INTERESTED COUNTRIES, IT IS TIME, SHARM SAID, TO BRING THE ISSUE BACK TO THE GATT COUNCIL. THE U.S. MAY PRESS FOR A DECISION ON ITS PROPOSAL AT THE MAY COUNCIL SESSION.

13. THE GATT SECRETARIAT SUMMED UP THE MEETING AS FOLLOWS: (1) THERE HAS BEEN AN EXCHANGE OF VIEWS, (2) ONE DELEGATION GAVE FURTHER DETAILS AND EXPLANATIONS, AND (3) THE U.S. IS WILLING TO HOLD FURTHER CONSULTATIONS, BUT IT MAY SEEK DEFINITIVE ACTION AT THE MAY GATT COUNCIL MEETING.

14. ARGENTINA, KOREA, NEW ZEALAND, SOUTH AFRICA, THAILAND AND TURKEY WERE AT THE MEETING BUT SILENT. FOLLOWING THE MEETING, HOWEVER, THE KOREAN REP EAGERLY APPROACHED THE U.S. REP TO ASK IF THE U.S. EXAMPLES COULD BE TAKEN TO MEAN THAT THE UNITED STATES WAS ONLY INTERESTED IN LABOR RIGHTS PRACTICES THAT DIFFERENTIATE BETWEEN EXPORTS AND DOMESTIC PRODUCTION. THE U.S. REP RESPONDED THAT THE EXAMPLES HAD BEEN CHOSEN BECAUSE THEY WERE THE CLEAREST EXAMPLES OF THE LABOR/TRADE LINK AND WERE ILLUSTRATIVE ONLY. HE NOTED THAT THE UNITED STATES IS INTERESTED IN LOOKING AT THE OVERALL ISSUE OF HOW WORKER RIGHTS PRACTICES INFLUENCE TRADE RATHER THAN SOME NARROW SEGMENT OF THE ISSUE.

E.O. 12356: N/A
TAGS: ETRD, GATT
SUBJECT: ARTICLE XXII CONSULTATIONS WITH CHILE ON GSP/WORKER RIGHTS

1. SUMMARY - AT CHILE'S INITIATIVE ON MARCH 14, WE HELD THE SECOND MEET OF ARTICLE XXII CONSULTATIONS ON CHILE'S SUSPENSION FROM GSP ON THE BASIS OF ITS WORKER RIGHTS PRACTICES. CHILE ARGUED THAT THE U.S. MOVE VIOLATED THE GATT BECAUSE IT WAS DISCRIMINATORY. THEY PROVIDED MATERIALS COMPARING CHILE'S PRACTICES TO THOSE OF OTHER COUNTRIES AS "PROOF". WE, ONCE AGAIN, DISAGREED. THE CHILEANS GAVE NO INDICATION OF WHAT THEIR NEXT STEP WOULD BE. HOWEVER, THEY ARE CLEARLY UNCOMFORTABLE A TO THE FACT THAT IN ORDER TO MAKE THEIR CASE UNDER ARTICLE XXII, THEY MIGHT NEED TO CALL INTO QUESTION THE WORKER RIGHTS PRACTICES OF OTHER GPS. END SUMMARY.

2. THE CHILEAN SIDE (MORALES AND GUARDA) OPENED THE MEETING BY RECALLING ITS ASSERTION AT THE LAST CONSULTATION, AND IN THE GATT COUNCIL, THAT THE U.S. SUSPENSION OF CHILE FROM GSP WAS DISCRIMINATORY, AND STATED THAT IT HAD "PROOF". THIS PROOF TOOK THE FORM OF A CHART PREPARED BY THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT DRAWING ON INFORMATION FROM THE MOST RECENT ILO ANNUAL REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF EXPERTS ON THE APPLICATION OF CONVENTIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS. THE CHART INDICATED THAT A NUMBER OF CURRENT GSP BENEFICIARES HAD BEEN FOUND TO BE IN VIOLATION OF ILO CONVENTIONS IN AREAS RELATING TO THE PROVISIONS OF THE GSP STATUTE, WHILE CHILE HAD NOT BEEN FOUND IN VIOLATION OF ANY OF THEM. THE CHILEAN REP ASKED THAT WE KEEP THE CHART STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL GIVEN THE SENSITIVITY OF ONE COUNTRY RAISING QUESTIONS ABOUT ANOTHER COUNTRY'S WORKER RIGHTS PRACTICES. THE COUNTRIES LISTED ON THE CHART ARE BANGLADESH, BURKINA FASO, THE DOMINICAN REPUBLIC, ECUADOR, GUATEMALA, LIBERIA, MAURITANIA, PAKISTAN, SIERRA LEONE, TANZANIA, AND ZAMBIA. MORALES SHOWED US, AND PROMISED TO PROVIDE A COPY OF, A DOCUMENT (IN SPANISH) EXPLAINING IN NARRATIVE FORM HOW THE U.S. ACTION IS DISCRIMINATORY.

3. THE U.S. SIDE (SHARK AND PARLIN) DISAGREED WITH THE CHILEAN CLAIM OF DISCRIMINATION. SHARK REVIEWED FOR THE CHILEAN SIDE THE U.S. PROCESS USED IN EVALUATING WORKER RIGHTS COMPLAINTS. HE STRESSED THAT UNDER OUR SYSTEM

PAGE 02 GENEVA 02968 00 OF 03 170620Z 4531 AR46109

A) REVIEWS ARE INITIATED IN (WHA) RIGHT DIRECTION ("TAKING STEPS") AND, WHERE APPROPRIATE, THE COUNTRY'S LEVEL OF DEVELOPMENT; B) FULL OPPORTUNITY FOR CONSULTATIONS IS PROVIDED TO THE COUNTRY IN QUESTION; AND C) THE SAME PROCESS AND CRITERIA ARE APPLIED TO ALL COUNTRIES WITHOUT DISCRIMINATION. SHARK POINTED OUT THAT THREE OTHER COUNTRIES HAD EITHER BEEN SUSPENDED OR REMOVED FROM GSP ON THE BASIS OF THE PROGRAM'S WORKER RIGHTS CRITERIA.

4. TURNING TO THE CHART PREPARED BY CHILE, SHARK REJECTED THE ASSERTION THAT THE CHART PROVED DISCRIMINATION. HE BEGAN BY EXPLAINING THAT WE DO NOT BELIEVE THAT CROSS COUNTRY COMPARISONS ARE USEFUL OR RELEVANT IN MAKING OR DISCUSSING GSP DETERMINATIONS. EACH COUNTRY'S CASE IS UNIQUE AND INVOLVES COUNTRY SPECIFIC FACTORS SUCH AS LEVEL OF DEVELOPMENT. UNDER OUR LAW, COUNTRIES ARE EACH REVIEWED WITH RESPECT TO THE STATUTORY CRITERIA, NOT EACH OTHER. HE REITERATED THAT A CHART BASED ON ILO CONVENTIONS AND FINDINGS WAS NOT RELEVANT BECAUSE THE TEST USED IN GSP CASES IS THE CRITERIA OF THE U.S. STATUTE. WHILE MAINTAINING THAT THE CHART IS IRRELEVANT, SHARK POINTED OUT THAT IT IS ALSO MISLEADING IN SEVERAL RESPECTS. FIRST, THE CHART SHOWS WHERE THE ILO HAS FOUND ONE OR MORE VIOLATIONS IN AN AREA FOR A COUNTRY BUT DOES NOT INDICATE - IN EFFECT, WHETHER THE VIOLATION IS A FELONY OR A MISDEMEANOR. SECOND, THE CHART GIVES NO IDEA OF WHETHER A COUNTRY IS MAKING PROGRESS. THESE FIRST TWO POINTS ARE IMPORTANT BECAUSE OUR EVALUATION IS QUALITATIVE MORE THAN QUANTITATIVE AND PROGRESS IS AN IMPORTANT FACTOR IN OUR REVIEWS.

THIRD, THE CHART SHOWS THAT THERE HAVE BEEN NO FINDINGS AGAINST CHILE WITH RESPECT TO THE CONVENTIONS ON FREEDOM OF ASSOCIATION AND THE RIGHT TO ORGANIZE AND BARGAIN COLLECTIVELY, WHILE THERE HAVE BEEN SEVERAL FINDINGS AGAINST OTHER COUNTRIES. HOWEVER, CHILE HAS NOT RATIFIED THE RELEVANT CONVENTIONS IN THESE TWO AREAS AND THEREFORE COULD NOT BE EXAMINED UNDER THEM. NEVERTHELESS, WHILE REITERATING THE IRRELEVANCE OF ILO PROCEEDINGS TO THE QUESTIONS AT HAND, SHARK NOTED THAT THE MOST RECENT TWO REPORTS OF THE ILO'S COMMITTEE ON FREEDOM OF ASSOCIATION EXPRESS SERIOUS CONCERN ABOUT THE WORKER RIGHTS SITUATION IN CHILE.

5. CHILEAN REP (GUARDA) STATED THAT THE U.S. PROCESS IS DISRIMINATORY BECAUSE THE U.S. ONLY REVIEWS A COUNTRY IF IT RECEIVES A PETITION. SHE ASSERTED THAT THIS DIFFERED FROM U.S. PRACTICE WITH RESPECT TO OTHER GSP ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA AND ASKED HOW THIS WAS JUSTIFIED.

6. SHARK RESPONDED BY NOTING THAT HER ASSERTION OF DIFFERENTIAL HANDLING OF ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA IS INCORRECT. HE NOTED THAT THE PROCESS IS THE SAME FOR OTHER ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA SUCH AS INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY, SERVICES AND MARKET ACCESS. HE EXPLAINED THAT THE USG DOES NOT HAVE THE RESOURCES TO DO AN INDEPTH REVIEW OF ALL GSP BENEFICIARIES WORKER RIGHTS SITUATION, NOR IS IT REQUIRED TO BY LAW. WE ARE ONLY REQUIRED TO EXAMINE A CASE WHERE WE HAVE PRIMA FACIE EVIDENCE THAT THERE MAY BE A PROBLEM. THE INFORMATION TO MAKE THIS ASSESSMENT IS PROVIDED BY PETITIONERS, ALTHOUGH THE USG COULD ACT IN THE EVENT THAT IT FOUND SUCH PRIMA FACIE EVIDENCE ON ITS OWN.

7. IN CLOSING, MORALES SHOWED US INFORMALLY A DRAFT STUDY PREPARED FOR THE GOVERNMENT OF CHILE BY

Department of State

MANCHESTER ASSOCIATES GIVING FURTHER EXAMPLES OF WORKER RIGHTS VIOLATIONS BY OTHER GSP BENEFICIARIES. HE ARGUED THAT THIS STUDY, TAKEN WITH THE CHART AND REPORT REFERRED TO EARLIER, PROVED DISCRIMINATION. RECOGNIZING THAT THERE ARE CERTAIN POLITICAL FACTORS INVOLVED, AND THAT IT WAS UNREALISTIC TO EXPECT IMMEDIATE REINSTATEMENT, HE SUGGESTED THAT PERHAPS THE UNITED STATES COULD WAIT A SHORT TIME AND REINSTATE CHILE'S GSP BENEFITS.

8. SHARK RESPONDED THAT ANY DECISION ON CHILE'S GSP STATUS WOULD BE TAKEN IN WASHINGTON AND WOULD BE BASED ON AN ASSESSMENT OF HOW CHILE COMPLIED WITH THE GSP PROGRAM'S WORKER RIGHTS CRITERIA. HE NOTED THAT WE HAVEN'T SEEN ANYTHING TO INDICATE THAT OUR ACTION ON CHILE VIOLATES THE GATT. SHARK ASKED THAT IF CHILE DECIDES TO PROVIDE US WITH THE MANCHESTER ASSOCIATES STUDY THAT THEY STATE CLEARLY WHETHER WE SHOULD TREAT IT AS A CONFIDENTIAL DOCUMENT WITHIN THE ARTICLE XXIII PROCESS OR A REQUEST TO EXAMINE THE WORKER RIGHTS SITUATION IN THESE OTHER COUNTRIES. VISIBLY UPSET, MORALES QUICKLY RESPONDED THAT THE FORMER WOULD BE THE CASE.

9. COMMENT AND ACTION REQUESTED- IT IS BECOMING APPARENT THAT THE CHILEANS SEE THEMSELVES IN A BIND AS THEY CONTEMPLATE FURTHER ACTIONS, SUCH AS TAKING US TO A FORMAL DISPUTE UNDER ARTICLE XXIII. THE KEY TO THEIR CASE IS TO SHOW THAT WE ARE GUILTY OF DISCRIMINATION. HOWEVER, TO USE THE SO CALLED "PROOF" THEY HAVE GATHERED WOULD REQUIRE THEM TO MORE OR LESS PUBLICLY DUMP MUD AT THE WORKER RIGHTS PRACTICES OF OTHER GPS, A PROSPECT THAT CLEARLY MAKES THEM VERY UNCOMFORTABLE. IT IS NOTABLE IN THIS RESPECT THAT THE AMBASSADOR OF ONE OF THE COUNTRIES ON THEIR CHART - TANZANIA - IS THE CURRENT CHAIRMAN OF THE GATT COUNCIL. AT THE SAME TIME, IT APPEARS THAT THE CHILEAN DEL WAS PROBING TO SEE IF THEY COULD MAKE A CASE THAT OUR PROCESS, AND THEREFORE OUR ACTION AGAINST CHILE, WAS DISCRIMINATORY ON ITS FACE BECAUSE THE SYSTEM IS COMPLAINT BASED. WE WOULD APPRECIATE ANY FURTHER GUIDANCE FROM WASHINGTON AGENCIES ON HOW TO RESPOND TO THIS POINT. END COMMENT AND ACTION REQUEST

10. POST SCRIPT - IMMEDIATELY FOLLOWING THE CONSULTATIONS, WE LEARNED FROM THE GATT SECRETARIAT THAT CHILE PLANS TO RAISE THEIR GSP SUSPENSION AT THE

MARCH 22 GATT COUNCIL MEETING UNDER OTHER BUSINESS.

MILITARY ATTEMPT TO BRING DOWN GENERAL NORIEGA. BY MID-AFTERNOON ALL GOVERNMENT WORKERS HAD BEEN SENT HOME, VIRTUALLY ALL BUSINESSES WERE CLOSED AND NO BUSES OR TAXIS WERE RUNNING. SOME INDUSTRIES WERE FORCED TO CLOSE DOWN WHEN VIOLENCE ERUPTED IN THE MORNING AND ELECTRICITY SERVICE WAS CUT OFF MIDDAY. THE POWER BLACKOUT CLOSED THE CRUCIAL PETROTERMINAL DE PANAMA (PTP) TRANSISTHMIAN OIL PIPELINE.

3. MOST BUSINESSES IN PANAMA CITY OPENED NORMALLY WEDNESDAY MORNING AND EMPLOYEES ARRIVED AT WORK. IT WAS NOT UNTIL AFTER 8 A.M., WHEN WORD-OF-MOUTH

NEWS OF THE COUP ATTEMPT BEGAN CIRCULATING IN PANAMA CITY, THAT MOST PUBLIC AND PRIVATE SECTOR EMPLOYEES WERE SENT HOME AND BUSINESSES BEGAN CLOSING THEIR DOORS.

4. MANY BUSINESSMEN, FEARING THE TYPE OF LOOTING AND VIOLENCE WHICH OCCURRED TODAY IN THE DOWNTOWN AREA OF PANAMA CITY, BOARDED UP WINDOWS AND PADLOCKED DOORS. THOSE ESTABLISHMENTS NOT CLOSED BY MIDDAY BY FEAR OF VIOLENCE OR LOOTING WERE FORCED TO CLOSE BY THE BROAD CUTOFF OF ELECTRICITY, WATER AND TELEPHONE SERVICES.

5. BARRICADES, ROCK-THROWING CROWDS AND BURNING CARS AND DEBRIS IN THE STREETS (SEPTELS DETAIL) PRECLUDED BUSES AND PERSONAL AUTOMOBILE TRAFFIC FROM PASSING THROUGH MANY AREAS PANAMA CITY. NEARLY ALL BUSES STOPPED OPERATING BY NOON AND THOUSANDS OF WORKERS THROUGHOUT THE CITY WERE OBSERVED MAKING THEIR WAY HOME ON FOOT. DURING A [redacted]

[redacted]

1 P.M. ECON/DAO TOUR OF THE CITY, EMBOFFS OBSERVED ONLY TWO BUSES, OVERLOADED WITH PASSENGERS, UNSUCCESSFULLY ATTEMPTING TO NAVIGATE THE BARRICADED TRANSISTHMIAN AND "TUMBA MUERTO" HIGHWAYS. SOME STUDENTS IN AMERICAN SCHOOLS WERE STRANDED AS OF 5 P.M., DUE TO INABILITY OF BUSES TO RETURN THEM TO PANAMA CITY RESIDENCES.

6. PANAMA'S ECONOMY HAD ALREADY BEEN SEVERELY CRIPPLED IN THE FIRS' 'WO WEEKS OF MARCH. THE MONTH BEGAN WITH A SUCCESSFUL FOUR-DAY OPPOSITION-CALLED GENERAL STRIKE WHICH SHUT DOWN AN ESTIMATED 80 PERCENT OF THE ECONOMY. THE FAILURE OF PANAMA'S BANKS TO REOPEN, FOR ALMOST TWO WEEKS NOW, HAS FURTHER ERODED THE REGIME'S FINANCES AND THE ECONOMY BY SEVERELY LIMITING THE AMOUNT OF U.S. DOLLAR CURRENCY IN CIRCULATION. THE FAILURE OF THE PANAMANIAN GOVERNMENT TO MAKE ITS MID-MARCH PAYROLL THIS WEEK HAS COMPOUNDED THE REGIME'S FISCAL/FINANCIAL PROBLEMS, WHICH REMAIN CRITICAL (SEPTELS ON BANKING TOPICS.) THE FAILED COUP ATTEMPT PLACES PANAMA IN EVEN DEEPER POLITICAL, AND THEREFORE, ECONOMIC CRISIS.

WITH M-16 RIFLES AND TEAR GAS ARE STATIONED ALONG MAIN AVENUES IN PANAMA CITY'S COMMERCIAL-BANKING DISTRICTS. EMBASSY OBSERVERS AND ITALIAN AMBASSADOR REPORT LITTLE EVIDENCE OF NORMAL COMMERCIAL ACTIVITY FROM AVENIDA CENTRAL (DOWNTOWN) THROUGH VIA ESPANA-CALLE 50 (COMMERCIAL-BANKING CENTER.) ACTIVITY IN GOVERNMENT MINISTRIES APPEARS LIMITED ALSO. EMBASSY SURVEY OF VARIOUS GOVERNMENT OFFICES INDICATES FEW PUBLIC EMPLOYEES ARE WORKING.

3. (U) MINISTER IN CHARGE OF THE PRESIDENCY SOLIS PALMA THE AFTERNOON OF MARCH 16 PLACED CONTROL OF MOST OF PANAMA'S PUBLIC SERVICES IN THE HANDS OF THE NATIONAL COUNCIL OF SECURITY AND DEFENSE. THE SERVICES SPECIFICALLY CITED IN THE EXECUTIVE DECREE (NO. 23 OF 16 MARCH 88) WERE ELECTRICITY, WATER/SEWAGE, TELECOMMUNICATIONS, SEAPORTS AND RAILROADS, AIRPORTS, TAX COLLECTIONS IN MINISTRY OF TREASURY, HOSPITALS AND MEDICAL CLINICS, MAIL

AND TELEGRAPH OFFICES, PUBLIC REGISTRY OFFICES AND AGRICULTURAL MARKETING. THE DECREE ALSO AUTHORIZED THE PANAMA DEFENSE FORCES (FDP) TO ASSIST IN THE MAINTENANCE OF ORDER AT THE SERVICE FACILITIES.

4. (C) IN A RADIO COMMUNIQUE RELEASED EARLY MARCH 17, THE PANAMA DEFENSE FORCES (FDP) TOOK CREDIT FOR THE RESTORATION OF ELECTRICITY AND WATER SERVICES WHICH HAD BEEN DISRUPTED THE PREVIOUS DAY DUE TO ANTI-REGIME PROTESTS BY PUBLIC EMPLOYEES. ALTHOUGH ELECTRICITY AND WATER SERVICES BEGAN TO REAPPEAR IN SOME PANAMA CITY NEIGHBORHOODS, WE HAVE LEARNED THAT THE FDP HAS BEEN ABLE TO RESTART ONLY ONE THERMAL POWER GENERATING STATION IN PANAMA CITY. IRHE EMPLOYEES TOLD US THEY HAVE HIDDEN KEY COMPONENTS AT OTHER FACILITIES, MAKING THEM IMPOSSIBLE TO RESTART. CONTINUED LACK OF ELECTRIC SERVICE IN PROVINCES HAS PUT TRANSITHMIAN OIL PIPELINE OUT OF BUSINESS INDEFINITELY. TV AND RADIO COMMUNICATIONS APPEAR TO HAVE LARGELY RETURNED TO NORMAL.

5. (C) INITIAL EMBASSY CONTACTS WITH CRUSADE ACTIVISTS INDICATE SOME DISCOURAGEMENT AND DISORIENTATION IN OPPOSITION CIRCLES OVER THE EVENTS OF MARCH 16. ALTHOUGH ACKNOWLEDGING THAT THE ABORTED COUP MAY HAVE REVEALED SOME CRACKS IN THE FDP'S MONOLITHIC STRUCTURE, THESE OPPOSITIONISTS NOTE THAT NORIEGA HAS USED THE COUP TO PURGE HIS ORGANIZATION OF DISSENTERS AND HAS STRENGTHENED HIS POWER OVER PANAMANIAN SOCIETY IN THE NEAR AND MEDIUM TERM. OBSTACLES TO THEIR VERIFICATION EFFORTS INCLUDE LOSS OF ELECTICAL POWER AND TELEPHONES, AND REPORTED MILITARIZATION OF HOSPITALS. AS OF 0930, PANAMA'S COMMITTEE FOR HUMAN RIGHTS CAN CONFIRM ONLY ONE CIVILIAN ARREST AND REPORT NO KNOWN INJURIES. THEY HAVE COMPILED A LENGTHY LIST OF MILITARY OFFICERS WHOM THEY BELIEVE WERE ARRESTED IN THE FAILED COUP ATTEMPT. (DAO IS SENDING DETAILED

The Honorable A. C. Beilenson

Dear Mr. Beilenson:

I have received your note of March 3, 1988, along with the letter from your constituent [ ] concerning death threats against Chilean theater workers.

Since November 1987 there have been a series of anonymous threats against groups and individuals involved in Chilean art and cultural life. These threats have come from individuals who identify themselves as being associated with an extreme right-wing organization, the Chilean Anti-Communist Action (ACHA). While these threats have been reported to the proper authorities, and the courts have ordered police protection in some instances, there have been no arrests made as yet. I understand from the Director General of the Carabineros (the uniformed police) that he has ordered a full and extensive investigation into the activities of the ACHA group. In my discussions with him he had emphasized that these types of terrorist acts are not to be tolerated, either from the left or the right of the political spectrum.

We have also been in touch with some of those actors and actresses involved with these threats, and have made clear to both them and their organizations our deep concerns over these threats. Those threatened have expressed their appreciation for our interest, and have promised to stay in touch with us on this matter.

We have also made our concerns known to other officials in the Government of Chile. I have raised the matter with senior officials of the government, and have expressed our interest that those involved in issuing these threats be brought to justice.

I trust that this information will assist in your response to [ ]

Sincerely,

/s/

SUBJECT: ADDITIONAL GUIDANCE ON CHILE AND WORKER RIGHTS

REF: GENEVA 02968

1. IN RESPONSE TO REFTEL, WASHINGTON AGENCIES PROVIDE THE FOLLOWING GUIDANCE TO USTR/GENEVA. WITH RESPECT TO THE GOC ASSERTION THAT THE PETITION PROCESS IS DISCRIMINATORY, WASHINGTON BELIEVES A PROCEDURE (I.E., THE GSP ANNUAL REVIEW) WHICH ALLOWS PARTIES, INCLUDING BENEFICIARIES AS WELL AS THE FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC PRIVATE SECTOR, TO REQUEST MODIFICATIONS IN THE GSP PROGRAM BASED ON THE AUTHORIZING LEGISLATION IS BY DEFINITION EQUITABLE NOT DISCRIMINATORY.

2. IT IS IMPORTANT TO DIFFERENTIATE BETWEEN A PETITIONER'S REQUEST TO MODIFY THE GSP PROGRAM THROUGH THE GSP ANNUAL REVIEW, AND THE PRESIDENT'S EVENTUAL DECISION AT THE END OF THE REVIEW. IT IS THE RESPONSIBILITY OF THE USG TO CONSIDER ITS INTERNATIONAL OBLIGATIONS AS THEY RELATE TO THE "NON-DISCRIMINATORY" ADMINISTRATION OF ITS GSP PROGRAM. THE PRESIDENT ACTED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE AUTHORIZING LEGISLATION FOR THIS AUTONOMOUS AND UNILATERALLY OFFERED GSP PROGRAM, WHICH INCLUDED TAKING INTO ACCOUNT OUR INTERNATIONAL OBLIGATIONS WITH RESPECT TO GSP PROGRAMS (SECTION 10(B) IN THE "STATEMENT OF PURPOSE" OF TITLE V REFERS TO THE ISSUE OF OUR INTERNATIONAL OBLIGATIONS UNDER THE GATT.).

3. THEREFORE, THE GOC PURSUIT OF THIS LINE OF ARGUMENT SHOULD NOT "BEAR FRUIT." THE DECISION TO SUSPEND CHILE WAS NOT A DECISION MADE BY THE PETITIONER, IT WAS A DECISION MADE BY THE PRESIDENT IN KEEPING WITH THE AUTHORIZING STATUTE. IF THE LOGIC OF THE GOC ARGUMENT WERE TO BE CARRIED TO FRUITION, VIRTUALLY ALL PETITIONS (BOTH PRODUCT/COUNTRY GRADUATION AND COUNTRY PRACTICE RELATED) ARE DISCRIMINATORY BECAUSE AN INDIVIDUAL PETITIONER HAS REQUESTED A MODIFICATION. THE PRESIDENT MAKES DECISIONS EVERY YEAR BASED ON THE REQUIREMENTS OF THE STATUTE AND IN RESPONSE TO PETITIONS REQUESTING THE REMOVAL OF PREFERENCES WITH RESPECT TO INDIVIDUAL PRODUCTS AND COUNTRIES. USING THE GOC LINE OF ARGUMENT, THIS IS DISCRIMINATORY AS WELL. IS THE GOC SUGGESTING THAT WE SHOULD NO LONGER AFFORD THE OPPORTUNITY TO REQUEST MODIFICATIONS IN OUR GSP PROGRAM THROUGH THE ANNUAL REVIEW BECAUSE IT IS DISCRIMINATORY? IN SHORT, THE GOC IS FRUSTRATED WITH THE FACT THAT GSP PROGRAMS ARE AUTONOMOUS AND UNILATERALLY OFFERED, AS ARE MANY LDCS ON OCCASION.

STATE 088252 7496 ARA9772

4. WITH RESPECT TO THE SUBSTANCE OF THE PRESIDENT'S DECISION AND THE ISSUE OF DISCRIMINATION, U.S. DEL DID AN ADMIRABLE JOB OF POINTING OUT THE IRRELEVANCE OF GOC ATTEMPTS TO COMPARE THEIR PRACTICES IN THE AREA OF WORKER RIGHTS WITH OTHER BENEFICIARIES AND SHOULD CONTINUE, IF NECESSARY, TO MAKE THE SAME POINTS (I.E., THE SAME PROVISION APPLIES TO ALL BENEFICIARIES, THE LAW REQUIRES COUNTRIES TO BE "TAKING STEPS," THE "IRRELEVANCE" OF THE "CHART" COMPARING COUNTRIES AND CERTAIN ILO FINDINGS, ETC).

5. ANOTHER POINT TO REINFORCE IF APPROPRIATE WITH THE GOC: THE GATT REQUIRES PREFERENCE GRANTING COUNTRIES TO PROVIDE AN OPPORTUNITY FOR CONSULTATIONS WHEN REQUESTED CONCERNING MODIFICATIONS IN RESPECTIVE GSP PROGRAMS TO PREFERENCE RECEIVING COUNTRIES. IN THIS REGARD, THE REVIEW PROCESS WITH RESPECT TO THE GOC AND WORKER RIGHTS LASTED TWO AND ONE-HALF YEARS BEFORE THE PRESIDENT MADE HIS DECISION AND THE USG CONSULTED WITH THE GOC ON NUMEROUS OCCASIONS THROUGHOUT THIS PERIOD BEFORE MAKING A DECISION. THIS WAS FAR LONGER THAN IS THE CASE UNDER NORMAL GSP ANNUAL REVIEW PROCEDURES AND IS THE LONGEST REVIEW PERIOD THAT ANY ADMINISTRATION HAS EVER UNDERTAKEN WITH RESPECT TO A REQUESTED MODIFICATION OF THE GSP PROGRAM.

ACUERDO ENTRE EL GOBIERNO CONSTITUCIONAL DE NICARAGUA Y LA RESISTENCIA NICARAGUENSE

El Gobierno Constitucional de la Republica de Nicaragua y la Resistencia Nicaraguense, reunidos en Sapoa, Nicaragua los dias 21, 22 y 23 de marzo de 1988 con el fin de contribuir a la Reconciliacion Nacional y en el marco de los Acuerdos de Esquipulas II, y ante la presencia de los testigos, Su Eminencia el Cardenal Miguel Obando y Bravo, Presidente de la Conferencia Episcopal de Nicaragua y Su Excelencia Embajador Joao Clemente Baena Soares, Secretario General de la Organizacion de los Estados Americanos (OEA) han llegado al siguiente:

ACUERDO

1.- Cesar las operaciones militares ofensivas en todo el territorio nacional, por un periodo de 60 dias a partir del 1o. de abril del presente ano, durante el cual se llevara a cabo un proceso de negociacion integral para el Cese del Fuego definitivo, cuya ejecucion efectiva se dara conjuntamente con los demas compromisos contemplados en Esquipulas II para poner fin a la guerra.

Ambas partes convienen reunirse al mas alto nivel en Managua el proximo 6 de Abril para continuar las negociaciones sobre el Cese del Fuego definitivo.

2.- Durante los primeros quince dias, las fuerzas de la Resistencia se ubicaran en zonas, cuya localizacion, tamano y modus operandi seran acordados mutuamente a traves de Comisiones Especiales, en una reunion en Sapoa a iniciarse el Lunes 28 de marzo.

3.- El Gobierno de Nicaragua decretara una Amnistia General para los procesados y condenados por violacion a la Ley de Mantenimiento del Orden y la Seguridad Publica y para los miembros del Ejercito del regimen anterior por delitos cometidos antes del 19 de julio de 1979.

En el caso de los primeros, la Amnistia sera gradual y tomando en cuenta los sentimientos religiosos del pueblo nicaraguense, en ocasion de Semana Santa, el Domingo de Ramos, se comenzara con la puesta en libertad de los primeros cien prisioneros; posteriormente, al momento de ser verificado el ingreso de las fuerzas de la Resistencia Nicaraguense a las zonas mutuamente acordadas se liberara el 50% de los prisioneros. El 50% restante sera puesto en libertad en una fecha posterior a la firma del Cese del Fuego definitivo y que sera acordada en la reunion del 6 de Abril en Managua.

MORI DocID: 756960

En el caso de los prisioneros contemplados en la parte final del primer parrafo de este numeral, la puesta en libertad de los mismos comenzara a partir de la firma del cese del fuego definitivo previo dictamen de la Comision Interamericana de Derechos Humanos de la OEA.

El Secretario General de la Organizacion de los Estados Americanos (OEA) sera el garante y depositario del cumplimiento de esta Amnistia.

4.- Con el fin de garantizar los alimentos y suministros basicos para las fuerzas irregulares, se gestionara y aceptara exclusivamente ayuda humanitaria, de conformidad con el numeral 5 de los Acuerdos de Esquipulas II, la que sera canalizada a traves de organizaciones neutrales.

5.- El Gobierno de Nicaragua garantizara la libertad de expresion irrestricta tal como se contempla en el Acuerdo de Esquipulas II.

6. Una vez concentradas las fuerzas de la Resistencia Nicaraguense en las zonas mutuamente acordadas, enviaran al Dialogo Nacional tantos delegados como organizaciones politicas la integran, hasta un maximo de ocho. En el Dialogo Nacional se abordara entre otros temas, el relacionado con el Servicio Militar.

7.- Se garantiza que todas las personas que por motivos politicos o de cualquier otra indole hayan salido del pais, puedan regresar a Nicaragua e incorporarse a los procesos politico, economico y sociales, sin ningun tipo de condicionamientos mas que aquellos establecidos en las Leyes de la Republica. No seran juzgados, sancionados ni perseguidos por las actividades de caracter politico-militar, que hubieran desarrollado.

8.- El Gobierno de Nicaragua, ratifica que las personas que se hayan reintegrado a la vida pacifica podran participar con igualdad de condiciones y garantias en las elecciones del Parlamento Centroamericano, y las elecciones municipales, en las fechas que se establezcan para las mismas, asi como en las elecciones nacionales generales, en la fecha que la Constitucion Politica establece.

MORI DocID: 756960

- A efectos de verificar el cumplimiento de este Acuerdo, se integrara una Comision Verificadora constituida por el Presidente de la Conferencia Episcopal de Nicaragua Su Eminencia el Cardenal Miguel Obando y Bravo y el Secretario General de la OEA, Su Excelencia Embajador Joao Clemente Baena Soares.

  La asistencia tecnica y los servicios necesarios de esta Comision, que permitan y expediten el cumplimiento, seguimiento y verificacion de este Acuerdo, seran solicitados y confiados al Secretario General de la OEA.

ANSITORIO;

Ambas partes acuerdan prorrogar hasta el 1o. de abril del esente ano el cese de las operaciones militares ofensivas, ordado por ambos el 21 de marzo recien pasado.

n fe de lo cual los abajo firmantes suscribimos el presente uerdo en cuatro tantos del mismo tenor, en Sapoa, Rivas, caragua a los veinte y tres dias del mes de marzo de mil ovecientos ochenta y ocho.

SUBJECT: FURTHER CONSULTATIONS WITH CHILE ON GSP/WORKER RIGHTS ?

1. FOLLOWING THE CONCLUSION OF OUR RECENT ARTICLE XXII CONSULTATIONS WITH CHILE ON ITS SUSPENSION FROM GSP, THE CHILEAN REP TOLD US THAT HE HAD HEARD THAT FURTHER CONSULTATIONS ON THIS ISSUE WERE GOING TO BE TAKING PLACE IN THE NEAR FUTURE IN EITHER WASHINGTON OR SANTIAGO. THESE CONSULTATIONS WOULD BE A CONTINUATION OF THE CONSULTATION PROCESS OF THE GSP REVIEW, AS OPPOSED TO THE ONGOING GATT ARTICLE XXII PROCESS.

2. ACTION REQUESTED - WE WERE NOT AWARE OF PLANS TO HOLD FURTHER GSP CONSULTATIONS AS DESCRIBED TO US BY THE CHILEANS. IN LIGHT OF THE ONGOING ARTICLE XXII PROCESS, IT IS IMPORTANT THAT WE BE KEPT UP TO DATE ON WHAT IS GOING ON WITH THE CHILEANS ON THIS ISSUE. WE WOULD APPRECIATE ANY INFORMATION YOU CAN PROVIDE TO US ON PLANS FOR FURTHER GSP CONSULTATIONS. SAMUELS

2. FOLLOWING IS GUIDANCE FOR DEALING WITH THE CHILEAN GSP WORKER RIGHTS ISSUE.

3. [redacted] AGENCIES ARE CONCERNED BY APPARENT [redacted] AS TO EXACTLY WHAT TYPE OF DIALOGUE WE ARE PREPARED TO ENGAGE ON THIS SENSITIVE ISSUE. WE BELIEVE THAT IT WOULD BE COUNTERPRODUCTIVE TO GOC OR CHILEAN PRIVATE SECTOR INTERESTS TO CLARIFY THE BASIS FOR THE PRESIDENT'S DECEMBER 28 DECISION TO SUSPEND CHILE FROM THE GSP PROGRAM, BEYOND WHAT WE'VE PREVIOUSLY GUIDANCE ON THE PRESIDENT'S DECISION. WE HAVE BEEN FORTHCOMING IN A SIMILAR VEIN TO ALL THREE OF THE PRESIDENT'S PREVIOUS ACTIONS TO SUSPEND OR REMOVE A BENEFICIARY COUNTRY FROM THE GSP ON WORKER RIGHTS GROUNDS (IN PARAGUAY, ROMANIA AND NICARAGUA). WE HAVE ALSO BEEN RESPONSIVE TO THE GOC RECENTLY IN GENEVA WHERE WE HAVE MET BILATERALLY AT GOC REQUEST ON TWO OCCASIONS UNDER GATT ARTICLE XXIII PROCEDURES.

4. WE ARE CONCERNED, HOWEVER, THAT THE GOC NOT BE UNDER THE FALSE IMPRESSION THAT WASHINGTON IS CURRENTLY CONSIDERING RECOMMENDING THAT THE PRESIDENT RECONSIDER HIS DECISION TO SUSPEND CHILE'S GSP PRIVILEGES. NOR DO WE WANT THE GOC TO BELIEVE THAT WE ARE INTERESTED IN ENGAGING IN A REEXAMINATION OF THE DECEMBER 28 SUSPENSION DECISION. IN THIS REGARD, WE FIND PARTICULARLY DISTURBING THE REPORT IN [redacted] OF AN EARLY GOC EFFORT TO SPELL OUT ITS "CONDITIONS" FOR ENGAGING IN A CONSTRUCTIVE DIALOGUE.

5. WASHINGTON AGENCIES ARE INTERESTED IN CONTINUING TO MONITOR THE SITUATION, AND IN HEARING FROM THE GOC CONCERNING CHANGES IN WORKER RIGHTS POLICIES AND LAW WHEN THEY ARE BEING ENACTED OR SERIOUSLY CONTEMPLATED. THIS IS CONSISTENT WITH THE APPROACH USED IN PARAGUAY, FOR EXAMPLE, FOLLOWING THE PRESIDENT'S SUSPENSION OF THAT COUNTRY'S GSP ELIGIBILITY. WE ARE NOT, HOWEVER, PREPARED TO ENGAGE IN A NEGOTIATION WITH THE GOC ON THIS ISSUE, NOR DO WE BELIEVE THAT IT WOULD BE USEFUL TO CONDUCT A DIALOGUE IN THE ABSENCE OF SIGNIFICANT IMPROVEMENTS IN WORKER RIGHTS OR AT LEAST SERIOUS PROPOSALS TO BETTER THE SITUATION.

6. IT IS THE RIGHT AND RESPONSIBILITY OF THE GOC TO MAKE CHANGES IN WORKER RIGHTS PRACTICES WHICH IT DEEMS APPROPRIATE. WASHINGTON AGENCIES WILL CONSIDER SUCH CHANGES (OR PROPOSALS WHICH WOULD LEAD TO SUCH CHANGES) AS WE DO IN ALL GSP COUNTRY PRACTICE SITUATIONS, EVALUATING WHETHER CHANGES MEET THE REQUIREMENTS OF GSP STATUTES AND PROCEDURES.

7. DRAWING FROM THE GUIDANCE PROVIDED ABOVE, WE SUGGEST THAT THE EMBASSY RESPOND TO THE JANUARY 8 GOC DIPLOMATIC NOTE ALONG THE FOLLOWING LINES:

BEGIN TEXT:

President of the Republic

Managua, 28 April 1988

Sir,

As you know, the Executive Committee of the Esquipulas II Agreements, which held its fifth meeting last week, in Guatemala, was unable to complete its work and the meeting had to be suspended. It was decided that the meeting should resume on 7 April.

However, recent developments - the sending of 3,200 United States soldiers to Honduras and the application by Nicaragua to the International Court of Justice for interim measures of protection - create their own momentum and timetable and compel us to take immediate decisions.

At the Guatemala meeting the Minister for Foreign Affairs, Mr. Carlos López Contreras, pledged, in the presence of the other Central American Foreign Ministers, that all 3,200 United States soldiers who had been sent to Honduras for the avowed purpose of "strengthening or protecting the Nicaraguan insurgents fighting the Sandinist régime" would be completely withdrawn from Honduran territory on 26 and 27 March.

The date today is 28 March and we have noted that the Foreign Minister's promise had not been fulfilled, although we know from public sources that a partial withdrawal of said troops is planned for today and tomorrow, 29 March. The remaining troops are to remain in Honduras indefinitely and some of them will engage in military manoeuvres whose purpose we may assume will be similar to that which motivated the sending of the troops.

Furthermore, the Agents of Nicaragua and Honduras have been summoned by the President of the International Court of Justice to a meeting that was originally scheduled for tomorrow, 29 March. At the request of Honduras, this meeting has been postponed to Thursday, 31 March.

However, on Thursday, 31 March, we must be in a position to state clearly to the President of the International Court of Justice what decision we have come to regarding how the judicial proceedings should be continued or even the conditions on which we might proceed to conclude the proceedings.

Accordingly, with the intention of continuing to do our utmost to consolidate peace by strengthening the process that started with the Esquipulas II Agreement, I venture to make the following proposal:

UNCLASSIFIED

FIRST Nicaragua is prepared to continue to be flexible and patient and, accordingly, to wait until midnight on Wednesday, 30 March, for the 3,200 United States soldiers who were sent to Honduras to pull out completely from Honduran territory.

If, by that time, the troops which Foreign Minister López Contreras promised would be out of Honduras by Sunday, 27 March, have indeed withdrawn completely, then at the meeting which the President of the International Court of Justice is to have with the Agents of Honduras and Nicaragua on Thursday, 31 March, Nicaragua will agree to withdraw the application it filed with the International Court of Justice for interim measures of protection. However, at the same time, it would press the Court to set a date as soon as possible for the oral hearing on jurisdiction in the complaint instituted by Nicaragua against Honduras.

SECOND Nicaragua would be prepared to adopt a more flexible position with regard to the date of the oral hearing on jurisdiction provided that, within 45 days at the most, a mechanism is established in situ for a minimum period of one year, by means of a bilateral agreement between the two States, to guarantee security on the border between Honduras and Nicaragua.

To that end, the Secretary-General of the United Nations, if possible with the co-operation of the Organization of American States, will be asked to organize permanent mobile units as suggested by the joint United Nations/Organization of American States technical mission which visited Central America in October 1987. These permanent mobile units would be set up on the borders between Honduras and Nicaragua and, in accordance with the letter of the Esquipulas II Agreements, their members would be chosen from countries both within and outside the region that have expressed a desire to assist in the peace efforts in Central America; they include Colombia, Mexico, Panama and Venezuela; Argentina, Brazil, Peru and Uruguay; Canada, Finland, Federal Republic of Germany, Italy, Norway, Spain and Sweden.

THIRD If such a mechanism to guarantee security on the borders between Honduras and Nicaragua is in place by 15 May, Nicaragua would be willing to agree that the Agents of both countries should appear before the International

UNCLASSIFIED

Court of Justice to express the wish that the date of the oral hearing on jurisdiction be postponed indefinitely.

FOURTH Once all this has been done, if Honduras were to press for withdrawal of the complaint, Nicaragua would also be prepared to be flexible, provided that Honduras agreed to sign a bilateral treaty on friendship and co-operation with Nicaragua whereby both States would undertake to apply to the International Court of Justice in the event of a dispute or situation that might endanger peace between the parties. This bilateral treaty should spell out in clear and unambiguous terms that Honduras and Nicaragua accept, unconditionally and without limit of time, the compulsory jurisdiction of the International Court of Justice, irrespective of any existing reservations to, or even termination or modification of, acceptance of the Court's compulsory jurisdiction in respect of third States that might be submitted following the signing of the treaty. Nicaragua would withdraw its complaint against Honduras as soon as the treaty on friendship and co-operation entered into force.

I am enclosing, for your information, the document entitled "The position taken by Honduras at the fifth meeting of the Executive Committee held in Guatemala on 23 and 24 March 1988, and the proposal put forward by Nicaragua for dealing with the situation", which the Foreign Ministry of Nicaragua has prepared for submission to each member of the Executive Committee.

Accept, Sir, the assurances of my highest consideration.

(Signed) Daniel Ortega Saavedra

UNCLASSIFIED

THE POSITION TAKEN BY HONDURAS AT THE FIFTH MEETING OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE, HELD IN GUATEMALA ON 23 AND 24 MARCH 1988, AND THE PROPOSAL PUT FORWARD BY NICARAGUA FOR DEALING WITH THE SITUATION

UNCLASSIFIED

Honduras came to the 5th meeting of the Executive Committee, held in Guatemala on 23 and 24 March 1988, declaring that it had decided to withdraw unless a paragraph was inserted into the final declaration drawn up at that meeting, in which Nicaragua agreed to the unconditional withdrawal of the application for interim measures of protection submitted to the International Court of Justice (ICJ). Honduras also called on Nicaragua to withdraw the application it had filed against Honduras on 28 July 1986, that is to say, more than a year before the signing of the Esquipulas II Agreements.

The Minister for Foreign Affairs of Honduras, Carlos López Contreras, attempted to justify his Government's official position by alleging that Nicaragua had not made use of the verification, control and follow-up machinery laid down in the Esquipulas II Agreements and that, at the time of the frontier incidents that had taken place in the Bocay region in the middle of March, Nicaragua had taken the matter to the International Court of Justice instead of allowing the Executive Committee to intervene.

When seen in the light of an objective examination of the facts, these statements are clearly untenable.

FIRST: The verification and follow-up machinery established by the Presidents under the Esquipulas II Agreements, namely, the International Verification and Follow-up Commission (IVFC), ceased to exist because a number of the countries that had signed the Agreement, including Honduras, regarded as prejudicial to them the objective revelations made in the report on the situation in each of the Central American countries, and insisted that changes should be made in the Committee. Nicaragua was the only country to accept the report in the form in which it had been drawn up by the Ministers for Foreign Affairs and experts of the countries members of the Contadora Group and the Support Group, as well as by the representatives of the Secretaries-General of the United Nations and the Organization of American States. Moreover, Nicaragua defended right until the end the fundamental principle that it is not possible simultaneously to be judge of and a party to a situation.

UNCLASSIFIED

SECOND: In fact, prior to the preparation of the report, the IVFC had been weakened to a great extent by the refusal of Honduras to accept the essential on-site inspection. In that connection, it is worth quoting a number of specific points made in the report drawn up by the IVFC, which was the only form of machinery authorized by the Presidents to rule on the implementation or non-implementation of the Agreements. Chapter IV, paragraph 22, of the report, contained in the comments, observations and conclusions of the IVFC, states:

> "The IVFC must draw attention to the fact that use of the territory of States in the region for attacks on other States, either with or without the consent of the Government whose territory is involved, facilitates the action of such forces or movements and is an obstacle to the achievement of peace. The IVFC is not yet in a position to verify the above, since it has so far been unable to set up on-site inspection machinery."

Further on, in paragraph 30 of the same chapter, the IVFC states:

> "One of the first conclusions drawn by the IVFC was the need to establish practical modalities for the verification of the implementation of the agreements set forth in the Guatemala Procedure. For the purpose of verification of fulfilment of the commitments made in the area of security - namely, the cease-fire, non-use of territories with a view to carrying out attacks on other States and the cessation of aid to irregular forces and insurrectionist movements - on-site inspection is an absolute requirement, if such verification is to be objective, independent and effective. All the members of the IVFC accept this basic premise, and no one questions the need for such machinery to be duly established so that verification and follow-up may begin."

THIRD: At the summit meeting held at Alajuela, Costa Rica, the Presidents agreed to delegate primary responsibility for verification, control and follow-up to the Central American Ministers for Foreign Affairs. Such responsibility involves developing a system for the verification of the 22 commitments and deciding which regional and extraregional Governments and international organizations should be invited to co-operate in the tasks in question.

FOURTH: It was the responsibility of the Government of El Salvador, in its capacity as the Secretary Pro Tempore of the Executive Committee, in the period following the Alajuela summit meeting, to convene a meeting of the Ministers for Foreign Affairs so that they might adopt appropriate decisions to fill the dangerous vaccuum resulting from the decision to change the verification and follow-up machinery. The vaccuum in question was a threat to the further validity of the Agreements, and it was essential to take immediate steps to establish new verification machinery.

FIFTH: El Salvador convened the Fourth Meeting of the Executive Committee on 17 February 1988, for the sole purpose of concluding minimum agreements for the Hamburg meeting, in disregard of the fact that the best way of enhancing the international solidarity that is so badly needed is to adopt decisions and measures that provide bona fide proof of our seriousness of purpose in implementing international agreements. Nicaragua brought three extensive proposals to the meeting at San Salvador, on ways of fulfilling the principal responsibility in the area of verification and follow-up.

SIXTH: Inexplicably, the duration of the San Salvador meeting was only one day. Obviously, there was not enough time to give in-depth consideration to how the Executive Committee should set up and begin operation of the new verification machinery. There was therefore not enough time to consider and express views on the proposals put forward by Nicaragua either. Consequently, it was agreed in the joint declaration drawn up at the meeting in question that the Nicaraguan proposals should be considered at the meeting to be held in Guatemala on 23 and 24 March, at which it would be necessary to reach agreement on the > "identification of modalities, as well as of the countries and international organizations that would participate in the specific verification of the commitments concerning the cessation of aid to irregular groups or insurrectionist forces and the non-use of territories for carrying out attacks on other States".

UNCLASSIFIED

SEVENTH: It is important to stress once again that Honduras cannot evade sole responsibility for having prevented the verification machinery set up under the Esquipulas II Agreements from functioning properly. Honduras therefore has no justification for alleging that use was not made of machinery that was in fact either non-existent or inoperative owing to the consistent opposition of Honduras to the functioning of the machinery in question.

EIGHTH: On 15 March Charles Redman, spokesman for the State Department, made the first reference in the international media to the offensive launched by the Sandinist Army in order to dislodge the groups of mercenaries who were attempting to establish themselves on the Nicaraguan side of the River Coco, in the Bocay region. On the following day, 16 March, the same spokesman indicated that the Sandinist Army had made an incursion into Honduran territory with a view to destroying the arsenals of the "resistance" located in Honduras. Redman indicated that the arsenals represented a major proportion of the military matériel in the possession of the "resistance" and that its loss would be a severe blow to the members of the "resistance", who were in a desperate situation. He also issued a warning that that situation might prompt a response in the form of actions on the part of the United States, which would honour its commitment to the Government of Honduras to help Honduras defend its national sovereignty and territorial integrity. Naturally, Redman added that the United States had a long-standing commitment to the "Nicaraguan freedom fighters".

NINTH: Subsequently the dispatch of 3,200 soldiers of the 82nd airborne division was announced, for the chief purpose, according to Frank Carlucci and Michael O'Brian, United States Embassy Counsellor at Tegucigalpa, of strengthening or protecting the Nicaraguan insurgents fighting the Sandinist régime. It is therefore clear that it was not a question, at any time, of defending the sovereignty and territorial integrity of Honduras, which were never threatened. The sole purpose of sending United States troops to Honduras was to strengthen or protect the mercenary forces.

UNCLASSIFIED

TENTH: At a press conference called by the President of Nicaragua on 16 March following the threats from the United States Government delivered through its spokesman, Mr. Redman, and despite the fact that Honduras had not yet lodged any protest echoing the charges made by the spokesmen for the Reagan Administration, President Daniel Ortega stated:

"In view of the seriousness of the situation, I was already in contact with President Azcona yesterday, and today (10 March) we conferred twice. I have also contacted all the Central American Presidents. I informed President Azcona, in particular, of the situation, and proposed to him that we should meet immediately and that we could appoint a commission, by mutual agreement to come and verify these incidents and to offer recommendations on how to oust the counter-revolutionaries from this zone, which is vital to the mercenaries. Hence the United States interest in defending these positions. We are awaiting President Azcona's response to the three proposals: a meeting between President Azcona and me; a meeting between the Army Chiefs of both countries; and President Cerezo's proposal for an urgent meeting of Central American Foreign Ministers. We would be agreeable to any of these options, but we believe that, for purposes of verifying incidents and adopting appropriate decisions, the participation of the United Nations/Organization of American States technical Mission is of the greatest importance."

ELEVENTH: It is therefore clear that, in the serious mid-March border incident between Honduras and Nicaragua, the mechanisms provided for in the Guatemala Procedure did not work solely and exclusively because once again Honduras prevented them from working. President Cerezo, whose country acted as Secretariat Pro Tempore of the Executive Commission, instructed Foreign Minister Alfonso Cabrera, in a timely and responsible fashion, to convene a meeting of the Central American Foreign Ministers. The Ministers were to examine and analyse the facts and what caused them, in order to be able to adopt appropriate decisions. President Daniel Ortega personally agreed to

/...

UNCLASSIFIED

President Cerezo's proposal and said that the doors of Nicaragua were open for conducting such a meeting and for the necessary on-site inspections. Honduras was the only country which refused to allow this mechanism to work in the framework of Esquipulas II. Similarly, Honduras refused to open its doors to the technical fact-finding mission sent by the Secretary-General of the United Nations, after it was set up following Security Council consultations. Because Honduras objected to it, this mission could carry out its work on Nicaraguan soil only.

Because of Honduras' determination to prevent the Esquipulas II mechanisms from functioning, Nicaragua was forced to seek interim measures of protection from the International Court of Justice as part of the judicial proceedings instituted against Honduras.

This chronological account of the facts reveals the utter lack of justification for the Honduran claim that the Esquipulas II mechanisms could not function because of Nicaragua. As we have demonstrated, Nicaragua was the first to resort to those mechanisms and it was Honduras which opposed putting them into operation, in keeping with its substantive rejection of the operation of the verification mechanisms established in Esquipulas II. This policy has been inflexible, despite the repeated promises and proposals to change it, which came to nothing.

However, more serious still and certainly the worst imaginable violation of the letter and spirit of the Esquipulas II Agreements is Honduras' request for, or at least its acceptance of, the dispatch of United States troops to its territory for the purpose of "strengthening or protecting" the mercenary forces which Honduras had pledged to refrain from assisting in any way. If anything, Honduras had given a solemn commitment to prevent those forces from using its territory.

Furthermore, apart from the fact that the conduct of Honduras is in open violation of the Esquipulas II Agreements, Nicaragua wishes to state for the record, clearly and forcefully, that such conduct by Honduras is also in complete violation of the most fundamental principles of international law, such as the principle of refraining from the use or threat of force, non-intervention and respect for the sovereignty and territorial integrity of States. At the same time, Nicaragua is stating for the record that, as specified in Article 103 of the Charter, no agreement - bilateral, regional or other - can undermine the rights and obligations of States established in the Charter of the United Nations. Consequently, the request for United States combat troops to be sent to Honduras in order to protect the mercenary forces is a violation not only of the Esquipulas Agreements, but also of international law.

/...

UNCLASSIFIED

Predictably, even if we weather these latest incidents, there may be similar ones, as has happened in the past, so long as the mercenary forces - which the Reagan Administration spokesmen admit are very well-equipped - continue to enjoy the support and protection of Honduras to use its territory for their armed attacks against Nicaragua.

Similarly, it is obvious that the signing of the Sapoá Agreements does not rule out the possibility that these incidents will recur, as it is widely known that the most recalcitrant Somoza ex-guardsmen heading the mercenary units are rejecting these agreements.

Therefore, the request for interim measures of protection is fully justified and necessary for the attainment of peace between the two brother countries. Even in the light of the Honduran demands, Nicaragua is prepared to be flexible and, in the spirit of its ongoing commitment to peace, submits the following proposal to the Government of Honduras.

FY 1989 Assistance Requests for Latin America and the Caribbean

by Elliott Abrams

Statement prepared for delivery before the Subcommittee on Foreign Operations of the House Appropriations Committee on April 22, 1988. Mr. Abrams is Assistant Secretary for Inter-American Affairs.[1]

I am pleased to have this opportunity to present the Administration's requests for bilateral assistance for Latin America and the Caribbean for FY 1989 and to answer your questions. A serious public assessment of the resources available to advance U.S. interests in this hemisphere is badly needed.

In keeping with the austere budget agreement for FY 1989, our assistance requests are 14% below last year's request for economic assistance and 27% below last year's request for military assistance.

The Administration is requesting $1,137 million in bilateral economic assistance. This included $547.5 million in economic support funds (ESF), $371.7 million in development assistance, and $218.2 million in PL 480 commodity assistance.

We also request $197.1 million in military assistance. This included $185.5 million for the military assistance program (MAP) and $11.6 million for international military education and training (IMET). To avoid adding to the already high debt burden, no foreign military sales (FMS) credits are requested, for the second year in a row.

These economic and military assistance accounts, about which I have been asked to testify today, make up 94% of the resources available bilaterally to advance U.S. interests in this hemisphere. The only other explicitly bilateral accounts are $32.2 million for Peace Corps programs and $56.2 million for antinarcotics assistance.

THE POLICY FRAMEWORK

A key element of the Administration's foreign policy is the recognition that this hemisphere—our immediate neighborhood—is of great strategic importance; in fact, critical to our national security. We cannot deal effectively with challenges to our interests in other parts of the world if we are unable to cope with problems closer to home. Historically, our ability to project power in the world, in part, has been based on the absence of threats closer to home.

Unfortunately, many of our allies in Latin America and the Caribbean do not have the resources to provide simultaneously for their own security and the basic economic needs of their people. Because we know they must do both if they are to survive and prosper, and if democracy is to be given a chance to flourish, we must help to make up the shortfall.

In the past, many Latin Americans seemed to view democracy as just another form of government to be tried and discarded if it resulted in no apparent immediate benefits. The current trend of democratization has been accompanied by some interesting and promising political developments that have helped the new democracies break out of the old patterns.

Many Latin Americans now believe that open societies are superior to closed ones and that democratic institutions are, therefore, worth building and strengthening. Accompanying this has been the formation of an informal but strong mutual support network among democratic leaders. When, for example, Peru's President Alan Garcia and Argentina's President Raul Alfonsin were undergoing periods of increased civil/military tension, there were strong public expressions and private efforts in support of them from other democratic leaders.

Respect for human rights has shown improvement in all the non-Marxist and nondictatorial states of Latin America. The marked reduction in the number of human rights abuses in recent years parallels the spread and consolidation of democracy: where democratic government has taken root, the human rights situation has changed dramatically for the better.

The security of the United States and the security of all free countries of this hemisphere benefit from the region-wide movement toward democracy. We have supported this trend not only because it is in accord with our deepest values but also because we believe it is in our interest. There has been not one coup against a democratically elected government during the more than 7 years of the Reagan Administration. And Latin America's growing political maturity is a monstrous thing that we can enjoy the most constructive long-term relationships with countries where government is founded on the consent of the governed.

RELEASED HERE
El Salvador: Human Rights

For these reasons, we emphasize democracy in our political relations with our neighbors. The modest assistance levels we have requested aim to provide the resources needed to support our quest for sustained democracy in this hemisphere. A reversal of the movement to democracy anywhere will be rejected by us as it will be by all the democracies in the region.

CHALLENGES TO U.S. INTERESTS

The road to democracy is not without obstacles; many challenges lie ahead. Our neighbors face tremendous political, economic, and social problems. Narcotraffickers are sometimes better armed and equipped than governments; debt repayments eat away funds that might otherwise be used for development; insurgencies threaten political stability; and social institutions are overburdened.

Narcotics

That drugs are a threat to the national security of the United States and our neighbors should be obvious. Drugs kill and corrupt. The power of the international drug mafia—particularly the so-called Medellin cartel—to corrupt, intimidate, and destabilize key U.S. allies in Latin America and the Caribbean is an immediate threat to U.S. national security. In Panama drug power reached into the very core of government.

The Medellin cartel—actually a collection of criminal "families"—is run by four men: Carlos Lehder Rivas (now on trial in south Florida on drug trafficking charges), Jorge Ochoa Vasquez, Pablo Escobar Gaviria, and Gonzalo Rodriguez Gacha. They are all billionaires, and both Escobar and Ochoa appear on the list of the world's wealthiest people, published by Fortune and Forbes magazines. The cartel families control some 80% of the estimated 165,000 pounds of cocaine consumed in the United States annually from South America. They earn approximately $8 billion each year from various drug operations.

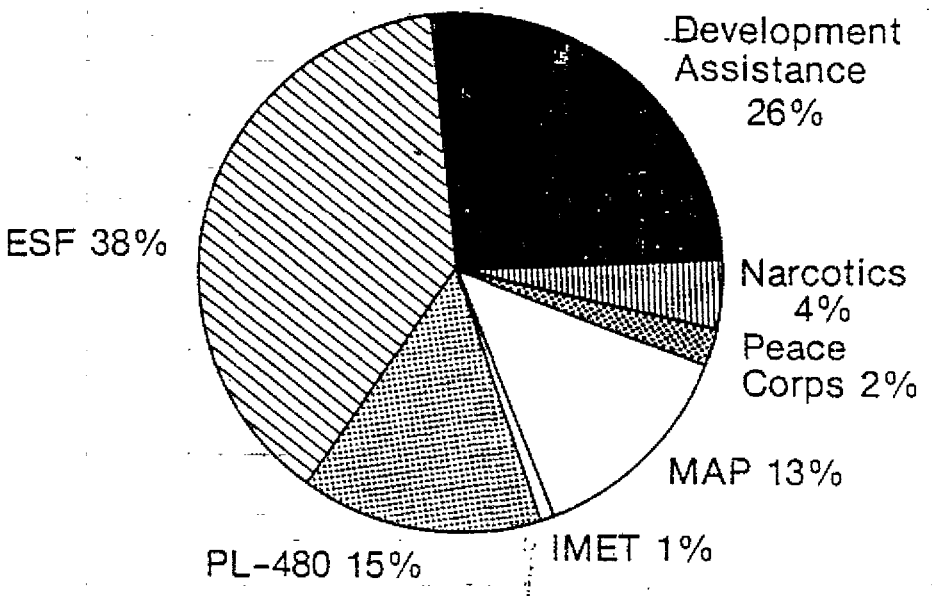
The corruption born of the drug trade jeopardizes our security by threatening the survival of democratic institutions. Corrupt politicians become servants of the drug lords rather than of the people they are supposed to represent. Corrupt military officers become loyal to the commander who pays them the most money, rather than to the constitution they have pledged to defend and protect. In addition, the drug lords, in some cases, have been able to capture the allegiance of the local poor by establishing private welfare systems more generous than anything the government can offer.

The destructive and pernicious influence of narcotics traffickers in the fledgling democracies was vividly demonstrated recently in Honduras. The demonstrations which climaxed in a violent attack on a part of our Embassy—an action highly uncharacteristic of Honduran behavior and views—were largely instigated and financed by the network of billionaire drug baron Juan Ramon Matta Ballesteros, who recently was returned to the United States to face criminal charges for his narcotics-smuggling activities. Matta's efforts in Honduras to buy loyalty from high officials in the government and the military threatened the future political and social stability of the nation. We are optimistic that a serious cancer has been removed from Honduras and that follow-on treatment of the cancer's ill-effects can now be successful.

The narcotraffickers undermine and destabilize democratic government even more directly by means of violence and intimidation. In Colombia this danger has reached an acute stage. On January 25, hit-men in the employ of cartel members abducted and killed Carlos Mauro Hoyos, Colombia's Attorney General. Hoyos was murdered for dismissing two judges and ordering an investigation of five government officials in connection with the release from a Bogota prison of cartel magnate Jorge Ochoa. Among other victims of traffickers' violence are a Minister of Justice, Supreme Court judges, prominent journalists, and scores of other judges and policemen. Hoyos was the 22d high ranking Colombian official assassinated by drug traffickers in the past 3 years.

The grim truth is that authorities in Colombia and in the other democratic countries of the region are outgunned by the drug syndicates. Most Colombian police carry World War II vintage weapons that are no match for the automatic rifles and other state-of-the-art weaponry available to the cocaine traffickers. The drug lords run what is, in effect, a parallel government with a paramilitary infrastructure, aircraft, troops, and enormous financial resources.

Proposed FY 1989 Assistance to Latin America and the Caribbean



RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

In Mexico, too, there is compelling evidence of the connection between arms and drugs. In late January and early February of this year, huge weapons caches were discovered in Mexico by the federal police. In addition to seizing 11 tons of marijuana and 4,400 pounds of cocaine, Mexican authorities captured more than 360 Soviet-designed AK–47 assault rifles, more than 145,000 rounds of ammunition, 92 bayonets, 6 metal detectors, and 3 infrared rifle scopes, as well as 7 small airplanes and several vehicles. The Mexican authorities had interdicted the shipments in a classic drugs-for-arms trade. The drugs were destined for the United States.

There are some positive indications of changing attitudes and behavior in drug-producing and consuming countries. More Latin American governments are making efforts to combat drug trafficking. Ecuador has eradicated all coca plantings and is no longer on our list of major drug producers. Venezuela has attempted to stop traffickers from gaining a foothold by uniformly handing out very tough sentences; if convicted, traffickers can face a 15-year sentence with no chance for parole. Bolivia is encouraging peasant farmers to destroy their coca crops by providing a payment for each hectare in coca bushes removed from cultivation. Peru is continuing with its eradication effort in the Upper Huallaga Valley despite violent attacks by both traffickers and guerrillas. The Colombian Government has instituted a number of measures designed to facilitate the capture and punishment of those involved in acts of violence—whether terrorist or drug-related—against the government. In 1987 Mexico increased by 26% its eradication of marijuana, and seizures of all drugs also were up (cocaine by 75%, opium derivatives by 12%, and marijuana by 104%).

Still, as governments have begun to take measures against traffickers, narcotics-related violence has increased. Often the attacks have been directed against security forces operating against the traffickers. However, the traffickers also have been known to target the spouses and children of those involved in antinarcotics activities.

In addition to narcotics, there are many other challenges to our Latin and Caribbean neighbors and to U.S. interests in the region.

Violent Insurgencies

Several nations (Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, Colombia, Peru, Ecuador) now have active or incipient Marxist insurgencies. All are threats to democratic values. Most are supported to some extent by the Soviet bloc, Cuba, and Nicaragua. Insurgent groups in El Salvador, Guatemala, and Colombia have received particularly extensive support from Cuba and Nicaragua; there are disquieting signs of subversive activities in several other countries. In Chile, for example, the Manuel Rodríguez Patriotic Front—the terrorist arm of the Chilean Communist Party—is actively involved in bombings, shootings, kidnappings, and assassination attempts. Weapons caches linked to the group indicate external support for its activities.

Government-Condoned Violence

Politically motivated violence other than that related to narcotics trafficking or insurgencies remains a problem in many countries. A wave of violence caused the cancellation of Haiti's November 1987 balloting (later rescheduled and held in January). In Nicaragua, Sandinista "divine mobs" ("turbas divinas") continue to harass demonstrators and peaceful opposition. Opposition groups are beaten and teargassed in Panama.

Economic Challenges

The most recent data indicate that real gross domestic product for the largest countries in Latin America and the Caribbean grew by 3.7% in 1986, 2.6% in 1987, and is only expected to grow by about 2% in 1988. Because the population continues to grow at around 2.3%, per capita income levels continue to decline. The decline primarily has been due to lower world prices for coffee, sugar, and other basic commodities that comprise the bulk of regional exports. The demand for some of these exports is reviving modestly. Even so, many countries are continuing to run large and growing trade deficits as the demand for imports exceeds their ability to export by significant margins. For example, in the first 6 months of 1987, exports declined by 5% and imports rose by 6% compared to the same period in 1986. Growing balance-of-payments deficits result in shortages of foreign exchange needed to pay foreign obligations and to buy those imports that are needed as inputs to products for export.

Another factor contributing to the slowdown in economic activity in 1987 was the inability of many Latin American and Caribbean countries to stabilize their economies largely because of political and social resistance to needed austerity. For example, inflation rates continue to be a serious problem in many countries. Also the sharp curtailment of domestic and foreign investment since the early 1980s due to uncertainty and lack of confidence has constrained growth. The huge amounts of capital flowing out of the region have not been counterbalanced by inflows from the commercial banks, international financial institutions, or bilateral assistance.

For most of the major debtor countries, high interest-rate burdens from prior year borrowing and little likelihood of improvement in current accounts balances will continue to limit growth prospects to the 2–3% range over the next few years. Although the region's current account deficit dropped from $17.5 billion in 1986 to $13 billion in 1987, this deficit is projected to grow to $13.8 billion this year, largely because of worsening of trade balances.

There is little prospect in 1988 of reversing net financial flows out of the region. The major debtors will need significant new lending from commercial creditors in order to service their debt and finance their current account deficits. The outlook for new lending, however, is bleak due to the natural unwillingness of foreign commercial banks to lend new money when current debts are not being repaid and when the banks perceive that a return to creditworthiness for the region in general is unlikely in the short to medium term. Mexico's plan to offer bonds backed by U.S. Treasury notes in exchange for a portion of its debt is indicative of the kind of innovative measures that are needed to overcome this significant obstacle to renewed growth.

Economic progress, peace, and security are at risk in the Caribbean Basin. Almost without exception, the countries of that area face daunting challenges. Their economies are for the most part small, fragile, and extremely vulnerable to disruption. Developments in the international economic system seriously exacerbate the effects of ingrained structural rigidity. The current slowdown in the world economy is a case in point. Prices for the primary commodities that are the principal exports of these countries—sugar, coffee, and bauxite—have fallen sharply over the past decade. In the same period, most of the region also has been struggling with the need to adjust to increases in the costs of essential imports, particularly petroleum. Tourism, although strong in 1987, cannot make up in the short run for declines in such traditional export earners as sugar. Certain economies of Central America—particularly El Salvador's—have been severely damaged by guerrilla-inflicted destruction as well as by a lack of investor confidence due to political and social instability and turmoil. The large exodus of capital, particularly during the early 1980s, has resulted in little new investment throughout this area, except in Costa Rica.

It is clear that our friends need help to overcome their economic difficulties, to defend themselves, and to keep alive their faith in freedom and democracy. With foreign assistance, they have a chance to manage their own affairs and find their own way out of their present troubles. We should have no higher priority. Neither the communists nor the drug dealers are interested in strengthening the security, political systems, or economies of these countries. It is to us that our neighbors look for cooperation and support. It is in our interest that we respond.

ASSISTANCE TO INDIVIDUAL COUNTRIES

Security assistance helps to strengthen the defenses of our friends in the interests of their own security and ours. In addition, U.S. assistance to Latin America and Caribbean countries produces direct domestic benefits here in the United States. These benefits take the form of employment, export sales, investment opportunities, and access to raw materials for American industry.

The ESF advances U.S. economic interests by offering grant or loan economic assistance. These funds are used primarily to provide quick-disbursing balance-of-payments support to allow time for local economic and financial adjustments to take effect.

The MAP provides grant funds for procurement of defense articles and services to help strengthen defense capabilities. Without grant aid, many countries in this hemisphere would have to divert scarce domestic resources from economic development efforts in order to purchase military training and equipment.

The IMET program is a grant-aid, low-cost instrument that gives us an extremely valuable channel of communication and influence with foreign military organizations. Education and training for the professionalization of military officers have long been considered to be the most cost-effective form of security assistance.

Development assistance is project support used for education and management training and some small business development. It also funds private sector and agricultural development and health and nutrition programs, primarily to increase the incomes of poor rural families to meet their basic needs.

Food for Peace, commonly called PL 480, provides food from U.S. Department of Agriculture stockpiles to those nations that are too poor to feed all of their people adequately. The food provided alleviates hunger and malnutrition and improves health. One of our most successful programs, it also generates local currency in some countries that is recycled to fund agricultural development, infrastructure improvements, rural education, and health programs.

During the past few years, and particularly in FY 1988, cuts in our budget requests and extensive earmarking have severely limited our support for countries outside of Central America.

In many cases, our military and economic support programs outside Central America had to be "zeroed out"—completely eliminated—in order to accommodate the reductions in the total foreign assistance levels which, along with the increased earmarking, left little discretionary ESF and MAP for the rest of this hemisphere.

Central America

Our assistance request for the countries of Central America reflects the high priority the Administration attaches to U.S. interests in that troubled subregion. The basic arguments and proposals for aiding Central America were developed in 1983–84 by the National Bipartisan Commission on Central America (the Kissinger commission). Its bipartisan focus on economic stabilization and political democratization has been the organizing principle of U.S. policy ever since.

Thanks in part to sustained U.S. aid levels to Central America, this half-decade has seen first one country then another make a remarkable recovery from near disastrous circumstances. Now freely elected civilian governments are offering their people the chance for a better future in El Salvador, Honduras, and Guatemala. Costa Rica continues to enjoy freedom and the rule of law, as it has for many years. The communist Sandinistas are a blatant exception to the new democratic trend.

The return of democratic resistance leaders to Managua for negotiations is a sign that we are in a new, intensely political phase of the struggle there. To increase the prospect of a democratic outcome, it is essential that the door finally opened by the strength and perseverance of the resistance is not slammed shut. We intend to cooperate with the freedom fighters, the internal democratic opposition forces inside Nicaragua, and with the four democracies in order to further the prospects for both peace and freedom in Nicaragua.

Throughout Central America, it is in the U.S. interest to strengthen democratic institutions and the administration of justice and to support existing regional institutions to foster increased cooperation among the Central American democracies. As we support and encourage the development of the region, we should assist those existing regional institutions that contribute to improving the economic and social well-being of the citizens of these countries.

The regional program for Central America is designed to complement and to supplement U.S. bilateral assistance programs. It complements those programs by promoting on a regional basis what is also being done individually, with the objective of improving regional cooperation. It supplements the bilateral programs where it is more logical and cost-effective to implement projects on a regional basis, thus avoiding costly duplication. This regional program is managed partly from an office based in Guatemala City and partly by the U.S. Agency for International Development in Washington, D.C.

El Salvador is one of our closest allies in Central America. U.S. policy interests in El Salvador are to advance the cause of democracy; improve economic conditions; promote peaceful change; prevent hostile, antidemocratic forces from gaining a strategic foothold; and prevent the Soviet Union from increasing its influence through its support for the Salvadoran insurgents. The Government of El Salvador is critically dependent on U.S. support in its efforts to consolidate democratic government and rebuild its economy in the face of guerrilla sabotage and destruction.

U.S. policy promotes the consolidation of constitutional democracy in El Salvador by assisting the government to defend itself against a determined Marxist insurgency supported by Nicaragua, Cuba, and the Soviet bloc. It addresses the socioeconomic roots of the insurgency and its historic political bases by continuing support for democratic development, judicial reform, respect for human rights, and responsive public institutions. It also helps stabilize the war-torn national economy and stimulates revitalization and growth. FY 1989 requests are for $292.5 million of economic assistance and $96.5 million of military assistance.

Guatemala's size, proximity to the United States, large population, and regionally important economy make its stability and development important to the interests of the United States. Over the past 20 years, Guatemala has faced a lingering Cuban-supported insurgency that fed on the neglect and poverty of the nation's Indians, some 50% of the population. A succession of military governments attempted to put down the festering insurgency, but at great cost in human life and widespread human rights abuses. The violence led to a cutoff of U.S. military assistance in 1977.

In late 1985, Guatemalans freely elected a new civilian government, ushering in an era of new expectations for growth and democracy. The new government, led by Christian Democrat Vinicio Cerezo, faces a continued but weakened Marxist insurgency, serious economic problems inherited from previous regimes, and an upsurge in common crime fed by unemployment. Undermanned and poorly trained police and criminal justice forces have had trouble controlling the increase in crime. The government, nevertheless, has made steady strides in ending human rights abuses, promoting economic growth, and in creating the conditions for greater citizen participation in government.

U.S. Government assistance provided in the past to the Guatemalan Armed Forces has demonstrated our support for an important institution in Guatemala's democratic society. The assistance has addressed only the most pressing material needs of the Guatemalan Armed Forces, while enhancing professional competence.

The primary U.S. objective in Guatemala is the promotion of a democratic government that is friendly to

2. SUMMARY: VICE PREMIER TIAN JIYUN'S VISIT COMES AT A TIME OF SIGNIFICANT CHANGE IN CHINA, AND OF SOME IMPORTANT SHIFTS AND NEW EMPHASES IN OUR BILATERAL RELATIONS. IN THE PAST SIX MONTHS, CHINA'S REFORMIST ECONOMIC AGENDA HAS BEEN REAFFIRMED RESOLUTELY AT MAJOR NATIONAL PARTY AND GOVERNMENT CONGRESSES. TIAN JIYUN'S REELECTION TO A FIVE-YEAR TERM AS VICE PREMIER IS AN OUTGROWTH OF THE CONTINUING REFORM DRIVE. HE FORMS PART OF A YOUNGER, MODERNIZING LEADERSHIP DESTINED TO WIELD TOP PARTY AND STATE POWER AFTER DENG AND OTHER OLD-GUARD LEADERS PASS FROM THE SCENE. TIAN'S NEW RESPONSIBILITIES AS POINT MAN ON FOREIGN TRADE AND INVESTMENT WILL RAISE HIS PROFILE AND IMPORTANCE TO THE U.S. HEIGHTENED POLITICAL WILL IN THE WAKE OF THE CONGRESSES TO TACKLE KEY REFORMS IS EVIDENCED BY BROAD NEW INITIATIVES ENCOMPASSING GOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZATION, A NEW OPENNESS IN DEBATE AND CRITICISM OVER THE COUNTRY'S SHORTCOMINGS, AND A HOST OF SYSTEMIC REFORMS. THE LATTER INVOLVE KEY ISSUES SUCH AS FOREIGN TRADE, RAW MATERIALS AND CAPITAL GOODS MARKETS, LABOR AND WAGES, CONSTITUTIONAL SANCTION OF PRIVATE ENTERPRISE AND TRANSFER OF LAND RIGHTS, AND [redacted]

FURTHER CURTAILMENT OF THE DIRECT CONTROL BY CENTRAL PLANNERS AND OTHER AUTHORITIES OVER THE DAILY ECONOMIC LIFE OF CHINA.

3. THESE IMPORTANT BROAD REFORM IMPUL'ES AND INITIATIVES, HOWEVER, MUST BE PLAYED OUT ONLY GRADUALLY FOR THE IMMEDIATE PERIOD AHEAD. CONSTRAINING THIS PACE ARE CONTINUING ECONOMIC IMBALANCES, STRESSES AND DISLOCATIONS INHERENT TO THE TRANSITIONAL, HIGHLY DYNAMIC STATE OF CHINA'S ECONOMY, AND THE INSTITUTIONS WHICH REGULATE IT.

4. RECENT REDEDICATION TO REFORM, ALONG WITH ACCOMPANYING TRANSITIONAL STRESSES, ARE REFLECTED IN CHINA'S EXTERNAL ECONOMIC POLICIES. REPEATED CLARION CALLS IN RECENT MONTHS BY SENIOR LEADERS

TO OPEN FURTHER THE ECONOMIES OF THE COASTAL AREAS TO TRADE AND GLOBAL COMPETITION REEMPHASIZE THE IMPERATIVE OF FOREIGN INVESTMENT AND TECHNOLOGY TRANSFER FOR CHINA'S GOAL TO MODERNIZE RAPIDLY SO AS "TO TAKE CHINA'S RIGHTFUL PLACE IN THE WORLD." THE POLITBURO'S ELABORATION OF THIS POLICY, THAT CHINA WILL SEEK TO EMULATE IN ITS COASTAL AREAS THE EXPORT-LED GROWTH SUCCESSES OF MANY OF ITS ASIAN NEIGHBORS, POSES BOTH BENEFITS AND POTENTIAL CHALLENGES FOR U.S. INTERESTS.

OPPORTUNITIES BY PROGRESSIVELY DISMANTLING THE STATE TRADE MONOPOLY, AND THE FORMIDABLE STRUCTURE OF TRADE-DISTORTING ADMINISTRATIVE CONTROLS. THE STRATEGY AND ACCOMPANYING DECENTRALIZING FORCES MAY ALSO HELP MAINTAIN MOMENTUM FOR DOMESTIC SYSTEMIC REFORMS, INCLUDING IN THE PRICE SYSTEM.

6. ON THE OTHER HAND, IN ITS NASCENT STAGES, THESE POLICIES HOLD THE LATENT DANGERS OF COALESCING INTO A SIMPLE EXPORT DRIVE, WITHOUT SIGNIFICANT LOWERING OF IMPORT BARRIERS. SHOULD THAT WORST-CASE DEVELOP, THE U.S. WILL BE FACED WITH BILATERAL TRADE FRICTIONS. THESE WOULD BE EXACERBATED BECAUSE OF OUR NEED TO SHRINK OUR GLOBAL TRADE DEFICIT, AND NEW TRADE LEGISLATION WHICH PLACES GREATER STRESS THAN EVER BEFORE ON RECIPROCAL MARKET ACCESS.

7. CHINA'S RAPIDLY GROWING ECONOMIC STRENGTH IS BEING MATCHED BY A NEW ASSERTIVENESS IN INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS. THIS IS UNDERPINNED BY A WORLD VIEW WHICH SEES GROWING MULTIPOLAR INFLUENCES DILUTING DOMINANCE BY THE TWO SUPERPOWERS. THE MULTIPOLAR CONCEPT OF THE WORLD FITS NEATLY WITH CHINA'S "INDEPENDENT" FOREIGN POLICY LINE. HOWEVER, "INDEPENDENCE" DOES NOT MEAN "EQUIDISTANCE." CHINA TILTS TOWARDS THE WEST, ESPECIALLY THE U.S., EUROPE AND JAPAN, [redacted]

WHICH PROVIDE THE CAPITAL, MARKETS AND ADVANCED TECHNOLOGY ESSENTIAL TO CHINA'S PRIORITIES.

8. CHINA'S DE FACTO TILT TOWARD THE U.S. ALSO STEMS FROM ITS CONTINUING PERCEPTION THAT WE DO NOT CONSTITUTE A STRATEGIC THREAT, AND CONVERSELY PROVIDE A SECURITY PRESENCE VITAL TO CHECKING SOVIET EXPANSIONISM. THE PASSIVE BENEFICIARY OF THIS U.S. SECURITY PRESENCE, CHINA IS FREE TO NORMALIZE GRADUALLY ITS RELATIONS WITH THE SOVIETS, IN THE INTERESTS OF CREATING A PEACEFUL ENVIRONMENT FOR ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT TO PROCEED. RELATIONS WITH THE SOVIETS ARE IMPROVING MORE QUICKLY THAN THE CHINESE ADMIT, BUT LESS THAN THE SOVIETS WOULD LIKE--OR HAVE US BELIEVE. SIGNIFICANT PROGRESS HAS BEEN REGISTERED IN TRADE AND CULTURAL RELATIONS. TALKS TO RESOLVE BORDER DISPUTES HOLD SOME PROMISE. IT WOULD NOT BE SURPRISING IF THE CHINESE AND SOVIET FOREIGN MINISTERS MET. BUT DESPITE GORBACHEV'S BLANDISHMENTS, FULL POLITICAL NORMALIZATION MUST AWAIT REMOVAL OF THE "THREE OBSTACLES," ESPECIALLY THE SOVIETS' SUPPORT OF VIETNAM'S OCCUPATION OF CAMBODIA. HISTORICAL ENMITY AND SUSPICIONS, GEOGRAPHY, STRUCTURAL LIMITS TO ECONOMIC COOPERATION, AND THE CHINESE CONVICTION THAT CHINA'S FUNDAMENTAL LONG-TERM STRATEGIC THREAT IS SOVIET EXPANSIONISM, ALL MILITATE AGAINST A RETURN TO THE CLOSE, BROAD-BASED SINO-SOVIET RELATIONSHIP OF THE 1950'S. THUS THE GEOPOLITICAL DIMENSIONS OF OUR RELATIONS WITH BEIJING--THOUGH MORE MUTED AND NUANCED THAN IN THE 1970'S--REMAIN IMPORTANT.

9. GENERALLY, WE SHARE WITH CHINA COMMON OBJECTIVES REGARDING CAWBODIA, AFGHANISTAN, AND A COMMON WISH FOR PEACE ON THE KORE AN PENINSULA.
ECONOMIC IMPERATIVES ARE INCREASING CHINA'S INTEREST IN DIRECT TRADE WITH SOUTH KOREA. THE CHINESE TACITLY CONDONE OUR PHILIPPINE BASES--AND OUR PACIFIC PRESENCE GENERALLY--AS A FORCE FOR REGIONAL SECURITY. HOWEVER, THE NEW THREAD OF ASSERTIVENESS IN CHINA'S FOREIGN POLICY HAS BEEN THE SOURCE OF SOME SERIOUS BILATERAL FRICTIONS, JUST AS PAST POLITICAL TENSIONS OVER TAIWAN HAVE RECEDED AS A RESULT OF GROWING EXCHANGES BETWEEN TAIWAN AND THE MAINLAND.
10. CHINA'S EMERGENCE AS A MAJOR POWER IS SEEN IN ITS ATTEMPTS TO BUILD INFLUENCE AND, NOT INCIDENTALLY, TO MAKE MONEY BY SELLING BILLIONS OF DOLLARS IN ARMS TO BOTH COMBATTANTS IN THE GULF. DIRECT FRICTIONS WITH US RESULTED FROM CHINA'S SALE OF ANTI-SHIP MISSILES TO IRAN WHICH THREATEN OUR SHIPS AND THOSE OF OUR FRIENDS. THAT LED LAST FALL TO POSTPONEMENT OF USG-SPONSORED LIBERALIZATION OF COCOM CONTROLS ON DUAL-USE TECHNOLOGY COVETED BY CHINA FOR ITS MODERNIZATION DRIVE. OUR DECISION COINCIDED WITH BILATERAL TENSIONS STEMMING FROM USG AND CONGRESSIONAL CONCERNS OVER HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES IN TIBET, AND THE EXPULSION OF TWO PRC DIPLOMATS

11. WHILE THESE ISSUES BREWED, HOWEVER, THE RELATIONSHIP HAS EXHIBITED RESILIENCY. BOTH SIDES SHOWED THE NECESSARY WILL TO DEAL FORTHRIGHTLY WITH THE PROBLEMS, WHILE MAINTAINING NORMALCY AND EVEN FORWARD MOMENTUM IN CERTAIN CORE AREAS OF THE RELATIONSHIP. LAST YEAR ENDED WITH SUCCESSFUL CONCLUSION OF A TOUGH NEW BILATERAL TEXTILE TRADE AGREEMENT, SIGNED DURING USTR YEUTTER'S SUCCESSFUL VISIT IN FEBRUARY. THOUGH THE U.S. SUFFERED ITS LARGEST EVER BILATERAL TRADE DEFICIT WITH CHINA, YEAR-END TRENDS SHOWED A LARGE BOOST IN PURCHASES FROM THE U.S., INCLUDING GRAIN. BY THE TIME OF FOREIGN MINISTER WU XUEQIAN'S VISIT TO WASHINGTON LAST MARCH, CONGRESSIONAL ATTENTION TO THE TIBET ISSUE HAD RECEDED AT LEAST TEMPORARILY. FURTHERMORE, THE CHINESE HAD MADE SUFFICIENT EFFORTS TO ADDRESS OUR CONCERNS ON MISSILE SALES TO IRAN THAT THE WAY WAS OPEN TO ANNOUNCE RESUMPTION OF THE PROCESS OF TECHNOLOGY TRANSFER LIBERALIZATION FOR CHINA. WU'S AGREEMENT IN PRINCIPLE TO A PEACE CORPS CONTINGENT, THE FIRST EVER TO BE INVITED BY A COMMUNIST COUNTRY, ADDED A FRESH, POSITIVE ELEMENT TO THE RELATIONSHIP.

12. UNFORTUNATELY, CHINESE SALES OF BALLISTIC MISSILES TO SAUDI ARABIA HAS VERY RECENTLY INTRODUCED YET ANOTHER SERIOUS ISSUE INTO THE RELATIONSHIP. APART FROM CONCERNS OVER THE WEAPON'S DESTABILIZING EFFECTS IN THE GULF AND

13. THIS IS TIAN'S FIRST VISIT TO THE U.S., AND HIS FIRST OVERSEAS TRIP AS A MEMBER OF THE NEW LEADERSHIP TEAM. IT IS IMPORTANT THEREFORE THAT WE IMPRESS HIM WITH THE STRENGTH AND VITALITY OF AMERICA, AND ITS IMPORTANCE TO CHINA'S ECONOMIC AND SECURITY OBJECTIVES. APPRECIATION OF THESE POINTS COULD MAKE HIM A BROADER-GAUGED DECISION MAKER WHEN CONFRONTED LATER WITH SPECIFIC ISSUES IN THE RELATIONSHIP. HE WILL REPORT BACK OUR VIEWS AND HIS IMPRESSIONS TO THE REST OF THE LEADERSHIP. HE WILL WANT TO FOCUS ON REASSURING U.S. LEADERS AND THE PUBLIC ABOUT THE PERMANENCE OF CHINA'S REFORMS, AND TO PROMOTE U.S. BUSINESS INTEREST IN INVESTING IN CHINA. HE WILL PROBABLY SEEK TO MINIMIZE DISCUSSION OF OUR GEOPOLITICAL DIFFERENCES, PARTLY BECAUSE HE IS LESS SCHOOLED IN THESE AREAS.

14. WE WILL WANT TO EXPRESS SUPPORT FOR CHINA'S REFORMS AND MODERNIZATION. BUT WE WILL ALSO NEED TO POINT OUT THAT GLOBAL ECONOMIC TRANSFORMATIONS

WE SHOULD ALSO SEEK TO CONTRIBUTE TO TIAN'S GROOMING AS A STATESMAN BY EXPOSING HIM TO FRANK, FULL DISCUSSIONS OF OUR POLITICAL AND SECURITY CONCERNS. THROUGH HIM WE CAN REACH THE HIGHEST-LEVEL CHINESE LEADERS WHO ARE CALLING THE SHOTS ON KEY ISSUES LIKE ARMS SALES. BY VIRTUE OF HIS POSITIONS ON THE STATE COUNCIL AND POLITBURO, AND HIS PERSONAL CLOSENESS TO GENERAL SECRETARY ZHAO, TIAN COULD CONTRIBUTE TO RESOLUTION OF KEY PROBLEMS, AND ADVANCE THE RELATIONSHIP. ONE OUTCOME OF TIAN'S VISIT COULD ALSO BE THE ANNOUNCEMENT OF U.S. LEADERSHIP VISITS TO CHINA THIS YEAR WHICH COULD CONTINUE OUR HIGH-LEVEL DIALOGUE.

15. AT THE END OF THIS SCENESETTER, WE HAVE

20. CHINA STANDS AT A CRUCIAL STAGE OF REFORM. ALONG WITH THE UNEQUIVOCAL SUCCESSES OF REFORM OVER THE PAST DECADE HAVE COME WRENCHING UNFORESEEN DISLOCATIONS, GIVING RISE TO FORMATION OF NEW, VOCAL INTEREST GROUPS AND DISCONTENT AMONG BUREAUCRATS AND OFFICIALS WHOSE POWER HAS EBBED WITH THE DILUTION OF TOTALITARIANISM. LAST YEAR, CONSERVATIVE IDEOLOGUES, UNWITTINGLY ABETTED BY CYNICAL INTELLECTUALS IMPATIENT WITH THE PACE OF POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC REFORM, NEARLY BROUGHT REFORMS TO A STANDSTILL FOR A TIME. BY LAST FALL, INTENSE NATIONAL INTROSPECTION AND DEBATE HAD PRODUCED AN APPARENT CONSENSUS, EMBODIED IN THE REPORT OF THE LANDMARK 13TH PARTY CONGRESS, THAT REFORM WAS CHINA'S ONLY FEASIBLE PATH TO AVOIDING FALLING FURTHER BEHIND THE DEVELOPED WORLD, AND TO BUILDING NATIONAL POWER. THE REFORMISTS NO LONGER HAVE EFFECTIVE OPPOSITION. DEBATES ARE NOT NOW BETWEEN REFORMERS AND ORTHODOX CONSERVATIVES, BUT BETWEEN MODERATE REFORMERS AND THE MORE RADICAL STRIPE. MOVEMENT TOWARDS A MARKET ECONOMY IS NOW AN UNABASHED GOAL OF THE PARTY, WITH NO SIGNIFICANT KNOWN DISSENTERS. LI PENG, ONCE SUSPECTED OF BEING CONSERVATIVE, DECLARED IN HIS RECENT MAJOR ADDRESS TO THE NATIONAL PEOPLE'S CONGRESS THAT THE SOLUTIONS TO THE PROBLEMS OF REFORM LAY IN [redacted]

MORE REFORM, NOT LESS.

21. HOWEVER, THE WEIGHT OF CONSENSUS IS NOW

TOWARD A MORE CAUTIOUS APPROACH TO REFORM, AND THE LEADERSHIP BALANCE REFLECTS IT. IF CHINA'S ENDURING, BOLD REFORM VISION IS TO HAVE A CHANCE IN THE LONG RUN, A NUMBER OF ACUTE ISSUES MUST BE CONFRONTED AND DEALT WITH QUICKLY. THESE INCLUDE THE EMERGENCE OF INCOME DISPARITIES AMONG INDIVIDUALS, AND REGIONS, AND INEQUALITY OF OPPORTUNITIES. THEY ALSO INCLUDE CENTRIFUGAL FORCES UNLEASHED BY A WELL-INTENTIONED, EVEN LIBERAL, PROCESS OF DECENTRALIZATION WHICH BEGAN BEFORE METHODS OF INDIRECT, MARKET-BASED MECHANISMS WERE IN PLACE TO ENSURE BASIC CONTROL OF THE NATIONAL ECONOMY AS THE PLANNING APPARATUS WITHERED. INFLATION, THE RESULT OF A MIX OF GOOD PRICE REFORM WITH BAD INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTIVITY AND EFFICIENCY, AND A STILL FAR-FROM-DEVELOPED MARKET, IS NOW RUNNING AT DOUBLE DIGITS, AND HAS THE ATTENTION OF EVERYONE IN CHINA. FOR THE NEXT TWO TO THREE YEARS AT LEAST, IT IS LIKELY TO SERVE AS A BRAKE ON THE PACE BY WHICH FURTHER PRICE REFORMS AND OTHER COMPREHENSIVE SYSTEMIC REFORMS CAN PROCEED BROADLY. THERE ARE STILL THE LONG-STANDING, UNRESOLVED PROBLEMS OF POPULAR IMPATIENCE WITH INADEQUATE HOUSING, AND OFFICIAL CORRUPTION AND CRONYISM. GRAIN PRODUCTION HAS STAGNATED. CHINA MAY BE MORE TOLERANT OF THE ALIEN IDEAS WHICH BLOW IN THROUGH ITS OPEN DOOR. BUT SOME ARE BEGINNING TO WORRY ABOUT THE GROWING VULNERABILITY OF CHINA TO THE UP-AND-DOWN BUSINESS CYCLES WHICH AFFECT IT THROUGH GROWING INTEGRATION WITH THE GLOBAL ECONOMY.

22. WHILE FOCUSED ON THE SHORT-TERM IMPERATIVE

TO REIN IN INFLATION, THE LEADERSHIP APPEARS TO BE BACKING UP ITS RHETORIC ABOUT THE NEED FOR MORE REFORM AS THE SOLUTION TO THE WIDE ARRAY OF PROBLEMS IT FACES. NEW REFORMS ARE BEING LAUNCHED, AND OLD ONES CONTINUED AND EXPANDED. AS THE PRINCIPAL ARCHITECT OF CHINA'S TRADE AND INVESTMENT STRATEGIES, TIAN WILL PLAY A KEY ROLE IN TACKLING DIFFICULT, MAJOR TRADE REFORMS AND OTHER MARKET-OPENING MEASURES NOW UNDERWAY. STRUCTURAL REFORMS LAUNCHED THIS YEAR HOLD THE POTENTIAL OVER TIME TO PUT CHINA'S ENTERPRISES INTO DIRECT CONTACT WITH THE INTERNATIONAL MARKET, TO DECENTRALIZE TRADE DECISIONS, AND TO ENLIVEN THE TRADE SECTOR BY ALLOWING GREATER RETENTION OF FOREIGN EXCHANGE AT THE PRODUCER LEVEL. IF CHINA SUCCEEDS IN GRADUALLY DISMANTLING THE "AIRLOCK" WHICH HAS INSULATED ITS ECONOMY FROM INTERNATIONAL MARKET INFLUENCES, IT WILL PROMOTE FURTHER CHANGES IN CHINA'S FOREIGN TRADE STRUCTURE AND MOVE CHINA CLOSER TO GATT PRINCIPLES. OF EQUALLY POSITIVE POTENTIAL IMPACT ON BILATERAL TRADE AND INVESTMENT IS CHINA'S NEW OUTWARD-ORIENTED COASTAL DEVELOPMENT STRATEGY, EMPHASIZING

DEVELOPMENT OF LABOR-INTENSIVE, EXPORT-PROCESSING INDUSTRIES. UNVEILED BY PARTY SECRETARY ZHAO IN JANUARY, THE PLAN REPRESENTS A NEW ECONOMIC GROWTH STRATEGY WHICH MOVES CHINA FURTHER AWAY FROM AN IMPORT-SUBSTITUTION GROWTH MODEL AND POSITS INSTEAD MORE DIRECT EXPOSURE OF THE COASTAL REGION TO THE DISCIPLINE OF INTERNATIONAL MARKET FORCES. WHILE THE STRATEGY CALLS INITIALLY FOR RELIANCE ON EXISTING ADVANTAGES OF CHEAP LABOR TO PUSH EXPORTS OF LABOR-INTENSIVE MANUFACTURES, NECESSARY INGREDIENTS FOR THIS DRIVE WILL BE INCREASED IMPORTS OF EQUIPMENT, TECHNOLOGY, KNOW-HOW AND RAW MATERIALS, AND GRAIN TO FEED THE CITIES ALONG THE COAST.

23. THE COASTAL STRATEGY, WITH ITS ATTENDANT HUNGER FOR CAPITAL AND MARKETS, SEEMS TO HAVE STRENGTHENED THE LEADERSHIP'S COMMITMENT TO IMPROVING CHINA'S FOREIGN INVESTMENT ENVIRONMENT. PREMIER LI PENG'S KEYNOTE ADDRESS TO THE NPC CALLED FOR IMPROVEMENTS IN CHINA'S INVESTMENT

EARLIER, PARTY GENERAL SECRETARY ZHAO CALLED ON ALL PROVINCES AND MUNICIPALITIES TO CLOSELY INVESTIGATE BUREAUCRATIC AND OTHER PROBLEMS ENCOUNTERED BY CHINA'S 4,000 OR SO REGISTERED FOREIGN INVESTMENTS. IN RECENT MONTHS, NEW ORGANIZATIONS TO ASSIST INVESTORS HAVE BEEN ESTABLISHED. ALSO, NEW MEASURES HAVE BEEN ADOPTED TO HELP RESOLVE THE CHRONIC FOREIGN EXCHANGE SHORTAGES FACED BY MOST FOREIGN-INVESTED ENTERPRISES, INCLUDING EXPANSION OF

TIAN'S EXPERIENCE, R ESPONSIBILITY FOR REFORMS GENERALLY AND AGRICULTURE, CLOSENESS TO ZHAO, AND POSITION ON THE POLITBURO MEAN THAT HE WILL ALSO LIKELY PLAY A CONTINUING ROLE IN MAINTAINING THE MOMENTUM OF DENG XIAOPING'S DOMESTIC REFORM AGENDA. ALTHOUGH PRICE REFORM REMAINS A KEY OBJECTIVE, INFLATION HAS FORCED THE CHINESE TO SHIFT THEIR PRIMARY SHORT-TERM EMPHASIS TO ENHANCING THEIR INSTRUMENTS OF MACROECONOMIC CONTROL OVER FISCAL AND MONETARY POLICIES, CONSUMPTION AND INVESTMENT. MICROECONOMIC ENTERPRISE REFORM IS GIVING FACTORY MANAGERS GREATER FREEDOM FROM STATE AND PARTY INTERFERENCE WHILE THE CONTRACT RESPONSIBILITY SYSTEM ENCOURAGES THEM TO IMPROVE EFFICIENCY. 26. AS TIAN AND THE OTHER LEADERS CONTINUE TO CREATE THE POLICY FRAMEWORK WHICH ALLOWS DECENTRALIZATION AND INDIVIDUAL EFFORTS TO BE REWARDED, REFORMS ARE ACQUIRING THEIR OWN SPONTANEOUS DYNAMIC. DESPITE THE BIRTH PANGS OF CHINA'S MASSIVE SOCIETAL TRANSFORMATION, WE BELIEVE THESE REFORMS WILL TEND TO PERPETUATE THE PROCESS OF DECREASING THE STATE'S ROLE IN THE DAILY LIFE OF THE COUNTRY, AND ACT TO RENDER HIGHLY UNLIKELY A REVERSE IN BASIC COURSE. THE PROSPECT OF RETURNING TO THE POVERTY AND DISMAL PROSPECTS OF THE OLD SYSTEM WOULD BE UNTHINKABLE TO MOST CHINESE. IT WOULD REQUIRE MASSIVE SOCIAL UPHEAVAL TO REVERSE THE FLOW OF TENS OF MILLIONS OF WORKERS OUT OF AGRICULTURE AND INTO RURAL INDUSTRIES, MARKET TOWNS, AND CITIES WHERE THEIR INCOMES HAVE GROWN SUBSTANTIALLY. MILLIONS MORE NOW RELY FOR THEIR LIVELIHOOD ON COLLECTIVE AND INDIVIDUAL VENTURES THAT DEPEND ON MARKET REFORMS FOR SURVIVAL. PRODUCTION. REFORMS AND THE OPEN DOOR HAVE HELPED MANY OF THESE TO DIVERSIFY AND ACHIEVE QUALITY APPROACHING WORLD STANDARDS. IN CHINA'S BEST ENDOWED, MOST IMPORTANT ECONOMIC REGIONS, NATIVE ENTREPRENEURSHIP IS INCREASINGLY FILLING THE VACUUM LEFT BY RETREATING STATE PLANNERS, AND CONTRIBUTING TO GROWTH RATES SURPASSING THOSE EVEN OF CHINA'S CLOSE NEIGHBORS, THE NIC'S. THESE FACTORS REFLECT FUNDAMENTAL STRUCTURAL CHANGES THAT CANNOT EASILY BE REVERSED. THE LEADERSHIP HAS NO INTENTION OF DOING SO.

CHINA'S FOREIGN POLICY

27. CHINA'S GROWING ECONOMIC STRENGTH IS ACCOMPANIED BY A NEW ASSERTIVENESS IN INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS. CHINA'S SELF-IMAGE AS AN EMERGING POWER IS MATCHED BY ITS VIEW THAT SUPERPOWER DOMINANCE IS DILUTED BY AN INCREASINGLY MULTIPOLAR WORLD. TIAN'S OWN PAST VISITS AROUND THE WORLD, AND HIS TRIPS TO MEXICO AND CANADA BEFORE AND AFTER HIS VISIT TO THE U.S., ARE PART OF CHINA'S DIPLOMATIC EFFORTS TO PROMOTE MULTIPOLARITY. CHINA'S EXPLICIT STRATEGIC TILT TOWARD THE U.S. WHICH PROMPTED NORMALIZATION WAS REPLACED IN THE EARLY 1980'S WITH A SHIFT TOWARD AN "INDEPENDENT" FOREIGN POLICY. THE CHINESE STRESS PRIVATELY, HOWEVER, THAT THIS DOES NOT

[redacted]

IMPLY AN EQUIDISTANT POSTURE TOWARDS THE U.S. AND THE SOVIET UNION. INDEED, THEY SEE THE LONG-TERM STRATEGIC THREAT AS COMING FROM THE SOVIETS. THEY VIEW THE U.S. NOT ONLY AS NON-THREATENING, BUT AS POSITIVELY CONTRIBUTING TO

THE GLOBAL AND REGIONAL BALANCE NECESSARY FOR THE SUCCESS OF CHINA'S NATIONAL REFORM AND MODERNIZATION DRIVE. WE SHARE OPPOSITION TO SOVIET AND VIETNAMESE EXPANSIONISM, AS WELL AS A COMMON WISH FOR STABILITY ON THE KOREAN PENINSULA. CHINA TACITLY CONDONES OUR PHILIPPINE BASES AS A NECESSARY CHECK TO SOVIET INROADS IN THE PACIFIC AND ASIAN REGION, AND AN OFFSET TO THE SOVIET BASES IN VIETNAM. CHINA'S GROWING STAKE IN GLOBAL TRADE UNDERLINES ITS EFFORTS TO IMPROVE TIES WITH ASEAN, WITH SOUTH KOREA, AND EVEN TAIWAN WHICH ACCORD WITH OUR INTERESTS.

28. INCIPIENT DIVERGENCE WITHQUS ON SOME INTERNATIONAL ISSUES, HOWEVER, REFLECTS CHINA'S NEW GLOBAL ASSERTIVENESS. THIS TREND IS EVIDENT IN THE GULF AND MIDDLE EAST, WHERE CHINA'S ARMS SALES THREATEN U.S. INTERESTS. CHINA'S RECENT ACTION TO ASSERT ITS TERRITORIAL CLAIMS IN THE SOUTH CHINA SEA AUGUR A GROWING CAPABILITY AND WILL FOR POWER PROJECTION. THIS TENDENCY, COUPLED WITH CHINA'S HISTORICAL SUSPICIONS OF TOKYO, CARRY THE POTENTIAL FOR GROWING DISAGREEMENT WITH THE U.S. OVER JAPAN'S PROPER DEFENSE RESPONSIBILITIES IN THE PACIFIC. SOME OF OUR ASEAN FRIENDS REMAIN WARY OF CHINA'S LONG-TERM ROLE AS AN ECONOMIC COMPETITOR AND A REGIONAL POWER.

SINO-SOVIET RELATIONS ARE MOVING AHEAD FASTER THAN THE CHINESE WOULD HAVE US BELIEVE, AND MORE SLOWLY THAN THE SOVIETS WOULD LIKE--OR HAVE US BELIEVE. TRADE, ECONOMIC COOPERATION AND CULTURAL EXCHANGES BETWEEN THE TWO NEIGHBORS HAVE EXPANDED SIGNIFICANTLY IN THE PAST FEW YEARS. SOME PROGRESS HAS BEEN MADE IN RENEWED NEGOTIATIONS ON THE BILATERAL BORDER DISPUTE, ESPECIALLY IN THE NORTHEAST ALONG THE AMUR RIVER. BILATERAL RELATIONS

32. IN THE PAST SIX MONTHS, WE HAVE SEEN BILATERAL POLITICQL RELATIONS SEVERELY BUFFETED BY A NUMBER OF UNFORESEEN STORMS: WRANGLING OVER TIBET AS CHINA STRUGGLED TO MAINTAIN ITS CONTROL AND LEGITIMATE CLAIMS TO SOVEREIGNTY THERE IN THE FACE OF SEPARATIST INSURRECTION, AND AS THE U.S. STOOD UP AGAINST ABUSES OF HUMAN RIGHTS; MASSIVE CHINESE ARMS SALES TO THE GULF, ESPECIALLY OF THE SILKWORM ANTI-SHIP MISSILES TO IRAN WHICH THREATENED LIVES AND PROPERTY OF THE U.S. AND THE PRINCIPLE OF FREE NAVIGATION; THE RESULTANT U.S. DECISION TO FREEZE FURTHER LIBERALIZATION OF COCOM TECHNOLOGY EXPORT CONTROLS FOR CHINA; U.S. EXPULSION OF TWO CHINESE DIPLOMATS FOR ESPIONAGE; AND VARIOUS CONGRESSIONAL RESOLUTIONS DEALING WITH CHINESE INTERNAL ISSUES. REFLECTING THE SOLID UNDERPINNINGS OF U.S.-CHINA RELATIONS, BOTH SIDES SHOWED THE NECESSARY WILL TO TAKE STEPS TO LIMIT DAMAGE TO CORE ELEMENTS OF THE

RELATIONSHIP STEMMING FROM THESE TENSIONS. BY THE TIME OF FOREIGN MINISTER WU XUEQIAN'S VISIT TO WASHINGTON IN MARCH, TIBET HAD RECEDED CONSIDERABLY AS AN ISSUE; OUR ACTIONS ON EXPORT CONTROLS HAD GOTTEN CHINESE ATTENTION

AND STEMMED THE FLOW OF SILKWORMS TO IRAN; AND THE CHINESE HAD DECIDED TO LET THE DIPLOMAT-EXPULSION INCIDENT PASS WITHOUT REPRISAL. SYMBOLIZING THE CONTINUING MOMENTUM OF THE RELATIONSHIP, FOREIGN MINISTER WU ANNOUNCED CHINA'S AGREEMENT IN PRINCIPLE TO ACCEPT A PEACE CORPS CONTINGENT, THE FIRST COMMUNIST COUNTRY EVER TO DO SO.

33. THE NEW ELEMENT OF MATURITY AND NORMALCY IN BILATERAL RELATIONS PERMITTED US TO HANDLE FAIRLY SMOOTHLY SERIOUS POLITICAL ISSUES IN RECENT MONTHS WITHOUT MAJOR REPERCUSSIONS IN OTHER AREAS OF THE RELATIONSHIP. CULTURAL EXCHANGES PROCEEDED APACE WITH THE VISIT OF USIA DIRECTOR WICK, AND INTRODUCTION OF THE WORLDNET TO CHINA. BILATERAL ECONOMIC RELATIONS HAVE EXHIBITED A POSITIVE TREND. A NEW FOUR-YEAR BILATERAL TEXTILES AGREEMENT, SIGNED AT THE END OF USTR AMBASSADOR YEUTTER'S SUCCESSFUL FEBRUARY VISIT TO BEIJING, HAS SUBSTANTIALLY SLOWED THE GROWTH OF THESE POLITICALLY-SENSITIVE IMPORTS FROM CHINA. RESUMPTION OF USG DELIBERATIONS TO LIBERALIZE COCOM HIGH-TECHNOLOGY EXPORT CONTROLS ON CHINA HAS MUFFLED CHINESE COMPLAINTS ABOUT RESTRICTIONS ON TECHNOLOGY TRANSFER WHILE POTENTIALLY ENHANCING U.S. EXPORT COMPETITIVENESS IN THIS MULTI-BILLION DOLLAR MARKET. BILATERAL TRADE REACHED A RECORD USD 10.4 BILLION IN 1987. STRONG SALES OF U.S. GRAIN IN 1987 MAY CONTINUE. RESPONSE TO SIGNIFICANT IMPROVEMENT IN CHINA'S CURRENT ACCOUNT BOOSTED U.S.-MANUFACTURED EXPORTS IN LATE 1987. THIS HOLDS THE PROMISE FOR BETTER U.S. EXPORT PERFORMANCE IN 1988. STRONG U.S. PRICE COMPETITIVENESS, DUE TO APPRECIATION OF THE YEN AND MAJOR EUROPEAN CURRENCIES AGAINST CHINA'S RMB (WHICH IS UNOFFICIALLY PEGGED TO THE DOLLAR), AND THE IMPORT DEMANDS CREATED BY CHINA'S COASTAL DEVELOPMENT STRATEGY, SHOULD ALSO STRENGTHEN U.S. EXPORTS. NEGOTIATIONS ON CHINA'S ACCESSION TO THE GATT WILL CONTINUE DURING 1988 IN AN ENVIRONMENT HOPEFULLY MADE MORE FELICITOUS AS CHINA PUSHES AHEAD WITH MAJOR TRADE SYSTEM REFORMS.

34. NONETHELESS, MAJOR BILATERAL ISSUES IN A NUMBER OF FIELDS REMAIN ON THE AGENDA AWAITING RESOLUTION OR CLARIFICATION. CHIEF AMONG THESE AT PRESENT IS CHINESE SALES OF MEDIUM-RANGE MISSILES TO SAUDI ARABIA. APART FROM OUR CONCERNS ABOUT INTRODUCTION OF A NEW CLASS OF WEAPONS WITH THE POTENTIAL TO FURTHER DESTABILIZE THE MIDDLE EAST AND GULF, THESE SALES RAISE EVEN MORE SERIOUS LONG-TERM CONCERNS ABOUT WIDER PROLIFERATION OF NUCLEAR-CAPABLE BALLISTIC MISSILE TECHNOLOGY. OUR RECENT ATTEMPTS TO ENGAGE CHINA IN A DIALOGUE CONCERNING THE NEED FOR STRICT FOREIGN-POLICY CONTROLS OVER THE

[redacted]

SALE OF SUCH TECHNOLOGY SO FAR HAVE BEEN FIRMLY REBUFFED. MOVED PARTIALLY BY DESIRES TO EXPAND POLITICAL INFLUENCE, CHINA'S ARMS SALES ARE MORE MOTIVATED BY COMMERCIAL OBJECTIVES. BILLIONS OF DOLLARS OF ARMS EXPORTS ARE CRUCIAL TO PLA MODERNIZATION AND CHINA'S OVERALL TRADE BALANCE. THE CHINESE ALSO REJECT

INFRINGEMENT ON CHINA'S SOVEREIGN RIGHT TO PARTICIPATE FREELY IN THE GLOBAL ARMS TRADE, JUST AS OTHER ARMS EXPORTERS DO. IN ADDITION, CHINA SEEKS TO EXPAND ITS INFLUENCE--GENERALLY AS A FACTOR IN THE MIDDLE EAST, SPECIFICALLY TO GAIN DIPLOMATIC RECOGNITION FROM SAUDI ARABIA AND GOODWILL FROM MODERATE ARABS WHO ARE CONCERNED ABOUT CHINA'S TIES WITH IRAN.

CHINESE OBJECTIVES

35. THE CHINESE WILL GRASP TIAN'S FIRST WASHINGTON VISIT AS AN IMPORTANT OPPORTUNITY TO SEASON A YOUNGER LEADER THROUGH EXPOSURE TO TOP ADMINISTRATION OFFICIALS AND A WIDE RANGE OF BILATERAL AND GLOBAL ISSUES, MAJOR PRIVATE SECTOR FIGURES, AND U.S. SOCIETY IN GENERAL. THE SECOND MAJOR CHINESE OBJECTIVE WILL BE TO REASSURE THE U.S. LEADERSHIP AND PUBLIC ABOUT THE PERMANENCE OF THE REFORM DRIVE, AND TO GENERATE PRIVATE SECTOR ENTHUSIASM FOR INVESTMENT IN CHINA. IN HIS MEETINGS WITH PRESIDENT REAGAN, VICE PRESIDENT BUSH, SECRETARY SHULTZ, SECRETARY CARLUCCI, SECRETARY BAKER, SECRETARY VERITY, AND USTR AMBASSADOR YEUTTER, TIAN WILL SEEK TO MAINTAIN THE GENERALLY POSITIVE MOMENTUM IN THE RELATIONSHIP TO FURTHER CHINA'S ECONOMIC AND

36. GIVEN HIS SPECIFIC RESPONSIBILITIES ON THE STATE COUNCIL, TIAN WILL FOCUS HIS EFFORTS THROUGHOUT HIS VISIT ON INCREASING CHINA'S GAINS FROM BILATERAL INVESTMENT AND TRADE RELATIONS. TIAN'S OBJECTIVES WILL LIKELY INCLUDE:

--LEARN WHAT CONCRETE MEASURES WE ARE ADOPTING, AND TIMING FOR THE RESUMPTION OF HIGH-TECHNOLOGY EXPORT CONTROL LIBERALIZATION IN COCOM, ANNOUNCED DURING FOREIGN MINISTER WU'S VISIT. TIAN MAY RAISE SPECIFIC TECHNOLOGY AND LICENSING CASES, INCLUDING TWO PENDING SUPERCOMPUTER APPLICATIONS. HE MIGHT ARGUE THAT RECENT U.S. APPROVAL OF A SUPERCOMPUTER FOR INDIA STRENGTHENS CHINA'S CASE.

--ENCOURAGE U.S. SUPPORT FOR CHINA'S EARLY ENTRY INTO THE GATT, WITH A MINIMUM OF SAFEGUARDS OR OTHER CONDITIONS WHICH SINGLE OUT CHINA AS A NON-MARKET ECONOMY. THE SECOND GATT WORKING GROUP ON CHINA'S ACCESSION WILL HAVE MET IN GENEVA TWO WEEKS PRIOR TO TIAN'S VISIT TO THE U.S. TIAN MAY TAKE THE OPPORTUNITY TO REVIEW CHINA'S PLANS FOR AN EXTENSIVE TRADE REFORM PROGRAM TO DEMONSTRATE WHY SAFEGUARDS AND CONDITIONS IMPOSED ON THE ACCESSIONS OF OTHER SOCIALIST, PLANNED ECONOMIES ARE UNNECESSARY IN CHINA'S CASE.

--ARGUE FOR THE U.S. TO GRANT CHINA GSP BENEFITS AND UNCONDITIONAL MFN STATUS.

--LOBBY FOR EARLY CONCLUSION OF A BILATERAL INVESTMENT TREATY. CHINA AND THE U.S. REMAIN FAR APART ON CRITICAL RIGHTS AND PROTECTION FOR U.S. INVESTORS INVOLVING NATIONAL TREATMENT, THIRD-PARTY ARBITRATION, AND COMPENSATION FOR NATIONALIZATION.

U.S. OBJECTIVES

37. TIAN'S VISIT PRESENTS US WITH AN EXCELLENT OPPORTUNITY TO IMPRESS THIS KEY LEADER WITH AMERICA'S STRENGTH AND VITALITY, AND WITH A SENSE OF THE STAKE CHINA HAS IN BUILDING GOOD RELATIONS WITH US. THROUGH MEETINGS WITH SENIOR ADMINISTRATION OFFICIALS, WE SHOULD EXPAND HIS GEOPOLITICAL HORIZONS, AND INCREASE HIS UNDERSTANDING OF THE U.S. POLITICAL SYSTEM. WE SHOULD ALSO GIVE HIM A FEEL FOR THE VARYING ROLES CONGRESS AND THE ADMINISTRATION PLAY ON

ISSUES OF PRIMARY CONCERN TO HIM (TRADE POLICY IN GENERAL, MARKET ACCESS, ANTI-DUMPING LEGISLATION, GATT POLICY, INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY PROTECTION) AS WELL AS BILATERAL POLITICAL FRICTIONS (TIBET, HUMAN RIGHTS). AT THE SAME TIME, WE SHOULD SEEK TO LEARN MORE ABOUT TIAN'S ROLE IN THE STATE COUNCIL AND GET A SENSE OF THE MAN, HIS STYLE AND PHILOSOPHY.

38. OUR MORE SPECIFIC OBJECTIVES WOULD INCLUDE:

A. INTERNATIONAL AND POLITICAL ISSUES

- --EXPLAIN THE REALITIES OF U.S. EXPORT CONTROL POLICY CONCERNING CHINA. WE MUST POINT OUT THE OBJECTIVE POLITICAL LINK BETWEEN THE PACE OF LIBERALIZATION AND CHINESE ARMS SALES THAT AFFECT IMPORTANT U.S. INTERESTS, WITHOUT APPEARING TO SUGGEST BLACKMAIL. REITERATE THAT WE WILL GO FORWARD WITH LIBERALIZATION AS PROMISED, BUT THAT FUTURE CHINESE MISSILE SALES, IF SEEN TO BE INDISCRIMINATE AND IRRESPONSIBLE AS TO CUSTOMERS AND OVERALL IMPACT ON U.S. SECURITY CONCERNS, WILL INEVITABLY AFFECT THE CLIMATE OF SUPPORT IN THE U.S. FOR THE LIBERALIZATION PROCESS.

- --TO MEET BEST OUR OBJECTIVES, TALKS WITH TIAN SHOULD BE CAST IN THE CONTEXT OF TWO MAJOR COUNTRIES DISCUSSING VITAL ISSUES OF MUTUAL CONCERN, RATHER THAN AS A SUPERPOWER CYNICALLY OR HYPOCRITICALLY SEEKING TO CONSTRAIN PRC ARMS SALES FOR ITS OWN ENDS. POINT OUT THAT WE ARE NOT SINGLING CHINA OUT, BUT ARE EXCHANGING VIEWS WITH A NUMBER OF OTHER INTERESTED COUNTRIES, MANY OF WHICH SHARE OUR CONCERNS. CHINA HAS THE CLEAR RIGHT TO SELL

WEAPONS LIKE ANY OTHER NATION, BUT WE BELIEVE THE RESPONSIBILITIES OF MAJOR POWER STATUS REQUIRE CARE IN DECIDING WHAT TYPES OF TECHNOLOGIES AND WEAPONS SHOULD BE SOLD TO CERTAIN COUNTRIES AND REGIONS. IN PARTICULAR, TIAN SHOULD BE EDUCATED THAT MISSILE TECHNOLOGY TRANSFER AND BALLISTIC MISSILE PROLIFERATION CONSTITUTE AN INCREASINGLY IMPORTANT ISSUE AND FACTOR IN REGIONAL AND GLOBAL STABILITY. SUCH PROLIFERATION COULD COME BACK TO HAUNT CHINA IN THE FUTURE IF IT SPREADS TO COUNTRIES CLOSE TO CHINA'S BORDERS. HE SHOULD BE PERSUADED OF THE BENEFITS OF COOPERATION THROUGH CONSTRUCTIVE DIALOGUE WITH THE U.S. AND OTHERS ON MANAGING BILATERAL AND REGIONAL PROBLEMS RESULTING FROM PARTICULAR SALES. FINALLY, TIAN SHOULD HEAR OUR FRANK ADVICE THAT THE CHINESE SHOULD TIGHTEN UP THEIR POROUS ARMS SALES SYSTEM, ESPECIALLY WITH REGARD TO BALLISTIC MISSILES AND NUCLEAR-EXPLOSIVE RELATED MATERIAL.

- --AS ONE WHO HAS LED CHINESE DELEGATIONS TO JAPAN SEVERAL TIMES, TIAN IS AN IDEAL INTERLOCUTOR ON CURRENT SINO-JAPANESE ISSUES AND THE FUTURE ROLE OF JAPAN GENERALLY.

- --WE SHOULD ALSO SEEK TO ASSURE THE CHINESE LEADERSHIP, THROUGH TIAN, ON OUR HARD-HEADEDNESS WITH RESPECT TO MOSCOW; OUR CONTINUING SUPPORT

APPROACH TO TIAN SHOULD BEGIN AT A LOFTY, CONCEPTUAL LEVEL, WITH RECOGNITION OF THE BROAD STRUCTURAL CHANGES AFOOT IN THE GLOBAL ECONOMY, AND THEIR IMPACT ON BOTH THE U.S. AND CHINA. WE SHOULD IMPRESS UPON TIAN THAT BILATERALLY, WE NEED TO WORK TOGETHER TO MAXIMIZE THE OPPORTUNITIES POSED BY GLOBAL ADJUSTMENTS, AND MINIMIZE THE INEVITABLE FRICTIONS WHICH WILL OCCASIONALLY DEVELOP AS OUR ECONOMIC LINKS BROADEN AND DEEPEN. TIAN SHOULD COME AWAY FROM HIS TOUR OF THE U.S. WITH AN UNDERSTANDING OF THE IMPORTANCE THAT OUR ECONOMIC VITALITY, TECHNOLOGICAL PROWESS, AND U.S. MARKETS PLAY IN HELPING CHINA REALIZE ITS GOALS FOR RAPID MODERNIZATION. THIS UNDERSTANDING WILL MAKE HIM A WISER DECISION-MAKER WHEN CONFRONTED WITH BILATERAL TRADE AND INVESTMENT ISSUES. HE MUST BE EDUCATED TO THE BASIC TRADE-OFF BETWEEN CONTINUED CHINESE ACCESS TO THE HUGE AMERICAN MARKET AND AMERICA'S NEED TO GAIN ACCESS TO IMPORTANT AREAS OF CHINA'S MARKET FOR GOODS AND SERVICES NOW RESTRICTED TO US. THIS TRADE-OFF IS CENTRAL TO THE SOLUTION OF MAJOR U.S. CONCERNS OVER BILATERAL ECONOMIC RELATIONS: TRADE FAIRNESS AND RECIPROCITY, ECONOMIC OBJECTIVES FOR THE TIAN VISIT ARE:

UNCLASSIFIED

- --ASSURE TIAN OF U.S. SUPPORT FOR CHINA'S EFFORTS TO PARTICIPATE FULLY IN THE GATT. HOWEVER, IMPRESS UPON HIM THAT THOSE EFFORTS WILL BE SUCCESSFUL ONLY IF CHINA COMMITS ITSELF OVER TIME TO EXPAND INCIPIENT REFORMS TO ELIMINATE NON-TARIFF TRADE BARRIERS AND EXPORT SUBSIDIES. CHINA MUST COME TO RELY AS QUICKLY AS POSSIBLE ONLY ON RATIONALIZED TARIFFS TO REGULATE TRADE IN ACCORDANCE WITH DEVELOPMENT OBJECTIVES. CHINA MUST ADMIT THAT ITS SYSTEM IS NOW INCOMPATIBLE WITH GATT OBLIGATIONS AND BE PREPARED SOON TO MAKE CONCESSIONS TAKING INTO ACCOUNT THE NON-MARKET ASPECTS OF ITS TRADE.

- --ENCOURAGE TIAN TO TAKE FURTHER, MEANINGFUL STEPS TO IMPROVE THE ATTRACTIVENESS OF THE CHINA MARKET FOR U.S. BUSINESSMEN, INCLUDING BETTER PROTECTION FOR INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY (ESPECIALLY FOR CHEMICAL PROCESSES AND SOFTWARE), GREATER ACCESS TO CHINA'S DOMESTIC MARKET FOR INVESTORS, LESS RELIANCE ON STRICT FOREIGN EXCHANGE BALANCING PROJECT-BY-PROJECT, REDUCTION OF BUREAUCRATIC OBSTACLES, FEWER RESTRICTIONS ON MANUFACTURED IMPORTS, AND FULFILLMENT OF CONTRACTS (E.G., SANDS LIVESTOCK CASE).

- --POINT OUT THAT THE BALL IS IN CHINA'S COURT ON THE BILATERAL INVESTMENT TREATY, AND THAT THE U.S. IS WILLING TO ENTER INTO A NEW ROUND OF TALKS PROVIDED CHINA CAN DEMONSTRATE NEW FLEXIBILITY ON ISSUES OF PRIMARY IMPORTANCE TO US.

- --ADVOCATE GREATER U.S. PARTICIPATION IN CHINA'S RAPIDLY DEVELOPING AIR-TRAFFIC CONTROL, ELECTRONICS, AUTOMOTIVE, TELECOMMUNICATIONS, ENERGY, CHEMICALS AND MACHINERY MARKETS, WHERE SUPERIOR U.S. PRICE AND QUALITY MUST COMPETE AGAINST LESS ATTRACTIVE SUPPLIERS BACKED BY LOW-INTEREST FINANCING.

- --EXPRESS U.S. INTEREST IN EXPANDING BILATERAL CIVIL AVIATION ROUTES AND CAPACITIES, AND SUGGEST TALKS ON THOSE ISSUES LATER IN THE YEAR.

- --DISCUSS THE POSSIBILITIES FOR A NEW MARITIME AGREEMENT, IN THE CONTEXT OF THE IMPERATIVE FOR CHINA TO OPEN UP ITS SHIPPING MARKET, BY ALLOWING U.S. CARRIERS TO OPEN BRANCH OFFICES IN CHINA, JUST AS CHINESE

THE GENEVA ACCORDS, BUT CONTINUE TO TAKE A "WAIT-AND-SEE" ATTITUDE ON POST-WITHDRAWAL POLITICAL ARRANGEMENTS IN KABUL. THEY ARE LESS OPTIMISTIC THAN SOME U.S. ANALYSTS ABOUT THE PROSPECTS FOR AN EARLY COLLAPSE OF THE NAJIB REGIME. TIAN WILL BE INTERESTED IN U.S. VIEWS ON OUR SUPPORT FOR THE RESISTANCE DURING THIS TRANSITIONAL PERIOD.

- --CAMBODIA: THE CHINESE REMAIN FIRMLY COMMITTED TO KEEPING UP THE PRESSURE AGAINST HANOI AND MOSCOW. IT WILL BE TIMELY TO BRIEF TIAN ON OUR RECENT DISCUSSIONS WITH THE SOVIETS AND ALSO ON THE ADMINISTRATION'S RESPONSE TO CONGRESSIONAL PROPOSALS FOR EXCHANGE OF LIAISON OFFICES WITH HANOI. STRESS OUR OPPOSITION TO SUCH INITIATIVES AND OUR FIRM CONTINUITY ON INDOCHINA POLICY.

- --KOREA: THE CHINESE HAVE CONTINUED TO PURSUE UNOFFICIAL TRADE LINKS WITH SOUTH KOREA AND RECENTLY EASED VISA REQUIREMENTS FOR ROK BUSINESSMEN, POLICIES WE KNOW TIAN HAS ENDORSED. IN TALKS WITH TIAN, IT WOULD BE APPROPRIATE TO WELCOME THIS TREND, WHILE ALSO STRESSING OUR HOPE THAT CHINA WILL USE ITS INFLUENCE IN PYONGYANG TO DISCOURAGE ANY DISRUPTION OF THE SEOUL OLYMPIC GAMES. SUBJ: CONVERSATION WITH FINANCE MINISTER BUCHI

1. C - ENTIRE TEXT.
2. SUMMARY: IN MY FIRST CONVERSATION IN SOME TIME WITH FINANCE MINISTER BUCHI MAY 3, HE SUMMARIZED HIS IMPRESSIONS OF US ATTITUDES TOWARD CHILE BASED ON HIS APRIL TALK WITH SECRETARY BAKER AND SPOKE ABOUT THE PRESSURES TO WHICH HE IS SUBJECT (BUT SUCCESSFULLY RESISTING) TO PURSUE EXPANSIONARY POLICIES IN SUPPORT OF THE GOVERNMENT'S POLITICAL CAMPAIGN. END SUMMARY.
3. WHEN BUCHI AND I LAST MET OVER ONE OF OUR PERIODIC BREAKFASTS IN LATE 1987, HE WAS CONCERNED ABOUT US VOTING ON THE SAL III LOAN AND OUR THEN LIKELY DECISION TO DEPRIVE CHILE OF GSP TREATMENT. WHEN WE GOT TOGETHER MAY 3, HE FOCUSED ON THE MESSAGE HE HAD TRIED TO CONVEY TO TREASURY SECRETARY BAKER AND THE IMPRESSIONS HE GOT IN RETURN OF US GOVERNMENT ATTITUDES TOWARD CHILE. ON THE FORMER, HE SAID HE HAD SOUGHT TO EXPRESS A SENSE OF THE SUCCESSFUL EFFORTS CHILE HAS MADE TO PREPARE FOR A RETURN TO THE VOLUNTARY MARKET, DESPITE DIFFICULTIES IT HAD ENCOUNTERED ON THE PART OF THE CREDITOR BANKS,
CONFIDENTIAL

EVEN GIVEN CHILE'S SUBSTANTIAL ACCOMPLISHMENTS IN THE MANAGEMENT OF ITS ECONOMY. HE FOUND IT IRONIC THAT THE BANKS SHOULD BE SO TIMID TO RECOGNIZE ACCOMPLISHMENTS THAT THEY THEMSELVES WERE ADVOCATING. IN ANY CASE, NOW THAT CHILE HAD BROUGHT ITSELF TO A POSITION WHERE IT COULD BEGIN TO RE-ENTER THE VOLUNTARY MARKET, IT WAS IMPORTANT FOR HIM TO KNOW WHAT THE US ATTITUDE WOULD BE IF CHILE WERE TO EMBARK ON A MEXICO-LIKE PROGRAM OF ZERO COUPON BONDS OR WERE TO WANT TO PARTICIPATE IN SOME OF THE PROGRAMS THE WORLD BANK WAS CONSIDERING, SAY IN THE AREA OF CO-FINANCING. IN THE FORMER CASE, SUPPORT FROM THE US GOVERNMENT COMPARABLE TO THAT GIVEN MEXICO (THOUGH OBVIOUSLY DIFFERENT IN SCALE) WOULD BE HELPFUL AND IN THE LATTER A POSITIVE ATTITUDE WOULD ALSO BE IMPORTANT.

4. THE MESSAGE HE GOT FROM SECRETARY BAKER AS HE READ IT WAS THAT AT LEAST UNTIL THE PLEBISCITE, CHILE COULD EXPECT NO CHANGE IN TERMS OF US ATTITUDES AND THEREFORE COULD COUNT ON NO SPECIAL HELP. HE UNDERSTOOD FURTHER THAT THE US WOULD WANT TO SEE HOW THE PLEBISCITE WAS CARRIED OUT IN THE NECESSARY CONDITIONS OF FAIRNESS AND OPENNESS. BUCHI SAID HE CONCLUDED FROM SECRETARY BAKER'S PRESENTATION THAT, EVEN THOUGH THE SECRETARY SAID THESE WERE MATTERS WHICH OUGHT TO BE DISCUSSED WITH THE STATE DEPARTMENT AS WELL (HE THOUGHT AMBASSADOR ERRAZURIZ WOULD BE FOLLOWING UP ON THAT ASPECT), THE US LINE WAS VERY CLEAR. IT WAS NOT JUST A MATTER OF CERTAIN CONDITIONS WHICH IF FULFILLED WOULD BRING CERTAIN RESULTS, BUT RATHER THAT THE US GOVERNMENT HAD RESERVATIONS AS SUCH ABOUT THE PRESENT GOVERNMENT OF CHILE WHICH WOULD REMAIN SO LONG AS THAT GOVERNMENT REMAINED IN POWER. CONFIDENTIAL

A SERIES OF STEPS TO PREPARE THE WAY FOR DEMOCRACY THEN THE US GOVERNMENT WOULD TAKE A MORE FAVORABLE ATTITUDE TOWARD CHILEAN ASPIRATIONS OR SPECIFIC REQUESTS THOUGH THIS TIME AS IN THE PAST, SECRETARY BAKER TOO HAD SPOKEN FAVORABLY OF THE CHILEAN ECONOMY'S PERFORMANCE, WHAT WAS DIFFERENT WAS THAT THE GOAL THAT CHILE HAD TO MEET NOW SEEMED TO BE AN EVER RECEDING ONE. THIS IS WHAT HE HAD ALREADY REPORTED TO THE FOREIGN MINISTER AND WOULD HAVE TO REPORT TO PRESIDENT PINOCHET. IN SHORT, HE NO LONGER COULD SAY THAT IF CHILE DID THIS PARTICULAR THING, THEN SOMETHING GOOD WOULD PROBABLY FOLLOW.

6. I TOLD BUCHI THAT, THOUGH I HAD NOT HEARD DIRECTLY ALL THE MESSAGES HE HAD BEEN GIVEN OVER THE LAST SEVERAL YEARS, THE BURDEN OF US CONCERNS HAD BEEN IN THE AREA OF ENSURING A PROMPT RETURN TO DEMOCRACY AND ALSO IMPROVED PERFORMANCE ON HUMAN RIGHTS. IN THE FORMER CASE, IT WAS NEVER SO FAR AS I KNEW A MATTER OF LINKING CERTAIN STEPS WITH CERTAIN CONCRETE PROMISED RESULTS ON THE US SIDE, BUT RATHER A CONVICTION THAT SUCH STEPS WERE A NECESSARY PART OF THE RETURN TO DEMOCRACY. HENCE, ESTABLISHING VOTER REGISTRATION PROCEDURES OR ALLOWING POLITICAL PARTIES TO FUNCTION LEGALLY WERE ALL "NECESSARY BUT NOT SUFFICIENT" STEPS IN THEMSELVES. WHETHER THEY WERE SUFFICIENT COULD ONLY

BE SEN WHEN THE COUNTRY DID INDEED RETURN TO A DEMOCATIC SET-UP. BUCHI INTERJECTED THAT IT WAS ONY IN HIS MOST RECENT CONVERSATION WITH SECRETAR BAKER THAT HE HAD BEEN GIVEN THIS SAME IMPRESSON.

7. I IN TURN COMMENTED THAT IT WASA FACT THAT THE PRESENT GOVERNMENT DID HAVE NEGATIVE IMAGE IN VARIOUS PARTS PRESENT GOVERNENT DID HAVE A NEGATIVE IMAGE IN OF THE US POLTICAL SPECTRUM AND THAT IT WAS ALSO TRUE THAT W WOULD HAVE PREFERRED TO SEE COMPETITIVE ELECTIONS AS THE MECHANISM FOR RETURN TO DEMOCRACY. NONETHELESS, IT WAS CLEAR THAT THERE WOULD BE A PLEBISCITE AND THEREFORE AS THE STATEMENT AUTHORIZED BY OUR PRESIDENT LAST DECEMBER HAD INDICATED, WE WERE CONCENTRATING ON THE CONDITIONS WE THOUGHT WOULD MAKE THAT PLEBISCITE VALID TO THE EXTENT THAT THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT CARED ABOUT OUTSIDE OPINION, OF COURSE. MY OWN FEELING WAS THAT IF THE PLEBISCITE WERE INDEED PERCEIVED AS HAVING BEEN FAIR AND CONDUCTED IN A FREE ATMOSPHERE, THAT EVEN IF PRESIDENT PINOCHET WON, THAT WAS LIKELY TO BE ACCEPTED AS A FACT, EVEN BY THOSE WHO

DIDN'T LIKE HIS GOVERNMENT. AT THE SAME TIME, EVEN ALLOWING FOR SOME OF THE STEPS THAT HAD BEEN TAKEN, LIKE A BEGINNING OF ACCESS TO TV, THERE WERE STILL

9. REVERTING TO THE QUESTION OF CHILE'S EMBARKING ON NEW BORROWINGS, BUCHI SAID HE WOULD PROBABLY FAVOR LAUNCHING AN APPROACH LIKE ZERO COUPON BONDS, EVEN THOUGH THERE WERE NO INDICATIONS OF US GOVERNMENT SUPPORT. THE AMOUNTS INVOLVED WERE MODEST ENOUGH SO HE THOUGHT IT COULD BE MANAGED. SO FAR AS THE WORLD BANK WAS CONCERNED, HE WOULD HAVE TO WAIT AND SEE WHAT THE CONFIDENTIAL

BANK'S PROPOSALS TURNED OUT TO BE. IN THIS CASE AS WELL, HE SAID HE WOULD PROCEED ON THE ASSUMPTION THAT THE US COULD NOT BE COUNTED ON FOR HELP.

10. WE THEN TURNED BRIEFLY TO THE CHILEAN ECONOMY IN THE PRE-PLEBISCITE PERIOD. BUCHI RECOUNTED THE VERY SUBSTANTIAL PRESSURES TO WHICH HE WAS SUBJECT TO PROVIDE GREATER SUPPORT FOR THE GOVERNMENT'S CAMPAIGN IN THE PLEBISCITE. HE SAID HE SUFFERED UNDER SEVERAL HANDICAPS: 1) THE OPPOSITION WAS ENGAGING IN DEMOCRACY BY ASSERTING

THAT IT WAS GOVERNMENT POLICIES THAT HAD LIMITED IMPROVEMENTS IN CITIZENS' WELL-BEING; 2) GOVERNMENT SUPPORTERS WERE CONVINCED THAT MORE CONSUMER-ORIENTED PROGRAMS WOULD HELP GUARANTEE A VICTORY AND SAID HE WOULD BE THE ONE WHO WOULD HAVE TO CARRY THE BLAME IF THE GOVERNMENT'S CANDIDATE LOST. FOR HIS PART, HE SAID HE HAD HELD OUT AND INSISTED ONLY ON SUCH MEASURES AS WOULD BE COMPATIBLE WITH MAINTAINING A STEADY RATE OF GROWTH. HE HAD REFUSED TO DIP INTO RESERVES THAT WERE BEING ACCUMULATED BECAUSE OF FAVORABLE COPPER PRICES IN ORDER TO PROVIDE FOR ADEQUATE STABILITY OVER THE NEXT YEAR OR SO. THE MEASURES JUST TAKEN TO INCREASE THE MINIMUM WAGE, FOR EXAMPLE, WERE NO MORE THAN WOULD BE JUSTIFIABLE IN KEEPING WITH INCREASES IN THE CONSUMER PRICE INDEX. ACTUALLY, ON BALANCE IT WOULD COME FAIRLY CLOSE TO THE LEVEL PROPOSED LATELY BY LEADING CHILEAN BUSINESSMEN. WHEN I ASKED WHETHER DESPITE HIS AVERSION TO TAKING STEPS WITH A SHORT-TERM POLITICAL IMPACT, HE THOUGHT THESE MEASURES WOULD HAVE A POSITIVE POLITICAL BENEFIT, HE SAID THAT AT LEAST THEY WOULD REDUCE THE PRESSURES ON HIM FOR THE SHORT TERM. WHEN I ASKED ABOUT INFLATION PROSPECTS, HE ESTIMATED THAT

FOR OES/ENR ED PARSONS

E.O. 12356: N/A
TAGS: KSCA, SENV, MX
SUBJECT: CARLOS SALINAS DE GORTARI ON ENVIRONMENT IN - MEXICO CITY

1. SUMMARY. THE PRI PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE ADDRESSED PARTY INVITEES AT A SPECIAL MEETING ON THE ENVIRONMENT ON MAY 9, 1988. SALINAS SPOKE ABOUT THE SERIOUSNESS OF THE SITUATION AND SUGGESTED SOME POSSIBLE PLANS FOR ACTION, WHICH COULD INCLUDE IMPORTING UNLEADED GASOLINE, MORE RAPID INTRODUCTION OF CATALYTIC CONVERTERS AND INCREASED DECENTRALIZATION OF INDUSTRY. HE ALSO CALLED FOR A COMMITMENT BY THE PEOPLE AND THE PRI TO IMPROVE THE ENVIRONMENT OF THE CITY. END SUMMARY.

2. CARLOS SALINAS DE GORTARI, THE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE OF THE INSTITUTIONAL REVOLUTIONARY PARTY (PRI), SPOKE ON THE ENVIRONMENT OF THE FEDERAL DISTRICT TO A SPECIAL ENVIRONMENTAL FORUM OF THE PARTY ON MONDAY, MAY 9, 1988 AT CHAPULTEPEC CASTLE. SCIENCE ATTACHE WAS FORTUNATE TO RECEIVE A SPECIAL INVITATION THROUGH CLOSE CONTACTS AT THE SECRETARIAT OF URBAN DEVELOPMENT AND ECOLOGY (SEDUE). THE MEETING WAS ORGANIZED BY THE CENTER FOR POLITICAL, ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL STUDIES (CEPES) OF THE PRI

AND WAS LINKED BY TELEVISION SIMULCAST WITH FORUMS IN BOSQUES DE ARAGON AND AZCATPOTZALCO (NORTHEASTERN AND NORTHWESTERN SUBURBS).

3. AFTER LISTENING TO THE CRITICISMS AND SUGGESTIONS OF A NUMBER OF ENVIRONMENTAL EXPERTS, ECOLOGY GROUP REPRESENTATIVES AND INTERESTED CITIZENS, THE PRI CANDIDATE RESPONDED BY ADMITTING THE SERIOUSNESS OF THE SITUATION AND ASSURING THOSE PRESENT THAT HE WAS CONFIDENT THAT THE DAMAGE THAT HAS BEEN DONE TO THE ENVIRONMENT OF MEXICO CITY IS REVERSIBLE AND REPARABLE. SALINAS ANECDOTALLY ILLUSTRATED THE GRAVITY OF THE POLLUTION BY NOTING THAT MANY SCHOOLCHILDREN OF THE FEDERAL DISTRICT PAINT THE SKY GRAY IN THEIR ARTWORK. HE INSISTED THAT SOLUTIONS ARE OBTAINABLE BUT THAT THE PRI AND THE CITIZENRY IN GENERAL WOULD HAVE TO RE-DOUBLE THEIR EFFORTS.

4. SPECIFICALLY, SALINAS CALLED FOR AN ACCELERATION OF THE PLANS TO INSTALL CATALYTIC CONVERTERS ON ALL NEW CARS MANUFACTURED IN MEXICO (CURRENTLY SCHEDULED FOR 1991 MODELS) AND OF THE PRODUCTION OF A GUARANTEED SUPPLY OF UNLEADED GASOLINE. HE WENT SO FAR AS TO SUGGEST THAT IF THE MEXICAN PETROLEUM COMPANY (PEMEX) COULD NOT MEET THE DEMANDS IN TIME, MEXICO SHOULD USE ITS FOREIGN CURRENCY RESERVES TO IMPORT UNLEADED GASOLINE.

5. SALINAS REVEALED THAT HE HAD NO SPECIFIC PLAN FOR LATER START-UP TIMES FOR SCHOOLS DURING THE WINTER MONTHS, WHEN POLLUTION IS WORST, BUT WOULD LEAVE IT TO THE VOTERS TO DECIDE BY A REFERENDUM. HE SUGGESTED THAT REFORESTATION OF THE CITY COULD BE ACHIEVED BY ENCOURAGING SCHOOLCHILDREN TO PLANT A TREE, NAME IT AFTER THEMSELVES AND BE RESPONSIBLE FOR ITS CARE. HE NOTED THAT HIS ADMINISTRATION WOULD CONTINUE TO EMPHASIZE THE IMPORTANCE OF DECENTRALIZATION OF INDUSTRY, PRESERVATION OF NATURE RESERVES, TREATMENT OF RESIDUAL WATERS AND PROTECTION OF WATER TABLES.

6. JOSE ARIAS CHAVEZ OF THE PACT OF ECOLOGICAL GROUPS APPEALED TO SALINAS DURING THE MEETING TO ANNOUNCE HIMSELF AND HIS PARTY AGAINST THE OPENING OF THE LAGUNA VERDE NUCLEAR PLANT. SALINAS RESPONDED BY STATING THAT HIS FIRST CONCERN IS FOR THE PROTECTION OF HUMAN LIFE AND HE FAVORS PUTTING IN PLACE PROGRAMS THAT WILL GUARANTEE SUCH PROTECTION. HE WOULD NOT, HOWEVER, SPECIFICALLY STATE THAT HE WAS AGAINST THE OPENING OF THE PLANT.

7. THE PRI CANDIDATE EMPHASIZED THE IMPORTANCE OF COMMUNICATION AND AS AN EXAMPLE POINTED OUT THAT TWO ITEMS OF MISINFORMATION HAD JUST BEEN PRESENTED IN THE SPEECHES PRECEDING HIS OWN, ONE BEING THAT FIXED SOURCES OF POLLUTION ARE THE MAIN PROBLEM OF CONTAMINATION IN THE CITY WHEN IN FACT APPROXIMATELY EIGHTY PERCENT OF THE PROBLEM IS FROM MOBILE SOURCES (CARS, BUSES AND TRUCKS) AND THE OTHER BEING THAT THE GOVERNMENT IS DOING AND HAS DONE NOTHING WHEN IN FACT THEY HAVE BEEN WORKING TIRELESSLY ON THIS OVERWHELMING PROBLEM.

8. SALINAS STRESSED AGAIN AND AGAIN DURING HIS 45 MINUTE TALK THE NEED FOR CITIZEN CO-RESPONSIBILITY AND IN CLOSING QUOTED THE POET JAIME SABINES, WHO HAD SPOKEN EARLIER, SAYING QUOTE YES, WE CAN SAY THAT WE HAVE FOUND A CONSCIOUSNESS ABOUT THE ENVIRONMENT THEREFORE WE HAVE FOUND HOPE FOR THE FUTURE, BUT BETWEEN CONSCIOUSNESS AND HOPE THERE MUST BE A COMMITMENT END QUOTE.

El Salvador: Peace Negotiations

Question: What is the status of the U.N.-sponsored peace negotiations?

Answer

- Progress has been slow since April because the FMLN has been raising new issues rather than settling old ones.
  - -- In April a dramatic agreement was reached on constitutional amendments regarding human rights, judicial, electoral, and military reform.
  - -- The two sides agreed in April to proceed with a "concentrated agenda" limited to terms of a cease-fire and the remaining aspects of a military reform agreement.
  - -- At the Ibero-American Summit in Guadalajara in July, the group of Four Friends of the UNSYG (Mexico, Spain Colombia and Venezuela) called on the Salvadoran Government to ratify the agreed constitutional reforms and urged the FMLN to stop raising new issues at the negotiations and to move rapidly to a cease-fire and a political agreement.
  - -- The GOES has agreed to ratify all the amendments except the one on the military, which requires a cease-fire.
- The USG has been working behind the scenes with the governments of the group of Four Friends of the UNSYG, as well as with the Soviets and others to encourage flexibility on both sides and to assist the UN in moving the talks forward.

Question: How do we justify giving military assistance to El Salvador given their human rights situation? L/DC

Answer

- o Our military and economic assistance help provide us with leverage to speed improvements while shoring up a democratic government that is under attack.

- o Political murder from whatever source has been steadily decreasing. In 1990, the number of non-combat deaths which may have been politically motivated averaged about five per month. This compares with a monthly average of 15 in 1989, 140 in 1983, and 750 in 1980.

- o The FMLN commits numerous human rights violations and its attacks on military targets often employ indiscriminate tactics and inaccurate weapons, often killing civilians. The FMLN continues to attack civilian targets and use civilians as shields during its attacks.

- o The human rights situation is expected to improve further now that the United Nations Observer Mission in El Salvador (ONUSAL) is setting up. ONUSAL will monitor the human rights situation and is expected to verify an eventual cease-fire.

- o The murder by soldiers of six Jesuit priests and two women in November 1989 is a watershed case.

  -- Eight members of the Salvadoran military, including a Colonel, are awaiting trial although the Armed Forces have not ~~always~~ cooperated fully with the investigation. Judicial procedure has moved slowly. ~~but~~ preliminary proceedings ended on August 23, and jury selection should begin in September or October.

  -- We continue to monitor progress in the case closely. Our military assistance is conditioned on a thorough investigation and prosecution of the murderers.

  -- We have provided the judge in the case with voluntary testimony from nine current or former U.S. Government employees who had been assigned to El Salvador and one private citizen.

El Salvador: Pickett/Dawson Murder Case

Question: What is the status of the case regarding the January 2, 1991 murder by FMLN guerrillas of US servicemen LTC Pickett and PFC Dawson?

Answer

- Pickett and Dawson survived the downing of their helicopter, but were subsequently murdered by their FMLN captors. Another American was killed in the crash.

- We insist that the FMLN turn the guerrillas responsible over to Salvadoran or US courts. The Justice Department has issued an indictment against one suspect for two counts of first degree murder and two counts of using a machine gun in a crime of violence.

- The FMLN says it will try two of its men for the murders, but we know of no evidence to support the FMLN's claim that the suspects have been detained.

El Salvador: Military Assistance

Question: What are your plans for providing military assistance to El Salvador? R/DC

Answer

- In late June 1991 the Administration began apportioning 21 million dollars for non-lethal military aid to El Salvador from the 42.5 million still available for fiscal year 1991.

- Actual disbursement of these funds will be on a case-by-case basis for medical supplies, field rations, and spare parts as they are needed. The items are considered sustainment equipment.

- We have also set aside 5 million dollars of the remaining 21.5 million to support UN cease-fire and human rights verification and demobilization of combatants.

- Our preference would be to use our assistance to support a cease-fire. We will reevaluate the situation and review needs as soon as there is a cease-fire. We regret that the FMLN's introduction of sophisticated weapons, including surface-to-air missiles (SAMs), and their failure to agree to a cease-fire continue to make military assistance necessary.

  -- Since November 1990, the FMLN has shot down three Salvadoran military aircraft with SAMs.

  -- The Soviet Union has been helpful in tracing SAMs. This resulted in the arrest of four Nicaraguan Sandinista Army officers in January for "illegally" supplying 28 SAMs to the FMLN.

  -- On August 21 the Salvadoran Army discovered a large FMLN arms cache in San Salvador which included six SAMs, mortar shells, rocket propelled grenades, explosives, rifles and ammunition.

- In making decisions on military assistance we continue to be guided by the security situation, progress in negotiations, and progress in the Jesuit Case.

2. (U) TWENTY-NINE WOUNDED GUERRILLAS

ON MAY 4, TWENTY-NINE SERIOUSLY WOUNDED COMBATANTS OF THE FARABUNDO MARTI NATIONAL LIBERATION FRONT (FMLN) LEFT EL SALVADOR FOR CANCUN, MEXICO. FROM CANCUN, THE INDIVIDUALS WERE SUPPOSED TO DIVIDE UP INTO GROUPS DESTINED FOR CUBA, SWEDEN AND FRANCE FOR TREATMENT OF THEIR WOUNDS. AMONG THE WOUNDED WERE THREE WOMEN, SEVERAL AMPUTEES AND A HOST OF OTHER GUERRILLAS SUFFERING FROM BULLET WOUNDS SUSTAINED IN COMBAT. THE WAR-WOUNDED HAD BEEN RECUPERATING INSIDE THE CATHOLIC CHURCH-RUN SAN JOSE CALLE REAL DISPLACED PERSONS CAMP LOCATED SEVEN KILOMETERS NORTH OF SAN SALVADOR. THEY WERE TRANSPORTED BY VEHICLE FROM CALLE REAL TO COMALAPA INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT UNDER THE PROTECTION OF THE INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE OF THE [redacted]

3. (U) THE WOUNDED WAITED NEARLY FIVE HOURS AT COMALAPA BEFORE DEPARTING ABOARD AN ICRC-CHARTERED LACSA FLIGHT TO CANCUN. SEVERAL OF THEM WERE INTERVIEWED BY THE LOCAL PRESS. ONE FIGHTER VOLUNTEERED THAT HE PLANNED TO RETURN TO EL SALVADOR AND REJOIN THE FMLN AFTER HIS RECUPERATION. ANOTHER STATED, "TODAY MORE THAN EVER VICTORY IS NEAR AND THE DETERIORATION OF THE REGIME IS EVIDENT."

4. (U) ACCORDING TO A MAY 5 HAVANA TELE-REBELDE NETWORK BROADCAST, ALL 29 OF THE EVACUEES HAD LANDED IN HAVANA. THE SAME RADIO REPORT CLAIMED THAT THIS WAS THE FIFTH GROUP OF FMLN WAR-WOUNDED TO ARRIVE IN CUBA.

NEGOTIATIONS BY ARCHBISHOP OF SAN SALVADOR ARTURO RIVERA DAMAS WITH THE FMLN AND THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT. DURING THE FIRST HALF OF 1987, THE ARCHBISHOP HAD SUCCESSFULLY NEGOTIATED THREE EVACUATIONS OF WOUNDED GUERRILLAS: 42 IN JANUARY (REF D), 20 IN MARCH (REF E) AND 98 MORE IN JUNE (REF F). THE EVACUATION TOOK PLACE WITHIN THE FRAMEWORK AGREED TO ON JANUARY 25-26, 1987 IN PANAMA BETWEEN THE GOES AND THE FMLN/FDR. THE FMLN STATED THAT THE GOES HAD AGREED TO FACILITATE THE EVACUATION OF SERIOUSLY WOUNDED WITHIN THE TERMS OF THE AGREEMENT, THE GOVERNMENT ON THE OTHER HAND MAINTAINED THAT NO SUCH BROAD AGREEMENT EXISTED AND EACH EVACUATION WAS A SEPARATE ISSUE.

The documents are, for the most part, lists of names, addresses, telephone numbers and expenses plus an outline of the government which, presumably, was to replace the JRG. Among the more interesting--and mysterious--of the documents is a single page list of extreme rightists plus a list of equipment for "Operation Pina." Pina may have been the code word for the assassination of Archbishop Romero but nothing in the documentation states that. While we have the unconfirmed statements of what has been a neurosis-plagued but reliable source which do incriminate D'Aubuisson in the murder of the Archbishop (Refs A and B), we cannot find evidence to justify that conclusion in the "Majano papers." Columnist Buendia (Ref C) has the same documents which we have but far less regard for accuracy. END SUMMARY.

3. Embassy has in its possession copies of the papers taken from Major Roberto D'Aubuisson when he was arrested in May 1980. Personnel at Post do not recall exactly how those copies came to this Embassy. They may have been given to ~~former~~ Ambassador White by Col. Majano. It is our understanding that statements linking D'Aubuisson with the Archbishop Romero assassination made in the past by ~~both~~ Col. Majano and ~~Ambassador White~~ are based on this documentation. Mexican columnist Buendia has made the link explicit. He has also added additional twists to the already tangled web that is the murder of Romero and the allegations of responsibility for it. Following is our summary of the documents and an effort to disentangle what is known from what is conjecture.

4. DOCUMENTS: The set of documents is made up as follows:

-- copies of the pages of a desk calendar which

DECLASSIFIED
OPTIONAL FORM 153A (Formerly FS-413A) January 1975 Dept. of State
83F116,9

belonged to (or, more precisely, has on the cover the name of) one Alvaro Rafael Saravia, a rightist captain who was arrested along with D'Aubuisson;

-- copies of the pages of a second calendar which was used as a notebook (owner unidentified);

-- copies of notes written on both plain and hotel (e.g., Capitol Hyatt, Miami Inter-Continental) stationery;

-- two lists of armed forces contacts;

-- a list of all of those arrested on May 7, 1980 during the Santa Tecla raid on the coup plotters by Col. Majano (the list was presumably added by those who took the plotters in); and

-- a page which lists the extreme right's most notorious younger (generally under 40) civilian members and the equipment needed for "Operation Pina" (this page is a photocopy of what originally were two pages of apparent hotel stationery).

5. The Saravia calendar/notebook lists names, addresses, and telephone numbers of many well-known rightist extremists and also of many people unknown to this Embassy. It also was used as an accounting ledger by the owner to keep track of purchases of weapons, food, lodging, plane tickets, and other items and of payments to bodyguards and members of the security forces--

(e.g., "500 colones...advance to Lt. Leiva.") The second notebook contains a goals and objectives statement for a post-JRG government run by F.A.N., the defunct "Broad National Front" from which ARENA sprang. The notepad jottings cite contacts made (or to be made) in Washington DC and names of candidates for positions in a hoped for rightist government. The Operation Pina page has written on it under "equipment": "1 starlight, 1 257 Robert's, 4 automatics, grenades, 1 driver, 1 rifleman, 4 security." On what originally was a separate page are listed the names of ten tough and wealthy rightists plus an eleventh who is listed only as "Lumumba". We do not know Lumumba.

6. UNTANGLING EFFORT: We recall that Ambassador White said several weeks ago that the Department has in its possession documents which prove the involvement of Major D'Aubuisson in the murder of Archbishop Romero. At the time he reportedly also stated that those documents were turned over to the USG in 1980. Columnist Buendia has now surfaced the documents to which White referred and claims to have positively established the link between the Major and the murder. ~~[illegible]~~ (He adds that the documents show that D'Aubuisson "still heads" a criminal band of ominous proportions, a statement which we view as peculiar given that the documents are two years old and unlikely to demonstrate that something "still" goes on.) The fact of the matter is that without an interpreter--i.e., one of the authors or someone linked very closely to them--those documents are nothing more than an informational goulash which does not explain the murder of Romero, nor that of Mario Zamora, nor any other specific act of rightist terrorism which has occurred in this or any other country. No such interpreter has come forward, Buendia's transparently mendacious claims of "expert analysis" notwithstanding. There is no denying the fact that the purchases, travels and expenses outlined in the papers represent the activities of nefarious sorts who in early 1980 were engaged in ruthless actions to destabilize the JRG. But to go beyond that and state specifically, for instance, that Operation Pina was the Romero assassination plan is speculation.

7. We have attempted to find an interpreter. PolOff's source who claims to know about the Archbishop's muder (Refs A and B) looked at them but fared poorly. Among the names and telephone numbers he did spot the first name and the pseudonym of the man who he claimed actually shot Romero, the now deceased Walter Antonio Alvarez or "Musa". He recognized the names of other friends. But, for the most part, the documents were hieroglyphics to him. He did not recognize Pina and denied that a small calibre bullet killed Romero; it was instead, he said, a 9 mm shot which killed him. (On the other hand, other sources, Vice President Alvergue among them, insist that it was a small calibre.) Thus, we still have no interpreter.

8. The Majano papers are--to quote Buendia--sinister; evil intent lurks throughout them. But they raise more questions than they answer. Who wrote them and what they mean is not clear to us but we will continue to try to find out. Buendia, if he were honest, would do the same.

OUTLOOK. MOST EMIGRATING SALVADORANS ARE NOT FLEEING

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

POLITICAL PERSECUTION, BUT RATHER ARE LEAVING FOR ECONOMIC REASONS. EL SALVADOR IS ALSO A REFUGEE-RECEIVING NATION WITH A SMALL, BUT STABLE NICARAGUAN POPULATION. THE TINY SIZE OF THE NICARAGUAN REFUGEE COMMUNITY DOES NOT WARRANT ANY SPECIAL GOVERNMENT ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS. REPATRIATING SALVADORANS ARE ELIGIBLE FOR GOES FOOD, SHELTER AND TEMPORARY WORK PROGRAMS FOR THE DISPLACED POPULATION. TO THE BEST OF THE EMBASSY'S KNOWLEDGE, NO REPATRIATING SALVADORAN OR LEGITIMATE FOREIGN REFUGEE HAS BEEN REFUSED ENTRY BY THE GOES. THERE ARE NO KNOWN INSTANCES OF OFFICIAL PERSECUTION OF SALVADORAN REPATRIATES OR RESIDENT NICARAGUANS. END SUMMARY.

2. THE FOLLOWING PARAGRAPHS CONTAIN THE EMBASSY'S SUBMISSION FOR THE 1988 WORLD REFUGEE REPORT. THE TEXT IS KEYED TO THE SUBSECTIONS CONTAINED IN PARAGRAPH 3 OF REF A.

EL SALVADOR AS A REFUGEE-GENERATING COUNTRY

A. PRIMARY CAUSES OF REFUGEE OUTFLOWS:
---

3. THE PRIMARY CAUSES OF REFUGEE OUTFLOWS CONTINUE TO BE THE ONGOING WAR, THE TROUBLED ECONOMY AND THE GROWING POPULATION. WHEN THE WAR BEGAN IN 1979, THE RANKS OF REFUGEES AND DISPLACED PERSONS SWELLED AS PEASANTS, CAUGHT BETWEEN THE ARMED FORCES AND THE GUERRILLAS, FLED CONFLICTIVE AREAS. IN LATE 1980, POLITICAL KILLINGS OF CIVILIANS REACHED AN ALL-TIME HIGH OF 750 PER MONTH. AS MANY AS 500,000 PERSONS WERE DISPLACED INTERNALLY DURING THE FIRST FIVE YEARS OF THE WAR WHILE PERHAPS AS MANY AGAIN LEFT THE COUNTRY.

4. FLIGHT FROM POLITICAL VIOLENCE, HOWEVER, IS NO LONGER THE KEY FACTOR IN A SALVADORAN'S DECISION TO LEAVE HIS OR HER HOMELAND. SINCE 1984, THE PRIMARY MOTIVATION FOR MIGRATION FROM EL SALVADOR HAS BEEN TO

El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (19[illegible])

SEARCH FOR ECONOMIC BETTERMENT RATHER THAN TO ESCAPE POLITICAL PERSECUTION. STRICTLY SPEAKING, THE VAST MAJORITY OF SALVADORANS EMIGRAIING TODAY DO NOT MEET THE CRITERIA TO BE INTERNATIONALLY RECOGNIZED AS REFUGEES.

5. THE LACK OF ECONOMIC OPPRTUNITY AND THE GENERAL ECONOMIC DOWNTURN ACCOMANYING THE WAR IN EL SALVADOR ARE FUELING THE DIVE TO EMIGRATE. THE EMBASSY BELIEVES THAT TE COUNTRY'S COMBINED UNEMPLOYMENT/UNDEREMPLYMENT FIGURE IS AROUND 30 PERCENT. POPULATIO PRESSURE ALSO CONTRIBUTES TO INTENSE COMPETITIN IN THE JOB MARKET. DESPITE RECENT DECLINESIN FERTILITY AND BIRTH RATES, EL SALVADOR IS TILL THE MOST DENSELY POPULATED COUNTRY ON THE MAINLAND OF THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE.

6. THE COSTS OF THE WAR ARE STAGGERING AND CONTINUE TO MOUNT. THE EMBASSY ESTIMATES DAMAGE TO THE SALVADORAN ECONOMY FROM 1979 TO 1986 CAUSED BY THE INTERNAL CONFLICT EXCEEDS USD 1.5 BILLION.

EL SALVADOR'S 1987 GDP WAS 16 PERCENT LOWER IN REAL TERMS THAN IN 1978, THE YEAR PRIOR TO THE WAR. GIVEN RELATIVELY HIGH POPULATION GROWTH, REAL GDP PER CAPITA FELL BY 27 PERCENT OVER THE SAME PERIOD. DURING THE COURSE OF THE WAR, AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTION FOR EXPORT DROPPED ABOUT 22 PERCENT DUE TO WAR DAMAGE, FALLING WORLD MARKET PRICES, AGRARIAN REFORM, ETC. THE INDUSTRIAL SECTOR EXPERIENCED A 17 PERCENT DECLINE IN OUTPUT BETWEEN 1979 AND 1987.

7. THE EMBASSY ESTIMATES THAT OVER ONE MILLION

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

SALVADORANS HAVE DEPARTED THE COUNTRY SINCE THE BEGINNING OF THE WAR AND ARE LIVING ABROAD. OFFICIAL GOES FIGURES SHOW A NET MIGRATION OF 800,000 INDIVIDUALS FROM 1970 THROUGH 1986. ACCORDING TO GOVERNMENT RECORDS, NET EMIGRATION EXCEEDED 50,000 PER ANNUM FROM 1984 TO 1986. ALTHOUGH NO STATISTICAL BREAKDOWN EXISTS, ANNUAL ILLEGAL IMMIGRATION TO THE U.S. PROBABLY ACCOUNTS FOR ABOUT 80 PERCENT OF NET EMIGRATION (40,000 PER YEAR). THE EMBASSY EXPECTS SALVADORAN EMIGRATION TO INCREASE AS THE RESULT OF THE IMMIGRATION REFORM ACT AS FAMILY MEMBERS JOIN THEIR RELATIVES WHO WERE GRANTED AMNESTY.

8. THE FOLLOWING TABLE LISTS AN APPROXIMATION OF MAJOR SALVADORAN POPULATIONS OUTSIDE EL SALVADOR AND IS NOT LIMITED TO RECOGNIZED REFUGEES. THESE FIGURES WERE DEVELOPED LOCALLY AND OTHER POSTS MAY HAVE ACCESS TO MORE ACCURATE INFORMATION.

COUNTRY OF RESIDENCE	SALVADORAN POPULATION
UNITED STATES	600,000-800,000 (1)

C. STATUS OF REFUGEE-PRODUCING CONDITIONS:

9. THE NUMBER OF LEGITIMATE SALVADORAN POLITICAL REFUGEES FLEEING FROM PERSECUTION OR THREATS CONTINUED TO DROP. THE IMPROVING HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IS THE PRIMARY REASON. IN THE FIRST 11 MONTHS OF 1987, THE NUMBER OF POLITICAL KILLINGS PER MONTH DROPPED TO AN AVERAGE OF 19, THE FIRST TIME THE FIGURE HAS DIPPED BELOW 20 SINCE THE BEGINNING OF THE WAR.

10. ONE SIGN OF IMPROVED CONDITIONS IN EL SALVADOR IS THE SIGNIFICANT MOVEMENT OF INTERNALLY DISPLACED PERSONS BACK TO THEIR HOMES SINCE 1986. OVER 30,000 DISPLACED PERSONS HAVE PERMANENTLY RESETTLED IN THEIR HOMETOWNS OR NEW LOCATIONS OVER THE PAST TWO YEARS. THE RETURNEE MOVEMENT'S IMPETUS COMES FROM PERSONAL DECISIONS BY DISPLACED PERSONS THEMSELVES RATHER THAN BECAUSE OF ANY GOVERNMENTAL OR NON-GOVERNMENTAL

11. THE NOVEMBER 1987 RETURN OF DEMOCRATIC REVOLUTIONARY FRONT (FDR) LEADERS RUBEN ZAMORA AND GUILLERMO UNGO SERVES AS ANOTHER INDICATOR OF THE ABSENCE OF POLITICAL PERSECUTION HERE. (NOTE: THE FDR IS A TWO POLITICAL PARTY COALITION ALLIED WITH THE FARABUNDO MARTI NATIONAL LIBERATION FRONT (FMLN), THE UMBRELLA GROUP FOR THE FIVE GUERRILLA FACTIONS SEEKING TO OVERTHROW THE GOVERNMENT.) RUBEN ZAMORA AGAIN RETURNED TO SAN SALVADOR IN JAN. 1988 AND HAS BEEN OPERATING AS AN OPPOSITION POLITICIAN, GIVING PRESS

REGISTERED WITH THE CENTRAL ELECTIONS COMMISSION IN TIME FOR THE MARCH 1989 PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS. ACCORDING TO HIS DEPUTY UNGO PLANS TO RETURN TO EL SALVADOR "MORE OR LESS PERMANENTLY" IN LATE MAY 1988.

12. AT THE SAME TIME, THE NUMBER OF ECONOMICALLY-MOTIVATED EMIGRANTS FROM EL SALVADOR APPEARS TO HAVE REMAINED CONSTANT FOR ALL OF THE REASONS OUTLINED ABOVE. THE DIRTH OF ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITIES, COMBINED WITH A GENERAL IMPATIENCE WITH EIGHT YEARS OF WAR, IS LEADING INDIVIDUALS TO SEEK RESETTLMENT IN DIFFERENT COUNTRIES. THE SAN SALVADOR ICM OFFICE REPORTS THAT ITS NUMBER OF APPLICANTS SEEKING RELOCATION IS UP 115 PERCENT IN THE FIRST QUARTER OF 1988 OVER THE SAME PERIOD LAST YEAR.

D. REPATRIATION OF REFUGEES IN THE LAST YEAR:

13. THE NUMBER OF EXPATRIATE SALVADORANS RETURNING FROM ABROAD, EITHER SINGLY OR IN GROUPS, HAS INCREASED MARKEDLY DURING THE PAST YEAR. THE BIGGEST REPATRIATION STORY OF 1987 WAS THE RETURN OF 5,595 SALVADORAN REFUGEES FROM HONDURAN REFUGEE CAMPS. BY DECIDING TO RETURN HOME, THESE REFUGEES IMPLICITLY RECOGNIZED THAT THE INTENSITY OF THE CONFLICT HAD LESSENED AND THE CONDUCT OF THE ARMED FORCES TOWARD THE CIVILIAN POPULATION HAD IMPROVED.

14. PRESIDENT DUARTE HAS ALWAYS RECOGNIZED THE

CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHT OF SALVADORANS TO RETURN TO THEIR COUNTRY ON A VOLUNTARY, ORDERLY AND INDIVIDUAL BASIS, WHICH HE REAFFIRMED BY SIGNING THE ESQUIPULAS II PEACE ACCORD AUGUST 7, 1987 WITH THE OTHER FOUR CENTRAL AMERICAN PRESIDENTS. THE GOVERNMENT OVERCAME MISGIVINGS ABOUT BEING ABLE TO GUARANTEE SECURITY AND BASIC SERVICES IN ISOLATED, CONFLICTIVE RURAL AREAS AND ALLOWED RETURNEES FROM HONDURAS TO RESETTLE IN THEIR PLACES OF ORIGIN.

15. ON OCTOBER 10-11, 198", OVER 4300 REFUGEES

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

REPATRIATED EN MASSE TO EL SALVADOR FROM THE MESA GRANDE CAMP INSIDE HONDURAS. THIS REPATRIATION, THE LARGEST OF ITS KIND TO DATE IN CENTRAL AMERICA, WAS CARRIED OUT WITHOUT INCIDENT BY UNHCR IN AGREEMENT WITH THE GOVERNMENTS OF EL SALVADOR AND HONDURAS. THE REFUGEES WHO RETURNED IN OCTOBER 1987 CHOSE TO RETURN TO FIVE LOCATIONS SITUATED IN WHAT ARE STILL VERY CONFLICTIVE NORTHERN AREAS: LAS YUELTAS, CHALATENANGO DEPT.; GUARJILA, CHALATENANGO DEPT.; GUARJILITA, CHALATENANGO DEPT.; SANTA MARTA, CABANAS DEPT.; AND COPAPAYO: CUSCATLAN DEPT.

16. THE RETURNEES SETTLED IN WITH HELP (FOOD, MEDICAL SUPPLIES, HOUSING CONSTRUCTION MATERIALS, LATRINES, ETC.) FROM THE CATHOLIC ARCHDIOCESE OF SAN SALVADOR AND THE LUTHERAN CHURCH. BOTH CHURCHES HAVE CONFIRMED THAT ALL OF THEIR HUMANITARIAN AID SHIPMENTS TO THE REPATRIATE COMMUNITIES HAVE REACHED THEIR FINAL DESTINATIONS, DESPITE TEMPORARY DELAYS IN DELIVERIES BECAUSE OF ONGOING MILITARY OPERATIONS.

MONTHS TO DOCUMENT THEM, BUT THE PROCESS HAS BEEN SLOW. TO DATE, ABOUT THIRTY PERCENT OF THE REPATRIATES HAVE RECEIVED PERMANENT IDENTITY CARDS. MOST ADULT REFUGEES RETURNING FROM MESA GRANDE POSSESSED NO IDENTITY DOCUMENTS. CHILDREN, WHO COMPRISED THE LARGEST SEGMENT OF THE RETURNEE GROUP, EITHER HAD NEVER BEEN DOCUMENTED BEFORE LEAVING EL SALVADOR OR WERE BORN UNDOCUMENTED INSIDE MESA GRANDE. THE PROBLEM IS COMPOUNDED BY THE GUERRILLAS' DESTRUCTION OF MUNICIPAL RECORDS IN TWO TOWNS AND FEAR BY SEVERAL MAYORS IN EXILE TO RETURN AND WORK IN THEIR COMMUNITIES.

19. DURING THEIR SEVEN MONTHS LIVING INSIDE EL SALVADOR, THE MESA GRANDE RETURNEES HAVE EXPERIENCED A LOW INCIDENCE OF POLITICAL AND SECURITY PROBLEMS. THERE HAVE BEEN TWO WAR-RELATED DEATHS SINCE THEIR RETURN: THE JAN. 11 ASSASSINATION OF A SANTA MARTA RESIDENT BY THE FMLN AND THE APR. 29 DEATH OF A CHILD WHO WAS PLAYING WITH A GRENADE WHICH EXPLODED IN GUARJILA.

20. RUMORS OF ANOTHER MASSIVE REPATRIATION FROM MESA GRANDE HAVE SURFACED SINCE OCT. 1987, BUT REFUGEE ORGANIZERS HAVE NOT YET PUT FORTH ANY CONCRETE PLANS. UNHCR, GOES AND GOH REPRESENTATIVES HAVE MET TWICE IN THE LAST SEVEN MONTHS UNDER THE AUSPICES OF THE TRIPARTITE COMMISSION, BUT HAVE NOT YET FIRMED UP A SYSTEMATIC PLAN TO MANAGE FUTURE MASS REPATRIATIONS.

21. DURING 1987, INDIVIDUAL REPATRIATIONS FROM THE HONDURAN CAMPS EXCEEDED 1,000. INDIVIDUAL RETURNEES RELIED ON UNHCR AND, IN SOME CASES, THE GOVERNMENT'S NATIONAL COMMISSION FOR THE DISPLACED OF EL SALVADOR (CONADES), FOR ASSISTANCE. UPON RETURN, INDIVIDUAL REPATRIATES RECEIVE SAFE CONDUCT PASSES FROM THE GOVERNMENT PENDING RECEIPT OF PERMANENT IDENTITY DOCUMENTATION. THE VAST MAJORITY OF THE INDIVIDUAL RETURNEES CAME FROM MESA GRANDE, ALTHOUGH A FEW TRICKLED IN FROM COLOMONCAGUA AND THE OTHER CAMPS IN THE EAST.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

22. SALVADORANS ALSO CONTINUED TO RETURN FROM THE UNITED STATES AND OTHER CENTRAL AMERICAN COUNTRIES, BUT NOT IN GREAT NUMBERS. THERE ARE NO KNOWN STATISTICS TRACKING SALVADORANS WHO RETURN VOLUNTARILY FROM THE U.S. OR OTHER COUNTRIES WITHOUT ASSISTANCE. FROM 1984-1986, A YEARLY AVERAGE OF 6,900 SALVADORANS WHO ILLEGALLY ENTERED THE U.S. WERE APPREHENDED BY THE AUTHORITIES AND FORCED TO LEAVE THE U.S. NO CURRENT FIGURES ARE AVAILABLE, BUT INS REPORTS BORDER APPREHENSIONS OF ILLEGAL SALVADORAN IMMIGRANTS HAVE DOUBLED IN THE FIRST QUARTER OF CY-1988, AS COMPARED TO THE SAME PERIOD LAST YEAR.

23. THE STATISTICS FOR UNHCR-ASSISTED REPATRIATIONS DURING THE FIRST QUARTER OF 1988 FOLLOW. THE MOST NOTABLE TRENDS ARE THE RISE IN RETURNEES FROM NICARAGUA AND FROM THE COLOMONCAGUA REFUGEE CAMP IN HONDURAS. THE 1988 FIRST QUARTER NUMBER OF REPATRIATES FROM COLOMONCAGUA (40) EXCEEDS THE TOTAL FOR ALL OF 1987 (27).

ICM REPRESENTATIVES MET AND MAINTAINED CONTACT WITH SOME 9,530 RETURNEES BETWEEN DECEMBER 1984 AND DECEMBER 1986. LESS THAN 70 RETURNING INDIVIDUALS (UNDER ONE PERCENT OF THE SAMPLE) REPORTED PERSONAL SECURITY PROBLEMS SINCE THEIR ARRIVAL.

EL SALVADOR AS A REFUGEE-RECEIVING COUNTRY

A. STATUS OF THE REFUGEE PRESENCE:
---

25. REFUGEES ENTERING EL SALVADOR ARE ALMOST EXCLUSIVELY NICARAGUANS. ALTHOUGH THE UNHCR RECOGNIZES APPROXIMATELY 400 NICARAGUAN REFUGEES LIVING IN EL SALVADOR, THE EMBASSY ESTIMATES THAT THE TOTAL NICARAGUAN REFUGEE POPULATION EXCEEDS 1,500. NO NATIONWIDE REFUGEE CENSUS EXISTS, AND REGISTRATION OF INCOMING NICARAGUANS BY SALVADORAN AUTHORITIES IS SPORADIC. THE NUMBER OF NICARAGUANS ENTERING THIS COUNTRY APPEARS TO HAVE LEVELED OFF AFTER A NOTABLE SURGE IN 1986. THE BULK OF THE NICARAGUANS ARE LIVING IN SOUTHEASTERN LA UNION DEPT., SOUTHERN/CENTRAL SAN

MIGUEL DEPT., AND OFF THE COAST ON THE CONTESTED ISLAND OF MEANGUERA.

B. DEVELOPMENTS IN GRANTING REFUGEE/ASYLUM STATUS:
---

26. THE GOES AND THE UNHCR HAVE BEEN NEGOTIATING A REFUGEE CONVENTION WHICH WOULD GIVE LEGAL STATUS TO REFUGEES FOR THE PAST THREE YEARS. IN PRACTICE, BOTH SIDES FEEL AN AGREEMENT IS NEEDED BUT THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH OF THE GOVERNMENT HAS NOT YET APPROVED A TEXT FOR SUBMISSION TO THE NATIONAL ASSEMBLY. THE LEADING OPPOSITION PARTY'S RECENT VICTORY IN NATIONAL LEGISLATIVE ELECTIONS MAKES PROGRESS ON THE CONVENTION UNLIKELY IN THE NEAR FUTURE.

C. POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC IMPACT OF REFUGEES:

27. THE TINY RESIDENT REFUGEE POPULATION HAS A NEGLIGIBLE POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC IMPACT ON THE COUNTRY.

D. AGENCIES WITH REFUGEE ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS:

28. THE UNHCR IS THE ONLY AGENCY ASSISTING FOREIGN REFUGEES IN EL SALVADOR. UNHCR HELPS INCOMING NICARAGUANS WITH DOCUMENTATION AND LOCAL INTEGRATION. THE UNHCR'S SOLE MATERIAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAM IS A MODEST ONE WHICH DISTRIBUTES AGRICULTURAL AND FISHING

NICARAGUAN REFUGEES ARE DOCUMENTED BY THE GOVERNMENT AFTER BEING SCREENED BY THE UNHCR. REFUGEES CURRENTLY RECEIVE A SPECIAL IDENTIFICATION CARD FROM THE GOVERNMENT VALID FOR ONE YEAR.

30. THE GOES DOES NOT PROVIDE ANY SPECIAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS SPECIFICALLY TARGETED FOR REFUGEES AND THE SMALL NUMBER OF REFUGEES HAS NOT WARRANTED ONE TO DATE. SUBJECT: TEXT OF TESTIMONY BY RICHARD SCHIFTER
FOLLOWING IS THE TEXT OF TESTIMONY BY RICHARD SCHIFTER, ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF STATE FOR HUMAN RIGHTS AND HUMANITARIAN AFFAIRS BEFORE THE U.S. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, SUBCOMMITTEE ON HUMAN RIGHTS AND INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS AND THE SUBCOMMITTEE ON WESTERN HEMISPHERE AFFAIRS, MAY 17, 1988
BEGIN TEXT:

1. CHILE IS FAST APPROACHING A POLITICAL WATERSHED. SOME TIME WITHIN THE NEXT NINE MONTHS, THE PRECISE DAY TO BE FIXED BY THE HEADS OF THE ARMED FORCES, A PLEBISCITE IS TO BE HELD IN WHICH THE CHILEAN PEOPLE WILL BE CALLED UPON TO MAKE A VERY BASIC AND IMPORTANT DECISION AS TO THE FUTURE OF THEIR GOVERNMENT. THEY WILL HAVE THE OPPORTUNITY TO RATIFY OR REJECT A CANDIDATE NAMED BY THE INCUMBENT GOVERNMENT FOR AN EIGHT-YEAR TERM AS PRESIDENT. THIS WILL BE THE FIRST TIME IN EIGHTEEN YEARS IN WHICH THE PEOPLE OF CHILE WILL BE ABLE TO GO TO THE POLLS TO DECIDE ON THEIR FUTURE NATIONAL LEADERSHIP.

2. IT IS NOT ONLY THE PLEBISCITE ITSELF BUT THE NATURE OF THE PROCESS WHICH SURROUNDS IT THAT WILL DETERMINE CHILE'S FUTURE AND WITH IT THE COURSE OF U.S.-CHILEAN RELATIONS IN THE YEARS AHEAD. SUPPORT FOR THE RESTORATION OF FULL AND EFFECTIVE DEMOCRACY AT THE EARLIEST POSSIBLE MOMENT CONTINUES TO BE THE CORNERSTONE OF UNITED STATES POLICY TOWARDS CHILE. PROGRESS TOWARD DEMOCRACY MUST, OF COURSE, BE INTERTWINED WITH FULL RESPECT FOR ALL OTHER HUMAN RIGHTS.

3. SUPPORTERS OF CHILEAN DEMOCRACY HAVE MADE THE POINT THAT FOR THE RESULT OF THE PLEBISCITE TO BE RECOGNIZED AS A VALID EXPRESSION OF THE WILL OF THE CHILEAN PEOPLE, THE VOTING MUST TAKE PLACE AGAINST A BACKGROUND WHICH ASSURES A FREE AND FAIR VOTE. FOR THE VOTE TO BE SEEN AS FREE AND FAIR, A NUMBER OF TESTS WOULD HAVE TO BE MET, AMONG WHICH THE FOLLOWING FOUR STAND OUT. FIRST, A MAJOR PROPORTION OF THE ELIGIBLE VOTERS WILL HAVE TO BE REGISTERED. THIS HAS GENERALLY BEEN ASSUMED TO BE AT LEAST SIX MILLION, OR 75 PERCENT OF THE ELIGIBLE POPULATION. SECOND, THE CIRCUMSTANCES SURROUNDING THE RUN-UP TO THE PLEBISCITE HAVE TO BE SUCH AS TO GIVE DIFFERING OPINIONS A FULL AND FAIR OPPORTUNITY TO BE HEARD AND TO REACH THE VOTERS. THIRD, THE VOTE MUST TAKE PLACE IN AN ATMOSPHERE FREE OF FEAR AND INTIMIDATION. FOURTH, THE VOTE COUNT MUST BE ACCURATE AND FREE OF FRAUD.

4. IT APPEARS THAT GOOD PROGRESS IS BEING MADE IN MEETING THE FIRST OF THESE TESTS. THE PEOPLE OF CHILE CAN LOOK WITH PRIDE AT THE FACT THAT AFTER ALL THESE YEARS IN WHICH DEMOCRACY HAS BEEN ABSENT FROM THEIR COUNTRY, MORE THAN 75 PERCENT OF THE ELIGIBLE POPULATION IS LIKELY TO REGISTER. THE CHALLENGE NOW IS WHETHER OTHER CONDITIONS NECESSARY TO ASSURE A FREE AND FAIR EXPRESSION OF THE POPULAR WILL ARE TO BE MET AS WELL. IT IS OUR SINCERE HOPE THAT THEY WILL BE.

5. THE HURDLES THAT CHILE WILL HAVE TO OVERCOME IN ITS EFFORT TO RETURN TO DEMOCRACY SHOULD NOT BE UNDERESTIMATED. THOUGH THE GREAT MAJORITY OF THE CHILEAN PEOPLE HAS TRADITIONALLY BEEN COMMITTED TO PRINCIPLES OF DEMOCRACY AND HUMAN RIGHTS, ANTI-DEMOCRATIC FORCES HAVE BEEN AT WORK AT BOTH EXTREMES OF THE POLITICAL SPECTRUM. THESE ANTI-DEMOCRATIC FORCES HAVE FOR YEARS BEEN FEEDING ON EACH OTHER. THEY CAN BE EXPECTED TO CONTINUE THIS PRACTICE IN AN EFFORT TO PREVENT CHILE'S RETURN TO DEMOCRACY.

6. SPECIFICALLY, THE CHILEAN COMMUNIST PARTY'S ARMED WING, CALLED THE MANUEL RODRIGUEZ PATRIOTIC FRONT, HAS STEPPED UP ITS CAMPAIGN OF BOMBINGS AND OTHER FORMS OF TERRORIST VIOLENCE IN THE NAME OF NATIONAL LIBERATION. ON THE OTHER EXTREME, RIGHTIST GROUPS SUCH AS THE "ACHA" BOMB, KIDNAP, AND MAKE DEATH THREATS. AS I HAVE NOTED, THESE TERRORISTS SHARE THE COMMON GOAL OF DERAILING THE RESTORATION OF DEMOCRACY IN CHILE AND ARE VICTIMIZING THE VAST MAJORITY OF CHILEANS WHO DO NOT SYMPATHIZE WITH THEIR VIEWS.

7. OUR 1987 HUMAN RIGHTS REPORT ON CHILE AND EVENTS SINCE THE RELEASE OF THAT REPORT REVEAL A MIXED SITUATION IN THE CRUCIAL AREA OF HUMAN RIGHTS. SEVERAL NOTABLE GAINS HAVE BEEN REGISTERED IN PROVIDING GREATER RESPECT FOR BASIC FREEDOMS. AT THE SAME TIME, ABUSES PERSIST AND, IN SOME CASES, HAVE WORSENED. LET ME OUTLINE BRIEFLY OUR ASSESSMENT OF RECENT DEVELOPMENTS.

8. DURING 1987, THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT MOVED TO REDUCE SUBSTANTIALLY THE NUMBER OF ITS CITIZENS BANISHED FROM THE COUNTRY, A VERY POSITIVE STEP, ALTHOUGH IT STILL LEFT SEVERAL HUNDRED PEOPLE IN EXILE STATUS. LEGISLATION GOVERNING VOTER REGISTRATION AND ELECTORAL PROCEDURES WAS PROMULGATED. THE LEGALIZATION OF POLITICAL PARTIES ENCOURAGED SOMEWHAT GREATER FREEDOM OF ASSOCIATION. AT PRESENT, ALMOST SIX MILLION CHILEANS OF SOME EIGHT MILLION ELIGIBLE HAVE REGISTERED TO VOTE. A NUMBER OF POLITICAL PARTIES HAVE ALREADY ACHIEVED LEGAL STATUS, WITH OTHERS ON THE VERGE OF DOING SO. OPPOSITION PERIODICALS, INCLUDING TWO DAILY NEWSPAPERS FOUNDED IN 1987, CIRCULATE WITH RELATIVELY LITTLE INTERFERENCE. IN RECENT MONTHS, OPPOSITION FIGURES HAVE APPEARED ON TELEVISION FOR THE FIRST TIME SINCE 1973. WHILE ACCESS OF THE OPPOSITION TO TELEVISION STILL REMAINS VERY LIMITED, IF THESE STEPS SHOULD BECOME A MORE GENERALIZED TREND IN THE COMING MONTHS, THE CAUSE OF FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION WOULD CLEARLY BE STRENGTHENED. PROGRESS HAS ALSO BEEN MADE IN PROVIDING GREATER RESPECT FOR CITIZENS PARTICIPATING IN PUBLIC DEMONSTRATIONS AND BETTER TREATMENT FOR THOSE ARRESTED IN SUCH DEMONSTRATIONS. CHILE'S NATIONAL POLICE, THE CARABINEROS DE CHILE, ARE CREDITED FOR THIS POSITIVE DEVELOPMENT. ANOTHER FAVORABLE TREND HAS BEEN THE REPLACEMENT OF MILITARY UNIVERSITY RECTORS BY CIVILIANS, MOST OF THEM ACADEMICS.

9. THESE LAUDABLE POSITIVE TRENDS ARE, HOWEVER, LAMENTABLY COUNTERBALANCED BY CONTINUING GRAVE VIOLATIONS OF OTHER RIGHTS. ARBITRARY ARRESTS FOR BRIEF PERIODS STILL OCCUR AND THE ENCROACHMENT BY MILITARY TRIBUNALS ON WHAT WAS FORMERLY THE EXCLUSIVE JURISDICTION OF CIVILIAN COURTS HAS LED TO FURTHER ABUSES OF HUMAN RIGHTS. RELIABLE AND DOCUMENTED REPORTS OF TORTURE OF PERSONS SUSPECTED OF SECURITY OFFENSES PERSIST.

10. THE GOVERNMENT OF CHILE RETAINS THE POWER TO LIMIT FREEDOM OF ASSEMBLY, ASSOCIATION, UNIONIZATION, AND EXPRESSION UNDER THE TERMS OF THE SO-CALLED "STATES OF EXCEPTION." THE RECENT EXTENSION BY THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT OF THE "STATE OF EMERGENCY" FOR ANOTHER THREE MONTHS AND THE "STATE OF DANGER OF PERTURBATION OF INTERNAL PEACE" FOR SIX IS, IN OUR OPINION, TOTALLY INCONSISTENT WITH THE STATEMENTS BY HIGH CHILEAN OFFICIALS THAT THEY INTEND TO CREATE AN ENVIRONMENT CONDUCIVE TO A FREE AND FAIR ELECTORAL PROCEDURE. JOURNALISTS HAVE SUFFERED INTIMIDATION AND REPRESENTATIVES OF HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS AND CULTURAL FIGURES HAVE RECEIVED DEATH THREATS FROM UNKNOWN SOURCES. RESTRICTIONS ON FREEDOM OF THE PRESS HAVE BEEN MAINTAINED. DISAPPEARANCES, KIDNAPPINGS, AND UNAUTHORIZED SEARCHES INCREASED IN 1987, ALTHOUGH THEY DECLINE AGAIN IN 1988.

11. HOW HAVE WE ACTED IN LIGHT OF THE RECENT TREND IN HUMAN-RIGHTS DEVELOPMENTS IN CHILE? WHAT WE HAVE WANTED TO DO, AS I INDICATED, IS ENCOURAGE THE RESTORATION OF DEMOCRACY. TO UNDERLINE OUR CONCERNS OVER THE SERIOUS SHORTFALLS IN THAT REGARD IN CHILE WE HAVE ABSTAINED FROM VOTING ON STRUCTURAL ADJUSTMENT LOANS TO CHILE AT THE WORLD BANK IN THE PAST TWO YEARS AND HAVE ALSO ABSTAINED ON NON-BASIC HUMAN NEEDS LOANS AT THE INTER-AMERICAN DEVELOPMENT BANK. IN DECEMBER OF LAST YEAR, THE PRESIDENT SUSPENDED CHILE'S PRIVILEGES UNDER THE GENERALIZED SYSTEM OF PREFERENCES BECAUSE THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT HAD NOT TAKEN ADEQUATE STEPS TO GUARANTEE BASIC WORKERS' RIGHTS. THIS DECISION IN TURN TRIGGERED AN END TO OPIC LOAN GUARANTEES FOR CHILE. AT THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE UNITED NATIONS AND AT THE UNITED NATIONS HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION, WE HAVE SPOKEN OUT IN SUPPORT OF CHILEAN DEMOCRACY EVEN THOUGH WE COULD NOT SEE OUR WAY CLEAR TO VOTING FOR THE UNBALANCED TEXTS PUT FORWARD RECENTLY IN THESE BODIES AS RESOLUTIONS ON HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE.

12. OUR SUPPORT FOR CHILEAN DEMOCRACY HAS BEEN EXPRESSED IN OTHER WAYS AS WELL. THE ADMINISTRATION ENTHUSIASTICALLY BACKED A CONGRESSIONAL EARMARK OF ONE MILLION DOLLARS TO THE NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR DEMOCRACY FOR PROJECTS RELATING TO DEMOCRACY-BUILDING IN CHILE. WE HAVE ALSO SUPPORTED NON-PARTISAN EFFORTS WITHIN CHILE TO STIMULATE VOTER REGISTRATION, CIVIC EDUCATION, AND THE ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE. OUR EMBASSY IN SANTIAGO HAS HELD A SERIES OF HIGH-VISIBILITY SEMINARS ON TOPICS DIRECTLY RELATED TO DEMOCRACY, INCLUDING FREEDOM OF THE MEDIA, ELECTORAL PROCEDURES, AND THE U.S. CONSTITUTION. AMBASSADOR BARNES HAS BEEN AN ELOQUENT AND EFFECTIVE ADVOCATE OF HUMAN RIGHTS SINCE HIS ARRIVAL IN CHILE.

13. IN PRIVATE, THE ADMINISTRATION HAS USED ITS CONTACTS AT THE HIGHEST LEVELS TO EXPRESS TO THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT THE U.S. GOVERNMENT'S CONCERN FOR THE FUTURE OF DEMOCRACY. FOR EXAMPLE, ON SEPTEMBER 28 OF LAST YEAR AT THE UNITED NATIONS, SECRETARY SHULTZ DEDICATED MUCH OF HIS MEETING WITH CHILEAN FOREIGN MINISTER GARCIA TO HUMAN RIGHTS. HE URGED RAPID PROGRESS IN BOTH AREAS WELL IN ADVANCE OF A PLEBISCITE. AND THERE HAVE BEEN OTHER EXCHANGES SINCE THAT TIME IN WHICH THE SECRETARY'S MESSAGE HAS BEEN REITERATED.

14. OUR DEEP COMMITMENT TO THE CAUSE OF DEMOCRACY IN CHILE WAS ALSO UNDERLINED IN A STATEMENT APPROVED BY THE PRESIDENT ON DECEMBER 17 OF LAST YEAR. THAT STATEMENT OUTLINED SEVERAL AREAS OF CONCERN. IT STATED: "FOR THE IDEAL OF POPULAR SOVEREIGNTY TO BECOME REALITY, THE U.S. BELIEVES THAT A CLIMATE OF FREEDOM AND FAIR COMPETITION MUST BE ESTABLISHED MANY MONTHS BEFORE THE ACTUAL BALLOTING TAKES PLACE. THIS ATMOSPHERE WOULD BE MARKED BY EASY AND EQUITABLE ACCESS TO THE MASS MEDIA, ESPECIALLY TELEVISION, BY UNRESTRICTED DISCUSSION OF POLITICAL ISSUES, BROAD FREEDOM OF ASSEMBLY, EARLY ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE RULES OF ANY ELECTORAL PROCEEDING, FACILITATION OF REGISTRATION BY PROSPECTIVE VOTERS, AND FREEDOM FOR CITIZENS AND POLITICAL GROUPS TO CAMPAIGN PEACEFULLY IN FAVOR OF THEIR IDEAS."

15. IN SUPPORTING THE CAUSE OF DEMOCRACY IN CHILE WE HAVE ALSO BEEN GREATLY IMPRESSED BY THE ROLE PLAYED BY THE CATHOLIC CHURCH IN THAT COUNTRY. THE CHURCH HAS STRONGLY ADVOCATED THE CAUSE OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND HAS EXTENDED ITS PROTECTING HAND OVER THOSE WHO WERE UNJUSTLY PERSECUTED. AN IMPORTANT ARM OF THE CHURCH IN THAT REGARD HAS BEEN THE VICARIATE OF SOLIDARITY, AN ORGANIZATION WHOSE SPECIFIC PURPOSE IT HAS BEEN TO MONITOR HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS AND BY CALLING ATTENTION TO THEM HELP BRING THEM TO AN END.

16. THERE IS ONE OTHER IMPORTANT MATTER WHICH REMAINS AS A SOURCE OF PERMANENT TENSION IN OUR BILATERAL RELATIONS. IN SEPTEMBER OF 1976, A FORMER CHILEAN FOREIGN MINISTER AND HIS AMERICAN SECRETARY, ORLANDO LETELIER AND RONNI MOFFITT, RESPECTIVELY, WERE BRUTALLY MURDERED BY A CAR BOMB IN THE HEART OF WASHINGTON, D.C.'S EMBASSY ROW. AFTER A LENGTHY INVESTIGATION, A FEDERAL COURT HANDED DOWN INDICTMENTS NAMING THREE HIGH-RANKING CHILEAN MILITARY OFFICERS, THEN IN THE SERVICE OF THE CHILEAN SECRET POLICE, AS THE AUTHORS OF THIS CRIME. ONE OF THE THREE LATER GAVE HIMSELF UP TO U.S. AUTHORITIES AND PROVIDED FURTHER TESTIMONY AGAINST THE OTHER TWO. WE HAVE REPEATEDLY REQUESTED THAT THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT COOPERATE WITH US IN BRINGING THESE TWO MEN TO JUSTICE, BUT RECEIVED NO COOPERATION IN RETURN. A CLEAR-CUT ACT OF INTERNATIONAL TERRORISM COMMITTED IN OUR NATION'S CAPITAL THEREFORE GOES UNPUNISHED. RELATIONS BETWEEN CHILE AND THE U.S. WILL REMAIN ADVERSELY AFFECTED UNTIL THIS CASE IS PROPERLY RESOLVED.

17. ALL OF WHAT I HAVE MENTIONED INDICATES THAT CHILE IS ARRIVING AT A CROSSROADS. A RETURN TO FULL DEMOCRACY WILL NOT COME EASILY. THIS TRANSITION WILL HAVE TO OVERCOME A SERIES OF IMPOSING ROADBLOCKS. NONETHELESS, THE CHILEANS HAVE A WEALTH OF DEMOCRATIC EXPERIENCE AND HUMAN CAPITAL ON WHICH TO DRAW IN RESTORING GOVERNMENT BY AND FOR THE PEOPLE. IN THE END, THIS IS THE PERMANENT WEIGHT THAT WILL TIP THE SCALES IN FAVOR OF DEMOCRACY IN CHILE.

18. TO CONCLUDE, I NEED TO EMPHASIZE THAT WE DO NOT VIEW IT TO BE OUR ROLE TO TELL THE PEOPLE OF CHILE HOW AND BY WHOM THEIR COUNTRY SHOULD BE GOVERNED. CHILEANS, NOT AMERICANS, MUST DECIDE THEIR OWN POLITICAL FATE. ALL THAT WE SUGGEST IS THAT THEY BE GIVEN THE OPPORTUNITY TO DO SO. WE BELIEVE THAT THE CONDITIONS OUTLINED ABOVE ARE THE KEY TO A FAIR AND LEGITIMATE PLEBISCITE. WE WILL CONTINUE TO URGE THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT TO TAKE THE STEPS NECESSARY TO GUARANTEE THAT THE WILL OF THE PEOPLE IS FREELY, FULLY, AND ACCURATELY EXPRESSED. HIGH CHILEAN GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS HAVE ASSURED US THAT THIS WILL BE DONE. OUR FUTURE RELATIONS WITH CHILE HINGE ON WHETHER THESE ASSURANCES ARE FOLLOWED IN PRACTICE.

THE HONOURABLE Alfonse D'Amato
U.S. SENATE
WASHINGTON, D.C.

Dear Senator D'Amato

Enclosed with this letter is information detailing the desperate situation of two of my personal friends, Jaime and Rodolfo CARO, who are Chilean citizens and who are currently languishing in jail in Santiago, Chile.

I came to know Jaime Caro when I lived in the United Kingdom. He is a loving husband and father and certainly is no terrorist.

I implore you to use your influence and reputation as a staunch defender of human rights by contacting Chilean Ambassador to the U.S. Mr. Hernan ERRAZURIZ at the Chilean Embassy, 1732 MASSACHUSETTS AVE., N.W. Washington, D.C. 20036 to ask for assurances as to the well-being of Jaime and Rodolfo CARO and for details of the charges against them.

Please take time out of your busy schedule and many important committments to make these contacts. Two innocent lives may be at stake.

Thank you for your continued support of human rights and freedom from political repression.

Very truly yours,

James McGovern
Foreign Student Adviser

TEXT OF TELEGRAM 88SAN SA008730

FMLN'S ATTEMPT TO IMPOSE A MARXIST-LENINIST DICTATORSHIP IN EL SALVADOR BY FORCE OF ARMS. FOR NEARLY THREE YEARS, UNTS HAS PLAYED A LEADING ROLE IN STRENGTHENING THE GUERRILLA'S URBAN INFRASTRUCTURE TO PREPARE CONDITIONS FOR A "POPULAR INSURRECTION" IN 1988-89. RECENTLY, HOWEVER, THE FMLN DECIDED TO REPLACE UNTS WITH A NEW FRONT GROUP KNOWN AS THE "MOVEMENT FOR BREAD LAND, WORK AND LIBERTY" (MPTTL). CONSEQUENTLY, IT APPEARS THE KREISKY STIFTUNG WILL LIKELY SUFFER THE EMBARASSMENT OF HAVING HONORED A VIOLENT, UNDEMOCRATIC AND NON-LABOR ORGANIZATION, WHOSE "PERMANENT COMMITMENT" HAS BEEN OVERTAKEN BY THE EXIGENCIES OF THE FMLN'S CAUSE. END SUMMARY.

2. FMLN'S INTERNATIONAL NETWORK SCORES AGAIN

THE EFFECTIVENESS OF THE FMLN'S INTERNATIONAL SUPPORT NETWORK HAS BEEN DEMONSTRATED YET AGAIN WITH THE ANNOUNCEMENT THAT THE NATIONAL UNITY OF SALVADORAN WORKERS (UNTS), THE FMLN'S SALVADORAN LABOR FRONT, WILL BE AWARDED A "WORLD PRIZE" BY THE BRUNO KREISKY STIFTUNG JULY 8 AT THE AUSTRIAN CENTER IN VIENNA. THE PRIZE INCLUDES A CASH AWARD OF APPROXIMATELY USD 12,500 (100,000 AUSTRIAN SCHILLINGS). WORD OF

3. THANKS TO THE AUSTRIAN CONFEDERATION OF WORKERS

THE AD EXPRESSES GRATITUDE TO THE AUSTRIAN CONFEDERATION OF WORKERS FOR HAVING PETITIONED THE KREISKY STIFTUNG FOR THE AWARD ON BEHALF OF UNTS. NEVER AT A LOSS TO TOOT ITS OWN HORN, UNTS' ANNOUNCEMENT ALSO CARRIED THE FOLLOWING OBSCENELY SELF-CONGRATULATORY MESSAGE:

- (QUOTE) WE ARE PLEASED TO ACCEPT THIS AWARD IN
- RECOGNITION OF OUR INDEFATIGABLE WORK IN DEFENSE
- OF THE UNIVERSAL LIBERTIES OF MAN, TO STIMULATE
- URBAN AND RURAL ORGANIZATIONS TO DEFEND OUR

SUCH AN AWARD FOR UNTS IS AN INCREDIBLE IRONY, MORE SO THAN WAS THE CASE WHEN THE "SOLIDARITY FOUNDATION OF DANISH WORKERS MOVEMENT" BESTOWED ITS "PEACE PRIZE" ON SALVADORAN NATIONAL REVOLUTIONARY MOVEMENT

TEXT OF TELEGRAM 88SAN SA008730

(MNR) SECGEN GUILLERMO MANUEL UNGO APRIL 9 IN COPENHAGEN (REFTEL). AT LEAST UNGO, AND HIS COLLEAGUE IN THE DEMOCRATIC REVOLUTIONARY FRONT (FDR), POPULAR SOCIAL CHRISTIAN MOVEMENT (MPSC) SECGEN RUBEN ZAMORA, HAVE LATELY TAKEN STEPS TO REINTEGRATE THEMSELVES INTO EL SALVADOR'S DEMOCRATIC PROCESS. (THEY STILL NEED TO BREAK WITH THE FMLN, HOWEVER.) ON THE OTHER HAND, UNTS PROFESSES TO BE "DEMOCRATIC" AND THE CHAMPION OF WORKERS' AND HUMAN RIGHTS, BUT ITS ACTIVITIES ON BEHALF OF THE FMLN ARE, IN FACT, A MOCKERY OF THESE IDEALS.

6. UNTS IS A VIOLENT, OFTEN BRUTAL, FMLN FRONT GROUP WHICH HAS PLAYED A LEAD ROLE IN PREPARING CONDITIONS CONSISTENT WITH THE FMLN'S STRATEGY TO MOUNT A "POPULAR INSURRECTION" IN 1988-89. UNTS' KEY LEADERS HAVE BEEN RESPONSIBLE FOR THE PLANNING AND COORDINATION OF VIOLENT STREET DEMONSTRATIONS IN SAN SALVADOR WHICH HAVE VICTIMIZED INNOCENT CITIZENS. DURING FMLN TRANSPORATION STOPPAGES, WHICH ARE AIMED AT BRINGING ECONOMIC ACTIVITY TO A STANDSTILL AND THE EVENTUAL COLLAPSE OF THE COUNTRY'S ECONOMY, HUNDREDS OF UNTS MEMBERS HAVE GONE ON RAMPAGES, TORCHING SCORES OF PUBLIC AND PRIVATELY-OWNED VEHICLES AND

THEN ATTACKING PANIC-STRICKEN OCCUPANTS. TELEPHONE EXCHANGE BOXES AND GASOLINE STATIONS HAVE ALSO BEEN FIRE-BOMBED TO DISRUPT COMMUNICATIONS AND HALT VEHICULAR TRAFFIC.

7. ON OTHER OCCASIONS, STORES AND BUSINESS ESTABLISHMENTS HAVE BEEN INVADED AND RANSACKED, THE WORKERS THREATENED AND IN SEVERAL CASES BEATEN. VIOLENCE HAS ALSO BEEN USED TO ENFORCE BOYCOTTS AGAINST BUSINESSES WHICH REFUSED TO BE PLACED UNDER THE "PROTECTION" OF UNTS UNIONS. MOREOVER, UNTS HAS LED FACTORY TAKEOVERS IN DEFIANCE OF THE WILL OF THE VAST MAJORITY OF AFFECTED WORKERS, AND HAS INITIATED STRIKES AT OTHERS WITHOUT THE BENEFIT OF STRIKE VOTES. THE MAJORITY OF UNTS' LEADERS ARE KNOWN TO BE MEMBERS OF THE FMLN, AND MOST HAVE LONG AGO DISPELLED ANY LINGERING DOUBTS ABOUT THEIR POLITICAL INCLINATIONS WITH STATEMENTS LIKE: "ELECTIONS MAY NOT BE SUITABLE FOR A 'SALVADORAN' FORM OF DEMOCRACY."

8. UNTS LEADERS LED THE CHEERLEADING FOR THE FMLN DELEGATION TO THE OCTOBER 4-5, 1987 DIALOGUE IN SAN SALVADOR. CAPTURED FMLN DOCUMENTS MAKE IT CLEAR THAT THEY GIVE ORDERS TO UNTS. EVEN MNR AND MPSC LEADERS ACKNOWLEDGE THAT THEY CANNOT WORK WITH UNTS' LEADERSHIP BECAUSE IT IS TOO CLEARLY CONTROLLED BY

BOLIVIA, THE WORLD'S SECOND LARGEST CULTIVATOR OF COCA AFTER PERU, IS A SIGNIFICANT PLAYER IN NARCOTICS PRODUCTION AND INTERNATIONAL TRAFFICKING. MOST ILLICIT CULTIVATION OCCURS IN THE RELATIVELY SMALL AREA OF THE CHAPARE REGION, WHERE DRIED LEAVES ARE PROCESSED IN MACERATION PITS OR CRUDE PASTE LABS BY WHOLESALE LEAF BUYERS OR INCREASINGLY BY CULTIVATORS THEMSELVES. COCAINE BASE AND HCL PROCESSING, HOWEVER, TAKE PLACE ACROSS A MUCH BROADER AREA OF THE BENI AND SANTA CRUZ DEPARTMENTS.

2. CROP CULTIVATION AND PRODUCTION

WE ESTIMATE ON THE BASIS OF AN UPDATED 1987 AERIAL SURVEY THAT BOLIVIA IS CULTIVATING 40,300 HECTARES OF COCA. WE BELIEVE THE ANNUAL BOLIVIAN YIELD TO BE SOME 56,420 METRIC TONS (MT) OF DRY LEAF, CAPABLE OF PRODUCING 83 MT OF COCAINE HCL (ALLOWING FOR LOCAL LEAF CONSUMPTION AND SPOILAGE). DEPRESSED PRICES FOR COCA LEAF IN 1988 (DOWN 52 PERCENT ON AVERAGE FROM 1987 PRICES) MAY HAVE LIMITED NEW CULTIVATION. COUPLED WITH THE SUCCESS OF THE VOLUNTARY ERADICATION PROGRAM, AN OVERALL DECREASE IN COCA HECTARAGE IS POSSIBLE.

3. NEW INITIATIVES/PERSONNEL/PROGRAMS

--THE BOLIVIAN GOVERNMENT, WITH THE ACTIVE ENCOURAGEMENT OF THE U.S. EMBASSY, HAS ANNOUNCED ITS

INTENT TO CREATE A NEW MINISTRY TO CONSOLIDATE INTERDICTION, INVESTIGATIVE, COCA-REDUCTION AND DRUG-AWARENESS ACTIVITIES. THE MISSION WILL PROVIDE OPERATIONAL, PLANNING, AND LOGISTICAL SUPPORT.

--AS PART OF ONGOING EFFORTS TO REDUCE CORRUPTION IN UMOPAR, THE MISSION REACHED AGREEMENT WITH THE BOLIVIAN NARCOTICS-TASK-FORCE COMMANDER ON THE SIZE OF UMOPAR (588 TROOPS WITH 52 OFFICERS), EQUIPMENT ISSUE AND CONTROL, A TWO-YEAR DUTY COMMITMENT, AND COMPLETION OF A RIGOROUS TRAINING PROGRAM FOR OFFICERS.

. --TWO GROUPS OF U.S. MILITARY TRAINERS ARE PROVIDING SMALL-UNIT, TACTICAL TRAINING TO UMOPAR. THE BASIC COURSE, FROM WHICH 340 TROOPERS--INCLUDING SEVEN WOMEN--HAVE GRADUATED IN 1988, IS CONDUCTED AT THE CHIMORE BASE CAMP IN THE CHAPARE; AN ADVANCED-TACTICS COURSE (200 GRADUATES IN 1988) IS HELD AT THE TRINIDAD UMOPAR CAMP IN THE BENI.

. --IN AN ATTEMPT TO CURTAIL UMOPAR CORRUPTION (RAMPANT AMONG OFFICERS) A NEW COURSE, REQUIRED FOR ALL NATIONAL POLICE OFFICERS SERVING IN UMOPAR, WILL BEGIN IN JULY. IF AN OFFICER FAILS THE COURSE OR IS WEEDED OUT BY U.S. TRAINERS, HE WILL NOT BE ASSIGNED TO AN UMOPAR UNIT. TO FOSTER A SPIRIT OF COOPERATION AND UNITY, THE COURSE WILL ALSO INCLUDE PARTICIPANTS FROM NEIGHBORING COUNTRIES AS WELL AS BOLIVIAN MILITARY UNITS SUPPORTING AIR-MOBILE AND RIVERINE-INTERDICTION ACTIVITIES.

OF JUNE 15 A TOTAL OF 1,821.60 HECTARES OF COCA HAD BEEN REDUCED VOLUNTARILY SINCE THE CURRENT CAMPAIGN BEGAN IN SEPTEMBER 1987. BOLIVIA THUS MET--TWO MONTHS EARLY--THE REQUIREMENT CONTAINED IN THE 1987 BILATERAL AGREEMENT TO REDUCE 1,800 HECTARES OF COCA BY AUGUST 13, 1988. THROUGH THE END OF JUNE, BOLIVIA HAD REDUCED VOLUNTARILY A TOTAL OF 1,994.68 HECTARES OF COCA (952.31 OF WHICH WERE REDUCED IN CY88). WE ESTIMATE THE ANNUAL PRODUCTIVE CAPACITY OF ONE HECTARE TO BE TWO KILOS OF COCAINE HCL.

6. STATUS OF INTERDICTION EFFORTS

U.S. BORDER PATROL AGENTS, U.S. MILITARY TRAINERS AND DEA PERSONNEL IN THE CHAPARE AND BENI REGIONS PROVIDE CONSTANT SUPERVISION OVER BOLIVIAN INTERDICTION OPERATIONS. SOME OVERT CORRUPTION HAS BEEN REDUCED, AND GREATER BOLIVIAN EFFECTIVENESS IN OPERATIONS--ESPECIALLY IN THE PRIME COCA ZONE OF THE CHAPARE--HAS RESULTED IN IMPROVED SEIZURES THROUGH THE FIRST HALF OF CY 1988.

2. INSTRUCTIONS CONCERNING U.S. PARTICIPATION IN AN ICAO INVESTIGATION WILL BE SENT SEPARATELY.

3. FOR INFO ADDRESSEES: THE FOLLOWING DOCUMENTS PROVIDE BACKGROUND DATA ON THE CONVENING OF THE SPECIAL SESSION OF THE ICAO COUNCIL, WHICH DEPARTMENT UNDERSTANDS IS NOW SET FOR 2:30 P.M. ON WEDNESDAY, JULY 13, AT ICAO HEADQUARTERS IN MONTREAL:

A. JULY 4 MESSAGE FROM THE ICAO COUNCIL PRESIDENT, ASSAD

KOTAITE, TO THE 33 MEMBERS OF THE COUNCIL (INCLUDING THE USG):

I HAVE RECEIVED TELEX MESSAGES FROM THE AUTHORITIES OF THE ISLAMIC REPUBLIC OF IRAN CONCERNING THE DESTRUCTION, ON 3 JULY 1988, OF AN IRAN AIR AIRBUS A300 FLIGHT NO. IR655 FROM BANDAR-ABBAS TO DUBAI WHICH RESULTED IN THE LOSS OF 290 PERSONS. THE TELEX MESSAGES ARE ATTACHED HERETO AS ATTACHMENTS 1, 2 AND 3. IN ATTACHMENT 4 IS THE TEXT OF MY TELEX DATED 4 JULY 1988 ADDRESSED TO THE AUTHORITIES OF THE ISLAMIC REPUBLIC OF IRAN.

B. JULY 3 TELEX TO PRESIDENT OF THE ICAO COUNCIL FROM M.J. RANAEIFAR, VICE MINISTER OF ROADS AND TRANSPORTATION AND ADMINISTRATOR OF CIVIL AVIATION ORGANIZATION, TEHRAN

THIS IS TO INFORM YOU AND THE MEMBERS OF THE COUNCIL OF THE LATEST AGGRESSIVE AND CRIMINAL ATTACK BY HOSTILE FORCES OF U.S.A IN PERSIAN GULF TOWARDS CIVIL AVIATION STP

ON 3RD JULY 1988, AN IRANAIR A300 FLT NO IR655 ENROUTE BANDAR ABBAS-DUBAI DEP FROM BANDAR ABBAS AT 0645 UTC ESTIMATED TIME OF POINT DARAX 0658 UTC, WAS ATTACKED AND SHOT DOWN BY MISSILE INTO THE WATERS OF THE PERSIAN GULF. FROM TOTAL NUMBER OF 290 PAX AND CREW REGRETFULLY SO FAR NO SURVIVOR IS REPORTED. I SHALL KEEP YOU INFORMED OF ANY FURTHER INFORMATION. IN THE INTEREST OF SAFETY AND SECURITY OF CIVIL AVIATION IN THE REGION AND FOR THE BENEFIT OF HUMANITY AS A WHOLE I KINDLY REQUEST YOU TO TAKE EFFECTIVE MEASURES IN CONDEMNING SAID HOSTILE AND CRIMINAL ACTS.

C. JULY 3 TELEX TO ICAO COUNCIL PRESIDENT FROM M.J. RANAEIFAR

FOLLOWING MY TLX 1004-508-21 DATED 03RD JULY 1988 FOR THIS GRAVE DISASTROUS INCIDENT, I STRONGLY URGE YOU AND MEMBERS

OF THE COUNCIL TO GIVE THIS MATTER YOUR PERSONAL ATTENTION AND INVITE YOU AND YOUR EXPERTS TO HAVE A VISIT AND STUDY OF THIS INHUMAN ACT OF U.S.A. IN PERSIAN GULF PROMPTLY.

SUBSEQUENT TO MY PREVIOUS TELEXES OF JULY 3 REGARDING THE ATROCIOUS SHOOTING DOWN BY U.S. FORCES OF AN IRANAIR AIRBUS OVER THE PERSIAN GULF, I URGENTLY REQUEST THAT THIS GRAVE MATTER BE TABLED IN THE ICAO COUNCIL AS A MATTER OF URGENCY WITH THE VIEW THAT AN EXTRAORDINARY SESSION OF ICAO ASSEMBLY BE URGENTLY CONVENED TO CONDUCT A THOROUGH INVESTIGATION OF ALL ASPECTS OF THE CATASTROPHE. WE FIRMLY BELIEVE PROMPT AND EFFECTIVE ATTN. OF ICAO IS NECESSARY IF SAFE CONDUCT OF CIVIL AIR TRANSPORTATION IS TO BE FOSTERED BY ICAO. PLEASE ADVISE THE ACTIONS TAKEN SO THAT A DELEGATION OF I.R. OF IRAN CAN PARTICIPATE AT THE REQUESTED COUNCIL MEETING.

E. JULY 4 TELEX FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE ICAO COUNCIL TO M.J. RANAEIFAR

I WAS SHOCKED AND DISTRESSED BY THE NEWS OF THE DESTRUCTION OF IRAN AIR A300 FLIGHT NO. IR 655 EN ROUTE FROM BANDAR-ABBAS TO DUBAI WITH THE LOSS OF 290 LIVES. I WISH TO EXPRESS MY CONDOLENCES TO YOUR GOVERNMENT AS WELL AS TO THE BEREAVED FAMILIES OF THE VICTIMS. THE POLICY OF ICAO IS AIMED AT THE SAFEGUARDING OF SAFETY AND REGULARITY OF CIVIL FLIGHTS ALONG THE APPROVED ATS ROUTES AND IS STRONGLY OPPOSED TO THE USE OF WEAPONS AGAINST CIVIL AIRCRAFT.

I ACKNOWLEDGE RECEIPT OF YOUR TWO TELEXES REFERENCE 1004-508-21 OF 3 JULY 1988 AND OF YOUR FURTHER TELEX OF TODAY'S DATE. IN CONFORMITY WITH RULE 20 OF THE RULES OF PROCEDURE FOR THE COUNCIL (DOC 7559/5), I WILL BE CONSULTING THE MEMBERS OF THE COUNCIL CONCERNING THE CONVENING OF AN EXTRAORDINARY SESSION OF THE COUNCIL. I WILL KEEP YOU INFORMED OF THE DEVELOPMENTS. WHITEHEAD

1. PERSIAN GULF - THE WHITE HOUSE HAS DISCLOSED THAT PRESIDENT REAGAN SENT A NOTE OF REGRET TO IRAN SUNDAY AFTER A U.S. WARSHIP SHOT DOWN AN IRANIAN AIRBUS KILLING 290 PEOPLE. YESTERDAY'S SPOKESMAN SAID THE MESSAGE SOUGHT TO ASSURE TEHERAN THE ATTACK WAS AN ACCIDENT. MR. REAGAN SAID HE CONSIDERED THE NOTE AN APOLOGY AND THAT REPARATION FOR THE FAMILIES OF VICTIMS IS BEING DISCUSSED.

IN TEHERAN, THE HEAD OF IRAN'S MILITARY HAS SOUNDED A NOTE OF CAUTION. SPEAKING IN THE IRANIAN PARLIAMENT YESTERDAY, RAFSANJANI SUGGESTED IRAN SHOULD NOT RETALIATE IMMEDIATELY BECAUSE IT WOULD TAKE INTERNATIONAL PRESSURE OFF THE U.S. RANSANJANI SAID HIS COUNTRY WOULD SEEK REVENGE AT A TIME OF ITS CHOOSING.

DESPITE THE LONG CHILL IN U.S. RELATIONS WITH IRAN, THERE IS WORD THAT TEHERAN HAD MADE OVERTURES TO WASHINGTON BEFORE AN IRAN AIR JET WAS SHOT DOWN ON SUNDAY. THE NEW YORK TIMES SAYS SECRETARY OF STATE SHULTZ HAS REVEALED THAT IRAN APPROACHED THE U.S. TWO MONTHS AGO ABOUT OPENING UP A DIALOGUE. SHULTZ SAID THE U.S. HAD RESPONDED IN A POSITIVE WAY. (HILARY BOWKER)

B. NBC TODAY SHOW

1. PERSIAN GULF - THERE ARE NEW REPORTS THIS MORNING THAT MILITARY OFFICIALS HAVE TOLD LAWMAKERS ON CAPITOL HILL THAT THE IRANIAN AIRLINER MAY HAVE BEEN INSIDE THE CIVILIAN AIR CORRIDOR, NOT OUTSIDE AS ORIGINALLY RECORDED, AND THAT THERE MAY HAVE BEEN AN IRANIAN MILITARY PLANE SOMEWHERE IN THE AREA AT THE TIME THE CIVILIAN PLANE WAS SHOT DOWN. BUT FOR NOW THE PENTAGON IS STICKING TO ITS PUBLIC REPORTS INCLUDING ONE THAT THE CIVILIAN AIRLINER WAS TRANSMITTING TWO I.D. SIGNALS, ONE OF THEM MILITARY. THE PENTAGON SAY THE IRANIAN PLANE WAS TRANSMITTING A MODE THREE CODE USED BY BOTH MILITARY AND CIVILIAN AIRCRAFT. BUT OFFICIALS SAY THE PLANE ALSO TRANSMITTED A MODE TWO CODE RESERVED FOR MILITARY AIRCRAFT ONLY. THAT CODE IS NORMALLY SECRET. PENTAGON SOURCES SAY THE NAVY HAD INTERCEPTED THE SAME CODE FROM AN IRANIAN F-L4 AT AN EARLIER DATE, LEAVING THE COMMANDER

ABOARD THE USS VINCENNES TO BELIEVE THE CIVILIAN PLANE WAS AN F-14 JET FIGHTER.

THE PENTAGON SAYS, WITH NO OTHER POSITIVE IDENTIFICATION AND LITTLE TIME TO REACT, THE CAPTAIN OF THE VINCENNES WAS FORCED TO SHOOT DOWN THE PLANE. STILL, OTHER QUESTIONS REMAIN ABOUT THE SHIP'S INABILITY TO IDENTIFY THE PLANE AND CONFLICTING REPORTS AS TO ITS ALTITUDE AND COURSE AT THE TIME IT WAS SHOT DOWN. (JIM MIKLASZEWSKI, PENTAGON)

2. INTERVIEW WITH BRIG. GEN. ROLAND LA JOIE, ON-SITE INSPECTION AGENCY: SAID HIS FIRST TRIP TO THE SOVIET UNION WENT VERY WELL. THE SOVIETS WERE UNCOMMONLY FLEXIBLE, AND THEY COULD NOT HAVE DONE MORE TO MAKE THIS INSPECTION WORK. OUR TEAMS WILL MAKE 133 INSPECTIONS IN 60 DAYS AND THEY WILL AVERAGE TWO PER DAY. THEY WILL BE INSPECTING SOVIET MISSILE OPERATION BASES, THEIR STORAGE FACILITIES, REPAIR FACILITIES INCLUDING A SINGLE PRODUCTION FACILITY AS WELL.THE NEXT PHASE WILL TAKE LONGER. THE SOVIETS HAVE ALMOST 6,000 ITEMS WHICH THEY WILL HAVE TO DESTROY. THEY WILL START ON OR ABOUT THE FIRST OF AUGUST AND CONTINUE IN AN UNINTERRUPTED FASHION FOR THE NEXT THREE YEARS TO DESTROY VIRTUALLY AROUND-THE-CLOCK ALL OF THESE ITEMS.

C. CBS THIS MORNING

1. DOWNING OF IRANIAN AIR BUS - U.S. NAVY EXPERTS BELIEVE THAT WHEN THE AMERICAN WARSHIP VINCENNES MISTOOK AN IRANIAN JETLINER FOR AN F-14 FIGHTER, IT MAY HAVE BEEN PICKING UP A DISTANT MILITARY IDENTIFICATION SIGNAL FROM ANOTHER PLANE. ACCORDING TO THE NEW YORK TIMES, NAVY BRIEFERS TOLD CONGRESSIONAL LEADERS THAT THE SHIP'S CREW OR EQUIPMENT MAY HAVE WRONGLY CONCLUDED THAT THE MILITARY

UNCLASSIFIED

SIGNAL WAS COMING FROM THE PASSENGER JET. (FAITH DANIELS)

THE PENTAGON SAYS THAT WHEN THE VINCENNES PICKED UP THE IRAN AIRPLANE ON ITS RADAR, THE AIRCRAFT WAS SENDING OUT TWO DIFFERENT SETS OF ELECTRONIC SIGNALS TO IDENTIFY ITSELF, ONE USED BY BOTH COMMERCIAL AND MILITARY AIRCRAFT, THE SECOND USED ONLY BY MILITARY AIRCRAFT. WHY A COMMERCIAL AIRLINER WOULD IDENTIFY ITSELF AS A MILITARY PLANE IS NOT KNOWN, BUT THE PENTAGON SAYS IT COULD NOT HAVE BEEN BY MISTAKE. "IT IS A SPECIAL PIECE OF EQUIPMENT WHICH HAS TO BE PUT ON THE AIRCRAFT AND IT CAN ONLY BE SET ON THE GROUND," SAID PENTAGON SPOKESMAN DAN HOWARD.

HOWEVER, ANOTHER U.S. NAVY SHIP IN THE AREA DID NOT PICK UP THAT SIGNAL. THE RADAR SHOWED THE IRANIAN AIRCRAFT TO BE AT AN ALTITUDE OF 12,600 FEET, HIGHER, AND THEREFORE LESS THREATENING, THAN THE 7,800 ALTITUDE SHOWN BY THE RADAR ON THE VINCENNES. FOR THE MOMENT, AT LEAST, THE PENTAGON IS UNABLE TO EXPLAIN THE DISCREPANCY. "I'M SAYING THAT WE HAVE SOME INEXPLICABLE EVIDENCE AT THIS POINT," SAID HOWARD.

THE VINCENNES CARRIES THE MOST SOPHISTICATED EQUIPMENT. IF ITS DATA IS ACCURATE, THE PLANE WAS OUTSIDE THE NORMAL AIR CORRIDOR AND HEADED STRAIGHT FOR THE SHIP, TRAVELING AT 450 KNOTS, LOSING ALTITUDE, AND NOT RESPONDING TO REPEATED WARNINGS.

SOME OF THE CONFLICTING DATA COULD BE EXPLAINED BY THE WEATHER, WHICH IN THE PERSIAN GULF IS NOTORIOUS FOR PLAYING TRICKS ON ELECTRONICS. (DAVID MARTIN)

2. IRAN PROPOSAL - SECRETARY OF SHULTZ SAYS THAT TWO MONTHS AGO, IRANIAN OFFICIALS PASSED WORD TO A THIRD

PARTY THAT THEY WANTED TO OPEN A DIRECT DIALOGUE WITH THE UNITED STATES. THE UNITED STATES RESPONDED POSITIVELY, BUT HAS HEARD NOTHING FURTHER ABOUT THE PROPOSAL, AND SHULTZ SAYS HE DOESN'T WANT TO SPECULATE ON WHAT THE SHOOTING DOWN OF THE IRANIAN JET MIGHT DO TO THE IRANIAN OVERTURE. (FAITH DANIELS)

3. TERRORIST TRIAL IN PAKISTAN - A PAKISTANI JUDGE HAS SENTENCED FIVE PALESTINIANS TO DEATH FOR HIJACKING A U.S. PLANE IN 1986. THE ARABS TOOK OVER THE PAN AM JUMBO-JET WITH 390 PEOPLE ABOARD DURING A STOPOVER IN PAKISTAN. THERE WAS A 16 HOUR STANDOFF ON THE GROUND AT KARACHI AIRPORT. PAKISTANI COMMANDOS THEN STORMED THE PLANE. 21 PEOPLE DIED IN THE RAID. (FAITH DANIELS)

4. INTERVIEW WITH HOUSE MAJORITY LEADER THOMAS FOLEY BY KATHLEEN SULLIVAN ON DOWNING OF AIRPLANE - FOLEY SAID THAT AT A BRIEFING YESTERDAY, CONGRESSIONAL LEADERS WERE INFORMED THERE WERE TWO DIFFERENT RADAR MODES RESPONDING ON THE AIRCRAFT. HE SAID THAT IT IS TECHNICALLY POSSIBLE THAT THERE COULD HAVE BEEN CONFUSION WITH ANOTHER MILITARY AIRPLANE IN THE VICINITY, BUT HE DOES NOT THINK THE PENTAGON SEES THIS AS A HIGH DEGREE OF PROBABILITY. HE SAID THAT HE THINKS THE CAPTAIN WAS UNDER EXTRAORDINARY PRESSURE, AND HE HAS NO CRITICISM OF WHAT HE DID. HE SAID THAT COMPENSATION OF VICTIMS' FAMILIES IS BEING DISCUSSED, HOW WE WOULD DO THAT, AND HOW WE WOULD INSURE THAT THE FAMILIES RECEIVED THE COMPENSATION, AND SAID THAT HE IS SURE THAT WHATEVER DECISION IS MADE BY THE PRESIDENT AND BY THE UNITED STATES WOULD HAVE TO BE NEGOTIATED WITH IRAN, AND, OF COURSE, THERE ARE STILL VERY GREAT OUTSTANDING PROBLEMS IN OUR RELATIONS, INCLUDING THE INFLUENCE IRAN HAS HELD OVER THOSE WHO ARE HOLDING THE HOSTAGES. HE SAID HE HAS HAD CRITICISMS OF
UNCLASSIFIED

U.S. POLICY IN THE MIDDLE EAST AS NOT BEING FOCUSED, BUT HE THINKS IT WOULD BE A GREAT MISTAKE AT THIS TIME, HOWEVER, BECAUSE OF THIS INCIDENT TO WITHDRAW U.S. PRESENCE FROM THE GULF. WE SHOULD DO THAT WHEN OUR OBJECTIVES HAVE BEEN ACHIEVED OR WHEN WE BELIEVE THAT THOSE OBJECTIVES SHOULD BE MODIFIED AND POLICY SHOULD BE CHANGED INDEPENDENTLY.

5. ABC FILES PROTEST - ABC NEWS HAS FILED A PROTEST WITH THE ISRAELI GOVERNMENT. THE NETWORK SAYS ISRAELI SECURITY AGENTS POSED AS AN ABC NEWS CREW AS A WAY TO GET

1. (U) SANTIAGO PRESS JULY 6 REPORTED THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT'S DECISION TO SEND AN "EXTRAORDINARY" MISSION TO CHILE TO OBSERVE THE PLEBISCITE. A RESOLUTION PASSED BY THE PARLIAMENT, AMONG OTHER THINGS, CALLED ON THE GOC TO REMAIN IMPARTIAL DURING THE PLEBISCITE, TO INSURE THE PROCESS IS DEMOCRATIC BY NOT ALLOWING MILITARY INVOLVEMENT EXCEPT TO GUARANTEE ITS FAIRNESS, AND TO REMOVE ANY LIMITATIONS ON THE ACTIVITIES OF POLITICAL PARTIES AND THEIR LEADERS. THE STATEMENT ALSO CALLED ON THE U.S. TO INTERVENE "IN AN UNEQUIVOCAL MANNER" WITH THE MEMBER OF THE MILITARY JUNTA TO SUPPORT THE TRANSITION TO DEMOCRACY IN CHILE. WHAT PRECISELY THE U.S. SHOULD DO WAS NOT CLEAR FROM PRESS ACCOUNTS.

2. (U) THE CHILEAN FOREIGN MINISTRY ISSUED A FORMAL STATEMENT NOTING THAT THE EP'S RESOLUTION WAS ONE OF MANY ISSUED AT EVERY SESSION COMMENTING ON THE INTERNAL SITUATION OF VARIOUS COUNTRIES. IN THIS CASE, HOWEVER, THE EP HAD ACTED WITH AN "INEXPLICABLE LACK OF SERIOUSNESS" BASED ON "IGNORANCE AND DISTORTED UNDERSTANDING OF THE CHILEAN INSTITUTIONAL PROCESS AND REALITY...IT IS GROTESQUE THAT AN ORGANIZATION THAT IS SUPPOSEDLY COMPOSED OF HIGH-LEVEL PERSONS SHOULD EXPRESS JUDGEMENTS THAT NEITHER IN THEIR FORM NOR IN THEIR CONTENT CORRESPOND TO THE MOST ELEMENTAL STANDARDS OF INTERNATIONAL CONDUCT."

3. (U) IN ADDITION, JUNTA MEMBER AND NAVY CINC ADMIRAL MERINO REACTED DURING HIS TRADITIONAL PRESS REMARKS FOLLOWING THE WEEKLY JUNTA MEETING. MERINO, WHO OFTEN USES THESE CONFERENCES TO LASH OUT ON CO[redacted]TIAL

VARIOUS ISSUES, STATED THAT ANYONE COMING TO CHILE TO ACT IN ANY MANNER AS INSPECTORS OR COMMISSARS WOULD NOT BE ALLOWED TO ENTER THE COUNTRY. ASKED IF THE GOVERNMENT WOULD ADOPT MEANS OF KEEPING SUCH PEOPLE OUT, MERINO NOTED THAT IN CASE THERE WERE AGREEMENT THAT THESE PEOPLE SHOULD NOT ENTER, THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH HAS THE ABILITY TO KEEP THEM OUT. WHEN PURSUED ON THIS LINE, MERINO REFUSED TO SAY THAT SUCH ACTIONS WOULD BE TAKEN, BUT MADE IT CLEAR HE DID NOT FAVOR FOREIGNERS COMING TO CHILE TO INSPECT HIS OR THE JUNTA'S WORK.

4. (C) IN ANOTHER DEVELOPMENT, AS NOTED IN REFTEL, EMBASSY SENT A DIPLOMATIC NOTE REQUESTING MFA CLARIFICATION ON ACCESS TO POLLING PLACES AND VOTE COUNTING CENTERS FOR FOREIGN VISITORS DURING THE UP-COMING PLEBISCITE, IN THE LIGHT OF STATEMENTS BY PINOCHET AND THE MINISTRY'S OWN SPOKESMAN WHICH APPEARED TO CAST DOUBT ON THE DEGREE OF ACCESS. ON JUNE 24 WE RECEIVED THE MFA RESPONSE, REAFFIRMING THEIR ORIGINAL NOTE. ALTHOUGH THEY MAKE NO MENTION OF PINOCHET, IN THE CONTEXT THE NOTE CAN ONLY BE INTERPRETED AS SAYING "PAY ATTENTION TO WHAT WE TELL YOU, NOT TO WHAT THE PRESIDENT SAYS ON THE CAMPAIGN TRAIL."

6. (C) DURING A CALL JULY 6 ON THE FOREIGN MINISTRY'S SENIOR CAREER OFFICIAL, DIRECTOR GENERAL OCTAVIO ERRAZURIZ, BY VISITING CHILE DESK OFFICER PETER DE SHAZO AND DCM, DCM EXPRESSED APPRECIATION FOR THE FOREIGN MINISTRY'S CLARIFICATION THAT FOREIGNERS WISHING TO VISIT CHILE FOR THE PURPOSE OF WATCHING THE PLEBISCITE COULD DO SO. AFTER REITERATING THAT NO ONE WHO CALLED HIMSELF A JUDGE OR INSPECTOR WOULD BE ADMITTED, AND THAT NO CREDENTIALS OR BADGES OR STATUS OF ANY KIND WOULD BE EXTENDED TO VISITORS, ERRAZURIZ CONFIRMED ONCE AGAIN THAT FOREIGN VISITORS WOULD BE ABLE TO VIEW THE VOTING AND VOTE COUNTING ON THE SAME BASIS, AND TO THE SAME DEGREE, AS CHILEAN CITIZENS -- NO LESS AND NO MORE. HE ALSO EXPRESSED OUTRAGE AT THE EP RESOLUTION, BUT MADE NO MENTION OF MERINO'S REMARKS AND GAVE NO INDICATION THAT GOC WAS HAVING ANY SECOND THOUGHTS. DCM NOTED THAT IT WAS IN GOC'S OWN INTEREST TO HAVE FOREIGN OBSERVERS PRESENT TO ATTEST TO WHAT IT HAS SAID REPEATEDLY WILL BE AN ABSOLUTELY FRAUD-FREE VOTE. ERRAZURIZ REPLIED THAT CHILEANS COULD MANAGE THEIR OWN AFFAIRS, THANK YOU, AND NEEDED NO OUTSIDE ASSISTANCE, BUT WOULD NOT PREVENT ANYONE WHO WISHED FROM COMING.

7. (C) COMMENT: CLEARLY MERINO, LIKE PINOCHET, WOULD PREFER TO SLAM THE DOOR AGAINST ANY OBSERVER WHO IS NOT PRO-GOC.

PERSPECTIVE: DEANE BROWNE, CANADIAN DG FOR SOUTH AMERICA, BELIEVES THAT THE CHILEAN PLEBISCITE IS STILL TOO CLOSE TO CALL, BUT THE MINISTRY OF EXTERNAL AFFAIRS IN OTTAWA, CANADIAN PARLIAMENTARIANS AND EVEN ANTI-PINOCHET CHILEAN EXILES AND HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS ARE BECOMING CONCERNED THAT PINOCHET MAY WIN A FRAUD-FREE PLEBICITE. EXTAFF HAS RELUCTANTLY WON PARLIAMENTARY SUPPORT TO SEND THEIR CHIEF ELECTORAL OFFICER TO CONSULT IN SANTIAGO WITH THE CHILEAN ELECTORAL COMMISSION AND OPPOSITION GROUPS. THE EXPERT WILL BOTH OFFER TECHNICAL ELECTORAL ASSISTANCE AND GET AN OBJECTIVE EVALUATION OF THE PLEBISCITE ARRANGEMENTS AND SAFEGUARDS AGAINST FRAUD. THIS EVALUATION WILL BE ESPECIALLY IMPORTANT IF PINOCHET WINS AND THE OPPOSITION CRIES FRAUD TO CHILEAN EXILE AND HR GROUPS. BROWNE PROMISED TO INFORM US REGARDING THE CONCLUSIONS AND RESULTS OF THE ELECTORAL EXPERT'S VISIT.

BROWNE SAID THAT CANADA'S AMBASSADOR HAD SEPARATELY CALLED ON EACH JUNTA MEMBER TO DISCUSS CONCERNS ABOUT ELECTORAL CONDITIONS AND BEEN TOLD THAT STEPS WILL BE TAKEN TO LIFT THE STATE OF EMERGENCY, INCREASE ACCESS TO TV, ETC. INDEED, THE AMB HAS REPORTED ALREADY THAT IMPROVEMENTS IN TV ACCESS ARE NOTABLE. CONTRARY TO EMBASSY SANTIAGO REPORTS, BROWNE REPORTED THAT SERGIO MOLINA (DURING A RECENT VISIT TO CANADA) INDICATED THAT THE OPPOSITION DIDN'T NEED MORE FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE OR HELP VIA PVOS. MOLINA STILL FEARS THAT PINOCHET COULD SHIFT GEARS AND CALL FOR OPEN ELECTIONS IF HE BECOMES CONCERNED ABOUT CHANCES FOR A PLEBISCITE VICTORY. BUCHI - BAKER LETTER

4.(U) BEGIN TEXT.
HONORABLE

JAMES A. BAKER III
SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY
WASHINGTON, D. C.

DEAR MR. SECRETARY:

THIS LETTER IS IN RESPONSE TO THE INTEREST YOU EXPRESSED IN CHILE'S ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL SITUATION DURING MY LAST VISIT TO WASHINGTON.

I WANT TO THANK YOU FOR THAT MEETING AND ALSO FOR THIS OPPORTUNITY TO SEND YOU MY ANALYSIS OF THE CHILEAN REALITY. I AM ALSO ENCLOSING A 10-MINUTE VIDEO ABOUT THE RECENT POLITICAL DEVELOPMENT IN CHILE AND A SITUATION REPORT FOR MORE DETAILS.

CHILE IS A LAND OF GREAT IRONIES AND THIS IS ONE OF THEM: OUR WIDELY RECOGNIZED ECONOMIC PROGRESS TENDS TO OVERSHADOW OUR RELATIVELY LITTLE PUBLICIZED POLITICAL PROGRESS TOWARD DEMOCRACY.

IT IS NOT SURPRISING THAT THIS IS A SUBJECT OF SOME DEBATE WITHIN THE U.S. GOVERNMENT AND MEDIA SINCE CHILE IS IN THE MIDST OF A CAREFULLY CRAFTED CONSTITUTIONAL TRANSITION TO A FULLY DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT AND SOME
SECRET

OBSERVERS ARE SKEPTICAL ABOUT OUR GOVERNMENT'S COMMITMENT TO DEMOCRACY AND THE PROSPECTS FOR SUCCESS. THE UNDENIABLE PROGRESS WE HAVE MADE TO DATE INDICATES, HOWEVER, THAT SUCH SKEPTICISM IS UNWARRANTED AND THAT DEMOCRACY IS BEING GRADUALLY RESTORED IN CHILE WITHIN A FRAMEWORK THAT WILL ASSURE ITS SURVIVAL FOR FUTURE GENERATIONS.

WHEN OUR MILITARY LEADERS TOOK CONTROL OF THE GOVERNMENT, MARXISTS HAD REDUCED CHILE TO POLITICAL ANARCHY AND ECONOMIC CHAOS. THE SITUATION WAS EXTREME AND EXTREME MEASURES WERE NECESSARY TO RESTORE THE CONDITIONS FOR FREE-MARKET ECONOMIC GROWTH AND DEMOCRATIC POLITICAL DEVELOPMENT. WE KNOW THAT ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL FREEDOM ARE CLOSELY INTERRELATED AND MUTUALLY REINFORCING.

CHILE HAS DEVELOPED THE MOST SUCCESSFUL AND OPEN ECONOMY

IN LATIN AMERICA BY ADHERING TO CONSERVATIVE FREE-MARKET PRINCIPLES. WE ARE NOW IN THE FIFTH CONSECUTIVE YEAR OF ECONOMIC EXPANSION UNEMPLOYMENT IS AT AN HISTORIC LOW AND REAL WAGES ARE GROWING AGAIN. THE GOVERNMENT'S FINANCE ARE ON A STRONG FOOTING WITH A DECLINING DEFICIT AND PRIVATIZATION OF STATE ENTERPRISES IS PROCEEDING. CHILE HAS BECOME A MODEL FOR OTHER DEBTOR COUNTRIES IN WORKING OUT MULTI-YEAR DEBT RESCHEDULINGS AND DEBT-EQUITY SWAPS. WE ARE ATTRACTING CONSIDERABLE NEW FOREIGN INVESTMENT.

WE ARE ALSO MOVING AHEAD WITH OUR PLANS TO RESUME DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT IN CHILE, THIS TIME WITH A SOLID ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL FOUNDATION TO SUSTAIN IT. IT IS MOST UNFORTUNATE THAT THE U.S. GOVERNMENT HAS ADOPTED A POSTURE OF CRITICISM AND ECONOMIC PRESSURE TO EMPHASIZE UNFOUNDED CONCERNS ABOUT CHILE'S

PROGRAM FOR PROGRESSIVE DEMOCRATIZATION. THAT MAY BE DUE TO THE FACT THAT, ALTHOUGH OUR ECONOMIC SUCCESS IS READILY RECOGNIZED BY ALMOST EVERYONE, CHILE'S POLITICAL PROGRESS GOES LARGELY UNNOTICED OR IS DECIDEDLY MISREPRESENTED. WE DESERVE AMERICA'S ENCOURAGEMENT AS WE MOVE INTO UNCHARTED POLITICAL WATERS. WHAT WE HAVE GOTTEN INSTEAD IS A RUNNING PUBLIC CRITIQUE, SECOND-GUESSING AT EACH STAGE AND UNWARRANTED ECONOMIC PRESSURE TACTICS.

WE WILL PERSEVERE IN RETURNING CHILE TO DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT ON OUR OWN TERMS AS A SOVEREIGN COUNTRY. CHILE SHARES, AND TO A LARGE EXTENT HAS ALREADY ACHIEVED, THE GOALS SET FORTH IN THE FOLLOWING POLICY STATEMENT AUTHORIZED BY PRESIDENT REAGAN ON DECEMBER 13, 1987.

FOR THE IDEAL OF POPULAR SOVEREIGNITY TO BECOME REALITY IN CHILE, THE UNITED STATES BELIEVES THAT A CLIMATE OF FREE AND FAIR COMPETITION MUST BE ESTABLISHED MANY MONTHS BEFORE THE ACTUAL BALLOTING TAKES PLACE. THIS ATMOSPHERE WOULD BE MARKED BY EASY AND EQUITABLE ACCESS TO THE MASS MEDIA, SPECIALLY TELEVISION, BY UNRESTRICTED DISCUSSION OF POLITICAL ISSUES, BROAD FREEDOM OF ASSEMBLY, AND ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE RULES OF ANY ELECTORAL PROCEEDING, FACILITATION OF REGISTRATION BY PROSPECTIVE VOTERS, AND FREEDOM FOR CITIZENS AND POLITICAL GROUPS TO CAMPAIGN PEACEFULLY IN FAVOR OF THEIR IDEAS. STATES OF EXCEPTION

WHICH LIMIT FREEDOM OF ASSOCIATION AND EXPRESSION ARE NOT COMPATIBLE WITH A LEGITIMATE ELECTORAL PROCEDURE.

MR. SECRETARY, I HAVE TRIED TO SHOW YOU A SIDE OF THE SITUATION IN CHILE SELDOM REVEALED BY THE AMERICAN NEWS MEDIA. WE HAVE BEEN THE SUBJECT OF UNFAIR CRITICISM FROM CERTAIN QUARTERS OF THE CONGRESS, BUT WE WILL PRESS ON WITH THE SERIOUS BUSINESS OF PROVIDING EVEN MORE BENEFITS TO OUR PEOPLE FROM OUR FREE MARKET ECONOMY IN A DEMOCRATIC ENVIRONMENT.

UNCLASSIFIED

THE GOVERNMENT OF PRESIDENT PINOCHET HAS EMBARKED ON A MOST DEFINITE PROCESS OF RETURNING POWER TO THE PEOPLE BY MEANS OF REDUCING STATE INTERVENTION IN ALL AREAS, INCREASING PERSONAL FREEDOMS, AND GIVING THE POPULATION WIDER OPTIONS IN EVERY ASPECT OF THEIR LIVES.

THE STATE-INDIVIDUAL RELATIONSHIP HAS TILTED IN FAVOR OF THE INDIVIDUAL, AS IS ESSENTIAL TO THE PROPER FUNCTIONING OF A TRUE DEMOCRACY, AND THE CITIZENS NOW HAVE NEW AND MORE POWERFUL TOOLS TO PROTECT THEMSELVES FROM ANY ATTEMPT BY THE STATE TO ENCROACH ON PERSONAL LIBERTIES.

THAT IS THE TRUE MEANING OF THE 1980 CONSTITUTION AND THAT IS THE BASIC ISSUE THE PEOPLE HAVE BEEN CALLED TO VOTE UPON IN THE NEXT PLEBISCITE.

THANK YOU FOR THE OPPORTUNITY TO PRESENT THE REALITIES OF CHILE'S PROGRESS. I AM AT YOUR DISPOSAL IF YOU HAVE ANY QUESTIONS OR WOULD LIKE TO DISCUSS THESE MATTERS FURTHER.

SINCERELY,

HERNAN BUCHI BUC

POLITICAL - ECONOMIC SITUATION

CHILE IS A COUNTRY FREELY ADVANCING TOWARD DEMOCRACY WITHIN A FRAMEWORK OF SOCIAL JUSTICE FORTIFIED BY ECONOMIC PROGRESS. ALL THREE ASPECTS OF OUR DEVELOPMENT --POLITICAL, SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC-- ARE INTERRELATED AND MUST BE CONSIDERED WHEN

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

ANALYZING THE PROGRESS CHILE HAS MADE TO DATE AND THE PROSPECTS FOR THE FORESEEABLE FUTURE.

POLITICAL DEVELOPMENT

IN THE POLITICAL REALM, THE SEMINAL EVENT WAS APPROVAL IN 1980 BY TWO-THIRDS OF THE VOTERS OF A NEW CONSTITUTION WHICH ESTABLISHES AN INSTITUTIONAL BLUEPRINT FOR PROGRESSIVE TRANSITION TO FULL DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT BY 1990. NO LATER THAN FEBRUARY 1989 THERE IS TO BE A PLEBISCITE ON A PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE SELECTED BY THE FOUR COMMANDERS-IN-CHIEF OF THE ARMED SERVICES, OR, IF THEY CANNOT REACH UNANIMOUS AGREEMENT, BY THE NATIONAL COUNCIL COMPOSED OF THE MILITARY COMMANDERS AND CERTAIN CIVILIAN LEADERS. IF THEIR CANDIDATE IS APPROVED BY MORE THAN 50 PERCENT OF THE ELECTORATE, HE WILL SERVE AN EIGHT-YEAR TERM; IF HE IS REJECTED, OPEN, COMPETITIVE ELECTIONS ARE TO BE HELD WITHIN ONE YEAR.

REGARDLESS OF THE OUTCOME OF THE PRESIDENTIAL PLEBISCITE, A BICAMERAL CONGRESS WILL BE ELECTED IN JANUARY 1990 AND WILL SIT ON MARCH 11, 1990 AND, THEREAFTER, BOTH PRESIDENTIAL AND CONGRESSIONAL ELECTIONS WILL BE HELD AT REGULAR INTERVAL.

SEVERAL COMPREHENSIVE LAWS HAVE BEEN ENACTED TO ESTABLISH AND REGULATE THE POLITICAL TRANSITION PERIOD PROVIDED FOR IN THE CONSTITUTION. THESE INCLUDE THE CONSTITUTIONAL COURT LAW (1981), THE ELECTION QUALIFYING COURT LAW (1986), THE ELECTION REGISTRATION LAW (1986), THE POLITICAL PARTIES LAW (1987) AND THE ELECTIONS AND PLEBISCITE LAW (1988). OTHER IMPORTANT POLITICAL DEVELOPMENTS INCLUDE:

PARTIES OF THE CENTER-LEFT HAVE JOINED TOGETHER IN THE "CAMPAIGN FOR FREE ELECTIONS" UNDER THE LEADERSHIP OF THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATS AND SOCIALISTS. WITH THE EXCEPTION OF THE COMMUNISTS, REGISTRATION AND QUALIFICATION OF POLITICAL PARTIES IS PROCEEDING WITHOUT ANY DIFFICULT WHATSOEVER AND

ORGANIZATIONAL EFFORTS ARE GOING FORWARD THROUGHOUT THE

UNCLASSIFIED

COUNTRY. WITH THE GOVERNMENT'S ENCOURAGEMENT, VOTER REGISTRATION HAD RISEN BY THE END OF APRIL TO MORE THAN 5.5. MILLION, OUT OF A POTENTIAL EIGHT MILLION ELIGIBLE VOTERS, WITH A MONTHLY AVERAGE OF MORE THAN 400,000 NEW REGISTRANTS. THAT DEMONSTRATES BOTH THE GOVERNMENT'S COMMITMENT TO DEMOCRATIZING THE COUNTRY AND THE ENTHUSIASTIC PARTICIPATION OF THE POLITICAL PARTIES. AT A NOMINAL COST, ALL POLITICAL PARTIES HAVE ACCESS TO THE NAMES OF ALL CITIZENS WHO HAVE REGISTERED TO VOTE. ADDED TO THE FAST PROCESS OF REGISTRATION OF POLITICAL PARTIES, ALL THIS HAS BELIED THE APPREHENSIONS OF THOSE WHO FEARED THAT THE GOVERNMENT REGISTERED ELECTORATE, AND BEFORE OPPOSITION PARTIES COULD BE ABLE TO ACTIVELY PARTICIPATE AND MONITOR THE ELECTORAL PROCESS.

AS ANYONE WHO VISITS CHILE CAN SEE, THE OPPOSITION IS FREELY AND ACTIVELY EXPRESSING ITS POINTS OF VIEW. OPPOSITION PARTIES PUBLISH NATIONALLY CIRCULATED NEWSPAPERS AND MAGAZINES AND BROADCAST ANTI-GOVERNMENT MESSAGES FREELY OVER SEVERAL IMPORTANT RADIO NETWORKS. THE OPPOSITION ALSO HAS ACCESS TO GOVERNMENT-RUN AND OTHER TELEVISION CHANNELS AND HAS BEEN PARTICIPATING ACTIVELY IN TELEVISED POLITICAL DEBATES.

VARIOUS OPPOSITION LEADERS, INCLUDING EDUARDO ARRIAGADA, HEAD OF THE OPPOSITION'S TECHNICAL GROUP WHICH STUDIED THE ELECTORAL LAW, HAVE DECLARED THAT IT GUARANTEES THAT THE WILL OF THE VOTERS WILL BE RESPECTED AND THAT THE POSSIBILITY OF FRAUD IS NON-EXISTENT. REPRESENTATIVES OF THE POLITICAL PARTIES WILL PARTICIPATE IN THE BALLOTING AND COUNTING PROCESS. ALL BALLOT BOXES WILL BE OPENED, AND VOTE-COUNTING CONDUCTED, IN PUBLIC.

THE CHILEAN COMMUNIST PARTY (PCCH) --THE LARGEST IN THE HEMISPHERE OUTSIDE OF CUBA AND THE MOST FAITHFUL FOLLOWER OF MOSCOW AS SHOWN, FOR EXAMPLE, IN ITS EXPLICIT APPROVAL OF THE SOVIET INVASION OF CZECHOSLOVAKIA IN 1968 AND OF AFGHANISTAN IN 1979-- POSES A MAJOR CHALLENGE TO THE DEMOCRATIC PROCESS IN CHILE. IN AN UNCOMPROMISING DECLARATION IN FEBRUARY, THE PCCH DENOUNCED ANY PARTICIPATION IN THE PLEBISCITE AND CALLED INSTEAD FOR A "STATE OF MOBILIZATION, SOCIAL UNREST AND REBELLION AND A DEMOCRATIC (SIC) UPRISING." MOREOVER, CUBAN

VICE PRESIDENT CARLOS RAFAEL RODRIGUEZ RECENTLY SAID IN AN INTERVIEW WITH THE BRAZILIAN MAGAZINE "VEJA" THAT CUBA CONTINUES TO SUPPORT CHILEAN TERRORISTS.

THE THREAT FROM THE EXTREME LEFT FORCED THE GOVERNMENT TEMPORARILY TO EXTEND THE STATE OF EMERGENCY AND THE STATE OF DANGER OF DISTURBANCE OF INTERNAL PEACE IN EARLY MARCH OF THIS YEAR. THAT GIVES THE GOVERNMENT SPECIAL POWERS WHICH, WHILE USED VERY INFREQUENTLY AND SELECTIVELY, DO GIVE THE OPPOSITION A PROPAGANDA TOOL AND HAVE RAISED CONCERN THAT THEY WILL BE USED ARBITRARILY TO ENSURE THE TRIUMPH OF THE OFFICIAL CANDIDATE IN THE UPCOMING PLEBISCITE. GIVEN THE PROGRESS MADE IN EVERY AREA OF POLITICAL DEVELOPMENT AND PRESIDENT PINOCHET'S DEMONSTRATED COMMITMENT TO DEMOCRATIC ROLE, SUCH CONCERNS, HOWEVER WELL-INTENTIONED, ARE CERTAINLY GROUNDLESS.

HUMAN RIGHTS AND SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT

CONTRARY TO SOME AMERICAN PERCEPTIONS, CHILE HAS MADE IMPORTANT STRIDES IN THE HUMAN RIGHTS AND SOCIAL JUSTICE AREAS. ONE OF THE PRICES THE GOVERNMENT KNEW IT WOULD HAVE TO PAY FOR ENCOURAGING FREE POLITICAL EXPRESSION IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE SCHEDULE FOR RETURNING TO DEMOCRACY IS A CONTINUING DRUMBEAT OF FALSE CHARGES AND INNUENDO DESIGNED TO DISCREDIT ITS PERFORMANCE. THE VERY FACT THAT OPPOSITION SPOKESMEN FEEL FREE TO CONTINUE IN THIS VEIN, AND THE FACT THAT THEIR

SECRET DECLASSIFIED

STATEMENTS ARE AMPLIFIED BY THE MEDIA, ARE AMPLE TESTIMONY AS TO HOW FAR CHILE HAS ADVANCED TOWARD BASIC CIVIL AND POLITICAL RIGHTS. THERE ARE STILL SOME HUMAN RIGHTS PROBLEMS IN CHILE BUT THIS IS TRUE OF ALMOST EVERY COUNTRY, INCLUDING THE U.S.

THE IMPROVED SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE HAS BEEN AMPLY DOCUMENTED BY THE U.N. SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR FOR HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE, FORMER COSTA RICAN FOREIGN MINISTER FERNANDO VOLIO, IN REPORTS ISSUED AFTER SUCCESSIVE VISITS TO CHILE. VOLIO HAS PRAISED THE COOPERATION GIVEN HIM BY THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT, WHICH HE HAS TERMED "EXEMPLARY" AND HAS SAID THAT IF EVERY GOVERNMENT WERE TO COOPERATE IN THE SAME MANNER WITH THE U.N. HUMAN RIGHTS MECHANISM, THE WORLDWIDE SITUATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS WOULD IMPROVE NOTABLY.

THAT PROGRESS, HOWEVER, HAS NOT BEEN RECOGNIZED BY THE

SECRET

POLITICIZED MAJORITY ON THE U.N. HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION, WHICH CONTINUES TO BE DOMINATED BY SUCH HAVENS OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CUBA, MEXICO AND ALGERIA. THE UNITED STATES HAS, UNFORTUNATELY, JOINED THOSE COUNTRIES AND OTHERS WHICH ARE EITHER IGNORANT OR MISINFORMED, IN CRITICIZING ALLEGED HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATION IN CHILE.

THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT'S ENLIGHTENED SOCIAL WELFARE PROGRAM IS ANOTHER SECRET WELL-KEPT BY THE U.S. NEWS MEDIA. SOME 65 PERCENT OF THE GOVERNMENT'S OUTLAYS ARE DEVOTED TO BREAKING THE CYCLE OF POVERTY AND PROVIDING EQUALITY SYSTEMS ARE AMONG THE MOST ADVANCED IN LATIN AMERICAN AND HAVE BEEN HIGHLY PRAISED BY U.N. AGENCIES AND THE WORLD BANK, AMONG OTHERS. THEY HAVE GREATLY IMPROVED THE QUALITY OF LIFE OF THE COUNTRY'S POPULATION, AND SPECIALLY THAT OF THE POOREST PEOPLE, AND THUS PROVIDE A STRONG FOUNDATION FOR FUTURE DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT.

SECRET

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT IS FORTIFYING THE TRANSITION TO PARTICIPATORY DEMOCRACY WITHIN AN ESTABLISHED FRAMEWORK OF SOCIAL JUSTICE.

INCLUDING 1988, CHILE'S ECONOMY WILL HAVE GROWN BY AN AVERAGE OF ABOUT 5 PERCENT ANNUALLY IN REAL TERMS OVER THE PAST FIVE YEARS (5.7 PERCENT IN BOTH 1986 AND 1987). THE ECONOMY IS NOW IN ITS FIFTH YEAR OF EXPANSION AND, BARRING UNFORESEEABLE CIRCUMSTANCES, SHOULD CONTINUE ON THE CURRENT GROWTH PATH THROUGHOUT 1988 AND BEYOND. THE TRENDS FOR EMPLOYMENT AND WAGES ARE FAVORABLE. AT THE END OF 1987 THE UNEMPLOYMENT RATE REACHED 7.9 PERCENT, THE LOWEST DEGREE SINCE 1972. (IN THE FIRST QUARTER THE UNEMPLOYMENT RATE REACHED 8.4 PERCENT).

REAL WAGES ROSE 4.4 PERCENT FROM MARCH 1987 THROUGH MARCH 1988, BUT INFLATIONARY PRESSURES STILL KEEP WAGES BELOW THE LEVELS ACHIEVED AT THE HEIGHT OF THE 1981 BOOM.

THE GOVERNMENT'S FINANCES ARE ON A VERY STRONG FOOTING. DUE TO CONTINUED BUDGET AUSTERITY, CHILE HAS GRADUALLY REDUCED THE PUBLIC SECTOR DEFICIT FROM AN ALREADY LOW 2.6

CLASSIFIED

PERCENT OF GDP IN 1985 TO 0.8 PERCENT TODAY. REVENUES IN 1987 INCREASED SIGNIFICANTLY DUE TO HIGHER THAN EXPECTED RECEIPTS FROM COPPER EXPORTS, HIGHER VALUE ADDED TAX COLLECTIONS DUE TO IMPROVED ECONOMIC GROWTH, AND FROM AN INCREASE IN TARIFFS COLLECTION RESULTING FROM A 30 PERCENT INCREASE IN IMPORTS.

PRIVATIZATION OF STATE ENTERPRISES IS CONTINUING, WITH SALES TO INDIVIDUAL AND INSTITUTIONAL INVESTORS, BOTH DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN. PARTICULARLY IMPORTANT IS THE FACT THAT THE SALE OF SHARES HAS HELPED MAKING EQUITY OWNERSHIP

CLASSIFIED

MORE WIDESPREAD IN CHILE. IN 1987 ALONE, 24,061 WORKERS BECAME SHARE OWNERS IN THE COMPANIES IN WHICH THEY WERE EMPLOYED. WORKERS HAVE ALSO PURCHASED SHARES IN AFFILIATES OF THE STATE DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION (CORFO) INDIRECTLY THROUGH VARIOUS PENSION FUNDS. THESE SALES HAVE REDUCED THE SIZE OF GOVERNMENT, INCREASED PUBLIC REVENUES ON A ONE-TIME BASIS, AND PROVIDED PRIVATE SECTOR INITIATIONS TO STATE FIRMS.

CHILE HAS AN ATTRACTIVE FOREIGN INVESTMENT LAW WITH VERY LIBERAL CAPITAL TRANSFER RULES AND PROVIDES INCENTIVES FOR CONVERTING ITS EXTERNAL DEBT TO EQUITY. ALMOST 500 MILLION IN FRESH FOREIGN INVESTMENTS WERE MADE LAST YEAR, WITH HALF BROUGHT ABOUT THROUGH DEBT CONVERSIONS. SOME 1.5 BILLIONS WORTH OF OVERSEAS INVESTMENT WERE AUTHORIZED DURING THE FIRST QUARTER OF 1988, INCLUDING THE SIGNING OF A CONTRACT FOR THE LARGEST FOREIGN INVESTMENT PROJECT IN CHILE, THE LA ESCONDIDA COPPER DEPOSIT.

CHILE HAS PIONEERED WORKING OUT MULTI-YEAR DEBT RESCHEDULINGS WITH PRIVATE CREDITORS IN CONJUNCTION WITH IMF AND WORLD BANK PROGRAMS. NEVERTHELESS, CHILE REMAINS UNDER A HEAVY EXTERNAL DEBT BURDEN AND CONTINUES TO HAVE LIMITED ACCESS TO THE VOLUNTARY INTERNATIONAL CAPITAL MARKET.

CHILE IS THE MOST OPEN MARKET IN LATIN AMERICA FOR U.S. EXPORTS AND INVESTMENT. THE U.S. IS CHILE'S PRINCIPAL TRADING PARTNER, ACCOUNTING FOR ABOUT 20 PERCENT OF CHILE'S TOTAL IMPORTS (796 MILLION IN 1987). HOWEVER, THE U.S. SUSPENSION N OF CHILE FROM ELIGIBILITY FOR DUTY-FREE ENTRY UNDER THE GENERALIZED SYSTEM OF PREFERENCES WILL TEND TO DEPRESS THIS

TRADE, AND THE SUSPENSION FROM OPIC WILL HARM POTENTIAL AMERICAN INVESTMENTS AND RELATED U.S. SALES.

Dear Senator Bradley:

This is in response to your letter concerning death threats and other forms of harassment directed against students, actors, union leaders, and other groups in Chile. Your inquiry was on behalf of your constituents Ms. Deborah J. Burger and Sister Terri MacKenzie.

Unfortunately, there have been numerous incidents over the last several months of persons in Chile receiving death threats. Generally, the Chilean government does investigate these threats and provides police protection for those who request it. The United States Government takes these matters seriously and has been following them closely. Our Ambassador to Chile made a statement deploring intimidation tactics and expressing concern for the continuing campaign of threats. In addition, officials at the American Embassy in Santiago and at the Department of State have been in contact with various sectors of the Chilean society who have been harassed. You can be assured that we will continue to carefully monitor any such threats.

United States policy toward Chile is to encourage increased respect for human rights and a peaceful transition to democracy. As part of this policy, we have made clear to the Chilean government our concern that all persons be fairly and justly treated. We have been clear and unequivocal in pursuit of this policy.

If we can be of further assistance to you, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Sincerely,

J. Edward Fox
